Catch and catch again

American Legion hosts 18th fishing trip for disabled veterans

By Nick Coltrain Times-News writer

BUHL - Herman Kohl pulled another flopping trout from the water as Chris Ogden's stepson moved in to dislodge its hook.

"Do you know how many we can catch?" Kohl, an 86-year-old wheelchair-bound World War II vet, asked.

"Catch as many as you can," Ogden replied as he pulled another worm onto the hook.

Kohl's smile broadened and he laughed a laugh of pure joy. The former prisoner of war couldn't ask for more except maybe shorts to enjoy the warm weather north of Buhl.

Less than a minute after Ogden tossed the baited line into the writhing mass of fish at Blue Lakes Trout Farm, another one chomped down.

The trout farm donated hundreds of fish to the 50-or-so veterans casting lines and reeling them in, both for them to take home to Boise or Pocatello veteran's homes and for a post-trip fish fry. The American Legion provided volunteers and the buses to bring the veterans down.

"It's always been a great, great pleasure for our vets and it's something they look forward to," said Phil Hawkins, volunteer coordinator for the Boise Veterans Home. "These people grew up fishing, so this is just great for them."

Kohl remembers fishing the Snake River in Oregon as early as 1943, before the Army National Guardsman went into a POW camp for 14 months. He said he exited weighing 90 pounds. Leading up to it, he also burned his hands on the hot barrel of a Browning automatic rifle, making it harder for him to control his fishing boat.

He gave the boat to his son, but didn't give up fishing - he said his last trip out was two weeks ago.

Burrell Lirgg, a 79-year-old Navy veteran, said he was never an avid fisherman but enjoyed the opportunity to fish the farm.

"This is neat for some of us old farts to do things like this," he said, chuck-

Report: Cancer is top cause of death in Idaho

Bv Laura Lundquist Times-News writer

Heart disease has long been the No. 1 cause of death nationwide, followed closely by cancer, But in 2008, cancer slid into the top spot in Idaho, according to a recent report from the Idaho Department of Health and Welfare.

In Idaho, cancer caused 2,470 deaths in 2008, exceeding the number of heart-disease deaths by 173. The death rate for cancer changed little from 2007 while the heartdisease death rate decreased slightly. Idaho's cancer and heart-disease death rates are still below national averages.

Idaho joins other states, including Iowa, North Carolina and Minnesota, that recently reported the switch in the top cause of death of their residents. In Washington state, analysts at the state Department of Health said a drop in smoking reduced the number of heart-disease deaths.

MORNING BRIEFING

• The role that art plays in conflict is the focus of the College of Southern Idaho Civil Liberties Symposium, which starts today at Canyon Crest Dining and Event Center, 330 Canyon Crest Drive in Twin Falls. Speakers range from writers to artists, many focusing on the experiences of the Japanese-Americans interred at camps in the U.S. The event continues through the weekend and includes a pilgrimage to the remains of the Minidoka Relocation Camp and a memorial service on Sunday. The conference is $70 to $140, depending if you want college credit.

- Bare your fangs for the Teen Vampire Party, where you can talk about your favorite vamps, play games, make crafts and eat treats (not blood). It starts at 3 p.m. at the Twin Falls Public Library, 201 Fourth Ave. E. And it's free. Even though no one asked, my favorite vampire is Bill from "True Blood."
- Listen to the great music of the Twin Falls Municipal Band performing at 8 p.m. at Twin Falls City Park. Free admission.

Buhl schools regroup after failed levy

By Blair Koch

Times-News correspondent

BUHL – If community members are concerned with Buhl School District's financial state, they aren't showing it by attending board meetings.

Three residents attended ing. Monday's budget hearing and board meeting as the district's looming budget crisis, highlighted by last week's two-year, $466,000 levy failure, took center stage.

For now, the district will tentatively use $466,000 in reserve funding to balance budget, pending a better earmarked $300,000 or more in anticifrom the state. If the hold- open teacher position.

Before trustees approved 2011 budget, resident Rick Martin offered them a few ideas on how to cut spend-

"Is the job of the school district to provide good jobs with benefits, or to educate students?" Martin said. "I believe it is to educate."

Martin's suggestions for shoring up the budget, in light of a projected reduction of $712,000 in state funding, included moving the coming school-year the district office from a rental on Main Street to the plan from Superintendent high school, contracting out Byron Stutzman. Although the $7.03 million fiscal year thanked Martin for his comments, they seemed more interested in knowing if Martin had anything to do with fliers appearing across town the morning of the levy election, or if he knew who posted them.

The fliers stated "The housing bubble gave a false sense of prosperity for so long. As a result, the Buhl School District has been spending freely and borrowing against perceived wealth," which is incorrect, said Trustee Hamilton, because the only indebtedness the district has is from a levy that passed to build the new high school, completed in

"I personally believe that and damaged students," contingency reserve fund the district is spending too Hamilton said of the fliers possibly swaying votes.

Stutzman told trustees trustees he's drafting a plan to keep the district afloat and school doors open.

Since teacher contracts have been signed, he said, the district can't renegotiate pay and benefits to save money. He said every expenditure would be reviewed, but "there isn't $466,000 that can be cut from this budget."

The superintendent suggested a hybrid of three options: use the reserve funding, make deeper cuts and run another supple-Mike mental levy.

He said he'll have a plan of action prepared and to trustees by week's end.

The College of Southern Idaho is in the midst of planning how to share its resources with C3, a Miami-based company that plans to staff a Twin Falls call center with as many as 1,200 workers.

C3, which serves health-care companies, will rely on the college to train its workers. CSI has been told to prepare for up to 40 managers and more than 600 C3 employees in classrooms starting in early September.

Details are still being worked out, but the college is making at least five classrooms available to C3 for training, said Todd Schwarz, instructional dean at CSI.

Four of the rooms are in the Health Sciences and Human Services building, and another room is in the Aspen building. C3 officials will tour the campus next week.

"We'll have hundreds of trainees and new hires on our campus," Schwarz said.

The training, overseen by C3, will include orientation, product training related to C3's clients and preparing employees to be insurance agents in all 50 states. Employees will work as customer-service representatives, licensed insurance agents and in management positions.

Jerome Co. sheriff requests more staff in new budget

Idaho sockeye salmon numbers cause for hope

LEWISTON (AP) - Idaho Department of Fish and Game officials say the state could see higher numbers of endangered Snake River sockeye salmon returning this

Numbers of the fish have been trending sharply upward, with 833 returning to the Stanley Basin last year. Jeff Heindel, conservation hatcheries supervisor for the department in Boise, told the Lewiston Tribune that mark could be exceeded this year and he expects returns of between 500 to 1,000 fish annually over the next few

Idaho is currently borrowing hatchery space throughout the basin to produce 200,000 sockeye smolts each year. Heindel says that could change soon - the Bonneville Power Administration is in the process of purchasing a hatchery site at Springfield near American Falls Reservoir. He says the hatchery could produce as many as 1 million smolts per year, with production starting as soon

Snake River sockeye were listed as endangered in 1993, and only 16 sockeye returned to their spawning grounds in the shadow of the Sawtooth Mountains throughout the 1990s. As late as 2003, only 14 sockeye were counted passing the Lower Granite dam and just three made it to the Stanley Basin.

But the runs started to increase as ocean conditions improved and Idaho increased hatchery efforts. In 2008, about 650 sockeye returned to their spawning grounds.

"We are at the point we are ready to jump out of the museum work, and rather than preventing the extinction of this species we are really ready to take the next step in the recovery of these fish to Idaho," Heindel said.

This year's sockeye run has been pouring over Bonneville Dam on the Columbia River. So far, more than 108,000 sockeye have been counted at the dam, with more than 26,000 passing the checkpoint on Tuesday alone. Cindy LaFleur with the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife said the Columbia River sockeye run could double the preseason prediction of 125,000.

Most of those fish are bound to the Okanogan River in Washington, but a portion will go to the Snake River.

Idaho tax collectors try to take pay cut but can't

By John Miller Associated Press writer

BOISE — With a looming state budget gap, Idaho's four top tax collectors wanted to show solidarity with state workers who were having their wages cut. So they took furlough days to reduce their own salaries.

Only trouble is, their voluntarily turning down salary violates state law, the tax collectors learned Wednesday – so they will get be paid for the days they took off.

COEUR D'ALENE (AP) -Federal prosecutors say a northern Idaho attorney accused of hiring a hit man to try to kill his wife and mother-in-law attempted to intimidate potential witnesses in the

Edgar J. Steele was ordered detained until his August trial during a court

During one of the conversations, Steele told his wife that government officials have doctored tape recordings to sound as if he's hiring a hit man to kill her.

Steele tells his wife she'll be asked by federal authorities to authenticate the recordings, and then pleads with her to deny the voice on tapes belong to him. Steele warns that if she doesn't follow his instructions, she'll have to explain to their children why her testimony helped put him in prison. "This is going to be a 'Mission: Impossible,' world-class-level production," Steele told his wife during the recorded June 13 conversation. "I love you dearly. I would never be so stupid as to hire somebody else to kill anybody, for Christ sake, least of all you.

You've gotta do this." FBI agent Michael Sotka testified that Steele talked to his 22-year-old son, Rex Steele, earlier that evening. Steele was recorded urging his son to "make sure your mother understands my life is in her hands." Steele's attorney, Roger Peven, argued that his client has no criminal record, posed no danger to the community and should be released with conditions – pending his trial. But Dale ruled there was enough evidence that Steele posed a serious risk of intimidating witnesses or obstructing justice. C3, a Miami-based company that serves at least two Fortune 500 health-care companies, signed an agreement this week with the Twin Falls Urban Renewal Agency that allows the call center to set up operations within 30 days. The agreement precedes a long-term agreement already in the works between C3 and the agency.

Tuesday's announcement was the culmination of nearly five months of work by city and regional development organizations, private commercial real estate groups and site consultants.

"We started as soon as we got the call, and we called in everyone we knew who could get this building back in use again," said Jan Rogers, executive director of the Southern Idaho Economic Development Organization, which markets south-central Idaho to new or expanding businesses.

It all began in early February, days after Dell Inc. vacated the 48,000-squarefoot building on Pole Line Road. Dell officials had slowly laid off its nearly 600-person workforce at the call center during a four-month period beginning in October - the victim of corporate restructuring and cost cutting.

The URA began soliciting SIEDO's help in early February, when Dell handed over the keys to the building, which still contained nearly every computer, desk and chair used during Dell's eight years in the call center. The organization, in turn, called on CB Richard Ellis - the largest commercial site location group in the United States — to find a new tenant.

"These guys helped us bring in Dell, so we called them and asked them to do it again," Rogers

The training will be done through the College of Southern Idaho, which will help certify one-third of the company's workforce as insurance agents in all 50 states — something that is needed for the company to conduct its business.

Payroll during the first year of operation will be about $10 million, with an additional $6 to $7 million in investment to get the call center operating. The first 600 jobs will be comprised of customer service representatives, licensed insurance agents and management positions for the center. Wages for insurance agents will run between $8.50 and $11.50 per hour. All jobs include benefits.

According to the Idaho Department of Labor, hiring by the company could reduce the unemployment rate in the Twin Falls and Jerome micropolitan area from 7.9 percent to 5.5 percent - one of the lowest in the state.

The company will begin setting up the call center and hiring and training employees within two

The insolence of epaulettes

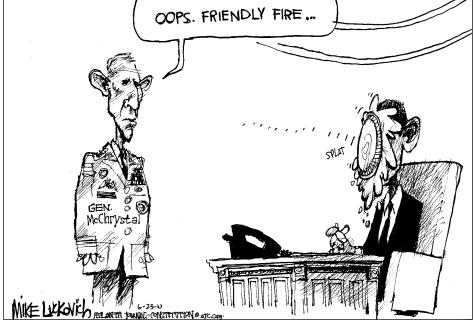

en. Stanley McChrystal's fate was determined by President Obama's judgment of how his firing would affect the war in Afghanistan.

Doris Kearns Goodwin

For months during the Civil War, Lincoln chose to ignore insolent behavior by Gen. George McClellan, who served at times as the commander of the Army of the Potomac and the general in chief of the Union Army, arguing that his breaches of protocol were worth tolerating as long as he was exerting a positive influence on his forces.

For example, one night in 1861, Lincoln went with his secretary of state, William Seward, and his young aide John Hay to McClellan's house. Told that the general was out, the three waited in the parlor for an hour. When McClellan arrived home, the porter told him the president was there, but McClellan passed by the parlor and climbed the stairs to his private quarters. After a half hour more, Lincoln again sent word, only to be informed that the general had gone to sleep.

Hay was enraged, writing in his diary of the "insolence of epaulettes" and "the threatened supremacy of the military authorities." To Hay's astonishment, Lincoln "seemed not to have noticed it specially, saying it was better at this time not to be making points of etiquette and personal dignity." He would hold McClellan's horse, he'd once said, if a victory could be achieved.

McClellan's bad behavior me. I must have somedid not end. In letters to his wife, he regularly referred to Lincoln as "the original gorilla." He considered the cabinet "some of the greatest geese I have ever seen," and called Seward "a meddling, officious, incompetent little puppy." Still, Lincoln kept him on.

When a critic in Congress demanded McClellan's firing, Lincoln asked who should replace the general. "Why, anybody," the senator replied. "Anybody will do for you," Lincoln said, "but not for

body."

So McClellan remained, until in November 1862 Lincoln finally lost faith in his commander's commitment to the mission, his fighting spirit and his ability to prosecute the war to ultimate victory. Only then did he fire "the young Napoleon."

Doris Kearns Goodwin is the author of "Team of Rivals: The Political Genius of Abraham Lincoln." She wrote this commentary for The New York Times.

"When a critic in Congress demanded McClellan's firing, Lincoln asked who should replace the general. "Why, anybody," the senator replied. "Anybody will do for you," Lincoln said, "but not for me. I must have somebody."

Idaho needs a governor with strong business background

Keith Allred puts his resume on display at every opportunity. He has degrees from Stanford, Columbia and Harvard. Impressive credentials for sure — if you have trained yourself for a career in academia. What I see is a person who spent 20 years immersed in the most liberal academic institutions in our country.

Barack Obama also spent his formative years, as Allred did, at Columbia and Harvard. Allred claims to be politically independent, but he chose to run as a Democrat and not a Republican. He had a choice.

During the shameful display of politics surrounding the passage of the health care bill, we saw that ultimately there are no conservative Democrats or independent Democrats. They're just Democrats. And when push comes to shove, they vote with the party, not with their constituents.

Cuts in state spending are a necessary fiscal reality, and the fact that Allred thinks the answer is raising revenue through taxes only underscores the fact that he is a product of academia and ideological thinking.

Allred's lack of experience in the private sector, as with Obama, should be a warning

Fee should reflect the amount of water used

I want to express my concern about the proposal to assess all Twin Falls water users a flat fee to raise money to bring the city water into compliance with the federal mandate regarding arsenic content.

I can certainly understand the need to raise money to pay for the unfunded mandate. And I am more than happy to pay my fair share, although I live in a part of Twin Falls which has water that already meets the arsenic standard. But the present proposal is patently Some citizens make every attempt to conserve water. Others use it lavishly. Some have small yards to water, and some have wide expanses of beautiful green grass. I suspect that a single motel uses 100 times as much water as I do. Some neighborhoods use water from canals for watering lawns, while others of us have to use potable water. Yet the proposal is for all of us to pay the same "flat rate." This is not fair and should not be adopted.

The fee should be assessed in proportion to the amount of water used. It could either be added to the present rate or assessed as a separate fee as a percentage of the water bill. Only then will the citizens of Twin Falls receive a fair deal.

Change in radio lineup angers listener

I want to thank the great many years of service that Steve Mitton has given by bringing the Steve Mitton Morning show with great music and a great fun movie contest every day at 7:45 a.m.

This morning (June 19) was the last morning show since KBAR will be replacing the music with national news which does not relate to the Mini-Cassia area. Steve did a great job of bringing local school closures for snow days, great oldies (music) to wake up to, local news, local weather and will still bring local talk each day.

If listeners who are unhappy about the change that happened Monday can voice their opinion and ask that great oldies for three hours be put back on the radio in the morning and also those who go to work and can no longer participate in the Movie Trivia contest be given a change again at 7:45 a.m.

Listeners who are unhappy can vote their opinion to Lee Family Broadcasting, 12 S. 300 W., Rupert, ID 83350, or call 436-4757 and ask that the Steve Mitton Morning Show with music be back on the air.

Here's what Idaho newspapers are saying about ...

... Hart should step aside

Coeur d'Alene Press

By most accounts, Rep. Phil Hart is a nice guy, and his performance in the Idaho Legislature over the past half dozen years must have been good enough to dissuade any challengers.

Having nobody to compete against this year freed up Hart to campaign on behalf of Steve Vick, whom Hart enlisted to knock out former friend Sen. Mike Jorgenson, and Vito Barbieri, a man with no political experience who won a four-person primary race.

But Rep. Hart has become increasingly ensnared in a web of his own making. A member of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee, Hart is paying dearly for first, his defiance of the tax structure, and second, his negligence in appropriately addressing the first shortcoming.

In the stories pouring out of newspapers about Hart's tax liabilities and snail's pace in remedying them, one essential element is missing: remorse. Nowhere does one sense that Hart is sorry he's let down the tens of thousands of diligent taxpaying citizens he represents ...

Instead, Phil Hart is riding what he thinks is a stallion of idealism when in reality he's on a nag at the end of a shameful race. He has broken the law and his lack of remorse and progress in repaying his

But ag researchers have many years' experience with no sci-fi outcomes so far. In the meantime, farmers and consumers have benefited.

Still, USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service may not have been cautious enough last year when it gave the go-ahead for American farmers to plant a variety of alfalfa engineered to resist the herbicide Roundup. Last year APHIS issued an environmental assessment saying the laboratory-altered seed posed no significant environmental risk.

That judgment is probably sound, but instead of seeing the process through to an environmental impact statement, the agency released the seed for unrestricted planting. In a lawsuit filed by environmentalists and organic alfalfa growers, a federal judge went to the opposite extreme, ordering a nationwide halt to the planting of Roundup-resistant alfalfa.

That overreaction was too drastic, the U.S. Supreme Court held ... in a 7-1 ruling APHIS thus is free to approve limited planting of the new variety until an environmental impact statement has been final-

While Monday's Supreme Court ruling won't launch a burst of immediate planting, it will put a needed damper on how far courts can go in stalling new plant varieties. It will require judges to base their decisions on what the science shows about imminent actions, not on speculation about actions that might

... private profits, public accountability

Idaho Statesman, Boise

Canyon County Prosecutor John Bujak seems baffled about the controversy surrounding his private contract with the city of Nampa.

Let's clear up the con-

Bujak's contract treats $598,000 of public money like private money. It introduces profit as a motivating factor in dispensing criminal justice. It seems motivated to help Bujak's personal financial plight — and not necessarily stretch taxpayer dollars.

And there's no transparency. Taxpayers are supposed to take it on faith that Bujak can handle Nampa's misdemeanor cases at a better price.

.... Granted, Bujak is a relative newcomer to elected office, only 17 months removed from private practice. But this goes beyond learning-curve stuff. This arrangement, shrouded in secrecy and fraught with problems, is clearly the wrong way to do the people's business.

Maybe Bujak can save Nampa about $150,000 by handling its misdemeanor cases. Maybe money from the city's contract will defray non-personnel expenses in the county prosecutor's office: Commissioner Kathy Alder pegs the county's savings at up to $276,000 The fatal flaw is in the secretive money trail. Nampa's money would go into a private trust account that only Bujak could access. Bujak would be allowed to personally profit from savings – perhaps up to $50.000 ...

When a profit motive is part of the equation, are corners cut in the name of padding the margin? It's one thing to save money on office supplies, but profitdriven prosecutorial decisions are unacceptable.

And no, it doesn't comfort us that this contract covers "only" misdemeanors. This remains public work that must be conducted in the public interest.

Consider Bujak's well-documented personal debts. His home is in foreclosure and he faces other debts stemming from his move from private practice to a $101,608-a-year county job. He has said the Nampa contract could help him pay down his debts. At some point, does Bujak's personal predicament color his decisions?

These are valid questions, but unanswerable questions, because of Bujak's insistence on secre-

It is alarming to see a county prosecutor stride into a courtroom to argue in favor of profiteering and against transparency.

Connecticut airport chaos renews tarmac-time debate

By David Porter and Joan Lowy Associated Press writers

NEWARK, N.J. - A hot, dark and miserable fourhour stretch spent by hundreds of travelers parked in a diverted trans-Atlantic plane renewed calls Wednesday to months-old federal rule limiting how long airlines can keep passengers trapped on the tarmac.

All of about 300 passengers marooned late Tuesday and early Wednesday at Bradley International Airport outside Hartford, Conn., finally reached their original destination, New Jersey's Newark Liberty International Airport, by

"The events reported overnight in Connecticut reinforce my belief that passengers have rights and are entitled to fair treatment when they fly," LaHood said

Idaho 'nose' explosive detection

Grant helps develop electronic sniffer

Times-News

MOSCOW – University of Idaho researchers are nose-deep in sniffing out explosive vapors thanks to a recent $900,000 three-year grant from the U.S. Department of Defense; the funding supports research into the detection of explosives.

Idaho's Patrick Hrdlicka, associate professor of bioorganic chemistry, and David McIlroy, professor of physics, will join Vladimir material.

Under the grant, roughly half the funds are shared with Western Kentucky, but Hrdlicka said the grant really is an Idaho success story: Dobrokhotov earned his doctorate from the University of Idaho and worked in Idaho's Experimental Program to Stimulate Competitive Research (EPSCoR) program prior to his Kentucky appointment.

As part of the research, Mcllrov will place insulating and conducting coatings on silica nanosprings, which offer a large surface area with a small footprint. These then will be covered with gold nano islands that Hrdlicka will functionalize with organic molecules that act as small fingers to grab explosive vapors from the air.

"By playing with different molecules, we can detect different explosive vapors," said Hrdlicka. "The challenge is, of course, to find the right combination - but we have some ideas."

An added challenge of the experiment: because the vapors are airborne, and therefore only present in minute amounts, the need for hyper-sensitivity is all that more important.

Hrdlicka and McIlroy will build the sensors in Idaho and ship them off to Dobrokhotov in Kentucky, who will test them with different explosive vapors and offer feedback on the effec-Dobrokhotov, assistant pro- tiveness of explosive trapfessor of physics at Western ping. The technology being developed in Idaho could lead to improved airport safety for detecting explosives, improved military and civilian safety by detecting landmines in current and abandoned war zones, and development of better antiterror practices.

Small businesses accommodate World Cup fever any small business owners are accommodating or even indulging employees' passion for World Cup soccer. And not just for the U.S. games. Owners are aware that the diversity of their staffs means many employees are interested in games from a variety of countries.

Still, there is work to be done, and most owners aren't giving workers unlimited time to watch World Cup.

Employees wanting to watch sporting events is nothing new. Decades ago, World Series games were all played during the day, and stadiums were filled with people who took time off. Here is a look at how some companies are juggling work and World Cup: BEING AN UNDER-

STANDING BOSS

At Ocean View Landscaping in Delaware, owner Mitch Boyle had to cancel jobs the first day of the games, when Mexico and South Africa played to a 1-1 tie. Several of his workers, who are Mexican, told him they wouldn't be working that day.

Boyle was an understanding boss. "It was important to them," he said. The Ocean View workers also took some time off when Mexico played Uruguay on Tuesday.

Of course, there are many businesses where employees can't watch because there is no down time. At medical offices, for example, phones have to be answered and patients must be cared for.

At Kilkenny House in Cranford, N.J., owner Barry O'Donovan said the restaurant's busiest times right now are when the U.S. is playing. "We're standing room only," he said, and the staff has to keep serving customers.

When other games are on and business is slower, O'Donovan understands his workers' desire to keep an eye on the game.

A COMPANY'S OWN WORLD CUP CENTRAL

Many owners have decided to make it easy for staffers to see their favorite teams.

Avi Steinlauf, president of auto information provider Edmunds.com, realized during the 2006 World Cup games that many staffers wanted to watch. This year, the company decided, "let's get ahead of the curve and

Minnesota pastor likely to keep job despite gay report

By Patrick Condon Associated Press writer

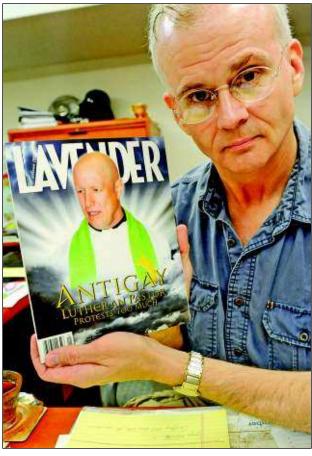

MINNEAPOLIS Lutheran pastor ardently critical of allowing gays into the clergy is on leave from his Minneapolis church after a gay magazine reported his attendance at a support group for men struggling with same-sex attraction.

Church officials, however, said Wednesday that the Rev. Tom Brock likely will return to the pulpit at Hope Lutheran Church because he acted in accordance with his faith by attending the group.

A fixture on local cable access shows, Brock regularly broadcasts conservative views on homosexuality and criticizes the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America for liberalizing its gay clergy policy. Lavender Magazine published a story last week about Brock's quiet attendance of the Faith in Action meetings, written by a reporter who falsely posed as a member of the group.

"The fact that he said one thing publicly, and privately he's a homosexual — that's somewhat inconsistent," said Lavender president Stephen sion trip to Eastern Europe, tions he has, and is being held Rocheford. "This company has a policy not to out people. The one exception is a public does another."

The Lavender article never explicitly said Brock confessed to homosexual activity. It quotes him at one point talking about a recent mis-unconscionable," Parrish said of Lavender's covert infiltration of Faith in Action. The group is the Minnesota affiliate of the Catholic Church's Courage program, described on its website as a "spiritual support system which would assist men and women with same-sex attractions in living chaste lives in fellowship, truth and love."

Brock, who has an unlisted phone number, did not respond to several interview requests made through Parrish.

Lavender is a twicemonthly free magazine Rocheford co-founded in 1995. The article was written by John Townsend, a freelance writer, who does not include details of how he gained access to the group except to say he went through a preliminary interview with its administrator, the Rev. James Livingston. Townsend did not reveal if he actively participated at meetings he attended or simply listened.

Livingston said Townsend gave an alias and attended meetings in Minneapolis over two months this spring.

"I think anybody who appreciates confidential support groups would just be aghast at what they did," Livingston said. "It's one thing to be opposed politically to someone; it's another but likely will return after an thing to worm your way into a group like that and expose

Bin Laden hunter heads home after arrest in Pakistan

By Thomas Watkins Associated Press writer

LOS ANGELES - An American on a solo mission to hunt down Osama bin Laden is on the final leg of his trip home to Colorado, 10 days after authorities found him in the woods of northern Pakistan with a pistol, a sword and nightvision equipment.

A jubilant Gary Faulkner stepped into the security check line at Los Angeles International Airport at about 7:20 p.m. Wednesday for his flight to Denver, accompanied by his brother, sister and mother.

"It's incredible to have him home," said Faulkner's sister, Deanna Martin.

Setback: Oil spews again in Gulf after robot bumps cap

NEW ORLEANS — Oil spewed uncontrolled into the Gulf of Mexico again

By Michael Kunzelman Associated Press writer

Wednesday after an undersea robot bumped the cap being used to contain it, forcing BP engineers to remove the device and then scramble to reattach it.

The latest setback left nothing to stem the flow of oil at its source. A camera recording the well showed huge clouds of black fluid coming out of the seafloor. BP hoped to quickly replace the cap, which since June 4 had been carrying some of the oil gushing from the blown-out well to a surface

Most recently, it was sucking up about 29,000 gallons an hour, crude that spewed back into the Gulf on Wednesday. Another ship was still collecting a smaller amount of oil and burning it on the surface.

BP engineers removed the cap after the mishap because fluid seemed to be leaking, creating a possible safety hazard because of the flames above, and they were concerned ice-like crystals might clog it. They were working to replace it Wednesday night.

The latest problem with the nine-week effort to stop the gusher came as thick pools of oil washed up on Pensacola Beach in Florida and the Obama administrasix-month moratorium on deepwater drilling. Under the worst-case scenario, as much as 104,000 gallons an hour -2.5 million gallons a day - is flowing from the site where the offshore rig Deepwater Horizon exploded April 20, killing 11 workers.

Pelicans that were rescued from the Deepwater Horizon oil spill are released after being cleaned, Wednesday at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas Gulf Coast. More than five dozen brown pelicans rehabilitated from the oil spill were released Wednesday.

The smaller cap had worked until now. To get it to the seafloor, though, crews had to slice away a section of the leaking pipe, meaning the flow of oil could be stronger now than before.

Meanwhile, pools of oil washed up along miles of national park and Pensacola Beach shoreline and health advisories against swimming and fishing in the once-pristine waters were extended for 33 miles east from the Alabama border.

"It's pretty ugly, there's no question about it," Gov. Charlie Crist said.

TORONTO - A magnitude-5.0 earthquake struck at the Ontario-Quebec border region of Canada on Wednesday, the U.S. Geological Survey said, and homes and businesses were shaken from Canada's capital in Ottawa on south to an arc of U.S. states.

There were no immediate reports of injuries or damage.

Morgan Moschetti, a seismologist with the USGS, said it was not unusual for an earthquake to be felt 300 miles from the epicenter and noted that the latest quake was felt in the U.S. from Chicago to Maine.

Other states that reported feeling tremors were Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Vermont, New Hampshire, New Jersey and New

The epicenter of the quake was in Quebec, about 23 miles north of Cumberland, Ontario, on the Ottawa River, the USGS said.

The agency said the quake occurred at a depth of about 12 miles at 11:45 a.m. MDT. The agency initially said the quake had a 5.5 magnitude, but later reduced it to a magnitude-5.0. The tremors, which lasted about 30 seconds, rattled buildings in Ottawa and Toronto, as well as government offices across the Ottawa River in Gatineau, Quebec.

The Parliament building in Ottawa was evacuated, with workers sent home while the building was inspected. Workers also left buildings in

The quake came just ahead of the weekend summit of G-20 and G-8 world leaders in Toronto and Huntsville, Ontario.

Melanie Lauzon, a Liberal member of Parliament, said her first thought was that Ottawa had been hit with "with a very large car bomb," since the quake struck on the eve of the summits.

What does a bonus-points system guarantee?

Question: "I see one of the non-biological changes the (Fish and Game) Commission will be discussing in July is a ASK THE bonus points system to try to improve controlled-hunt drawing odds. Will this system guarantee I draw a controlledhunt permit?"

Answer: It will not guarantee you draw but in some instances it will improve your drawing odds.

There are many hunters that have drawn controlled hunts very infrequently and believe some kind of bonus - or preference-points system is necessary to improve their odds.

Biologists are doing calculations and evaluating systems used in other western states that improve hunters' drawing odds. The favored approach is something similar to Nevada's Bonus Points system.

Under this system, hunters may purchase a single bonus point each year for each big game species (deer, elk and pronghorn). Applicants are limited to one point for a single trophy species. Bonus points equate to the number of applications entered into the controlled drawing under a person's name. One person said they are like buying raffle tickets. As your bonus points accumulate, your number of chances to draw increase.

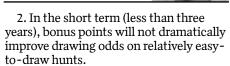

Math and statistics wizards crunching the numbers are comparing the current drawing system, where everyone has an equal chance of drawing, to a bonus points system.

Several unknown outcomes still cannot be predicted with certainty, because we can't predict how people will respond to a new system while still entertaining a lot of general big game hunting opportuni-

Several things have been identified by the mathematics wizards and department administrators about the system that sportsmen need to know:

1. In the long run (over five years) bonus points will improve drawing odds for hunters applying for hunts that are currently relatively easy to draw, such as odds in big game unit 54 (1:5) or 55 (1:3).

OFFICER Gary Hompland

3. On hunts that are currently difficult to draw such as unit 45 with drawing odds at about 1:30 or 3 percent, it will continue to be difficult to draw. It will take an estimated nine years of buying bonus points to improve the drawing odds to 50 percent or 1:2. 4. Hunters who do not or cannot participate continuously from the first year of the bonus-points system, such as young hunters or first-time hunters, will have to participate for many years before they are likely to draw difficult-to-draw

5. This system will never guarantee a tag. Some applicants with many points will fail to draw tags and some applicants with few points will be successful.

6. The system Idaho chooses may have to be modified in the future to account for long-term consequences of the bonus-point system.

7. Every time one person's odds go up, another person's odds go down.

8. If implemented, this will be a profound change in how Idaho draws controlled-hunt applicants.

9. Each bonus point will cost $4.50 (plus $1.75 vendor fee for each transac-

Monaco's Prince Albert bids adieu to bachelorhood

By Angela Charlton and Jamey Keaten Associated Press writer

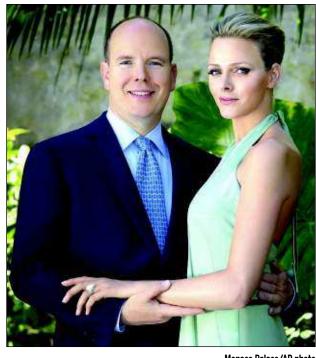

PARIS - Prince Albert is giving Monaco a crown princess at last.

Ditching decades of bachelorhood, the boyish if balding monarch announced Wednesday he will marry South African ex-swimming champion Charlene Wittstock.

Albert's betrothed has iconic shoes to fill, stepping into a role left vacant since the death of Princess much-beloved Grace in a car crash.

Royal watchers ecstatic at the announcement and many were wondering: Is the bespectacled playboy prince manning up? And most importantly, will the 52year-old Albert, who has children out of wedlock, finally produce a legitimate

Routine treatment for constipation may be unnecessary

DEAR DR. GOTT: Is

there any health risk, other than the taste, in drinking five ounces of magnesium citrate a week to clean out my digestive system? Thanks for your opinion.

DEAR READER: Magnesium citrate is an over-the-counter substance used to treat constipation. It is taken by mouth in liquid form that can be mixed with water or juice. The dose depends on the reason a person is taking it. Magnesium citrate works by pulling water from tissues into the small intestines, thereby stimulating a bowel movement within 30 minutes to three hours. When smaller doses are taken, especially when taken with food, the process slows. Following each use, a person should drink two additional glasses of water to replace the fluids that will be lost during evacuation.

Side effects can include nausea, bloating, abdominal pain and a loss of normal bowel response if the magnesium citrate is used on a long-term basis.

Laxatives can result in diarrhea. This, in turn, can cause a loss of electrolytes, essential nutrients such as potassium and other fluids in the body. If diarrhea occurs, a person should replace those lost fluids with two to three quarts of sports drinks or other fluids daily until the diarrhea stops. Some brands of magnesium citrate contain sugar and should be avoided if a person has a history of diabetes. I am unsure why you are taking the product. If you have regular bowel movements and don't suffer from constipation, perhaps you don't need the weekly cleansing. Instead, you might consider a trial of eating more fresh fruits and vegetables, including cereals with bran for breakfast and drinking up to three quarts of fluids each day. If you do suffer from constipation on a regular basis. I recommend you make an appointment with your physician or a gastroenterologist to review your medical history and medications to determine the cause. Certain medications can contribute to constipation, so that would be an easy place to begin.

To provide related information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Constipation and Diarrhea." Other readers who would like a copy should send a selfaddressed stamped No. 10 envelope and a $2 check or

DEAR DR. GOTT: I am a 60-year-old female in good health. For the past four years, I have developed tonsil stones that are frustrating. I don't have them all the time, but when I do, they remain for days to weeks. The only way I can dislodge them is if I happen to sneeze really hard. When they do come out, they are shaped like tiny cauliflowers and have a really bad odor to them.

What causes them? What can I do to avoid getting them? How can I get rid of them for good?

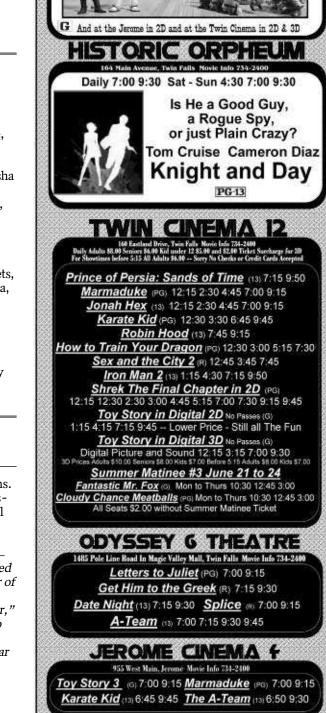

DEAR READER: The tonsils, while appearing smooth, are filled with crevices where bacteria and other debris can become trapped. This matter can concentrate, harden and calcify, causing stones. The process tends to occur in people with chronic bouts of tonsillitis or who have chronic inflammation of the tonsils.

The only surefire permanent treatment is tonsillectomy. However, there are interim steps that can be considered. Nothing need be done if a person is without symptoms. With symptoms, routine saltwater gargles might work, or the stones might be dislodged successfully with a cotton swab or pick. Antibiotics might be prescribed in some cases, but drugs in this category can cause additional problems. When conservative measures fail, surgical removal of the tonsils may be appropriate.

Cyclones hold on to sweep Spartans

By Ryan Howe Times-News

RUPERT - It was an eerily familiar situation Warburton Field on Wednesday, albeit with a lot less on the line.

On May 13, Jerome led Minico 5-2 in the final elimination game of the District IV Great Basin Conference tournament. The Spartans rallied to win 6-5.

Fast forward Wednesday, the Jerome Cyclones led 5-2 in Game 2 of their American Legion Baseball Class AA doubleheader at Minico. Again, the Spartans rallied.

However, this time Jerome survived, thanks in part to an arm it didn't have available back in May – that of High's Nolan Wendell Stouder.

Stouder came on in the bottom of the seventh with two outs, the bases loaded and Jerome holding a onerun lead. He struck out Slade Winmill to preserve a 6-5 victory as the Cyclones completed the doubleheader sweep, including their 9-1 win in Game 1.

"Fantastic. It's always good to take two from Minico," said Jerome's Jordy Garrard.

Garrard pitched a complete game in the opener with two strikeouts and no walks. He had control of his arsenal, including a bunch of curveballs, a changeup and a crafty knuckleball.

"Everything was working," Garrard said. "I was throwing everything for strikes. The defense was great. I always know they are there backing me up."

Marlins fire Gonzalez

BALTIMORE – Fredi onzalez was fired Gonzalez Wednesday as manager of the Florida Marlins, whose search for a full-time successor began with a phone call to Bobby Valentine.

Gonzalez was dismissed with Florida at 34-36 and in fourth place in the NL East, 71/2 games behind first-place Atlanta.

"This team seems to be stuck in neutral, and our competitors are on the accelerator," president of baseball operations Larry Beinfest said, hours before the Marlins were to face the Orioles. "We were looking for a leadership change to hopefully get us on the accelerator. That's a big part of what we did today."

Edwin Rodriguez, who has spent the past 11/2 seasons as manager of Triple-A New Orleans, took over as manager on an interim

Also fired were bench coach Carlos Tosca and hitting coach Iim Preslev. They were replaced on an interim basis by Brandon Hyde and John Mallee.

Eight-run rally helps TCU oust Seminoles

OMAHA, Neb. - Matt Curry hit a go-ahead grand slam in TCU's eight-run eighth inning and the Horned Frogs eliminated Florida State from the College World Series with a 11-7 victory Wednesday night.

The dramatic win carried the Frogs to the Bracket 1 championship game in their first CWS appearance. They will play UCLA on Friday, needing to beat the Bruins twice to reach next week's best-of-three finals.

The Seminoles, without a national title in 20 CWS appearances, went 1-2 this year after blowing a fiverun lead in an error-filled performance against TCU.

The Frogs, who beat Florida State 8-1 in their opener, trailed 7-3 entering the eighth. Third baseman Sherman

Former NFL star Lawrence Taylor indicted on N.Y. rape charges

SO

NEW YORK — Pro football Hall of Famer Lawrence cence Wednesday. Taylor was indicted Wednesday by a suburban New York grand jury on charges of third-degree rape and patronizing a prostitute.

The indictment follows his May 6 arrest at a Holiday Inn in Ramapo, N.Y., where prosecutors say he paid a 16-year-old girl $300 to have sex with him. Taylor had been charged previously in Ramapo Town Court, but the indictment transfers the case to Rockland County. He is scheduled to appear July 13. The former New York Giants linebacker also was indicted on charges of endangering the welfare of a child, and sexual abuse and criminal sexual act in the third degree. He faces up to four years in prison if convicted. He has denied the charges. Rockland County District Attorney Thomas Zugibe said the 16-year-old told investigators that she had been verbally threatened and physically assaulted by a pimp who drove her 26 miles north to the hotel where Taylor was waiting.

Taylor's attorney reiterated his client's inno-

WORLD CUP ROUNDUP

Germany wins; Ghana next for U.S.

JOHANNESBURG – Germany won. Ghana lost, then won.

Mesut Oezil scored on a left-footed blast from outside the area Wednesday to give Germany a 1-0 victory over Ghana and first place in Group D at the World Cup.

Still, Ghana had reason to party.

Moments after the game was over, Ghana learned that it took second place in the group despite the loss and also will move on to the round of 16.

"It was a very difficult match, but we fought and it was enough to get us through," said Ghana midfielder Andre Ayew. "We had opportunities but the important thing is that we went through."

Once the scoreboard flashed the Australia-Serbia final, Ghana players hugged each other, waved their country's flag and ran to the corner where their supporters were cheering and dancing.

The Germans, too, were saluting their fans and enjoying the moment.

"It was a tense game. We could have made more out of our opportunities," Germany coach Joachim Loew said. "We were not very precise up front. But I can't blame my young players, there was a lot of pressure, we had to win."

The Germans had been heavily favored to take the group but an upset loss to Serbia left them needing a victory to be assured of advancing. They'll play England on Sunday, another European power that won to stay alive Wednesday.

Ghana will face the United States on Saturday. The Black Stars pushed the U.S. out of the tournament in 2006.

Ghana is the first of the six African teams in the tournament to make it to the knockout phase. It could also be the last. Only Ivory Coast still has a chance to join the Black Stars in the final 16, but it must hope Brazil beats Portugal and make up a nine-goal difference in beating North Korea.

Phil Jackson leaning toward retirement

EL SEGUNDO, Calif. (AP) Phil Jackson thinks he is just about ready to walk away from his unparalleled NBA coaching career. The Los Angeles Lakers are all hoping he will change his mind in the next week.

The 11-time NBA champion coach said Wednesday he is leaning toward retirement. After a full season of speculation on his health and future, Jackson will wait for the results of another battery of medical tests before informing Lakers owner Jerry Buss of his final decision late next week.

The 64-year-old Jackson is the most successful coach in league history by almost any measure, with a .705 regular-season winning percentage, a record 225 postseason victories and two more titles than Boston's Red Auerbach. before the day starts."

The Philadelphia 76ers are likely to take national player of the year Evan Turner from Ohio State with the No. 2 pick. Turner said he talked about the notoriously tough Philly fans with new coach and former Sixers guard Doug Collins and was told "as long as you play tough, you're a competitor and play with passion, you'll survive here."

Then the confusion starts. The New Jersey Nets, who had the NBA's worst record but missed out on a chance for Wall when they dropped to No. 3 in the lottery, were believed to be debating between Cousins or Favors, before speculation in the days leading up to the draft that they'd turned their attention to Syracuse forward Wesley Johnson.

If so, Johnson understands whv.

"I went in there and just tried to kill the workout," said Johnson, a selfdescribed "late bloomer" who at 22 is an old man next to some of the other expected high picks.

Favors and Cousins worked out against each few other in Philadelphia, New Jersey and Sacramento, which has the No. 5 pick, sleep tonight or tomorrow both realizing the result could mean a difference of a couple of spots in the draft.

"I guess you could say we're considered the best big men in the draft right Cousins now," "They're trying to make a big decision, they're putting a lot on the both of us, so they want to make the best choice."

Yet both are facing criticisms that could force them to slip, none particularly tied to their basketball abilities.

The 6-foot-10 Favors is considered an outstanding athlete, but perhaps far from NBA ready after averaging just 12.4 points in his lone season at Georgia Tech.

"A lot of people question me about that, about my age and how long it'll take for me to be a regular contributor." the 18-year-old Favors said. "But I think it just all depends on how hard I work during this offseason and next season."

The 6-11 Cousins has the potential to become a dominant big man in a league where there are fewer every year, and his size and skill would seem to make him a lock to be taken in the first picks. He Wednesday he's the best player in the draft.

WITNESSETH: WHEREAS, CABLE ONE is the successor to TCI Cablevision of Idaho, Inc. which was awarded a franchise to provide cable services within the city of Paul effective November 1, 1995; and WHEREAS, CABLE ONE and its predecessors in interest have faithfully and hereto and performed in accordance with the terms and conditions of Ordinance 378 granting a franchise to TCI Cablevision of Idaho, Inc.; and WHEREAS, Ordinance 378 authorizes a renewal of the cable television franchise to CABLE ONE; and

WHEREAS, CABLE ONE has indicated its acceptance to the term and conditions contained in this franchise agreement; and

WHEREAS, the Cable Communications Policy Act of 1984 authorizes the early renewal of a cable franchise upon a public hearing an

WHEREAS the public hearing and informal negotiation process has occurred. NOW, THERERFORE, the City of Paul hereby grants a renewal of the cable television franchise to CABLE ONE in the following terms and conditions: SECTION 1. DEFINITIONS.

1.1 For the purposes of this Franchise, the following terms, phrases, and words shall have the meanings ascribed to them below.

When not inconsistent with the context, words used in the present tense include the future tense, words in the plural include the singular and words used in the singular include the plural. "Affiliate" means a condition of being united, being in close connection, allied, or attached as a member or branch.

B. "Basic cable" is the tier of service regularly provided to all subscribers including the retransmission of local broadcast television signals. C. "Cable Act" means Title VI of the Communications Act of 1934 as amended by the Cable Television Consumer Protection and Competition Act 1992, as amended by the Telecommunications Act of 1996, and any subsequent amendments.

D. "Cable services" means the one-way transmission to a subscriber of video programming, other programming service or date communication by a subscriber,

2. subscriber interaction, if any, which is required for the selection by the subscriber of such video programming or other programming

E. "Cable system" means a facility, consisting of a set of closed transmission paths and associated signal generation, reception, and control equipment that is designed to provide cable service and other service to subscribers.

F. "Channel" means a single path or section of the spectrum which carries a cable service.

G. "City" means the City of Paul, a municipal corporation of the State of Idaho. H. "Council" means the present governing body of the City or any future board constituting the legislative body of the city.

I. "Disconnection" means the discontinuance of all cable service to a subscriber by a cable operator.

J. "FCC" means the Federal Communications Commission, a regulatory agency of the United States government. K. "Franchising Authority" means the City of Paul, Idaho.

L. "Franchise" shall mean the initial authorization, or renewal thereof, issued by the city, whether such authorization is designated as a franchise, permit, license, resolution, contract, certificate or otherwise, which authorizes construction or operation of the cable system for the purpose of offering cable service or other service to subscribers. M. "Grantee" means CableOne of Idaho.

N. "Gross revenues" means any and all receipts and revenues received directly or indirectly from all sources by the operator of a cable system attributable to the provision of cable service by the cable system within the corporate limits of the City, excluding high-speed internet services, home shopping revenues and advertising sales. "Gross revenues" is intended to include, but is not limited to, all income without any offsetting of expenses, costs or depreciation, derived from:

Subscribers receiving goods, equipment, equipment service, or cable service from or through the use of a cable system within the City; revenues for service, installation and repair; and, any and all charges not specifically exempt herein such as delinquency fees, interest, or finance charges.

Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, "gross revenues" is not intended to include income, credits or revenues attributable to the operation of a cable system within the City arising from:

Real property transactions;

Net uncollectible debts.

Taxes paid by a subscriber, the operator of a cable system within the City or another person, which are imposed on any subscriber; Interest (other than interest charged subscribers of the cable system within the City or advertisers for services provided or delivered by the cable system within the City) or dividends on investments received by the operator of a cable system within the City unrelated to the delivery of cable services within the City; or

Should the FCC rule that high-speed internet services delivered by cable operators is a "cable service" then the parties agree that revenues the cable operator obtains from the provision of that service will be considered as gross revenues under this section and eligible for inclusion in the calculation of franchise fees on a going forward basis. "Headend" means the electronic equipment located at the start of a cable system, usually including antennas, preamplifiers, curt, boulevard, sidewalk, parkway, way, lane, drive, circle or other public right-of-way, including, but not limited to, public utility easements, dedicated utility strips or rights-of-way dedicated for compatible uses and any temporary or permanent fixtures or improvements located thereon now or hereafter held by the City in the service area which shall entitle the City and a franchisee to the use thereof for the purpose of installing, operating, repairing and maintaining the cable system. "Public way" shall also mean any easement now or hereafter held by the City within the service area for the purpose of public travel, or for utility or public service use dedicated for compatible uses, and shall include other easements or rights-of-way as shall within their proper use and meaning entitle the City and a franchisee to the use thereof for the purpose of installing or transmitting franchisee's cable service or other service over poles, wires, cables, conductors, ducts, conduits, vaults, manholes, amplifiers, compliances, attachments and other property as may be ordinarily necessary and appurtenant to the cable system.

"Service Area" means the present municipal boundaries of the City of Paul, and includes any additions thereto by annexation.

"Subscriber" means a person or user of the cable system who lawfully receives cable services or other services there from with

W. "Video Programming Service" means programming which is visually and audibly comparable to programming provided by a television broadcast station

SECTION 2. GRANT OF FRANCHISE.

2.1 Grant. The Franchising Authority hereby grants to the Grantee a nonexclusive Franchise which authorizes the Grantee to construct and operate a cable system in, along, among, upon, across, above, over, under, in any manner connected with Public Ways within the Service Area and for that purpose to erect, install, construct, repair, replace, reconstruct, maintain on, over, under, upon, across, or along any public way and all extensions thereof and additions thereto, such pole, wires, cables, conductors, ducts, conduits, vaults, manholes, pedestals, amplifiers, appliances, attachments, and other related property or equipment as may be necessary or appurtenant to the cable system. Nothing in the franchise shall be construed to prohibit the Grantee from offering any service over it cable system that is no prohibited by federal or state law.

The Grantee agrees to abide by any existing or new ordinance or regulation of general applicability to the operation of the cable system in the service area, adapted in the manner provided by law, so long as they do not substantially impair the rights granted pursuant to this franchise.

2.2 Term. The franchise granted hereunder shall be for a term of ten (10) years commencing on the effective date of the franchise as set forth below, unless otherwise lawfully terminated in accordance with the terms of this franchise agreement.

2.3 Incorporation By Reference. This franchise is granted pursuant to Title 50, Chapter 3 of the Idaho Code and the Cable Act. SECTION 3 STANDARDS OF SERVICE

3.1 Restoration of Public Ways. If, during the course of the Grantee's construction, operation or maintenance of the cable system, there occurs a disturbance in any public way, the Grantee shall, at its expense, replace and restore such public way to a condition reasonably comparable to the condition of the public way immediately prior to such disturbance. Such repair or replacement will be implemented promptly beginning no later than 72 hours after extent of the damage is ascertained but with reasonable consideration given to weather and to the amount of work involved. 3.2 Relocation at the Request of the Franchising Authority. Upon its receipt of reasonable advance notice, not to be less than five (5) business days, the Grantee shall, at it own expense, protect, support, temporarily disconnect, relocate in the public way, or remove from the public way, any property of the Grantee when required by the franchising authority by reason of traffic conditions, public safety, street abandonment, street construction, change or establishment of street grade, installation of sewers, drains, utility pipes and any other structure or improvements by the franchising authority. The Grantee shall in all cases have the right of abandonment of its property. If public funds are available to any similar facilities-based utility as the Grantee, using such street, easement, or right-of-way for the purpose of defraying the cost of any of the foregoing, the franchising authority shall make available such funds on behalf of the Grantee.

3.3 Relocation at the Request of a Third Party. The Grantee shall, on the request of any person holding a building moving permit issued by the franchising authority, temporarily raise of lower its wires to permit the moving of such building, provided the expense of such temporary raising or lowering of wires is paid by said person, including if required by the Grantee, making such payment in advance and the Grantee is given not less than five (5) days advance written notice.

3.4 System Upgrade/Channel Capacity and Adaptation to New Technology. At the request of the franchising authority, the Grantee shall inform the franchising authority at least quarterly of planned, proposed and actual changes in the Grantee Cs cable system and cable services related to subscriber in the service area regarding technological improvements, additional channel capacity and other matter related to services available to subscribers. The Grantee will provide one channel for the franchising authority to use as a character-generated, community bulletin board.

3.5 Aerial and Underground Construction. A. In those areas of the service area where all of the transmission or distribution facilities of the respective public service utilities providing telephone communications and electrical services are underground, the Grantee shall likewise construct, operate and maintain all of its transmission and distribution facilities underground. Nothing contained in this section shall require the Grantee to construct, operate, and maintain underground any ground-mounted appurtenances such as subscriber taps, line extenders, system passive devices (splitters, directional couplers), amplifiers, pedestals or other related equipment.

B. New Developments. The franchising authority shall provide the Grantee with written notice of the issuance of building or development permits for planned commercial and/or residential developments within the service area requiring underground facilities. The franchising authority agrees to require as a condition of issuing the permit that the developer of planned commercial and/or residential developments give the Grantee access to open trenches for deployment of cable facilities and notice of the date of availability of trenches. The developer shall be responsible for the digging and backfilling of all trenches. The Grantee shall be responsible for engineering, deployment of labor and cable facilities located in the trenches. If a new development is not provided by the city due to random error or because the developer does not release the information, the Grantee will hold the franchising authority harmless.

C. Local Improvement District. If an ordinance is passed creating a local improvement district which involves placing underground certain utilities including that of the Grantee which are then located overhead, the Grantee shall participate in such underground project and shall remove poles, cables and wires form the surface of public ways within such district and shall place them underground in conformity with the requirements of the franchising authority. The Grantee may include its costs of relocating facilities associated with the undergrounding project in said local improvement district if allowed under applicable law. 3.6 Required Extension of Service. The cable system, as constructed as of the date of the passage and final adoption of the franchise, substantially complies with the material provisions hereof. Whenever the Grantee shall receive a request for service from at least 15 residences within 1320 cable-bearing strand feet (one-quarter cable mile) of its trunk or distribution cable, it shall extend its cable system to such subscribers at no cost to said subscriber for cable system extension, other than the usual connection fees for all subscribers, provided that such extension is technically feasible.

- No subscriber shall be refused service arbitrarily. However, for unusual 3.7 Subscriber Charges for Extensions of Service. circumstances, such as a subscriber's request to locate his cable drop underground, existence of more than 150 feet of distance from distribution cable to connection of service to subscribers, or a density of less than 15 subscribers per 1320 cable-bearing strand feet of trunk or distribution cable, service may be made available on the basis of a capital contribution in aid of construction, including cost of material, labor and easements. For the purpose of determining the amount of capital contribution in aid of construction to be borne by the Grantee and subscribers in the area in which service may be expanded, the Grantee will contribute an amount equal to the construction and other costs per mile, multiplies by a fraction whose numerator equals the number of residences per 1320 cable-bearing strand feet of its trunks or distribution cable, and whose denominator equals 15 residences. Subscribers who request service hereunder will bear the remainder of the construction and other costs on a pro rata basis. The Grantee may require that the payment of the capital contribution in aid of construction borne by potential subscribers be paid in advance.
- 3.8 Service to Public Buildings. The Grantee shall, upon request, provide without charge, one cable service to each of the Franchising Authority's offices buildings, fire stations, police stations and to public school buildings that are passed by its cable system as well as other public buildings that may be constructed during the term of this franchise agreement. The outlets of cable service provide pursuant to this section shall not be used by the government entity to sell cable services in or throughout such buildings. The Grantee shall not be required to provide a cable service outlet to buildings where the drop line from the feeder cable to said building exceeds 150 cable feet unless the governmental entity agrees to pay the incremental cost of such drop line in excess of 150 cable feet
- 3.9 Emergency Use. A. In accordance with the provisions of Federal Communications Commission (FCC) Regulations shall maintain an Emergency Alert System (EAS) for use in transmitting Emergency Act Notifications (EAN) and Emergency Act Terminations (EAT) in local and state-wide situations as may be designated to be an emergency by the Local Primary, the State Primary and/or the State Emergency Operations Center, as those authorities are defined by the FCC.
- B. The franchising authority shall permit only appropriately trained and authorized person to operate the EAS equipment and shall indemnify and hold harmless the Grantee, its employees, officers and assigns from any claims arising from use of the cable system or the EAS equipment by the franchising authority, its employee or designated representatives, including, but not limited to, attorney fees and costs.
- 3.10 Customer Service Standards. The Grantee shall at all times be in compliance with FCC regulations regarding customer service obligation, as now exist or as may be amended. The franchising authority reserves the right to enact or enforce any customer protection law, containing more stringent customer service obligations, to the extent not specifically preempted by FCC

SECTION 4 REGULATION BY CITY OF PAUL

- 4.1 Franchise Fee. A. The Grantee shall pay to the franchising authority monthly a sum equal to five percent (5%) of the gross revenues. Payment for each month's fee shall be no later than forty-five (45) days after the last day of the quarter for which payment is made.
- B. In the event the Cable Act and/or other applicable law permits an increase in franchise fees during the term of this franchise, then the franchising authority may initiate such an increase with regards to the franchise fee amount. However, prior to implementation of any increase in franchise fees, the Grantee may request a public hearing by the franchising authority to discuss said change in franchise fee. Following such a hearing the franchising authority may require the implementation of the change in franchise fee. C. Late Payment. All sums, which become delinquent, shall accumulate interest at the statutory rate provided in Idaho Code Title 28.
- Chapter 22, Section 104(1). The accrual of interest is not intended to waive or in any manner restrict City's ability to elect any procedure or method of collection permissible by law to enforce all the terms and conditions of franchise agreement. Penalties For Failing To Pay Franchise Fees: Where the City determines by audit, financial statement or other method, that franchisee has underpaid franchise fees other charges owed to City and where payment was not received by City within the quarter due, franchisee may be required to pay, in addition to any other remedy sought by City, all fees and interest due, and an additional penalty of fifty percent (50%) of the total amount owed. Acceptance of any franchise fee payment by the franchising authority shall not be construed as an agreement that the fee paid is in fact the correct amount, nor shall acceptance of payment be construed as a release or a waiver of any claim by the franchising authority against the Grantee. If the franchising authority requests to see financial
- records to audit Grantee's franchise fee payments, the Grantee will provide such records. Limitation on Franchise Fee Actions. The period of limitation for recovery of any franchise fee payable hereunder shall be seven (7) year from the date on which payment by the Grantee is due. Unless the franchising authority initiates a lawsuit for recovery of unpaid franchise fees in a court of competent jurisdiction within seven (7) years after such payment is due, such recovery shall be barred.
- G. Taxes. Nothing herein shall limit the Grantee; Çs obligation to pay applicable local, state or federal sale, property, ad valorem or other taxes.

4.2 Rates and Charges.

- Nothing in this franchise agreement shall be construed to prohibit the reduction or waiving of changes in conjunction with promotional campaigns for the purpose of acquiring and/or retaining subscribers.
- B. Grantee shall provide the franchising authority with a minimum of thirty (30) days advance written notice of changes in subscriber rates, if the change is within the control of the Grantee, including any changes in franchise fee amount and external franchise related costs.
- 4.3. Customer Billing. All billing statements and charges to subscribers shall be: 1. Clear, concise and understandable;
- Itemized as to basic cable charges, premium charges, equipment charges, whether payments for purchase or rental, deposits, delinquent fees, and franchise fees
- Show all activity during the billing period including optional charges, rebates, and credits. Said billing period shall not exceed forty. five (45) days.
- 4.4 Renewal. The franchising authority and the Grantee agree that any proceeding undertaken by the franchising authority that relate to the renewal of the Grantee; Cs franchise shall be governed by and comply with the provisions of the Cable Act, as currently constituted or as may be hereafter amended.

SECTION 5 COMPLIANCE AND MONITORING

- 5.1 Communication with Regulatory Agencies. Copies of all petitions, applications, communications and reports submitted by the Grantee to the FCC or any other federal or state regulatory commission or agency having jurisdiction in respect to matter affecting construction, maintenance or operation of the Grantee's cable system or service, shall be made available to the franchising authority upon reasonable request. Copies of responses or any other communications from the regulatory agencies to the Grantee shall also be made available to the franchising authority.
- 5.2 Technical Standards. The Grantee shall be responsible for insuring that the cable system is designed, installed and operated in a manner that fully complies with FCC rule and regulations in Subpart K of Part 76 of Chapter 1 of Title 47 of the Code of Federal Regulations as now constituted or as may be amended. As provided in these rule and regulations, the franchising authority shall have, upon request, the right to obtain a copy of tests and records required in accordance with such rules and regulations, but have
- no authority to enforce compliance with such standards.

 SECTION 6 BONDS AND OTHER SURETY For the reason of the Grantee's past performance and investment, no performance bond or other surety is required under the terms hereof. If the franchising authority determines, in its discretion, that a bond or a surety will be required of the Grantee during the term hereof, the franchising authority agrees to give the Grantee ninety (90) days written notice stating the reason for the requirement and amount of the bond or surety. The Grantee agrees to post said bond or surety, as required by the franchising authority within said ninety (90) day period. The Grantee shall be required to provide standard performance bonds and insurance requirements for encroachment and/or right-of-way work permits.

SECTION 7 TERMINATION AND TECHINICAL VIOLATIONS

- 7.1 Default, Notice and Termination. A. If the Grantee willfully violates or fails to comply with any of the material provisions of this franchise agreement, the franchising authority shall give written notice to the Grantee of the alleged non-compliance of its franchise. The Grantee shall have thirty (30) days from the date of notice of non-compliance to cure such alleged default or, if such default cannot be cured within thirty (30) days, to present to the City a plan of action whereby such default can be promptly cured. The Grantee shall be entitled to attend the hearing, respond to questions and explain why termination would be justified.
- B. If such default continues beyond the applicable dates agreed to for such cure, the franchising authority shall give the Grantee written notice that all rights conferred under this franchise agreement may be revoked or terminated by the Council after a public - hearing. The Grantee shall be entitled to not less than thirty (30) days prior notice of the date, time and place of the public hearing.

 7.2 Termination for Non-compliance. Subject to State and Federal law, in the event that any franchise is terminated by the franchising authority by reason of the Grantee's non-compliance, the Grantee shall have the right for six months after the final decision by the Council to attempt to sell that part of the system under such franchise to a third party. If the Grantee is unable to find a buyer within such period, the franchising authority may elect to acquire the property of the system located in the streets and public property at a cost consistent with the provisions of Section 627(b)(1) of the Cable Act, as currently constituted or as may be amended. If the franchising authority or a third party does not purchase the system, the Grantee shall, upon order of the franchising authority, remove the system from the public ways of the franchising authority. The Grantee agrees that in no case shall a termination for cause be considered as a "taking"
- 7.3 Technical Violations. The parties agree that it is not the franchising authority's intention to subject the Grantee to penalties or termination for technical violations of this agreement. Technical violations shall include, but are not limited to the following: (a) instances where a violation or a breach by the Grantee of this agreement was a good faith effort that resulted in no or minimal negative impact on subscribers or (b) where there existed circumstances reasonably beyond the control of the Grantee and which precipitated a violation of this agreement or which were deemed to have prevented the Grantee from strictly complying with the terms of this agreement.

SECTION 8 MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

- 8.1 Actions of Parties. In any action by the franchising authority of the Grantee that is mandated or permitted under the terms hereof, such party shall act in good faith in a reasonable and timely manner. Furthermore, in any instance where approval or consent is required under the term hereof, such approval or consent shall not be unreasonably withheld.
- 8.2 Equal Protection. In the event the franchising authority grants another franchise to any person or entity for the purpose of constructing or operating a cable system within the service area, such additional franchise shall not present materially better terms or lesser obligations for the new franchisee over the terms of the franchise. Nevertheless, if such does take place, the franchising
- authority will immediately modify this franchise so that it is in conformity with the language of the new franchise. 8.3 Notices. Notice required hereunder shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given to the required party upon actual receipt. Acceptable methods of delivery include hand delivery, certified or registered mail and overnight express mail. Notice required hereunder shall be addressed as follows:

NOTICE OF MITIGATION PLAN SUBMITTAL BY THE SOUTHWEST AND GOOSE CREEK IRRIGATION DISTRICTS IN RESPONSE TO THE SURFACE WATER COALITION WATER DELIVERY CALL

Notice is hereby given that on May 28, 2010, Southwest Irrigation District ("SWID"), and Goose Creek Irrigation District ("GCID"), through their counsel, Parsons, Smith and Stone, LLP, PO Box 910, Burley, ID, 83318, submitted the Southwest and Goose Creek Irrigation Districts Mitigation Plan Re Surface Water Coalition ("plan" or "mitigation plan") to the Idaho Department of Water Resources ("Department"). On June 16, 2010, the Department received an amended plan from SWID and GCID which included certain appendices that were omitted but referenced in the original submitted plan. The Department will process this plan pursuant to the Department's Conjunctive Management Rules (IDPA 37, Title 03, Chapter 11).

The plan is intended to satisfy the mitigation obligations of SWID and GCID for the Surface Water Coalition Water Delivery call administered by the watermasters of State Water District Nos. 110, 120, 130, 140 and 34 and the Department. The Surface Water Coalition (¡ÉSWC¡É) consists of irrigation water delivery entities that hold senior surface water rights diverted from the Snake River and tributaries above Milner Dam. SWC members include A&B Irrigation District, American Falls Reservoir District #2, Burley Irrigation District, Milner Irrigation District, Minidoka Irrigation District, North Side Canal Company, and Twin Falls SWID and GCID represent numerous landowners who hold ground water rights for irrigation, commercial, and other nondeminimis consumptive uses located within the Eastern Snake Plain Aquifer ("ESPA") and other areas of Cassia and Twin Falls Counties. Certain of these ground water rights have priority dates junior to the priority dates of surface water rights held by the SWC. Ground water sources in the ESPA and the Snake River are interconnected sources of water.

SWID and GCID have proposed to mitigate injury to all SWC senior priority surface water rights that may result from depletions under junior priority ground water rights held by SWID and GCID members. The plan provides for continued and new conversions of irrigated land from ground water to surface water and waste water supplies, the ongoing enrollment of ground water irrigated lands in the Conservation Reserve Enhancement Program, the ongoing voluntary curtailment of specific ground water irrigated acres under ground water rights held by SWID and GCID members, and seasonal aquifer recharge through injection of surface water to ground water wells and/or open ditches. SWID and GCID propose that the amount of mitigation provided each year may vary relative to the availability of surface water for its mitigation projects and that annual mitigation cannot be submitted until the end of the water year in order to determine the total amount of mitigation provided.

The Department has not determined the adequacy of the proposed plan. A complete copy of the proposed plan is available for review at either the Department's State Office in Boise, the Department's Regional Office in Twin Falls, or may be viewed online at the following website along with other related documents:

http://www.idwr.idaho.gov/News/MitigationPlan/SWC/SWID.htm Any protest against approval of the plan must be filed with the Department, together with a protest fee of $25, on or before July 12, 2010. The protest must include a certificate of service showing that a copy of the protest has been mailed to or served on SWID and GCID, and their counsel. Gary Spackman, Interim Director

Mountain Rides Transportation Authority (MRTA)), Ketchum, Idaho, is requesting sealed proposals for a private contractor, who is qualified and has experience in one or all of the categories shown on the cover page, to operate commuter bus routes in the Twin Falls to Ketchum and Shoshone to Ketchum, Idaho area, which will include limited administrative responsibilities, as outlined in this solicitation document. The Contract will be financed in whole or in part with financial assistance from the Federal Transit Administration (FTA). The Contract awarded will be subject to a financial assistance contract between MRTA, Idaho Transportation Department (ITD), and FTA. Funds that support this contract shall be a Job Accommodation Reverse Commute (JARC) grant. The local MRTA match ratio varies per the application but is never less than 20% and never greater than 50% of the grant awarded to

In addition to all other signatures required in the Offeror's response, and to the extent applicable, all Proposers will be required to sign the applicable certifications under Attachment A.1-A.4 of this document.

Correspondence, questions or comments must be submitted no later than July 6, 2010 at 5pm to: Gene Daniels, Business Manager, MRTA, P.O. Box 3091, Ketchum, ID 83340. email: gene@mountainrides.org

Proposal documents are available on MRTA's Website. Sealed proposals marked ¡ÈCOMMUTER BUS ROUTES PROPOSAL¡É must arrive at MRTA Offices no later than 2:00pm MDT, August 3, 2010 to the Attention: Jason Miller, Executive Director, MRTA, P.O. Box 3091, Ketchum, ID 83340

208-788-7433, ext. 101; email: jason@mountainrides.org Any Proposal received after date and time indicated will be considered non-responsive and will not be evaluated. This procurement is a Request for Proposal (RFP). Proposals will be opened at the time and date shown above. A public opening will be held. Complete instructions to Proposers are included in the bid documents. No oral, telephone, telegraphic, or facsimile proposals or modifications will be considered. Award will be based on the evaluative criteria listed in the document in descending order of importance. Issuance of this RFP does not commit MRTA to award any contract, to pay any costs incurred in preparation of a proposal, or to procure or contract for services. MRTA reserves the right to waive any irregularities and informalities or to reject any and all proposals, to re-advertise and to make contract awards in the best interest of MRTA. The contractor shall be required to comply with all applicable equal employment laws and regulations. MRTA, in accordance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, and 49 CFR Part 26, will afford Disadvantaged Business Enterprises (DBE's) full opportunity to respond and will not discriminate against any interested firm or person on the basis of race, color, sex, or national origin in the review of qualifications or contract award. Firms will submit documentation on the utilization of DBE's with their bids. The MRTA's DBE goal for this bid is race

Today's Highlight:

On June 24, 1509, Henry VIII was crowned king of England; his wife, Catherine of Aragon, was crowned queen consort.

TODAY IN HISTORY

On this date:

In 1314, the forces of Scotland's King Robert I defeated the English in the Battle of Bannockburn.

In 1807, a grand jury in Richmond, Va., indicted former Vice President Aaron Burr on charges of treason and high misdemeanor (he was later acquitted).

In 1908, the 22nd and 24th presidents of the United States, Grover Cleveland, died in Princeton, N.J., at

In 1910, Italian automaker Alfa Romeo was founded in

In 1940, France signed an armistice with Italy during World War II.

In 1948, Communist forces cut off all land and water routes between West Germany and West Berlin, prompting the western allies to organize the Berlin Airlift. The Republican National Convention, meeting in Philadelphia, nominated New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for president.

In 1968, "Resurrection City," a shantytown constructed as part of the Poor People's March Washington, D.C., closed down by authorities.

In 1975, 113 people were killed when an Eastern Airlines Boeing 727 crashed while attempting to land during a thunderstorm at New York's John F. Kennedy International Airport.

In 1983, the space shuttle Challenger – carrying America's first woman in space, Sally K. Ride - coasted to a safe landing at Edwards Air Force Base in California.

In 1990, Health and Human Services Secretary Louis Sullivan was virtually drowned out by jeering demonstrators asaddressed the Sixth International AIDS conference in San Francisco.

Ten years ago: After months of political violence, Zimbabweans polling booths to begin two days of balloting in the country's most competitive WELDERS election since independence. (The result was a narrow win for President Robert Mugabe's ruling party.)

Five years ago: Despite growing anxiety about the war in Iraq, President George W. Bush refused to set a timetable for bringing home U.S. troops and declared, "I'm not giving up on the mission. We're doing the right thing?" Officials said tests confirmed the second case of mad cow disease in the United States. Ventriloquist Paul Winchell died in Moorpark, Calif. at age 82.

One year ago: South Carolina Gov. Mark Sanford admitted flying to Argentina to visit a mistress during a seven-day mysterious absence. Ed Thomas, the football coach of Aplington-Parkersburg High School in Iowa for 34 years, was gunned down by former player Mark Becker. (Becker was convicted of murder and sentenced to life in prison without the possibility of parole.) The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences announced plans to double the number of best picture nominees to 10 for the 2010 Oscar ceremony. (The winner under this revised system was "The Hurt Locker:")

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 15year-old boy who is trying to figure out my career. I'm with "Jen," the girl of my dreams, and I intend on being with her forever. We plan to have kids in the

I want to be a pilot, and Jen wants to be a stay-at-home mom. I realize, though, that if I'm a pilot I won't be home much, and I know that's not good for a couple trying to start a family. All I ever dreamed about was becoming a pilot, and I don't think I can give this up.

At the same time, my family comes first. How do I go about solving this problem? - PLANNING AHEAD

IN MISSOURI DEAR PLANNING AHEAD: You appear to be a young man with his feet on the ground. What you're not taking into consideration is that there are many happily married pilots who enjoy flourishing family lives as well as careers. Do some more research about the various kinds of jobs that are offered in the aviation industry, and you may be pleased to find that you, too, can have both. And keep in mind that your ambitions

may change as you get older.

DEAR \mathbf{A} BBY Jeanne Phillips

DEAR ABBY: My 73-yearold mother took it upon herself to go to a senior center and learn how the computer works - Internet, e-mails,

She has five children, and we're all on the Internet. She didn't tell us because she wanted it to be a surprise and was it ever! I flipped when I turned on my computer and found her name on an incoming message!

Abby, Mom doesn't own a computer, and the nearest senior center that has one is 30 miles away, but that didn't stop her.

We're currently setting up a computer for her, and I'm proud to say that she'll be able to use it for more than playing one of her favorite card games, Hearts. We're all proud of Mom!

 COLLEEN IN ST. PAUL, MINN. DEAR COLLEEN: I salute your mother and the burgeoning number of seniors who refuse to be intimidated by technology. Computers and cell phones have become cheaper and easier to use, and Web-surfing isn't a "sport" that's meant to be enjoyed only by the young. The computer-phobic can learn a lot from your mother's example.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been married five years and have a beautiful 4-yearold daughter. Two years ago, my wife cheated on three different occasions with three different men. Each time she admitted her infidelity to me the following day.

I was heartbroken. I have fallen out of love with her and no longer find her attractive. I didn't leave immediately because I didn't want our daughter to be raised in a broken home. Also, my wife didn't have a job. I thought I could forgive her and get over it, but I can't and don't think I ever will.

Should I leave her or stay in a marriage where I feel I am being unfair to myself and that I deserve better? Please advise.

- BETRAYED IN KANSAS

DEAR BETRAYED: I'm sorry your wife cheated on you - three times, yet. But if you have to ask me for permission to leave her, the answer is no. You'll know the time is right when you are ready to take the responsibility for that decision all by yourself.

THE ACES ON BRIDGE®

'The reward of a thing well done, is to have done it."

 Ralph Waldo Emerson

Today's deal from the Mixed Teams shows a useful stratagem, which was missed by the defender who had the chance to shine. The match was between two sponsored teams. One table featured a match-up between a pair from Germany and a U.S.-Poland combination.

In the other room South had played the hopeless four-spade contract, down two on diamond ruffs. But here Adam Zmudzinski doubled one diamond rather than overcalling in spades — an interesting minority choice, though not a bad call. When his partner, Janice Seamon-Molson, cuebid, then introduced her clubs, Zmudzinski headed for three no-trump and received the lead of the diamond nine.

East put up the diamond queen. Zmudzinski ducked, but won the next diamond and went after spades. With the spade honors split, declarer could no longer be prevented from taking nine tricks (since the defenders could not establish either red suit in time) for a big pickup. Can you see how the defenders could have done better?

They had two better strategies: the first route was to shift to hearts at trick two. South must duck (or the defenders get hearts going) and West wins and switches to clubs, setting up a fifth trick for the defense.

But a far easier defense was for East to duck the first diamond, playing an encouraging spot-card. Now when West wins the first spade and continues the attack on diamonds, declarer is helpless.

IF JUNE 24 IS YOUR BIRTHDAY: By performing like the consummate professional when situations demand top notch expertise, you will easily move that much higher up the ladder of success this month. You will win praise as a generalist, but may slip up with the details, so delegate authority. If you have not kept your part of the bargain or slacked off responsibilities, however, prepare to meet your Waterloo from mid-July through the end of August. You can avoid criticism and trouble by being exacting with your work and meeting deadlines and responsibilities efficiently. Next March is the best time to launch important plans or to make crucial decisions. That is when the time is ripe for singles to fall in love or for anyone to reach for their dreams, ARIES (March 21-April 19): Take things as they come. Concentrate on completing tasks one at a time rather than trying to take care of everything at once, You are likely to be overwhelmed. Stay focused and ignore outside distractions.

TAURUS (April 20-May Unsung heroes may never become famous but their achievements are just as important as a superstar. Your toil behind the scenes won't win medals, but your work makes the wheels go round.

GEMINI (May 21-June Turn your dreams into reality. Your mind is attuned to your surroundings and your ideas are likely to succeed. Don't lose these valuable insights forever: Write them down. You are at your best thinking outside of the CANCER (June 21-July 22): Money isn't everything, but it does pay the bills. Take a rain check on a play date with the gang and concentrate on business first. There will be plenty of time for socializing over the week-

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Ride out the storm. Steer clear of tensions at the workplace and let the problems work themselves out. Block out distractions; use your creativity to complete your projects with resounding success.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): There is such a thing as a home-field advantage. You'll find your thoughts and ideas clearer and more insightful when you are surrounded by familiar faces and on your own turf. Plan now and act later.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Prevention is the best solution. Head off problems at pass. proverbial Anticipate extra bills and put money aside. Do not cut off the lines of communication; a phone call could save the day.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Do not accept the rule of tyrants. Others who have appointed themselves leader have no real authority and are merely blowing hot air. You are quite capable of putting dictators in their proper place.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): It's simply a case of mind over matter. With a positive attitude and a little optimism, you have faith that even the most seemingly dire matters will work out for the best. Take dynamic action.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Carve out your own little niche in the world. Find your own private place and work toward your goals in an environment of peace and solitude. Concentrate on completing the tasks already on your plate.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Take nothing at face value. Do not pay any attention to gossip or hearsay; instead, focus on facts backed up with concrete proof. A little digging could give a whole new perspective.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March It's time to clean house. Get out the dustpan and broom and make sweeping changes where needed. You can put extra energy to good use. Embrace your creative side by acting on inspired ideas.
