Year of General Tieup Spreading In Coal Regions

LITTLE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Sept. 15 (AP)—Lewis closed most soft coal mines for a long week and operators feared a general strike has begun. Southern and western mine owners met here to resume talks with Lewis, the United Mine Workers chief, as his 11th weekly four-day shutdown on mines cast Mississippi river.

The operators believed the union's "strike every day" a slowdown in the industry after an old contract expired on 30-day has become a strike.

Lewis returned to the pit Monday night regular work day and a strike reached here on Tuesday.

Operating Game apparently intended to operate pending until 5 p.m. Friday, in a move to meet contract demands for 100 shorter hours, and better payment to the miners.

At Little Sulphur, negotiators of the United Mine Workers and operators met for an hour and a half and the unopposed without a strike until Tuesday.

"We have nothing new to say," he had nothing new to say, "but we are going to continue to work for a settlement."

Drowning, Second in 24 Hours, Takes Life of Child Near Buhl

BUHL, Sept. 15—Irrigation waters claimed the second child victim within a 24-hour period at 11:30 a. m. Wednesday when they snuffed out the life of Jimmie Dean Mills, 23-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Evans Mills, Buhl. It was the sixth irrigation drowning of the year in Magic Valley.

The tragedy occurred at the family farm three miles east and two miles north of Buhl. Sheriff Jesse E. Carlton and deputies were summoned at 12:05 p. m., but the body was not found until 4:20 p. m. An estimated 25 neighbors left their work to aid in the search for the missing lad.

Searchers covered all the fields in the area hoping the child had not fallen into the ditch. The Twin Falls Canal company diverted waters over a spillway to aid in the search. Originally three feet deep and 10 feet wide, the canal winded to a foot deep before the body was found.

When finally discovered, the child's body had drifted a good distance and lodged on the moss-covered bottom of the ditch. No resuscitation efforts were made, according to Sheriff Carlton. He estimated the boy had been in the water more than four hours before the search was started.

Canal Unprotected
Carlton said the canal was dangerously exposed to the back road, not fenced in and does not have any gates.

Lengthy Court Battle Seen on Power Line

BOISE, Sept. 15 (AP)—Possibility that the hearing on the government's application for a permanent injunction against the Idaho Power company might last at least two weeks was seen today when counsel for both sides requested a week to file briefs and answers in the case.

The hearing in the federal district court here was not expected to start until testimony and exhibits are completed. Judge Charles C. Cavanaugh adjourned yesterday's session at 6:30 p. m. until 4 p. m. today after the hearing opened.

The power company's attorney, A. C. Inman, was expected to continue with presentation of evidence and testimony. Assistant U. S. Attorney Paul Boyd treated the government's case yesterday.

Hearings on the suit against the power company have been since Aug. 6 in federal court here, with a temporary injunction being granted and later lifted by the court during the month-long interval.

Boyd asked the court yesterday to find that the power company was trespassing on public domain and liable for a permanent injunction to halt building of power lines from the letter as exhibit four in the case.

Boyd's exhibits were offered by the power company. He said that the company did not have a permit to build power lines on government land.

Inman claimed that the company had a permit to build power lines on government land.

Tax Troubles Linger For Minidoka County

RUPERT, Sept. 15—A changing situation over tax assessments reached a climax today when Worth S. Elton, county auditor, reaffirmed his statement he would not abide by a resolution passed by the Minidoka county commissioners this week.

When the resolution was passed, Elton told the commissioners that as auditor he refused to abide by it because he felt the resolution was illegal. As a result the matter has been turned over to the state tax commission and attorney general.

The controversy centers around the assessment on dry farm land, assessed for many years at $1 per acre. In previous developments, the assessment twice was increased to $5, and twice returned to $1.

The assessment was set at $1 this year by Gerald Marterson, county assessor. Dryland farmers protested, when the county commissioners set a board of equalization, and the commissioners refused it to $1.

The next development came in August when the state tax commission boosted it to $1.50, based upon a protest letter from a taxpayer. Elton contended the $1 figure is comparable with that on dryland in surrounding counties, and means a $124 increase in Minidoka county's assessed valuation.

This week, dryland farmers asked the commissioners why the increase had been made and were told the commissioners could not understand the county's position.

Plot Names Adenauer as Top Minister

BERLIN, Sept. 15 (AP)—Adenauer, 71-year-old leader of the powerful Christian Democratic party, was elected the chancellor of Germany since the voting (lower-house) appointment by a vote of 161, giving him the smallest margin of a single vote.

The new constitution for the German state is expected to be passed in the next few weeks to get a majority of votes in the house.

Adenauer was elected to the post in a vote that was the most significant since the election of Theodor Heuss over the head of the cabinet.

Adenauer and Heuss wrangled the question of whether the constitution gave the president the right to appoint and dismiss ministers.

Adenauer in the affirmative will serve as chancellor of the three western states of Germany.

There are 43 members in the territorial government will be a constituent of the Christian Democratic party and Germany.

Adenauer and Heuss were unable to agree on a cabinet which may be presented to the Bundestag Monday.

Science Finds Way to Make New Shale Oil

By EDWARD W. BRANERLEY
 RIFLE, Colo., Sept. 10 (AP)—The extraction of oil from shale has been solved here, according to the U. S. Bureau of Mines today.

The caption of this new industry takes place here next week. That the U. S. bureau of mines will demonstrate to more than 100 key industrial men the new shale oil process, the oil plant and new processes.

Boyd Guthrie, scientific director of the plant, said today: "Based on work to date, we estimate a barrel of shale oil will cost as much as $2.25 to $2.50."

Shale oil has been selling for just under or over $2.50 a barrel recently.

An act of congress in 1934, five years work and about $6,000,000 produced this industrial miracle. Congress legislated with the idea that in the foreseeable future the United States should never run short of oil.

The single mass of marlstone shale, a few feet thick, covers over 100 square miles, which is the shale basin has tapped here in west central Colorado. The shale about seven times more oil than the United States has discovered in Pennsylvania.

Reserves Recovered
 The shale has 23 times more recoverable oil than the present petroleum reserves of the entire United States.

The bureau men here believe they have advanced the science of making shale oil to the point where it can now begin to supplement petroleum. This has been a goal of oil men all over the world for more than a century, for shale oil is an ancient petroleum.

30 Cent Acre Fee
 The most spectacular advance in the shale oil industry has been the bureau men done in a new method of mining the shale rock. In the present shale each mine is being dug more than 100 tons daily.

The limit was supposed to be six tons a man in 1934 when science was investigated.

The cost here is just over 30 cents a ton. That, industry will have to add another 30 cents for overhead and depreciation and 30 cents and refining make up most of the rest of the cost.

Safe From A Bomb
 The mine is at 8,200 feet in the face of almost vertical brown, gray, blue-gray and black shale cliffs. Even an atom bomb cannot damage this shale oil mine, unless it hits the cave-like entrance directly.

More than half a mile lower, against the foot of the cliff, is the machinery and refining plant.

Crude shale oil is a cross between oil and coal. Under scientific treatment, the new oil is a soft, black solid. But it makes excellent gasolines and diesel oil, good fuel oil and promises powerful jet plane fuels. Refining still has to be perfected.

Industry Already in Standard Oil of New Jersey
 The petroleum industry already is in standard oil of New Jersey and Union Oil company each has experimental plants, with special methods of their own.

The machines deposits here in Utah and Wyoming are the richest in the country. Twenty other states and Alaska have good shale oil deposits.

U. S. Is Making Taxpayer Check

CHICAGO, Sept. 10 (AP)— Uncle Sam is making a house-to-house canvass in a new experiment to find if the nation's income taxpayers are making proper returns.

Termed a "sample audit," the experiment has been going on throughout the country since August. It involves a spot check of returns from thousands of taxpayers selected at random.

Revenue agents in the Chicago area are making personal calls on taxpayers selected for spot checks in this area. The taxpayer is required to show records on wages, salaries, all income and their claims of exemption.

Yanks Renew Working Pact With Cowboys

Confirmation that the Twin Falls Cowboys' working agreement with the New York Yankee farm system would be continued through the 1950 season was received Wednesday night by Business Manager Jack Reddie. The Cowboys' tie-up in the Yankee system is through the Birmingham, N. Y. team in the class A-1 Eastern league. Binghamton is owned outright by the Yanks.

There had been rumors and speculation in both Salt Lake City and Idaho Falls that the Yanks would throw their power into those towns. The rumors were refuted.

Reddie also received player assignments for several members of the Pioneer league championship team. Bill Renna has been recalled by the Beaumont, Tex. club of the class AA Texas league and Tom Kelly has been recalled by the Kansas City Blues of the American association.

Shorston will cope with the club of the Quincy, Ill. club of the Three-I league. Three pitchers picked by virtue of their working agreement with the Cowboys by Reddie are selected pitchers Jim Kester, Bruce Schroeder and Peter Koster for 1950.

Two members of the club, Fred Jensen and Ed Daniels, are over-qualified for the Twin Falls club. Fred Jensen will play for the club. Ed Daniels will play for the club.

Knoverl will take a knock-out could win, the ring ringer Rocky, returning to the New York ring after a three-year absence. Rocky had a record of 10-10.

Drugging Puari over the ropes with a two-fisted attack, Graziano dropped Charlie for nine. He had just beat the count. Rocky then went after him again, planning him a return to the major leagues.

City 'Serene' Despite Find Of Rich Vein

TRIO Gold, Sept. 10 (AP)—The discovery of a rich vein of crystalline gold hasn't ruffled the serenity of this little mining town in the mountains of southeastern Colorado.

The town's 200 residents are watching two hardrock miners pull the rich gold out of their little mine on the southeast outskirts of town, but old timers were careful not to get excited about the discovery. They were thinking of the last boom they had in the 1880's. That time it was silver. The entire city was founded because of the discovery of silver ore a few miles to the northeast.

Keams 'Ghost City'
Then, when the silver played out, the town abandoned into the role of a ghost city. The miners who remained produced less amounts of lead and zinc and, once in a while, copper.
About three weeks ago, Louis Jones said that Bill Lill was working in their shaft when they noticed that they had cut into a glittering vein. They took a sample and were waiting for the ore to be turned out to be crystalline gold—rare in Colorado. The vein was said to be rich and could produce $2,000 per ton.

Strikes Called 'Flake'
Jones said Lill was the first one to get excited over the find. The rest of the town figured it was a "flake" strike. Even those who owned mines next to Jones and Lill didn't bother to try to trace the rich vein.

Turn Marshal James Fernando said early today, however, that the town is beginning to get a little more interested in the strike. He reported that Jones and Lill still are retaining the find. He even thought some old time miners said the vein would "blow out in three days."
"Nobody's really excited, though," Fernando said. "We've had our fill of booms."

Summer Date Set On Road Building

BOISE, Sept. 10 (AP)—Construction of a $400,000 extension of highway 20 and a new bridge near Caldwell will begin next summer or later, James O. Reid, state director of highways, said today.
Reid said plans, specifications and bridge designs must be submitted to the bureau of public roads for approval. Sixty-two per cent of the cost will be borne by the federal government.
Reid said highway 20 would be extended west directly across the Boise river and northwest of Caldwell. Highway 20 will join with the new extension and eliminate a bottleneck on that road at the mouth of the Boise river canyon.

Blast Is Blamed In Canada Crash

QUEBEC, Sept. 10 (AP)—A jury report that an "explosion of undetermined origin" caused the crash of a Quebec Airways plane that killed all 23 persons aboard, including three top officials of the Montreal Copper Corporation.
The jury found that "no gross negligence" was involved in the crash Friday 40 miles from Quebec City.

The explosion occurred in the airplane's luggage compartment, according to testimony presented. Among the victims were the Kennecott Corporation's president, E. T. Stannard, Vice President R. J. Park and an add. President-Destignat Arthur D. Storck.

Blinding Sun Blamed for Crash

Fern Davis, route 2, Fair, had an accident near Fair Wednesday evening resulting when she was blinded by the sun. Her car crashed into an auto driven by Murray O. Jones, Twin Falls. The Jones car is shown above. Jones received a cut on the forehead as his auto jumped the curb and knocked down fence posts and a utility pole. Fern Davis said she was making a left turn into a country road at the time of the accident. (Staff photo—enlarging)

3-Sided Pressure Hits Britain Over Pound Value Cut

LONDON, Sept. 10 (AP)—Britain is under pressure from three sides—the United States, some European commonwealth countries—to cut the value of the pound as a solution to the dollar crisis.
A British treasury spokesman, however, points to the most recent public statement of Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, that Britain has not "the slightest intention" of devaluing her currency.

Asked directly by reporters about a London dispatch published in the New York Times that Britain may reduce the value of the pound this week-end from its present official level of $4.03 to $3.20, the spokesman said:
"The story is not new. I can only refer you to past pronouncements on the subject by the chairman of the exchequer."
This pronouncement, made July 14 to the house of commons, was that Britain intended to stand on the present pound valuation for at least a year. It was reported in New York Sept. 7 he was sticking by that statement.

Non-Union Work Satisfies Board

VALLE, Ore., Sept. 10 (AP)—The county's board of commissioners today expressed satisfaction with road construction work being carried on by non-union workers, District Attorney Charles Swan said.
He added that no negotiations are under way with union road workers, whose strike over was demands threatened to tie up construction and repair projects.
Swan said county officials felt that they had "nothing to arbitrate" with union work.

2-Zone Setup Proposed for Israeli Areas

YAKK ACCORD, Sept. 10 (AP)—The U. N. Palestine conciliation commission today proposed creation of a two-zone international regime in Jerusalem with a U. N. commissioner as supreme authority.

The commissioner's proposed recommendation that the existing zones, administered by Israel and Hashemite Jordan (Trans-Jordan), be retained and that "the two administrations each be given a large measure of local self-government."

"The final authority, however, would rest in a central government which would consist of a commissioner, a 14-member general council, an international tribunal and a mixed tribunal."

The plan goes before the 28-nation general assembly opening in New York next Tuesday. There was no immediate reaction from either Israel or Arab representatives, but the proposal is expected to arouse a bitter fight in the assembly.

This is the second U. N. plan for an international regime in Jerusalem. The trusteeship council prepared a long, detailed plan early in 1948 to be filed into the Palestine draft plan. The trusteeship draft was dropped when it became apparent that the U. N. was unable to implement the partition.

Hearing on Mine Strikers' Claims Set for October

WALLACK, Sept. 10 (AP)—October has been set by a state unemployment compensation official as the probable time for hearing the appeal of unemployed miners in the Court of appeals district.

The miners were denied unemployment compensation by the area claims committee on the basis that their unemployment was caused by strikes in the district. It has been estimated that more than 500 miners have appealed the decision.

H. J. Bull, attorney for the operators, and H. Max Estes, counsel for miners, will meet with state officials Monday to set a date for the hearings.
Clyde Williams, Boise, appeals examiner for the state, said today it was impossible to hold the hearings this month. He said the interested parties had been unable to agree on a specific time.

Strikes and shutdowns have killed more than 2,500 in the district.

7-Year Low Predicted in Idaho Crops

BOISE, Sept. 14.—A 7-year low crop of Idaho potatoes in August was not enough to offset "anticipations" that the total production this year will be the lowest since 1942, the U. S. department of agriculture said today.

The Sept. 1 per acre yield of 1.8 bushels was expected to be Aug. 1 and the yield of oats and barley was estimated at two bushels higher.

There was no change in the Aug. potato estimate of 22,000 bushels. Many yields were dependent upon the date of harvest. The dry bean crop was expected to be somewhat lower than anticipated earlier. Indications were that heavy but moist weather helped reduce yields in the south central district, while drought cut them in the north.

The crop of Idaho corn turned out better than expected and was estimated Sept. 1 at 1,000,000 bushels. This was nearly one-eighth larger than the Aug. 1 forecast.

The department of agriculture said this crop would be 20 per cent still larger than the 1944 crop but would still be 10 per cent under the 10-year average.

British Crisis Plans, Lauded On Efficiency

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

It seems to be a business-like and practical job that the American-British-Canadian conference at Washington has done by way of giving emergency aid in John Bull's economic crisis.

It's more than just an economic morsel of a very hard-pressed England and to the numerous other countries whose welfare are interlocked with hers.

The agreements were worked out with due regard to the dignity of Britain and to the bonds of friendship. The conference, tackled the problem in the same spirit of unity and cooperation shown during the dark days of World war II.

Could Start Catastrophe

Undoubtedly the aid would have been arranged had no other nation than Britain been concerned. But quite apart from the proposition of helping a staunch wartime ally it was very clear that an international catastrophe would be precipitated if aid were allowed to collapse. As Canadian Finance Minister Douglas Abbott put it:

"We go up or down together. The task of the conference in initial meeting related to Britain's shortage of dollars. She is earning far less dollars than she has to spend for essential imports. This shortage had to be made up, and the conference devised a 10-point program to meet requirements. The agreement is these:

U.S. Most Purchases

The United States and Canada are expected to buy more than 50 per cent of the goods that Britain will be permitted to import other than the United States such as the purchase of wheat in exportable surplus. Britain will be free to discriminate against U. S. and Canadian goods to build up her non-dollar imports, and so conserve dollars.

On the face of it, of course, England will be benefiting in some cases at the expense of America. The answer to this is that Uncle Sam's contribution is an investment for insurance against a greater calamity.

Mediators Trying On Phone Treaty

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 14 (AP)—Federal and state mediators today were seeking to bring about an understanding of issues common to the Interstate Telephone strike as the company strikes moved into its sixth day.

Federal Conciliator Louis Eiman and W. W. Sullivan and T. O. Sullivan of the Washington state mediation service met yesterday with union officials and later with company residents. The two sides disagreed on progress reached at the meeting.

"Very little was accomplished," said Delia McIntyre, international representative of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (B.E.W.), "we are unable to get the company to stipulate in writing what parts of the contract it desires to discuss."

1949 Concert Reservations Advised Soon

Max Lloyd, president of the Twin Falls Community Center, has advised all previous members who have not yet purchased their 1949-50 memberships to do so as soon as possible in order to retain their memberships for the coming season.

The annual one-week membership drive in Magic Valley, which has been in progress since Monday, will close officially at 4:30 p. m. Friday.

Thirty volunteer workers in Twin Falls, Kimberly, Jerome, Blaine and Pocatello have been contacting members this week and accepting new members from the largest number of lists in the association's history, Lloyd pointed out.

Those who are not already members but desire to join the association are invited to contact the campaign headquarters to have their names put on the waiting list. Memberships are being filled in the order of application until the available seating capacity is reached.

The association's board of directors will meet at 7:30 p. m. Friday after the drive is closed to select the 1949-50 series of programs from a list of available attractions under the management of Columbia Artists of New York.

Old World Is Finally Putting On 'Long Pants,' Boyle Says

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—There are definite signs that America is growing up. It is settling into a postwar pattern of stability and responsibility that contrasts sharply to the chaotic years of the first World War.

Maybe it is too soon to start pinning hopes on conduct medals on our soldiers. But it does begin to look like this country, as a people, are acting more like adults than at any time in our history.

There are all sorts of symptoms to show it.

The frontier in the United States used to be a frontier of wide land and deep wilderness. That has been tamed. The new frontiers today are in science and better human relationships between man and man. These people are developing and educating themselves as they develop the resources and productivity of their country.

Two World wars and a long depression within a single generation have helped turn Americans from "pioneers" into "settlers." They aren't so anxious to lose their land roll away in a single splurge, like fourth-round wage increase. This is the mad, bad sense of the customed 1800s will still be in us. We are too old for the time and the color bar is still in their minds for racial prejudice.

The machinery is getting more time off to produce more than upon earth—and more. It isn't really possible to have a nice place.

The world-and America—putting on long pants, long-tended childhood.

Draining Lake in Effort to Get Turtle

CHICO, Sept. 15 (AP)—A group of men are working to drain a lake in an effort to get a turtle out of it.

The turtle, which is a snapping turtle, was seen in the lake on Sept. 10. It was about 100 feet long and 40 feet wide. It was in a hole that was about 10 feet deep.

The men are using pumps to drain the lake. They hope to get the turtle out by Sept. 20.

The turtle is a very rare species. It is found only in the Pacific Northwest. It is about 100 years old.

The men are from the University of Washington. They are working with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Crucial Test Nearing for U. S. Farm Price Support Program

By WILLIAM ZIEHL
CHICAGO, Sept. 15 (AP)—A crucial test is approaching for the government's farm price support program.

The program, which was passed by Congress in 1948, is designed to keep the price of farm products above the agreed purchase price.

The test will come when the market price falls below the support price. If that happens, the government will be forced to buy up the surplus.

The program is a major part of the government's farm policy. It is designed to protect farmers from price fluctuations.

Government support of prices started back in the administration of Herbert Hoover, the last Republican President. Then efforts were made to build up greater wheat and cotton. They failed.

Never, however, has the government attempted to support so many farm products at such high relative prices as this year.

There are 10 commodities which the government must, by law, support. In addition, the government, acting through the agriculture department, may support prices of other commodities.

The purpose is to bring the prices of these other commodities into line with those of the commodities which are supported.

Three general methods are used to support prices: Direct purchase, non-recourse loans and purchase agreements. Many commodities are supported by two of the three methods.

In direct purchase, the agriculture department simply states the price at which it will buy. It takes everything offered at that price, provided it meets quality requirements. In some cases purchase was made only from producers. In others, such as butter, purchases also are made from dealers.

Purchase agreements apply mainly to grains. Under them, the government agrees to purchase the commodity at a later date at a specified price. If, before the date is reached, the market price rises above the agreed purchase price, the producer may sell at the market. If the market price remains down, the producer lets the government buy the commodity at its highest price.

Non-recourse loans are a popular method of price support. Farmers are granted loans at so much a bushel on their crops, putting up the crop as security. Then, if the market price rises to a point higher than the loan plus interest charges, the farmer can redeem his crop and sell it on the market. If not, when the loan expires the producer simply lets the government take over the commodity. The producer pockets the loan.

Loans are desirable when the producer wants money at the time he harvests a crop. Purchase agreements are preferred when the producer does not need immediate cash. The price at which the government agrees to purchase the commodity is always the same as the price at which it will make a loan on the commodity.

All supports are based on what is known as "parity." Parity represents what is believed a farmer should obtain for his product if he is to get a fair return in terms of products, potatoes, turkeys, edible dry peas of certain varieties, soybeans for oil, flaxseed for oil, American Egyptian cotton and sweet potatoes.

Hogs, chickens, eggs, milk and turkeys are supported at 90 per cent of parity. The other major commodities are supported at 85 per cent of parity.

Wool, in classification all its own, must be supported at the 1916 level of support.

Finally, price support may be granted other commodities if the department so desires. In several cases it has so desired.

*Potatoes acquired under the price support program were diverted by selling them at a very low price to livestock feeders in the Midwest. About 5,500,000 bushels were disposed of in this manner. This program was operated at a cost of $10,100,000.

These diversion programs, however, are of very small importance compared with the big job of holding 130 pieces of basic and "steagal" commodities.
