For Memorial Day, Scattered Showers?

TIMES-NEWS

TWIN FALLS • This Memorial Day weekend may give you the time to fire up the grill, but don't be surprised if you're forced to eat inside.

Scattered rain showers are expected to hit the Magic Valley today and Sunday, said George Skari, a meteorologist with the National Weather Service in Boise.

Temperatures will drop to the mid-50s tonight and remain in the low 60s on Sunday.

"We've got this huge weather system over the area right now," he said. "It's going to be in the region for the next two days."

The weather isn't expected to warm up for those looking to get away and head to the mountains.

Areas higher than 5,000 feet — like Sun Valley or Stanley — are expected to receive cooler temperatures and even a light amount of snow throughout the weekend.

"There's a huge low that's just cranking in that area and it's going to linger," Skari said.

There is some hope for clearer weather. By Monday, the rain should go away and the temperature is expected to hit the mid-60s. "The weekend won't be a washout," Skari said. "Monday is looking really good."

A Gordon Paving truck enters the Crystal Springs Gravel Pit Friday near Filer.

DIGGING IN

Citizens packed meeting room and P&Z board listened to concerns until 12:30 a.m. regarding Gordon Paving permit.

TWIN FALLS • More than 80 people came to a Twin Falls County Planning and Zoning meeting Thursday regarding conditional-use permits for three gravel pits in Hansen and Filer, owned and operated by Gordon Paving. At the meeting, which ran until 12:30 a.m., the commission approved the two Hansen permits, but put off the decision on the Filer pit until its June 12 meeting.

The issue: When Gordon Paving acquired the gravel pits years ago, the company assumed the special-use permits came with the pits, which have operated for decades. An Idaho Supreme Court decision — O'Conner vs. the City of Moscow — backs up that assumption.

But Twin Falls County statutes say the permit stays with the applicant, not the pit. While the Twin Falls County Prosecutor's Office reviews the code, Gordon Paving went through with the special-use permit application.

Residents came to testify for and against the permits. Gordon Paving supporters said the company is responsible, employs courteous drivers and supplies high-quality gravel that fits local regulations. And, some said, the government shouldn't make it harder for companies to operate.

"(If) we eliminate Gordon Paving, make it difficult for them to survive, then we're going to be hiring out-of-state, out-of-area companies to build these roads with out-of-state employees," said Dan Haymore of Twin Falls.

Those opposed to the permit raised concerns about the gravel pits hitting the water table, potential water contamination, road damage, hours of operation

State Controller in Critical Condition after I-84 Rollover

TIMES-NEWS

Jones

RUPERT • State Controller Donna Jones is in critical condition at Boise's Saint Alphonsus Regional Medical Center after a rollover crash Friday on the interstate near Rupert.

Jones, 73, of Payette, was in the Boise hospital's intensive care unit. Saint Alphonsus spokeswoman Elizabeth Duncan confirmed Friday evening that Jones was in critical condition.

According to Idaho State Police, Jones was traveling west on Interstate 84 when for unknown reasons, her Cadillac Escalade went off the side of the road shortly before 1 p.m. Jones overcorrected and the vehicle rolled.

An ambulance took her to Minidoka Memorial Hospital in Rupert, and an air ambulance later transported her to Saint Alphonsus.

Jones was wearing a seatbelt at the time of the crash, and alcohol is not believed to be a factor.

Jones' chief of staff Brandon Woolf told the Associated Press she was on a personal trip and returning from eastern Idaho when the crash occurred.

Jones was elected state controller in 2006, after serving 12 years in the Idaho House of Representatives.

In a release late Friday, Jones' staff said her family "appreciates the outpouring of concern and community support for their mother."

The state controller is the chief fiscal officer of the state of Idaho, responsible for maintaining its financial records and paying its bills.

Tutoring Classes Could Fill Gap

TWIN FALLS • When the Southern Idaho Learning Center closed, it left a void for struggling students needing extra help.

But starting June 11, tutoring classes will be offered once again by Kara Kelly — formerly the educational director at the learning center.

"I knew when the center closed that I wanted to keep serving students," she said.

After the center closed in December, Kelly offered tutoring classes in Buhl and Jerome. She has her own program called STEPS — Student, Tutor, Educator & Parent Support.

Now, she's starting classes in downstairs classrooms at

Food Safety in the Summer Heat

Summer is almost here, which means lots of outdoor picnics and family gatherings. I would like to know how to best keep hot and cold foods safe for my family.

— Sherry, Rupert

Answered by Trina Lewis, General Manager, St. Luke's Food & Nutrition Services:

When enjoying the great outdoors this summer, it is important to remember some key factors in food safety. Hot and cold foods need to be handled differently. For cold foods, you should not keep foods out for more than four hours. Make sure cold food stays cold, like potato salads, pasta salads or fruit. It's best to keep these foods in an ice bath, which means your bowl of cold food is surrounded by a bowl or container of ice.

Purchasing a kitchen thermometer and using it to regulate temperature is the best way to ensure safe food temperatures. It is recommended that you keep cold foods at a consistent temperature of less than 40 degrees. Most people think it is the mayonnaise that goes bad in potato salad, but actually the eggs and potatoes are foods that bacteria love.

You can re-use cold foods only if you have maintained the 40-degree temperature while in an outside environment. If the temperature has gone over 40 degrees at any time, you will want to throw away that food after four hours and not re-use it. The temperature danger zone is between 40 and 140 degrees, where bacteria can grow at a very fast rate and can be harmful for human consumption.

For hot foods, your best line of defense is to use a kitchen meat thermometer. To take an accurate temperature reading, put the thermometer into the center or thickest part of the meat. Any hot food item that is consistently kept at 140 de-rees or higher can be re-used at a later date. If hot foods fall below the 140 degree temperature, you have up to four hours to serve that food. Do not re-serve the hot food at a later time. As a general rule for consumers, you can re-serve hot food that has been cooled correctly, meaning the temperature has gone from 140 degrees to 40 degrees in 2 hours or less.

One of the most bacteria-prone picnic foods is fried chicken, as people think it is safe to refrigerate unused chicken for a later time. Whether the chicken is home-made or store-bought does not matter, the same hot food rule applies — keep it consistently above 140 degrees if you want to re-use it later.

When in doubt as to whether your picnic food has been out in the hot sun for too long, throw it out!

Memorial Day Means Services, Travel

TIMES-NEWS

It started as a way to honor those in the Armed Forces who have made the ultimate sacrifice for this country.

Memorial Day now means many things in Idaho — a weekend for somber ceremony and a welcoming of the summer to come.

Perhaps you'll break out the camping gear this weekend, or commemorate the holiday at one of south-central Idaho's numerous remembrances.

No matter your plans, here's a sampling of what's going on in the Magic Valley this weekend.

Out and About

CAMPING

This weekend officially kicks off the summer camping season, and there'll be plenty of Sawtooth National Forest and Bureau of Land Management campgrounds that will be open.

Be aware, however, that due to lingering snowpack in some areas a number of roads and trails might still be closed. Recreation planners suggest that you check local road and weather conditions before heading out. Full services also might not be provided at some locations, so it's important that campers come prepared by bringing their own drinking water and be prepared to haul out their own trash.

If roads are muddy, turn back. You could cause significant resource damage by traveling, hiking, biking or operating off-road vehicles on muddy roads.

BLM campsites in Idaho are allocated on a first-come, first-served basis; online reservations are not offered. For information, visit blm.gov/id.

A number of campgrounds are open in the Forest Service's Minidoka, Ketchum and Fairfield ranger districts. For information, call (208) 737-3200.

NOXIOUS WEEDS

While recreating, the Idaho Weed Awareness Campaign urges residents to take steps to avoid spreading noxious weeds throughout Idaho's great outdoors.

Officials advise:

- Learn to identify plants common to your favorite recreation areas, so you can recognize and report potential invaders.

- Avoid traveling through weed-infested areas with ATVs and other off-road vehicles. Similarly, only set up camp in weed-free areas.

- Don't pick or transport "pretty wildflowers" you can't identify — not only is it illegal, but these pretty plants might be noxious weeds whose seeds then spread to new locations.

- Check boats, trailers, and watercraft carefully after they are pulled from the water for signs of aquatic weeds such as Eurasian watermilfoil or Hydrilla.

For more information, visit www.idhoweedawareness.com

Stay Safe

WILDFIRE

The U.S. Bureau of Land Management asks recreationists to take care this weekend with fire season approaching. Plants across southern Idaho are already dry, and the BLM suggests the following tips to prevent wildfires:

- Stay on designated roads and trails when using motorized vehicles.
- Don't drive or park on dry grass or vegetation.
- Start campfires only in designated areas.

- Do not discharge, use or possess fireworks on public lands. The state of Idaho's Fire Prevention Order bans fireworks, discharging a firearm using incendiary or tracer ammunition, and burning or igniting any tire, wire, magnesium, plastic or any other hazardous or explosive material (including explosive targets).

To report any illegal activity or fires dial #FIRE or 1-800-974-2373.

TRAVEL

The Idaho State Police are conducting a special Click It or Ticket seatbelt enforcement from May 22 through June 5. Police advise vehicle drivers and passengers to stay safe and use their seatbelts, both during the busy travel weekend and year-round.

Also, the Idaho Transportation Department will suspend highway construction projects statewide for the Memorial Day weekend, except in special circumstances. Work may continue if crews are not working on a roadway open to the public, if a road is already closed and traffic is already using a designated detour, if a road is damaged in a flood or other emergency situation, or on roads with very low traffic volumes.

ITD reminds drivers not to drink and drive, to buckle up, follow posted speed limits and call 511 or check 511.idaho.gov for highway driving conditions.

"There's no greater frustration than not knowing the problem," she said. Kelly, she said, helped identify the problem and give her son the help he needed.

This summer, STEPS will offer six-week classes including 24 hours of instruction. Grouped by skill level, they'll be offered in reading, writing, spelling and math.

Classes are targeted toward students who are struggling in school or have learning disabilities.

"The students are frustrated," Kelly said. "They're trying, but not getting it."

Kelly plans to serve as many as 100 students and offer three or four classes per day. She said she'd love to see classes continue once the new school year starts.

About STEPS

To learn more about the classes, call Kara Kelly at 420-9186 or visit Stepsbykara.com. Interested parents should contact Kelly soon in order to get their child's screening done before classes start next month.

Classes cost $15 per hour of instruction or $360 for a six-week class that includes 24 hours of instruction.

For children, it can be a drag going to summer classes. The goal is to make it enjoyable, Kelly said.

"We make it as little like school as possible," she said.

She works to get students engaged, such as jumping up to answer a question. A lot of movement is incorporated, which she said is "what students need."

"Who wants to be bored in the summer?" she said.

and mosquito abatement from standing pools near the pits.

Dave Burgess of the Twin Falls Highway District said the high volume of trucks from Gordon Paving's contract with Chobani has damaged the roads and shoulders near the pits.

He hoped Gordon Paving owners Brian and Brandon Hansen would agree to a highway bond — an agreement they have worked out with other companies in the past — to take care of that damage. That didn't come through.

Brian Hansen said he had no problem fixing the damage he knew his trucks caused, like crumbling shoulders caused by trucks making wide right turns. But said he didn't want to take responsibility for all damage, which other drivers contribute to.

And, he pointed out, the Chobani project will be done within 45 days.

There were also concerns about road stability near the Filer pit and water contamination near the Hansen pit. But Gordon Paving hired Twin Falls-based EnviroMont to study the environmental impact of the pits. Dr. Saïd Dabestani, principal scientist at the company, found no adverse effects.

The company may keep operating until the commission makes its decision, said Twin Falls County Planning and Zoning Director Bill Crafton.

Idaho Schools Chief Named to Romney Advisory Group

TIMES-NEWS

Luna

BOISE • Republican presidential candidate Mitt Romney has named

Idaho public schools chief Tom Luna to his Education Policy Advisory Group.

The group includes individuals with experience in a variety of roles in K-12 education, postsecondary education and workforce training in both the public and private sectors.

In a press release, the Republican Party of Idaho states Luna was selected because of his experience in K-12 education at the local, state and federal levels, as well as his work on Idaho's Students Come First education reform laws.

"I am excited to work with Governor Romney to improve education across the country," Luna stated in the press release. "As Governor, he showed how states can truly put students first and raise academic achievement for all children. We have worked toward the same goals in Idaho, passing the most comprehensive education reform in the country to ensure every student can graduate from high school and go on to postsecondary education without the need for remediation. Now, we must make this possible for every child in every state."

Buhl to be their new chairman, replacing Gretchen Clelland.

Millington takes over during a tumultuous period for the Twin Falls County Republicans, who have seen vocal challenges at meetings from a group calling themselves the Republican Liberty Caucus.

Millington is mindful of the rift.

"You cannot come into that position without being very very concerned, cognizant of the fact that there is a definite division that has occurred over the last couple of years," Millington said, adding he wants to work with upset members rather than drive them away.

The Twin Falls County Democrats also reorganized, said Deborah Silver, who remained Twin Falls County

Millington Silver

Democratic chairwoman. But the meeting wasn't as anxiety-inducing for local Democrats.

"We don't have the contention that the Republicans do," she said.

Both Silver and Millington are keeping their eyes on coming elections, and not just the ones in November. Redistricting shifted the Magic Valley's legislative boundaries, and while the city of Twin Falls was previously split into two districts, the new District 24 encompasses the whole city — something Silver sees as an advantage.

"We have tremendous opportunity with the new district," she said.

She also predicted that the attempt to overturn the Students Come First reform laws, which will be on the November ballot, will draw out voters sympathetic to the public education system. Idaho Democrats have championed strengthening public education funding, and Silver believes Magic Valley voters will take notice.

Silver hopes the party will pick up at least one Twin Falls seat this year. But even if that doesn't happen, those candidates and the party will have name recognition and rapport with voters for 2014, she said.

Millington said he hopes to recruit quality Republican candidates for future elections, not just for state races but for city offices and school boards.

"Even though (those offices) are nonpartisan, we still should have the highest quality people," he said.

FIRE DESTROYS CASTLEFORD HOME

TIMES-NEWS

CASTLEFORD • The American Red Cross of Greater Idaho responded Thursday to a fire that destroyed a house in Castleford.

The house fire occurred at the 200 block of Oak Street. Disaster volunteers assisted two adults and four children affected by the fire, according to a Red Cross press release.

Red Cross caseworkers provided the family with money for food, clothing and shelter to meet their immediate needs. The Red Cross also paid for the family to stay five days in a Twin Falls motel.

Though the press release said the fire occurred Friday, dispatchers with the Southern Idaho Regional Communications Center said it happened Thursday.

Further details on the blaze were unavailable Friday. A call to the Red Cross wasn't returned Friday afternoon, nor was an attempt to reach first-responders involved in the incident.

URA Plans Special Tuesday Meeting on Chobani Funds

TIMES-NEWS

TWIN FALLS • The Twin Falls Urban Renewal Agency will hold a special meeting at 3 p.m. Tuesday to discuss extending and increasing its line of credit with Chobani by nearly $6 million.

URA Executive Director Melinda Anderson said the URA and Chobani signed a line of credit agreement last year for $17.3 million. The reason: Neither the city nor the URA had the money to make required infrastructure improvements, including water system work, for Chobani to move in.

So the URA borrowed the money from Chobani at a 3 percent interest rate. But because the bond money is taking longer to come in than expected, the agency hopes to extend the maturity date on the loan from June 1 to July 30 to give it extra time.

Some of the water projects ran into unforeseen expenses, Anderson said, so the agency is also trying to increase the credit line to about $23 million.

The URA meets at Twin Falls City Council Chambers, located at 305 3rd Ave. E.

WOMAN GETS TO AT LEAST 30 YEARS IN UNCLE'S MURDER

ST. MARIES (AP) • A mentally ill woman who shot and beat her uncle last year and burned his body in a fire pit has been sentenced to 30 years to life for his murder.

Melisa R. Bates was sentenced Thursday by 5th District Court Judge Fred Gibler.

Last month, following court-ordered mediation, the 28-year-old Bates entered an Alford plea to second-degree murder in the May 15, 2011 death of 43-year-old Robert R. Marek of St. Maries. In an Alford plea, the defendant doesn't admit guilt, but acknowledges prosecutors have enough evidence to gain a conviction.

Gibler cited a recent mental-health evaluation of Bates, which "strongly recommended" that she be held in a secure facility because she poses a significant risk to the community.

Defense attorney Will Butler says Bates' mental illness began showing up in her early teens.

Attorneys for Condemned Inmate Say He's Innocent

BY REBECCA BOONE
Associated Press

BOISE • The attorney representing a death row inmate scheduled to die in two weeks says he has passed a polygraph test that proves he's innocent.

Richard Albert Leavitt was convicted of the 1984 stabbing murder of Blackfoot resident Danette Elg. Prosecutors said he stabbed her repeatedly and then cut out her sexual organs. He is scheduled to be put to death by lethal injection on June 12.

But Leavitt has long maintained his innocence in the case, and now his attorney, David Nevin, is asking the federal court to accept a polygraph test as proof of that claim. Polygraph tests are typically not admissible as evidence in court.

Nevin is also asking for the court to allow DNA testing on some evidence from the crime scene. The judge has previously turned down the request, saying he doubted the "proposed testing would bring favorable results."

But Nevin contends that it's not possible to know what, if anything, the DNA testing will reveal until it's completed. If the blood of a third person were found at the scene, that would be exculpatory, Nevin said.

"The state is rushing headlong into executing an innocent man. Surely it is not too much to ask that important evidence in the case be tested at no expense and no risk to the state," Nevin wrote to the court.

He also said a renowned polygraph expert, Boise State University psychology professor Charles Honts, examined Leavitt and found him to be truthful when he denied involvement in Elg's murder.

Honts asked Leavitt three questions, according to court documents: "Did you stab Danette Elg?", "Did you remove Danette Elg's internal genitals?" and "Were you present when Danette Elg was stabbed?"

Leavitt answered "no" to all three, according to the filing. Honts also found that Leavitt's breathing, heart rate and other physiological signals were consistent with those expected when someone is telling the truth.

CHEERS & JEERS

CHEERS to the Class of 2012. This week and next, seniors from the Magic Valley are graduating from high school. We wish you all the best venturing out into the world, but want you to know that you are always welcome home.

JEERS to the members of two Idaho motorcycle gangs who couldn't keep it together long enough to make a 7-year-old cancer patient's dream come true. According to a story in this week's Times-News, the 7-year-old made a wish that he wanted to be part of a motorcycle gang. Nearly 400 bikers gathered Saturday to make his wish come true when a fight broke out. Five members of the Idaho Falls-based Brothers Speed attacked two bikers from Pocatello's Empties motorcycle club. One man went to the hospital with broken bones. Police broke up the fight with a gunshot in the air. Really?

CHEERS to the hundreds of athletes across the Magic Valley who wrapped up their athletic careers at the state tournaments last week, and more importantly, donned caps and gowns at graduation this week. The close of the school year marks another successful sporting campaign for Magic Valley schools, highlighted by Lighthouse Christian's first-ever state football championship, another state golf title for the Twin Falls boys team, a 4A singles tennis championship, 25 individual track and field titles and "Mark of Excellence" awards for Oakley and Declo High Schools for their sportsmanship and work in the classroom as well as the playing field.

Thanks to All Who Participated in Burley Pride Day

On behalf of the city of Burley and the Burley Area Action Team, we would like to express our deepest appreciation to all of those good people who participated in this year's "Burley Pride Day." It was gratifying to see so many people willing to spend some time making our city look nicer by picking up trash and weeds and sweeping sidewalks and gutters.

Our thanks to the local church congregations, civic clubs, business organizations and other volunteers who worked so hard. We also want to give a very special thank you to the Burley Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary for their generous donations.

We cooked more than 240 hotdogs on Saturday for the hungry volunteers and we are grateful for the donations from Falls Brand Groceries in Burley. And a special thank you to the Burley Ag Department (Sam Condie and Lex Godfrey) for allowing us to use their wonderful grill.

We have next year's event scheduled for the Saturday after Mother's Day, which will be May 18, 2013. We hope you will join us again for this worth while event.

Thankfully yours,

More than 30 tons of Garbage Collected on Rim

May 12 was another banner year for trash cleanup at the North Rim Park. More than 30 tons of recently dumped garbage was removed from the multi-use recreation area. There appears to be an endless supply! In previous years there was more weight, due to large items like appliances and cars. Current high scrap metal prices encourage wood-be illegal dumpers to recycle, keeping them out of the desert. Officials noted improvements to the area due to the unselfish all-day efforts of the many volunteers.

Success was accomplished with generous donations from Western States Caterpillar, Cesco Equipment, Southern Idaho Solid Waste, Western Waste Systems, Jim-Bob's Bakery, AJ Electric; Columbia Electric Supply and the Jerome County commissioners, some of whom have contributed for multiple years. Magic Valley ATV riders provided the majority of volunteers and were assisted by the Bureau of Land Management; Jerome County sheriff, deputies and commissioners; MV Back Country Horsemen; and geocachers.

Hopefully, current media attention will make future dumping more difficult. If all North Rim Park users report illegal dumping activities, we can make this area a real, clean recreational asset for the entire community!

Thank You to Volunteers Who Helped Clean Canyon

Many thanks to all of the volunteers who helped to clean up the north rim of the Snake River Canyon on May 12. Each one of you has shown a personal concern toward the land that will, hopefully, one day become the Snake River Canyon Park.

We appreciate the Southern Idaho Off Roaders Association, Jerome County, the Southern Idaho Solid Waste District, the Bureau of Land Management, Western States Caterpillar, the Twin Falls ATV'ers, Jerome City, Cesco Equipment, Idaho Department of Lands and Western States Caterpillar for gifts of time, muscle, equipment and governance.

The recreational values of the north side are appreciated by scores of Magic Valley residents, and the teamwork displayed earlier this month show how involvement and cooperation can implement results enjoyed by everyone.

Thank You for Attending the Peace Officer Memorial

I wanted to take this time and thank all the Magic Valley residents who came to the Peace Officer Memorial held May 20 at the Twin Falls City Park. For those who came, you truly showed your care and concern for public safety and those who have made the ultimate sacrifice to keep our society safe. I know it meant a lot to the families who lost loved ones to see the more than 200 people who attended.

Leaders from state and local governments who spoke to the vital role of public safety include Idaho State Sen. Lee Heider, County Prosecutor Grant Loebs, Twin Falls Mayor Greg Lanting, Vice Mayor Don Hall, Councilwoman Rebecca Mills-Sojka, Police Chief Brian Pike, and Jerome County Sheriff Doug McFall. OBITUARIES

Clarence (Bud) Joseph Rausch

Jan. 29, 1937-May 23, 2012

BILLINGS, Mont. • Clarence (Bud) Joseph Rausch, 75, passed away peacefully at his Billings, Mont., home Wednesday, May 23, 2012, following a lengthy battle with Alzheimer's disease.

Bud was born Jan. 29, 1937, in Rupert, Idaho, to Albert Joseph and Elizabeth Ann Henscheid (Rausch) surrounded by a large extended family. He graduated from Rupert High School in 1954, playing football and basketball and establishing a lifelong love of sports and fitness. He turned to boxing while in college at Idaho State University (Pocatello) and became an NCAA champion in the welterweight division in 1959. Inducted in 1992, Bud was very proud of his place on the wall at ISU's Athletic Hall of Fame. Between college years, he enjoyed his time as a smoke jumper for the U.S. Forest Service. After college, he served as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army Reserve, where he also coached the boxing team at Fort Benning.

Bud moved to Billings, Mont., in 1961, where he met his wife, Sheri (Sharon Menter) and started a family. After a few years in Bozeman, Mont., they moved back to Billings, and Bud continued his 34-year career with Farmers Insurance Group Claims, retiring as claims supervisor in 1995. But it was his life as a referee that remained his passion and continued his tie to sports. Bud officiated high school and college football and basketball for 38 years and was inducted into the Montana Officials Association Hall of Fame in 2002. He treasured the camaraderie and friendships with other officials, coaches and players across the state and was well known for his practical jokes and sense of humor. An avid outdoorsman, Bud enjoyed camping, fishing and bird hunting with his family and friends and never tired of the Montana landscape. He was a member of Pryor Creek Senior Men's Association and St. Thomas Catholic Church.

Bud is survived by his wife of 50 years, Sheri; their three children, Tracy K. Rausch of Billings, Mont., Selisa C. Rausch (Tom Foubert) of Bozeman, Mont., and Carrie L. Lembke (Brad) of Chaska, Minn.; brother, David J. Rausch (Dorothy) of Spokane, Wash.; brother-in-law, Bill Rickert of Rupert, Idaho; mother-in-law, Margaret Renner of Laurel, Mont.; grandchildren, Ryan and Lucas Lembke, and Cade and Laramie Chisum; and several nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by his parents; and sister, Joan Rickert of Rupert, Idaho.

A funeral Mass will be held 11 a.m. Friday, June 1, at St. Thomas the Apostle Church, 2055 Woody Drive in Billings, Mont. Those wishing to make memorials may do so to Rocky Mountain Hospice, 2110 Overland Ave., Billings, MT 59102 or the Alzheimer's Association.

Ella Mina Hunter

Aug. 28, 1914-May 23, 2012

OAKLEY • Ella Mina "Minnie" (Helms) Hunter, 97, formerly of Oakley, Idaho, died at home Wednesday, May 23, 2012.

She was born Aug. 28, 1914, in Cottonwood, near Oakley, Idaho, the daughter of Theodore Jackson Helms and Alice May Groves. She attended schools in Cottonwood, Declo and Oakley, Idaho. Minnie, as she was lovingly called, married James LeRoy Hunter on Sept. 16, 1937, and their marriage was later solemnized in the Boise Idaho Temple of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

They had five children and adopted a sixth. She was so proud of them all. She is survived by her five children, Helen Taylor, Les and (Leslie) Hunter, daughter-in-law, Marie Hunter, Herb and (Cathy) Hunter, and LaRae and (Clyde) Warren; as well as three sisters, Virginia Mullen, Dorothy (Edward) Bush and Jackie (Jerry) Gochour; 19 grandchildren; numerous great-grandchildren, great-great-grandchildren and great-great-great-grandchildren. She is preceded in death by her parents; husband (1985); and son, James Hunter; also three sisters, eight brothers, two grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Some of Mina's favorite memories were of her time spent with Roy in the mountains while he herded sheep. She proudly raised her children. Then she opened up her heart and home to many of her grandchildren over the years, as well as her nieces, Alice and Martha Hunter, when their mother passed away. She loved them very much. She also loved any time she could spend with her children, grandchildren, nieces and nephews. After her husband died, she moved in with LaRae and lived there happily for the rest of her life. This made it possible for her to feel free to travel to each of her children's homes when she desired or when in need. She also loved spending time with her siblings. In fact, for many years she buddied around with her sister, Alice, and they were quite the pair!

She was our Angel on Earth; now she has gone to fly with the angels and watch us from above. Never will you find a greater woman. All who knew her loved her! She will be greatly missed by us all.

Friends may call from 5 to 7 p.m. Monday, May 28, at Parke's Magic Valley Funeral Home, 2551 Kimberly Road in Twin Falls. The funeral will be held at 11 a.m. Tuesday, May 29, at the Oakley LDS Church. Friends may call one hour prior at the church.

Those who wish may share condolences at www.magicvalleyfuneralhome.com. Arrangements are under the direction of Parke's Magic Valley Funeral Home of Twin Falls.

Lisa was born Feb. 23, 1923, in Reichebach, Germany, the fourth of five children of August and Friedericke Eichhorn. After serving as a nurse in the German Army during World War II, she followed one of her sisters to the United States and settled down in San Francisco, Calif., at the age of 28. Soon after, Lisa married Carmel Wilson on July 3, 1953. They moved to Fremont, Calif., and their daughter, Linda, was born in 1954. Lisa worked in the bakery industry for many years, as well as taking care of her husband who became paralyzed after a stroke at the age of 40. After retiring, she and her husband moved to Ceres, Calif., to be close to her daughter and grandchildren. Years after her husband of 41 years passed away in 1994, Lisa moved with her granddaughter, Danielle, to Twin Falls, Idaho. Lisa was a faithful member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, was loved by all that

She is preceded in death by her husband, Carmel Wilson; her parents, August and Friedericke; her sisters, Maria and Klara; and brothers, August and Erwin; as well as many other family members.

DEQ Suspends Garbage Gasifier Permit Review

BOISE • Idaho environmental regulators have suspended review of an air-quality permit for a planned garbage-to-energy plant in Boise after deciding they needed more information.

Department of Environmental Quality officials said Thursday they need more information about the basis and methodology that the company building the plant used to assess its emissions.

Regulators added they need more information about whether start-up and shut-down emissions are higher than when the plant is operating normally.

There's a lot of taxpayer money riding on the project.

Eagle, Idaho-based Dynamis has gotten $2 million from Ada County to gasify trash and produce electricity during hours when it's most in demand.

Ada County hopes the project will reduce its trash, extending its landfill's life. Dynamis chief executive officer Lloyd Mahaffey didn't immediately return a phone call.

Ombudsman Clears Officer in Dog Shooting

BOISE • An ombudsman has determined a Boise police officer acting reasonably when shooting a pit bull terrier that charged him. Boise Community Ombudsman Pierce Murphy released his findings Thursday regarding the April 9 incident.

Police say the officer had been in a Boise neighborhood that day looking for a man who failed to make a court appearance. The officer was approaching a home in the neighborhood when the 70-pound pit bull ran toward him, prompting the officer to fire his weapon.

The wounded dog died the following day at the Idaho Humane Society.

Murphy found the officer wasn't unreasonable in thinking he was about to be attacked and in taking the action he did to protect himself. Murphy reviewed the shooting at the request of two Boise residents.

TFHS Alum Signs to Go D-I

BY DAVID BASHORE
dbashore@magicvalley.com

COEUR D'ALENE

• Twin Falls High School alumna and North Idaho College softball player Brianna Bishop signed a National Letter of Intent Friday to continue her softball career at NCAA Division I Alcorn State University.

Bishop

Bishop took a visit earlier this week and committed to the spot to the historically black university of around 3,000 students.

"It's a different culture but I love it," said Bishop. "Everyone was super nice, and that was the first thing I noticed. The coach would take me around to meet all these people and they were all so nice and friendly, like I was their best friend and they'd known me for ever."

Bishop cited the school's small-town feel as another selling point. Alcorn State is located in Lorman, Miss., an unincorporated community near the Louisiana border with a population estimated in the low 4,000s.

It might be small, but it's the Division I dream, something that might not have happened immediately after leaving Twin Falls.

"It's going to be nice that it's a smaller school and not one of the huge D-Is that would overwhelm me. But it's nice that I have experience from a junior college going in, which is big reason why I can go in and play right away," Bishop said.

As Hamilton Went, Buhl Went

BY DAVID BASHORE
dbashore@magicvalley.com

BUHL • Immediately, Kendyl Hamilton knew she'd made a huge mistake.

Kendyl Hamilton

By the Numbers
Batting Average: .476
Extra-base hits: 19
Home Runs: 7
RBI: 48

Honorable Mention

Colby Argyle, Jerome - Pitched the Tigers to within a game of their third straight state tournament appearance.
Rainey Dyreson, Twin Falls - Decimated opposing bats with a 0.9 ERA and 142 strikeouts. Hit an even .500 at the plate.
Karly Hudelson, Canyon Ridge - Moved to shortstop to anchor the Riverhawks' defense.
Caitlyn Roe, Filer - Batted .648 with 54 RBI in her only season here after moving from Alabama.
Jensen Upton, Kimberly - Caught and provided leadership for a young Bulldog team that won its seventh straight district title.

The Buhl center fielder failed to tag up in a timely fashion in the Indians' district championship game against Kimberly, ultimately getting thrown out at home for the final out in a 6-5 loss.

"I got my secondary (lead) and then didn't get back quick enough," she said. "I felt bad. I knew there were other things that lost the game, it wasn't all me, but that (it was the last out) really added to it."

All wasn't lost for Buhl, as the team had another chance to make it to state. What Hamilton did with that chance exemplifies why she's the 2012 Times-News softball player of the year.

In the Class 3A state play-in game against Snake River, Hamilton hit for the cycle and drove in five runs as Buhl advanced to state with a 15-8 win.

That launched the team's state tournament run, where the Indians finished fourth.

"Special kids do special things like that. It was the last out, but it's not what lost it for us. As a kid with her experience and the special abilities she had, she took it back on herself and said 'you know, I can do better,'" said Buhl coach Derrik Brinkman. "As a coach you can't ask for much more than that, kids that want to step up and say, 'I made a small mistake but I want to make up for it.'"

Buhl's season mirrored Hamilton's. Both started off hot, then faded mid-season and surged down the stretch. She finished the season batting .476 with seven home runs, driving in 48.

As the Walla Walla Community College signee went, so did the Indians.

"Kendyl's been an asset for Buhl since her freshman year. We've had some good softball teams, but for this year, she undoubtedly was the offensive leader.

LINDA BRITTSAN FOR THE TIMES-NEWS

Winged Machines to Land at Speedway

BY LINDA BRITTSAN
For the Times-News

TWIN FALLS • Tonight, the newly formed Canadian-American Western Winged Sprintcar Series kicks off the 2012 season by bringing its unique brand of high-speed action to Magic Valley Speedway.

With engines that can produce up to 750 horsepower and speeds up to 160 miles per hour, the open-wheeled vehicles are the fastest things to hit the track this season. Ensuring that the tires on the vehicles stay on the ground an upper wing, or spoiler, is used to increase the down force on the car. The wing is adjustable so the amount of downforce can be changed to compensate for the car's weight. There is also a nose wing, usually one-third smaller, that helps keep the front wheels down.

Saturday's event launches a three-track, two-state tour for the series. Assuming a field of 24 cars, the main event purse at MVS will total $8,500 with the race winner collecting $1,000 of the prize money for the victory. Cash awards are also given for finishing order in the heat races and for qualifiers with the top speeds of the night.

Sierra Jackson, 19, of Middleton, will be among the drivers from the western United States and Canada to compete in the events.

Wild Season in Magic Valley Softball

BY RYAN HOWE
rhowe@magicvalley.com

It was a wild softball season in District IV. Here are some of the highlights:

Feeling Consoled

District IV swept the fourth-place trophies at state. Twin Falls in 4A, Buhl in 3A and Declo in 2A all lost their first-round state tournament games, but battled back to win their consolation finals.

Bruin Cubs

Twin Falls finished with an astounding 24-4 record, beat two-time defending league champ Jerome 11-1 for the District IV title and nabbed a fourth-place finish at state.

Not too shabby for a team with only three seniors.

The Bruins upperclassmen — catcher Allie Johnson, shortstop Brylee Bartlett and third baseman Liz Tolbert — provided the leadership, but the rest of the team was made up of mostly sophomores. Few expected the Bruins to vie for a conference championship, much less win state tournament games. But that's exactly what these youngsters did.

Scary to think what they'll do next year with a little experience under their belts.

Four!

Despite breaking in a new player at seven different positions, the Declo softball team won its fourth Class 2A District IV title in a row. And with seven starters returning next season — including pitcher-catcher combo Stormie Kidd and Chancey Knopp — the Hornets want one for the thumb.

BAD DAY FOR LOCALS AT NATIONAL TRACK MEETS

TIMES-NEWS

TWIN FALLS • The championship dream is over for three former District IV prep athletes.

Minico grad Hayli Worthington and former Burley standout Diana Blauer were each eliminated Friday in the NCAA Division I West Regional track and field qualifier in Austin, Texas.

Worthington, competing for Idaho State University, finished 21st in the women's 400-meter hurdle quarterfinals. She improved her time and standing from the first round, completing the circuit in 59.78 seconds.

Blauer, competing for Brigham Young University, finished 20th in the high jump, hitting 1.76 meters. The height was good enough to advance but Blauer lost out by not clearing it at the first attempt.

Idaho thrower and Jerome grad Sara Nutsch will compete in the women's hammer today.

The top 12 in each event advance to the national championship meet in Des Moines, Iowa.

In the NAIA meet at Marion, Ind., Gooding graduate Austin Basterrechea abandoned his decathlon challenge on Thursday.

Basterrechea, competing as a sophomore for the College of Idaho, was injured on his first attempt in the long jump, the second event of the competition.

Fellow Gooding grad and College of Idaho athlete Audrey Youren will compete in the high jump today.

Attila Signs With Hawaii Pacific

BY STEPHEN MEYERS
smeyers@magicvalley.com

TWIN FALLS • Kevin Attila better pack his surf gear.

The College of Southern Idaho reserve guard is heading to Hawaii Pacific after signing a National Letter of Intent at the NCAA Division II school on Friday.

"Even though it's taken me a while, I wanted to find a spot that was right for me and you can't beat being on the beach in Hawaii," Attila said from his home in La Grande, Ore., Friday. "It's going to be a great experience. I was not quite sure what I was going to do and this opportunity came along."

Attila, who averaged 4.2

points in 17.3 minutes this season as a sophomore for the Golden Eagles, flirted with the opportunity to walk on at Boise State, but instead chose the Division II route with the opportunity for heavy playing time.

"I was close to walking on and going to Boise State, but out of nowhere this offer came and I thought about it for a while," Attila said. "They had been recruiting me three or four weeks ago, but the interest kind of went away for a while, so I was surprised when they got back with me. They wanted me to come in and play right away and be an impact player."

A 3-point and defensive specialist, Attila sees himself stepping in at the 2-guard position for Hawaii Pacific, which went 11-15 overall and 6-12 in the Pac West conference last season.

"Kevin took on more of a leadership role this season, setting an example to the younger guys of what a great work ethic looks like," said CSI head coach Steve Gosar. "He is a great testament to what hard work can do. He was the hardest working guy on the team, trying to keep that winning tradition alive at CSI."

When we needed a hit, she came up with it," Brinkman said. "She dipped when we dipped this year, but when we needed her most in the playoff game against Snake River, she was there."

Next year Hamilton will join a couple of other Magic Valley products in the college game. Brinkman says she doesn't have a weakness to shore up at the next level, but a lot of her game needs polish.

Hamilton agreed, and has already started meeting that challenge.

"I'm excited to go up there and play, and continue with softball," she said. "I think I've just got to work on everything. That's going to be the biggest thing, hitting it this summer and getting into shape for college."

Speedway

But don't expect her to be intimidated. Jackson made history in 2011 becoming the first woman and the youngest driver to win the National Sprintcar Racing Association Championship.

"I'm excited to run at the new tracks with all the drivers," Jackson said in a recent press release. "I have been successful with the NSRA, but I am hopeful to win a new championship and get more experience."

Unfortunately Jackson and her crew recently experienced a costly setback.

"We blew up our new motor," crew chief and Sierra's father Mike Jackson said. "It was brand new, we had just got it. But we'll be working until late Friday night putting it together to get it there. Then if we win we'll be happy, if we get second we'll be bummed. We have every intentions of doing good. We should be in the hunt for the win. But it ain't going to be no cake walk. There's going to be some really good competition."

Jackson holds the track record at MVS, making the one-third mile loop in just 12.062 seconds on July 31, 2010.

"I think there will be two or three cars that will break that track record Saturday night," Mike Jackson added.

Series organizer Adam Nelson expects about a dozen race teams from the Boise area as well as five teams from Canada, about 10 from the Salt Lake City area and some of the top drivers from the ASA Northwest Sprintcar Racing Association, which pulls drivers from Idaho, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia.

Other Boise-area drivers to look for include reigning Meridian track champion Mike Murgotio and top 2011 NSRA rookie Johnny Giesler. Another Meridian racer, Bryan Warf, is expected to compete as well.

Asphalt Speed Week will continue as the group heads to Rocky Mountain Raceway near Salt Lake City for a Memorial Day competition May 28. Later in the week they will meet at Meridian Speedway for a Wednesday night race May 30, along with a two-day "Diamond Cup" show June 1 and 2.

"It's a new venue," series organizer Adam Nelson said. "And we're excited that (Magic Valley promoter) Eddy McKean would invite the Western Winged Sprintcars to race at his facility."

Also from Meridian Speedway the Supers and the Hornets drivers meet up for a special night of on-the-road competition.

Bishop

"It was a good experience to go through junior college first."

Bishop batted .294 with nine home runs and 41 RBI as the Cardinals' starting second baseman in 2012. She said the Alcorn State staff views her as the Braves' everyday second baseman next season.

Tickets are $18 for adults with varying discounts for military personnel with ID, senior citizens and children ages 7-11. Children 6 and younger are admitted free. Family passes are also available.

Gates open at 4 p.m., and racing begins at 6:30.

Cliff-Ryan Wins Exergy Tour First Stage

ASSOCIATED PRESS

NAMPA • Theresa Cliff-Ryan won the first stage of the Exergy Tour on Friday, beating out German Ina Yoko Teutenberg in a sprint after 102 riders wound their way through the countryside near southern Idaho's Snake River.

Cliff-Ryan finished the rainy 76.7-mile stage in 3 hours, 16 minutes.

Australian Rochelle Gilmore was third.

Teutenberg, a German Olympian from 2000 hoping to compete in the London Games this summer, took the five-day race's overall lead.

Cliff-Ryan rides for the Exergy 2012 team and is a teammate of U.S. gold medalist Kristin Armstrong, the Boise-based rider who crashed in Thursday evening's prologue and broke her left collarbone. Armstrong had surgery Friday but arrived in Nampa in time to see Cliff-Ryan cross

ASSOCIATED PRESS

U.S. Olympic gold medalist Kristin Armstrong talks to reporters Friday in Nampa. Armstrong underwent surgery on Friday to repair the collarbone she broke Thursday night in the prologue of the Exergy Tour cycling race. Armstrong vowed that the injury wouldn't keep her from riding in the London Olympics.

the finish line in the lead, her arms raised.

"I just wanted to give her a big hug, but I knew I had to be careful," Cliff-Ryan said, referring to Armstrong.

The race continues Saturday in Kuna with a 10.4-mile time trial, which at the start of the Exergy Tour was billed as a showcase matchup between Armstrong, the gold medalist from Beijing, and her two biggest rivals for the U.S. time trial team in London, Amber Neben and Evelyn Stevens. Armstrong's injury scuttled that.

Alabama last summer. The Filer senior hit .648 with 54 RBIs to go along with her 4.0 GPA.

She will continue to call Idaho home as she joined the 2012-2013 recruiting class of the College of Southern Idaho this week.

Crazy SCIC

It was an exciting South Central Idaho Conference District IV tournament. Buhl's Cassidee Kippes hit a walk-off bomb to eliminate Filer, 5-4. Two days later, Kimberly's Kelci Kelly gunned down Buhl's Kendyl Hamilton at the plate from right field for the final out, preserving the Bulldogs 6-5 championship game victory.

Hamilton Wasn't Finished, Though

After the loss in districts, Kendyl Hamilton made sure Buhl punched its ticket to state with an epic performance. The Indian senior hit for the cycle, going 4-for-4 with five RBIs to beat Snake River in the 3A play-in game.

Tradition Never Graduates

When three players go on to play JUCO softball, you know the program is doing something right.

You also know those are big shoes to fill.

Kimberly struggled early in the season without graduated standouts Nellie Makings, Averie Schroeder and Whitney Carlton — all four-year starters and now CSI Golden Eagles — but the Bulldogs persevered and won the District IV championship as the No. 3 seed. It was Kimberly's seventh straight district title.

The story didn't exactly have a fairy-tale ending, however, as the Bulldogs went two-and-out at the 3A state tournament for the first time in eight appearances. But this year they'll graduate only one senior, Kelci Kelly, so the next chapter promises to be another good one.

Chip Ganassi's Team Gets it Right on Carb Day

BY MICHAEL MAROT
 Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS • Target Chip Ganassi Racing has won the last four points championships and two of the last four Indianapolis 500s. After this year's trying May, the team finally got it right Friday. Ganassi's top two drivers — Dario Franchitti and Scott Dixon — finished atop the speed charts on the final day of practice, and a few hours later, Dixon handed Ganassi his first win in the Carb Day pit stop competition. Those inside the team garage are hoping it's the start to a better race day Sunday.

"For us, it was just concentrating on the car and making sure it feels decent in traffic and making sure the systems work," said Dixon, a two-time points champ and the 2008 Indy winner. "It's nice to come out of the warm-up with confidence and know that you have a car you feel happy with." Dixon, who is from New Zealand, posted the second-fastest lap in practice, 222.274 mph. The only one that went faster was his Scottish teammate, Franchitti, who had a 222.360. American Marco Andretti was third fastest at 221.702. It was a needed boost for a Ganassi team that spent most of the month trying to chase down the more powerful Chevrolet engines. Ganassi's team uses Hondas. Most expected at least Dixon and Franchitti to make the Pole Day shootout, but none of Ganassi's four drivers made it into the top nine to vie for the actual pole. Graham Rahal was the top qualifier at No. 12, while Charlie Kimball, Dixon and Franchitti qualified 14th, 15th and 16th. But just when it looked like Ganassi's team was struggling on the Brickyard's 2.5-mile oval, the team pulled off a rare double-taking the top two spots on the speed charts and then giving the team owner his first win in the pit stop competition. Dixon's crew defeated the crew of Panther-Dreyer & Reinbold Racing driver Oriol Servia by about three seconds in the final round of the competition. Ganassi had finished as the runner-up three times. "It's nice to have days like this and moments for the guys because, you know, they are forgotten sometimes and they prepare harder than all of us," Dixon said after the pit stop win.

"There's been a few changes and things like this, but today was flawless. They didn't make a mistake." Ana Beatriz, who drives for Andretti Autosport, was the only driver who did not complete a lap in practice.

Apple CEO Cook Gives Up $75M in Stock Dividends

NEW YORK (AP) • Apple CEO Tim Cook is giving up $75 million in dividends on restricted stock that the company is awarding to all of its employees.
In a filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission on Thursday, Apple Inc. said that Cook requested that his restricted stock units not receive dividends. The dividends that Apple workers are getting amount to $2.65 per quarter for each restricted stock unit held. The shares are not normally eligible to receive dividends, so Apple's decision is a perk for its employees. The decision comes two months after Apple introduced a regular dividend and authorized a $10 billion stock buyback program to start giving some of its cash hoard back to shareholders.

In this Jan. 4, 2011 file photo, Sanjay Jha, Chairman and CEO of Motorola Mobility, is interviewed on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange after his company's stock began trading. Jha is one of the top 10 highest paid CEOs at publicly held companies in America last year, according to calculations by Equilar, an executive compensation data firm, and The Associated Press.

Typical CEO Made $9.6M Last Year

BY BERNARD CONDON AND CHRISTINA REXRODE
Associated Press

NEW YORK • Profits at big U.S. companies broke records last year, and so did pay for CEOs.
The head of a typical public company made $9.6 million in 2011, according to an analysis by The Associated Press using data from Equilar, an executive pay research firm.

That was up more than 6 percent from the previous year, and is the second year in a row of increases. The figure is also the highest since the AP began tracking executive compensation in 2006.

Companies trimmed cash bonuses but handed out more in stock awards. For shareholder activists who have long decried CEO pay as exorbitant, that was a victory of sorts.

That's because the stock awards are being tied more often to company performance. In those instances, CEOs can't cash in the shares right away: They have to meet goals first, like boosting profit to a certain level.

The idea is to motivate CEOs to make sure a company does well and to tie their fortunes to the company's for the long term. For too long, activists say, CEOs have been richly rewarded no matter how a company has fared — “pay for pulse,” as some critics call it.

To be sure, the companies' motives are pragmatic. The corporate world is under a brighter, more uncomfortable spotlight than it was a few years ago, before the financial crisis struck in the fall of 2008.

Last year, a law gave shareholders the right to vote on whether they approve of the CEO's pay. The vote is nonbinding, but companies are keen to avoid an embarrassing “no.”

“I think the boards were more easily shamed than we thought they were,” says Stephen Davis, a shareholder expert at Yale University, referring to boards of directors, which set executive pay.

In the past year, he says, “Shareholders found their voice.”
The typical CEO got stock awards worth $3.6 million in 2011, up 11 percent from the year before. Cash bonuses fell about 7 percent, to $2 million.

The value of stock options, as determined by the company, climbed 6 percent to a median $1.7 million. Options usually give the CEO the right to buy shares in the future at the price they're trading at when the options are granted, so they're worth something only if the shares go up.

Profit at companies in the Standard & Poor's 500 stock index rose 16 percent last year, remarkable in an economy that grew more slowly than expected.

CEOs managed to sell more, and squeeze more profit from each sale, despite problems ranging from a downgrade of the U.S. credit rating to an economic slowdown in China and Europe's never-ending debt crisis.

Still, there wasn't much immediate benefit for the shareholders. The S&P 500 ended the year unchanged from where it started. Including dividends, the index returned a slender 2 percent.

Shareholder activists, while glad that companies are moving a bigger portion of CEO pay into stock awards, caution that the rearranging isn't a cure-all.

For one thing, companies don't have to tie stock awards to performance. Instead, they can make the awards automatically payable on a certain date — meaning all the CEO has to do is stick around.

TOP CEO PAY EQUALS 3,489 YEARS FOR TYPICAL WORKER

BY SETH BORENSTEIN
Associated Press

WASHINGTON • David Simon of Simon Property received a pay package worth more than $137 million for last year, and the typical CEO took home $9.6 million, according to an analysis by The Associated Press.

Simon's $137 million is almost entirely in stock awards that could eventually be worth $132 million. The company said it wanted to make sure Simon wasn't lured to another company.

How Long it Takes Others to Make That Much

A minimum wage worker — paid $7.25 per hour, as some workers at Simon malls are — would have to work one month shy of 9,096 years to make what Simon made last year. A person making the national median salary, $39,312 by AP calculations, would have to work 3,489 years.

By the hour: Assuming Simon worked a 60-hour week, his pay was $43,963.64 per hour, or $732.73 per minute. To put that in perspective, the minimum-wage worker would have to labor for nearly three years to make what Simon earns in an hour. The average U.S. worker makes slightly less in one year than Simon makes in an hour.

Compared with America's CEO

Simon makes about 342 times the $400,000 annual salary of President Barack Obama.

Yahoo Kills 'Livestand' Just 6 Months after Debut

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) • Yahoo has killed Livestand, a tablet magazine, just six months after its debut on the iPad.
The decision announced Friday is part of the struggling Internet company's latest turnaround effort.

Last month, Yahoo Inc. told analysts it would close or combine about 50 services that haven't been performing up to expectations.
That housecleaning plan was drawn up by Yahoo's former CEO, Scott Thompson, who lasted at the company for an even shorter period than Livestand. Thompson's four-month stint at Yahoo ended two weeks ago when he stepped down amid a flap over incorrect information on his bio.

Yahoo interim CEO Ross Levinsohn hasn't said whether the company still plans to dump as many services as Thompson intended. A Friday post on Yahoo's corporate blog made it clear that more services will be closed, without specifying a precise number.
“When we discontinue products, it will be so that we can focus on opportunities where we lead and where we can create the most meaningful experiences for people using our products, and for our partners, developers and advertisers,” the post said.

Yahoo began working on Livestand in 2010 after it became clear Apple Inc.'s iPad was going to be popular. But the tablet magazine didn't hit the market until last November, well after a similar iPad application called “Flipboard” had already attracted a large audience.

NJ Man Charged with Murdering NY Boy in 1979

BY COLLEEN LONG AND LARRY NEUMEISTER
Associated Press

NEW YORK • Thirty-three years to the day after 6-year-old Etan Patz vanished without a trace while walking to catch a school bus, a man accused of strangling him and dumping his body with the trash was arraigned on a murder charge on Friday in a locked hospital ward where he was being held as a suicide risk.

A lawyer for Pedro Hernandez, who was a teenage convenience store stock clerk at the time of the boy's disappearance, told the judge that his client is mentally ill and has a history of hallucinations.

Hernandez, now 51, appeared in court on Friday evening via video camera from a conference room at Bellevue Hospital, where he was admitted earlier in the day after making comments about wanting to kill himself.

The legal proceeding lasted only around 4 minutes. Hernandez didn't speak or enter a plea, but his court-appointed lawyer, Harvey Fishbein, told the judge that his client was bipolar and schizophrenic and has a "history of hallucinations, both visual and auditory."

A judge ordered Hernandez held without bail and authorized a psychological examination to see if he is fit to stand trial.

Hernandez was expressionless during the hearing. He wore an orange jumpsuit and handcuffs. A police officer stood behind him.

The prosecutor who appeared in court, Assistant District Attorney Armand Durastanti, said it was "33 years ago today that 6-year-old Etan Patz left his home on Prince Street to catch his school bus. He has not been seen or heard from since. It's been 33 years, and justice has not been done in this case."

Hernandez, a churchgoing father now living in Maple Shade, N.J., was arrested Thursday after making a surprise confession in a case that has bedeviled investigators and inspired dread in generations of New York City parents for three decades.

NATION & WORLD BRIEF

Former Prison Employee Charged for Sex with Inmate. A former Idaho Department of Corrections officer has been arrested on suspicion of having sexual contact with an inmate while the inmate was being treated at a Boise hospital. Sebastian Lieber was hired by IDOC last June and worked at the Idaho Maximum Security Institution south of Boise. He was placed on paid leave on April 9 and resigned April 18. The charge of sexual contact with a prisoner is a felony. Idaho Department of Correction's Office of Professional Standards investigated the case before turning it over to the Ada County sheriff's office. Officials did not immediately say when the alleged sexual contact occurred.

Dragon Makes History with Space Station Docking

BY MARCIA DUNN
Associated Press

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. • The private company SpaceX made history Friday with the docking of its Dragon capsule to the International Space Station, the most impressive feat yet in turning routine spaceflight over to the commercial sector.

It marked the first time a business enterprise delivered a supply ship to the space station.

"There's so much that could have gone wrong and it went right," said an elated Elon Musk, the young, driven billionaire behind SpaceX.

"This really is, I think, going to be recognized as a significantly historical step forward in space travel — and hopefully the first of many to come."

SpaceX still has to get its Dragon back next week with a load of science gear;

the retro bell-shaped capsule is designed to splash down into the ocean, in the style of the Mercury, Gemini and Apollo programs. But Friday was the crucial step, Musk noted, and NASA agreed the next SpaceX mission could come as early as September.

After a three-day flight from Cape Canaveral, the Dragon closed in on the space station as two control centers — NASA in Houston and SpaceX in Hawthorne, Calif. — worked in tandem. A problem with the capsule laser-tracking system prompted SpaceX controllers to order a temporary retreat, but the problem quickly was resolved.

NASA astronaut Donald Pettit used the space station's 58-foot robot arm to snare the gleaming white Dragon as the two craft soared 250 miles above Australia, a day after a practice fly-by.

"Looks like we've got us a dragon by the tail," Pettit announced once he locked onto Dragon's docking mechanism.

NASA's dressed-up controllers applauded. In contrast, their SpaceX counterparts — including Musk — lifted their arms in triumph and jumped out of their seats to exchange high fives.

The company's youthful-looking employees — the average age is 30 — were still in a frenzy when Musk took part in a televised news conference a couple hours later. They screamed with excitement as if it were a pep rally and chanted, "E-lon, E-lon, E-lon," as the 40-year-old Musk, wearing a black athletic jacket with the SpaceX logo, described the day's events.

Alcohol was banned from the premises during the crucial flight operation, Musk noted, "but now that things are good, I think we'll probably have a bit of champagne and have some fun." The crowd roared in approval.

Egypt Results Point to Deeply Divisive Runoff Race

BY LEE KEATH AND SARAH EL DEEB
Associated Press

CAIRO • The Muslim Brotherhood's candidate and a veteran of ousted leader Hosni Mubarak's autocratic regime will face each other in a runoff election for Egypt's president, according to first-round results Friday. The divisive showdown dismayed many Egyptians who fear either one means an end to any democratic gains produced by last year's uprising.

More than a year after protesters demanding democracy toppled Mubarak, the face-off between the Brotherhood's Mohammed Morsi and former air force chief and prime minister Ahmed Shafiq looked like a throwback to the days of his regime — a rivalry between a military-rooted strongman promising a firm hand to ensure stability and Islamists vowing to implement religious law.

"The worst possible scenario," said Ahmed Khairy, spokesman for the Free Egyptians Party, one of the secular, liberal parties that emerged last year. Speaking to the Al-Ahram daily, he described Morsi as an "Islamic fascist" and Shafiq as a "military fascist."

He said he did know which candidate to endorse in the June 16-17. Many Egyptians face the same dilemma, with no figure representing a middle path of reforming a corrupt police state without lurching onto the divisive path of strict implementation of Islamic law.

The head-to-head match between Morsi and Shafiq will likely be a heated one. Each has die-hard supporters but is also loathed by significant sectors of the population.

AU, Somali Forces Capture Town Outside Mogadishu

BY ABDI GULED AND JASON STRAZIUSO
Associated Press

MOGADISHU, Somalia • African Union and Somali troops seized a town on the outskirts of Mogadishu on Friday from Islamist militants after three days of fighting, marking the biggest victory over al-Shabab since the pro-government forces took control of the capital last August.

A top United Nations official, meanwhile, announced that a presidential election in Somalia will be held on Aug. 20 — with votes cast by lawmakers instead of by ordinary Somalis because of continued insecurity in the country.

Lt. Col. Paddy Ankunda, the spokesman for African Union forces, said the troops moved into Afgoye on Friday and that most of the town was under the coalition's control.

More than 300,000 internally displaced Somalis live in and around Afgoye, located 30 kilometers (20 miles) north of Mogadishu. Thousands fled the area in overloaded vans and donkey carts the previous two days amid gunfire and explosions.

African Union "and Somali troops are here now, and al-Shabab abandoned the town," resident Aden Muse said by phone. "The fighting has stopped and people are indoors. We hope no more fighting will happen." Soldiers have taken positions in the police and district headquarters, residents said.

"Tomorrow will be a new beginning for us," said another resident, Ubah Salad.

The U.N. representative for Somalia, Augustine Mahiga, said Friday at a news conference in neighboring Kenya that the pro-government forces needed to capture Afgoye for military and humanitarian reasons. He said al-Shabab manufactured its bombs in Afgoye and that the town "controls the exit and the entries to Mogadishu.

"And it has been the military concentration and headquarters of the Shabab. Hitting Afgoye would make a significant military breakthrough in the region of Mogadishu," the U.N. official said.

The Afgoye corridor between Mogadishu and Afgoye is home to the largest concentration of internally displaced people in the world, Mahiga added. He said aid agencies plan to begin helping them.

The U.N. recently approved a near doubling of the African Union force to more than 17,00 troops. Mahiga cautioned that the new troops are deploying far from Mogadishu and that, with pro-government forces being stretched, insurgents could infiltrate back into areas that have already been seized near the capital.

GOP'S ANTI-TAX PLEDGE LOSES SOME STEAM

BY ROSALIND S. HELDERMAN
The Washington Post

WASHINGTON • In GOP activist circles it is known simply as the pledge, and over the past 25 years it has become the essential conservative credential for a whole generation of Republicans seeking elective office in a party defined by its implacable opposition to raising taxes.

Of the 242 Republicans serving in the House of Representatives, all but six have signed the the anti-tax pledge that has emerged as a key enforcement mechanism of the Republican orthodoxy on taxes.

But now, an increasing number of Republicans running for Congress are declining to sign the pledge. It is a small sign that could signal a big shift in the GOP's politics on taxes amid spiraling national deficits.

Of the 25 candidates this year promoted by the National Republican Congressional Committee as "Young Guns" and "Contenders" — the top rungs of a program highlighting promising candidates challenging Democrats or running in open seats — at least a third have indicated they do not plan to sign the Norquist pledge.

Two of the seven candidates promoted by the NRCC as the "Young Gun Vanguard" — candidates competing in open seats that are considered Republican-leaning — have also declined to sign.

Authored by anti-tax crusader Grover Norquist, the pledge compels candidates to resist any effort to raise tax rates for individuals and businesses. They also pledge to oppose the elimination of tax credits and deductions unless they are matched dollar-for-dollar with other tax cuts.

Norquist insists Americans for Tax Reform, the powerful group he founded in 1986, is ahead of schedule in collecting pledge signatures from congressional candidates for the year.

But among Republican challengers, there are defections.

Republican candidates declining to sign generally indicate that they nevertheless oppose tax hikes. But some are chaffing against the constraint on the eliminating tax loopholes, believing those restrictions limit Republicans' ability to negotiate seriously with Democrats on a deal to tackle the nation's mounting debt.

In Pennsylvania, Republican state Rep. Scott Perry said he was disappointed to see his party's presidential candidates — all but one of whom signed the pledge — uniformly indicate in a debate last year they would reject a deficit reduction deal that paired $1 in revenue increases for every $10 in spending cuts.

"I just think it's imprudent to hem yourself in where you can't make a good agreement that overall supports the things you want to do," said Perry, who said he generally opposes tax increases but recently won a Republican primary in a conservative district over candidates who had signed the pledge. "I just don't see what the point of signing would be for me. . . . I've got a record, and everyone who wants to know where I've been and where I'm at can look to that."

Vatican Tracks Down Document Holder

VATICAN CITY (AP) • The Vatican said Friday that it has arrested someone for illegally holding secret documents as it tries to get to the bottom of an embarrassing leaking scandal.

Spokesman the Rev. Federico Lombardi declined to immediately identify the person, other than to say he was a layman. He has been arrested and Vatican judicial authorities are examining his case.

Vatican documents leaked to the press in recent months have pointed to power struggles and accusations of corruption touching senior Vatican cardinals. In one case, a cleric who complained was reportedly sent to Washington as papal envoy to get him out of the Vatican.

In another case, Vatican officials have accused the president of the Vatican bank of leaking confidential documents. He was ousted by the board Thursday.

THE ACES ON BRIDGE

Bobby Wolff

"There are two paths for human feet — One bordered by a duty plain, And one by phantoms cursed, yet sweet, Bewildering heart and maddening brain."

— Henry Herbert

When today's deal was played at the Dyspeptics Club, South was at the reins in his favorite contract of three no-trump. West led the heart 10, dummy contributed the queen, and East the king. South gave very little thought to ducking the trick — he tried it once and didn't like it. Instead, he won with his ace and took a losing club finesse. East cleared hearts, and declarer held up his jack (for no particular reason), won the next heart, and finessed in spades. West won and cashed out the hearts for down one, while South was mournfully complaining about a gypsy's curse that he claimed had doomed every finesse he would ever take for the rest of his life.

North, noting that both diamond honors were also badly located, asked if South would be prepared to bet against the fate of the contract in the hands of a competent declarer. South agreed to the bet, but what had North seen that South had missed?

Say declarer ducks the first trick, wins the heart return, and plays the spade queen from hand next. The defense is now powerless, since West's entry card has been dislodged. Declarer can win the return and go after clubs, secure in the knowledge that if the finesse loses, the nondanger hand, East, will have no way to reach West for his good hearts.

This example of attacking the entry to the danger hand first is especially hard to spot because the spades have to be led from hand.

ANSWER: You have a splendid hand on the auction, more than enough to bid four hearts. But just in case partner is interested in slam, you should bid four clubs to give your partner an additional option if a 4-4 club fit is best for slam. That could easily be right if your partner has a doubleton spade ace or king and five hearts, along with four or five clubs.

We Know The Value Of Living In Idaho!
208-734-5650 • AmericanRealEstateTwinFalls.com

Today is Saturday, May 26, the 147th day of 2012. There are 219 days left in the year.

Today's Highlights:
On May 26, 1942, the U.S. War Department formally established the Armed Forces Radio Service (AFRS) during World War II as a way of boosting morale among American troops overseas. That same day, Radio Tokyo boasted of recent victories in the Pacific War and declared that "the Japanese people can look forward to a triumphal march into London and a victory march in New York." The Tule Lake Segregation Center, which held Japanese-American wartime internees, opened in northern Calif.

TODAY IN HISTORY

On this date:
In 1521, Martin Luther was banned by the Edict of Worms because of his religious beliefs and writings.

In 1868, the impeachment trial of President Andrew Johnson ended with his acquittal on the remaining charges.

In 1938, the House Un-American Activities Committee was established by Congress.

In 1940, the evacuation of more than 338,000 Allied troops from Dunkirk, France, began during World War II.

In 1941, the American Flag House, where Betsy Ross once lived, was donated to the city of Philadelphia.

In 1952, representatives of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany signed the Bonn Convention granting conditional sovereignty to, and ending the Allied occupation of, West Germany.

In 1960, U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge accused the Soviets of hiding a microphone inside a wood carving of the Great Seal of the United States that had been presented to the U.S. Embassy in Moscow.

In 1969, the Apollo 10 astronauts returned to Earth after a successful eight-day dress rehearsal for the first manned moon landing.

In 1972, President Richard M. Nixon and Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev signed the Anti-Ballistic Missile Treaty in Moscow. (The U.S. withdrew from the treaty in 2002.)

In 1981, 14 people were killed when a Marine jet crashed onto the flight deck of the aircraft carrier USS Nimitz off Florida.

In 1992, Charles Geschke, president and chief operating officer of Adobe Systems Inc., was kidnapped in the company's parking lot in Mountain View, Calif., and held for ransom. (Geschke was rescued four days later; his kidnappers were arrested.)

Ten years ago: Fourteen people were killed when barges being pushed by a towboat crashed into the piers of the Interstate 40 bridge in Oklahoma, causing part of the structure to fall into the Arkansas River. President George W. Bush visited Paris, where he met with French President Jacques Chirac. Ivaro Uribe was elected Colombia's president. Helio Castroneves won his second straight Indianapolis 500 despite a protest filed by Paul Tracy. Roman Polanski's film "The Pianist" won the Palme d'Or at the Cannes Film Festival.

Five years ago: Iraqi Prime Minister Nouri al-Maliki, U.S. Ambassador Ryan Crocker and American commander Gen. David Petraeus flew to Iraq's blistering western desert in a rare joint outing to highlight gains there in the fight against insurgents.

One year ago: Congress passed a four-year extension of post-Sept. 11 powers contained in the Patriot Act to search records and conduct roving wiretaps in pursuit of terrorists; President Barack Obama, in France, signed the measure using an autopen machine minutes before the provisions were set to expire at midnight. Astronauts Mike Fincke and Gregory Chamitoff made history as the final spacewalkers of NASA's 30-year shuttle program, completing construction of the International Space Station with the smooth addition of an extension pole. Ratko Mladic, the brutal Bosnian Serb general suspected of leading the massacre of 8,000 Muslim men and boys, was arrested after a 16-year manhunt.

DEAR ABBY: My friends and I are women in our late 40s and early 50s. Some of us are married, some are single. Individually or as a group we have taken classes, volunteered, gone on cruises, gone to clubs and bars — you name it.

We have noticed that nearly everyone at these activities is either female or with a female as part of a couple. There are loads of single middle-aged women out there joining things and having fun, but there seem to be almost no single middle-aged men. Friends in various parts of the country report the same thing.

Where do the single men go? They rarely go out alone or with a male buddy. Our running joke is they're all home watching bad cable TV. Middle-aged guys must be there somewhere, but where? You'd think that if they wanted to meet women, they'd go where women are, but we rarely see them. Can you solve this mystery for us?

— WHERE THE BOYS AREN'T, NORTHERN WYOMING

DEAR WHERE THE BOYS AREN'T: Part of your problem may be that most of the males in your age group are already married. I don't recommend looking for eligible men in clubs and bars because the ones who go there are usually looking for younger women.

I do suggest volunteering because it offers an opportunity to expand one's circle of acquaintances, and even if you don't meet a man there, you might meet a woman who knows someone who is eligible. I caution women who are looking for companionship not to "hunt in packs" because some men find the idea of approaching a group of women to be daunting.

The pool you're fishing in appears to be small. Have you considered looking online for men in other communities in your state? You will increase your odds of success by putting yourselves "out there" because most relationships begin as the result of luck and timing.

DEAR ABBY: I have been dating a wonderful man for two years. We're talking about marriage, but there is a problem. He has his ex's name tattooed on his backside and it's starting to bother me. I offered to pay to have it removed, but he doesn't want it off. Do I stay with him and try to get over it, or break up with him and find someone else? Help me!

— REALLY CONFUSED GIRL IN COLORADO

DEAR REALLY CONFUSED: Removing a tattoo can be expensive, time-consuming and painful. If the only deal-breaker in your relationship is the tattoo, consider asking him to turn the other cheek and have YOUR name placed opposite his ex's so you will have equal billing. A large "X" could be inked over the ex's name if it would make you feel better.

DEAR ABBY: Please settle a debate between my fiancé and me. He contends that when we're in a restaurant, it is impolite to say to your server, "I will have ..." and insists that the request should be, "May I have ...?"

I was raised to believe that either statement would be acceptable. What say you?

— QUERY-CONSCIOUS IN CALIFORNIA

DEAR Q.C.: If the server asks you, "What'll you have?" it's perfectly acceptable to respond, "I'll have ..." However, "May I have ..." sounds more refined.

If this is the only complaint your fiancé can come up with, he's a lucky man and should count his blessings.

IF MAY 26 IS YOUR BIRTHDAY: The allure of the fresh and exciting can bring you into contact with unusual people and progressive ideas between now and the middle of July. Effective leadership skills can win you recognition or earn you rewards during the upcoming six to eight weeks. Anything of major importance that you start in late June should be blessed by good luck and favorable results. Focus on creating firm commitments now while it is the best time to apply for a new job, change careers or find the soul mate you have been searching for all your life. Plan ahead so you won't need to make major transitions in October or November when your stars are less helpful.
