

CHRISTMAS TREE IS PLANNED FOR POOR CHILDREN

WILL CARE FOR THOSE WHO OTHERWISE WILL NOT SEE SANTA CLAUS

“Hearing that you have not yet paid your teacher tax, we have come to you,” was the information given scores of men in the hotels, cafes and other public places the first of the week, when three collectors started out to raise money for a Christmas tree and gifts for the poor children of the community. Miss Mary Huggins, Miss Jessie Warrington and Mrs. Paul Sigbee were the collectors, depending on Mrs. J. W. Craven in the arrangements for the tree.

After volunteering to aid Mrs. Craven, who was discouraged at not finding anyone to do the collecting and being unable to do it herself, the three collectors took stock of the obstacles ahead and were compelled to scrawl checks covering the missing point and fasten it with a Christmas seal before they felt equal to the task.

Dark Plans Laid
These arrangements were made late Sunday afternoon. The first two collectors had gone to the home of Mrs. Craven on other business. Finding her in the city and was especially worried at once called up Mrs. Sigbee, feeling sure she would aid in the work. She at first stated she could not join them, but when told that the proposition was also dressed and was at the Craven home in 15 minutes.

At this gathering it was decided that, as the business men and men of

“EVERYMAN” IS DELIGHTFUL PLAY

Full House Enjoys Drama, Comedy and Opera, Combined in Modern Morality Production
Drama, comedy and a touch of grand opera were combined in the splendid morality play, “Everyman,” given in the Loring theatre Tuesday night before an audience that filled every seat. The play was especially well produced was a delight from first to last. The company playing was especially well balanced throughout and the scenes were specially pleasing and the music was especially well supported by excellent music furnished by the company’s own orchestra.

The play is similar to the morality plays of the early centuries, and is a symbolical of the various vices and virtues of men and women, but is modern in its characterization and scenery and scenes of present-day men and women. The story, briefly, is of the pilgrimage of “Everyman in quest of Love.” In the play, personified, are “Youth,” “Beauty,” “Modesty,” “Fidelity,” “Truth,” “Faith,” “Greed,” “Age,” “Vanity,” “Conscience” and “Nobody.” The latter is one of the strongest characters in the play and is especially well personified by George Sydenham. Miss Paula Shay, as “Everyman,” soon had the audience in sympathy with her through her splendidly splendid acting. All the parts were well taken and the entire play taught a wonderful lesson in a powerful yet delightful manner. “Nobody” closes the play with the words:

“Be merciful, be just, be fair to every man everywhere. Her faults are many. Nobody’s the blame.”

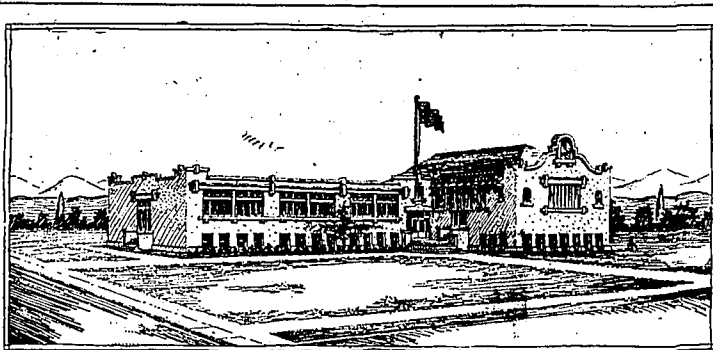

WATERWORKS PLAN IS PROGRESSING

With complete surveys made of two possible sources of water supply, and progress rapidly on the plan, all evidence points to an early decision in regard to a permanent water system for Twin Falls. Engineer Kolbert states that the necessary surveys have been made between Blue Lakes and Twin Falls, between Milner and Twin Falls, and that the engineers under City Engineer J. A. Byrbe are engaged now in running the lines to Rock Creek town as a possible source of supply.

SEVEN BUILDING PERMITS ISSUED

Since the passage of the building permit ordinance by the city council, some three weeks ago, seven permits have been issued by City Clerk Reese M. Williams, all of them to people intending to begin construction work in the near future, despite winter weather. Number seven was issued this week to E. C. Bigelow, who will build a five-room bungalow on lot 8, in block 65.

New School Building at Murtaugh

Combination Grade and High School Building, Erected at a Cost of $22,000—B. Morgan Nisbet, Architect.

On Saturday of this week the Murtaugh schools will move into the splendid new combination grade and high school building recently completed for them. This $22,000 building, one story high, with full basement, is built according to the most improved ideas in school construction.

With a roof of reinforced composition, walls of hollow tiles finished with stucco, big, leaded windows that can be thrown wide open during spring and fall afternoons, the new structure will take care of Murtaugh’s growing needs for some time to come, and is so built that an additional wing can be added whenever occasion demands.

On the first floor there are three grade classrooms, two recitation rooms for the high school, an auditorium seating 300 people, a main office and a teachers’ room. In the basement is located the manual tagging department, a domestic science room, the laboratory and a play room for boys and girls during stormy weather.

The entire building is heated with steam and it is located on a full block of land, giving space for two big outdoor playgrounds. The general contract was let to H. O. Kneppen, while Frank Healey had the heating contract and Ham & Hamer the plumbing contract.

ARRESTS MADE IN HOLDUP AND MURDER AFFAIR

THREE GAMBLERS OF JARBIDGE BOUND OVER TO GRAND JURY
Ben H. Kuhl, Edward Beck and Billy McGraw Charged With Crime—Are Taken Through Twin Falls on Way to Elko by Elko County Sheriff to Answer Charge of Robbery and Killing

Sheriff Harris of Elko county, Nevada, arrived in Twin Falls early Wednesday morning with three Jarbridge men whom he was taking to Elko to appear before the grand jury on a charge of murdering Fred M. Searcy, mail stage driver to Jarbridge. The party arrived in Twin Falls about three o’clock in the morning and left on the afternoon of the same day for Elko. The three men were Ben H. Kuhl, Billy McGraw and Edward Beck, the latter known as “the Swede.” All are said to be well-known gamblers of the Jarbridge mining camp.

The men were given a preliminary hearing in Jarbridge Tuesday night and were bound over to the Elko county grand jury by Justice of the Peace Jewell of Jarbridge.

Details of the Crime
The crime for which the men are now under arrest was committed on Tuesday of last week within half a mile of Jarbridge. Fred M. Searcy, a young unmarried man who was driving the mail stage, was shot back by the left car and instantly killed. The team was then driven by the hold-up or hold-out of the new road and some distance up the old road, where, in the shelter of a clump of trees, the mail sacks were rifled and a sum estimated at something over $3000 was taken which sum about $100 has been recovered.

Not until the non-appearance of the stage worried the people of Jarbridge and a party of men went out in search was the evidence of the crime discovered.

WELCOME HOME FOR THE IDAHO TROOPS

Oregon Short Line Will Run Special Excursions to Salt Lake City to Meet the Boys
Feeling certain that “the fathers, mothers, friends and other relatives, and just possibly certain young ladies, too,” will be anxious to go to Salt Lake City to meet the home-coming Idaho National Guard, D. S. Spencer, general passenger agent of the Oregon Short Line, has written that his company will act quickly and put on excursion rates from Idaho points to Salt Lake City.

It appears from the reports that the Utah and Idaho troops will return together. If the regular holiday excursion tickets always sold by the railroad company will not serve the purpose, Mr. Spencer declares that they will run a special excursion for the event.

BAUGH BUILDING PROGRESS RAPID

Notwithstanding rather bad weather conditions, the work on the Baugh building has progressed rapidly during the past two weeks, and the holders of leases were notified this week that unless some unforeseen accident occurs, they may be able to move into their new quarters on or about the middle of February.

Leases have been signed for all of the downstairs, but the upstairs offices have not been allotted yet. J. S. Koel, who has the leasing of the building, stated today that the four downstairs rooms had been leased in the following order: Corner room, Main and Shoshone, to Skeels & Wilsey; second room, on Shoshone, J. S. Koel, real estate; third room, V. H. Decker, jeweler, and the fourth room to Harry Cowling.

BEGIN MEDICAL INSPECTION IN CITY SCHOOLS

INTERESTING RESULTS OBTAINED FROM FIRST WEEK OF INSPECTION
NONE OF THE TEN CHILDREN EXAMINED FOUND TO BE RETARDED IN THEIR SCHOOL WORK
REASON OF PHYSICAL DEFECTS—DENTISTS AND PHYSICIANS CO-OPERATE

A little over a year ago the board of education, in regular session, passed a resolution authorizing Superintendent Blue to formulate plans for medical and dental inspection of the pupils in the local schools, the board of education taking such action on account of the desire to co-operate with the doctors and dentists of the community in bringing better physical conditions to the school children, and thus make their progress in school more satisfactory and rapid.

Acting upon this action, Superintendent Blue took the matter up with the local doctors and dentists and explained to them in careful detail the plan to be introduced. A great many of the physicians and dentists expressed a willingness to co-operate in this work and to devote some time each year, gratuitously, in the service of the public schools.

Much Preparation Entailed
A great deal of time has been taken in providing necessary record blanks and other materials essential for this work. The organization of the new Washington school made it seem necessary to postpone the work until after the beginning of the present school year. The records that have been provided include a permanent physical record for every child, showing the examination by the physician or dentist and also the subsequent action taken. There are also cards for notifying the parent of any exclusion from school because of contagious disease. In no way does the name of the examining

IDAHO REGIMENT REJOICES OVER RECENT ORDERS

ARE TO BE SENT HOME AS SOON AS ARRANGEMENTS ARE SETTLED

ORDERS RECEIVED FRIDAY, DECEMBER 8—TWIN FALLS BOYS DELIGHTED WITH LONG-LOOKED-FOR ANNOUNCEMENT—EXPECT TO ENTRAIN ABOUT THE 16TH—MUSTER OUT IN BOISE
NOGALES, Ariz., Dec. 8.—Orders for its return to Boise, published today, thrilled the Second Idaho Infantry regiment, on border duty here since July 11. No definite date for entraining is given. It is estimated that the regiment will leave here within the next 10 days and that about three weeks will be occupied in mustering out at Boise. Other organizations which received orders today to return home from Nogales are the “First Battalion, California field artillery; Battery A, Utah field artillery; District of Columbia signal corps.

Request No Demonstration
In compliance with the request of the officers, Idaho soldiers refrained from noisy demonstration when the order was announced, but their satisfaction was none the less apparent. A check of the property of the regiment is being made by Major J. B. Burns of Payette, who arrived here recently with Captain Max E. Garber for that purpose. Departure of the regiment is to be timed, probably, upon completion of this check and arrival of coaches for transportation to Boise. Whether the regiment will return via San Francisco and Portland or through Salt Lake City is being discussed.

Believed of Guard Duty
Two days before the publication of orders to return the regiment, Idaho troops had taken over guard duty in and around Nogales. They will be relieved at these posts by detachments from the Alabama brigade. Applications for discharge to be issued at Nogales have been made by about 200 members of the Idaho regiment. The idea that such discharges would mean relieving the holders from further military service is believed to be responsible for many applications. D. H. Woods, formerly member of Company B, has been appointed first sergeant of the machine gun company, to succeed First Sergeant Jarvis, who has been commissioned a second lieutenant.

LOCAL MAN ACQUIRES BIG RANCH PROPERTY

Carl L. DeLong Puts Through Deal Aggregating Quarter of a Million
One of the biggest land and livestock deals reported in some time is that by which Carl L. DeLong of Twin Falls becomes the head of a ranch property near Dillon, Mont., consisting of 8000 acres of patented land with water right, 17,000 head of sheep and a large number of horses and cattle. The deal has been pending for some time, but final details were only worked out this week. The property taken over was formerly that of the Solway Sheep company of Montana, the reorganization of which is in the property of the concern as well as the Montana Livestock Commission company of Montana and the Castleford Land & Sheep company, with headquarters at Twin Falls. Over a quarter of a million dollars’ worth of property is included in the transfer.

The main property is situated on Black Tail creek, 27 miles from Dillon, Mont., where Mr. DeLong will have his headquarters. The ranch is one of the biggest and best known in Montana. Mr. DeLong arrived in Twin Falls from Montana the latter end of last week and expects to return within a day or two of noon to take up his residence in cleaning up some odds and ends of business in Twin Falls.

FEDERAL BUILDING PROSPECTS GROW DAILY BRIGHTER

BIDS OPENED DECEMBER 6 FOR THE TWIN FALLS POSTOFFICE

TEN COMPETITORS SUBMITTED FIGURES—C. R. ALDRICH OF SEATTLE MAKES LOWEST BID—GOVERNMENT HAS MADE NO DECISION

Bids have been opened for the construction of the public building in Twin Falls, and Addison T. Smith has been furnished the data regarding it by the post office department. There were 10 competitors submitting figures, but many of the bids exceeded the $85,000 appropriated for the construction work. Each contractor gave figures on four separate and distinct proposals, C. R. Aldrich of Seattle, Wash., making the lowest bid on proposal No. 2, W. D. Lovell of Minneapolis, Minn., making the lowest bid on proposal No. 1, the bid of the Sound Construction & Engineering company being the lowest on proposal No. 3 and the bid of the Sound Construction & Engineering company being the lowest on proposal No. 4. The four proposals follow:

Proposal No. 1 provides: Face the building with brick, except where stone is required, and use light colored sandstone for all exterior stone work, except where granite is required. CITY COUNCIL HOLDS ABBREVIATED SESSION

Payment for Employees of the City Engineer Allowed at Special Meeting

For the purpose of arranging for the payment of the men whom City Engineer J. A. Byrbe has seen fit to hire in the waterworks survey, the members of the city council met Monday night in a short session. After this matter had been disposed of, a plan for a storm sewer to carry off the water which accumulates in flood times on North Sixth street was presented by Street Commissioner W. F. Porter. Mr. Porter’s suggestion called for the laying of galvanized iron pipe to carry off the surplus water to Rock Creek and he advised immediate purchase, as 20 per cent rate in the cost of pipe would take effect on the 1st of January. It was the duty of the council to refer the matter to the city engineer.

O. M. ELLIOTT GIVES SCHOOLS HIGHEST PRAISE

FORMER SUPERINTENDENT SPEAKS AT WASHINGTON SCHOOL

DECLARES IN STIRRING ADDRESS THAT THE SCHOOL SPIRIT SHOWN HERE IS REAL TWIN FALLS SPIRIT, AND IS FOUND NOWHERE ELSE IN THE NORTHWEST

Before an audience that completely filled the auditorium at the new Washington school, President O. M. Elliott of the Lewiston State Normal and former superintendent of the Twin Falls schools, paid high tribute to the educational institutions of this city and the teaching force which is making these schools among the finest in the state.

Introduced by Superintendent Hal G. Blue, President Elliott warmly commended the new school building, advocated the use of the moving picture in teaching and predicted great growth and expansion of the school system under the epistolary management of Superintendent Blue.

Every part of the dedication program was carried out in an exceptionally pleasing manner and was well received by the audience, as well as by President Elliott, who commented most highly upon the musical numbers rendered. The following was the program:

Music—High School Orchestra
Invocation—Rev. Walter E. Harman
Solo, "Sunset" (Dudley Wink)
Music—Miss Edith Holcomb
Address—President Oliver M. Elliott
Theme from Beethoven, two piano arrangement (Saint-Saens)
Music—High School Orchestra

In his address, President Elliott spoke as follows:

"I am very happy, indeed, to be with you tonight, but I promised one of my friends that I would sing one of the first, third and fifth stanzas of the song, rather than the whole song. I am proud of Twin Falls. Never before have I been so proud of the Twin Falls school system.

"I have been looking over the schools for the last two years. I went over to the Bickel school and I really knew myself. It was in such a splendid condition, and all so much better adapted to school work than I expected to find it. I went the same morning to the high school and heard the splendid orchestra that you have heard this evening. I walked through the halls and saw the splendid memorabilia of the numerous classes of the boys and girls, many of whom I had known more than three years ago, grown so strong and many that they were almost unknown to me. We went to the classrooms. You have some of the finest classrooms not only in Idaho but the whole Northwest. Nowhere else I seen finer spirit, greater earnestness or greater interest than in the business of the school. I congratulate you upon your splendid high school.

"And then we came out to this building, and then again I became proud of the genius of Twin Falls. Mr. Blue paid me too high a compliment. I did not do anything. I did not start anything. I just tried to help you.

"This school spirit is the Twin Falls spirit and is found nowhere else in the whole Northwest. Not even in Boise have they a school which has all the needs of the modern school any better than this.

"This room, which is a part of this building, is essential in the modern school, it is to do the work which we hope that it may be able to do. Mr. Blue referred to it as a place of play and a place of recreation for the young people. It is going to be a place more than that. It is going to be a place where the residents of this district may come together and study the problems which are of vital interest to you in the development of the best interests of the community.

"And so the use of this room as a center is really one of the most important purposes for which a school building can be used. Do not be afraid, any of you, that you people will have free access to this room. Now, do not be afraid of the crowd and beliefs. It is only when men can come together and talk over the problems that they can do great things for you.

"When I looked at the building first from the outside, I was struck by the perfect fit was from an architectural point of view. When I came inside, I saw the unique, one-story plan.

"What a splendid thing it is that the child who lives in this part of the community need not climb hard stairs, because hard stairs should never be used in a school building. I am glad to see that the panic from fire! What a splendid tribute this building is to the genius of Twin Falls!

"And this morning we had the pleasure of going to the Lincoln school. Really, my friends, you have great reason to be proud of your educational system. I think I have seen most of the high school teachers, and I am very proud of the school as it is today. It has never been better, but it is going to be better because of the genius of my friend, who is in charge of this work and who is going to develop it for you.

"I wanted to talk to you a little while this evening about some particular tests which we apply in education. I wanted to talk to you, and if possible, to say something which may be of use in the working out of the development of your school system, for no matter how strong your teachers are, unless you get behind them and give them your most earnest co-operation, it is absolutely impossible for them to do the work that ought to be done in a modern school. And so, we are coming to apply various tests to the work we are doing in school. We are no longer satisfied to just appeal to the child's mind, to have him get the three R's, arithmetic, reading and writing. The school must do more for him, and so there are important tests which we may apply and which we may ask of anything that is to be done in this school. First, what does it contribute to the child's growth, the child's preparation for the life which he is to lead by and by? What does it contribute that gives the child power to meet the problems that are coming to him in his mature manhood? Why do we have this subject in the curriculum? Why do we have this activity in the school? To what way does it help the child?

"Now, there are four principal tests which I am going to propose to you this evening. First, does this particular thing, which is being done in the school, fit the child physically for more perfect reaction upon his environment? Does it fit the child physically to do the work which he will have to do?

"Now, I need not say to you that this wonderful work must be done by men who are able to labor continuously, sometimes almost day and night, and need not say to the audience that a strong body is absolutely essential, if we are to do, or if your children are to do the work of life satisfactorily. It is the first test that we want to apply is that the subjects which are being offered in this school. Does it give the child greater physical development? Does it make him fit to do the work of life? Does it give him the life? If it does, it is justified. Then, let us have it in the school.

"Now, the second test, which I will apply to the course of study, is: Does it fit the child socially? What social value is it? We are coming to realize that one of the real purposes of the school is social efficiency, is to prepare the child so that he may be a voter, a keen student of municipal, city and of state affairs. There is no country where such a standard is so necessary as here in democratic America. There is this demand for that type of efficiency. But it is not enough for a child to be as citizens simply expect the right of suffrage. We must have efficient members of society, and it is the function of the school, as never before was necessary under the old regime when the child learns to work at home where there was opportunity for the child to work with his hands. So it is the function of the school as never before, to fit the child to be productive, so that he may be effective in producing various commodities which are needed for the life of the community.

"We merely looked at the school as the merely where his wife were sharpened, however, he must have vocational direction, guidance, and so that he may be a worker with a friend just recently, and this was the remark: 'Not until home economics became a part of the high school course, and not until manual training became a part of the work of the school, was it a good thing, that it was a great thing, to teach boys and girls to be able to work.'

"Now, if a child is to be a social factor, if a subject is placed in the school, it must stand the test of social preparation; it must fit the child for this social efficiency of which I am speaking. Not only must a child be a capable member of society, capable of exercising the right of citizenship, but he must be a productive member of society; he must be able to do something of real value and benefit to the community. And where is the place in all this world that is so profitable to labor as in this wonderful Idaho life, and that life, it seems to me, is one of the greatest phases here today for making this social efficiency more effective. I hope when I come to Twin Falls next time that I may find domestic science manual training and sewing as low as the fifth and sixth grades.

"But the child must be more than socially efficient. He must be morally fit. And so the third test that I must apply to those branches which we teach in the public school is: Do they give the child moral fitness and moral power? You know, we are handicapped, seriously handicapped, in this country, and the place where we live, free Northwest, for it is impossible for us to give credit for religious training and for religious instruction. And it is a serious handicap, for the man who does not have the right of religious life is not a complete man. This religious instruction, if you would call it instruction, is so dominant in our lives that it is almost impossible to develop and unless it is encouraged to develop, the community does not have that moral strength, that moral spirit, that moral power.

"Now, handicapped in this way, how shall we in the public school make an appeal to the child's moral nature? This must be done, as it has always been done, largely by the character of the teachers in charge of the work. The teacher is more dominant in developing the child's moral strength and moral power than anyone else, not even the parents could do this. Largely, it comes to me, in a concrete way, through stories, through the child's love of heroes, through the child's hero worship and through other agencies in the community, and through the moral pictures, in which this school is not complete. You should have a gallery and a motion picture machine in this schoolhouse, in order that you might show great industries and great moral pictures of all countries. It is in this way, it seems to me, that we can more effectively get hold of the child's moral nature, and the church must also awaken to its responsibility. The church is absolutely asleep socially. For the church is scarcely doing anything socially; the church is not reaching out for the boys and the girls in a vital, effective way. Now, it is easy to say that, but it is difficult to say how. Yet I am not sure but that the new parish hall is one of the ways of meeting this. Every church should have a means of providing for the social activities of the community, because through those you may reach the child's moral growth and development. It cannot help but say this. I am not criticizing the church. You know my record as far as church goes. And with the school handicapped as it is in its work for moral growth and development, it is your opportunity to do the work that is needed for this school.

"And now we must be able to answer to this thing which we propose in the school. Does it fit into our conception of the moral nature of the child? What will contribute to the child's moral strength and character?

"Now, the fourth test that I would apply is: Does it make the child's ability does it bring the child? Or does it awaken in the child appreciation of that which is true, that which is beautiful, that which is good? Nothing is beautiful which is good, nothing is good which is not beautiful, it is the real test of beauty, whether it be in architecture, in literature, in strength. Is it useful? Does it have value? Does it give something that is really worth while?

"Does it give to many of our buildings there are a number of beautiful pictures. I know you appreciate here in Twin Falls, as in few cities in the Northwest, the wonderful power of music. I know you have heard here in Twin Falls, it is to those who by their devotion have given to the people of Twin Falls so much beautiful music. It is to those that I would pay the greatest tribute. Nowhere that I have ever been before have I ever seen such a great number of young boys and girls playing on the violin. And I know it is the work of those who have laid the foundations for wonderful musical appreciation.

"Do you know that in Germany the commonest peasant has an appreciation of the masterpieces of music of which we know nothing about? The peasant will go miles and miles that he may see a masterpiece in sculpture or art. We haven't had time and money. It takes leisure and wealth to have these splendid collections of art. The time is coming when we will have the foundation, when we will apply this test in the school. And now I think I have talked long enough. I am very happy to be with you tonight, and I know today, that 'ded-ded-ded' something, dedication of the new school. I congratulate you upon the splendid growth you have had. Now, if we all know that it doesn't make much difference how much money we get, or whether we build great monuments to ourselves, but we give to the world boys and girls who have real strength, who are able to go out into life, and who are able to do a little better, a little more for the world, a little better, a little brighter; if we can do that, we have given to our community and to our country the greatest service that it is possible for us to give. I thank you."

"And now we must be able to answer to this thing which we propose in the school. Does it fit into our conception of the moral nature of the child? What will contribute to the child's moral strength and character?

"Now, the fourth test that I would apply is: Does it make the child's ability does it bring the child? Or does it awaken in the child appreciation of that which is true, that which is beautiful, that which is good? Nothing is beautiful which is good, nothing is good which is not beautiful, it is the real test of beauty, whether it be in architecture, in literature, in strength. Is it useful? Does it have value? Does it give something that is really worth while?

"Does it give to many of our buildings there are a number of beautiful pictures. I know you appreciate here in Twin Falls, as in few cities in the Northwest, the wonderful power of music. I know you have heard here in Twin Falls, it is to those who by their devotion have given to the people of Twin Falls so much beautiful music. It is to those that I would pay the greatest tribute. SCHOOL VACATION TO LAST TEN DAYS

Christmas vacation for the Twin Falls schools will begin Friday evening, December 22, and will close Tuesday morning, January 2, 1917. During both Saturdays and Sundays, this makes the total vacation period 10 days.

CHRISTMAS

Gift Suggestions

Gifts purchased in our store carry with them the assurance of quality and exclusiveness of design always evidenced by the "HALLMARK" name, and you may have that feeling of perfect confidence that any article offered you here will be sure to find favor with those who are most discriminating in their taste.

Nowhere else will you find a more attractive display of articles for gift purposes than here, where prices are as low as it is possible to charge for goods of such excellent quality and such artistic merit.

It is quite impossible to tell the whole story of our complete array of things beautiful and useful within the limits of this adv., and you must see them for yourself. The purpose of this adv. is to impress on your mind that the display awaits your inspection.

USEFUL GIFTS—Why not give a sensible present? After all, sensible gifts give the most real pleasure. To those with this in mind this store offers the widest range of possibilities. Nowhere else will you find so many things, at moderate prices, that combine the Christmas gift spirit with genuine usefulness.

Christmas Jewelry

Go no farther in the search for an idea. Jewelry, new in design, and more appealing than ever in taste, is here at your disposal.

If it is a man to whom you wish to send a slight remembrance, what could be better than a pair of gold cuff links, a stickpin or a watch?

Should the one to whom your gift is to go be a woman or girl, could you find anything more fitting than a necklace of beautiful pearls, a vanity case or a pin, or any of the hundreds of other things dear to the feminine heart that we are prepared to show you.

If you will look at our offerings from any point of view—value, style, workmanship, quality or distinctiveness—you will find them more interesting than any others that you have ever considered. Give us a call.

Illustrated Article Concerning Priebe's Jewelry Store Appears in Keystone Weekly Magazine

An illustrated article, occupying more than two pages, appeared in the December issue of the Keystone Weekly, a jeweler's magazine, concerning W. R. Priebe of this city and his jewelry business. The illustrations consist of an interior view of Mr. Priebe's first store in Twin Falls and one of the present building. The article was written by J. R. Sprague, a brother of George F. Sprague of this city.

The article in question is headed: "Studies of Successes in the Jewelry Business: Being the Fourth of a Series of Articles Analyzing the Ways and Whereof of the Success of Individual Jewelers in Towns and Cities of All Sizes Under Different Conditions."

In part, the article is as follows: "It is said that towns of about ten thousand population are more truly American than places either larger or smaller. European immigrants coming to this country, as a rule, congregate in the larger cities or take to the farms, as in the Northwest, rather than in the medium-sized places. 'The town of ten thousand is usually a pleasant place to live in. It is large enough to have something of city life, yet small enough for the people to know each other and have sort of a neighborhood feeling all around.'"

Praise Twin Falls

"Twin Falls, Idaho, is a long way out West. When a man in Twin Falls says that he thinks he will take a trip out to the country, he means he will go to Twin Falls. It is not like Kansas or Nebraska, where some place is so far away that it is speaking of some place in Kansas or Nebraska."

"Twin Falls is a new place. Twelve years ago it was not much more than a dot out in the sticks. But an irrigation project successfully put through created a demand for a town, and so considerable gains were made in the making of city lots."

"Its growth has been remarkable. It now boasts of ten thousand population and, next to Boise, is the second city in the Northwest. It is a city of Pocatello mad, just quote those figures to him."

"Among the first business men to locate in Twin Falls was W. R. Priebe, who has made a success of his venture, and a study of his methods in this new community should be interesting and instructive to readers of the Keystone Weekly. Mr. Priebe is a practical watchmaker, in fact, his workbench and his determination that Twin Falls people should furnish him a living were his main assets, when he started in business.

"When Twin Falls women are visiting in Boise, and the conversation has run through such subjects as how short the skirts are to be this winter, whether moving pictures have really come to stay or not, how ridiculous it is to be obliged to pay a hired girl $6 per week and finally simmer down to a comparison of the merits of the two towns, which is a dangerous subject at best, it is liable to end up with the husband remarking: 'Well, you haven't anything in Boise that can touch Priebe's store, anyhow!'

"For the benefit of you effete Easterners from Iowa and Massachusetts who imagine that Idaho is populated mostly by cow punchers, Chinamen and bow-thumbing miners, I would quote Priebe's statement that his most active and profitable lines are those which are sold for wedding presents."

MODEL CAFE MAKES PLANS TO ENLARGE

Merced and Barrington Will Add New Kitchen and a Horsehoe Counter, the Largest in Town

By building a new kitchen at the rear, and by removing down the partition between the present cafe and the kitchen, the Merced and Barrington, proprietors of the Model Cafe, expect to have one of the most up-to-date restaurants in town after the first of the year. A big horseshoe lunch counter has been ordered, which will undoubtedly be the largest lunch counter in town.

PROFESSOR BLUE RECEIVES HONOR

A somewhat signal honor was conferred upon Superintendent Hal G. Blue of the Twin Falls school system last week in his appointment as chairman of the resolutions committee of the State Teachers' association. A letter from President Truman of the University of Idaho, received the first of the week, notified Superintendent Blue of his appointment. Other members of the resolutions committee in school affairs in the state are Dr. E. C. R. Shank, Dr. M. C. Merrill, Principal O. Young, J. O. Broeman and Professor F. M. Erickson.

John Finke Saw the Great Gohan & Harris Comedy Success in Salt Lake City

That "It Pays to Advertise," the great Gohan & Harris comedy success coming to the Lavington theatre tomorrow night is a real show in every sense of the word is the statement of John Finke, the hay man, who saw it in Salt Lake City some time ago. Mr. Finke declares that the show is a laugh from start to finish, is a much better production than its forerunners, "Fotush and Perlmutter," and best of all, that it will reform the most confirmed non-advertiser.

Prominent Rancher Will Succeed D. F. Redmond, Who Has Gone to California for Winter

At the meeting of the board of trustees, Independent School district No. 4-11-44, Monday night of this week, W. V. Parish was chosen to fill the unexpired term of D. F. Redmond, who has gone to California for the winter. Mr. Parish owns considerable land around Twin Falls and is living in the Orchards district.

FIRE DEPARTMENT AT SUNDAY BLAZE

Defective Fire Starts Fire While L. H. Hickling and Wife Are Attending Church

Arriving home from church Sunday noon just in time to see their home at 744 Second avenue west all in flames was the experience of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hickling. The alarm was sounded in the fire department at exactly 25 minutes to one o'clock, and making a record-breaking run, the fire-fighting force succeeded in quenching the flames before they had made much headway. Damage amounting to about $25 or $30 is estimated.

If you can't afford a more permanent machinery shed, then by all means get one of some kind.

Million-Dollar Beet Sugar Factory
Brings 1916 Total Outlay for Improvements to One Million, Eight Hundred and Eighty Thousand Dollars—Investments in Business Blocks
Aggregate $331,000

Twin Falls this month closes one of the best years of its history with regard to both residential and business improvements. Throughout the entire year the contractors and laborers have been fully occupied with the numerous residents, while every moment of the good weather has been utilized in pushing the construction of the many brick blocks in the business district. Year-end estimates have been made at times by the people of this city as to the number of residences and business blocks constructed or under construction in this city. With an idea of getting a fair and conservative estimate, The News has interviewed the lumbermen of the city and those best able to arrive at the total figures, in a flow of reports which the city government should have.

The total, while a handsome figure, proved a trifle disappointing in the number of residences and the value of the same. The News estimate now as the desired mark before making investigation was approximately 300 residences, while the actual number shows about 215, or about 85, or, in other words, 315 residences have been constructed or are being constructed in this city for the year 1916.
Twin Falls has nothing to be ashamed of in the total value of these residences, which reaches the splendid figure of $547,500, or a trifle over a half million dollars. These figures are based upon estimates of the lumbermen, who all declare that they must, by reason of lack of available knowledge, make the values much lower than probably should be given. While a large number of the new homes are of a small value, owing to the fact that the same were built for speculative purposes, yet a great many of the improvements along this line were for home ownership and have spared nothing in making everything convenient and modern.

Vacant Lots Getting Scarce

One of the greatest surprises which was noted by The News man was the rapidity with which the vacant lots within the original townsite of Twin Falls have been improved during the year, and the fact that the lots of the new residences stand empty today, indicating evidence of a big increase in the city's population within the year.
Still the demand for residential property is so great that every available house is snapped up as soon as the building is completed. There are a few houses which are being held for sale which have not been rented, but the number is so small that it is hard to estimate out of the total.
In spite of the demand for residence property upon which to build homes,
the price of city lots has not increased in the same ratio. People desiring cheap residence property can obtain many surprises in some of the best residential sections.

Heavy Investments in Business Blocks

While the residential section has had a wonderful growth, the business section has had a correspondingly heavy growth. One thing noticeable about the new business blocks is the efforts toward modern construction and toward better walls and better display windows. The new buildings are rapidly changing the appearance of the main business streets, giving the city a more cosmopolitan air. Investigation of the number of buildings during the year shows that 24 business houses and public buildings have either been built or are in the course of construction.
Too, The News has chosen to go to the side of conservatism in the estimate amount involved in completing the above buildings. Averages of certain types of buildings have been taken. Still, in spite of such conservatism, the total is magnificent.
$331,000. This does not include the sugar factory.

Two Millions for Improvements

The building operations, therefore,
during the estimate of the sugar factory at one million, aggregate the total sum of $1,330,000. This property has not had the appearance of
it. It has come gradually and quietly, and what is better, it shows no sign of falling off. More business houses are already planned for 1917.
Already demand for residences prevents the early resumption of building that line of construction. It will be that suburban tracts will eventually come to their own as the ultimate of the finer homes. Twin Falls accomplished this with the handicap of no railroad, and that a branch of the promised railroad extension of Western Pacific should come within next year or two, the past progress will look like the movement of a proverbial snail.

Lovelace Lads Taken to Idaho's Industrial School at St. Anthony

All-Day Trip From Twin Falls Is Source of Continued Wonder and Interest to the Boys—Pocastello Toy Shop and the Indians at the Gate City Depot Attract Their Attention—Do Not Rebel Against Commitment to the State Institution and Are Eager to See Their New School—Sire of the Children Surprises the Superintendent

By J. W.
Since returning from St. Anthony, whither I had taken Harold and Lynn Lovelace to commit them to the state industrial school, I have been asked so many questions concerning the trip there, the boys' attitude, etc., that I am writing something of the trip for those who are interested.

We left here on the 7 o'clock train
Friday morning. The boys' mother was to have taken the lads, but at the last moment she was unable to do so and assumed the responsibility. I had talked with the boys at times previous to their last trip and possibly the purchase one day of a couple of sacks of popcorn for them had given them a kindly feeling toward me. Anyway, they were perfectly willing to have me
accompany them.

Their mother and stepfather, Mr.
and Mrs. Pennewell, were at the depot with the lads. Lynn cried a little when he left, and he saw his mother crying, and sat in a seat alone for some time with his face hidden. Harold wrinkled his brows and fought back the tears. He found a little girl to talk to, and in entertaining her and laughing at her remarks went bravely through the parting.

Interested in Children

"All the way to Minidoka he talked with the little girl. Lynn was restless and would not let me go, and then with the little girl and a small boy, and to the kindly brakeman and conductor, who recognized the boys and took time to help entertain them in answering questions about the workings of the train.
At Minidoka we had a wait of about an hour. The boys wandered about the depot and out on the platform at will. Then we went to the drug store and bought three magazines. Returning to the depot, Lynn became interested in a copy of the Christmas edition of Life, which occurred his attention for some time after leaving Minidoka.

Five Cents for Soup

At Pocastello we had a wait of three hours. Our first move was to get our lunch. We went to a quiet cafe. I asked the boys what they wanted and they insisted they wanted only a bowl of soup. I told them I intended ordering a regular dinner, because I was hungry. They insisted they wanted only soup. When our orders were served they remarked that the meat
I had looked good. "I believe you could eat such an order," I said to them. "Let me give two more orders like this one." "No," replied Harold quietly, "soup is enough for me." "I believe you are hungry; why don't you want me to get a nice dinner for you?" "Soup is all I want," he replied, "I just have a nickel."

When I told them I was paying for their meals they were willing for me to order meat, potatoes, creamed corn, glance of milk, some little frosted cakes they saw in a showcase and some pie.
They managed everything until they came to the little cafe, where each Harold asked me if I would have to pay for those whether they ate them or not, and when I said I would he remarked that if I had a piece of paper he would wrap his cakes up and take them along to eat later on the train. The young lady serving us was interested and said she would get them some paper napkins to wrap the cakes
in. So they went off happy, each with three little frosted cakes in his pocket.

See Christmas Toys

We then took a walk up through the business part of town. The wind was bitterly cold and we did not walk more than four blocks. The windows were full of toys in the toy stores and we went into the Woolworth store, where

SOUTHERN MARKET FOR IDAHO SPUDS IN THE BALANCE

HEARING AT SALT LAKE CITY OF VITAL IMPORTANCE TO GEM STATE

CASE IS PENDING BEFORE INTER-STATE COMMERCE COMMISSION, WITH MINNESOTA, COLORADO AND CALIFORNIA SEEKING THE ADVANTAGE OVER GROWERS IN IDAHO

Of all interstate commerce rulings made within the past few years, probably the most important to Idaho will be the one which will probably be made at Salt Lake City within the next month or more. The case that is pending before the commission is known as I. and S. docket, No. 9093, wherein the Northern Potato Traffic association is complainant and the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad company of alar defendants.

The potato growers of Colorado have intervened in this hearing and also the potato growers of Idaho have intervened by and through the public utilities commission of the state. All indications point also to intervention by the California commission in and on behalf of the potato growers and shippers of California.

The first hearing in the matter was had at Minneapolis, on the 23d of November of this year. At the present time the rates are 70 cents from Minnesota potato growing points to Texas common points, the rates from Greeley, Colo., and surrounding territory, the same being the potato section of that state, to Texas common points being 58 cents. The rates from Idaho are as follows: From Idaho Falls and surrounding territory, 64 cents to Texas common points, and from the Twin Falls branch line, 68 cents. The rate from California to the same section is 75 cents.

Cannot Compete

At the hearing in Minneapolis the Minnesota people attempted to urge two points: First, that their rate should be reduced to a level with Colorado, that is, 58 cents; and, second, that the Idaho rate should be increased to that of California, to wit, 75 cents. The position of Colorado is that the relationship existing between Colorado and Minnesota should not be disturbed, and, second, that the Idaho rate should be increased to 75 cents, claiming that they cannot compete with the Idaho business, on the ground of the superior quality of Idaho potatoes. California is the "dark horse" in the matter, and it is not known just what position that state will take, although it is probable that it will be urged to lower that rate as low as and possibly lower than the Idaho rates, on the ground of the shorter haul.

At the present time the Minnesota potato growers cannot ship any table stock to Texas. They do ship, however, in the months of January, February and March, some seed stock to Texas, their position being that they cannot compete with the Colorado and Idaho rate for table stock. During the years 1914 and 1915 there was shipped from Idaho between 9000 and 10,000 carloads of potatoes and about 40 per cent of these went to Texas and Oklahoma.

Graham at Minneapolis

At the hearing in Minneapolis John W. Graham of the Idaho commission made a request for a hearing in this state, but later modified it by joining with Colorado in a request for a joint hearing at Salt Lake City, in the hope of being able to draw the California people to that place.

If this hearing should be held before the first of January, there would be no funds available to draw a representative of the Idaho commission to Salt Lake City, nor to supply witnesses from this section of the state. It is expected that when the importance of the Salt Lake hearing becomes realized by the potato growers of the state that the organizations of these men throughout the state will take immediate action to provide ways and means to prevent the matter from going by default.

CHRISTMAS TREE IS PLANNED

families have so many demands made upon them at the holiday season that the bachelors are approached first, and that the amount asked for be "one dollar or less," in order that no one be burdened. So the plans were laid—all bachelors unsuspecting what lay in wait for them.

Leaving the Craven home, the first two solicitors wended their way downtown for the double purpose of getting their lunch and wlaying bachelors. The first person they met was a bachelor. He was in the post-office. Miss Hingate, being an eloquent speaker, was urged to do the spokesman act, with the moral support of her companion, whose chief strength lies in publicity work. The well-known bachelor was quite taken off his feet by the flow of eloquence. He promptly handed over the maximum amount asked—$1—and insisted upon keeping the orator talking a little longer. He asked her where she learned such a spiel and said he would like to hear more of it. But as the two had time by the forelock and one ear, they hastened on, encouraged by the success of the first attack.

Bachelors Attacked
At Herbert & Rambo's three young bachelors sat in a corner, in which strategic place they were surrounded before they were aware of their danger. They escaped after giving up all their small change.

The next day of battle was the Rogerson cafe. Catching sight of a well-known and confirmed bachelor at a rear table, a direct line of attack was followed. But it did not last long. In this case the line of offense was broken and the attacking force hastily took to flight. The line of defense made was: "I am a member in a lodge that gives money each year for such work—just go to my lodge."

In the lobby the two camped as they saw a long line, entrenched in comfortable chairs, with companies scattered on the right and left flanks. This was the worst yet. But it had to be done. The companies were approached first. One by one they went down before the onslaught of Miss Hingate's eloquence. All declared it was worth twice the amount asked to hear the orator. The characteristic trait of orators, that when one man gets "taken in" he wants to see the next man get the "same deal," proved of much benefit to the two solicitors. Every man who contributed wanted to see him friend "pay up" and materially assisted the two in their work. One man, after making a generous contribution, went from group to group just ahead of the two, insisting that he was getting more than his money's worth in listening to eloquence.

One Escapes

From the Hotel Rogerson the attack was directed to the Hotel Perrine, and the same interesting scenes were enacted. One young man over in a corner saw the force advancing upon him and attempted to slip past the attacking line. A comrade who had already paid up warned the solicitors of the fact that one was attempting to escape. Miss Hingate turned to speak to him and he sped toward the stairs, where he went three steps at a time. His companions promised they would take him prisoner and rob him when he appeared downstairs.

One man stated tragically that he had a wife and seven starving children at home. Miss Hingate promptly told him to get out of the line, and with the money he and the other men had donated, she would buy them some Christmas presents. A well-known Boise man stated that he had contributed to a fund in Boise just before he left there for a community Christmas tree for 500 Boise children, but he had not enjoyed 50 cents worth of eloquence and was willing and glad to pay for it. He also offered Miss Hingate a good salary if she would take upon herself the insurance, saying that her eloquence would certainly make her valuable to the company.

A salesman in the Hotel Rogerson gave an O U $ card in place of cash. The card was accepted and stowed away for future reference. Two days later the same salesman called to one of the two as she was passing a shop and gave his dollar in exchange for the O U $ card.

Goodly Sum Secured

After working a little over an hour on Sunday evening, the amount contributed was added up and found to be $23.50. On Monday Mrs. Sigbee gave all her spare time to the work and, with some money solicited over the telephone by Mrs. Craven and personally by the two companions again on Monday, the sum of $100 was reached.

This sum, and any more that may be added will be spent in giving the children a real Christmas. When asked by a number of people how the money was to be spent, Miss Hingate always replied: "It will be spent for foolish things first—for toys and candy and nuts. If we have any left, we are going to buy each of them some stockings or mittens or both." "Going for foolish things, is it?" asked one man. "Well, that is the way—all my money goes, so here's a dollar."

It will be necessary for the promoters of the proposition to go down to the tent and wagon homes in and along Rock Creek canyon, as far out as the best sugar factory, to round up all the little folks. The teachers in the various rooms in the public schools will be able to furnish the names of many children, besides those furnished by the Associated Charities.

Mrs. Harry Allen is assisting Mrs. Craven in her directing of the work. Arrangements are also being made by Sunday school classes and other groups to assist in making the gift stockings and dressing dolls. Miss Craven floundered at once offered to tell special Christmas stories to the children when they gather around the tree. A Santa Claus will be a feature of the event.

Altogether, it is believed the poor children of the community will be given one of the happiest Christmas days they have ever experienced.

SAD ACCIDENT FOR ESTIMABLE WOMAN

The many friends of Mrs. R. Phillole were grieved over news of an accident which occurred at the Phillole home on Tuesday. Mrs. Phillole, who has passed more than 70 milestones along life's highway, had been lying on her couch during the day. Arising to leave the room, she fainted and in falling broke her thigh. Mrs. Phillole heard her fall and hastened to her. Three physicians were called to attend her and everything possible was done for her comfort. Owing to her frail condition, the broken limb was not placed in a cast.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB TO HOLD CHRISTMAS SOCIAL

On Tuesday, December 19, the Twentieth Century club will hold its annual Christmas social. It is customary at this time for the members to bring gifts to be distributed among those less fortunate. This year, instead of the usual gifts, Mrs. S. Hart and Mrs. J. Costello, who have charge of the afternoon, are making the members to bring a cash offering. The money so collected will be turned over to the Associated Charities. Each member is urged to do her share toward making the afternoon a success. Mrs. P. E. Dean had the program on December 12. Interesting papers were read by Mrs. W. E. Pike, Mrs. N. C. Mitchell, Mrs. J. R. Ault, Mrs. B. E. Morse and Mrs. Dean.

The parliamentary department met as usual after the club was adjourned.

WILL STAY HAND OF STATE COURT IN WATER CASE

JUDGE DIETRICH MAKES IMPORTANT DECISION ON PENDING ACTION

PROSECUTION IN STATE COURT OF CASE OF H. C. HANSEN VS.
TWIN FALLS SALMON RIVER
LAND & WATER COMPANY, L. B.
PERRINE ET AL, RESTRAINED
AS TO FURTHER ACTION

According to the terms of a decision handed down this week in United States court by Judge Dietrich in the case of A. E. Caldwell et al vs. Twin Falls Salmon River Land & Water company et al, further prosecution in the state district court in the case of H. C. Hansen vs. Twin Falls Salmon River Land & Water company, L. B. Perrine and a number of Twin Falls defendants is restrained as to the matter of sufficiency of the water supply of the Salmon River project.

The decision has the effect of quashing, temporarily at least, further action in the state case in so far as the question of water supply enters into the case, but apparently leaves open to action that portion of the complaint alleging conspiracy to defraud through the sale of water rights on the Salmon.

The decision is based broadly on the ground that a multiplicity of actions on the question of the sufficiency of the water supply would serve simply to complicate the issue, and that, pending the federal decision covering the same ground, nothing is to be gained by a review of this phase of the case in district court.

The decision says, in part: "Upon examination of Hansen's complaint in the state court, it is doubtful if the relief he there seeks will to any extent infringe upon the jurisdiction which we are exercising. Primarily, he relies upon a conspiracy among the defendants to defraud him by inducing him by false representations to sign the contract, and, if he can establish his averments in that respect, he can recover from the defendants regardless of any construction which may be finally placed upon the contract. I have decided to direct that Hansen be restrained from claiming damages in that suit on account of any alleged breach of contract by the defendant company and from taking for any construction of said contract in the trial or submission of said cause, or asserting any claim in said suit that the contract calls for anything more than a proportionate undivided interest in the irrigation system, including the water right appurtenant thereto. The applicants may draw an order in harmony with these views.

COMMITTEE BEGINS RAILWAY INQUIRY

Proposed by President to Better Condition of Carriers—May Change Present System

WASHINGTON. — Ten members of Congress, five Senators and five members of the House of Representatives, began here today an inquiry into the subject of public control and supervision of railroads that may lead to the revolutionizing of the whole scheme of governmental regulation of the country's transportation lines. Incidentally the committee is to look into the question of government ownership of railroads, telephone and telegraph lines and express companies.

The members of the committee which will conduct this important investigation are Senator Newlands of Nevada, chairman; Senators Robinson of Arkansas, Underwood of Alabama, Cummins of Iowa and Brandegee of Connecticut, and Representatives Adamson of Georgia, Sims of Tennessee, Cullip of Indiana, Enoch of Wisconsin and Hamilton of Michigan. The inquiry was recommended by President Wilson in his message to Congress in December of last year. He described as its purpose to determine what could be done "for bettering the conditions under which the railroads are operated and for making them more useful servants of the country as a whole."

Prominent Men as Witnesses. In order to obtain the views of all interests affected by the operations of the transportation lines the committee has invited prominent shippers, bankers, representatives of commercial organizations, railway executives, economists and others to appear before them. The first to be heard are railroad commissioners of various states who began their evidence today. Their testimony is directed chiefly to opposing any enlargement of the federal authority over commerce that would detract from the powers now exercised by state bodies. They will be followed shortly by officials of railway labor organizations who are expected to register their opposition to the increase of governmental authority over wages and conditions of labor.

Chief interest in the hearings centers in the proposals that will be put forward by representatives of the railroads, for it is reported that they will advocate an extension of federal authority over rates and securities to the practical exclusion of state control of these matters. It is understood also that they will go on record in favor of federal incorporation of all railroad lines.

Legislative Program of Railroads. From an authoritative source is obtained the following outline of the legislative program which the railroads will ask the committee to consider in its investigation: They will endeavor to demonstrate to the commission that one of the principal defects in the present system of railroad regulation is the lack of coordination resulting from the simultaneous and conflicting regulation by the federal government and by the 48 states. They will, therefore, ask that entire governmental control of the rates and practices of interstate carriers, except purely local matters, be placed in the hands of a federal body so that interstate traffic may be regulated without reference to state lines, leaving to the state commissions jurisdiction only over local matters and local public utilities. As a part of this plan, a compulsory system of federal incorporation is to be recommended, accompanied by federal supervision of railroad stock and bond issues.

A reorganization of the Interstate Commerce Commission will be asked in order to enable the commission properly to exercise its increased powers. It is also proposed that the preparation and prosecution of cases against the railroads shall be delegated to some other agency of the government, possibly the Department of Justice, so that the commission may devote its energies to its administrative functions.

With the commission thus relieved of some of its present duties and equipped to handle its business more promptly, the railroads will urge that the period during which the commission may now suspend proposed increases in rates be reduced from ten months to 60 days, with provision for repatriation to be paid to the shippers if the advance shall be declared unreasonable.

They will also ask that the commission be given the power to prescribe minimum as well as maximum rates so that in meeting complaints of discrimination the commission may order the advance of a rate which it considers too low.

One of the most important recommendations for which the railroads will ask favorable consideration is that the commission be specifically authorized to take into account in rate regulation the effect of rates upon total earnings in the light of expenses.

While the Newlands Committee is required, under the resolution creating it, to submit a report by January next, it is not anticipated that the Committee will have come anywhere near completing its labors then.

BEGIN MEDICAL INSPECTION

physician or dentist appear on the records. Under no circumstances does the examiner treat the child. If the examination shows the child to be suffering from some physical defect or abnormality, the parents are immediately apprised of that fact and advised to consult their family physician at once. This is as far as the work extends.

Treatment Where Needed

However, if any parent is unable to provide his child with proper medical treatment, Superintendent Blue has made arrangements for such treatment to be given. There is no desire on the part of any official connected with this work to usurp the prerogatives of the home. The wishes of the parent in the matter of medical and dental inspection will always be considered in every way. If any parent absolutely insists that his child be not examined, the school authorities will accede to the demands of the parent. The school authorities are actuated only by the desire to bring definite relief to a great many children who stand in need of it.

A short time ago the teachers were asked to study the groups of children in their charge, with the view of determining just what children were in need of medical treatment. The teachers did this with a great deal of care and made a list of such pupils. It is these children who are receiving first attention.

Miss Dillon in Charge

The general direction of the work is in charge of Miss Agnes Dillon, the director of physical education in the public schools. Miss Dillon is working in cooperation with the physicians and dentists. All communications to the parents advising them of results of the examination are signed by the principals of the buildings.

The first examinations were made this week. Ten children were examined. These children were taken from the primary grades and from the teachers' list of pupils appearing to be in need of treatment. The following interesting results were produced:

Adenoids Plentiful

Six of these children have very severe cases of adenoids. These cases are so severe that the progress of these pupils in school will be extremely slow. In three cases the adenoidal trouble has begun to deform the shape of the lower part of the face.

Three children were found to be suffering with very poor eyesight. One of these pupils is fitted with the wrong kind of glasses.

Two children were found to be slightly deaf. In both cases it is felt that the deafness can be cured. It is probably caused by catarrhal disorders.

One child was found to have very bad teeth and consequently was suffering with disorders resulting therefrom. Five children were discovered to have slight defects in their teeth. These can all be remedied at little cost.

One child was found to have very badly diseased tonsils and two with slight disorders of the tonsils.

Nine of the ten children were found to be retarded. It is very probable that in every case the retarded conditions can be directly traced to bad physical disorders. What a wonderful boon it would be to these children if they could be given necessary medical treatment and their bodies restored to good, normal conditions? The parents have been notified of the results of this beginning in this splendid work, and it is hoped that they will take some steps to bring about helpful corrections.

ARRESTS MADE

and with the finding of Seary's dead body and the rifle and mail sacks.

The next day a search of the surrounding territory revealed an overcoat under a bridge and in it some $189 of the missing money. The owner of the overcoat was found to be Kuhl, who, however, states that he had loaned the overcoat and that it was not in his possession at the time of the crime. The gun with which the shooting is said to have been done had been in possession of McGraw from whom it was borrowed on the night of the shooting by Beck, who said Kuhl wanted it.

Woman Testifies

A man named Jennings, another gambler of the mining camp, and a woman with whom he was living, were also arrested on suspicion. The testimony of the woman was taken behind closed doors. Soon after this testimony was taken Beck was arrested.

Jarbridge regarding the affair, the murderer must have hidden himself in some brush alongside the road about half a mile from Jarbridge and not far beyond the township limits. The home of Mrs. Dexter stood not far distant. Evidently he ran out from his hiding place as the stage passed, climbed up onto the brake, and leaning over the sashes, shot Seary behind the left ear, probably killing him instantly. He then apparently steadied the body with his hand and let it slide down into the bottom of the wagon, with the head hanging off at the side, as a 'long stream of blood extended some seventy five feet along the side of the road, while he seized the lines and guided the frightened team from the edge of the grade back onto the road.

The man then drove on past the house of Mrs. Dexter, who stood on the porch. She stated later that she spoke to the man driving, but that he did not answer, and that shortly before she had heard a shot fired and a cry. The team then went on past the camping ground of some freighters, one of whom called out to the driver but received no answer.

Rifle Mail Sacks

Going on a little further the team was turned off the road now in use, driven along the old road for some distance and turned toward a clump of willows, where the driver left the team, which stood there for some five hours. He propped the body up on the seat and taking the first-class mail sacks, hurried into a thick clump of brush, where, with the aid of a light, the sacks were examined and money taken.

When the stage did not arrive anywhere near on time, inquiries were begun. Learning that Mrs. Dexter and others had seen the stage near town about 6:30, a search was begun and the team found, with the dead body of Seary, covered with about three inches of snow, reclining in the seat of the stage. The rifle mail sacks were also discovered.

Dog Gives Evidence

Tracks were found around the stage. There was one large track which seemed to be accompanied by a smaller track and also by the tracks of a large dog. A Mr. McCormick, who lives in Jarbridge, and who is something of a hunter and knows much about dogs, blew the loose, light snow from the footprints of the dog, and, after studying the few large dogs in the camp, finally singled out a tramp dog, which when taken near the scene of the crime, followed the tracks to the mail sack, as though familiar with the surroundings. It was then found that the dog had been attached to the young man named Kuhl, who had previously been in trouble for having "jumped" a lot of money at the time under bonds on appeal from a $400 fine. Further evidence and investigation on the part of the sheriff and his men, assisted by postoffice detectives, resulted in the arrest of Kuhl, Beck and McGraw, who are now awaiting trial in Elko.

The body of the young stage driver was brought to Twin Falls on Friday morning of last week by Coroner Crook, and an express Saturday morning to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Seary, at Independence, Mo.

ROCK CREEK TEAM MAKES GETAWAY

Whistle Blasts from the Locomotive Starts Henry Hanson's Team on Wild Stampede

ROCK CREEK.—John F. Hanson, who is bookkeeper at the Modern Packing Co. in Twin Falls, came home Saturday evening to spend Sunday and had a rather exciting reception at Hanson's. His son Henry drove in from the ranch to meet him and as his team was afraid of the train he did not attempt to drive to the station, but hitched them at the tie rack in front of the Hanson place. He then walked to the depot to meet his father and when they had almost reached the team the train started, with two blasts of the whistle, and the team started also, but without waiting for the driver. They pulled the top pole from the hitching rack and ran toward home. Henry took a horse from the ranch and started after them, but took a different route and missed them. After riding all of the way home, he learned that the horses had been caught near Hanson and had ridden back after them. He recovered the team and gathered up his scattered possessions, suffering no damage except to the seat, which was thrown off and broken, but not so bad but that it could be used. Mr. Hanson, when his son did not return at once, came on with the fire team, which had met Robert Brose at the same time.

C. Peterson, who has spent the past three weeks at Twin Falls, serving on the jury, finished his labors there and came home Friday.

Robert Brose spent the last few days of last week at Twin Falls on business. He had intended to bring home the Cadillac, which has been at the garage for a thorough overhauling, but it was not quite finished and he came home on the train Saturday evening.

Otto Newman went to Twin Falls Saturday to make application for his naturalization papers. Mr. Newman is a native of Denmark.

George D. Crockett spent the last of the week in the mountains looking for stray stock.

Bob Gray, who has been working in Nevada for the past 18 months, came home Tuesday, having just finished threshing at Montello, Nev. "Buster" Jones, who is managing the J. B. Rice ranch here, was called to Mr. Rice's home ranch, near Rogerson, Wednesday to do the work there while Mr. Rice was in. At this writing, Mr. Rice has so far recovered as to allow Mr. Jones to resume his duties here.

Part each of the Woodmen Shoe and the Shoe Sole outfits spent Wednesday riding the range in the Dry creek district looking for strays which had wandered from their own range. Mr. Newman, Otto Newman and Mr. Newman, who is a native of Denmark, will be treated at the Physicians and Surgeons' hospital.

The workmen who have been replacing the old wooden culverts under the canal with metal tubes have so far finished their work on the first culvert. The water was turned into the high line Wednesday, but they are still at work at the Rock creek siphon. The recent freeze did not retard the work to any extent, as dynamite was used to loosen the frost.

Peter Newman went to Twin Falls Monday to visit his brother Otto, who is at the hospital there.

Mrs. John P. Hanson entertained the R. C. L. club at her home Friday afternoon. As most of the ladies are busy with Christmas preparations the next meeting has been postponed till January 5, 1917. This meeting will be at the home of Mrs. A. P. Murray and, as it is the date for the annual election, all of the members are requested to be present.

KIMBERLY BEETS NEARLY ALL IN

Many Farmers Will Plant Beet Acre Another Year—Kimberly Meat Market Will Build

KIMBERLY.—Nearly all the beets have been taken out of the ground and only a few more are to be hauled in. Many of the farmers are to raise beets again next year on account of the increase in price. The Kimberly Meat Market has decided to build a brick building on the lot where their present shop is located and work will begin as soon as the weather permits.

The pure food inspector was here the first of the week, reporting almost everything in Kimberly in first-class shape, so no closures or arrests were made.

F. A. Barnhill, E. Guenther and B. F. Eaves will hold a public sale next Monday on the farm where he purchased a ranch under the Arrow Rock irrigation project, and will move to his new home about the first of February. Kimberly people are sorry to see this family leave.

The new deep well for the high school has been completed and the plumbers are busy finishing the heating plant and water connections. The new seats have arrived and are being set up. It is now expected that the new building will be occupied about the first of the year.

W. H. Bussard returned Tuesday from a trip to Canyon county, where he purchased a ranch under the Arrow Rock irrigation project, and will move to his new home about the first of February. Kimberly people are sorry to see this family leave.

The new deep well for the high school has been completed and the plumbers are busy finishing the heating plant and water connections. The new seats have arrived and are being set up. It is now expected that the new building will be occupied about the first of the year.

Mrs. W. A. Critchfield of Oakley was here Monday looking after the property interests of her late husband, W. A. Critchfield.

HOLLISTER PEOPLE LIKE CHICKEN PIE

Receipts Total $119 at Dinner and Bazaar Given by the Ladies' Aid Society

HOLLISTER.—The chicken pie dinner and bazaar given by the Ladies' Aid society of Hollister on December 9, in the afternoon and evening, was a success. There were 150 diners served and the total receipts from dinner and bazaar were $119. The basement of the church, where the tables were arranged, was very prettily decorated with Christmas decorations.

E. B. Darlington and wife were shopping in Twin Falls Monday.

The Hotel Draven will be reopened on January 1. It has been closed for necessary repairs.

The literary held at the school auditorium last Friday evening was well attended. It was announced that the next meeting with its program would be merged with the Sunday school and would be given in connection with the Christmas tree and Christmas eve.

C. W. Simpson and John Craven are in Twin Falls. We are informed they have purchased a new auto delivery for the Snyder river store.

F. H. Bette, forest ranger at the Shoshone basin station, is in town. He leaves Tuesday for Filer, Buhl and Twin Falls in connection with next season's grazing permits. He will return to the station this winter.

Mrs. Cio Draper was in from Brown's bench, making a filing before U. S. Land Commissioner Maurice Gubson Friday.

Grant Wright of the Idaho Power company was in town Tuesday preparing for shipment a transformer from the Hollister station.

Mr. Westfall, an insurance adjuster, made an inspection of the bridge across the high line where Mr. Christensen of Oak Lake met his death in an auto accident some two months ago.

W. H. Snyder of Brown's bench is perfecting his plans to put a 12-horsepower launch and smaller motor boat on the Salmon river reservoir in the spring. He is fitting up to take care of fishing, hunting and picnic parties who take outings at this point in large numbers during the summer months.

Ray Lionberger made a business trip to Twin Falls last Wednesday.

Mr. C. Cavannes and G. B. Lionberger left last Tuesday for Kansas City.

John Gafford has fitted up a shop for shoe repairing.

Receipts on the Salmon tract, where the new dam is being built, are a matter of business and not pleasure, as freezing weather came on immediately afterward, leaving the roads badly rutted and very rough. The roads are scarcely passable for autos.

The last snow of two and a half inches has remained on the ground.

The White Star garage has completed the installation of a new air pump on the tank and will furnish free air to motorists.

Joe Salloo is home from Hazelton for a few days.

Don Pratt was in town Sunday.

Ed Hazard and family spent Sunday in Filer.

Real Hazard, who has been sick at Filer, is reported much improved.

A meeting of the school board will be held Tuesday evening, December 12, to discuss the advisability of securing a new teacher. A number of patrons attended a meeting held Monday evening, but as a quorum of the board was not present, no action was taken.

CASTLEFORD SHEEP LEAVE PASTURES

Heavy Snow of Last Week Drives Them to Winter Feeding Grounds

CASTLEFORD.—The heavy snow which fell Friday evening drove the sheep from the pasture to the feeding grounds.

Mr. Pritchard is now open for business in the building he recently bought, known as the R. L. Smithwick building. Mr. Pritchard has a pool hall, confectionery and lunch counter.

Mrs. I. E. Grant is on the sick list with a gripe. Her sister, Mrs. D. J. Judy, was with her the last week.

Earl Lillybridge and family are now located in their new home in Castleford.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Slonka from Colorado, where they were visiting the latter's brother, that they expect to go from there to spend Christmas with relatives.

The W. O. W. gave a dance and lunch Thanksgiving evening at the Castleford school house. All enjoyed a good time.

Grandpa and Grandma Smithwick have been confined to their bed the past week with a gripe.

Mr. Walker, who returned from Grassy hill Wednesday, after taking a load to his claim. He expects to move his family there soon.

Mrs. McCabe is slowly improving after several weeks' illness. Mrs. Boynton and Dr. Murphy have been attending.

C. C. Cottrell's sale was well attended, being held on the 7th. Having sold their place, they expect to move to Canada soon.

Joe Achaball and two of his men are in from the hill for several days.

Millions have been waiting for the sequel to the famous serial, "The Diamond From the Sky." And now it's ready for release. On Monday, November 27, the first chapter of the $10,000 sequel was shown for the first time in theatres all over the United States. This is the sequel to the most successful serial yet released. This is the film that has been made from the $10,000 prize suggestion. The sequel is stronger—more powerful—more sensational than was the original production. It is in four chapters, each two reels in length. Each chapter is a big feature in itself.

"The Diamond from the Sky" is a fiction in newspapers all over the country. Millions of people saw it. Hundreds and hundreds of theatres played to capacity business with it as an attraction. A prize of $10,000 was offered for the best sequel to "The Diamond From the Sky." People in every state in the Union tried for that prize. Thousands and thousands of manuscripts were written. Months were necessary to read over all the suggestions offered. Finally the prize-winning suggestion was chosen. The trained scenario staff of the American Film company, Inc., then set about preparing the working script of the production. This finished, the task of filming was begun. And now it is completed.

All the old favorites of the original production are again in the cast. Arthur and Blair Stanley—Ester and Vivian Marston—Quabba, the hunchback, and Smythe, the quiet English solicitor, are all again to be shown on the screen. Popular William Russell—beautiful Charlotte Burton—talented William Tidmarsh—Jenny Orrell—Jumpyphrey, are all in the cast again, together with many new players. The sequel is an entirely new story. It is tremendously thrilling, powerfully dramatic, superbly photographed and acted by the very best cast obtainable.

From all points of view, "The Sequel to the Diamond From the Sky" is a striking production. The drama of the diamond, which is a gem of meteoric origin, whence its original title, "The Diamond From the Sky," is imbued from its beginnings with the mysterious elements that might well be expected to characterize it.

In the drama of "The Diamond From the Sky," men fought and loved and died because of the diamond's baleful influence over them, while in "The Sequel" there are train wrecks, fatal encounters, plots, conspiracies, leaps over precipices and lightning strokes with amazing photographic effects to add conviction to the gripping tale. No motion picture ever screened has contained so much of the element of adventure, so many of the convincing details that make for enthusiastic public approval, so wide a general appeal.

ORPHEUM THEATRE

BUHL PEOPLE COME TO SEE ALEXANDER

L. M. Correll Was an Old Acquaintance of the Great Magician—Knew Him in California

Accompanied by Buhl friends, making up a theatre party to see Alexander at the Lavington, L. M. Correll was up from the west and city the latter part of the week to renew an old acquaintance with the great magician. Alexander, declares Mr. Correll, is the second greatest man in his line in the United States and, recently played a two weeks engagement at the Orpheum, the largest theatre in San Francisco, where the price of seats ranged from fifty cents to $3.00.

Mr. Correll and party and "The Man Who Knows" joined in an after-theatre party following the Thursday night performance, to indulge in reminiscences of old times in California.

NEW CHOLERA MAN FINDS MUCH TO DO

Dr. G. D. Bishop Declares He Has Been Busy Every Minute Since He Came

With two cases of hog cholera reported last week and a new one this week, Dr. G. D. Bishop, the new cholera expert sent here from Milwaukee by the United States department of agriculture, bureau of animal industry, to aid Dr. Sullivan in his work in Southern Idaho, has found work decidedly rushing in his line.

The two cases last week were satisfactorily treated and disposed of, but the case this week presents a new problem. The report comes from John Miller, a rancher living five miles northeast of Buhl, that he has cholera, and Dr. Bishop went out Wednesday to investigate.

BOARD EMPLOYEES A NEW TEACHER

Miss Vera Munger of Brainerd, Minn., Is Chosen to Teach First Grade Work

At the regular meeting of the school board, Monday night, Miss Vera Munger of Brainerd, Minn., was chosen as a member of the teaching force of the Twin Falls public schools. Miss Munger, who is a graduate of the River Falls normal (Wisconsin), and has taught in the city schools of both Brainerd, Wis., and Brainerd, Minn., will probably be placed in charge of the new class of beginning children which is organized each year at the beginning of the second semester. This class will not be started until after the first of the year.

SCHOOL VACATION TO LAST TEN DAYS

Ten days will be the Christmas vacation in the Twin Falls public schools this year. The schools will close Friday afternoon, December 22, and will open again on Tuesday morning, January 2.

WEEK WILL BE BIG ONE AT THE IDAHO

Good Pictures and Good Vaudeville Will Be the Features Friday and Saturday

The Gaumont production of "The Vampires" will be shown Friday and Saturday at the Idaho theatre, in connection with the regular vaudeville program.

Few people there are who do not admit the greatest detective stories ever penned have been of French writings. "The Vampires" will relate new and intricate thrills never before thought of, and the photography is of the most perfect foreign manufacture.

These pictures have been shown in the largest theatres of Europe and are just now starting their first tour of American theatres. The management has had no little trouble in securing these splendid features for such an early date, as the demand for them has far exceeded any possibility to supply.

In addition to the regular picture program, two vaudeville acts of exceptional pleasing quality will be shown.

Delia Kamakura and company will show you that Hawaiians can play something besides the steel guitar, fo-turing musical numbers on saxophones, xylophones, musical bells, piano, etc., as well as rendering vocal selections of a number of the more popular songs in their repertoire.

Del Rons and company will fool you just as fast and just as cleverly as the greatest in their special line. These people are reported to be of exceptional worth and carrying a complete scenic equipment for their act.

A big children's matinee will be given Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and 3:30 o'clock, when Marguerite Clark will appear in "Wild Flower," a Paramount picture of the story that children all love so well. Remember there are two shows on Saturday afternoons, so try to start the children early enough for the first show, if possible.

As a result of a year of splendid prosperity in which they have milled and sold nearly a million dollars' worth of flour, many have bought and sold thousands of dollars' worth of various grains and seeds, the Twin Falls Milling and Elevator company has announced that, beginning the first of January, all employees in Twin Falls county will receive a 10 per cent wage increase.

WESTERN AUTO COMPANY Twin Falls, Idaho

Three strong reasons urge you to buy the Ford car: First, because of its record of satisfactory service to more than fifteen hundred thousand owners. Second, because of the reliability of the Company which makes it. Third, because of its large radiator and enclosed fan, streamlining hood, crown fenders front and rear, black finish, nickel trimmings, it is most attractive in appearance. To these must be added its wonderful economy in operation and maintenance—about two cents a mile; likewise the fact that by reason of its simplicity in construction anyone can operate and care for it. Nine thousand Ford agents make Ford service as universal as the car. Touring Car $300, Runabout $345, Coupelet $505, Town Car $595, Sedan $645—f. o. b. Detroit. On sale at

TWENTY MILLION ACRES OF LAND TAKEN IN 1916

RETARY OF INTERIOR

ANNUAL REPORT SAYS THAT 1916 WAS A BANNER YEAR—HOMES
STRADES MORE ACTIVE THAN EVER BEFORE—SOME QUARTER OF A BILLION ACRES YET RE-MAIN TO BE TAKEN UP

Lands of the public domain were taken up by homesteaders in rapidly increasing quantities during 1916, according to the annual report of Secretary of the Interior Lane, made public last week.

Twenty million acres were claimed by private owners in the year ending with June 30, as against 17,000,000 for each of the preceding two years and a still smaller average for previous years. Uncle Sam still has considerable land to give to the enterprising citizen, man or woman, who wishes to establish a home. Secretary Lane recently announced that more than a quarter of a billion acres of land remain in the public domain, according to official figures compiled by the general land office. This land is located in 25 different states.

All but 2,500,000 acres of it is in the far west, with Nevada containing the highest acreage. An even dozen of the extreme western states alone hold more than 250,000,000 acres. The exact amount of land that is unreserved and unappropriated, according to the official figures, is 254,945,589 acres. Of this amount, approximately 95,000,000 acres are unreserved, in the 25 public land states is reported as follows:

HOME, SWEET HOME, ON THE RAILS AND TIES

Middle-Western Railroad Will Put on Dining Cars With a Variety of Patterns

Probably the newest things out in the railroad line are the new dining cars of the Burlington railroad. Commenting upon them, Railroad Men's Magazine says:

One of the men who do the thinking for the Chicago-Burlington & Quincy railroad got the idea that there was too much sameness about dining cars; that the passenger who went from a mahogany-lined chair car to a mahogany-lined dining car was not getting enough appetizing uplift.

Consequently, the Burlington is out with a wall-papered dining car, presumably the first in America, if not in the world. The paper used in the car is black and white. To make it more sanitary it is varnished.

The car, which is of massive steel construction, has a length of 70½ feet. The road has ordered 50 other patterns for use in new dining cars being built for them by the Pullman company.

HAS SHIPPED FIVE HUNDRED CARS HAY

Twin Falls Country is Far From Destitute of Good Alfalfa Hay.
Says John Finkle

That the plowing up of the great alfalfa fields in the Twin Falls country in order to get land for wheat, spuds and beets has so depleted the yield of hay in this section that there is no hay more than a statement of the truth of which you will find difficulty in convincing John Finkle, one of the biggest hay dealers in the state.

Already this season Mr. Finkle has shipped out some 504 cars of the 1916 crop, and expects to find the hay here to keep on filling orders for the next two months. One day not so very long ago, he shipped 21 cars in one day, loaded from the four most western stations, Bobb, Filer, Peavey and Curry.

LOVEPLACE LADS TAKEN

"Spuds, get a cradle." Lynn laughed as her eyes twinkled at him. "Want a baby like you doing here?" she exclaimed, rather than asked. The boys ate a light lunch. I confessed to Miss Leary that they had had fruit and candy nearly all the way. Soon after their lunch, they were taken one at a time, and given a hot bath and then placed in bed. Their beds were in a small ward of about five or six beds. I asked Miss Leary as I was about to leave, if I might go up and bid the boys goodnight. I found them both in their little, separate beds, clean, in clean night clothes, and clean beds. Lynn felt a little lonely, tears were in his eyes and he couldn't say "goodnight" as I kissed him. Harold looked up at me and smiled as I turned toward him and raised his head to kiss me goodnight, saying, "You'll see us again in the morning, won't you?"

Borrow in School

But the next morning I did not awaken, early and was not called until 8 o'clock sharp for breakfast. I had just time to dress, sit down to breakfast with the teachers in their dining room, eat a hasty breakfast and get my wraps for the ride in to the depot. The train left at 7:26 and we had a mile and a half to drive in the snow and pick up another passenger. A number of the teachers were going down on the same train to Pocatello to be with Mr. and Mrs. Humphries a short time as they were taking the body of their son and only child to Denver for burial. He had died of pneumonia in Seattle. Being the only child, a handsome man, and with a voice that would undoubtedly soon make him one of the greatest grand opera singers in this country, only 20 years old, and the idol of his parents, there was a gloom over the school and the entire community. The citizens of St. Anthony contributed a fund of $15 for flowers and the teachers of the industrial school ordered a mass of beautiful flowers delivered to the family in Denver upon their arrival there.

So I had to leave the school hastily in the morning and greatly regretted that I could not see the boys again. However, while the car was driving up I wrote a cheery note to them, told them I would send something to be placed on the big tree for them, and promised that I would return some time next year and spend two or three whole days there, this in acceptance of several urgent and insistent invitations from Mr. Schaff and the teachers I met. So the note was taken over to the boys at once.

Boys Have Opportunities

I left the boys there, feeling satisfied myself that they are in the best place possible and will be given practical training, education and attention. The grounds or farm offer excellent advantages for outdoor life for the many children; of whom there are now about 200. They are given four hours each of study and work, the work being in manual training and other vocational lines. The place gave me more the impression of a small college than a school of compulsory education and attendance. The "family" system is in vogue there, the children being placed in groups or families, thus giving each child the advantage of closer attention and care and making for more efficient results on the part of the teachers.

Mr. Schaff had been over to see the boys, Harold and Lynn, just a few moments before I left and said they were active and interested, asking lots of questions and appeared to be contented.

BRADLEY BUILDING HAS DISPLAY FRONT

Among the many changes in store fronts during the past few weeks is the remodeling of the entire front of the Bradley building on South Shoshone street, one of the pioneer buildings in Twin Falls. The rapidly increasing leather and canvas trade during the past few months determined Mr. Bradley, owner of the building, and of the Pioneer Hardware shop, to enlarge his display space and install better windows in which to show goods.

P. S. You will find the furs we sell are of the dependable kind, well made, good style and better values than in most stores. They can be bought in sets or separate pieces in the women's and young ladies' styles. Children's and misses' in sets.

P. P. S. While a boys' suit may not be exactly a Holiday present, it is a mighty nice thing to give the boy for a Christmas present. Those I have are not made of shoddy cotton or shoddy wool, cottonade or printed satinette, but of good quality cassimeres, worsteds and wool material. They are strongly made with taped seams in the pants, lined throughout, good looking, good fitting and for less than you will find them elsewhere! We have Juniors for the "little men" from 2 1-2 to 6 years old and regular make for the big boys from 7 to 18 years of age.

SOCIETY

THE COAT OF LIFE

From out the tangled threads of love and hate,
The gold of laughter and the gray of tears
Pato weaves the cloth from which we all must cut
The coat of life to wear in later years.

Ours not to choose the color of the wool;
Ours not to grumble or to lightly praise;
Ours not to sew the cloth in proper shape,
To use time's needle and the thread of days.

We may embroider it with wondrous dreams,
Or stitch it with ambition's silvery skin;
Or we may dye it with our bitter tears,
Or make it loose to cover faults or pain.

But every day we must put in a stitch,
A goodly action of, perchance, a sin;
And neither tears nor prayers nor any rhyme may rip
Those daily stitches that we have put in.

And we must wear through all the years to come
The coat we fashion from this cloth of fate,
So let us stitch it strong with faith and love
And goodly deeds before it is too late.

A Good Eight Cake Recipe

1 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 cup butter, 1 1/2 cups apple sauce, 1 tablespoon cocoa, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup English walnuts, 2 small teaspoons soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder. Make the batter rather stiff, using about 2 cups of flour.

ONE of the delightful parties given for Miss Mildred Conway and Mr. John Green was the miscellaneous shower at which Mrs. Wilfred Olson acted as hostess Wednesday, December 6. Mrs. Olson entertained at the Parson home, on Fourth avenue. Strings were stretched in the spider-web effect throughout the house and, following these, Miss Conway and Mr. Green feasted the many pretty gifts. Mrs. Olson served light refreshments late in the evening. There were 40 guests.

Mrs. Thomas Rowberry entertained the evening five hundred club last Thursday. Mrs. Adams was a guest of the evening. A delicious two-course luncheon was served after the game.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Wright entertained the Pincelo club last Friday evening. Mrs. Burton won first prize a hand-painted cup and saucer.

Mrs. Howard Skeels was hostess to the members of the Wednesday Bridge club last week. Mrs. Wright had high score.

The ladies of the M. C. B. club met with Mrs. Ramsey for their meeting last week. Mrs. Ernest White secured the prize, a beautiful handkerchief.

Announcements have been received in Twin Falls of the marriage of Miss Lucile Ridenour of Ann Arbor, Mich., and Frank Stephan of Twin Falls. The marriage took place Saturday, December 9, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Celia W. Ridenour.

Ex-Superintendent Elliott was the guest of honor at a dinner given at the Rogerson Wednesday evening, December 6, by the teachers who were here four years ago, when Mr. Elliott was superintendent.

Thursday afternoon in the high school cafeteria Mr. Elliott, ex-superintendent of the Twin Falls schools, was the guest of honor at a reception. The guests were the teachers of the city schools. A dainty two-course luncheon was served, after which Mr. Elliott gave a very enjoyable talk.

Invitations have been issued to the wedding of Miss Mildred Conway and John Green, which will take place on Christmas day at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, on Main street.

The girls of the Kappa Delta Sigma sorority met with Mrs. Carl Hoag Monday evening. The meeting was a social one, being a kitchen shower for Miss Mildred Conway, a member of the sorority. Light refreshments were served by the hostess.

The current events department of the Twentieth Century club held a very interesting meeting at the Commercial club rooms Wednesday, December 6, with Mrs. Schroeder as leader. The afternoon was devoted to California missions, and the program was in the form of papers on the missions. Mrs. Pike gave a synopsis of "Ramona" from Chase's production of "Ramona." Mrs. Sweet reviewed the mission play and Mrs. Schildman of Piller gave an Indian legend of the birth of the sun and moon, as related to her by an Indian. The current events were responded to by Mrs. Cookley with a sketch of Santa Barbara, and Mrs. Bro-nough on the San Diego mission. Next meeting of the department will be held on December 20.

The Paul Revere Colonial chapter, local D. A. R. held a pleasant meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. J. Youngs, with 12 members present and the regent, Mrs. Kennedy Packard, in the chair. Several new names of people eligible to membership in the organization were presented.

The Salmon River Social club met with Mrs. Gouterman on Thursday of last week. A business meeting was held and officers elected for the coming year. A party was also planned for December 28, to be held at Mrs. Hall's. At the close of the meeting all dainty luncheon was served. Next meeting will be December 21, with Mrs. Griffin.

The regular Tuesday evening luncheon of the Business Women's association this week was well attended and an excellent luncheon was prepared and served by Misses Collett Wolfe and Doris Stille of the domestic science department of the high school, under the direction of Miss Mary Hunsate. The members of the association were so pleased with the work of Misses Wolfe and Stille that they have made arrangements with the two to prepare and serve the luncheons in the future.

After the luncheon, Miss Grace Horst, leader in the literary department, took up the second evening on the subject of the short story and an hour of interesting discussion followed. On Tuesday of next week the second part of the Bible study will be taken up, under the direction of Dr. Emma C. Crossland, assistant teacher. Arrangements are being made to resume the gymnasium work, which has been postponed the past few weeks while a readjustment of the gymnasium schedule was being made. Members of the association had enjoyed Tuesday night in the gymnasium, but were compelled recently to give up that night to the high school basketball teams and are now negotiating with other groups to exchange nights. Monday or Wednesday night will probably be decided upon. All business girls in the community are invited to attend any or all of these departments and the luncheons, coming and going as they desire. On next Tuesday evening the names of all members and those attending will be placed in a box and each one present will draw a name and buy a Christmas present for that one to place on the Christmas tree which the association will have on Tuesday evening, December 25, the day after Christmas. No present is to cost over 10 cents, and a verse or remark appropriate to the gift and the recipient should be placed with each gift on the tree. An informal justification will be held.

BUTTER WRAPPERS IN GREAT DEMAND

News Prints Thousands of Legalized Vegetable Parchments With Vegetable Ink

Using only the highest grade vegetable parchment and a good vegetable blue ink, the Twin Falls News has been busy all fall printing butter wrappers for the countrywomen of this section. These are printed in exact conformity with the state law on the subject and are printed in all quantities from 100 to 1000 or more. During the first week of December this office printed better than an order a day, a majority of them for 100 or 200 wrappers, but several of 1000.

With butter selling at 40 cents a pound, the maker's name in clean, blue, non-acid ink, on clear white parchment, is an advertisement and certificate of purity of decided value to the maker.

LIFE WAS SAVED THROUGH AGENCY RED CROSS SEALS

ONE OF MANY EXAMPLES OF BENEFITS FROM THE SALE OF STAMPS

Was Directly Aided Through Proceeds from Sales of Holiday Seals—Buying of These Stamps Each Year Is National Movement—Twin Falls Given Consignment of Twenty Thousand to Sell

With Christmas day fast approaching, those interested in the sale of Red Cross seals in Twin Falls community are anxious to have the people of the vicinity keep in mind the purchase of some of these stamps. A consignment of 20,000 has been sent to Twin Falls to be sold before the new year. It is hoped that at least 10,000 be sold before Christmas. In order that the mark reached last year—$400—be passed. These bright seals, made to be placed on Christmas and New Year packages and letters, sell for only 1 cent each, and if even persons interested were to buy a few of them the 20,000 would soon be disposed of. Practically every town of any size in the state will have these seals on sale this year. Last year Twin Falls was fifth in the list of towns selling the greatest number of seals. Ninety per cent of the proceeds from the sale of the stamps in this state will be returned to Idaho for the study and prevention of tuberculosis. Eventually, it is hoped the fund in Idaho will be sufficiently large to enable the state organization to erect a sanitarium for the care of tubercular patients and to establish trained nurses in various communities to teach sanitation and the proper care of tubercular people.

The following account, coming from a beneficiary of this movement, explains the purpose of the work: "Personal experience means much in one's attitude toward the seals. Will you let me tell why both gratitude for the saving of my life and a desire to help exterminate tuberculosis make me buy and use Red Cross seals?" This is a request in a letter from a cured patient in one of Wisconsin's county hospitals for tuberculosis, who says:

"I was shocked to learn in 1910 that I had consumption. I thought that was the end of me. Fortunately for me, the National Tuberculosis association and the American Red Cross had taken up the task of informing the nation that a pulmonary tuberculosis can be arrested and perhaps cured by a combination of fresh air, good food, perfect rest, and freedom from care. In course of time, this good news had reached Wisconsin and the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association was organized to carry the message into every corner of the state. Through this propaganda sanatoria were established in various parts of the state. So when the disease became a very personal matter to me, there was an institution near at home to teach me how to breathe, eat, rest and think, so as to live with tuberculosis, and at a price within reach of my moderate purse. This was all the result of the philanthropic propaganda of these national organizations and the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, to whom I must always be grateful for my present health and strength."

What Red Cross seals have done in Wisconsin they have done and are doing in every other state in the Union. All but 10 per cent of the proceeds, which is used for expenses, remains in the state where the seals are sold, to be used for the prevention of tuberculosis.

Sermon theme next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, "Why Come to the Holy Communion?" Text: Mt. xxv:1-13, 27 and 28 v. "Jesus took bread and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, take, each; this is my body. And he took the cup and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, drink ye all of this; for this is my blood of the New Testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins."

Synopsis: "Why Come to the Holy Communion?" 1. Your Savior's own institution; (2) the apostles and disciples held steadfastly to it; (3) And they continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayer. Good Christians always continue steadfastly in this holy rite.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

TO the miser Christmas time is misery; to the grouchy it is a nuisance; but to the great mass of humanity Christmas time is the one time in each passing year when the generous, kindly spirit prevails. It is the one time when old grudges are forgotten and amity reigns in the hearts of all. Christmas time, in a word, epitomizes the brotherhood of man, breaking down social barriers, curing ingrained selfishness and purging the soul of cynicism through many generous acts. Carelessly selfish as all may be at ordinary occasions and calloused to the suffering of others, at this time of the year a mellowing and mysterious spirit seems to enter the heart and cause the indifference to pass away for a season. Call it what you will, Christmas spirit or the spirit of Christianity, each one bows to its sway and is bettered by its beneficent influence.

Twin Falls and its busy people have been materially blest with an abundance. Business has been good and the business men anticipate even greater prosperity the coming year. The laborers have had a good year, with better wages and a degree of prosperity seldom equaled in this city. The ranchers have had unprecedented prices for their produce and prospered accordingly. It would seem that every person should share in this wealth that has come to the city and county and that Christmas this year should bring happiness to all. Yet, in spite of this, it is evident from the report of the Associated Charities that there is a large number in this city who are in need of the Christmas cheer radiating into their lives where at present the outlook is dark. A little of that prosperity distributed through the right channels will bring a surge of joy to a number of worthy families. Christmas will mean more to the donors and bind a little stronger the bond which makes all the community friends and neighbors.

"Merry Christmas" is a hollow mockery on the lips of any who will not help to make it merry for some of the needy, and thus prove that the sacrifice made nearly two thousand years ago for all humanity has bettered the lives of all mankind.

SUNDAY PICTURE SHOWS

IN the matter of Sunday evening picture shows—has anyone felt any particular need of anything of the sort during the past year or two?

It isn't exactly a question of morals. The man who argues that it tends to keep people out of church and leads generally to light and frivolous views on Sabbath Day sanctity is met readily enough with the argument that good, clean entertainment, whether it be on Sunday or any other day, also serves to keep a lot of people out of more questionable surroundings and a lot of mischief.

But Twin Falls does not need Sunday picture shows for this or any other purpose, any more than she needs Sunday poolrooms and the opening of either the one or the other, from the standpoint of the public good, has nothing whatever to recommend it as applied to this City.

THE STATE OF TRADE

THE hectic period of American business continues throughout the East and Middle West and we of the Intermountain West continue to be the beneficiaries, to some extent.

The situation today, commercially and industrially, is without a parallel in the history of the Nation. Speculation is idle, comment almost without point, but a very fair idea of just what is going on, in a large sense, is to be gained from the following from a current number of the Bradstreet Journal:

Consumption continues to outvortex production, and in some respects even greater velocity than heretofore is evidenced, numerous lines having all and more than they can handle. Yet there are a few halting signs, such, for instance, as less feverishness in pig iron, possibly due to the fact that prices are up all around, diminished buying of some food products that have been subjected to boycotts, complaints of warm weather retarding retail trade in seasonable merchandise, with intimations from the interior districts of the spring-wheat Northwest that perhaps country dealers are temporarily overstocked. Incidentally, nation-wide investigations regarding the high cost of necessities are under way or projected, while rates for money are higher. But over and beyond such cross currents as have developed are evidences that holiday buying is of enormous proportions, that numerous industries are impeded by inability to get sufficient cars either for receiving or sending out products, that jobbers as well as wholesale purveyors of staple merchandise are making record-breaking sales, that wages as well as dividends keep going up, and that investment securities continue to be absorbed on a large scale.

"THE VALUE OF A MAN"

The vote of 700 out of 1000 great scientists of the world reckons the discovery of antiseptics as one of seven modern world wonders. Let us link with this the recent inventions and discoveries which make for man's health of body, mind and soul.

At Washington's first inaugural every fourth person present was marked from smallpox. Then medicine and surgery were little more than crude means of fighting off disease and death. Pain was still a destroying terror.

Dr. Edward Jenner of England, through information gleaned from the poxantry, introduced vaccination in 1778, making smallpox now a thing of the past.

In 1840 Dr. Morton, a Boston dentist, used ether to do away with pain, and in 1847 Sir James Simpson used chloroform to the same end. Since then the advance through surgery, antiseptics, medicine, mellowing, vaccinations and anti-toxines, has astounded humanity.

But this has led to the mistake of treating man as a body with a soul incidental to the body, whereas man is a soul with an incidental body. The power of the mind over bodily ailments has been too often overlooked or even ignored. The result has been the multiplication of mind and faith cures, resting on facts, faith, fanaticism or falsehood. Cures have followed each because of mental power over bodily submission. Cures have followed the touch of supposed sacred relics. Cures have followed the laying on of hands of the Mormon priesthood. Cures followed the work of Dowse and Schlatter, both of them men of questionable lives. Cures have followed the denial of anything to cure. Cures have followed faith in the healing power of a personal Christ. Who "Himself suffered and healed all our infirmities."

But none of these, except the last named, man's extremity and God's opportunity, have ever prevailed in organic lesions. God honors the use of means, and Himself quickens the mind for discoveries and the life for co-operation. But cheerful, hopeful, prayerful, thoughtful people at most sick beds just long enough to realize sunshine and faith are of greatest importance in the healing of disease; and the medical fraternity, in their supreme wisdom or folly, in excluding wise spiritual counsel from the sick room, have paved the way for the disarding of all means, even when greatly needed. Such writers as Drs. Duff, Schofield and Sperry have shown us the true relation between mental states and bodily healing. Extreme unbelief, a Catholic sacrament in preparation for death, has made many associate the coming of the minister to a sick bed with the idea of preparation for death, rather than the radiating of sunshine, hope and life.

century ago human slavery cursed the earth, the black man's groans, separated from his home in Africa, were heard 'round the world. But Wilberforce, in England, fighting this evil from 1791 to the day of his death, 1833, heard, in his dying moments, that the house of commons had passed the law of liberation. In America, Lovejoy, Phillips, Mrs. Stowe, John Brown and Abraham Lincoln were God's messengers to money-mad men. But not until 64 years ago did the pen of Lincoln sever the cords that bound the negro.

Industrial slavery still exists, and many can not yet see that because one is handicapped in the race is no reason why the wiser or stronger should appropriate a superfluity of what God intended for all. There is no more reason or humanity in this than in seeing a big, burly boy at a table spread with food and delicacies rudely push the little ones away, to go hungry or be satisfied with the coarser food which he hands them, while he gorges himself to misery or makes himself sick on the delicacies.

Only yesterday prisons were places of horror, torture and a living death. The real improvement of criminals had not been thought of, while hospitals and asylums were little better than prisons. Now, philanthropy seeks a broader and juster brotherhood. Prisons are schools, and the hundred thousand in our own land are thought of and prayed for that they may yet find the path to purity and self-control. We believe that

"Men shall brothers be,
And form one family
The World world over."

Jesus said: "How much better is a man than a sheep?"

STORY OF THE BUILDING UP OF A GREAT SCHOOL SYSTEM MAKES INTERESTING READING

Twin Falls Public School System Came into Existence in December of 1904 in Small Frame Building—City Schools Now Represent an Investment of $350,000 Exclusive of Real Estate Holdings—Superintendent Blue Describes the Present-Day Schools of Twin Falls—Its Organization, Teaching Force, Methods of Instruction, Curriculum, Enrollment, and the School Wagon.

The public school system of Twin Falls came into existence in December of 1904, when in a small frame building school was formally opened. Twin Falls' early pioneers coming from the older sections of country were zealous in trying to make the new city worth while, and the schools occupied a very prominent part in their plans for a greater Twin Falls. Nor has that progressive spirit ever faltered in the eleven years that have made this city an example for the whole West. School improvements have the right of way over other improvements.

By the following year the frame building had become too small for the great influx of settlers, and with a hearty unanimity bonds were voted for the first brick school house upon Twin Falls tract, the present Bickel school, costing $40,000 and located in the eastern part of the city, which at that time contained the bulk of the city's population. This was ready for occupancy in the fall of 1908.

Two years more saw the addition of the Lincoln school in the western part of the city at a cost of $60,000. The high school up to 1911 occupied part of the Bickel school. At this time, while hindered by the lack of bonding power, part of the present high school was erected and occupied. The next year saw its completion into the present handsome and commodious structure, costing $171,000. In September of this year the fourth building, the Washington school, located in the northern section of the city, was added to the school equipment at a cost of $35,000.

In all, including equipment, the Twin Falls city schools have an investment of approximately $350,000, which does not include real estate holdings upon which are located the above buildings or used for school playgrounds, which at a very low estimate amount to $75,000.

Twin Falls' public school system is forging to the front as one of the best in the state, due to the foresighted policy of the citizens and to the type of instructors who are attracted to this city by its reputation for progressiveness.

Following is an article upon the work of the schools and their aims by Superintendent Hal G. Blue:

The Organization

The Board of Education is composed of six members elected by the voters of the district. The members are elected each year in September. The Board employs a superintendent who has direct supervision of the entire system. The high school is in charge of a principal who devotes his time to the work of supervision and administration. Each of the three elementary buildings is in charge of a principal who devotes a part of each day to regular teaching and the remainder of the day to administrative duties. These teaching principals have nothing to do with the supervision of teaching or classroom work. The elementary system is directly supervised by an elementary grade supervisor whose time is entirely devoted to the task of supervising the teaching and classroom work.

This type of organization is economical. It brings more unity and co-ordination throughout the elementary grades. There are special supervisors who are held directly responsible for the results in the special subjects. The supervisor of music directs this work throughout the elementary grades. The supervisor of drawing, the supervisor of penmanship and the supervisor of physical education have similar duties and responsibilities. All the supervisors, including the elementary grade supervisor, work under the direction of the superintendent. The teaching principals who administer the grade buildings work under the charge of the superintendent. This is also true with the high school principal. The type of organization throughout the entire system provides for fixing definite responsibilities and duties and permits the proper emphasis on unified and co-ordinated work. Each individual is held directly responsible for a definite work and for the securing of results in that work.

Work of the Supervisors

The elementary grade supervisor is seeking to bring the sort of reorganization to the elementary courses of study that the various subjects, such as reading, arithmetic, etc., will become more helpfully adjusted to the capacities and needs of the elementary child. This is one big purpose. Another is to build up and strengthen the type of teaching so as to bring to the work the greatest possible degree of effectiveness. The music supervisor is endeavoring to give each child a mastery of the technique of music so that he may be able to participate in such exercises and thereby secure a greater degree of enjoyment. In addition, it is endeavored to give to each child a working knowledge of the great masters and a helpful appreciation of the great masterpieces. To further this work, Victrola and a splendid supply of records is provided each elementary building.

The supervisor of drawing is endeavoring to give to the work in drawing the sort of vocational coloring necessary to make this work have a definite occupational or industrial relation. This is not done to the exclusion of giving each child an appreciation of color harmony. Rather it offers a helpful setting for the work in harmony of colors.

The supervisor of penmanship is concerned with the problem of bringing a high type of legibility and efficiency to the writing of the children. Emphasis on penmanship is not confined to the few minutes devoted each day to writing drills; the emphasis is constant in that all written work is required to be of acceptable standard.

The supervisor of physical education has the direction of the play activities in the children. Organized games have taken the place of wandering around on the school grounds. It is endeavored to give each child a desire to play and to participate in helpful exercise. The supervisor aids in carrying forth the work in medical and dental inspection of the children, which is accomplished by the gratuitous services of local physicians and dentists.

Departmental Plan in Grades. The seventh and eighth grades are organized on the departmental plan in the Bickel and the Lincoln schools. This plan permits of employing teachers who are specially trained in certain subjects. It also aids in acquainting the children with the type of organization prevailing in the high school. This brings more facility to the adjustment of these children to the high school when they enter as freshmen. Seventh and eighth grade classes are not organized in the Washington school. This school enrolls pupils up to and including the sixth grade. Seventh and eighth grade pupils living in the Washington district go to the Bickel or the Lincoln schools where it is possible to departmentalize this work.

High School Advisory Plan

The high school is organized on the advisory plan. Each high school teacher is assigned a certain group of students to whom he is responsible as an advisor or counselor. These groups range from 20 to 30 students. Each teacher meets his advisory 15 minutes each morning at the beginning of the session and 10 minutes in the afternoon before the session opens. The advisor is expected to counsel the students relative to the selection of curriculum and courses. He advises the parents in matters affecting the pupils in their work. He attends directly to matters relative to school attendance, etc.

Four curriculums are offered. They are college preparatory, general, agricultural and commercial. The college preparatory curriculum is designed to prepare students for the best colleges and universities. The general curriculum is intended for those pupils who have not as yet found their dominant interests. The agricultural curriculum is designed to prepare boys for the farm. With the proper electives, this curriculum will also prepare students for entrance to universities and colleges. The commercial curriculum is designed to prepare students to be stenographers and office clerks, and to give training for the active side of business life.

The high school offers vocational courses which are intended to fit boys and girls for specific duties and occupations in life whereby a living is gained under present economic conditions. The courses classified as vocational are those given in sewing, cooking, mechanical drawing, woodwork, both the agricultural and commercial curriculums.

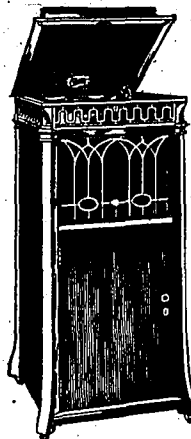

The high school maintains a library to supplement the classroom work of each department in the school. It is supplied with reference books. Along with the reference materials and the purely school books, a large number of books of good fiction is provided. The library is also supplied with current magazines, periodicals and daily newspapers. A part of the library is devoted to professional and educational literature for both the secondary and the elementary teachers. One of the high school teachers is a regularly appointed librarian and has complete charge of the library. At no time during the day is the library not in charge of a competent individual.

The high school provides opportunities for various athletic sports. Basketball, volleyball and indoor baseball are provided for both girls and boys in the gymnasium. Football, baseball and track activities are maintained. It is the policy of the school to encourage all students to take a reasonable interest in athletics rather than to center interest on the production of a few winning teams. Athletics are not considered a part of the school work, but rather a necessary part of school recreation.

WHY do we say that the New Edison is NOT a "Talking Machine"?

Here is the answer

THERE ARE NEARLY 100 DIFFERENT MAKES OF TALKING MACHINES AND SO-CALLED PHONOGRAPHS ON THE MARKET. EACH DIFFERS FROM THE OTHERS IN CERTAIN MECHANICAL DETAILS, BUT ALL HAVE A COMMON CHARACTERISTIC IN VARYING DEGREE, VIZ.: A STIDENT AND UNNATURAL TONE SO MUCH FOR ALL TALKING MACHINES.

Now with reference to

THE NEW EDISON

BY actual comparison with more than a score of great singers and instrumentalists it has been demonstrated that the New Edison re-creates all forms of music with such literal fidelity that the original cannot be distinguished from the Re-Creation when both are heard in direct comparison. The truthfulness of this statement is not open to question. These comparisons were made in public before more than 300,000 people and are chronicled in nearly 300 of America's principal newspapers.

No talking machine could sustain such a test and no talking machine manufacturer would dare to submit his machine to such a test in public. Therefore, you will understand why we say the New Edison is not a talking machine.

Come to Our Store

We want you to hear this wonderful new instrument. We want you to read what the leading newspapers have to say about this New Edison invention. But most of all we want you to hear the instrument itself.

ROY M. SPABOUR

JONES sometimes wakes up feeling cross and in consequence the family know it without his telling them in so many words.

Mrs. Jones attributes it to biliousness and if it doesn't wear off during the day she gives him a dose of liver medicine at night. The next morning he feels better and she gives him coffee for breakfast,—and the next morning,—and the next morning. And in a few days Jones has another spell.

Dear Mrs. Jones means all right, but she doesn't seem to realize that if she didn't give Jones his morning coffee she wouldn't have to give him the liver medicine and Jones would feel all right without both.

Housewives everywhere have found out that Instant Postum takes the place of breakfast coffee perfectly. And that is only one of the reasons why Instant Postum has wholly supplanted the use of coffee on thousands upon thousands of American breakfast tables.

of social recreation of its pupils and endeavors to make provision therefor. This is met to a large extent in the Debating club, German club, Latin club, Science club, Literary society, etc. Parties are given during the school year by the different clubs and groups of students. These parties are chaperoned by members of the high school faculty and take place in the high school building.

Musical organizations are encouraged and supported by the high school. A chorus and glee club are under the direction of a member of the high school faculty. An orchestra of 16 pieces and a band composed of 50 pupils are under the direction of another member of the faculty. Each of these organizations meet for recreation at a certain hour each day and credit is given for successful work. The work by the pupils in the musical organizations is planned and handled similarly to the work in any other department of the high school. During each year students in the glee clubs and choruses give operettas and the department of public speaking gives plays. From the public speaking department students are selected to represent the high school in the annual declamatory contests and the debating league. Last year the high school won first place in both the oratorical contest and the debating league.

The Facilities

Nineteen teachers are employed in the high school. In selecting teachers for the high school the preference is given to those applicants who are not only graduates of reputable universities or colleges, but who have done some post-graduate work in their major fields of study and have had at least two years of teaching experience. Forty-one teachers are employed in the elementary grades. In selecting teachers for the elementary grades the preference is given to those applicants who are graduates of the two-year course of reputable normal schools or teachers' training schools, and who have had at least two years of teaching experience.

With respect to training and experience both the high school and the elementary teachers now employed in the Twin Falls schools meet the above requirements. Adherence to these

 * THANKSGIVING, 1916—TO A MEADOW *
 * LARK FOUND DEAD ON THE ROADSIDE *
 * David Brown-Lewers *

O Meadow Lark, I'll sit with thee
 'Noah the bare branches of this tree,
 And on my knees hold thee, forlorn,
 As mother's love her babe still-born.
 Around the leaves that trembled so
 When first in Spring they heard the flow,
 Of music's waters in the flood
 Of song that stole all Nature's blood;
 Their gentle sighs are hush'd and cold;
 Their ghosts lie low, adrift the world;
 And little mounds, close huddled, sore,
 Whisper lost hopes that once were dear;
 Lament the year's departing sound
 As we sit here upon the ground.

O, Meadow Lark, so limp and dead,
 The heart within my breast is lead;
 The singer's soul is widow'd, low,
 Despite the Winter's sunlit glow.
 I'll keep a wake for thy fled soul,
 And call to mind, thro' sorrow's dole
 Thy vanished song, while in the frost
 God's candles burn; till Pentecost
 Of singer's joy in gratitude
 Falls on my life in solitude—
 On every heart whose secret prayer
 For nobler love, will richly fare
 At banquet of the gods—the late
 A beggar at great Dives' gate.

The cloud of gold upon thy breast,
 Which rose from out thy dark unrest,
 Like dawn upon the waters' flood,
 Was born within thy singing blood;
 And mounting to that pulsing throat,
 Poured forth as with a hush note
 The rosy, then the golden light,
 Which by its gladness banished night,
 And stirred the cowering Chanticleer
 To beat his wings with earthly cheer.

O, Meadow Lark, I'm just afraid,
 Here where our lives, so lost, have strayed,
 Here where we've met with death, alone,
 And where it seems we're cold as stone—
 I'm just afraid to one thing cry—
 My fingers shak! I tremble, sigh!
 I wonder if I'm worthy to—
 To look within that mirror true!
 If I can bear that sky-lit orb,
 Which did the Sun so deep absorb,
 That now upon thy bosom there
 So fixed it lies, in death thought fair.
 Is my soul clean, my heart in tune,
 That I could bear thy glance of noon?
 Should I not fear to let that eye
 Rest on my thought, let I should die
 Of shame, remorse, could I not see
 Thy music's soul entrancing me?
 Thy feet are cold with frost-dew
 As mine stop here a-mourning you;
 Thy wings are limp, thy head lies prone—
 And yet I feel before God's throne
 As if thy searching shaft might pierce
 Right thro' this puzzling universe!

O, Meadow Lark,
 I wish 'twere dark!
 Then would thy song, like a star,
 Point my poor wand'ring heart afar—
 Guide me thro' 'night, where human fault
 In the kind bosom of that vault
 Called Death lies hid.
 Earth's traffic wheels in ruthless sweep,
 Carried thy song to boundless deep,
 Where all the singers' stifled songs,
 Broken by fate and selfish wrongs,
 Will gather in the funeral-cloud,
 And with a golden thunder loud
 Burst from the organ pipes of life,
 Drowning the discord of all strife
 In one grand note of triumph, borne
 Along life's ways—by hate upborne—
 Where widows moan and orphans cry,
 Beneath this cold November sky—
 Till every bruised human soul
 By grief made weak, is poor, indeed,
 Because crushed cold beneath the wheels,
 The loss no human, brother feels.

Ah! Meadow Lark, thy song some day
 Will teach us Love's true deathless lay,
 Which here beneath this winter tree
 Is heard, sad, sweet, 'twixt thee and me;
 Which yet will shame with generous wave
 The greed that digs a coward's grave,
 That yokes o'en to a commerce
 The song-steps of the Morning Star;
 'Twill from our road-side tragedy
 Teach us a new Thanksgiving cry.
 Oh! Meadow Lark! Oh! Meadow Lark!
 O'er every distant blood-stained award—
 So dark! So dark!
 Sing then today with minor chord
 The beauty-song of Love and Lord!
 Our pain release
 With winged peace!

BEET GROWERS AT BURLY HARD HIT

Freeze Causes More Serious Consequences Than in the Twin Falls District

With shipments of beets from Twin Falls necessary in order to keep their plant running, and great fear of an actual shut-down, current for a while, the Southern Idaho Advocate of Beetley states that the situation caused by the hard freeze during the early part of November has been relieved by the recent thaw. It is now believed that the full season's run may be accomplished this winter.

The Burley factory is turning out 1500 bags of sugar daily and the campaign will be about 110 days. The company employs 250 men for the work, and will use beets from 8000 acres of land this year. The Amalgamated will spend $500,000 for beets and labor at Burley this season, and in keeping with its liberal policy toward the growers has voluntarily raised the contract price for next season's beets from $5.75 to $7.00 a ton.

Always a profitable crop, these advances in the price will be a great boon to the local beet growers and do much toward assuring prosperity for the Burley country indefinitely.

TWIN FALLS IDAHO

The photograph reproduced herewith is of a bungalow which was actually constructed from our house plan No. 82, the floor arrangement of which is also indicated by the accompanying sketch. It will be seen that in addition to the usual first-floor rooms, there are two bedrooms, each of which is reached from the dining room and the bathroom, with doors opening from each of the bedrooms.

The living room extends clear across the front of the house and has a fireplace at one end, with bookcases and built-in seats upon either side. The dining room has a built-in buffet and in the kitchen a built-in cupboard takes the place of the usual pantry. There is an enclosed rear entry in which the stairs to the basement are located.

As shown on the plans, the basement is excavated for the full size of the house, but as this makes a basement of unusually large size, a portion of it may be left unexcavated if desired, slightly reducing the cost.

The plans include, besides the usual architectural sections, full details for all the built-in features as well as for the beaming of ceiling in living room.

COMPARATIVE VALUES

With a face that vainly endeavored to appear mournful, and eyes that strove to produce a respectable flow of tears, Patrick Murphy O'Dolan entered an undertaker's shop.
 "I want you to tell me," he began, "what the custom is for a 'wearing mourning'—the depth of it, I mean!"
 "Well," replied the assistant, "of course, it varies. I fit in a near relative a band of black on the sleeve or hat, and for a distant friend a black tie is enough."
 For some moments Patrick Murphy O'Dolan considered:
 "Give me a shoe lace," he said, at last. "It's no wife's mother."

TWIN FALLS TEN YEARS AGO

(From the files of The Twin Falls News, December 14, 1916.)

Engaged by the Duponts.

Peter J. Holahan of Twin Falls, the most popular marksman that ever shouted "Pull" at a western trap-shooting tournament, has entered the employ of the Dupont Powder company as its shooting representative in Idaho, Utah, Eastern Washington, Western Wyoming, Western Montana and Eastern Oregon.

Mr. Holahan's pet diversion is breaking blue rocks. This year he added to his already large collection of medals and trophies, the individual Northwest era championship medal and the Globe trophy won at Walla Walla, the high average medal won at Salt Lake City, the Connors medal captured at Pocatello, and several other mementoes of the shell-strewn field.

Pastor Rides Bucking Broncho.

The many friends of Rev. E. Ruffin Jones, pastor of the Episcopal church in Pocatello, will read with interest the following from the Coily, Wyo., correspondent of the Denver Times: "The Rev. Archdeacon Edmund Ruffin Jones rode a notorious outlaw broncho one day last week and turned the wavering tide of public opinion in his favor."

"The parson, it seems, had a call to preach for a couple of nights in the town of Meteeus, 35 miles distant from Coily. Accompanied by a whisky drummer, who was headed for the same town, the two hired a team and set out. The two animals selected for the trip ran away with them and finally succeeded in parting company with the buggy. Then it was that the minister showed his grit, for, while the drummer remained seated in the middle of the road, he succeeded in capturing one of the horses, and after being bucked off three or four separate and distinct times, he rode the animal to a distant ranch house for help, thus establishing his reputation in Coily. The following Sunday night there was 'standing room only' in his church."

Wild Horses Make Appearance.

A band of wild horses is reported in the vicinity of Starb's ferry. They were driven down from the hills and are grazing in the vicinity of the railroad.

Arrives in Twin Falls.

D. D. Abord of Evanston, Wyo., has accepted the position of bookkeeper in the Idaho Department store. He will bring his family here when he secures a house.

Jake Fritz Acts as Guide.

Under the pilotage of Jake Fritz, W. H. Barry enjoyed a duck hunt at Blue lakes last Sunday. Although Mr. Barry does not pretend to be a crack shot, he brought back seven fat birds. He said he would have been able to get more, but the ducks seemed to shy at Jake.

Entertains "The Bunch."

The bunch were most delightfully treated to an old-fashioned taffy pull and popcorn frolic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Taylor last Thursday evening. Those present were: Misses O'Neil, Barrett, Bullen, McCollum, McManis, Young, Gourley, Perrine, Myers, Parsons, Dyer and Klenney; Messrs. Woods, Franklin, Young, Pearson, Ball, Gouley, Bedford, Stites, Collins, Nixon, Fuller and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hill.

Building Power Plant.

Work is progressing satisfactorily on the power plant at Shoshone Falls. Another carload of cement arrived this week and a big crew is engaged in mixing and laying concrete.

MRS. GREEN TALKS TO BUSINESS WOMEN

Gives Splendid Address on Legal Matters at Regular Weekly Luncheon of Club

"Mrs. Green told me more interesting things tonight about laws affecting women and about legal matters than I ever heard before in my life," said one of the members of the Business Women's association last Thursday evening, after the meeting had adjourned.

The regular Tuesday evening luncheon and meeting of the association was postponed until Thursday, for which night Mrs. L. B. Green had been engaged to give an address. A delicious luncheon was served at 5:15, with more than forty members in attendance. At 7:15 Mrs. Mary V. Norton of the Twentieth Century club was introduced and, after a brief talk in which she spoke of the work and object of the Business Women's association, she introduced Mrs. Green.

Mrs. Green is a practicing attorney in partnership with her husband, in Mountain Home, and one of the brightest and best known women in the state. Her home is her first care and she is proud of her three children, aged 9, 11 and 13 years. Being a practical woman, she is also able to find time for club work without sacrificing her home responsibilities. For many years she has been chairman of the state legislative department of the Idaho Federation of Women's clubs, in which she has accomplished a wonderful work. Practically all the bills concerning women and their rights ever introduced into the state legislature, and national measures before the people of the state, have passed through the hands of Mrs. Green. The state bills have, as a rule, been prepared by Mrs. Green, and she is a member of the state federation to attend each session to protect the bills. Her ability to handle these legal matters and her knowledge of law are unquestioned and of untold value to the women's organization.

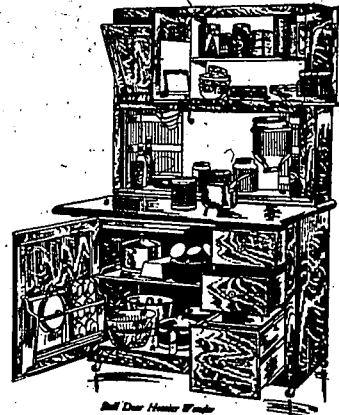

In her address to the Business Women's association, Thursday night, Mrs. Green took up the subject of the bills to be introduced at the coming session of the legislature which affect women. She explained in a most interesting and comprehensive way and at the close of her talk she invited questions on the subject. An informal discussion followed, which was given the closest attention.

Especially interesting was Mrs. Green's account of the manner in which the women introduced their bills and their work in having them passed. Many of the business women have given little or no thought to these matters, and they expressed great appreciation over the clear and entertaining manner in which Mrs. Green handled the subjects and stated that they had learned more about these bills and the law in her evening talk than they had in any other way. Mrs. J. W. Faris of Buhl was also present and gave a brief informal talk, which delighted the assembly.

HOOSIER

For Holiday Dinners
=for Every-Day Meals

NOW—before Christmas and New Year's—now is the time of all times to get this scientific kitchen helper—the Hoosier Cabinet. You and the Hoosier together can do your work in half the time. So why take twice as long without it?

There isn't a reason on earth why you should drill double-time back and forth from the cellar, the pantry, the cupboard and the kitchen table getting each meal, and clearing away the dishes and utensils afterward.

The Hoosier does away with all those miles of useless steps.

Forty labor-saving inventions by domestic science experts make the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet the greatest time-saver, step-saver and strength-saver ever devised to cut down woman's work.

No other kitchen cabinet in the world has the seventeen vital features that the Hoosier brings to your kitchen without extra cost.

That's why more women demand the Hoosier than any other five cabinets combined.

Low Prices and Easy Terms

Hoosier prices are fixed at the factory and present the utmost in value for the money. You can pay less, but why buy disappointment? The Hoosier means pleasure and lifetime service.

Prices $30.00 to $50.00—Your money back if you're not delighted. Can any other cabinet be guaranteed like this? Won't you come and see the Hoosier demonstrated?

Will give you the names of ladies whom you know who have the Hoosier, and you can talk with them before you place an order.

$5.00 down puts a Hoosier in your home—$5.00 per month pays for it.

Come now—and turn winter's cooking and baking from kitchen drudgery into delightful work.

BUILDING WAREHOUSE

New Structure Will Greatly Increase the Storage Capacity of Big Wholesale Firm

With the purpose of keeping pace with the steadily increasing demand for storage space, Munson & Harder broke ground last week for a big, two-story warehouse on the site of the old creamery building, in block 147, and adjoining their present warehouse. The new structure, built of brick, will not have a basement, the owners finding it more economical to build upward than to pay for excavation and the attendant cost of rock work and concrete. The building will cover ground space of 100-by-115 feet and is to be pushed to completion under the direction of Earl Felt.

Munson & Harder have for the past three years occupied a similar building in size adjoining and have succeeded in building up a heavy trade as agents for the Idaho Wholesale grocery, a Pocatello firm. However, the old warehouse was not sufficient to care for the demand for storage, and with a view to providing fireproof housing for automobiles and other storage demands, decided to build to a large extent for the future. Every equipment for the rapid handling of the goods entrusted to them was put into the new building, which will cost about $15,000.

FACTS ABOUT THE JARBIDGE MINES

Big Properties in the District Continue Work, Despite Heavy Snows and Winter Weather

In a letter to the editor of the Buhl Herald, A. J. Tucker gives a graphic account of the rapid progress being made in the Jarbridge mining district, despite the winter weather and heavy snows of the past few weeks. His summary of the work being done in the different properties is as follows:

Long Hike—Five different tunnels, 4000 feet of underground work, working a force of 100 men; estimated $9,000,000 worth of ore blocked out.

Legitimate—Banded for $500,000, 400 feet of ore uncovered; contract let for 600 feet of tunnel; working 23 men; wanted 20 more.

Flaxie—Three-stamp mill; 3000 feet of underground work; working 30 men. North Star—Five-stamp mill; 1500 feet of tunnel; working full shift, number unknown.

Starlite—Banded for $100,000; $10,000 down, balance in 18 months; rich strike in camp made there lately; employs 20 men.

is located in Jack crater. Bluster—Six thousand feet of underground work; banded for $750,000; 10 stamp mill, running full force.

Black Cat—Banded for $18,000; 300 feet of underground work; banded, but price unknown.

Success—Twenty-two hundred feet of work, mostly in ore; banded, but price is unknown.

Buckeye—Banded for $150,000; $10,000 down and balance in 18 months; working force 18 men; two tunnels and one shaft.

Wild Horse—New strike made six weeks ago, and ore ran as high as $2500 per ton.

Ajax—Refused $50,000 cash, working three shifts.

Jarbridge Central—Banded price unknown; working two shifts.

O. K.—Working large crew; treating 30 tons of ore daily; 1500 feet in ore.

TYPES OF BARNS WHICH ARE GRADUALLY SPRINGING UP OVER THE TWIN FALLS COUNTRY

QUARANTINE OVER AT KANSAS CITY

MARKET OPENS MONDAY WITH A CLEAN SLATE AND PRACTICALLY ALL CATTLE SOLD

Prime Nebraska Steers Sell at $12.—Any Sort of a Cow Is in Demand and It is a Poor Shall That Will Not Bring Five Cents Per Pound—Hogs Show Decline, While Sheep and Lambs Are Steady

KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS.—All grades of cattle are closing the week higher, and with fine prospects for next week. Demand for cows was sensational today and stocker and feeder trade is fast getting into its old time form. Only 1000 cattle arrived, mostly cows, which sold higher. Hog receipts were 6500, market 10c lower, top $10; sheep and lamb receipts were 500, nominally steady.

Beef Cattle.—Prime Nebraska steers sold at $12 Thursday, top for the week. Two lots of choice bred steers, also from Nebraska, lacking a little in finish, sold at $11.25 Thursday. Prices of the next grade below were in fair supply, selling at $10.25 to $10.50; warmed up and short feed steers, $7 to $9.50. A good many cattle bought to hold through the winter have been drawn out by recent good prices. Buyers were out after cows today before 7 o'clock, seeking to get first chance when the opening whistle sounded. Naturally, salesmen observed the keenness and demanded higher prices. Panhandle cows sold at $5.25 to $6.85, including canners, and it is a poor shall that won't bring 5 cents a pound now. An Arkansas shipment of cows sold at $5 to $5.75 in the quarantine division, calves in the consignment at $7.25 to $11. Best cows bring $8 to $9.50.

Stockers and Feeders.—Practically every head of state cattle held during the recent quarantine has been disposed of and the market will open Monday with a clean slate. A stronger stocker and feeder market is predicted for next week, and prices on steers will range from $5.50 to $8, cows and heifers, $5 to $7.50.

Hogs.—Receipts have been light this week, competition strong, in the face of a declining market. Prices were lower Thursday and today, but the close is only 20 cents under the best time of the week here, as compared with a 30-cent decline at Chicago and St. Louis. Choice heavy hogs sold at $10 today, medium weights $9.50, lights $9.50, bulk $9.40 to $9.50. One firm of order buyers took 20 double decks Wednesday and Thursday and local packers are forced to augment the supply here with trainloads of hogs brought in from other markets, where prices are lower, 8000 head arriving today from St. Paul, Sioux City and Omaha.

Sheep and Lambs.—Receipts were limited to some through stock to a Missouri feed lot. The week closes with a net advance, best lambs worth $12.35 or better, half finished lambs $11.40 to $11.85, yearlings worth up to $11, fat ewes $7.50 to $8.50. Feeding lambs are meeting a strong demand, at $10.75 to upwards of $11, and light weight feeding lambs might bring $11.50 to $15.

WEIGHT OF NUMBERS.—Malachi O'Rourke, a familiar character in Chicago, had occasion to appear before a police magistrate to answer a charge of larceny. After hearing the testimony of two witnesses, who said they saw Michael take the goods, the judge said:

"Well, Malachi, I think you're guilty."

"An' what make your honor think that?" asked the Celt.

"These two men, who say they saw you take the goods."

"An' is that all?" asked Malachi in surprise. "Why, your honor, I can bring 200 men who will swear they didn't see me take the goods."

ARE YOU GOING TO HAVE A PUBLIC SALE?—I am again prepared to clerk your sale and purchase your paper, and am in position to quote you rates that I am certain will appeal to you as attractive.

I have a plan for the arrangement of terms that appeals to the various purchasers as being more equitable than those formerly in vogue in this community, and that will, at the same time, save money for the man holding the sale.

If you are contemplating holding a sale, let me submit my proposition to you. I have money available for real estate loans, and at attractive rates.

MARKET FOR SHEEP CONTINUES HIGH

PRICES REMAIN STRONG DESPITE A VERY CONSIDERABLE INCREASE IN RECEIPTS

Omaha Reports Liberal Offerings of Beef Cattle and the Disappearance of the Demoralization in the Feeder Trade Due to Rumors of Disease.

OMAHA.—Cattle receipts continue rather liberal for this time of the year, but the offerings of range cattle show some decrease, while the percentage of corn-fed stock is increasing. Demand for the range beef has been active all week, and with increased competition from the feeder buyers, the market has ruled active and strong, closing quotations being around 10¢ to 12¢ higher for the week.

Outlet for the cows and heifers has also been broadening and there has been considerable improvement in prices all along the line. Both packers and feeder buyers have taken hold freely and tone to the trade has been very strong. Veal calves, bulls, tags, etc., are selling pretty much the same as a week ago.

The demoralization in the stocker and feeder trade incident to the supposed discovery of the foot and mouth disease has all disappeared and demand from the country has been very keen for several days, especially for steers of good weight and quality. In fact, desirable grades are selling fully a quarter higher than last week and not far from the high point of the season.

Current cattle quotations are about as follows:

Choice grass beefs, $5.50@9.00; good to choice grass beefs, $7.75@8.35; fair to good grass beefs, $6.75@7.50; common to fair grass beefs, $5.75@6.75; good to choice heifers, $6.75@7.55; good to choice cows, $6.00@7.50; fair to good cows, $5.75@6.50; canners and cutters, $4.50@5.75; veal calves, $3.00@10.00; Bologna, hogs, $5.00@5.50; beef, $5.50@7.75; prime feeding steers, $5.40@9.00; good to choice feeders, $7.75@8.25; good to choice stockers, $7.55@8.15; fair to good feeders, $6.50@7.50; common to fair feeders, $5.75@6.50; stock heifers, $6.25@7.50; stock cows, $5.00@6.50; stock calves, $6.00@9.00.

Packers' Demand Keen.—Notwithstanding a very considerable increase in receipts of sheep and lambs as compared with last week, the market has developed much strength and activity and prices are the highest they have ever been at this point. Most of the offerings at present have been corn fed and demand from packers is very keen. Choice lambs sold at $12.00@12.50 or about a quarter higher for the week and aged shows very nearly as much advance.

Feeder buyers are still taking anything that they can use and prices are the highest known in the trade. Feeder lambs sold up to $12.00 and there is apparently no limit to the demand for feeder stock even at those seasonally high figures.

Current quotations for sheep and lambs are about as follows:

Lambs, good to choice, $12.25@12.50; lambs, fair to good, $11.75@12.25; lambs, clipped, $9.75@10.75; lambs, feeders, $10.50@12.00; yearlings, good to choice, $9.75@10.50; yearlings, fair to good, $8.50@9.50; yearlings, feeders, $7.00@8.00; wethers, fair to choice, $7.50@9.10; ewes, good to choice, $8.10@8.35; ewes, fair to good, $6.75@7.50; ewes, plain to culls, $5.50@6.55; ewes, feeding, $5.00@7.00; ewes, breeders, all ages, $5.00@8.50.

CONTEMPORARY.—"Miss Ann Teek has had her house furnished in colonial style."

"Well, she ought to feel thoroughly at home amid such surroundings."

MORT LOST BALL, TOO.—Two English soldiers caused some amusement at a golf course the other day. The first man teed up and made a mighty swipe, but failed to shift the ball. The miss was repeated no fewer than three times.

His pal was unable to stand it any longer.

"For heaven's sake, Bill," he broke out, "let the thing. You know we only have four days' leave."

BUHL BOY RECEIVES RHODES SCHOLARSHIP

MARVIN MONROE CAPTURES MUCH-DESIRED APPOINTMENT TO OXFORD UNIVERSITY, ENG.

Son of Dr. and Mrs. James Monroe is Notified by President Brannon of His Selection as Idaho's Representative at the Famous Old English University.

Marvin Monroe, son of Dr. and Mrs. James Monroe of this city, received the Rhodes scholarship appointment from Idaho for the year 1916, says the Buhl Herald. He was notified of his appointment last week by President Brannon of the University of Idaho, who is chairman of the Idaho educational committee that selects the scholars. The appointment carries with it an annual allowance of $1500 per year for three years, which money may be used to pay the expenses while he is attending Oxford university. He will accept the appointment.

Marvin Monroe was one of the first graduates of the Buhl high school, having finished with the class of 1915. Since then he has attended the University of Idaho, at Moscow, from which school he graduated with high honors in 1915. He has always ranked high in his classes, and finished the Buhl schools with an exceptionally high standing. The Rhodes scholarship appointment is one of the highest college honors that can be earned by a student, as the requirements are very stringent, and the appointment is limited to so few college men.

Mr. Monroe will be entitled to a three years' course in the University of Oxford, England, which is considered the leading university of the world.

Plan of Scholarship

Oecil Rhodes, a great English statesman and financier, who died leaving a fortune of $10,000,000, in 1902, directed in his will that a part of the fortune should be used as a fund to support a certain number of scholarships covering a three years' course in the University of Oxford, in England. Two are allowed from each state in the United States, 15 from Germany, and from three to nine in each of the British colonies. The total number which may enroll at one time is 180, and appointments are made so that a third of that number may be chosen each year.

The awarding of Rhodes scholarships is by competitive examination. Mr. Rhodes provided that the committee who selects the individual must consider literary and scientific attainments, love of outdoor sports, strong, manly qualities, such as courage, generosity, kindness, etc. The person must be of high moral character, and have a desire to serve in public affairs. A competitive examination is held usually every two years, the last being in October, 1915. It is the custom in the American states universities for the president of the university to recommend a certain number to compete in the examination.

COMPLETES FIGURES ON FARM LIVING COSTS

Government Gives Out Interesting Statistics to Show That Many Losing Farms Really Pay

Many a farm is yielding at least a small profit, when, according to strict bookkeeping tally, it seems to be a losing proposition. This paradox is explained by the facts brought out in a bulletin just issued by the department, entitled, "Value to Farm Families of Food, Fuel and Use of House." These items, namely, food, fuel and shelter, which every farmer consumes, and which the farm family without money cost, are the factors which strict bookkeeping does not take into account, and which cause the difference between the profit and loss on the farm which seems to be losing money when, in reality, it is breaking even or perhaps making a little profit.

The facts brought out in this bulletin were gathered by a survey of a thousand families representing widely separated sections in 14 states. Figures were gathered covering the value of all food, fuel and shelter, itemized to show what part was bought and what part furnished by the farm.

Following is a brief summary of the more significant average established by this inquiry. The figures given are based on reports from 950 families, averaging 4.8 persons per family. Annual value of food, fuel and use of house:

Average per family.....	$648.00
Furnished by farm.....	$424.28
Bought.....	223.72
Annual value of food:
Average per family.....	448.00
Animal products (per cent).....	58
Groceries (per cent).....	25
Vegetables (per cent).....	11
Fruits (per cent).....	6
From farm (per cent).....	53
Bought (per cent).....	47
Annual value of fuel:
Average per family.....	62.00
Wood (8.4 cords).....	36.32
Coal (2.6 tons).....	17.88
Oil (55 gallons).....	6.33
From farm (per cent).....	54
Bought (per cent).....	46
Annual value of use of house:
Average per family.....	135.00

It was found that the average annual value of meats consumed per family (other than poultry), was $107.25; of poultry products, $55.40; and of dairy products, $90.66. The quantity of dairy products consumed per family was equal to 2640 quarts of milk.

The total value of food consumed per family was found to vary directly with the amount of meat used. As the relative value of meat consumed increased, the total value of food consumed per family increased.

Families living on their own farms reported higher consumption of food and a larger percentage of food derived directly from the farm than of those living on rented farms. The average quantity of fruit consumed annually per family was found to be 122 quarts; of vegetables, 32 quarts.

BOBO, THE MISCHIEVOUS MONK.

THERE WAS A REASON

He was one of those officious foremen, one who tried to make those under his charge realize that he was somebody of importance. But one day he met his match. Stepping up to the shop humorist, he said: "You're a minute late this morning."

"I know, but there's a reason for it." "Explain." "When I was coming along to work I heard a man in the river yellin' for help. I ran to him, was pullin' him out, but let him drop in again." "But why didn't you save him?" "Not likely," was the dry answer. "Why?" "Cause he was a foreman!"

STORY OF BUILDING UP OF GREAT SCHOOL SYSTEM

standards practically assure the community of a correspondingly high standard of teaching.

When the first town school was organized, the people living in the town sought to aid the people living in the country adjacent to the town in providing schooling facilities for their children by furnishing transportation so that the country boys and girls could have the advantages of the small town school. This led to the organization of a centralized and consolidated school district that became the largest of its kind in the country. At the present time 24 school wagons are used to transport the children living in the rural part of the district to the central school in Twin Falls. These wagons are owned by the school district. The drivers are selected each year prior to the opening of school from a long list of applicants. In many cases the drivers are high school boys. These wagons are in charge of the superintendent and the principals of the three elementary schools. The board of education has a committee on school wagons that also give attention to the problem of transportation. The school wagons are now carrying 526 rural pupils to the central school. In addition to the wagons, the board of education uses the Twin Falls Railway company as a means of transportation. Approximately 60 pupils are transported over this railroad from the rural sections. Thus nearly 600 boys and girls living in the rural sections of the district are brought in to the central school each day and receive the same educational advantages as are given to the children living in the city. Last year the transportation costs amounted to approximately $12,000. This averaged about $2.50 per school month for each child, or about 12½ cents per round trip.
