U. S. MAIL STAGE HELD UP, ROBBED; DRIVER IS SHOT

CRIME COMMITTED ONLY HALF MILE FROM THE JARBRIDGE POSTOFFICE

F. SEARCY SHOT TO DEATH AND SUM ESTIMATED BETWEEN $3100 AND $7000 TAKEN—HOLD-UPS SUPPOSED TO HAVE POSED AS PASSENGERS—POSSIBLE OF MINING MEN START SEARCH

Like an echo of the old-time lawless days, or a nod from the wild west "movies," was the hold-up and robbery of the Jarbridge United States mail stage and the shooting in cold blood of the driver, F. Searcy, Tuesday evening within half a mile of the Jarbridge postoffice. A sum variously estimated at between $3100 and $7000 was taken from the stage. Complete details of the affair have not yet been received in Twin Falls, but the first report spread like wildfire through the community and created no small amount of excitement, especially among men interested in and familiar with the Jarbridge mining camp, in Elko county, Nevada. The camp lies some 90 miles south of this city.

BUHL BONDS JOIN REST OF THE CROWD

Road Improvement in West End of the County Is Turned Down by Minority Vote

For the second time the bonds for the improvement of the roads in the Buhl Independent Highway district were turned down Saturday by about the same minority vote which defeated the city hall and Shoshone street paving bonds in Twin Falls. A good majority in favor of the bonds was polled, but it still lacked 125 votes of the necessary two-thirds. The count was 808 for the bonds and 596 against.

BURLEY MOLASSES NOW STARTS COMING

Four Tank Carloads Brought Down This Week for Refining Under the Steffen Process

That the new Steffen process recently installed at the Twin Falls plant of the Amalgamated Sugar company is now working very satisfactorily was evidenced this week, when four tank carloads of molasses were brought down from Burley Monday for refining here. The Steffen house, as it is called, was first put in here about two weeks ago, and is the only one in operation in the plants of the Amalgamated Sugar company. That it is working successfully means that all of the molasses from the Burley factory will be brought here for further refining. The Steffen process now enables the sugar company to get fully 95 per cent of the sugar in the beets.

NEW FORD GARAGE LARGEST IN TOWN

New Addition Will Contain Show and Accessory and Parts Room—Makes 75-Foot Front

With the completion of the new addition to their garage on the west, the Western Auto Co. will have the greatest floor space and largest garage in town. The past week has seen the plate glass front windows installed and work is progressing rapidly in finishing up the interior.

Delay in the arrival of the fixtures, showcases, etc., will delay moving into the completed building, but George Eagley, manager of the company, expects that everything will be installed by the first of the year.

Every square inch of the three lots on which the Western Auto company has put its buildings is now covered, giving them a 75-foot front and a floor space 75x125 feet. Another shipment of Ford cars came in this week and Mr. Eagley is planning for another big season in 1917.

SPENCER PROPOSES MOTOR SPRINKLING

APPEARS BEFORE COUNCIL AND OUTLINES PLAN TO MODERNIZE STREET DEPT. WORK

Cost of Street Sprinkling and Pavement Flushing Will Run High Unless Some Change Is Made, Declares Street Commissioner W. F. Porter—Motor Sprinkling Would Cost About Five Thousand Dollars

Declaring that the sprinkling of the streets of the city could be accomplished more cheaply with a motor truck than with teams, and that such a proposition is entirely feasible, Fred C. Spencer appeared before the council Monday night and outlined his proposition to modernize the sprinkling work. His suggestion was that the city either buy a motor sprinkler outright or enter into a contract with him for a sufficiently long term of years to justify him making the investment. An added suggestion from City Attorney Herriott was to the effect that the contract with Mr. Spencer might be so worded for the city's protection as to permit the city to take over the outfit at the end of any yearly period at a stipulated price, after marking off a reasonable depreciation.

The sprinkler which Mr. Spencer considered adequate for the city's needs would cost between $4300 and $5000. Street Commissioner W. F. Porter, who was present, stated to the council that during the past summer four teams were kept busy trying to do a good job. At that the department was short at least one team and wagon and it was possible that two more would be needed next year. The cost during the past summer was $3750 for the dirt streets and $740 for flushing the pavement, and Mr. Porter declared that there was no possibility of getting the work done at a cheaper figure, as that contract was let at bedrock figures. The matter was referred to the street committee to investigate and report.

Besides the new rental figures for the city offices, the report of City Attorney Herriott on the damage case of Mrs. Green, various other matters of public interest were brought up at the regular monthly meeting Monday night. All members of the council were present.

ELKS' MEMORIAL SERVICES HELD

ADDRESS OF EDWIN SNOW OF BOISE SPECIAL FEATURE OF PROGRAM

Annual Lodge of Sorrow of B. P. O. E. Largely Attended at Lavinger Theatre—Boise Speaker Dwells on the Benefits of Fraternity—Deceased Members Honored—Special Music Given—Large Orchestra Enjoyed

The annual lodge of sorrow of the Twin Falls lodge, No. 1123, B. P. O. E., was held at the Lavinger theatre Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with a large attendance. The address of the afternoon was given by Edwin Snow of Boise, and music, furnished by local people, included solos by Miss Katherine Pitcairn and H. E. Cutting, quartet numbers by Messrs. S. H. Leyton, L. S. Patrick, H. E. Cutting and Dr. E. Schwarz, and several selections by an orchestra of 14 pieces.

Special interest centered in the address of Mr. Snow. He dwelt at length upon the spirit of fraternal and brotherly helpfulness found in the Elks' lodge. Calling attention to the clock in their lodge emblem, with its hands pointing to the hour of eleven, one hour before midnight, he stated that upon the stroke of that hour, no matter what the occasion of the assembly, all social gatherings or other meetings were stopped for a few moments while the thoughts of the members were turned to the absent brothers.

The speaker further dwelt upon the fact that the strong always helped the weak brothers with encouragement and their faith in the future, the life beyond this earthly life. That those whose faith had been shaken were

DR. BOYD FILES PROTEST

Dr. T. O. Boyd, through his attorney, C. M. Booth, filed papers in the district court on Tuesday protesting against the action of the board of county commissioners in letting the contract for the building of the proposed county hospital. The protest of Dr. Boyd is based on the contention that the county board has authority to construct such a building for indigents only and that it is their plan to accept other than indigent patients in order to make the institution practically self-supporting.

HALTS ALL ACTION IN DISTRICT COURT

Court Order by Judge Dietrich Causes Temporary Lull in Several Cases

According to the terms of an order made by Judge Dietrich of the United States court in the case of Caldwell versus the Twin Falls Salmon River Land & Water company, prosecution in the district court of the state is halted in a number of cases.

The order sets forth that, pending the outcome of the action in the Federal court, no further prosecution shall be had in the case of the following plaintiffs against the Salmon River company: J. W. Beauchamp, Ray Beauchamp, Homer J. Beauchamp, William Warberg, L. H. Hankey and Robert T. Benson, all of which cases are now pending before Judge Babcock.

RECEIVED SPLENDID FORD TOURING CAR

George Eagley Sells Second One of This Type of Car in Twin Falls Territory

Enclosed in heavy plate glass, with beautiful gray upholstery within, collapsible forward seats and presenting throughout a smart, neat appearance, the Ford touring sedan received this week by George Eagley is the second car of this type ever sold in Twin Falls territory. Everything about the car bespeaks combined comfort and serviceability and when the new owner has a self-starter put on, as he intends to do, the new enclosed car will carry her through all sorts of weather and over all sorts of roads. The purchaser is Mrs. Crandall Dunn of Three Creek.

SEVEN DOLLAR BERTS

Announcement this week, made by the Amalgamated Sugar company, that the contract price is made by the beet for the 1917 season would be $7 per ton for beets testing 16% saccharine, makes a new era in the raising of sugar beets in the Twin Falls country. The raise in the contract price is made by the company absolutely at its own volition. The price offered is probably the highest ever paid for sugar beets in the United States.

HOLIDAY SPIRIT GLADDENS MANY DESOLATE HOMES

DINNERS SUPPLIED BY LOCAL CITIZENS TO THE NEEDY FAMILIES

FORTY-EIGHT PEOPLE ARE FED—SCHOOL CHILDREN AND INDIVIDUALS DONATE SUPPLIES—ELEVEN FAMILIES CARED FOR—SICKNESS FOUND IN MANY HOMES

Eleven families, or a total of 48 people, were given generous Thanksgiving dinners through the co-operation of the Associated Charities, various individuals and several grades in the public schools. In many a test home and poor shack, where not even the necessities of life could be found, there was no prospect for even a poor imitation of a Thanksgiving dinner, and really not very much to be thankful for. In these homes hope and encouragement and cheer followed the partaking of good, substantial, generous Thanksgiving dinners furnished to the families through the agency of the Associated Charities.

In six of the eleven families there was sickness, and the little delicacies given with the substantial food were most gratefully received. In these homes such articles of clothing as were needed were also furnished, if they could be found in the supply room of the association.

Miss Elizabeth Power's room in the Washington school sent food for half a dozen people, as did also the room taught by Miss Cox. "Oh the apple in Miss Cox's room," said Mrs. Kennedy Packard, president of the Associated Charities, "marched down to my house like a little Santa Claus army, all sparkling with joy, carrying their many parcels."

Substantial Meals Enjoyed

To every family was given a sack of vegetables besides the generous dinner, the Associated Charities adding a pound each of butter and coffee a package of sugar, quart of cranberries, some apples and a piece of meat. A sum of $43.55 was added to the expense.

O. M. ELLIOTT, HEAD OF NORMAL, VISITS SCHOOLS

FORMER CITY SUPERIN- TENDENT RETURNS TO DEDICATE BUILDING

NEW PRESIDENT OF LEWISTON STATE NORMAL IS WARMLY GREETED BY FORMER TEACHERS AND FRIENDS—GIVES ADDRESS IN RECENTLY COMPLETED WASHINGTON SCHOOL.

Warm handshakes and expressions of pleasure greeted Professor O. M. Elliott, president of the Lewiston State Normal and former superintendent of the Twin Falls schools, upon his arrival here Wednesday noon of this week.

President Elliott is making a tour of the first-class high schools in the state, which includes only the Twin Falls and Pocatello schools west of Mountain Home. He expressed pleasure and appreciation in the substantial growth evidenced in Twin Falls and vicinity and the general appearance of prosperity seen throughout the Twin Falls country.

On Wednesday evening he was given a dinner at the Hotel Rogers by the teachers who were in the schools when he was superintendent here. Today (Thursday) he has spent the greater part of the time visiting grades in the different buildings. Between 4 and 5 o'clock this afternoon he was given a luncheon in the high school cafeteria, prepared and served by Miss Mary Hungate and her domestic science pupils.

Tomorrow evening dedicatory exercises will be held in the new Washington school, with a special address by President Elliott.

Normal School Growing
Speaking of his work in the state normal school, President Elliott said: "During the past year there has been an increase of 25 per cent in the attendance. We now have an enrollment of 225, of which 90 per cent are high school graduates. The state board recently completed arrangements whereby, beginning with next year, they will offer a full quarter in normal work during the nine weeks of summer school. By attending four summer school sessions, a full year's work is completed. This plan promises to be especially appreciated by high school students and by those wishing to work their way through the normal."

President Elliott states that the members of his family are well. Mrs. Elliott was unable to accompany him, as their son and daughter were both at home for the Thanksgiving holiday. Miss Enid, he states, is teaching in The Dalles, Ore., and Dana has a position in Lewiston. President Elliott expects to leave Saturday.

CITY COUNCIL WILL MAKE SETTLEMENT

Attorney Herriott Advises That Mrs. O. F. Green Be Reimbursed for Sidewalk Injuries

After having investigated the legal status of the claim of Mrs. O. F. Green against the city of Twin Falls, in the amount of $650, City Attorney George Herriott filed with that body at their regular meeting Monday night a recommendation that settlement be made in the amount of $400. This sum would cover the greater part of Mrs. Green's expenses incident to the accident, with the exception of some of the trips to Salt Lake City to consult a specialist.

Mr. Herriott informed the council that, although the accident on the defective board sidewalk, which resulted in a broken ankle for Mrs. Green, occurred on August 9, 1915, she had not been able to walk since that time and that it might be the middle or latter part of January before she could bear any weight on that leg. Mrs. Green is at the present time in Salt Lake City, where she is having her foot placed in a plaster cast for what she hopes will be the last time. Immediately upon her return Mr. Herriott will make the offer on behalf of the city.

FACTORY EMPLOYEES GET SPECIAL TRAIN

One of the results of the visit of Fred G. Taylor, secretary-treasurer of the Amalgamated Sugar company, to Twin Falls Sunday was the putting on of a special train between town and the factory. Immediately upon his return to Utah, Mr. Taylor laid the matter before the officials of the Oregon Short Line railroad, as a result of which a locomotive and two chair cars were detailed to haul the employees of the sugar company back and forth to work. Two trips are made daily, at about 7 o'clock morning and night. The arrangement was made necessary by the bad weather and slippery condition of the roads, which made the truck travel extremely difficult.

FACTORY WHISTLE CEASES TO TOOT

Entire Plant of Amalgamated Sugar Company Would Have to Be Shut Down if Repair Were Made

With the blowing out of a gasket at the sugar factory the first of the week, the entire tooting ability of the factory whistle was stopped and that feature of the plant was silenced for some time, probably until the end of the season. The whistle was connected with the steam supply pipe which supplies the big engine and dynamo and to repair it would necessitate the shutting down of the factory, and as it is hoped that this need not be done before the close of the season, about the first of February, it is probable that unless some unforeseen accident occurs, the plant will be without a whistle until that time.

The whistle blew four times a day, at 7 o'clock a. m. and 7 o'clock p. m., and at 12 m. and 12:30 p. m.

FIGHT BEGUN ON SUNDAY THEATRES

Hearing rumors that petitions were being circulated for the purpose of asking the city council to permit the moving picture theatres to open Sunday afternoons and evenings, members of the clergy announced yesterday that they would begin a counter action to defeat any such move.

All appearances point to a bitter fight, as the petitions had obtained a fairly wide circulation and secured many signatures before the ministers discovered what was being done. The latter are planning to carry their counter agitation into the churches on Sunday next.

IT'S THE SAD TRUTH
"I need a lot of new things this fall," began Mrs. Wile. "We have to get a new rug for the living room and some curtains for the living room. We need some new dishes, too. And, besides, I haven't a thing to wear. I've got to get a new evening dress and a street dress, and a couple of new hats, and I haven't a pair of shoes to my name, and—"

Well, what's the joke about this? You ask.

It isn't any joke—that's all.

Oriental Mystery Man Puts on Good Show—Audiences Are Generally Well Pleased

Putting on probably the best show of its kind, Alexander, the wonder man at the Lavinger this week, has been attracting great crowds. Rain and bad weather on Tuesday night cut down the size of the audience that night to a considerable extent, but those present and those who attended on other nights have generally expressed themselves as well pleased with the entertainment afforded.

The first part of the program consists principally of the "regular tricks of magic, cleverly done. The second part opens with some oriental dancing scenes and concludes with a series of psychic experiments that could easily be imagined as coming direct from India.

It was at an evening party in Cambridge and Dodge asked Keller: "Who is that impressive-looking woman over there?"

"That's Mrs. Moore," was the reply. "She's a remarkably strong-minded woman. It is said she commands a large salary."

"Indeed," said Dodge, reflectively as he looked at the woman with interest. "How does she earn it?"

"She doesn't earn it," said Keller. "Her husband earns it, and she commands it."

WOMAN MEETS AWFUL DEATH IN TENT FIRE

BECOMES CONFUSED BY FLAMES AND IS ALMOST CREMATED

BODY OF MRS. M. E. SCRITCHFIELD IS FOUND IN RUINS OF BURNED TENT HOME OF SON—BABY'S HANDS AND FACE BADLY INJURED—HUSBAND AND WIFE NARROWLY ESCAPE DEATH

Fire, discovered shortly after 7 o'clock Sunday morning, destroyed the tent home of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Scritchfield and burned badly injured the former's mother, Mrs. M. E. Scritchfield, aged 73 years.

The tent was pitched near the ball park, between the railroad tracks and Rock Creek canyon, in what might be called "tent town." It was boarded up several feet and had but one door in it, and near this door stood the stove, from which, it is thought, the fire started.

Awakened by Fire

The husband arose early, built the fire and returned to bed to wait until the tent was warm. He fell asleep and was awakened by the cry of his wife that their tent was on fire. All arose hastily. The wife snatched up their 3-month-old son and started to escape. Becoming confused by the blazing fire through which she would have to run, she threw the baby back onto the bed and ran through the fire in her night clothes. Her husband first turned his attention to his mother. Seizing a blanket from the bed, he threw it over her and told her to run. A can of kerosene standing near the stove exploded and spread the fire over the remaining portion of the tent. The husband picked up the baby from the bed, wrapped a blanket hastily about it and threw it through the flames out onto the ground, thinking he might not be able to escape himself. After three attempts, he succeeded in getting out, with a blanket over his head.

Mother Does Not Escape

Outside, he looked quickly about for his mother and learned that she had never left the burning tent. Neighbors, rushing to the scene, stated that through the flames they saw her turning around and around in the blazing tent, evidently entirely confused by the flames all about her. Her body was found later, almost entirely cremated. The baby's face was burned and its hands badly burned. The husband and wife both received several severe burns. "But we do not care for our burns," said the young wife, "nor losing our tent and everything, if we could only have saved poor mother. She was so good to us and everybody loved her. My husband has always taken care of her and she has been as good to me as my own mother would have been."

The young couple have been married three years. They formerly lived in Enterprise, Ore., but last summer they moved to a place called Featherbed on the South fork of the Boise river. They came to Twin Falls in August. The young man has had steady work with his team and wagon since coming here and was taking care of his wife, baby and mother. The mother recently underwent a serious operation and had been at home only two weeks when she met her death. She was otherwise well and strong and was much loved in her home and among the neighbors. Her son is almost crushed with grief over the tragic death of his mother and blames himself for having lived in a tent which endangered their lives.

Aid Is Given

The wife and baby were taken at once to the county home, where they are staying until the husband can go to work and they can find a home in which to live. The supply room of the Associated Charities was immediately gone over and articles of clothing needed at once were furnished the family. A number of people, interested in the family, suggest that as soon as the husband can find a place into which they can move that anyone having extra chairs, dishes, towels, rugs or pieces of carpet and anything needed to furnish a home notify the Associated Charities and assist in helping a worthy family get upon its feet once more.

Funeral services for Mrs. M. E. Scritchfield were held at the Crosby chapel Tuesday morning, conducted by Rev. G. L. Bent of the Methodist church.

HARVARD PRESIDENT

TALKS TO BOY SCOUTS

Tells Them Scout Movement Is Based on Same Principle as the Nation

"The spirit of chivalry, the salt of civilization," is one of the several important things which the leaders of the Boy Scouts of America are bringing into the lives of the boys of this country, according to Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard university.

Dr. Lowell recently attended a meeting of 400 scoutmasters, assistant scoutmasters and other scout officials of Greater Boston and vicinity at a dinner at the Harvard Union.

"It is a privilege," said President Lowell, in his address, "to welcome you here in this hall, which is consecrated to the purposes for which you are assembled, and that is for improving the character of young people. You are founded on the same principle, the same theory, on which the United States is based. It is that of the inheritance of goodness of human nature. That principle may be right or it may be wrong, but no man can accomplish anything that is worth doing in human life who does not believe in it. You are a body of men who have faith that here can be made better than boys habitually are, and I think that anyone who has to do with boys or youth cannot fail to realize the possibilities that underlie the ordinary boy or young man."

Object of Organization

"The real difficulty in life, with young men and with boys, consists in bringing out the heroism and idealism that are latent in the boy. There is no natural crisis to evoke them. If we could live on our best plane; if we could make the youth and the boys live on the plane of their own possibilities, this world would be very near an earthly paradise. That, I believe, is what you are engaged in trying to do."

"You have taught the boys that there is something in life worth doing besides what is forbidden. You are teaching them that self-discipline and co-operation with others bring a great deal more pleasure and open the door to opportunity in a way that mere pleasure-seeking can never do."

"Another thing which I think you are bringing to the boys is the sort of chivalry that involves in itself the spirit of self-respect; and in the spirit of chivalry, to my mind, is the salt of civilization. It is the thing, perhaps, which we can have in our daily intercourse with one another, which elevates and ennobles and sweetens life."

"And it is with that idea that in the name of this university, I give you Godspeed, and hope for the utmost success of the great work that you have undertaken for this community."

AREN'T MEN AWFUL!

"Oh, George," said Mrs. Bridge, "on your way downtown this morning will you stop at the grocer's and order two pounds of butter and a half pound of tea and some crackers?"

"Yes, my dear."

"And would you mind leaving my skirt at the tailor's as you go by?"

"Yes, my dear."

"And then go to the milkman's and tell him to leave an extra pint of cream tomorrow?"

"Yes, my dear."

"And when you get to your office will you call up my sister in Winchester and tell her I'll be over Tuesday. They don't charge you for calls there."

"Yes, my dear; and say, wife, would you mind sewing up this little rip in my coat before I start?"

"Good land, aren't you men terrible! You're always wanting something done."

IT'S EXPENSIVE, TOO

The rivalry between the two local doctors was very keen, and they never lost an opportunity of "scoring" off one another.

On one occasion they met and Dr. Lunceot said to his colleague:

"I notice that you occasionally take a patient out for a drive."

"Yes," was Dr. Endom's reply. "I think it does them good."

"But, my dear sir, it isn't professional. I never do it."

"No," was Dr. Endom's retort. "I notice that when your patients go driving the undertaker usually accompanies them."

ATE 'EM ALL HERSELF

A girl was required to write a brief sketch of Queen Elizabeth. Her paper contained this sentence:

"Elizabeth was so dishonest that she stole her soldiers' food."

The teacher was puzzled, and called the girl.

"Where did you get that notion?"

"Why, that's what it says in the history."

The book was sent for, and the passage was found. It read:

"Elizabeth was so parsimonious that she even pinched her soldiers' rations."

AN AFTER THOUGHT

"I told Mr. Thickwits that his baby looked like him."

"Of course, he was pleased."

JONES sometimes wakes up feeling cross and in consequence the family know it without his telling them in so many words.

Mrs. Jones attributes it to biliousness and if it doesn't wear off during the day she gives him a dose of liver medicine at night. The next morning he feels better and she gives him coffee for breakfast,—and the next morning,—and the next morning. And in a few days Jones has another spell.

Dear Mrs. Jones means all right, but she doesn't seem to realize that if she didn't give Jones his morning coffee she wouldn't have to give him the liver medicine and Jones would feel all right without both.

Housewives everywhere have found out that Instant Postum takes the place of breakfast coffee perfectly. And that is only one of the reasons why Instant Postum has wholly supplanted the use of coffee on thousands upon thousands of American breakfast tables.

ONLY SOLUTION TO THE PROBLEM OF EDUCATING DELINQUENT BOYS RECENTLY ACQUITTED IN DISTRICT COURT OF RESPONSIBILITY IN THE KILLING OF PROF. HAMILL—HEARING HELD IN PROBATE COURT—BOYS TO BE TAKEN TO ST. ANTHONY

Lovelace lads, Lynn and Harold, were tried on a charge of incorrigibility, found guilty and sentenced to the industrial school at St. Anthony.

The case was heard by Judge Arthur W. Ostrom. Prosecuting Attorney J. E. Davies presented the case and Attorney W. P. Guthrie acted as counsel for the boys. The boys' stepfather and their mother, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Penwell, were present with the boys.

Witnesses Testify

Miss Grace Frank, a teacher in the Bickel school, in whose room Lynn, the younger boy, was a pupil last year, was the first witness called. She testified to little acts of petty thievery committed by Lynn while in the grade in which she taught. Mrs. A. A. Tolman, now living in Twin Falls, but with whom the boys stayed for a week last summer at her ranch south of Rogerson, was the second witness called. She told of various acts of depravity committed by the boys during their week's stay with her while their parents were away. Probation Officer V. E. Ormsby was then called to the witness stand and questioned regarding the boys' schooling in Twin Falls. Mr. Ormsby testified that the boys had been dismissed from the local schools.

After the testimony of the witnesses had been given, a few remarks were made by the prosecution, who stated that he had no desire to go further into the case, nor bring up any matters from the trial of the boys recently held in the district court.

Judge Ostrom Gives Sentence

Judge Ostrom then quietly stated that since the boys must have an education, and as a course seeming wisest for good and the future welfare of the lads, they be sent to St. Anthony until the age of 21 years, where they would be given every advantage in an educational and industrial way, so far as the school is able to give. The judge, after a word with Probation Officer Ormsby, told the mother that she might take the boys to St. Anthony herself, if she desired. She was crying quietly and was undecided for a time as to whether or not she could undertake the hard task. The judge kindly told her that he made the suggestion solely for her own benefit, in order that she might ease the school and perhaps be more reconciled to the commitment of her boys. After some suggestions and kindly urging by his husband, Mrs. Penwell finally consented to be sworn in as guard, entrusted by the court to take her boys to St. Anthony. Lynn, the younger boy, was crying, with his face hidden in his handkerchief, and Harold sat with his brow all wrinkled and eyes full of tears, trying not to cry openly. Mrs. Tolman stroked the boys' heads and spoke encouragingly of the possibilities in store for them in the way of outdoor work and play and educationally. "You'll be a good man yet, Lynn, if you'll try it," said Judge Ostrom, as he patted the younger boy on the shoulder.

Judge Davies, prosecuting attorney in the hearings and trials of the lads since their arrest, August 20, for the shooting to death of Prof. Hamill, has had a difficult task to handle. The youth of the lads, various conditions and their apparent irresponsibility made the case one to rend the heart with pity, all of which Judge Davies has felt keenly, while being compelled, according to law and justice, to prosecute the lads. It is generally conceded that he has handled the case with much tact and with credit to himself.

Attorney Guthrie offered to act as counsel for the boys, giving of his time without hope of remuneration, and this he did, appearing in behalf of the boys throughout the hearings and trials in district and probate courts.

Grave Problem Solved

The problem of what to do with the boys, that they might be educated, has troubled the prosecuting attorney and officers of the probate court ever since the boys were released from the county jail, after their acquittal in the district court of responsibility for their killing of Professor Frank T. Hamill at his ranch, south of Rogerson, last August.

Upon their acquittal they entered the public schools and the trouble began. Some of the children were exceedingly frightened over the appearance of the boys among them. Others showed entirely too much interest, not only for their own good but for the welfare of the two boys. Teachers and officials were in a quandary. It finally became urgent, for the good of all concerned, that the boys be dismissed from school. This threw upon the law the necessity of providing the boys with an opportunity to attend some school or educational institution, with the result that they were finally committed to the industrial school at St. Anthony.

The boys will be taken to St. Anthony tomorrow morning.

Ormsby and Brown Sell Stock on Omaha Market—Prevailing Prices Highest Known

On Monday and Tuesday of last week some 3000 head of lambs were sold on the Omaha market by Ormsby & Brown of Filer. The prevailing prices ranged from $10.75 to $11.75, which are among the highest ever paid at the Omaha yards for range stock. A shipment from S. Grover, near St. Rupert, numbered a little more than 1500 head and brought $10.25 and $11.70.

HOUSE PLAN NO. 82

FLOOR PLAN

The photograph reproduced herewith is of a bungalow which was actually constructed from our house plan No. 82, the floor arrangement of which is also indicated by the accompanying sketch. It will be seen that in addition to the usual first-floor rooms, there are two bedrooms, each of which is reached from the dining room and the bathroom, with doors opening from each of the bedrooms.

The living room extends clear across the front of the house and has a fireplace at one end, with bookcases and built-in seats upon either side. The dining room has a built-in buffet and in the kitchen a built-in cupboard takes the place of the usual pantry. There is an enclosed rear entry in which the stairs to the basement are located.

As shown on the plans, the basement is excavated for the full size of the house, but as this makes a basement of unusually large size, a portion of it may be left unexcavated if desired, slightly reducing the cost.

The plans include, besides the usual architectural sections, full details for all the built-in features as well as for the beaming of ceiling in living room.

FAPA'S HAIRCUT

CITY OF TWIN FALLS MUST PAY INCREASED RENT

MONTHLY CHARGE OF $60 FOR WATERWORKS OFFICE ON SHOSHONE ST.

EFFECT OF TURNING DOWN CITY HALL BONDS IS FELT IMMEDIATELY—TWIN FALLS HOTEL COMPANY HELD OFF RAISE UNTIL AFTER RECENT BOND ELECTION

The primary effect of the turning down of the city hall bonds was felt Monday night at the city council meeting, when notification was received that after January 1 the rent on the city offices, two moderate-sized rooms in the Perrine Hotel building, containing the waterworks department and the city clerk's and street commissioner's offices, would be raised to $60 per month, either on a one-year or a five-year contract.

Much discussion on the matter arose, in which it was brought out that, while the rooms were hardly large enough, or sufficiently equipped for efficiency in the conducting of the very considerable volume of business carried on there, that it would, nevertheless, be next to impossible to secure better quarters even by paying a higher rental. Regarding the rent paid, it was declared that, while this was a considerable amount for the city to pay, it was no more than was being paid for other rooms in the building, which had been raised some time ago.

Councilman Bracken declared that he was a director of the hotel company, but had no part in voting to raise the rent and he wished to be excused from the vote of the council on the proposed increase. He stated also that when the matter was first brought up at the directors' meeting he had asked that no action be taken until after the bond election and that, in case a new city hall should be built, that no increase be asked during the brief period of the city's occupancy. However, upon voting down of the bonds, the directors considered that if the city should occupy the rooms permanently that it should pay the uniform rent.

A suggestion was made by City Clerk Reese M. Williams that the hotel company be sounded as to their attitude with regard to putting in a vault for the city books. He declared that such a vault would be invaluable, even if it necessitated a still higher rental.

I, Geo. W. Wilcox, according to laws of Idaho, do hereby advertise for one office deputy, one clerical assistant and five field deputies and such other help as may be necessary to assist in assessing all property, collecting personal taxes and automobile licenses in Twin Falls County during my term of office. Very respectfully,

GEO. W. WILCOX,
Assessor-elect, Twin Falls County.

PROVED HIS POINT

The old Scotch professor was trying to impress upon his students the value of observation.

"No," he complained, "ye dinna use your faculties of observation. Ye dinna use 'em. For instance—"

Picking up a pot of chemicals of horrible odor, he stuck his finger into it and then into his mouth.

"Taste of it, gentlemen," he commanded, as he passed the pot from student to student.

After each had licked a finger and had felt a rebellion through his whole soul, the old professor laughed in triumph.

"I told ye so!" he shouted. "Ye dinna use your faculties of observation! For if ye had observed ye would ha' seen that the finger which I stuck into the pot was na' the finger which I stuck into my mouth."

RIGHT ON THE JOB

A lady stopping at a hotel on the Pacific coast rang the bell the first morning of her arrival and was very much surprised when a Japanese boy opened the door and came in.

"I pushed the button three times for a maid," she said sternly, as she dived under the bed covers.

"Yes," the little fellow replied, "me she."

TOO MUCH OF A GOOD THING

"Why not hire an efficiency expert to reorganize your office forces?"

"I tried that once," replied the business man.

"Didn't the plan succeed?"

"Only too well. Everybody quit but the efficiency expert, and I discharged him for fear he might try to reorganize me."

U. S. MAIL STAGE HELD UP

hand, the stage was due in Jarbidge between 5 and 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. Wednesday was payday at the Long Hike mine and it was known that several thousand dollars would be brought in on the stage. When the stage had not appeared at 10 o'clock, a party of men started out in search. Going beyond the point, some hair a mile out of Jarbidge, where the old road and the new branch, at Jack creek, they stopped at a house to inquire. There they were told by the woman, whose name is reported to be Decker, that some time between 5 and 6 o'clock she had heard a shot fired not far away and had seen the stage go past, with two men on the front seat and a man, supported as though unconscious, on the driver's seat. Upon further search a pool of blood and the driver's hat were found at the side of the road, between the point of the road near the house and the fork of the two roads. The men, going on up the old road to a clump of willows at the side, found the driver's body and rifled mail sacks. The team was found later wandering about.

Shot in Cold Blood

A bullet wound behind the driver's left ear showed that he had not probably instant death from the shot from the rear of the stage. He evidently had fallen from the stage, been picked up and supported on the seat while the bandit or bandits drove on up the old road, where they could rifle the mail sacks without fear of being interrupted. It is reported that people passing the stage beyond the point of assault saw two passengers in the stage. Whether or not these were legitimate passengers whose names have not yet been learned, or were the men who committed the crime, has not yet been ascertained, owing to difficulty in getting information out from the camp.

Word of the affair was wired through the Twin Falls office to the government authorities. Word was also sent to the sheriff of Elko county, who, it is said, started at once with a four-horse team for Jarbidge, but was forced to make a wide detour around the snow-covered mountains through Contact and Deeth to reach the Jarbidge camp.

"Bearly, the driver, who apparently was shot without a moment's warning, was a young, unmarried man, about 30 years of age, and with a number of acquaintances in this city. He was a patient in the White Cross hospital for a week or so recently, suffering from a light attack of typhoid fever, and had been out of the hospital and at work driving the stage only a week when he met his death. He has a sister, Mrs. L. L. Rolling, living in Colton, Cal., and his mother, Mrs. B. M. Searcy, lives in Independence, Mo.

Word received this (Thursday) afternoon is to the effect that a man's coat was found under a bridge near Jarbidge and in it some of the money taken from the stage. According to the report, the owner of the coat was apprehended, arrested and is now in jail in Jarbidge. Joe Harris, sheriff of Elko county, was in Twin Falls today for a short time on his way to Jarbidge, stopping to confer with Sheriff Kendall. After the holding of the inquest in Jarbidge over the body of Bearly, it will be brought here by Coroner Crosby, who will receive it at Rogerson.

THE DEVIL'S WASHBOARD

BEEF CATTLE VALUES TAKE UPWARD TREND

RECEIPTS ARE CONSIDERABLY LOWER THAN DURING EARLY FALL MONTHS

Omaha Market Reports Business in Stock Cattle and Feeding Steers as Badly Demoralized—Outbreak of the Foot and Mouth Disease Was Greatly Feared, But Surmises Proved to Be Groundless

OMAHA.—There has been a strong upward trend in beef cattle values this week and closing quotations are in the neighborhood of a quarter higher than they were a week ago. This is more apparent in the kind of cattle that are bringing the prices than in the prices themselves. Receipts for the week have been 41,500 head, or 10,000 smaller than for the week previous, and the quality of the offerings has been common, but all the dressed beef men have been eager buyers of both beef steers and cow stuff at the strong prices, and the undertone to the market has been strong from the start to finish.

Strictly good to choice range beefs sell readily at $5.50@9.25 and on up, and the bulk of the fair to good 1050 to 1200-pound steers go at a range of $7.75@8.25, the common to fair kinds selling at $6.50@7.50 and on down. For cows and heifers the range is practically from $4.50@7.50, the bulk of the fair to good butcher and beef stock bringing around $6@8.00. Not a great many real calves are coming, but prices are firmly held at $8@10, and bulls, stags, etc., find a free outlet at $5@6.75.

Disease Is Feared
Business in stock cattle and feeding

steers has been pretty badly demoralized for some time, owing to the suspicion of an outbreak of the foot and mouth disease. This week the suspicion was found to be absolutely groundless and the market has resumed its former activity and strength, although the volume of business for the week has been somewhat reduced.

Strictly good to choice feeders are bringing $7.50@8.25, the fair to pretty good kinds going at $6.75@7.40 and the common to fair stuff and odds and ends at $5.75@6.50. Stock cows and heifers are closing stronger than a week ago, the heifers at $6.25@7.25 and the cows at $4.75@6.25. Trade in stock calves has also shown some improvement, fair to good kinds going largely at $6@7.25 and choice grades as high as $8@8.25. A very good clearance for the week was effected and tone to the market was strong at the finish.

Lamb Receipts Short

Receipts of sheep and lambs fall somewhat short of a week ago, about 55,000 this week, but November supplies, 273,000 head, were practically the same as a year ago. Demand for both fat stock and feeders has been active of late and prices are closing about 10¢ to 25¢ higher all around. Most of the stock coming now has been more or less corn fed and fat lambs sold up to $12.25, which is as high as lambs ever sold in Omaha at any time. Clipped lambs are quoted at $9.50@10.50, but most of the stuff is in the wool. Demand for feeder stock is still keen and prices at new high marks. Lamb and Car the feed lot brought $11.25. Feeder ewes readily bring $6.75 and fair breeders go at $7.50. Real choice breeding ewes would bring as high as $9, as there is a big demand for them.

HARD TO UNDERSTAND

Mary's father was a dentist who specialized in orthodontia, and she confided this fact to Kitty, who had just moved into the neighborhood.

"Mother," said Kitty, "did you ever hear of such a queer business? Mary says that her father's specialty is Arthur-don't-you. Now what do you suppose that means?"

HIS GOLDEN WEDDING

Up and down the village street walked old Tompkins, dressed all in his Sunday best and with a clean collar on. "Hello, old fellow!" a friend hailed him. "Aren't you working today?" "No," replied the old man, proudly. "I'm celebrating my golden wedding."

"Really? Then you've been married fifty years?" "Yes, I have."

"Then, where's Mrs. Tompkins? Isn't she celebrating, too?"

"The present Mrs. Tompkins," the old man coldly rebuked the idle questioner, "has nothing to do with it."

THAT'S ALWAYS THE WAY

Mrs. Inez Milholland-Boisevain, in one of her witty addresses of woman suffrage, said recently in New York: "Among other wifely duties, let us not forget that oldest duty of all—the wife's duty of scapegoat."

"Two bankers were talking about a financier who had failed."

"And did poor Joe accept his failure like a man?" asked the first.

"Exactly like a man," the second answered. "He blamed it on his extravagant wife."

HIS LAST WORDS

A detective was praising the truthfulness of women.

"If war bulletins were as truthful as women," he said, "we'd have a better idea of how this world struggle is really going."

"I remember a case the other day—it's interesting in its revelation of woman's truthfulness—the case of a husband who had disappeared. Questioning the wife, I said to her: 'And now, madam, tell me—this is very important—tell me what your husband's very last words were when he left!'"

"His last words," the truthful creature answered with a blush, "were: 'For heaven's sake, shut up!'"

WHERE ARE THEY?

The man who had made a huge fortune was speaking a few words to a number of students at a business class.

Of course, the main theme of his address was himself.

"All my success in life, all my tremendous financial prestige," he said proudly, "I owe to one thing alone—pluck, pluck, pluck!"

He made an impressive pause here, but the effect was ruined by one student, who asked impressively:

"Yes, sir, but how are we to find the right people to pluck?"

HER GREAT SORROW

"I never have any luck. Everything goes against me."

"What's the matter now?"

"The doctor says my husband must give up smoking."

"Well, you ought to be glad if he follows the doctor's orders."

"Glad! Just as I was within 500 coupons of getting a new set of cut glass tumblers."

NO LOOKING AROUND

"Love is said to be blind."

"I don't know about that, but I do know that most wives seem to think that married love ought to wear blinkers."

I Have Signed a Contract For The Hudson Super-Six FOR 1917

IT WAS A PLEASURE TO PUT MY NAME ON THE DOTTED LINE

And I smiled when I did it.

I only wish everything in life looked as good to me as does the Super. This would then be a wonderful world, indeed.

The Super is the most remarkable automobile that I ever yet have seen. It will be just as dominant in 1917 as it has been in 1916.

We ordered more for 1917 than we did for 1916.

We expect to sell more than a hundred thousand dollars' worth of automobiles before December first, 1917. Not through "salesmanship," or trading, or advertising, but just because the public has come to believe in them.

The Super-Six was questioned when it first came out. But it isn't now.

Half the motor car makers of America are involved in a legal fight this very week for the privilege of using the motor that the Hudson engineers invented.

If you doubt this, ask the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce to tell you the meaning of the present legal proceeding against the "basic patent" granted the Hudson only a year ago.

In a single season the engineers have become convinced. They see the handwriting where your Uncle Belshazzar saw it.

I drive a Super-Six often and every time I do its hard work for me to get out and settle down to my desk.

I want to keep on going. The thrill of the thing urges me. The motor seems so wonderful—so quick and willing. It is the nearest sensation to flying that I ever expect to have.

We are endorsing the Super-Six for 1917 "to the limit."

There is almost nothing that we won't promise it will do.

It's a wonder!

SOCCITY

(To a portrait of a lady on a hotel wall.)

Lady, with the dark brown eyes
And the aureole of tresses,
Looking sweet and worldly-wise
In the faintest of dress.
I know not your name or station,
Looking down so pleasantly
From your present elevation.

Are you just a picture girl,
And this tenebrous again a
Painted, ordinary curl
And your eyes burnt allover?
Are your shoulders pink and white,
White and pink and never moving?
Did your brown eyes never light
With the gentle light of loving?

No, I cannot think you so,
Think you just a painted creature,
With a brow of painted snow,
Painted smile and painted feature.
I believe some artist heart
In some lonely moment knew you—
With the artist's ardent art
He could not win you so he drew you.

ONE of the prettiest parties given for the younger set was the dance party at which Zola Larso acted as hostess, last Saturday night. The guests were the members of the Hexagon club, and the place was in gold and white, carried out the Hexagon symbol. A large vase of yellow and white roses occupied the center of the table. The dining room was prettily festooned with yellow and white, the ends meeting in a bouquet of chrysanthemums tied to the chandelier. Yellow-shaded candles on the table and in the center of the chrysanthemums on the buffet completed the artistic effect. A six-course dinner was served at 8 o'clock. The guests were: Misses Mildred Jones, Elsie Spotted, Vivian Markle, Rachel Quigley, and Messrs. Theodore Holmherm, Theodore Bowen, William Rosberry, Walter Smith and William Liser.

The Harmony club met with Mrs. H. W. Sawyer Wednesday of last week. Mrs. Ernest White and Mrs. Adams, in addition to the members, enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon. A dainty two-course luncheon was served at the close of the card game.

Honoring Miss Mildred Conway, whose marriage to John Green will take place Christmas day, Mrs. L. C. Alexander entertained a number of friends last Friday afternoon. The affair was a trousseau shower for Miss Conway and she received many pretty remembrances. The gifts were placed on a large table covered with a bouquet of fruit tied with a tulle bow. During the afternoon the guests made the bride-to-be, dainty refreshments were enjoyed after the sewing hour. The guests were: Misses Margaret Patton, Amy Kautz, Rosa Kautz, Florence Costello, Katherine Pitcairn, Mario Roberts, Fern Costello, Verna Adams, Pauline Evans, Mildred Conway, Nellie Tensdale; Messdames Hoag, Wagner, Conway, Ehrenberger, Booth, Charles Smith, William Macaulay.

Miss Grace Bryant entertained a few intimate friends with a dinner party last Saturday evening.

A luncheon, most unusual because of its artistic appointments, was that over which Mrs. W. B. Priebe presided last Saturday. This was the third in the series of parties Mrs. Priebe is giving. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock to 16 guests. In the center of the table was a beautiful stuffed pheasant. On each side were clusters of pale pink and yellow roses. Each place card bore a hand-painted design of a pheasant and pheasant was served as one of the courses of the luncheon. As the bridge followed the luncheon, Mrs. T. A. Reed and Mrs. Senior secured the favors, cut glass napkins. The guest list followed: Messdames T. A. Reed, Shroul, Hill, Senior, Thomas, C. A. Robinson, Wright, Wood, Sweoley, Ostrander, Greenbow, R. A. Reed, Booth, N. W. Williams, Morse and Miss Helen Blair. Mrs. Priebe was assisted by Messdames Shroul, Reed and Hill.

The senior teachers of the Lincoln school paid a very pretty compliment to the new teachers of the school when they entertained them at a chrysanthemum breakfast at the Perrine hotel last Thursday evening. A red cyclamen plant in full bloom made the centerpiece. The table was centered with chrysanthemums and the place cards bore the design of the same flower.

Among the many enjoyable Thanksgiving dinners was that given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burton at 8 o'clock last Thursday evening. A red cyclamen plant in full bloom made the centerpiece a cheery one. There were nine guests. Cards occupied the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bell entertained 22 guests Thanksgiving day with a dinner served at 12 o'clock. The guests were limited to former residents of Salem, Iowa. Pink and white chrysanthemums composed the centerpiece.

At 6 o'clock Thanksgiving evening occurred the marriage of Miss Genevieve Lawrence and Drury Lambeth at the bride's home. Guests were limited to the relatives of the bride and groom. The bride wore an artistic gown of white net. Following the ceremony, a 6 o'clock dinner was served. The table was prettily decorated in pink and white roses and festoons of pink paper were drawn from the chandelier. In the center of the table was a silver Copid.

A large crowd assembled at the Elks' clubrooms Thanksgiving night to enjoy the dance and card party.

Miss Edith Anderson gave a very enjoyable dinner party Wednesday evening, November 29, at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. B. Priebe. Chrysanthemums composed the centerpiece. After dinner the guests formed a line party at the Idaho theatre. The guests were: Mr. Riley, Fox, Maxwell, Hobbs and Blair.

The club dance was largely attended Friday evening. Many of the college people who were home for Thanksgiving were present.

Dr. and Mrs. Snook were hosts at a large dinner party at the Regency Thanksgiving night.

Mrs. Harry C. Alexander's "friendship day" at the Twentieth Century club was much enjoyed by those fortunate enough to be present. On the stage, giving it a quaint, homey appearance, were a spinning wheel of long ago days and an arm chair. "Friendship" and "A Friend's Forgiveness," two beautiful poems on friendship, were read by Mrs. Wilford May-Olsen. This number brought the hearty applause always accorded Mrs. Olsen. The paper of the afternoon, "The Meaning of Friendship," was read by Mrs. E. E. Moore. This was listened to with a great deal of interest, and gave one much food for thought. The first number on the program was a medley of old-time favorite songs, arranged for piano and violin by William Coburn, and played by Mr. Coburn and Mr. Schettler. A violin solo was also played by Mr. Schettler, accompanied by Mr. Coburn. A vocal solo, "Love's Old Sweet Song," by Wilton Peck, followed. This was encored and Mr. Peck responded with "The Re-very." The program closed with a quaint, enjoyable number. Mrs. Dwight and Mrs. J. B. White, in picturesque costumes of many years ago, sang "And Lang Syne," Mrs. Dwight seated at the spinning wheel and Mrs. White in the arm chair. The parliamentary department met at the close of the program. It was definitely decided to hold the meetings each Tuesday at 4 o'clock, after the adjournment of the club.

Mrs. Charles Johnson, on Ninth avenue, entertained with two unusually delightful parties on Tuesday afternoon and evening. In the afternoon she entertained eight ladies with a Kensington, followed at 6 o'clock with a delicious five-course dinner. Conversations and games formed the artistic table decorations. Miss Gertrude Stoll assisted in serving. In the evening Mrs. Johnson entertained four tables with a five hundred party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Bolder, who leave soon for Denver to spend the winter. Mr. Neuman secured the gentlemen's prize, a box of cigars, and Mrs. L. T. Moore the ladies' prize, two beautiful handkerchiefs. At 11 o'clock Mrs. Johnson, assisted by Miss Stoll and Miss Lola Johnson, served a dainty four-course supper.

Mrs. L. W. Champlin of Blue Lakes boulevard entertained the Bachelors' club at a 6 o'clock dinner Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Mitchell entertained Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Faulkner and Mr. and Mrs. B. Marsh at a 6 o'clock dinner at the Perrine Thanksgiving evening.

Miss M. E. Hamlin and the Misses Thomas entertained friends at dinner Thanksgiving evening at the Perrine.

One of the enjoyable home parties on Thanksgiving was that at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Warkington at their country place, Bonnie Crest, south of town. Gathered at noon about the table, which was prettily decorated for the occasion, were Mr. and Mrs. Warkington; their daughter, Mrs. E. A. Bralley of Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Dunaway, Mrs. C. M. Biggs, Miss Ruth Mussell, Miss Jessie Warrington, Misses Ada and Ruth Warkington, Messrs. Sanford, Sherwood Geo and Lawrence Warkington. The guests enjoyed several beautiful solos, sung by Mrs. Biggs, accompanied on the piano by her sister, Miss Mussell.

Spanish Beans
Soak one pint of red beans over night. In the morning boil until skin is loosened. Put in one-half pound salt pork, one onion minced, one can of tomatoes, one red pepper. Boil until beans are tender, then bake one hour and serve hot.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB PLANS SOCIAL

Tuesday Afternoon Program, Under the Direction of Mrs. H. J. Youngs, Is Greatly Enjoyed

Mrs. H. J. Youngs had charge of the program at the Twentieth Century club on Tuesday afternoon. Miss Zola Larso more played three piano selections that were much enjoyed. Two papers, read by Mrs. Youngs and Mrs. F. E. Chamberlain, were devoted to the lives of Schiller and Goethe, the interest of the members being shown by the close attention given. Mrs. N. C. Mitchell then read one of Schiller's poems.

It was announced that at the Christmas social, given just before the holidays, a money offering will be asked instead of the usual gifts. The money so collected to be turned over to the Associated Charities. The club members are asked to bear this in mind and it is hoped that everyone will consider it a duty to be present on this day, December 19, to contribute her share toward this fund.

The afternoon of December 12 will be in charge of Mrs. F. E. Dean.

BUYS TRAILER TO HELP HAUL MAIL

With the arrival this week of his new trailer, J. L. McCracken, who hauls the mail between the depot and the postoffice, is now equipped to handle the heaviest kind of Christmas business. The new trailer is a stock little car and can be backed up beside the Oregon Short Line tracks at the depot and receive the mail matter direct from the mail cars. With it hitched on behind his big Studebaker truck, Mr. McCracken can haul the big lot of mail matter which the increasing postal business of Twin Falls necessitates.

BEHIND THE TIMES
Lettie is ten, and consequently knows little of politics, while Ben, only nine, has already begun to learn something about the subject. "Which side are you on, Lettie?" he asked, as they were looking over the pictures of the candidates.

"On papa's side," said Lettie, with a sweet smile. "But is your papa Republican or Democrat?" asked Ben. "Who is he going to vote for for President?" "He hasn't told me," said Lettie, "but I think he is for Washington."

HE OFTEN GETS STUCK
Among the clerks in the office of one of the cabinet members at Washington is a very dull young man who seems never to be able to do anything without making mistakes. "Why do you keep that fellow?" asked a colleague one day. "He seems a perfect fool." "I don't know," said the other, "the fact is, he is one of the most useful clerks I have. Before I issue an order I always have him read it. If he can tell what it means I am sure that there can be no chance that anyone will misunderstand it."

BIG BANQUET HELD BY HANSEN MEN AND BOYS

METHODIST CHURCH IS SCENE OF BRILLIANT FUNCTION

MORE THAN NINETY GUESTS IN ATTENDANCE -- SUPERINTEND-ENT HAL G. BLUE AND REV. O.
L. BENT OF TWIN FALLS DE-LIVER ADDRESSES--BOYS ARE ENTHUSIASTIC WORKERS

HANSEN.—One of the biggest and most successful affairs of the season was the mammoth men's and boys' banquet given at the church basement on Tuesday night of last week by the Boys' club, recently organized here by Rev. Mr. Smith, the new minister appointed to the Hansen Methodist church.

The Boys' club is composed of 20 or 25 boys of the town and surrounding country, every boy in the territory being eligible for membership. Merton McVay is the president, Alfred Pettigrove vice-president and Edward Klingeman is treasurer. There were a number of live-wire committees and a big, enthusiastic membership behind them all.

The banquet was planned to get the boys and their father together and to enlist the friends of all the boys in the enterprise. Plans for it had been under way for some time, and the boys under the leadership of Mr. Smith planned the menu, built the long tables needed, decorated the basement and sold approximately 100 tickets.

Ladies Serve Repast

The ladies of the church cooked and served the banquet in the basement of the church, which had been beautifully decorated, using the colors of the club, purple and white, as far as possible. The windows were covered with paper curtains and the walls and pillars were decorated with flags and bunting and greens. The tables were inviting, with the silver, china and cut glass and the bouquets of white carnations tied with purple bows of maline.

Places were laid for 90 guests, and when all were seated it was found that the few absentees had their places filled by seconds. Several young ladies of the community served the four courses and performed like professionals in their graceful handling of the courses in the narrow aisles. Three long tables ran the length of the hall and at the head of these was the table occupied by the officers of the club, the speakers and a few fathers. An excellent four-piece orchestra, composed of home talent, furnished delightful music during the evening.

Many Good Speeches

At the conclusion of the repast, Mr. Smith introduced the president of the club, who, after a few fitting remarks, introduced Hal G. Blue of Twin Falls as the first speaker. Mr. Blue made a most forceful and convincing appeal to the fathers to fulfill their duties and responsibilities in helping the boys to solve their problems successfully. Mr. Smith then introduced the club vice-president, Alfred Pettigrove, who spoke of the purpose of the club and asked the interest of everyone present. He then introduced Rev. Mr. Bent of Twin Falls, who brought out the aid which fathers can give in their every-day life in helping their boys to attain the religious experience which is necessary to make a well-rounded man. Mrs. W. R. Eastbrooke sang "Fitting Farewell" in a most effective manner. Judge Hansen was called on for a speech, but declined, saying he would rather speak to each one separately. E. M. Sweeley and P. L. Stephan of Twin Falls were scheduled to speak, but were prevented from attending at the last moment.

After the boys had given cheers in turn for the speakers, the ladies and the men, the evening was closed with singing "America."

HANSEN HAS REAL SHORTAGE OF COAL

Famine in Black Diamonds Is Bound to Cause Great Inconvenience, if Not Actual Suffering

HANSEN.—The coal shortage in Hansen is becoming a real famine and, unless the cold weather is moderated either by the weather man or the coal dealer, there is bound to be great inconvenience, if not actual suffering. For the last six weeks there have been but two cars of coal left at Hansen, and with every bin in town empty these did not last long. The Gem State Lumber Co. got one car about ten days ago and from a car of 42 tons they filled 45 orders, limiting each customer to one ton each. The car came in at night and by 9 o'clock next morning it was entirely emptied. The Farmers' Equity also got in a car a few days ago, but it was gone within three hours after its arrival. The various dealers in town have about 10 cars ordered, and four or five are supposed to be on the way, but they never arrive. It is to be hoped that help arrives in the near future.

Mrs. A. E. Pettigrove is in the Twin Falls hospital recovering from an operation performed by Dr. Boyd Thursday morning of last week. She is improving every day and expects to be back home within a week or two.

Mrs. Almira Hale, Mrs. Bruce E. Rose and her two sons and Sturgeon McCoy and his two sons have all left for various points to spend the holidays. Many others of the community have planned to leave within the next week or two to spend the holidays with the "home folks."

POPULAR KIMBERLY YOUNG COUPLE WED

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tate Will Make Their Future Home in Oklahoma

KIMBERLY.—The many friends of Miss Evelyn Webster were surprised to learn that she was married Sunday evening of last week to Floyd Tate at the home of Rev. Mr. James of the Methodist Episcopal church of this city. Immediately after the wedding the couple took the evening train for Oklahoma, where they will make their future home. The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wells Webster of this city and is a graduate of the Kimberly high school and has lived here the past ten years. The groom has been here only a few years, having formerly come from Tennessee, and is a bustling young man. They have the best wishes of their many friends in their new home. A new girl is reported at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wonscott.

Miss Grace Belleville was given a surprise party Monday evening in celebration of her birthday. All of the teachers were present and enjoyed a pleasant evening in games, after which a lunch was served and all departed wishing Miss Belleville many more happy birthdays.

MANY SOCIAL EVENTS OCCUR AT HOLLISTER

Many Thanksgiving Dinners--R. M. McCollum Suffers Attack of Heart Trouble

HOLLISTER.—On Saturday evening the Masonic lodge and the Eastern Star chapter gave a social in the new Masonic hall. There was a good number present and a very enjoyable time is reported. Members of the Eastern Star served dainty refreshments. R. E. Morehouse's mother is visiting him.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Champlaine gave a family dinner on Thanksgiving to 16 members of the family. Those who came from away were E. A. Bowler and family and A. E. Bowler and family of Shoshone and H. K. Bowler of Salt Lake City.

Mrs. G. M. Hall returned the first of the week from Hotchkiss, Colo., where she had been called by the illness of her mother.

J. M. Bratten is spending a few days in Twin Falls.

John Craven of Waco, Texas, is visiting with Homer Craven and expects to locate here.

C. R. Dotwiler shipped a car of hay Saturday.

Miss Bond of Elletts has taken Miss Bolger's place in the Hollister school. Mrs. I. E. Heck is reported confined to her bed. She fell and wrenched an attack of heart trouble and his physician summoned from Twin Falls is reported as greatly improved.

Miss John Murphy is visiting in Kansas.

T. A. Walters shipped two cars of hogs from Hollister on Monday.

A masquerade ball will be given at Hollister December 10. An office will be opened by a firm in Salt Lake, who will furnish a large assortment of costumes for rent. It is expected that the crowd will be a record breaker. Everybody invited.

BOOK GREEK SCHOOL GIVES GOOD PROGRAM

Children Take Part in Entertainment on Wednesday Before Thanksgiving

BOOK CREEK.—The school gave a very entertaining program at the schoolhouse Wednesday evening, which pie and coffee were served to all present. The pie, most of which were pumpkins, were furnished by the parents of the school children, and the coffee by Miss Margaret Rose, the teacher. The lunch was served by the children.

Mrs. E. P. Larsen entertained at a family dinner Thursday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Murray, Jr., Delph and Leta.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hansen entertained Mr. and Mrs. Alex Gray and children at a Thanksgiving dinner at the ranch at Escalante.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Harrell and Mrs. Harrell spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Harrell's mother, Mrs. Wallace. Mr.

Vespers every Sunday at 4 p. m. Prayer and study service Wednesday evenings at 7:30. Sermon theme next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock: "Why Hold to the Apostolic Laying on of Hands?" Text: Acts 14, 15, 16, 17—"Now when the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had heard of the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John, who, when they were come down, told them that they might receive the Holy Ghost (for as yet He was fallen upon none of them; only they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus); then laid they their hands on them and they received the Holy Ghost."

Synopsis: Why hold to apostolic laying on of hands?

(1) Because it is scriptural, apostolic, historic, and because it is Christian and

97 per cent of all Christians hold to it. (2) Because it is one of the strongest means of Christian unity; the Roman church, with its hundreds of millions, the Episcopal, with upwards of 60,000,000, the church of the English speaking people, has held itself together, while the modern and smaller churches have split themselves into many incompatible parts. (3) Because it is a means of receiving the Holy Ghost," then laid their hands on them and they received the Holy Ghost." L. B. Frank, rector.

First Presbyterian

The pastor, Dr. J. P. Shepherd, will preach at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Morning subject, "Salutations from Unexpected Sources." Evening, "Truth in Word and Life." Baptist

10 a. m., Sunday school; classes for all ages, and all invited. 11 a. m., sermon, "Common Burdens and What to Do With Them." 6:30 p. m., Y. P. U., the subject is "Defying Evil" and will be helpfully discussed. 7:30 p. m., sermon, "The Ideal Young Woman." This is the second of the series on "Ideals." A young man has written a brief paper on the subject, giving in his splendid way the characteristics which enter into the ideal young woman. What are the characteristics of such a young woman? What is her attitude toward youth? What should be included in her education? These are some of the phases the speaker will consider. Everyone interested in the subject is invited. And all those who have no church home and the stranger within the gates of our city are especially invited. Orvis T. Anderson, pastor.

returned to their home at Rogerson Sunday. Mrs. Ellen Larson spent the Thanksgiving vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Larson. She returned to her school work at Rogerson Sunday. Mrs. Margaret Rose, teacher of the school, spent Thanksgiving with relatives in Twin Falls. The Shoe Store boys took 400 head of cattle from the U. C. ranch to the feeding pens near the sugar factory at Twin Falls Thursday. Another bunch was taken direct from the Point ranch Friday. O. Peterson, who is still serving on the jury at Twin Falls, came home for his Thanksgiving dinner, but had to return the same evening because of the condition of the roads, which makes rapid traveling impossible. Mary Domrose left Saturday for Twin Falls, where she will remain with Mrs. Ellen Cline for some time.

KIMBERLY PIONEER CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Elizabeth Truesdale, Aged Eighty Years, Dies at Home of Her Daughter, Mrs. Sampson

KIMBERLY.—Mrs. Elizabeth Truesdale died Tuesday morning in South Kimberly at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bessie Sampson. Mrs. Truesdale came to Kimberly about seven years ago with her husband from Colorado. Her husband died from blood poisoning soon after their arrival here and she has since made her home with her daughter. She was about 80 years old and leaves a son, A. P. Truesdale of Twin Falls, in addition to the daughter here, to mourn her loss.

Word was received here the first of the week of the death of W. A. Critchfield. Mr. Critchfield formerly operated the Golden Rule store here, which he sold to G. L. Noble. Since quitting the store he has been on a homestead in the Stanley Basin country, the other side of Galena summit. He leaves a brother in Oakley, a wife and several children.

Louis Albert Banks will speak in Kimberly at the Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday, December 10. He is a noted prohibitionist speaker and everyone is invited.

H. H. Rambo has a public sale on the 8th and will move to the north side with his family to reside.

EAST IS DRUNK WITH PROSPERITY

R. S. JOHNSON DESCRIBES MONEY MAD CONDITIONS--TILLS OF TIPPING BEFORE AND AFTER

Every Railroad Swamped With Freight—Hotels Overcrowded to Overflowing—Varied and Bright Colors the Latest Thing in Automobiles—1917 Demand Will Be Double the Output

Glad to get back, but enjoying his trip, nevertheless, and telling great tales of the new things he saw in the East, Ed S. Johnson returned Tuesday from a three weeks' visit to 14 of the biggest automobile plants in the world. He was accompanied by Mrs. Johnson,

RASMUSSEN'S BRAINSTORMS

Age brings wisdom but it doesn't leave much time to use it.

Many a man might be more efficient and a better working man after he gets older, if he partakes of the advantages of our offerings in his youthful days. Our watches are just the kind that last on a lifetime. They are just the kind of present one always remembers.

L. RASMUSSEN

who has been spending the past two months with relatives in Chicago.

That the East is simply drunk with the excess of money and prosperity, and that every indication points to a continuation of these conditions, even should the war stop tomorrow, was the statement of Mr. Johnson. Tipping, as it is known in the West, is now old style, declares Mr. Johnson. In the Detroit and Chicago hotels, which are crowded to overflowing, it is necessary to place a judicious tip before any kind of service can be secured, and if one expects to eat there again it is likewise necessary to leave a tip when departing from the dining room.

Real Car Shortage
As regards the high cost of living, Mr. Johnson attributes much of it to the congestion in freight traffic. Chicago wholesale houses are sending groceries in flatcars, accompanied by guards. The Hudson Motor Car company has recently purchased 40 box-cars for their own use in making shipments to nearby trade centers. Traffic of all kinds is held up by car shortages. Even so, declares Mr. Johnson, the railroads are performing marvels in hauling great quantities of freight. He and Mrs. Johnson were four and a half hours late getting into Salt Lake City, their train being detained by blockades of big transcontinental freight trains on the Union Pacific tracks.

In the matter of automobiles, Mr. Johnson declares that his trip was a revelation. He visited 14 of the biggest automobile factories in the country, at Lansing, Flint, Jackson and Detroit, Mich. The demand on standards makes during 1917 will, he believes, far exceed the greatest supply. At the Hudson factory he talked with the Kansas City, Denver and Salt Lake distributors, none of whom have been able to contract for more than about two-thirds of the number of cars they want to buy for the coming season.

Colors in Demand
Styles in motor cars are, he believes, rapidly changing. During his trip he saw thousands of closed cars and he believes that fully 60 per cent of the higher-grade cars for winter use are in closed. Colors, too, he found coming into style. During the next two years he expects to see the standard black and gray shades supplanted by colors of all varieties and shades. J. M. Elliott, who accompanied him on the greater part of his eastern trip, went on to visit his parents in Providence, R. I., but is expected back within the coming week.

MORE WAR BABIES
Lincoln Springfield, London editor, was talking to an American correspondent.

"I know a regiment," he said, "where the subalterns are so young that not one of them is able to raise the moustache required for etiquette. A handful of privates from this regiment swagged back to quarters last night singing the popular ditty, 'Another Little Meal Won't Do Us Any Harm.'"

"As they passed the officers' billets the guard on duty growled at them: 'Shut up, you noisy fools or you'll wake the war babies!'"

SALE BEGINS FOR RED CROSS SEALS

EFFORTS WILL BE MADE TO SELL TWENTY THOUSAND IN THIS COMMUNITY

Ninety Percent of Proceeds From Sale of These Stamps in Idaho Will Be Turned to This State—Funds Used in Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis—Is National Movement and Is Supported by All Classes of People

There is being placed on sale this week a consignment of 20,000 Red Cross seals in Twin Falls. These seals are bright with the holiday colors and bear greetings for Christmas and New Year, with the date 1917.

Practically every town of any size, or at least every community in the state, assists in this movement by the sale and purchase of these little seals, which sell at 1 cent each.

Last year Twin Falls was fifth in the list of towns in the sale of the seals. The previous year $10 worth of stamps were sold in Twin Falls and the amount all over the state was proportionately small. Last year over $34 worth were sold here, showing still a very small percent as to population or per capita purchase. This year all interested in the work hope to sell $200 worth of the stamps.

Along with other pretty seals of the season, the appearance of a Red Cross seal on a letter or package gives it a personal and characteristic touch that no other seal would do. It shows the sender's interest in philanthropic and humanitarian work and creates an interest wherever it is sent.

A pennant is given that town showing the greatest number of seals sold per capita. With everyone having one for Christmas seals in this community buying only a few cents' worth, this pennant could easily be won by Twin Falls, with the satisfaction of knowing that the people of the community have shown their interest in a good cause.

There are many tubercular people in the state, especially among the poor, who will be directly benefited by the proceeds from these seals. It is the hope of the state organization that a hospital especially for the care of the tubercular may be established in Idaho soon for the care of these patients and the safeguarding of the health of others. This can be accomplished eventually through the sale of the Red Cross seals. Special nurses may also be employed to visit the homes of the poor and teach special care and sanitation where tubercular patients are living. The seals are on sale at the Globe book store and at various other stores, where the signs are seen in the windows.

A CONTRAST

WHEN Collier's Weekly undertakes to say nice things about a town, it may be said to do so both forcefully and gracefully, as witness the following paragraph from a recent number anent the town of Red Oak, Iowa:

Julian Street writes for us with ardor of the big town—it is our present intent to write about a place he has misad. What struck us that first night on the way from the railway station, was the excellence of the street lighting, and next morning it was the streets themselves. ("Good roads" is evidently something more than a slogan.) Between these periods of observation came a night, which we passed in a hotel. We had forebodings, for we knew all too well the small-town hotel where if you order meat you wish you had brought your portable hatchet, and if you order eggs you long for some powerful narcotic to murder taste and smell. But our worries were needless. The dining room looked like a New York grill-room, but you couldn't really have mistaken it for that; the food was too much better. And if the room where we spent the night lacked any appearances of comfort either in itself or its private bath, we didn't notice it. What we did notice, as we wandered about the town next morning, was the prevailing appearance of thrift and well-being. And yet—as an automobile bore us on over the broad ribbon of road which sweeps westward—it was of some of these qualities that we were thinking. Even after we had traversed flowery Council Bluffs, and were in the thick of Omaha itself, what still lingered in our minds was the kindness of the townfolk behind. Any time any gone-to-seed New England town wants to make an effort toward regeneration, why not send a committee out to study Red Oak, Iowa?

We wonder what the editor would have to say about Twin Falls, should it fall to the lot of this town to entertain him over night. We have no fear on the score of hotel accommodations, but we are not at all sure about the roads and the paving. Moreover, it is interesting to speculate on the question as to just what would have happened in Red Oak if the whole proposition of the recent bond election in Twin Falls had been transferred to that city. Did Red Oak attain its present degree of prosperity through turning down bonds for public improvements which a majority of all the people heartily favored?

LEGISLATION GONE WILD

THE people of the country are beginning finally to realize that the breaking up of business corporations and combinations is not necessarily a public benefit. There has, perhaps, been more nonsense disseminated in connection with trust combines than any other subject. At one time it was extremely popular to denounce any and all combinations for business purposes, regardless of whether such combinations were good or bad.

Anyone who has studied the history of industrial development knows that this development is directly attributable to the principle of co-operation. Co-operation which brings together vast sums of money for development and commercial enterprise is just as commendable as the co-operation of effort along any similar line. The carrying out to a successful conclusion of a large enterprise is no more inherently wrong than a co-operation of effort to carry out a small enterprise, provided the enterprise itself is legitimate.

The Clayton anti-trust act, passed by the last Congress, goes to the extreme of making co-operation among farmers for the marketing of their products an unlawful act. This is trust legislation gone wild—legislation reductio ad absurdum.

Legislation in the future should be more for the purpose of aiding legitimate enterprise and discouraging illegitimate manipulation, looking to the ultimate good of all classes, than for the purpose of creating a political talking point.

FORGET IT

THE Idaho Statesman says that in Idaho there is widespread suspicion of election fraud, but neither party is willing to call for an investigation.

Will the Statesman never understand that nine-tenths of all the people who compose either party are so thoroughly sick and tired of the whole proposition of party politics as to be perfectly willing to let the result go as it lays, irrespective of which side won?

A PICTURESQUE PROSPECT

MUCH has been said as to the extent of the recent Democratic victory in Twin Falls County. It was a victory, to be sure. But of the fifteen County offices for which a fight was made, the Democrats captured eight, the Republicans seven. Out of the four legislative offices, three Representatives and a Senator, the Democrats "captured" two Representatives, the Republicans one Representative and the Senator—it's all right. Now lets proceed to forget it.

Just by way of a sidelight upon the facts, the Twin Falls Times (Democratic) says that every candidate upon either ticket to be honored by its support was successful, which may account in part for the fact that there are certain Democrats who are scratching their heads in an effort to figure out just what sort of a position their organ would have occupied in the event of a real victory at the polls, and what sort of a majority the party will have in the forthcoming Legislative session, if the rest of the Democrats to compose the body hold the same bizarre views.

SOUND ADVICE

FIFTY years ago next January, a Governor of Idaho, Governor Ballard, said in his message to the Legislature:

"With regard to legislation proper to be done at the present session, I have but few recommendations to make. Indeed, it seems to me that no great amount of legislation is at present required. It is thought that familiarity with the existing statutes is of greater consequence to the people than increased legislation. While it is important that needed changes in the laws should from time to time be made, and necessary new ones enacted, it is equally important that the statutes should remain free from complications by amendment, at least long enough for the people to become familiar with them and their practical workings."

Since that time between five and ten thousand new laws have been enacted and placed on the statute books of Idaho. The fourth session of the Idaho Territorial Legislature is said to have heeded the advice of the Governor. So far as known, no Governor since that time has ever so advised a Legislature.

During the coming session there are one or two things of importance to be done aside from providing for the operation of the machinery of State and the various State institutions. The amendments to the Constitution already provided for should be legally and lawfully written in. An employers' liability act should be framed and passed, a few other measures of general import should be considered and a few of the fool errors of the past corrected.

If this program were rigidly adhered to, Idaho as a State would be better off than will in all probability be the case when the session is over, if past performances may be accepted as a criterion.

What the State needs is not more laws but a decent, fearless and responsible administration of those she already has.

TO PRUNE OR NOT TO PRUNE

THESE are the days the orchard man should capitalize. Threshing is nearly done, all of the beets will soon be in the cribs, alternating rains and zero weather have practically stopped fall plowing, and three long, unprofitable months confront the livestock farmer unless he owns an orchard and gets busy immediately putting it into first-class shape, not only for next year but for a long succession of years to follow.

Pruning is an absolute essential to the proper care of an orchard, and by making it a rule to get in at least five or six hours' work in the orchard every day, despite unpleasant conditions, wind and rain or muddy ground, the wise orchardist will find that his careful and persistent work has put his trees into first-class shape, and he is abundantly ready to take up other work when the rush of spring plowing and seeding comes on. In this connection, a writer in a recent number of the Country Gentleman declared that "the time to prune is when the tools are sharp, and this is the time of the year when they should be sharp."

Unfortunate market conditions during the last three years have been anything but encouraging to apple growers. At the present time many on this tract are in the unfortunate position of being on the fence. They hate to accept their loss and pull their orchard out entirely, and they hate still more to spend a whole winter pruning, and then, perhaps, after another unprofitable season, be compelled to leave the trees uprooted next fall.

Under such conditions, it would seem that each one should make for himself a definite goal, as near as possible, final decision, and every man who owns a tree should make up his mind just how much of his orchard he wants and is able to keep, not only for another year but for many years, and then proceed to put that orchard in the best possible shape, irrespective of possible future market conditions.

The man who does this, a few years hence, when apples again come into their own, will have a good bearing orchard, while the man who stayed on the fence will have neither the apples nor the crops he might have raised in place of the orchard; in fact, he will be extremely lucky if, under such management, he still has his farm.

BY-PRODUCTS

THREE new and valuable by-products have become available to Twin Falls farmers within the last year or two. These are clover chaff, beet tops and beet pulp, each one of which presents separate and distinct problems in marketing and use.

At the present time clover chaff has a varying market. It sells for whatever the owner can get for it. A fair majority of the farmers who raise clover have their farms stocked only with high-grade dairy cows or good work horses, to all of which they care to feed only the finest alfalfa hay. The buyer usually has a band of sheep or is feeding some beef steers through the winter.

In the sale of this commodity it is interesting to note that, although protest is often raised because commission men fail to keep fluctuations out of the price of butter and eggs, wheat and potatoes, in this one article of commerce, which the farmer sells to the farmer, and no speculative commission merchant has any hand, there is often a variety of buying and selling prices on the same day that would make Wall Street bemoan its own comparative lack of speed.

Despite this market instability, which is decreasing rapidly, the fact remains that the value of this rough feed is daily becoming more appreciated and its conservation saves many tons of high-priced hay.

Another good feed this year is to be found in the beet tops, left in the field when the beets are hauled off. These tops are rich in nutriment and lend variety to the ration. The conditions controlling their sale are similar to those governing the marketing of clover stacks.

Probably the newest and least known of these by-products is the beet pulp. This is usually sold in its wet form at the factory. It makes a fine feed for livestock, particularly the aged animals whose teeth are worn. Fed along with hay and grain, the pulp affords an element of juice that aids in digestion and thus makes more effective the grain and hay that is fed. Beet pulp as it comes from the plant is in little strips, cut to about the size of a lead pencil, in which form it has been run through the factory and the sugar content extracted.

Commenting upon the desirability of the pulp as stock feed, an officer of the company stated recently that in all probability less than one per cent of this factory by-product would be sold to the farmers. The latter, it seems, have not been brought to a full realization of its value or else have other varieties of roughage nearer at hand and easier to procure. As a result, it generally follows that when a new factory is built the pulp is sold outright to a feeding company, a silo built to care for it and two or three thousand head of cattle shipped in to use up the waste.

GOOD WORK WELL DONE

THERE is among us a woman who continually goes about doing good, but only those directly concerned know and appreciate the great work she is doing.

Many there are in Twin Falls who do not know how the other half of the human race is living. They sit cozily in their comfortable homes, spending their time as fancy pleases. This woman knows how both this half and the other half are living. She leaves her warm and comfortable home in all kinds and conditions of weather to answer the calls of the suffering and needy. She is one of those rare people who knows how to meet each emergency. When sympathy and encouragement are needed she gives it in abundance; when material assistance is needed she performs it in the most practical way, herself, not putting it off onto the shoulders of another; if firmness and legal admonition must be resorted to, no one is more reasonably firm than she or knows better the legal and proper procedure in all social service work. She goes into the poorest and most squalid of homes, giving aid, encouragement and material assistance, and she usually goes alone. What is more, she almost always walks, no matter what the condition of the weather and the walking. She does not own either horse or automobile and these conveyances are seldom offered her, gratis. Further, Time has touched her hair with snow and she has not the strength that once was hers, yet she gives freely of her time and the strength that is still hers, but often she would greatly appreciate co-operation; and a ride to the outlying districts. Last winter she was very ill for some time, so ill that the visitation of friends was denied her, yet she firmly insisted that when the sick and needy wished to see her they should not be denied admittance to her room. And often she sat propped with pillows in her bed, too ill to see her friends, yet hearing the sad tales of distress and trouble that the poor brought her. Sometimes as many as eight people were in her room at a time, asking her advice and aid. And she always heard them patiently and sent them away encouraged and hopeful and with what material assistance she could offer to meet their requests.

MODERN WORLD WONDEES
By Dr. J. F. Shepherd, Ph.D., D. D.

"WHAT HATH GOD BROUGHT?"—Num. 23:25
ELECTRICITY.

The ancient Greeks discovered electricity through friction and gave us the word "electron." Muschenbroek of Leyden, in 1746, invented the Leyden-jar. Benjamin Franklin, in 1752, discovered the oneness of lightning and electricity and invented the lightning rod, which was used in England in 1762.

Luigi Galvani, in 1777, as he skinned frogs' legs to make soup for his sick wife, through the discovery of animal electricity, paved the way for Volta and his Voltaic pile, in 1800. Professor S. P. Morse, a painter, was experimenting as early as 1837 and in 1844 sent his first telegram, "What hath God wrought?" This dispatch was dictated by Miss Annie Elsworth, a 16-year-old girl. Twenty years later he received from the representatives of 20 nations assembled at Paris 400,000 francs, $80,000.

Cyrus West Field, a retired merchant, after long effort, succeeded in 1857 in laying the first Atlantic cable, which, breaking, was replaced in 1858, and on August 17, 1858, the first cablegram was sent, requiring 35 minutes to send it, "Europe and America are united by telegraph; glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will towards men." Even this was not a success and not until after the war, in 1866, was his work complete.

The first telegram and the first cablegram each recognized God as the source of mental as well as spiritual illumination.

About that time, 50 years ago, Professor Elihu Gray, lecturing to a class in physics, said: "Young gentlemen, you were born too late to witness the development of electricity. All has been discovered." Bryant tells us—

"All that tread the globe are but a handful to the tribes that slumber in its bosom."

So, then, and every now, it may be that the known is but a very small part of what God will be pleased to reveal to enlightened minds. Since then we have electric lights, Paris and London being so lighted in 1877; the transmission of power to long distances, including the trolley car; the X-ray, by Crookes, Hertz and Roentgen; wireless messages, by Tesla and Marconi; the nourishment of plant and animal life, and very many other discoveries by the wizard Edison.

The whole world, almost, has contributed in men. From Italy, the land of the great states Galvani, Volta, and Marconi; Holland gave us Muschenbroek; Serbia, now in sackcloth, sent us Nikola Tesla; England furnished Jones of the electric clock, and Crookes; Germany gave Roentgen; Italy gave us Hertz; and the United States, Franklin, Morse, Field, Edison, and developed Tesla. Now, this mysterious, somewhat appalling all substance gives us a pen with which to write a thousand miles away, transmits the human voice around the world with only the medium of air, gives us light equaling the day, lights, heats and warms our homes, makes the body transparent as air, facilitates the growth of food products, announces visitors and summons servants.

Observation 1.—The human body, as you know just what is our inner condition, as by the X-ray, he discovers malformation and diseased tissue. Bishop Potter went for 20 years with a broken foot. The separated bones were seen by the X-ray, after 20 years of suffering. He doubts the fact that God can distinguish the moral and spiritual malformations and diseased tissues of the soul? "Thou, God, seek me." Help me live an open life.

Observation 2.—A sheet of tissue paper under the trolley of a car will break the current and stop the power. God's spirit is just as sensitive to sin. "If I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear me." We cannot commend Him, but we can commend the good if sin is in our hearts. Are we in tune with the Infinite? A double life is a mockery of all good.

Observation 3.—How little we know of hidden forces, the structure and the mechanism. What a power and what a dispute or doubt the claims of the Infinite Spirit of God, who, as electricity, dwelleth in all, or who refuses to put Him to the test because he cannot understand Him. Electricity is the power of God, itself in light, heat and power—God in light, life and power.

THE FALLACY OF FEAR

BY ORISON SWETT MARDEN

In Pictorial Review for October

A Japanese parable tells of a man who is cruelly tortured by a demon. Not understanding the injustice of his frightful punishment, because he feels he has never done anything to merit it, the man calls on the demon to explain why he is so persecuted. The demon replies, "You have just created me, and I am as much to blame as you. My nature is such as you have given me. Blame then thyself for thy suffering."

We ourselves fashion from our thought the hideous demons of fear, worry, of unhappiness in some form, which torture us and frequently make us angry. Fear and worry have wrought more destruction in human lives than all the wars that have devastated the world since the dawn of the race. They are the fatal enemies of everything for which human beings strive—health, power, success and happiness.

For thousands of years it was thought that the terrible powers which caused the thunder and lightning, the tornado, was some great enemy of man, an angry god who hurled his thunderbolts to earth. And the wrath of the angry god of the thunder and lightning, of the tornado, must be propitiated even by the sacrifice of human life. The fearful storms at sea, the typhoons which wrecked ships, were outbursts of the wrath of the great sea god, Neptune. The eclipses of the sun and the moon indicated the displeasure of other gods and multitudes of human beings were sacrificed as a means of propitiation to appease these terrible powers which were supposed to rule men's destinies.

The gradual elimination of these crude forms of fear has been one of the most important things in the development of the race. Knowledge was swept aside the terrors of the unknown, and when we are sufficiently advanced to realize that our God is a God of love, and that there is law, order, harmony, all the fear brood will disappear.

Unfortunately, multitudes of people are still held down by some form of primitive heritage. The perpetual pain of fear, which hinders their growth, strangles their normal expression and warps their development. Fear is stamped upon their brains from childhood. How many mothers ignorantly try to force their children to go to sleep by frightening them, telling them that if they don't go right to sleep a great big bear will come and eat them up and so on.

If parents only knew how injuriously a child's physical and mental development is affected by such a brutal system of terrorization they would not do it. It is cruel. The lives of many children, especially those who are sensitive, are sadly marred, if not completely ruined by it. A great deal of scientific work has shown that at least 80 per cent of morbid children could have been saved from their defect by the application of common sense principles of scientific and physiological hygiene in which the main factor is suggestion inspired by wholesome courage.

NEW POLICY IS NEEDED IN OUR RAILWAY CONTROL

HELPLESSNESS AND ENCOURAGEMENT FROM GOVERNMENT URGED

ALFRED P. THOM DECLARES THAT IMPROVEMENT OF CREDIT WOULD MEAN INCREASE OF TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES, WHICH WOULD, IN TURN, LOWER LIVING COSTS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A new policy of government railroad regulation, based on constructive principles of helpfulness and encouragement instead of upon principles of repression and punishment, was urged by Alfred P. Thom, counsel for the Railway Executives' Advisory Committee, the first witness on behalf of the railroads before the Newlands Joint Committee on Interstate Commerce, which has instituted a general inquiry into the problems of railroad regulation.

"It is proposed by the joint resolution of Congress," said Mr. Thom, "to go into a comprehensive study of the whole subject of transportation, to make new amendments in 20 years of experiment, of its history, its present conditions and its future needs. The railroads accept the view that regulation is a permanent and enduring part of government in America and that the first duty of the carriers is to the public. That duty is to provide reasonable facilities on reasonable terms and at reasonable rates, and this must be done before any private interest can be considered."

Certainty, Safety and Sufficiency. Mr. Thom contended that the real interest of the public in being assured of certainty, safety and sufficiency of transportation facilities, rather than in rate. The first necessary step of the public is to obtain transportation facilities. What the cost is, in reality a second consideration, he said.

Mr. Thom proposed an increase of transportation facilities as a method of securing relief from the high cost of living. "There have been about 1,000 miles of new railroad constructed in the United States during the past year," he said, "less than in any year since 1848, except the period of the Civil War, and yet the cost of living is still advancing owing to a shortage of supplies which might be met by securing access to new areas of production."

Credit Must Be Improved. "This leads to the consideration as to whether railroad credit is as good as the public interest requires. It is impossible for railroads to earn enough to supply the necessary cost of the maintenance of their facilities from current revenue. They must be provided from credit. Investors cannot be coerced, but must be attracted."

Among the conditions affecting railroad credit, which deter investors he mentioned the following: "First, Railroads are not controlled by investors, but are not controlled by government authority and not by one but by several governmental authorities, which do not recognize responsibility for assured results to investors and protectors of credit."

"Second, Railroads cannot control and the government cannot and does not limit the expense account."

"Third, The present system of regulation is based on a policy of regulation and correction and not on a policy of helpfulness and encouragement."

"Fourth, The outstanding obligations of the railroads have already exceeded the financial role of safety and involve a disproportionate amount of obligations bearing fixed charges."

"Fifth, The investor must accept a subordinate obligation or security with no assurance of a surplus of earnings to support it."

"Sixth, Other competitive lines of investment present more attractive conditions."

"Seventh, The railroad business is largely controlled by political instead of business considerations. Look Forward, Not Back. "We may debate about what has caused the present conditions," said Mr. Thom, "but we cannot debate about what the people need. The President has taken the view that we must look forward in this matter and make a fresh assessment of circumstances in order to deal helpfully and intelligently with the problem. Abuses are no more present in the railroad business today than in any other business humbly conducted. The great question now is whether the existing system of regulation gives the public reliable assurance of sufficient present and future railroad facilities."

"Those who oppose any change must make their appeal on the ground that the present systems assure the public of the continued adequacy of transportation facilities. If they do not, no argument based on the desirability of the present dual system of regulation will be accepted by public judgment. The question of 'states' rights' is not involved. If the regulation of transportation facilities privately owned should fall government ownership must follow, and then all power of the states over the railroads would disappear."

"Let us delay this question, then, not upon any mere theory or fear, but as to the distribution of governmental power, but upon the large issue of what the public interest requires in respect of the assurance of adequate transportation service."

DELIVERY TEAM RUNS AWAY

A team hitched to a light delivery wagon freed itself from the wagon after breaking the tongue of the shaft and ran off close to the wagon and ran east from the corner of Fourth avenue and Fifth street Monday morning. The roads were muddy and slippery and the team, after getting a good start, was unable to turn aside quickly when it encountered at right angles a school wagon proceeding down Fifth avenue. The runaway horses struck the horses hitched to the school wagon and the four were badly mixed up for a short time. The pupils in the wagon climbed out hastily and walked the rest of the way to school, as the driver of the wagon was delayed for some time while he made repairs on the harness of his team. Had the school wagon been a few feet further down the street, the runaway horses would undoubtedly have knocked the wagon over.

"A LITTLE FORD SHALL LEAD THEM"

Interesting Summary of Makes of Automobiles Bought by the Twin Falls Motorists

Malign the make of automobile which any mortal owns and you make a mortal enemy. You can criticize his methods of dress and he will grunt at you, but get right down to a mean remark about his car, and, no matter whether it has one cylinder or six, or only part of one, and he will rise to its defense and wage desperate battle for its reputation as the only perfect model before the world was destroyed. If you don't believe this statement, try it on your best friend. Only first get that accident policy for the sake of your family.

In order to get the Twin Falls motorist's picture of the best car, The News reporter appealed to the official license vendor of the county, Asa Buehler, and a search into the archives brought forth the following pertinent details. Twelve hundred and eighty-eight licenses have been issued in this county in ten months, and the order of popularity with the public is tabulated. Henry Ford's tin-clad article leads with a total of 481; Buicks, large and small, are next with 144; Buick 87, Studebaker 73, Maxwell 68, Dodge 61, Oldsmobile 57, Hudson 36, Saxon 25, Haynes and Oakland each 25, Grants and Volles 16, Hupmobiles 14, Cadillac, Chalmers and Empires 10 each, Case 9, Buick 8, Oldsmobile 8, Mitchell 8, Chevrolet 8, Metz and Arrol 6 each. The balance, ranging from five down to one, is divided rather uniformly, showing the common-sense taste of the Twin Falls public. The man who possesses the only car of that make in the county can enjoy an enviable distinction as the pioneer and aristocrat of his class.

According to the records, Twin Falls cars, with its 1288 licensed motor cars, received $20,400 in revenue, of which it retained 70 per cent, the balance going to the state for the maintenance of highways. As a gauge of the money expended for cars in the county, The News has grouped the various makes to find averages, which must be taken owing to the fact that the cars licensed are both new and old, with a problematic value:

Average value.	Total value.
42 cars $ 2,000	$ 84,000
101 cars 150,000	15,150,000
117 cars 1,200	140,400
412 cars 900	370,800
631 cars 600	378,600

3268 cars $61,000 $1,320,000

In the above figures are not included a large number of dealers' cars, which, while paying license, are not available for any comparative values.

BUHL MAN RETURNS TO HIS COMPANY

Captain Biggs Leaves for Border Monday—Believes It Possible Idaho Troops May Return

Captain C. V. Biggs of Company K of the Idaho regiment, who was home on a furlough, returned to Nogales, Ariz., on the Mexican border, Monday evening, after having spent a week in this city, visiting with his family, says the Buhl Herald. Captain Biggs stopped here on his way from the border to Boise, and later returned to spend a week.

"Yes, I am anxious to get back," said Captain Biggs when he was asked if he wanted to return. "Since I know that I have to go, I'd rather be with my men and help keep them encouraged, though it may be that we shall return in a few weeks, for we never can tell. However, I believe that the trouble is not settled with the neighbor republic, for Villa is renewing marauding activities and the situation is becoming more serious in spite of all that can be done by Carranza."

Captain Biggs was loaded down with articles which were sent by the Buhl people to their soldier brothers in the company. He expects to reach camp by Thursday and look estates with him, including several rook keys.

IMPORTANCE OF THE AUTOMOBILE BUSINESS GROWS

TOTAL YEARLY EXPENDITURE IN THE COUNTY NEARLY $2,000,000

TEN YEARS HAS BEEN GREAT CHANGE IN THE TYPE AND USEFULNESS OF THE BUZZ WAGON — FARMERS QUICKLY GRASP THE OPPORTUNITY FOR SPEEDIER COMMUNICATION

From an almost negligible position at the bottom of the industrial scale to one toward the topmost rung of valued assets in less than 10 years is the history of the automobile business within Twin Falls county. Ten years ago the gas wagon was a freak curiosity upon the highways and byways of this section. Drivers of teams were too often called upon to sooth the shattered nerves of their steeds and exclaim in lurid terms their private opinion of the man who would venture to pollute the atmosphere with a gasoline stench. Farmers, when not too busy quieting teams, looked with undisguised contempt upon the two-wheelers wheezing and rattling along directed by a prospective inhabitant of the insane asylum.

The first garage upon the Twin Falls tract, located in the Aldrich block, on North Shoshone, was the Mecca of fully one-half of the male population of the city as the first model of Hank Ford's devilcat were exhibited. Later, the peace advocate's invention had to take to the ditch, (as it has ever since) when a real four honest-to-goodness cylinder Northern proudly converted upon the public roads. The public taste in automobiles has steadily increased until a Packard or a Pierce-Arrow causes but a ripple upon the erstwhile calm of the public.

Few people, while amazed at the large number of cars within the limits of the county, really know of the true magnitude of the automobile industry, with its slight touch of subtlety to the common eye. While the farms and the mercantile business represent a much larger capitalization, yet neither can claim superiority in the minds of the public or in the importance of the service to the public. Figures compiled with an idea of extreme conservatism indicate that close to $2,000,000 is expended in this county in automobiles, and the upkeep and operation of the gas-driven business and pleasure cars. For the sake of accuracy, this is accounted for in the following manner: Automobiles which are operating under license at the present time within this county approximate 1,300,000 of the above amount, with the following other subdivisions: Labor, $40,000; gasoline, $150,000; oil and grease, $30,000; tires, $60,000; accessories, $40,000; repair parts, $85,000; garages (estimated) upon basis of average cost, located in the eight towns of the county, $125,000; or a grand total of $1,255,000. Possibly some of the readers of this article will not agree as to the figures, but no one will deny that the car is lower, rather than too high. The above comparison does not include the auto trucks, of which are large number are being used in freight traffic between the mining camps, and in more direct competition with the Short Line on the short hauls between neighboring towns.

Indications of Prosperity While the increase in the number of automobiles is in itself a notable feature, yet the vastly greater increase in the number of machines owned by the farmers, who are utilizing the new idea in bringing the farm nearer to the city, with their markets and their products, is a more striking indication. To see the whole darn family crowded into the handsome, new, shiny car, getting a glimpse of the scenery, or en route to a movie in the nearest town, is a familiar and welcome sight to those who know of the ordinary drudgery of the farm and the former lack of relaxation after a grueling day for every member of the rural family. It has brought success for many city ranchers who have, by means of the stanch aid of the automobile, been able to put in a half day in the field directing operations and at the same time carry on to a great extent some city business.

A farmer with a calf or a pig in the corner of his touring car is not altogether a strange sight upon the streets of any of the towns in the Twin Falls country. He can get the animal to market, collect his profits from the high cost of living and be back on the ranch ready for more work. The farmer has been the last to seize the freedom granted by the auto, but he has taken it in a very different way. The car is not a luxury beyond his means, and it is to the farmers that the dealers are looking for the sale of the high-priced machines.

Those who have spent much time upon the roads in Idaho must have the impression that all the world's a wheel, because of the number of cars which are seen in the mountains and valleys headed for the distant mountains in search of the pleasure that only Idaho affords in abundance. Sixty miles to a fishing stream and back again the same

HOOSIER

Red Door Hoosier Cabinet

For Holiday Dinners =for Every-Day Meals

NOW—before Christmas and New Year's—now is the time of all times to get this scientific kitchen helper—the Hoosier Cabinet. You and the Hoosier together can do your work in half the time. So why take twice as long without it!

There isn't a reason on earth why you should drill double-time back and forth from the cellar, the pantry, the cupboard and the kitchen table getting each meal, and clearing away the dishes and utensils afterward.

The Hoosier does away with all those miles of useless steps.

Forty labor-saving inventions by domestic science experts make the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet the greatest time-saver, step-saver and strength-saver ever devised to cut down woman's work.

No other kitchen cabinet in the world has the seventeen vital features that the Hoosier brings to your kitchen without extra cost.

That's why more women demand the Hoosier than any other five cabinets combined.

Low Prices and Easy Terms

Hoosier prices are fixed at the factory and present the utmost in value for the money. You can pay less, but why buy disappointment? The Hoosier means pleasure and lifetime service.

Prices $30.00 to $50.00—Your money back if you're not delighted. Can any other cabinet be guaranteed like this? Won't you come and see the Hoosier demonstrated?

Will give you the names of ladies whom you know who have the Hoosier, and you can talk with them before you place an order.

$5.00 down puts a Hoosier in your home—$5.00 per month pays for it.

Come now—and turn winter's cooking and baking from kitchen drudgery into delightful work.

OSTRANDER & COMPANY

"FURNITURE THAT FURNISHES"

any with a big catch is a common story to the inhabitants of this state. Appreciation of the beauties of the Sawtooth mountains, with their marvelous lakes and streams and towering peaks, never came until the automobile brought the 200 miles of intervening territory within the compass of two or three days' outing.

What the Figures Show

While there are still a few families in Twin Falls county without the colored car, yet the fact that 1288 licenses have been issued up to the first of November indicates that Twin Falls county has more automobiles per hundred population than many larger and more prosperous counties of the state, and that the coming year looks better to them than the present banner year, and that the bumper crops and top prices mean a reflected prosperity for them. They still have faith in the long purple of the Twin Falls farmer. Many of the dealers have already started buildings to house the increasing number of storage machines. Many others are now planning for modern fireproof buildings that will probably surpass any of the present garages. Where the moderate-priced car was considered good enough in the years past, the tendency of the business is toward increasingly higher-priced machines with the added luxuries.

The automobile, while it is blamed for the falling off in the sales of other luxuries, and some lines, like clothing, is creating a demand for many things which has built many new businesses, like that of auto accessories, and has stimulated many new mercantile lines, for which the automobile gets little credit and for which the public has responded with little appreciation of the cause. Automobile toggery, the wanes, gauds, coats, goggles and a hundred little touring necessities have without a doubt increased business rather than diminished the volume of the mercantile trade.

The buzz wagon does not buzz as loudly as in the days of the two-cylinder, but it is moving silently to the front rank of importance with a rapidity that is startling, and yet not different from many American industries which have in as short a time dominated American industrial life. The automobile industry is but a lusty youngster at present, but bids fair to reach a ripe old age undaunted by the imminent rivalry of the flying machine. Mother Earth looks good to the majority and will for some time to come.

GOOD MEDICINE FOR CHILDREN

HISTORY OF THE OGDEN PACKING & PROVISION COMPANY PLANT

The Ogden Packing & Provision Company was incorporated in 1901, with a paid up capital of $7500. We at that time owned no buildings or real estate of any kind, and it was not until 1906 that we built a small packing plant, the first of its kind in the state. Our investment was more or less hazardous and we were taking big chances in developing the packing business. At that time the hog supply in the intermountain country was very small. We purchased all the hogs that we could locally, and when we could not secure hogs locally to operate our plant we went to Nebraska for hogs.

The rate from Nebraska to Utah was 81 cents per hundred pounds. We applied to the railroad company for a reduction in rates, as the railroad company carried hogs from the same point to Portland, Ore., almost double the distance, for 55 cents. But they refused to grant us any concession whatever, as they claimed they were making more money out of handling the cured meats from the east into Utah than what they would be getting if the hogs were raised locally.

Our only salvation was to encourage the hog raising throughout the territory tributary to our plant, which included Utah and Idaho in particular. We did this, in many cases loaning money to some of the hog raisers. It was a very slow work to interest anyone in raising hogs, as they felt it could be done cheaper in the east, and that because of the lack of corn in this country it was not adapted to hog raising. But as the hog raisers gradually found a steady market whenever they had any hogs ready, and found it remunerative to raise hogs, they gradually worked into it more and more, so that our latest government statistics show a hog supply of 155,000 hogs in Utah and Idaho on January 1, 1916.

During our first year of operation we handled considerably less than 5000 head of hogs for the entire year. We gradually increased this as the hogs were produced. When finally our plant was too small to handle the amount of hogs raised, we made additions from time to time, so as to keep pace with the hog industry. During this season we have made further additions to our plant, and from now on will be able to handle 400,000 hogs per annum.

To get to this point has been a very severe and hard struggle. Our investment is close on to $1,000,000, and yet the returns on the investment have been only comparatively small. It has only been upon the faith in the hog production of the intermountain country that the stockholders of our company have been induced from time to time to increase the capital, so as to make our outfitting and plant handling more business. While this development has been going on, close on to a score of other Utah companies have started up and called for hundreds of thousands of dollars.

PROTECTIVE AND DEFENSIVE MEASURES OF THIS UTAH INDUSTRY

Being familiar with the tactics of big packers in destroying smaller independent plants, we found it necessary, in order not to be put out of business, to take the business of the intermountain country, including the Pacific coast, so that should any measures be applied against us by the big packers it would be necessary for them to get at us as many points, and such a fight might be detrimental to their own interests.

Notwithstanding this, meats were shipped by the meat combine into Ogden and Salt Lake City, as well as other places, and sold for less money than it cost at shipping point, for the specific purpose of hampering our development and injuring our business. It was necessary for us at many times to sell meats for materially less than cost, in order to hold our business.

In entering the Los Angeles and San Francisco markets the meat combine fought us all they possibly could, even to the extent of threatening to put us out of business, and when we did not submit counter-proposals divisions of markets were suggested. Other steps were, therefore, necessary on their part, in order to further impede our progress.

HOW HIGH FINANCING WORKS WHEN YOU KNOW HOW

Although the Cudahy company have millions of dollars behind them, they apparently did not have enough faith in the future of the packing business in this intermountain country to invest their capital, as we have had in building up the hog industry and the packing business from its foundation. They sent their representatives to the commercial organizations of Pocatello, Ogden and Salt Lake City, proposing to erect a plant, and asking each what it had to offer, apparently endeavoring to make one city envious of the other and add to the coffers of the million-dollar concern. The offer on the part of certain Salt Lake City bankers and business men of a packing plant which cost over $200,000 to build, together with a cash bonus of $25,000 and one-fourth interest in the Salt Lake City stock yards, all of which may be conservatively estimated at over one-quarter of a million dollars, was evidently the climax desired.

OGDEN PACKING & PROVISION CO. PLANT--1916

SHOWING STOCK YARDS IMPROVEMENTS UNDER WAY

This Plant Has a Daily Capacity of 1200 Hogs, 1600 Sheep, 300 Cattle

This is a Battle for Food Independence

WE DO NOT OBJECT TO THE ENTRANCE OF ANY PACKING COMPANY INTO THE INTERMOUNTAIN COUNTRY ON A FAIR COMPETITIVE BASIS, ONE THAT WILL BUILD UP THE LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY AND THE MANUFACTURING ENTERPRISES OF UTAH AND IDAHO; WE DO NOT OBJECT TO THE ENTRANCE OF THE CUDAHY COMPANY INTO UTAH AS A SALT LAKE CITY AND OGDEN CONTENTION; WE DO NOT CONSIDER THAT THESE ARE FACTORS TO BE CONSIDERED, BUT WE DO OBJECT TO AND CONTEND THAT SALT LAKE BANKERS AND BUSINESS MEN WHO HAVE GIVEN AN IMMENSE AMOUNT OF PROPERTY AND MONEY TO THE CUDAHY PACKING COMPANY HAVE GIVEN THE BASIS FOR UNFAIR COMPETITION AGAINST A UTAH COMPANY, FINANCED BY UTAH MEN, UTILIZING UTAH PRODUCTS AND UTAH LABOR, WITH THE GENERAL KNOWLEDGE AT THE TIME THAT THIS COMPANY'S PLANT WAS BEING INCREASED TO SUCH A CAPACITY THAT IT WAS BEYOND THE OUTPUT OF THE HOG INDUSTRY IN THE INTERMOUNTAIN COUNTRY.

THIS IS NOT AN OGDEN AND SALT LAKE ISSUE--IT IS THE INDEPENDENCE OF THE PACKING INDUSTRY THAT IS AT STAKE IN UTAH

UNFAIRNESS OF THE CUDAHY MATTER

We realize fully that if any of the large packers desire to establish a plant here we cannot prevent them from doing so, but that our Utah citizens should give them approximately one-quarter of a million dollars to help them to come in here and reap the fruits of our efforts, and put us on an unfair basis of competition, does not appear to us to be fair play.

Think of a company with millions of dollars of capital coming into Utah apparently unwilling to build a plant but to start out a small plant, which according to the statements made by its officials, will have a capacity of not over 200 head of hogs, in fact, considerably less, as compared with our plant, started without any bonus and which now has a capacity of 1200 hogs a day.

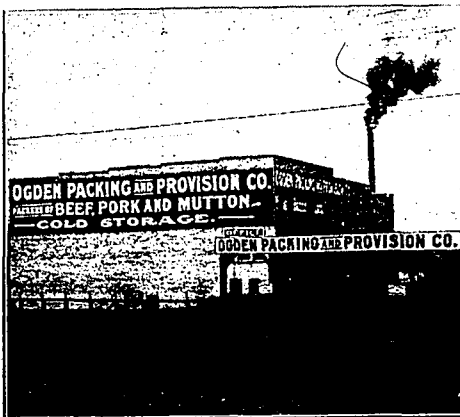

We have no statistics available to show the number of hogs in Utah and Idaho at the time our plant was built in 1906, but the United States government statistics for 1910 showed these two states to contain 150,000 hogs, while the January 1, 1916, statistics showed 460,000 head of hogs in the same territory.

Upon the strength of this hog industry development, upon the consistent support of a fair play and with faith in its country, Utah and Idaho for its home industries, a great number of units are so arranged that it will now handle 400,000 head of hogs per annum. And with a comparatively small outfit for another cold storage plant, units are so arranged that we ultimately, when the hogs are produced, can handle 1,000,000 head of hogs per annum.

In considering the government statistics must be remembered that a great many of these hogs are stock hogs and are not suitable for market. Besides that, these two states must also partially supply Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle, Boise, as well as various mining districts, all of which materially reduce the number available for the plant, thus resulting in our being unable to operate our plant at anywhere near capacity.

Utah's First Packing Plant

Capacity, 75 Hogs, 100 Sheep, 25 Cattle

THIS PRECEDENT STANDS AS A MENACE TO OTHER UTAH INFANT INDUSTRIES

ARE REASONS ADVANCED BY SALT LAKE CITY CITIZENS SOUND?

Even though each one of the three cities offered a bonus to the Cudahy Packing Company, three wrongs do not make one right. There should be no bonus given in any way. If the Cudahy company saw any profits in the packing business here, they would undoubtedly invest their money in a plant, but it is because of lack of faith in the financial possibilities of the packing business, that faith which we have had, that they are taking our own citizens for a bonus to enable them to carry on the experiment.

The packing business being developed beyond the livestock production of Utah and Idaho, rather than to give a bonus to the Cudahy company, would it not be better to use this money for bringing some other industry into Utah which has not yet been started in the state? We are fundamentally opposed to all kinds of bonuses, in any form, while if anyone deserves a bonus it would be those who have developed the business from nothing to its present proportions.

The money paid out for hours goes back to where the hogs are raised and then the various banks, and it is then distributed by the hog raisers wherever they may do their trading. As it requires hundreds of thousands of hogs for a packing plant, hogs are raised throughout Utah and Idaho and not around any one city. The only thing that might revert to the city in which the packing plant is located would be the money spent by the employees, the taxes paid by the company and purchases of material other than livestock, but bear in mind that the Intermountain Packing Company's plant is located in Davis county, not in Salt Lake City, so the taxes will be paid in Davis county. It is also a question whether any large proportion of the employees' money will be spent in Salt Lake City, as they will be much nearer Bountiful and Woods Cross. We do know for a fact that the purchases of all of the large packers are generally made through the Chicago office, and not through the local offices at any of their plants. Salt Lake City banks may have the pleasure of handling the drafts of the large packers, but their general banking is done elsewhere.

It is, therefore, a big question as to the benefits that will accrue to a city from the standpoint of such a plant, and it is a fact that Salt Lake City will derive more benefit from a packing plant, like ours, owned exclusively by Utah people, doing their purchasing, as far as it can be done, in Utah, than what they can hope to benefit by an eastern plant.

However, the packing industry of Utah has been successfully established in Ogden, because of its natural advantages as a packing house town. Now, is it right or just for Utah people to divert this line from its natural channels by attempting to put our company on an unfair basis of competition with a million-dollar concern, when our fight for years has been to keep Utah and Idaho out of the claws of the meat combine--we having waged a battle for the people?

THE INJURY TO THE LIVE STOCK INDUSTRY

It must not be forgotten that our present packing plant is the largest packing plant on this side of Omaha, including the entire Pacific coast, and that the plant which will be operated by the Cudahy company is no larger than our original plant, as built in 1906. It is, therefore, not the size of their plant in Utah, or the competition, which already exists through the big meat packers' branch house, which should prompt this article, but rather the capital and power behind it and the possibility of influence on Utah's prosperity from the meat packers' combine.

Our packing plant is, therefore, to be reckoned with in the future. An annual capacity of 400,000 head of hogs, 100,000 head of cattle and 450,000 head of sheep means a packing plant of large proportions, even compared with any of the packing plant units of the United States and larger than some of the Cudahy plants. This plant is built; it is in Ogden to stay; it was started first. Is it advisable to start another smaller plant in Salt Lake City through a subsidy? If a plant is started in Salt Lake City, probably another may be started in Pocatello, and we will then have three places in the intermountain country, none of which as a market will be of any importance, as compared with the large centers. It will be against the interest of the livestock raisers as they, in order to benefit by the three markets, would have to ship from one market to another or take a chance of either of these markets being closed. If they were taking money out on place the live stock raisers would get the benefit of the three markets combined.

TO CONTROL THE FOOD OUTPUT OF THE UNITED STATES

The large packers in the United States control the meat situation. These same interests are also gradually working into all other food products, including eggs, butter, cheese, fish, canning, fruit canning, tomato canning, pork and bean canning, even into the grains, cereals and many other food products. The government is endeavoring to control this cause by dividing the country into districts, and it is a serious problem in curbing and controlling these interests, and it appears to us that it is contrary to the Utah spirit to further this cause by giving millions of packers approximately one-quarter of a million dollars.

Besides this, many another industry in Utah is today growing like we have, with the same hope in the future to get the same hope for fair play, but if an act of this kind can be successfully carried through here--that a Utah company must pay for every dollar they invest in their plant and an eastern company have a plant, plus cash, given to them--it makes competition on the part of the Utah company impossible, and it will hinder the development of other Utah industries, as they may fear the same fate as that which is being suffered to overcome the packers' business in Utah.

It must be kept in mind that this does not apply to our company alone, but to smaller Salt Lake City meat packers as well, and many more day apply to the canning industry, the milling and cereal industry, the candy and butter industry. We endeavored to enlighten the Utah public through the Salt Lake City papers of what was taking form, but some of the heads of the Commercial club have already tied up every paper in the city, so these papers, against their desires, must pay for every dollar they invest in their plant, plus cash, given to them--it makes competition on the part of the Utah company impossible, and it will hinder the development of other Utah industries, as they may fear the same fate as that which is being suffered to overcome the packers' business in Utah.

Letters were circulated to the business men and a great many replies were received, vigorously voicing their opposition to the Cudahy plant. The scheme would have failed had publicity been given, and the heads of the Salt Lake City Commercial club realized this. Any further proposition will not be given publicity. We believe that the handicapping of a Utah industry in this manner will be resented by the Utah people. We anticipate many degrees of support in this battle to prevent the final consummation of this transaction.

BRIDGE DAY IS PLANNED BY MURTAUGH

NEXT SATURDAY USHERS
IN BIG DAY FOR ENTER-PRISING COMMUNITY

LINK CONNECTING EAST END OF TRACT WITH MILLER SEGRE-GATION, ALREADY BRINGING
BUSINESS TO MURTAUGH—CELE-BRATION DECEMBER 9 WILL ATTRACT TWIN FALLS PEOPLE

The citizens of Murtaugh, by energetic and persevering efforts, saw the culmination of their three years' work when the first load of produce was hauled over the new Murtaugh bridge on Monday of last week, almost before the approaches were completed. Next Saturday the opening up of the bridge to traffic between the two sides of the river will be duly and properly celebrated by a "bridge day," and to this celebration the people of the Twin Falls country are invited.

The celebration, which will be a joint-festivity over the success of their efforts, has been given a great deal of time and attention by the Murtaugh people and appropriate exercises have been arranged for the occasion, with enough of jollity and sports to make it attractive to every person on the two sides of the river. Advertising of the program will inform the public more particularly of the plans for "bridge day."

As the result of community bustle, Murtaugh has had steady growth during the past year and is, with the completion of the new bridge, making a strong bid for business from the surrounding territory and much new territory across the river. In the vicinity of Eden and Hazelton. A new school building of handsome exterior and convenient interior design is now ready for the increasing number of pupils. A neat frame hotel, added at the first of this year, is doing a splendid business and is offering good accommodations to the public and at the same time filling a great need in the community. The mill and elevator company has a large building of modern construction, which is this fall filled with the grain brought in from the irrigated farms and the dry ranches surrounding Murtaugh to the east and southwest. Several residences of handsome appearance have been added to the little city. Murtaugh is growing and those visiting the east-end metropolis are commenting upon the business that is being done by the merchants, the commission men and the railroad. A steady stream of sugar beet wagons is encountered upon the highway leading to the town, and the money circulated through that section for the beet is a large item in the profits of the ranchers.

New Bridge Substantial

Last week The News reporter had the privilege of visiting the bridge across the Snake and some of the country which it so closely connects. The bridge, while probably one of the least costly spanning the Snake river at any point in its several hundred miles of wanderings across the state, is substantial and capable of caring for any normal traffic for several years to come.

Approaching the grade on the south side of the river, one is impressed with the width of the canyon and ruggedness of the immediate territory along the riverbank. However, the grade, though it is easy and well built of gravel, lava rock and sand, dips down around twists and turns and is not at any stage noticeably dangerous as to sheer drops. It gives one the sense of security not often noted in other grades and approaches to the river. A beautiful sight stretches out before the eye as the last turn in the grade is made, the bridge in sight, several feet below. Up stream the dry creek gorge, with its muddy and rocky walls joining the clear green of the Snake, makes sparkling emerald settings, intensified by the grim, gray walls of the canyon.

The bridge, of steel with plank floor, is 231 feet long and rests securely upon natural abutments, which form the narrowest point along the river for many miles. In spite of a half-mile grade that steadily winds downward to the bridge, the structure itself is probably 25 feet above the rushing waters. It gives one an idea of the puny efforts of man as compared to gigantic forces of nature as the bridge is seen from the rimrock, surrounded by towering walls which hem it in and belittle its strength.

The work on the bridge is the engineering success of C. H. Mull, while the grades owe their adaptability to the efforts of Gus D. Johnson. North of the river the grade leads up to a road turnpike road put in by the commissioners of Minidoka county, and which highway takes one almost directly into the town of Hazelton.

The new bridge is an important factor in bringing the people of the two sides of the river together, and even at the time visited by The News man was being utilized by a large number of ranchers hauling their produce into Murtaugh. The bridge will be popular with the farmers, and it will become more so with automobilists, who heretofore have had to pull the heavy sands above Shoshone falls in order to reach any part of the Miller segregation.

WILL INSTALL TWO MORE STREET LIGHTS

Two more greatly needed street lights will be installed in the city as soon as possible, according to the instructions given to Mr. King at the city council meeting Monday night. One of these was petitioned for by citizens living near the junction of Third avenue and Blue Lake boulevard. The other will be placed at the southwest end of Shoshone street, where it connects with the first street in South Park addition parallel to the section line.

BUT YOU MIGHT DIE

A member of the Boston Authors' club sprung this joke the other day: "There's one good thing about buying an encyclopedia on the installment plan."

"And what is that?"

"No matter how long it takes, you are pretty sure to have it paid for before you have read it through."

IDAHO THEATRE WILL STAGE VAUDEVILLE

Booking Arrangements Made With a Good Circuit—Acts Scheduled for Only Two Days a Week

With the arrival Monday of a complete stage equipment, which carpenters are busy installing, the Idaho theatre will inaugurate this week an entirely new entertainment feature for them, namely, vaudeville acts the last two days of the week. By arrangements with a good circuit, it is the intention of the theatre to offer the best possible attractions in this line.

One performance will be given each afternoon and two each evening, starting at 7 and 8:45 o'clock. For this week three shows have been secured, The Premier Four, in their musical skit, "Taking Him Home"; "The Two Morris," comedy acrobats, and "The Durands," in an instrumental and vocal musicale.

HONOR THEIR TEAM WITH BIG BANQUET

Buhl High School Tenders the Football
Boys a Splendid Four-Course Dinner

The first annual banquet of the Buhl high school, given in honor of the football boys, Friday evening of last week, was a complete success in every way, says the Buhl Herald. Practically every student of the high school was present, and it required four long tables, reaching the length of the high school gymnasium, to seat the banqueters.

The football boys occupied the position of honor, being seated at a table in the center of the room. The teachers in the high school building waited upon the tables, it was particularly noticeable that they all wanted to wait on the football boys' table.

Ernest Tolbert was master of ceremonies in every sense of the word. His introduction of the speakers was humorous and to the point. Each speaker was followed by a well-considered toast, in many instances reviewing the humorous experiences of the football season. The members of the board of education and their wives, Dr. and Mrs. McCleary and Harry Barry were invited as special guests.

LIGHT SYSTEM DRAWS FAVORABLE COMMENT

Newly-Installed Nitro-Filled Lights
Make Splendid Appearance—Community is Pleased

Facing innumerable difficulties, arising from difficulty in securing materials, the Idaho Power company has just completed a new lighting system for Twin Falls that has attracted much favorable comment generally. Lights in the new system are located everywhere the old ones were, and in addition some 60 new lights are placed in various parts of the city where most needed.

At the meeting of the city council Monday night much satisfaction was expressed by the members with the splendid alignment and uniformity of the new lights. R. B. King, superintendent of the Idaho Power company, was present at the meeting and made it clear that if any troubles or any lights burned out he would consider it a favor if someone would take the trouble to inform him immediately, as he wanted to give the city the best lighting system possible under the contract and would need in this matter the co-operation of the citizens.

AMERICAN EXPRESS MAKES A REQUEST

Early Christmas Shopping Should Be Followed by Early Shipping—People Asked to Co-operate

Owing to the unprecedented volume of express traffic, the American Express company is instructing its employees throughout the country to co-operate with the department stores and other merchants in a systematic campaign to lessen the Christmas congestion. The railroads are always working under high pressure, but it is believed that with the holiday shipping season stretched over the entire month of December, more adequate service can be given than if the entire Christmas movement is jammed into the week immediately preceding Christmas.

"Early shipping," says Irwin Clay, Twin Falls agent of the express company, "gives everybody an advantage—salesmen have more time to give each customer, the customers themselves have a greater variety from which to choose their gifts, the store management is able to give prompter deliveries and there are fewer tired girls at the end of the day."

"Early shipping has the same points in its favor. Our company is called upon to handle nearly 100,000 shipments a day. By placing the shipment, 'Do Not Open Until Christmas,' on their packages and shipping them early, our customers can insure against their goods being damaged or lost. The gratification of the man on the express wagon, who at Christmas time is in the same position exactly as the girl behind the Christmas counter."

MIGHT HAVE BEEN WORSE

One of the clerks at a weather bureau took unto himself a wife, and it has been his endeavor to interest her in his work at the office. The other evening on coming home he said: "It was a terrible storm that swept through Jersey. The wind blew an hour for 30 minutes."

MAY USE THEM YET

"Gadsky had always wanted to live in a cottage by the sea. That's the dream of his life." "And I presume fate has doomed him to end his days in a detention home?" "Yes. But Gadsky is an optimistic fellow. He still clings to the marine glasses, he bought years ago."

AND DOUGHNUTS, TOO?

"Yes," hesitated Mr. Justward, "those cakes are pretty good, but don't you think there ought to be just a little more?" "That's right," interrupted Mrs. J. quickly, as they sat in their Brookline home. "—of them," ended Mr. J., with a flash of inspiration.

P. P. GUMM OF BUHL MAKES NICE CLEANUP

Came to Twin Falls Country Four Years Ago With $150—Leaves With $8000

A story of four years of hard work abundantly rewarded that could probably be duplicated many times over, if the farmers of the Twin Falls country could be induced to tell the story of their successes, is contained in the Buhl Herald of last week.

According to the Herald, P. P. Gumm, who recently had a public sale south-west of Buhl, stated Saturday that he had made $8000 farming during the past four years. Mr. Gumm said that he came to this tract four years ago with but $150. Since then he has leased a farm and, after selling out and paying up all his debts, said that he had more than $8000 left. Mr. and Mrs. Gumm said they will visit for a while, with a possible view of locating, provided they find something good. However, Mr. Gumm said that he had purchased a round trip ticket and it may be that he will be back in a short while.

NO TERMINAL FACILITIES

A truly eloquent person had been preaching for an hour or so on the immortality of the soul. "I looked at the mountains," he declared, "and could not help thinking, 'Beautiful as you are, you will be destroyed, while my soul will not.' I gazed upon the ocean and cried, 'Rightly as you are, you will eventually dry up, but not I.'"

BIG RISK TAKEN BY MOVING PICTURE STAR

Edna Goodrich, in "The House of Lies," Puts Herself in Hands of a Specialist

Edna Goodrich recently exemplified some of the risks a star faces in making a big photoplay.

In her latest Morosco-Paramount photoplay, "The House of Lies," coming to the Idaho theatre Monday and Tuesday, Miss Goodrich assumed a risk that might have ended seriously. The plot requires that Edna Goodrich show a big scar on her face. This appeared at first to be a serious obstacle, but Miss Goodrich voluntarily placed herself in the hands of a specialist, who made a very ugly appearing scar. The scar being formed by the contraction and discoloration of her skin under the action of chemicals. In this way a genuine scar was formed and convincing realism added to the strong plot.

Fortunately, as anticipated, no mark was left after the specialist had completed his treatment.

Miss Goodrich's heroic action has resulted in a powerful picture that shows a strange condition of modern society not and overcome in an unique and dramatic manner.

IDAHO REGIMENT SPENDS HOLIDAY IN CELEBRATION

BIG DINNER AND FIELD MEETS ARE EVENTS OF THANKSGIVING DAY

ROUTINE IS BROKEN FOR TWIN FALLS BOYS ON GUARD DUTY. FUND SENT BY LOCAL PEOPLE IS DISTRIBUTED—FOOTBALL GAMES PLAYED—RUMORS OF HOME COMING STR BOYS

Special to The News. The United States army regulation Thanksgiving ration with trimmings, the distribution of a cash fund contributed by home folks, military field meet events and an Idaho Twelfth Infantry football game were high lights in the Thanksgiving of Twin Falls soldiers on the border.

Receipt of the money donated by Twin Falls people for distribution among the members of Company D and the Second Idaho regiment was announced to the soldiers at breakfast by Captain McRoberts.

Gift Accepted With Cheers

The mess hall resounded with cheering when the announcement was made. The money was distributed after dinner. The total amount was $155, giving $1.65 to each Twin Falls man.

"I don't know of anything home folks could have sent me this time that would fit in better than cash," remarked a Company D man. "The outfit's flat. I don't believe there's ten dollars in the whole company."

First call for reveille was at 6:40 o'clock Thanksgiving morning, a half hour later than usual. At 8 o'clock the company filed in for muster—a response to roll call that is preliminary to monthly pay day, which will occur probably this week.

Company D on Guard

Company D furnished a detail of 24 men for interior guard duty from 1 o'clock in the afternoon Thanksgiving day for 24 hours. That duty interfered to some extent with the celebration of the holiday on the part of Twin Falls men.

Dinner was served at 2:30 o'clock. In preparation of the spread, Mess Sergeant Victor Golden and Cooks James A. Barnes and Elmo Korr, assisted by Corporal Charles Austin, had worked in the kitchen the night before until early morning. Ten big turkeys, providing the regulation allowance of 19 ounces per man were roasted, over 50 mince pies baked and great quantities of plum pudding prepared. There was enough for all and some left over.

Field Meet Held

A mounted field meet, presented in the forenoon by the First battalion California Field Artillery, was the center of interest among the soldiers stationed here, many of whom saw for the first time such peculiarly military events as "tent pegging," rescue and section races. The Idaho band furnished music for the meet.

The football game in the afternoon resulted in defeat for the Idahoans. The score was: Twelfth Infantry 19, Idaho 14. This was the fourth Idaho-Twelfth game and the honors are divided evenly, each team having won two games.

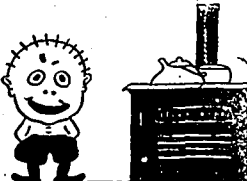

Many Rumors Heard

Among those who deal in rumors and that includes practically the entire Idaho regiment—considerable significance is attached to the date, December 15. On or about that date, it is persistently circulated, the regiment will move. As to whether the move is to be homeward or in another direction the unofficial reports are not so positive, but discussion as to whether routing via San Francisco and Portland is preferable to travel via Salt Lake is a live topic.

NOT FAR WRONG

"A-t-o-p-a-c-y," spelled Tommy, reading aloud. After a pause he pronounced it triumphantly, "Antarctic." And he wondered why his father laughed.

BLEWITT WAGONER WEDS ST. LOUIS GIRL

YOUNG COUPLE ATTEND YALE-HARVARD FOOTBALL GAME ON THEIR HONEYMOON TRIP EAST

Buhl Man, Well Known in Twin Falls, will Return With Bride About January 1—Will Make Their Home on the Bridgroom's Apple Ranch, West of Buhl

The following account of the marriage of Blewitt Wagoner, who lives half a mile west of Buhl and is well known to many Twin Falls people, to Miss Donnie Sutton of St. Louis, Mo., appeared in a St. Louis paper:

"The Pilgrim Congregational church was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding last evening, when Miss Donnie Sutton became the bride of Blewitt Wagoner. Rev. Dr. F. H. Woodrow officiated, the ceremony at 8:30 o'clock. Miss Ella Schiller was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Margaret Roth and Mary Johann. Edward Buhl was best man and the groomsmen and ushers Messrs. Walter Dray of Chicago, Newton Evans of Buffalo, Maxwell Bruce of Syracuse, N. Y., and Thomas Roth of Buhl, Idaho.

"A reception for relatives and intimate friends was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Sutton, 4184 Grover avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Wagoner departed for a honeymoon trip in the East when they will go to the Yale-Harvard football game.

"When they return they will stop with Mr. Wagoner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wagoner, of Lander boulevard, until after Christmas, when they will go to Buhl, Idaho, to live on the bridegroom's ranch."

Mr. Wagoner is the owner of the Wagoner apple orchard west of Buhl. He recently erected on his ranch one of the modern farm bungalows in that portion of the country. Mr. Wagoner is a graduate of Yale and was naturally greatly interested in the great football game, at which more than 80,000 people were in attendance.

BURLEY MAN GETS BIG CLOVER YIELD

Red Clover Seed From Twenty-five Acres on Minidoka Project Brings Two Thousand Dollars

One of the best red clover seed crops on the project this year was grown by George Bray on S. D. Parke's farm, a resident of the city, says the Burley Bulletin. The average yield on 25 acres was over eight bushels of excellent seed to the acre. At prevailing prices the seed from the 25 acres is worth approximately $2000. The value of the hay and chaff are taken into consideration, the crop runs well above that figure.

The clover was planted in the spring of 1915 with a wheat crop. A light crop of hay was taken off in June of this year. Mr. Bray kept the ground well covered, even up to the time the seed was ready to cut. While he considers one of the main factors in securing a full crop. It was found that where it was allowed to ripen up well the best results were not obtained.

WANTED A CHANCE

"I don't want to say my prayers," said Lilly, crying as if her heart would break.

"Why, Lilly, don't you want to ask God to take care of you and of papa and mamma and little brother?" said the nurse.

"I want to go ridin' with mamma and papa, and they just go off and have a good time and leave me at home to pray for everybody, and I'm tired of it."

OVERCOME BY PROSPERITY

An explanation of the dirty condition of last week of the paved streets of Twin Falls, in such striking contrast to their usually washed and scrubbed appearance, was made by Street commissioner W. R. Porter Saturday night.

The failure to keep the streets in shape was due not to the street department being asleep on the job but to the fact that last week through the Twin Falls country, every available team being engaged in beet hauling, gravel or soil hauling or some urgent work needing to be done before another freeze came on. In consequence the street department faced the unusual situation of being unable to get the necessary teams and men to clean up the paving after the mud of the first of the week and to grade up the dirt streets.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

The regular meeting of the Twin Falls Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Potter, 245 Fourth avenue north, on next Friday afternoon, December 9, at 2:30 o'clock.

An excellent program will be carried out under the leadership of Mrs. J. W. C. Deake, who, having spent the summer in the East in a state that is still in the wet column, brings back the message that there is still many a Ruth needed to glean in the fields that are ripening under the great harvest.

Resolutions concerning national prohibition sent out by the National W. C. T. U. convention, just closed at Indianapolis, Ind., will be brought before this meeting for adoption.

All women interested in Christian citizenship and a higher social standard are urged to be present.

"Spinks is back from his vacation already!"

"Yes. He says he had the time of his life."

TWIN FALLS TEN YEARS AGO

FROM FILES OF TWIN FALLS NEWS

December 7, 1906.

Range Cattle Trouble.

The range cattle are crowding down on the tract, the farmers are complaining that their fences are being destroyed and their hay devoured. The stockmen have a dozen riders rounding up the stock as fast as possible and in a few days it is expected that every head will be held at the feeding grounds. It was found impossible to check the range of cattle before the storms, but the riders are vigilant and untiring and will soon have them all rounded up. All damage will be made good and all that is required is a little patience.

Bank Makes Move.

The First National bank will move into its new building on Sunday. The new fixtures are all here and are being installed as fast as possible. The heating apparatus is in operation and the new building will be lighted by electricity.

Quail Season Closed.

The heavy snowfall has been hard on the quail and the little fellows are now forced to the barnyard for food. The open season for quail closed on December 1 and it is to be hoped that the pretty little game birds will be spared during the winter.

3 CARS OF FURNITURE ARRIVED

An unusual busy week at Corbett's furniture store, as three cars of furniture arrived at one time from Grand Rapids, which meant all this great amount of furniture, consisting of everything imaginable in the furniture line for Xmas trade, had to be uncrated and assembled on the display floor. This meant many busy hands working night and day. Now it is ready. From the children to the grown-ups, all can now feast on all the good things for Xmas.—Adv.

NO SYNONYM FOR ENGLISH

A fierce Scottish nationalist who lives among his English friends in a state of chronic pride, picked up his car in the railway compartment on hearing the word "English."

"There ye go again," he grumbled. The speaker "peeled" him.

"You don't know what I said, Mac, so I'll repeat it and revise it at the same time. The chief fault of the British is lack of self-reliance."

"Mac" looked around, and when he saw everybody else was smiling, condescended to see the joke himself and smiled too. He even proceeded to make a handsome admission.

"After all, neither Walter Scott nor Thomas Carlyle would have said he wrote British."

FUND SENT FROM TWIN FALLS DIVIDED AMONG THE BOYS

EACH OF NINETY-FOUR TWIN FALLS BOYS RECEIVES $1.05—SUM OF $105 SENT BY LOCAL PEOPLE—CAPTAIN McROBERTS WRITES IN BEHALF OF THE COMPANY

CAMP STEPHEN LITTLE, Nogales, Ariz., Nov. 30, 1916.—To Our Many Friends: On behalf of the members of Company D, Second Idaho Infantry, I wish to extend our sincere thanks for the splendid gift our many friends in Twin Falls sent us today.

I don't know of anything that would have pleased the boys more than the real cash, for that is always a very scarce article among the boys at this time of the month.

In addition to our fine turkey today, we had a pay day and each member of Company D and every man from Twin Falls, as far as I know, was given their share, as shown by the following list:

SALUTING THE ANTHEM

"I have solved the crowded car problem," exclaimed the jubilant street railway man.

FAVOR A FIXED AUTOMOBILE TAX

PRESENT METHOD OF TAXATION
NOT GENERALLY POPULAR
THROUGHOUT THE STATE

Issuing of Licenses for Three-Month Periods Is Suggested—County Assessors Almost Unanimous in Urging Repeal of or Radical Change in the Present Law—Favor Fixed Tax, Irrespective of Horsepower of the Car

The method of taxing automobiles in the state of Idaho by means of a license according to horsepower is not extremely popular with many counties of the state, who thus see 25 per cent of the license money turned over to the state highway commission on improvements that do not directly benefit those taxed. There has been a marked tendency on the part of county assessors to urge the repeal or radical change in the present law. As it now stands, a heavy percentage of the revenues from motor cars, which most directly damage county roads and demand greater upkeep of such roads, is now going into channels which do not benefit the county from which such tax originates. It is hard to find any county officials who heartily approve of the present law, after two years of trial.

Assessor Beauchamp and his newly-elected successor, Mr. Wilcox, are strongly of the opinion that some method will have to be devised whereby the issuance of licenses after six months of the year have elapsed shall not place a heavy burden upon the man who purchased his car late, and who must, according to the present law, pay as heavy a tax as the man who has had his car the whole year and largely benefited by the good roads. Both officials were in favor of a fixed tax, irrespective of the horsepower of the car, a tax divided into quarterly payments, like the present California measure. The man who buys his license in the first three months of the year pays the whole yearly tax. The auto owner who buys a license in the second quarter pays three-fourths of the total amount and thus the man buying a car in the last three months pays only as he has received benefit.

Keeps Check on Ownership

"In connection with this meritorious law is the non-transferability of the license. If a man sells his car, the license does not descend as a free entitlement to the purchaser, but allows the first owner to take the license tag under his wing, go to the county officer and get a refund, according to the time he has used the car. The law is meritorious, too, in that it keeps a very close check upon the ownership of the car and prevents that to a large degree. One thing is certain, the present law has so many faults that it needs a prompt remedy. It means that the counties which are now paying heavy tribute because of the many cars must combine to see that some means is taken to direct state highway money along just lines of distribution or repeal the present law.

There can be no question but what the state, through its commission, has striven to build up a chain of roads that defeat the salaried benefits of the tourist who traverses many sections of the state, but for the average individual, who confines his travel to the city or local roads, the tax looks like an unjust measure. This man believes in spending the whole hundred per cent within the county instead of only seventy. Yet there will be found many autists who believe that, unless the less densely populated counties can have outside help, the cause of good roads is lost in this state. Without such aid, many of the scenic wonders of the beautiful Gem state would be unknown to the public.

VISITS BUHL TO BUY HOLSTEINS

Manager of a Dairy Farm at Mountain Home on Search for Good Milch Cows

Carl E. Johnson, formerly of the U. S. dairy department, during which time he did the greater part of his work in this part of Idaho, but now manager of a dairy farm at Mountain Home, Idaho, visited the Buhl country last week with a view of buying a carload of good Holstein milch cows, says the Buhl Herald. Mr. Johnson is considered to be one of the best dairymen in the state, and he said that the Buhl country dairymen lead the state for registered and high-class dairy stock. Mr. Johnson also attended the annual meeting of the Buhl Pioneer Cow Tending association, held at the H. H. Styer home, east of this city.

POCATELLO ASSUMES METROPOLITAN AIR

Jimmy King Says That the Gate City Is a Real Town, so Far as Prices Are Concerned

Home a day or two last week to visit the wife and children, Jimmy King, formerly owner and manager of the Palace cafe, and now employed in one of the leading cafes in Pocatello, tells great tales of the metropolitan airs put on by the Gate City.
Hair cuts and shaves are 50 and 25 cents straight, according to Jimmy, so that a shave and hair cut costs a man 75 cents. Prices of food stuffs are far above Twin Falls prices, he declares, and, despite the increased cost of living, everyone seems to be prosperous, and the town is forging ahead rapidly. At a majority of the cafes the customer pays for everything he gets, even to the cream for his coffee, if he uses it.
All of the workers in Pocatello are unionized, declares Mr. King, including the barbers, waiters and shop girls. Mr. King returned to the junction town Saturday morning.
