MANY FACE COLD DURING PLACING OF CORNERSTONE

AUSPICIOUS EVENT IN CONSTRUCTION OF NEW METHODIST CHURCH

EXERCISES, ATTENDED BY MEMBERS OF OTHER DENOMINATIONS, ARE HELD AT CLOSE OF MORNING SERVICES—PASTORS OF BAPTIST AND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCHES ASSIST

Despite the fact that a cold and chilly wind was blowing, several hundred people gathered at the Methodist church corner, on Fourth and Shoshone avenues, Sunday to witness the laying of the cornerstone of the new building. The exercises were held at the close of the morning service and were conducted by the Rev. C. L. Bent, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. J. P. Shepherd of the Presbyterian church and Rev. O. T. Anderson of the Baptist church. The services opened with the singing of a hymn of praise, led by the choir of the Methodist church. This was followed by the reading of an appropriate episcopal service by Rev. Mr. Bent, scripture reading by Rev. Mr. Anderson, prayer by the pastor and brief addresses by the pastors, Bent, Anderson and Shepherd, who assisted in laying the cornerstone. In the copper has placed in the cornerstone were copies of the three local newspapers, records of the church, the names of the charter members of the church and some church documents. After the cornerstone had been placed, the crowd present was dismissed with prayer by Dr. Shepherd.

Work Being Rushed

Work on the new building is being rushed as fast as possible, the object being to have it completed in March. Scaffolding is being erected to the roof height and the roof is to be put on before the walls are complete, as a protection against possible stormy weather. The general design of the building will be English gothic. The tower now on the old building will be removed, that the entire building may conform to the general design, otherwise other towers, or possibly one more at least, would be necessary to give a uniform appearance. With the elimination of the towers, considerable expense is saved that will be used to secure greater capacity and comfort. The fact that Boise mandons, instead of brick, is to be used throughout is a matter of general satisfaction to all concerned, and the building will be much richer and more substantial in appearance.

Some ten years ago the present building was erected and the problem confronting the trustees of the church at this time, and their architect, B. Morgan Nisbet, was that of how they might build an auditorium connecting with the present building that would conform to a general plan and convert all into a complete church scheme.

A Large Auditorium

Almost the entire west wall of the present building will be removed and replaced with large doors, which, when raised, will make one large auditorium of the two, having a seating capacity of nearly 1200. There will be four entrances to the new auditorium, which will relieve all congestion in dismissing large congregations and prevent accidents in case of panic. At one of the corner entrances there is an incline instead of steps, which will make ingress and egress easier, especially for the aged. The pastor will approach the pulpit platform through a short passage from the study and from this passage the choir also may enter the choir room as well as from an outside entrance. The choir loft is elevated and is large enough to seat 50 or more. It is situated at the left of the pulpit, or to the right, looking at it from the audience. There will be two large windows, one on Shoshone and one on Fourth avenue, each 18x24 feet, glazed with beautiful art glass.

The basement in the new part will be especially comfortable, light and convenient. The Sunday school rooms will be located there and, with the room furnished by the old part, will accommodate nearly a thousand children. There will be a main Sunday school room, with platform, and adjoining it will be an Epworth League room, seating several hundred. The present kitchen will be enlarged and entirely rearranged. The system of heating will be hot air, driven through an air washer, then over steam coils into a plenum chamber, from which it will be conducted into the different parts of the building and carried out through ventilators through the roof. This air-warmer will be used as a cooler in warm weather and will keep the inside temperature at least 20 degrees cooler than the temperature outside.

The new part is 58x92 feet and the entire building, when completed, will be 102x82 feet, and will cost, with furnishings, approximately $40,000.

Interesting History

The Methodist church was established here by Rev. H. W. Parker, February 16, 1905, with 47 charter members. Rev. Mr. Parker, who is now holding a pastorate in Nampa, conducted the first services in the Hazen rooming house, with 41 present. Rev. Mr. Parker was appointed to Shoshone and Twin Falls on August 30, 1903, before Twin Falls was started. R. D. Osterhout was appointed pastor May 5, 1905. Work was begun on the parsonage May 15, 1905. Rev. Mr. Parker was appointed resident pastor in Twin Falls August 26, 1905, and was continued as pastor until 1910. A small frame building was used as a church for some time, and the church record says that in that year of 1900 the building was moved, painted and paneled at a cost of $577, and added: "Hard but good work."

On June 29, 1905, ground was broken for the present brick building. The masons began work on the building September 21 of that year and it was dedicated November 22, 1905. It cost $13,000. Dr. T. C. Cliff, then of Kanan, conducted the dedication services, during which $6000 was raised in 30 minutes. The church then had a membership of 322.

Membership Grows

In 1910 Rev. Mr. Parker was appointed superintendent of the Postville district, and Rev. H. E. Cullison was pastor for the following year. Rev. W. S. Woodhull was appointed pastor in 1911 and continued until 1914, when he resigned his pastorate and went to the Middle West states. Dr. Fleisher supplied the pulpit from April to September of that year, when C. L. Bent, the present pastor, was appointed.

The church had a membership of 482 when Rev. Mr. Bent took up the work, and through his efforts, the co-operation of the members and the results of the Oliver-Butler tabernacle meetings, the membership passed the 900 mark this year and at this time numbers some 915. The organization was free of all debt when the construction of the present building was begun. Over $30,000 of the cost of the building is now in hand in money and pledges.

BUSY TIMES NOW FOR ASSOCIATED CHARITIES FOLK

HAVE MANY SICK PEOPLE AND THEIR CHILDREN TO CARE FOR

GROUPS OF WOMEN SEWING FOR CHILDREN—THEIR MOTHERS ILL—SEVEN LITTLE ONES ARE ADDED—SEVERAL PIECES OF FURNITURE ARE NEEDED—SLEEPING ROOM NEEDS TABLES, ETC.

Calls for aid from the sick are beginning to come in to the Associated Charities. During the past week or more two groups of women have been sewing for some children whose mothers are ill. Seven children were given various necessary articles of clothing which were made by these women. The mothers were too ill to attend to the immediate demands of their families and were unable to purchase the necessities or hire them to be made.

The canned fruits and jellies and the grapejuice made from fruit donated to the association by Mrs. J. B. Purvine have gladdened many a heart and whetted and satisfied the lagging appetites of the sick and discouraged. The supply is growing less and donations of canned fruit from those who have more than they will need would be gratefully accepted by the association. A special call is made now for two or three children's chairs, a child's high chair and a cradle or basket for a baby, these to be given to parties needing them badly.

Table and Chairs Needed. A second call is sent out for the loan only of two or more tables and two or three chairs for the supply room, also a small heating stove. The supply room is devoid of these necessities and the workers who must go to the room to search for clothing or to arrange any clothing donated are compelled to work in a cold room, which is also bare as to tables or chairs.

All donations of fruit, vegetables and good, clean clothing will be gratefully received by the Associated Charities, the members and workers in which are anxious to concern themselves with supplies at hand to meet the needs and requests of the poor within our city.

BUILDING JUST THE HOME YOU WANT.

In speaking of the home you want to build one writer has said:

"The house he is to build is the house of his hopes and dreams, probably the fruit of long years of work and study and contemplation; it is to be a home for his soul as well as his body, a little corner of the world that is essentially his own."

In other words, to be just what you want, your new home must be vastly more than an example of practical construction of good quality materials. Its whole makeup, interior and exterior, must interpret and express you—it must harmonize with your individuality.

The floor plans and sketches comprising our "Cottage Home" Plan Service are chock full of sensible suggestions which the architect or builder can carry out at a modest outlay.

The home of your hopes need not be an expensive home.

"An Independent Home Concern"

TWIN FALLS IDAHO

The photograph reproduced herewith is of a bungalow which was actually constructed from our house plan No. 82, the floor arrangement of which is also indicated by the accompanying sketch. It will be seen that in addition to the usual first-floor rooms, there are two bedrooms, each of which is reached from the dining room and the bathroom, with doors opening from each of the bedrooms.

The living room extends clear across the front of the house and has a fireplace at one end; with bookcases and built-in seats upon either side. The dining room has a built-in buffet and in the kitchen a built-in cupboard takes the place of the usual pantry. There is an enclosed rear entry in which the stairs to the basement are located.

As shown on the plans, the basement is excavated for the full size of the house, but as this makes a basement of unusually large size, a portion of it may be left unexcavated if desired, slightly reducing the cost.

The plans include, besides the usual architectural sections, full details for all the built-in features as well as for the beaming of ceiling in living room.

LAMBS CROSS THE TWELVE-DOLLAR MARK

HIGH LEVEL IN PRICES OF LAMBS REACHED LAST WEEK, WHEN $12.05 IS OFFERED

Kansas City Reports Highest Market
for Hogs in the Middle West—Big Packers' Orders Make High Prices
for Past Two Weeks—Shipments
Made From Lower Markets

KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS—
Except for some weakness Wednesday,
killers bought steers steady this week,
closing a shade stronger Thursday.
Butcher cattle are also about steady,
bulls and canner cows firm. Stockers and feeders, except the very best, are 25c to 40c lower for the week, trading fairly active Thursday, when the accumulation reduced 80c to 85c. Hogs turned upward slightly, to $10.05, sheep and lambs 10c to 15c higher,
lambs $12.05.

Beef Cattle

Prime steers sold up to $11.75 this week, yearlings $11, heifers $10.25.
Short fat steers bring $9 to $10.25,
and anything with flesh gets competition from packers, although they want weighty cattle and light steers move slowly. Range beef steers have not been good quality this week, although some caked Panhandles sold up to $8.50. Colorado beef steers sold at $7 to $7.60, some weighing less than 1000 lbs. at $7.60. Cowboys got good lot, a few old head up to $8.50, good heavy cows $7 to $7.50, medium cows
$5.25 to $6.75, canner $4.50 to $5, bulls
$5.25 to $7, calves $4 to $11.

A few fleshy steers went to feed lots at $8 and upward, but real feeders, without flesh, sold at $6.50 to $7.25.
Stockers closed the week at the bottom, good to choice yearlings $6.75 to $7.25, medium $6 to $6.50, some pretty good light stockers at $5.50 to $5.75.
Decent young stock cows sell at $5 to $5.50, heifers up to $6.25, heavy feeding cows around $5.50.

Hogs in Demand

Kansas City has been higher on hogs than Chicago, St. Louis or any of the other river markets for nearly two weeks. Buyers tried to make a market last week, and, although the market ruled 5c higher for tops, quite a lot of medium and low-class hogs, lights especially, got slow action. Receipts were 6800 head, and the total for the week is less than last week by about 10,000 head. Packers have a place for unlimited numbers of hogs, and their competition here is so strong that shipping orders from Eastern killers have been scarce. In addition to the regular receipts here, packers have shipped in about 5000 hogs this week, bought at other markets where the price was lower.

Lamb Prices Ease

Lambs crossed the $12 mark today, reaching $12.05, 5c cents higher than Monday. Ewes sold up to $7.75 and are due for further advances. Packers had hoped to keep lamb prices below $12 till the first of the year, but unless receipts increase they cannot do it. Feeder lambs have been demanding $10.25 to $10.75 Thursday.

TWIN FALLS MAN IN BIG MUNITIONS TOWN

R. W. Hanna, Well Known in Twin Falls, Is Spending Winter in New Haven, Connecticut

Conjecture sometimes arises as to the parts played by Twin Falls people in the war. The name of Charles Glin-der lost his life fighting for the allies with a Canadian regiment in Northern France. Another well-known man, Roy
W. Hanna, who lived here in 1907-8-9, and has visited Twin Falls at other times, is now living at 87 West Elm street, New Haven, Conn.

The conjectures which have arisen among Twin Falls people as to the fact that New Haven is a great old university town, the seat of Yale university, but that it also is one of the great munitions manufacturing towns in the United States. Although Mr.
Hanna may in no way be connected with this industry, it is natural to suppose that he would at least be interested, as he was married in California, shortly after leaving Twin Falls, to a German noblewoman and has since spent several years in Germany.

SUGAR FACTORY CHANGES SHIFTS

Coming on at 7 o'clock Sunday evening, the night shift at the local sugar factory, the Pullman and Sugar company worked straight through 18 hours until noon Monday, when they were replaced by the day shift, which worked 18 hours, until 7 o'clock a. m. Tuesday morning, before getting any rest. Thus the night shift and day shift traded hours of working, a change which will probably remain permanent for the rest of the season.

"CHUCKWALLA" IS REGULAR OLD-TIMER

Appears in "The Parson of Panamint,"
the Pullman-Paramount Photoplay
at the Idaho

When "Chuckwalla" Bill stumbled on the police the old mining town of Panamint, in "The Parson of Panamint,"
the Pullman-Paramount photoplay,
this was the yarn he told:

"I tell you, parson, Panamint was sure a camp with the hair on," and then he spoke of "Bud" Deming, who ran a place of sin, but was "testamentally
on the square," and of "Buckskin" Lyle,
the prize "planner-tickler of the West."
Now that I'm mayor, we've got to have a schoolhouse, a church and a place for all the good citizens. I told Chuckwalla exclaimed, "Well, Randall,
you and the boys look after building
the church an' I'll pull out for Frisco
and round up a parson."

In Frisco he told the bishop, "I an' remember, bishop, she's a camp with the hair on. A parson with an ingrown brand of faith ain't going to be popular in Panamint." Then, when he found his parson his remarks were, "A minister!" "The hell you are." "You don't fight like one," and "I'm richer than you." "You're a fightin' hob-cab, young fellow!" "I'm proud to have been arrested
with you."

This screen story, coming to the Idaho
Friday and Saturday, is one of the most uniquely remarkable photoplays ever produced.

were designated by different colored

RAINS BRING FROST OUT OF THE GROUND

Farmers Make Best of Opportunity Offered to Finish Plowing Out
Their Beets

When the sky had cleared after the rains of Sunday and Monday, beet farmers throughout the Twin Falls country generally seized the opportunity offered to hasten the plowing out of the mangels they had left in the ground. The past two weeks, with the ground frozen to a depth of several inches, made beet plowing a very difficult and almost impossible operation.
The rains brought the frost out of the ground and a week of fair weather will enable the majority of farmers to get their beets at least out of the ground.
Advice from the office of the sugar

factory will probably run full time until the first of February.

HIGH SCHOOL BOY LEADS IN WHEAT STANDARDIZATION

OBTAINS REMARKABLE
RESULTS FROM THREE YEARS SEED SELECTION

TOM IRWIN SUCCEEDS IN RAISING
WHEAT IS UNDOUBTEDLY ONLY
PURE STRAIN OF DICKLOW
WHEAT IN SOUTHERN IDAHO—
WORK YIELDS BIG RETURNS—
DOUBLES IN THREE YEARS

Encouraged by local milling men,
and—prompted by a desire to earn money on which to go to college, as well as a genuine interest in the great bread cereal, a Twin Falls high school boy has in three years' time developed what is undoubtedly the purest strain
of Dicklow wheat in Southern Idaho, and, incidentally, raised the yield of his wheat from 40 to 80 bushels per acre,
and obtaining a price of $3 per bushel
as against $1.25 per hundred,
which he formerly received. That boy is Thos. Irwin, senior in the high school, who expects to enter Kansas Agricultural college at Manhattan, Kan., next fall, and there continue his study of wheat, an opportunity made possible by the splendid success of his experiments
in wheat purification.

In the year 1913 young Irwin selected from a field of so-called Dicklow good, substantial Dicklow heads in sufficient quantity to plant one-quarter of an acre
the succeeding spring. These heads
were uniform in size, plump and well
filled, and were, in general, Dicklow types. In this work he discovered the interesting fact that there were no less than 112 varieties of wheat in this so-called Dicklow which he had to select from, and which had been sold on the market as seed wheat. These heads measured crosses between the hearted and beardless, dark and light, hard and soft prevailed all over this section of the country and at that time the despair of the millers.

First Attempt Discouraging
Owing to a miscalculation, the perfect wheat selected by Irwin was planted on foul ground, profusely seeded with unusable grains, prominent among which was an unlimited supply of wild oats. This was, of course, detrimental in so far as harvesting in the usual manner was concerned, so by selecting a head at a time, about 100 pounds of pure grain was chosen. The remainder of the wheat was placed in the barn for winter work. The hundred pounds of threshed grain was, unfortunately,
subjected to grinding by a careless employee, thus necessitating a repetition of the selection work from that stored in the barn. This time a total of 180 pounds and 37 heads of the wheat were selected. These 37 heads were reserved for separate planting.

The following spring (1915) the 180
pounds of wheat was planted in alfalfa ground which had borne two crops. It was sown at the rate of 60 pounds per acre. As the field headed out, the impure and undesirable heads were readily discernable, some by their extreme height and others by their misshapen heads. In spite of the care exercised and the supposed cleanliness of the ground,
a few heads of foreign varieties and a large amount of wild oats were present. This latter obnoxious pest was the most troublesome factor governing the retention of pure seed.
The persistency of this tedious work
and its affinity for pure seed was well demonstrated.

The germination tests applied to the seed which had borne two crops, invariably the same results, 100 per cent.
The two and one-half acres planted yielded at the rate of 80 bushels per acre, or 200 bushels.

The interest of the local millers having been attracted to the work by this time, sale was found at good prices for the succeeding spring. These heads
were uniform in size, plump and well
filled, and were, in general, Dicklow

THE DEFEAT OF THE BONDS

IT is unfortunate for this City that a two-thirds majority of votes is necessary to the passage of ordinances legalizing the issuance of bonds for public improvements. The great bulk of the people are perfectly satisfied with majority rule, in theory and practice. A majority of the people of Twin Falls favored the building of a City Hall, the granting of permission to certain property owners to pave at their own expense that portion of the street in front of their property—the paving of the intersections of certain streets by the City. A minority decreed that the majority was not entitled to these things. The minority won.

If the proposition of these bonds was sound in the first place, their defeat does not render it unsound. The majority is just as clearly entitled to its wishes in these particulars today as it was before the election.

For the first time in the history of Twin Falls a serious difference of opinion has arisen as to a matter of public improvement. The News stood for and worked for this improvement, and it is a matter of sincere regret to this newspaper that a sufficiently active minority could be found to defeat the various measures submitted.

GOOD FOR SOUTHERN IDAHO

OF more than passing interest is the report announcing that work is well under way on packing houses that will represent at Butte and Salt Lake an investment of half a million dollars at each city. The importance of these two items to the Twin Falls country may not be felt here this year or the next, but five years from now our farmers and stockmen will be shipping to both of these cities, and saving not only the shrinkage, a necessary evil of the long haul to Missouri River valley markets, but a good percentage of the extra cent and a half to two cents per pound freight charge for live weight.

Obviously, dressed beef and pork products can compete with the Middle Western products on a much more even basis than animals on the hoof, as three cars of the latter can, roughly speaking, be condensed into one car of the former, valued at approximately four to five times as much. This will be an especial boon to the hog grower, as the long haul causes greater shrinkage in this animal than any other.

That Butte or Salt Lake can immediately become great stock markets cannot, however, be expected. The great markets at Omaha and Kansas City, handling many thousands of animals a day, have been forty years in the making. Portland, a comparatively very new market, has grown by leaps and bounds in the last five years, but would never be as valuable to the Twin Falls country as packing establishments to the north or south of us. As a prospect for the future, either Butte or Salt Lake is our one best bet.

THE FIRST STEP

TO GEORGE R. BARKER, Secretary of State, should be given whatever measure of credit his service carries with it for having, through the introduction of a motion, before the Land Board, contributed the one single concrete step in the direction of a cutting down of the Salmon Tract acreage which has yet been taken.

The motion was duly passed by the Board last September. It provided for the cutting off, upon two months' notice, of all entries which should not have been proved up by November first. Notices were sent out in due form and on November the eleventh an order was entered against all lands whose owners had not complied with the ruling and the entries ordered cancelled.

Result—A cutting down of the acreage of the Salmon Tract by thirteen thousand one hundred acres of land.

The land, it is understood, is mostly raw sagebrush located in the northwestern part of the tract, south of Filer. Many of the entries were of a speculative character, although there are probably some to which this does not apply. In any event, those whose entries are cancelled through the ruling are undoubtedly entitled to consideration, and, in the judgment of The News, at least the twenty-five cents per acre paid the State for the land should be returned to them. This money could properly be taken from the Carey Act fund. The Carey Act fund was established originally for purposes of just this character, namely, to be used in the bringing under cultivation of State lands, the expense of administration of such action and the various incidentals connected with the general management of such lands and projects.

In fact, there is no reason whatever why the money for the purpose referred to should not be taken from this fund, except the fact that there has not been a dollar in the fund for years.

Referring again to the original proposition, while the action taken may in some cases work individual hardships, the general effect is sound. Everyone agrees that the acreage should be cut down. The instance cited is the first actual cut, let the disgrace of the present condition of the Carey Act fund rest where it may.

THE ONLY WAY

THE proposed embargo on shipments of foodstuffs to foreign countries should meet with favor in the councils of the nation.

The embargo, if put into effect, will prevent the shipment of certain foodstuffs abroad and will result, of course, in the retention of a greater supply at home, with a consequent reduction in price.

Unless decisive action is taken the present high prices for necessities will cause untold suffering among the poorer classes during the coming winter.

Briefly stated, at the present time the American laboring man is competing with the European governments for his table fare. The average American consumer is not in position to go into the markets and bid against the nations of Europe for his flour, meat and potatoes, but that is precisely what he is now doing and will be compelled to continue to do unless the Administration gives him protection.

America has finally come to the place where she directly feels the hardships of war. Financial benefit from the war has been realized by a few people. The hardship of war is now being felt by the masses of the people.

The question of the embargo should not depend upon its effect on the nations at war. The first and prime duty of America is to protect her own table and prevent suffering among her own people.

MODERN WORLD WONDERS

By Dr. J. F. Shepherd, Ph.D., D. D.

Jesus said, "I came not to send peace on the earth but a sword." This is a hard saying, coming from the lips of the Prince of Peace.

Christianity, which sprang from the lowly manger of Bethlehem, means unrest, unrest means effort and conflict with resisting forces; effort means achievement, and achievement means progress.

Of all the forces and discoveries which make for human progress, surely the discovery and application of steam power may be regarded a modern wonder. It required several hundred years to develop and apply three inventions—the mariner's compass, gunpowder and printing—but since the discovery and application of steam, inventions have been rife and rapid. No wonder Benjamin Franklin, at the close of his eventful life, expressed a wish to have lived three hundred years later to see what rapid progress might have been made.

George Stephenson was the son of a very poor cow herder near Newcastle, England. He married at the age of 21 and was left a widower with one son, Robert, two years later. At this time he could neither read nor write, but out of meager earnings saved for his infant boy, who was afterward honored throughout the world, and took night lessons in reading, writing and arithmetic. Stephenson was a true Christian, and in his struggle slowly found inner freedom, gaining ground upon the outer. Who says that "environment makes life"? Hardship is the goal of true souls toward the goal of life.

Faith in a good God makes men, to use the motto of the French revolution in a struggle for right ends, "To dare, and again to dare, and without end to dare." He is not like Montiel's lover, so timid that "He either fears his fate too much,

Or his deserts are small,
That dares not put it to the touch,
To gain or lose it all."

Though steam carriages had been tried in various portions of the world for almost a century, it remained for Stephenson to perfect, in his "Rocket," a locomotive which would not only carry loads but draw loads. Adversity was coupled with the success of doubtless, but to the question about his 12-mile-an-hour engine, "What would become of a cow that would get in the way?" he answered: "It would be very bad for the cow, me lord." So in 1825 his railroad was built in England, three years after the first railroad in the United States.

Is it not wonderful that in just 90 years from the beginning of railroad construction in America the power of 400,000 trains can be so controlled as to endanger, by a proposed strike, the commerce of the nation and the health and very life of millions of its citizens? But it was the Scotch boy, James Watt, too weakly to attend school, who is most responsible for the application of steam, so that in all lines of endeavor its power is applied, the first steam printing press being used in the London Times in 1814.

Robert Fulton not only perfected the steamboat but constructed the first submarine, or plunging boat, called the Torpedo, in 1801. John Fitch constructed a steamboat in 1785, but Fulton's Clermont brought the invention to public notice in 1807. Now we behold the levitation of the deep, 900 feet, "Titanic," and across the sea, the land and the air are largely subdued by steam and kindred power, and the struggle of man for a greater freedom over himself and from nature's restraints progresses. Man is slowly rising to his supremacy, and his ascent must ever be in proportion to his loyalty to God—

"For He that worketh high and wise,
Nor passes in His plan,
Will take the sun out of the skies
Ere freedom out of men."

WILLIAM R. FERRINE DIES

PASSES AWAY AT Old Home in Lebanon, Ind., After Several Months' Illness

Word has just been received of the death of William R. Ferrine, at Lebanon, Ind., where he had gone, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Lena Savage, to visit with relatives. No particulars have been received as yet.

Mr. Ferrine is a brother of I. B. Ferrine of this city and has lived here for many years, most of the time on his ranch east of town. He went to Portland during the summer, where he submitted to a critical operation for cancer of the stomach, and little hope was given for his ultimate recovery. This fall, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Savage, he went to Lebanon to visit relatives, intending to go from there to points in the south for the winter.

Practical Economy

Baking powders made from alum or phosphate may be bought for a trifle less than Royal Baking Powder, which is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes.

Alum powders are not only cheap, but they differ greatly in leavening power.

If a cheap baking powder is used for a fine cake and the cake turns out a failure there is a waste of costly materials worth more than a whole can of the cheap baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder produces the finest food, and its use therefore, results in an actual saving.

DIES FROM BURNS
OF GASOLINE FIRE

A negro restaurant keeper of Rogers, known as Martin Martinez, died at 4 o'clock Tuesday morning from burns received in an explosion of gasoline in his restaurant. He, at about 6 o'clock Monday evening, filled a gasoline lamp and had spilled some of the oil on his clothing and on the outside of the lamp, also.

When he applied a light to the lamp it exploded, throwing the flames over his elated clothing, and in a moment he was a flaming torch. He rushed toward the door, but fell just inside. Blankets were thrown over him and the flames finally extinguished by men who rushed to his aid, but not until he was terribly burned from head to foot. He was rushed to the Twin Falls hospital, but died soon afterward.

His body is held at the Crosby morgue, awaiting results of efforts to locate relatives. During the excitement of the fire, which caused no damage to the building or its contents, $40 is reported to have been stolen from the cash register.

She got the job.

PRAISES WORK OF ENGINEER KELSEY

Elko Commissioners Formally Accept Completed Sewer System—Press Makes Favorable Comment

Much credit is given Engineer Louis C. Kelsey by the Elko Free Press for the splendid new sewer system recently completed under his direction in the Nevada city. The board of commissioners of Elko recently made a formal tour of inspection, in company with Mr. Kelsey.

The board, after a comprehensive examination of the working of the system, formally accepted it, and in its report of the expense of building it complimented the engineer on the workmanlike manner in which the sewer has been built, and the business methods pursued by him during his connection with the matter.

Commenting on the work, the Elko Free Press says:
"The sewer is working splendidly in every respect and the whole system reflects much credit upon its builder and the efficient corps of assistants which he had. Mr. Kelsey, in his years of engineering work, has yet to make a failure and his work is a fine example of the way he does things."

"Mr. Kelsey leaves tonight for Twin Falls to begin the work of preliminary survey for a fine water system for that city. Mr. Kelsey will have complete charge of the building and putting into proper working condition of the water system, and it goes without saying that when he is through, Twin Falls will never regret the day the work was placed in his hands."

SAVING THE BOYS

They tell a story of a man in a covered wagon driving through a Western town who stopped and hailed a man on the street.

"Hay, any saloons in this town?" he asked.

"Yes, four," was the answer.

"Giddap," said the man moving on.

"I can't locate here; I've got three boys in this wagon."

"What's your business?" yelled the citizen.

"My business is to save these boys," came back the answer as he disappeared around a bend in the road.

Early Profits in Land.

John Erickson sold 35 acres of his ranch, on Blue Lakes avenue, to a California party this week for $5000. As he had already sold five acres for $1500, this made $6500 for 40 acres. Special interest attaches to this sale as it shows what can be accomplished without capital. Mr. Erickson came to Twin Falls without a dollar, worked on the ditch as a day laborer and saved enough to make his first payment on the land, cleared it himself and hired it plowed, as he had neither team nor tools. It is a monument to what can be accomplished on the tract. Mr. Erickson will immediately place his other 40 in cultivation.

Hold Up Coal Train.

On the night of November 24 over 100 citizens of Nyrus, Ore., among them representative men of the city, held up a westbound freight train on which were about 30 cars of coal. Two cars were switched off and the contents divided among those who were suffering from the fuel famine. For several weeks every effort had been made to get a shipment of coal for that city. A mass meeting was held and a last request telegraphed the railway superintendent. No answer was received and the citizens resolved to take desperate measures. They paid cash in full for what coal they took.

The aged admiral was well known for his powers of exaggeration. At supper one night he was describing a thrilling voyage.

"While cruising in the Mediterranean," he said, "we passed an island which was red with lobsters."

"But," said one of the politely inebriated guests, "lobsters are not red until boiled."

"Of course not," said the undaunted admiral, "but this was a volcanic island and with boiling springs!"

A CLEAR CASE

Policeman (giving evidence)—After being ejected from the cinema, he was discovered with a large bouquet in his arms on the doorstep of the back entrance to the picture palace.

Magistrate—Did he give any reason for his extraordinary behavior?

Policeman—His speech was very indistinct, yer worship, but from what I could gather 'e was waiting to see Mary Pickford 'ome.

SOMETHING IN THIS

"You women are always spending money for preparations to make yourselves better looking," growled Mr. Twobble.

"I guess that's true, my dear," replied Mrs. Twobble, sweetly.

"Now, you hardly ever see a man doing that."

"No, because 99 out of 100 men realize that the quest of beauty is hopeless."

continently in the elements of patrol duty and field message writing under direction of Captain McRoberts, and in military map reading under Major Olson.

The Daily Program

The daily program for Company D is similar to that for every other company of the Idaho regiment, with the exception of Company A, Sandpoint; Company F, Lewiston; Company G, Coeur d'Alene, and Company E, Bonners Ferry, composing the First battalion. The Lewiston and Coeur d'Alene companies are "mounted infantry," and while their camp is here it is their duty to patrol "ride the line"—each day. The Sandpoint and Bonners Ferry companies occupy the camps of the Connecticut regiments, which were returned to their home stations in September.

The day for the Idaho soldier begins with reveille, at 6:30 o'clock in the morning, when the sun is just appearing over the hills in Mexico. Days are generally warm, so that the men drift in their shirt sleeves, but nights are chilly. Stove heat has been installed in the tents and yesterday a fourth blanket was issued to each man. Health of the men continues excellent, and, aside from a rather general epidemic of "colds," there is practically no sickness.

Hopes Are Revived

Insurance of an order Wednesday to stop boarding up tents revived a horde of rumors favoring an early return of the Idaho regiment to Boise. Lumber for this purpose had been purchased; some of it is on the grounds, and work of boarding up tents had been begun in some companies. A rumor, furthered only by a minority of the men in the

Alexander the Mystic, Who Appears at the Laving Theatre All Next Week

Alexander, the undisputed headliner of the mystic world, will be at the Laving theatre for six nights, commencing Monday, December 4, with a matinee for ladies only Friday, and a regular matinee Saturday.

Mr. Alexander is billed as "eclectic" and as the world's greatest magician. He is all of this and much more. Alexander is a personality so collectively extravagant; a temperament strung to such a pitch of entertainment; an artist who has made fortune as a weapon to conquer the kingdom mystery; so magnetic in a gripping, personal way, that his presence at the Laving means record-breaking business and admiring audiences, so much so that the management burns candles to Thelma that nothing will come up to mar his appearance.

The great Alexander is a white mahatma of omens, a white mahatma being a singularly gifted person with the ability to read and answer sealed questions. The questions in the case of the great Alexander are written by the members of his audience, people whom you all know. They may be either written at home or at the theatre, and they may have to do with any subject. Many persons ask questions about affairs that concern settled or proposed business changes, many persons asking about missing or absent friends or relatives, while the probable recovery of sick friends seems to be a favorite question. Alexander answers all these questions with a facility and accuracy that are almost supernatural. That the replies are startlingly accurate is a fact that nightly is attested by the writers of the questions themselves.

The matinee Friday will attract many ladies, as they can at that time ask more personal questions than at the regular performances with a mixed audience. Either write your questions at home or at the theatre, either one being favorable to securing an answer. Alexander will answer all possible.

Popular prices: Night, 25c, 50c, 75c. Matinees, 25c, 50c.

Idaho camp, is to the effect that the order to stop work was issued for the purpose of securing a check of the lumber delivered.

The attitude of a majority of the state troops with regard to returning home is reflected by the Nogales Daily Herald in the following editorial published yesterday.

A New Slogan

"Out of the Trenches by Christmas," as a slogan for the peace workers of Europe, may have been a necessity, but "Home from the Border by Christmas" is something on which many of the militiamen located here are building high hopes, not because they dislike Nogales but because they love home more.

The possibility of an early homegoing for Alabama troops, indicated by an article published yesterday by the Nogales Daily Herald, because it indicates no similar movement for the Idahoans, is received in the Idaho camp with a variety of expressions of opinion. The Alabama, while they spent the summer in mobilization camp at Montgomery, have been on the border only since early in October. The Idaho regiment arrived here July 11. The article is as follows:

"It is reported that the base hospital has received an order to give the Alabama soldiers who are inmates special attention, they may be released early in December. While no official order has been issued from Washington, this should indicate that the mandate will soon come forth recalling the Alabama boys.

Welcome Mrs. Kregel

A considerable delegation from Company D was at the station Sunday when Mrs. Kregel arrived from Twin Falls to join her husband, First Lieutenant C. H. Kregel, here. Lieutenant and Mrs. Kregel are comfortably situated in quarters at the camp of the motor truck company, to which he is attached.

An addition to "married row" in the Idaho camp has been constructed for a Twin Falls family—Mrs. Hughes and children, who arrived here recently to join Lieutenant Arthur D. Hughes, attached to Company I.

When the Band Returns

Band Leader Jack Thorp has in mind a series of concerts to be given in various Idaho cities by the regimental band of the Second Idaho when it shall be recalled and mustered out. During the summer and fall the Idaho band gave concerts downtown twice each week, at the request of the Nogales Commercial Club. Of the dozen or more regimental bands that have given such concerts here, the Idaho is easily the most popular. Other members of the band besides the leader who are from Twin Falls include Herb Lancaster, Bert Thomas, Ralph Atherton, Ernest Ostrander and Isador Friedman.

John D. Johnson of Twin Falls, a member of headquarters company, has been discharged from the base hospital, where he had been treated for tonsillitis for several days.

"The Parson of Panamint"

This story portrays life in a typical western mining town—the wild, crude, virile type of manhood and womanhood which pervaded the scenes of '49. Into this atmosphere comes a young parson, simple-minded, strong-hearted. How Mr. Farnum as the parson subdues the town; brings care rounders and church hypocrites into his fold, regenerating their lives and purifying their thoughts, is a portrayal of such surpassing strength and lasting impressions on the mind. You should see this photoplay in order to include this masterpiece in the catalogue of your memory.

"The Big Sister"

With all New York on which to draw for his settings, O'Brien has been able to choose many interesting locations as a background for Miss Murray's clever acting. The story deals with the under-world element of society in its conflict with the other half, which does not know—or care—how it lives. In the role of Betty, Miss Murray plays a girl of the submerged stratum who is perfectly honest and upright, but whose poverty has entangled her with a set of gangsters. Over her they continually hold the terror of taking from her little Jimmy, her small brother, who has been left in her sole care by the death of their parents.
