

Row Launched by Presidential Blast On Commentators

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—President Truman and commentator Drew Pearson are at odds over the president's remark that he would not touch of a "big" member of his cabinet or staff.

"any one" but a member of his cabinet or staff.

The chief executive delivered his blast at a dinner honoring his military aide and long-time friend, Maj.-Gen. Harry Vaughan, who has been a frequent target for criticism from Pearson and others.

"I want you to distinctly understand," Mr. Truman told the gathering last night, "that if any one thinks he can change any one of those people (cabinet or staff) to be displeasing to me, by some back-street statement over the air or in the paper, he has another thing coming."

The president's remarks which the word "anyone" was interpreted as referring to Pearson.

Crew Thinks Famous 'Lost Loot' Located

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23 (AP)—A search party has located the position of the fabulous "lost loot of Spain," pirate booty estimated to be worth $200 million.

The treasure was reportedly buried under the shore of Tinian Island off the west coast of the Pacific.

Ellis Patterson, who sailed with the expedition to search for the pirate gold, returned by plane last night to report the discovery.

James A. Forbes, 41, claims that with the aid of metal detectors, he located the treasure under the beach and at the mouth of a stream on the small island.

"At any rate," said Patterson, "the machine showed a deposit of metal underground."

He said it was near the spot where his old "lost loot" was found in 1912. This previous expedition "This is Forbes' fifth expedition to the island. Forbes is located on a map held by his great-grandfather, James Forbes, who was an educated pirate.

The treasure, as recorded by Forbes' diary, consists of gold, silver, jewels and other articles, relics of the Spanish conquest.

Patterson said 150 tons of excavating equipment carried aboard the remodeled landing craft "Bolivian" were used to dig the spot.

He said the treasure was found in a 30-foot deep hole.

Members of the expedition plan to search up a stream for a second treasure, located on Highway 24 where a major treasure, he added, is supposed to be buried.

Patterson said he made arrangements to give the Costa Rican government a portion of the treasure, half of any treasure found.

Plan to Force Supreme Court Decision on 'Slots' Giver House's Approval

BOISE, Feb. 23 (AP)—Anti-gambling forces in the Idaho house of representatives today passed a bill, 35 to 24, which its sponsors said would force a state supreme court decision on laws permitting slot machines and punchboards.

Meanwhile, a bill to legalize pari-mutuel betting on horse races was introduced in the senate. It is similar to one killed earlier in the house.

Rep. Erwin Schwiebert, R., Canyon, sponsor of the bill passed by the house, said "courts in states with constitutional provisions similar to those of Idaho prohibiting lotteries had ruled that slot machines and punchboards were unconstitutional."

Shoshone Blasts Ice In Flood Experiment

Attempts to blast ice from the Little Wood river were made Wednesday in Shoshone, but Bert Terry, city water superintendent, said the blasting was done only as an experiment to determine what could be done in the event of a flood.

Terry pointed out there is only the normal winter flow of water in the stream with no break-up or movement of ice.

He said little flood difficulty is expected but that the experimental blasting was a preparatory measure.

Blaine County
'Dimes March'
Totals $2,781

HALLEY, Feb. 22.—The march of dimes campaign in Blaine county has ended with a total collection of $2,781.50, according to Jack Davis, county chairman. The drive was extended two weeks because of weather conditions.

Belleme led the list for community and per-capita donations, with $204.14 raised from a community dinner, dance and auction plus donations from schools, collection centers and mail folders. Mrs. B. O. Nelson was in charge of the Belleme campaign.

Basketball Helps
The Halley total was $205.50 raised through a benefit basketball game and numerous group and individual projects. The chairman for Halley were Mrs. Doc Thamm and Mrs. Hodley Board.

In Ketchikan the major effort was a dance and cooked food sale, which with a candy auction, brought the total to $165.00, according to Mrs. Walter Kana, community chairman.

CENTERS ALONE
At Triumph, the money was raised entirely by a house-to-house canvass. A total of $102.25 was raised from the few residents of the camp and the ranches in the vicinity there, according to Craig Rember.

The donation from Carey resulted from a benefit dance as well from group and individual efforts. Mrs. Margie Edwards, community chairman, reported a total of $121.24 for that community.

Sun Valley was the last community to report its contributions which amounted to $266.19, included $102 from the Union Pacific railroad and the balance from collection cans placed throughout the resort.

Pioneer Resident Of Kimama Area
Dies in Nebraska

RUPERT, Feb. 22.—Charles H. Riedesel, 78, former resident of this area, died at the family home in Norfolk, Neb., according to information received here.

Mr. Riedesel, the pioneer survivor here, had been a pioneer on the dry farming section near Kimama since 1874. Riedesel was born in 1871 in Mereno county, Ia., the only child of the Rev. and Mrs. Alfred Riedesel. Prior to her marriage in 1871, she taught in a private school for girls in the Union Pacific railroad land.

The Riedesels served in pastorates in North Carolina, Ohio and Indiana and moved to Kimama in 1913 where they served in missionary work for the Reformer Evangelical church and homesteaded a dry farm.

Although weather and economic conditions caused most of the early settlers to leave soon after the area was settled, the Riedesels remained until December, 1920, when they left for their pastorate in Baccus, O. In 1925 they moved to their present home in Nebraska.

Mrs. Riedesel had been in ill health for a number of years. She is survived by her husband and the following sons and daughters: O. A. Riedesel, Moscow; Rev. N. A. Riedesel, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Dalton, O.; Fred C. Riedesel, Idaho State college, Pocatello; the Rev. Maurice Riedesel, missionary in Honduras; and Mrs. Miriam Hughes, Englewood, N. J.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—This year one of the main objectives of the Jefferson-Jackson victory dinners to be staged by the Democrats throughout the country is to focus attention on the party's anti-fascist program.

The chief event will be in Washington. This Thursday night the Mayor and Tucker will be between the Mayor and Tucker before a packed audience in both hotels.

Critics maintain that his purpose is to make a show of the faithfulness of the Democratic National Convention which has been announced to be held in St. Louis, Mo., on June 11-12-13.

The President seeks renewed public approval at a time when the public mind is being confused by all socialistic and spendthrift measures and some of his own henchmen in congress are flailing the party with the President's aid.

The advisers are confident that the majority of Americans still are give-away program fans and want congress to initiate the popular radio show.

POT SHOTS

IS THIS THE REASON?

Dear Reader:—I am exceedingly with you on this business of complicated income tax return forms. It would seem that the things that are so much right.

But I don't think any individual or group of individuals in our current government is responsible. Those income forms are merely the result of the need of more personnel to give expansions and more results to our government which has become top-heavy with bureau and bureaucracy.

First the person who understands any government form or government matter without studying same, or that he show you a bogus document forms and letters are intended to cause confusion in more personnel to give expansions and more results to our government which has become top-heavy with bureau and bureaucracy.

And the person who understands any government form or government matter without studying same, or that he show you a bogus document forms and letters are intended to cause confusion in more personnel to give expansions and more results to our government which has become top-heavy with bureau and bureaucracy.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

Counter-balancing the right to strike, the American citizen has a right not to work or to strike. This is a popular conduct but it is legal.

It calls for more courage and higher character than in picketing which is a mob action and a form of bullying.

Refusal to strike or employment in a strike job as a strike-breaker is an admirable conduct deserving public respect.

Where the strike ignores the will of the workers and the equities of the case. In such premises, the non-striker is the strike-breaker, a better citizen than the striker.

Regardless of their relative virtues, the non-striker is a better citizen than the striker.

There are laws against mobbing or in public by the one man or one group of individuals.

The non-striker or strike-breaker deserves full benefit of their rights. He is a better citizen than the striker.

When a law-abiding citizen is forced to work for the employer, he should be allowed to work for the employer. He should be allowed to work for the employer.

Injures Back

Frank W. Edwards, Waterloo, defending Roberta, proved that he was abandoned by the government to the fury of a CIO mob and argued that a law-abiding citizen so attacked and so abandoned has a right to use reasonable means to defend himself on his property.

The charge was substantiated and the jury took 3 1/2 hours to acquit.

The other defendant was acquitted by a verdict of 12-1.

By a change of venue his trial was held in Waterloo, Idaho. After more than one hour of deliberation the jury generated Perry who shot Jim Shook during a lynching for by a mob of CIO gangs on night.

Shook and three other pickets chased Perry who tried to climb a fence to get away. Someone grabbed him by the back of the neck and Perry, charged with who were in the mob with Shook chasing Perry and others, testified for the state.

JOE'S "ANSWERS"

Marshal Stalin may be kidding the Russian people by his warnings of capitalist aggression, but it is doubtful that he is kidding himself. If he is, the American reaction to his latest discourse of sweet reason on the subject of peace should reassure him.

His answers to an American correspondent's four questions got serious and dignified attention in this country. Newspapers generally gave it a big play. Congressmen, diplomats and U.N. representatives were either soberly hopeful or discreetly silent. And the Soviet government—nominally if not actually. If he wants to shed a little mild sweetness and cold light, there is no need to accept questions with respect. As a sincerely peace-loving as well as a diplomatically well-mannered government, it is the only thing to do.

HOOKUP—Vice President Barkley is scheduled to speak in San Francisco. Both the Washington and New York papers have reported that he will be speaking at the Jefferson-Jackson banquet for the first time in Jefferson-Jackson banquets all four big networks will carry the program.

When he speaks, he will appear on the radio. The vice president has written his speech in consultation with party public-relations men and has agreed with the latter to appear on the radio. The nerves of the headquarters group, who passed a jittery half hour during the campaign because of a radio accident.

In the election contest both writers prepared a polished speech for the vice president to give. He went on the air, the Kentucky was disgraced. When he saw the copy a few minutes before he went on the air, the Kentucky was disgraced. When he saw the copy a few minutes before he went on the air, the Kentucky was disgraced.

BURLEY, Feb. 23—Mr. and Mrs. Twichell the first child for daughter from Mrs. Twichell.

But what did Mr. Stalin say? He told the International Service no more than he had told the ASSOCIATED PRESS, the United Press, Harold Stassen and several others. In fact, he told the INS even less than he had some early questioners. For the last few weeks he has been answering questions put in various ways that he had only to answer yes or no. They were mild questions that avoided the basic causes of East-West differences. To have answered no would have been to admit that Soviet policy was as aggressive and trouble-making as it really is.

TALKS—Nothing like a hall like political speeches. The best are those that are given in a hall. It will be recalled that at the previous affair, Sen. Olin, Johnston, Smith, Scovel, a President Truman, and a group of other men, directly under the head table so that President Truman and the news cameras—should notice the snub. When he spoke, he will appear on the radio. The nerves of the headquarters group, who passed a jittery half hour during the campaign because of a radio accident.

Roberts announced that he was going back to the job to support his family. Two Negro writers approached him and one said, "If you do, I have a club that I will use to beat your head to a jelly." The other said that if the first one didn't do a good job he would finish it himself. Roberts killed his man, William (Chick) Parrell, a striker, who was shot on the right window of his home on the left side and front. Parrell was killed.

Perhaps the four questions were put, and the four answers given, as a result of the "peace offensive" by Italian and French communist leaders. If it is necessary, though not pleasant, to look at some of the acts in the center ring which took place while this side show was going on.

Russia was putting pressure on Norway to stay out of the Atlantic alliance. A Russian which was put in saying that this alliance is part of an Anglo-American plan of world domination. German communist leaders were playing the same tune. And of course, the Berlin blockade.

SWANK—The omission of political procedure is noticeable everywhere in District of Columbia Democratic circles. For instance the other night the city's Young Democrats held a meeting and sent congressmen at a week hotel. Two years ago many party freshmen from Capitol Hill were arrested and sent to prison. It was a disgrace.

WHOS WITHOLDING WHAT?

I have discovered there was a serious shortage of coal in Twin Falls during the recent series of blizzards. Yet I failed to read or see in the Times-News any kind of shortage.

One killed his man in Waterloo, Idaho. He shot the man in National City, Ill. just across the river from St. Louis.

Here I go into particulars. I want to recall that the governor of Minnesota gave permission to management of the packinghouse workers of the CIO against plants in several midwestern states.

Desires Vary For Homes in U. S. Regions

CHICAGO, Feb. 23 (AP)—What does a woman want in her new home?

Everything ranging from one-way traffic to the front door to heating on the driveways to melt snow and save hubby the trouble of shoveling, the National Association of Home Builders reported today.

Mrs. Maude Butler, Tulsa, Okla., builder reported that a survey of 3,000 women as to their preferences if they were building a new home, no tabulation was made.

A New Yorker asked for radiant heat in the garage and driveway. Tulsa, a doctor wanted pipes buried in the concrete to heat it, and thus melt off ice and snow.

An Arkansas said: "I would like a tool cabinet built in the garage so my husband would stay home more."

The single story ranch type house was almost a unanimous choice, although some preferred the more traditional models.

Lighting the front steps to minimize snow was a frequent request. One woman wanted one-way glass in the front door so she could see who was coming, but the visitor could not see her.

Most Want Dining Room Twenty-nine per cent wanted dining rooms, and all wanted a combination kitchen where breakfast could be served.

One suggested a kitchen in the middle of the house so that all other rooms would be served. More closets was a universal cry, with larger bedrooms.

Twenty per cent wanted overhead lights in the bedroom because "a woman looks 10 years younger when light does not shine in her hair."

Families Isolated by Snow Like This . . .

"Operation Snowdrift" Termed Success As Weather Moderation Brings Relief

By RON RICE

A change in weather has caused temporary discontinuance of "operation snowdrift," the cooperative efforts of the Twin Falls chapter of the American Red Cross and the civil air patrol to provide food for snowbound families.

Although many banks of snow were dissipated by warm winds and highway crews know removal operations, the Red Cross and CAP are standing by to be of service in the event of food conditions.

During "operation snowdrift," 90 large sacks of food and five packages of medicines were dropped to families isolated by drifting snow. The food could not be dropped from the planes. It was delivered on trucks and vehicles or by snow shovels available to the Red Cross.

On several occasions parts for snow removal equipment were dropped from the air so the machines could continue operations.

Planes used in the operation are owned by the Red Cross flying service, Magic Valley Aircraft company, the 61 Flying club, the Twin Falls flying club and Lowell Kinzer, a local pilot.

A great deal more work was involved in the project than most people realize. It was not as simple as just flying out to some isolated spot and dropping the food and returning the snow which blocked highways also blocked airport runways making it necessary for pilots to fly ski-equipped planes from an emergency field in the vicinity of South Park. They had walked to the airport or to a field nearby.

In addition, the food bags had to be packed and delivered to the field for airdrops. A courier service was provided to carry information from the office of the Red Cross to the operations office which had been set up in the front room of the home of Mrs. R. E. Mulka near the emergency strip. From this office pilots received information regarding drops to be made and made reports on drops completed.

A state strike fund, Paul E. and the Red Cross met and made plans for flying food to isolated areas. The Red Cross also provides packaged food and messages to be dropped by the pilots.

The first flights of the operation were made Feb. 7, with the CAP providing highways and dropping supplies at the Hunt project where an ill child needed the medicine.

By Feb. 8 five ski-equipped planes were operating from the emergency field and 61 general food packages and five special packages had been dropped.

The storm became worse and on Feb. 10 operations were suspended partially because of blizzard conditions. Meanwhile, the Red Cross dispatched a truckload of food to the Hunt project where 42 families were reported without food. The food was taken to Jerome where it was loaded on national guard trucks and carried to the families.

During the operation Chief of Police Howard W. Gillette released Patrolmen M. J. Barrett and Matt Voss to work directly in the effort. Barrett acted as a courier between the Red Cross and the airport. Voss was engaged in flying.

In some cases doctors were flown to patients and in several other cases patients were flown from their isolated homes to local hospitals. In one case where all other efforts had failed, the Twin Falls fire department brought a sick man to the Twin Falls county hospital in a log cabin borrowed from the American Lutheran Boy Scout troop. The man was taken to Jerome where he was engaged in flying.

When operations were transferred from the emergency airport to Joe Lin field, a crew of 30 volunteer workers signed up through the American Legion, the fire and snow from runways at the field and the placement of snowshoes at the field as it was needed.

Received Red Cross Food by Air

who have cooperated in making "operation snowdrift" a functioning service and to the many others who did their bit when their help was needed most. Mrs. Helen Bailey said. Mrs. Bailey is the executive secretary of the Twin Falls Red Cross chapter.

It was through her efforts in coordinating the operation that "operation snowdrift" was a success.

TOWNS MIDDLE EAST
PILGER, Feb. 23—A Collins, Piler, has visited Athens, Greece, and Istanbul, Turkey, while serving aboard the aircraft carrier USS Tarawa, currently on a world cruise.

The bulk of the walrus, which sometimes are 30 inches long, are used in defense, to dig out and climbing.

Red Cross officials thanked Fire Chief E. H. Prevorse and all members of the fire department for their efforts during the emergency in packing food bundles, acting as couriers, going on rescue missions and providing transportation to and from the airport.

Personal from the U. S. marine corps recruiting office and the army and air force recruiting office helped package food. Members of the national guard, under the direction of Lieut. Col. James C. Leighton and Lieut. Lawrence Laughridge, directed the work of packages brought to the area for the emergency.

Mary C. Harris, CAP adjutant, handled operations and was assisted by Gladys Stone and Fred Taylor. Lyle Beve, Lyle Weatherly and Dick Young handled communications.

C. H. Krueger is chairman of the Red Cross disaster relief committee. Charles Casey is subcommittee chairman in charge of food; Howard Gillette, public relations; and Gordon Oldham, medical adviser.

"We extend our thanks to those who have cooperated in making 'operation snowdrift' a functioning service and to the many others who did their bit when their help was needed most."

Miller Views No 'Conflict' on Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Senator Miller, D. Ind., said today he sees no conflict between the state Democratic party platform and a bill for a pre-primary convention before the "chain" legislature.

He made the statement in reply to a request by a party leader for his opinion but emphasized he does not endorse the bill.

He wrote to Mr. Vera Swoppe, state Democratic vice chairman, he does not think it proper for him to pass judgment on state legislation.

Regarding the bill, he said: "The party, in its state platform, opposes any change that would weaken the primary law."

"In my opinion, the bill (S151) does not weaken the law but merely affords the party an opportunity to express its preference."

Russia Finds New Data on Ancient Trade

By EDDY GILMAN
MOSCOW, Feb. 23 (AP)—A new discovery of ancient trade routes is being made by Russian scientists. The discovery is based on the finding of a large number of ancient trade routes in the mountains of Mongolia where other preserved mummies were found in 1941.

"Notable as Chief Rudenko said the findings have a great importance. The findings cover the entire area of the ancient world" consisting mostly of the ancient trade routes.

The woman, said Rudenko, had been a good mummy. Had fine, strong, thin, many mummy mummies were found in 1941.
