Flippant About America? Not These 800 Student Essayists

By MARY HELEN CLAPPER

There's been a lot of talk lately about patriotism, about Americanism, and about what should be done to preserve American democracy. There's also been a lot of talk about flippant, sly high school students, about their careless attitude toward the really important things.

But—those who talk about flippant students should read some of the 800 essays written by approximately 800 students at Twin Falls high school this past week as entries into the American Legion oratorical contest. Nearly 800 of these boys and girls have put down in black and white their own view of the world and of their duties concerning this war time. And their ideas couldn't help but show that they're for America 100 per cent—and their projects couldn't help but show that they can and do think!

Twin Falls Winner

Bill March, of Miss Dorothy Callu's senior English class, was chosen Friday by Gerald Wallace, debate coach, and Mrs. Rose M. North, head of the English department, to represent Twin Falls at the district contest, to be held on Feb. 25 at Butte, under the supervision of Suplt. George Deanna, district commander of the American Legion.

His work proved outstanding as judged on the basis of construction, method and ability in delivery or presentation, and emotional appeal. But there was a surprising number of projects that were "close at his heels." According to Mrs. North, there were 50 other essays highly outstanding. One student from each class was chosen as high-ranking; Mary Jane Shearer was selected for her work in the senior class; Bill Halley proved outstanding of the junior classmen entering the contest, and Renno Teskey placed first among sophomore contestants.

High Rank

SCHOOL MEN ASK SPORTS EXPANSION

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24 (AP)—The National Federation of State High School Associations today reviewed its sports and physical training program for public high schools throughout the United States to meet wartime conditions.

Representatives of the federation, meeting in convention, issued four resolutions affecting high school athletics.

The resolutions:

1. Pre-military training in every high school with at least one hour each day devoted to physical education or sports.
2. Continuation and expansion of intercollegiate and intra-mural competitions as long as the time and equipment available will permit. When that is no longer possible, continuation of the intramural program alone with such equipment as is available.
3. Increased participation by boys in sports.
4. Three fundamental changes in high school football rules. They would provide that a forward pass may be thrown after a first pass has been completed behind the line of scrimmage. If a defense player interferes with the receiver of a pass, the ball goes back to the previous point of play and a penalty of 15 yards would be assessed. After a free catch, the team may elect to move the ball crosswise to any part of the field, eliminating coffin-corner punting.

LABOR JOINS TO AID WAR EFFORT

COEUR D'ALENE, Ida., Feb. 24 (AP)—Organized labor groups in Idaho have joined hands to put the Gem state labor movement 100 per cent behind the war effort regardless of organization or other differences.

An organization, to be known as the Idaho point labor defense committee, was formed last night, night, by Carl Redie, president of the Idaho state federation of labor (AFL), as chairman, and N. W. Williams, representative of the CIO international union of mine, mill and smelter workers, as secretary.

Representatives of nearly every AFL union in the state and practically all CIO groups were present. Resolutions passed called for "all out" support of the President and the administration's war program; opposition to all jurisdictional strikes for the duration of the war; increased production in industry; a bigger defense stamp and bond drive.

The group also pledged the unions to watch for and report any appearance of sabotage or espionage and to assist generally in any way possible with civilian defense.

A second meeting was called for March 14 at Coeur d'Alene.

JEROME—An energetic agricultural community at work is provided in survey of Jerome county farming for the past year.

The county, with thousands of acres of well-irrigated land producing yields excellent in only a few places, was in strong position during 1941 and has embarked on a 1942 program of expanded production in the nation's wartime effort.

Slogan of Jerome county farmers is to "produce our way to victory."

Interesting as an outstanding "first" of last year's Farmers Congress is the manure loader shown above. Created by Bud Larson of Hansen, it has proved especially adaptable to the Ford Tractor as demonstrated above. Today it is "standard" equipment for many ranches throughout Magic Valley and is proving highly successful when used in conjunction with the varied facilities of the Ford Tractor. See it again this year in our display!

4 DEFENSE UNITS IN GOODING AREA

GOODING, Feb. 24—Four different defense units are active in Gooding county—the civilian defense, U. S. D. A. nutrition defense and the defense savings committee, according to E. J. Palmer, county agent.

Palmer outlined the Gooding county defense setup as a part of his comprehensive annual report.

Machinery Repair
U. S. D. A. In the U. S. D. A. defense program the agent has helped with organization and the first program which was checking upon the amount of machinery and repairs that are needed in the county for 1942. The next program was a farm to farm canvass to find out intentions of farmers both in crops and livestock. The county agent helped in contacting some of these farmers in filling out the questionnaire. One educational meeting was held in Gooding community with 20 farmers attending. The AAA and the forest service also cooperated.

Nutrition defense. In the nutrition defense the agent is a member of the executive committee and plans to have been made to carry on an educational program through meetings, articles, news articles, circulars, letters and pictures during the month of January to inform people of the need for proper nutrition.

Defense Savings. The agent is chairman of the defense savings committee. The committee is doing what it can to inform farmers of the need for the defense savings. Savings talks have been given before Granges and at the U. S. D. A. meetings. Hagerman, Tule and Bliss communities of the defense savings plan and helped to organize the retail merchants for sale of defense stamps in those communities. News articles have also been used.

Civilian defense. The agent is a member of the civilian defense committee representing agriculture and aided in the organization of the defense committee.

Former Minister at Gooding Gets U. S. Army Decoration

LETHA W. TESTER
GOODING, Feb. 24—The Feb. 23 issue of Life magazine carries pictures of four men under the caption, "Roll of Honor," and the following citation: "The army has awarded medals to the highest and-lowest ranks. Medals were given to general serving under MacArthur and a sergeant in Hawaii who turned in a report that planes were approaching Oahu Dec. 7."

Four men were awarded the distinguished service cross and medal. Among those four was Ralph Brown, about 30, captain in the chaplain's corps. Capt. Brown formerly served as pastor of the Methodist church in Gooding, from July, 1930, to July, 1937. He is a graduate of the University of Washington and Drew Theological seminary of New Jersey.

Gets Service Cross
Capt. Brown won the distinguished service cross because during the air attack upon Clark field in the Philippines, he courageously administered to wounded of that station.

When he was appointed army chaplain, Rev. and Mrs. Brown and their three children Warren, Peggy and Richard, left Gooding for Los Angeles, where they were stationed.

With the army post for about three years, in the fall of 1939 he was granted a two-month furlough which they spent with friends and relatives in the northwest. They sailed from San Francisco Jan. 20, 1940, for Ft. Stotsenburg, Pampanga, P. I.

A letter received in Gooding by Mrs. E. G. Randolph from the Browns (two legal size sheets of paper written single space on both sides) painted a vivid picture of the trip from mainland to Hawaii and other stops and of their arrival in the Philippines.

Honolulu Welcome
The letter contains numerous amusing incidents such as their greeting upon arrival in Honolulu. Mrs. Brown was recipient of the tendered service cross and medal.

UPHOLDS CENSURE OF PAROLE BOARD'S LENIENCY
Times-News
Allow me to congratulate you on your editorial on the Johnston case.

I have followed the actions of the parole board for many years and I have wondered how long it would be before someone would express their disapproval. I have been wondering why all this fuss and expense over a man who had just served his term.

Why not dispend with all this and have the sheriff release the accused to the parole board?

From the language of the board in concluding the recent hearing it appears to me that they are serving notice to the citizens of Idaho that the parole board is a lawless application.

I am more interested in Mr. Housh who bought a gun from Jerry Brown across the line into Gooding county and shot his wife who was living with her brother, drove back to the state and to a rooming house and went to sleep where the sheriff found him on the first bullet.

The jury found him guilty of first degree murder unanimously. After having numerous ballots there was a slight majority in favor of the life instead of hanging. I am informed that he was pardoned on a short time ago, and what I told the jury at that time has come true. A stone cold blooded murderer has never been perpetrated, yet he is at liberty and no doubt is in the pursuit of happiness. How about the jury?

M. MATSON
P. S.—I have just read in public forum comments by George Bonham on the Johnston case. One man's opinion and he is entitled to that. I don't think Dewberry, Taylor or Bonham need worry about being tried on circumstantial evidence in Twin Falls county by a 12 or 24 man jury, but I sure would hate to be tried in Twin Falls by any other county by a one man jury.

Why didn't someone howl when Southard was pardoned? No one howled. The action of the parole board, that's final. I have been howling about the Housh case every time I have seen it ever since he was convicted until this last time, and not then because I did not learn that he had applied again. Housh had hardly reached the pen before his mother spent hours with him pleading for her son. While my sympathy was with the mother I had to remind her that the girl had a mother too. Two bad for Johnston and his family—sure, but we must not forget Olson and his family. Johnston still has life and more pleasure happiness, but how about Olson?

What we need in this country is a slight change in our laws and more juries that have got the standard by their honest convictions. More hangings and less pardons, and our penitentiaries would not be overcrowded and our country would not be overrun with murderers, robbers, holdups and forgers.

KEEP JAP LABORERS OUT OF MAGIC VALLEY
Times-News
Editor, Times-News:

From recent press dispatches it appears that the Utah-Idaho Sugar company is arranging to import labor from the coast area and the governor is endorsing the plan.

Are Idaho beet growers to act as nurse maids to potential Jap saboteurs evacuated from the Pacific coast?

An old adage, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," is it timely application? Of what value is debate after the fall of a nation, whether it be Pearl Harbor or Singapore? Vigilance, vigilance, or madman sentimentalism—in other words, "toughen 'em out" or crying over what has happened, will do no good. Keep them out of here and thus eliminate complications and possible catastrophe.

Our future peace and prosperity depends upon the utilities along the Snake river. We hope there is no occasion for becoming panicky as well as after the other hand the practice of sitting idly by in smug complacency has not worked too well either.

The pacifists, isolationists, and appeasers have shown precisely what NOT to do—this is the blame and shame. Rightly love may be a euphemistic phrase but it is wholly unjustified on a day, better lavish it on a rattlesnake—like at least will give you warning when he is going to strike. Citizens are entitled for and by three utilities, let's not nullify their efforts. Don't invite disaster.

Three members of the F. F. A. accompanied by Mr. Hansen, attended a district meeting and speaking circuit of the F. F. A. Monday evening in Twin Falls. Those attending were Bill Math, Daryl Novis and Dick Holmstrom.

Clarence Davis, associate member of the local chapter F. F. A., accompanied the group to participate in the speaking circuit. He plans to go to Boise this summer to take part in the annual speaking circuit at the state convention. Winner at the convention receives a free trip to the Portland Livestock Exposition this summer.

About the last of April the local F. F. A. chapter will go to Thousand Springs on a judging trip to the Miller farm. The district F. F. A. basketball tournament will be held at Rupert as soon as provisions can be made.

Prisoner Might Face New Charge

JEROME, Feb. 24—Jack Atkinson, in Jerome county jail here serving sentence for obtaining money under false pretense, was identified this week by Deputy Sheriff Virgil H. Horden, Twin Falls, as the same man who recently wrote a worthless check at a Twin Falls motor concern recently.

Atkinson is serving a 60-day jail sentence and also fine of $40.00 including sheriff's fees.

Sheriff's authorities in Jerome also reported that Deputy Sheriff Wray, awaiting hearing in district court and now in jail here on a charge of forgery, is wanted in Idaho, will be placed in hands of Utah officers.

DEMOS URGED TO PLEDGE SUPPORT

IDAHO FALLS, Ida., Feb. 24—Gov. Chase A. Clark, speaking at a Washington's birthday banquet of southeastern Idaho Democrats, last night called on citizens to "listen to the voices from the battlefields and pledge them that we will not be found wanting" in delivering needed support.

"Whatever may be our fate, the declaration of independence will still live, and we will pass on to the generation yet unborn the American republic which Washington founded."

F. M. Billings, Pocatello, speaker of the Idaho house of representatives in 1940, spoke on development of the state's natural resources. He said proposals to develop power sites on the south fork of the Snake river and on Shoshone river in southeastern Idaho might serve as the beginning of a new public power program in the state.

For several years, paratroopers were known as "fall-breakers."

CASSIA GROWERS RECORD $265,016

BURLEY, Feb. 24.—Net grower receipts of $265,016 for hogs, sheep and wool marketed by the Cassia Livestock Marketing association, "highlighted" the annual report of County Agent W. W. Palmer.

"Extensive work was done in cooperation with the association, farmers' cooperative," explained Palmer. "Summaries for 1941 show 1,097 sheep, 5,525 hogs and 181,850 pounds of wool marketed for growers."

"With increasing prices," said Palmer in his outlook for 1942, "farmers will be confronted again with the problem of proper utilization of income."

Stabilization Essential

"It is believed the extension service should do everything possible to maintain farmers on a stabilized basis of operation with the use of additional income to improve the existing farm unit and to pay off farm indebtedness."

"Conditions that now exist or that will likely come, do not," in the opinion of Palmer, "occasion disruption of a stabilized crop rotation and farm livestock setup."

"The efficiency of management and production with the established farm system will tend unobscured with the greater income desired."

"Working with youth through 4-H club work," continued Palmer, "needs to be stressed as much as ever. Youth needs more education to run the farms in the future years."

The common practice that the boy or girl who attends college moves off the farm to work in the city, while the boy or girl who just finished the eighth grade stays home, to farm, needs to be seriously disrupted."

Understanding Needed

Regarding the various government agencies which function today in the field of agriculture, Palmer declared, "To all the farmers to understand the different efforts and how they may utilize them is undoubtedly an enormous task for the extension division."

"The purpose of these various agencies, agricultural agencies, perhaps can be radiated back to the farmer best through organizations such as county extension agents."

"It will be the attempt of the extension agent," concluded Palmer, "in every way possible to familiarize farmers with the various government agency activities."

Government Asks Idaho Beet Men to Double Their Output

The government expects Idaho farmers to raise more than twice as many sugar beets this year as they raised in 1941, Reed Lewis, agriculturalist for the Agricultural Bureau company, said here this afternoon.

Lewis stated that during 1941 there were about 45,000 acres in sugar beets in Idaho and that this year the federal government expects the farmers to plant 100,000 acres to this vital crop.

Sugar is vital not only for human consumption but also in the manufacture of explosives. For instance, a battleship takes some 22,000 pounds of sugar to fire a single broadside, Lewis pointed out. A couple of battleships, in a good pitched battle now and then could, in not too long a time, "fire" as much sugar as Idaho farmers could produce in a season.

"America is fighting a war for preservation," Lewis said. "With half of our national income already budgeted for the making of munitions and other defense goods, farmers, laborers, manufacturers and consumers alike must cooperate to make every ounce of human and mechanical energy do the greatest possible amount of work."

Essential
"One of the world's most essential food commodities is sugar. Since the war started great curtailment has been noted in sugar imports. The curtailment is both a challenge and an opportunity to American sugar beet growers."

"If we in Idaho grow beet crops or convert them into sugar, do not let us challenge with our 'all-out' efforts the country will have to look elsewhere for the balance of its sugar supply, for we must have plenty of sugar."

HOG POOL RATES HIGH AT GOODING

GOODING, Feb. 24.—The swine enterprise in Gooding county is one of the most important projects, with practically all farmers raising hogs to utilize their home grown grain, according to the yearly report for 1941 by the county agent.

Latest records show that during one year there were 25,760 head of hogs shipped out of the county. Gooding county has the largest cooperative livestock pool in the state, the report points out.

"The cooperative marketing program has been one of the most important means of improving the feeding, management and breeding of hogs since practically all of the hogs are sold through the Gooding or Wendell pool and the grower's hogs are graded in the yard where the growers themselves can see the job done," the report states.

The report also points out that during the past year favorable prices have had a tendency to increase numbers and hogs are being fed better.

A report on swine husbandry shows that Earl France, Gooding, has worked out a feeding plan whereby he feeds the sows 80 per cent chopped alfalfa and 20 per cent grain mixture until three weeks before farrowing time. At that time he changes to 50 per cent chopped alfalfa and 50 per cent grain mixture providing ample exercise for the brood sows at all times. This ration will be given to all other growers.

Sales Committee

The hog pool is managed by a sales committee with the members being Clarence Wells, Gooding; Charles Lutter, Gooding; and Robert Edman, Wendell.

This committee is elected from the members of the organization at a regular annual meeting. They decide whether or not to sell at home or to ship to a central market, and they pass on all business of the association, such as new methods, repairing and improving yards.

On Thursday of one week and the following Thursday from Wendell, leaders point out that this makes a pool in the county every week which adds farmers in getting their hogs on the market at the right weight to obtain top prices.

SOCIAL EVENTS and CLUB NEWS

O. A. C. Club Rivals "Revolutionaries" in Spirited Song Fest at Cherry Tree Ball

Members of the O. A. C. Dancing club "sang out" in a manner that would have brought the admiration of George Washington's singing army, during intermission at the Cherry Tree ball last evening at the American Legion Memorial hall.

The "Colonials" were a "singing crowd" in history records, even the Star Spangled Banner was originally a tavern song, Richard P. Duval and Howard Gerrish, two members of the host committee, led the dancers in singing two popular songs of our times, "Deep in the Heart of Texas" and "Rose O' Day," to the music of Will Wright's orchestra.

Welcoming the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Denton, Kimberly, chairman, and Judge and Mrs. O. P. Duval, Dr. and Mrs. Gordon D. Oldham, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gerrish, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Duval and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. McKelbert, members of the host committee.

Denton Reenacts Historic Legend

Emulating George Washington, Robert Denton chops down a cherry tree at the O. A. C. Dancing club's formal ball, and Mrs. Denton points him out as the culprit. Watching the "colonials" are, left to right, Mrs. Howard Gerrish, Richard Duval, Dr. Gordon D. Oldham, Judge O. P. Duval, Mrs. Duval, Howard Gerrish, Mrs. Richard Duval and Mrs. Denton, host committee members. Other members of the committee, not in the picture, were Mr. and Mrs. E. W. McKelbert. (Times-News Photo and Engraving)

Humorous Note

Entered the picture in the form of a "take off" on the cherry tree episode which has always drawn controversy from George Washington's biographers.

Centering the table and blue floor screen in the east end of the ballroom was a large black silhouette of the Revolutionary hero. Before it was placed a cherry tree, thoroughly chopped at the base, a red-handled hatchet, strategically placed, and a man, pointing toward it, asked the question, "Who done it?"

Parties Details

Red, white and blue wall panels, boxed by golden eels, and overhead arrangements of small American flags, completed the setting.

An informal hour preceded dancing.

Gin Rummy—and How It's Scored

(This is third of a series of articles on Gin rummy, the card game now sweeping the United States.)

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

In my article yesterday about gin rummy, I explained that any player may, at any time, expose his hand and end the play, if his odd cards total 10 or less.

In totaling the odd cards, face cards are counted at 10 each, the remaining odd cards, if the player plays any odd cards he can on the exposed side, then total the remaining odd cards. If the player who went down still has the lower total, he wins the difference of the totals.

Wins the Difference

But if the opponent of the down player shows an equal or lower total of 10 or less, the difference of the totals plus a bonus of 10 points.

If a player lays down a complete hand with no odd cards, this is gin and the opponent may not play any more cards on his own side. The winner is credited with the full total of the adverse odd cards, plus a bonus of 20 points.

It is usual to play for a game of 100 points. A running total is kept of the scores of each player. The game ends after the hand in which one player (or both players) reaches a total of 100 or more points. Then the difference of the totals is credited to the winner, plus a bonus of 100 for game.

The rules also provide that in settling up a game each player is credited with 25 points for each down he has scored. That does not mean that the bonus goes to the player who first laid his hand down. There is some difference of practice as to this bonus for down. In some circles it is omitted, and in others it is given to the player who laid his hand down when able—waiting for the opponent to go down and then trap him with a lower hand.

When the stock is pretty well exhausted you must try either to go "tin" or if you do go down it must be with a very low count—otherwise your opponent might trap you and not only gain the down but the bonus of 10 points.

TIN DEVELOPMENT

'STYME' CLAIMED

Every concrete effort to mine or smelt tin in America has been stymied. W. C. Davis, Twin Falls organizer for Technocracy, Inc., said emphatically here today.

Davis commented on the story of O. L. (Dad) Bates, a prospector, who believes he has found tin in Oregon "an ore body of magnitude and richness beyond question, including paying quantities of tin."

The story of Bates appeared in the Feb. 22 issue of the Times-News.

Vital for War

"Metallic tin is an essential element in industry, a vital factor in production for war," explained Davis. "America has domestic tin deposits more than sufficient to supply its needs. Yet this country imports 70 per cent of what it uses."

A prime example of the organized opposition American citizens have faced in their efforts to develop tin deposits is found in the case of a large deposit near Burns, Ore.

"Here alone 10,000 acres have been drilled and tested and the ore has been found at a depth of 180 feet, and the bottom has not yet been reached. In that part of the United States alone can be found enough tin to supply all the needs of America," Davis asserted.

Due to the "international tin committee," which he describes as a cartel with headquarters in London, "imports from half way around the world have been cut off."

In view of recent Japanese attacks on the Malay states, Netherlands East Indies, Bham, China and Burma, there is reason to believe "imports of tin from those areas may not be forthcoming."

Other leading nations which produce tin are Bolivia, Nigeria (Africa), Australia and the United Kingdom. "Twenty other countries mine tin in small and varying quantities," Davis said.

U. S. Products Little

"In the past 20 years," Davis said, "the total of ore mined yearly has run between 100-200,000 tons. Now it is higher. Of this, the U. S. has averaged about 10,000 tons since 1924, and this stock has been recovered only as a by-product of mining for other minerals, the club organizer explained.

"Proceedings of a sub-committee of the house of representatives published in 1935, indicate our government has not been ignorant of the situation, but instead has been the big holding sucker for the international tin committee," Davis charged.

Sally Rand Goes Shopping

Dancer Sally Rand went shopping at Idaho Falls, Idaho, after she disclosed she and her husband, Turk Greengrass, were "expecting." She plans to retire to Turk's Montana ranch.

The resolution was adopted Monday night at regular council session in protest because "the state insurance fund of the state of Idaho has recently increased the compensation insurance rates of this city almost 30 per cent."

Sent to Clark

The resolution was offered by Mayor Joe Koehler and just prior to its adoption, he told council members that "this will let them know how we feel about it."

Copies of the resolution were to be mailed today to Gov. Chase A. Clark and to the head of the state fund.

The city, in the resolution, requested the state insurance "and the manager thereof, to grant permission to said city to withdraw from the state insurance fund and to place its insurance with some private insurance carrier or to become a self-insurer."

Any members of the council claiming that the present rates which the city is charged are "all out of reason."

Councilmen last night, under suspension of rules, adopted ordinance 833, being to amend item 1-R of section seven of ordinance number 604 by inserting the following paragraph:

"... providing that if milk is to be pasteurized a certificate of the state bureau of animal industry showing vaccination of the herd under the supervision of the federal state health vaccination program may be accepted in lieu of the test certificate."

Can Be Withdrawn

The ordinance was adopted at suggestion of health officers and councilmen and that if it did not prove satisfactory after a reasonable time it could be withdrawn.

L. Z. (Zek) Bartlett, city chief, section seven of ordinance number 604 was being taken with an estimated actual damage of $200 while others were auto fires with very little damage.

Charles R. Greene was hired by the city as an additional guard at the municipal airport on the night of the gas-line boom, but was scarcely half way up the stairs before the explosion occurred.

At last night's session, councilmen took "time out" from 8 to 8:30 p. m. to hear President Roosevelt's address.

HOLLISTER

Mrs. Mary Claudin is expected to return home Friday from Provo, Utah, where she has been visiting for three weeks with her son, C. O. Claudin, and family. She also visited friends at Springville and Spanish Fork.

Mrs. and Mrs. Noel Larsen and children returned home from Whittier, Calif., where they spent about three months.

CITY RAPS STATE INSURANCE RATES

Members of the city council, by resolution, today had declared that "it would be to the financial advantage of the city of Twin Falls either to carry its own compensation insurance or to insure with some private insurance carrier."

Chinese Draw Three Chances To Supplant Old Burma Road

By CARL C. GRANNER

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—China has three possibilities of maintaining contact with the outside world and drawing in United States lend-lease supplies now that the Burma road is impractical.

One is a combination of the "Red route" running through northwest China to the Pacific, along which a trickle of Russian supplies has reached China for the last four years. The Soviet's Siberian railway system and the new air route from the Persian Gulf to the Caspian sea and Siberia, by which Chinese and British supplies are now reaching Russia.

Soviet Airline Enlers

Details of how such shipments to China would be routed after reaching the Soviet rail system through Iran or Iraq depend somewhat on Russia's own transportation needs. This route would be between 5,000 and 7,000 miles from Persian Gulf port. China's military supplies, however, would be sent to the Burma road, a route which is being built through the Himalayas and flung across some of the greatest rivers of Asia to Assam in the northeastern corner of India, where it joins the Indian railway system to Calcutta—2,200 miles by motor, and river steamer or railway. Presumably this is the one Chiang Kai-Shek plans to use.

In the dream stage is the use again of the age-old caravan trails across "Turkistan via Urumchi and Kashgar to the Pamir mountain passes at the northern tip of India in central Asia.

Difficult Construction

The Assam road dwarfs even the Burma road in its miles of wild, remote, impassable mountains, and the soil of the land it already has taken in its building.

The China information committee in New York recently reported 150,000 coolies at work on this road, some of them busy since 1930, and said 300 miles, or about a third of the motor highway, had been completed.

Spanning as it must at least three large rivers and climbed out of the 10,000-foot and higher rugged peaks of the Himalayas, the Assam road still appears the most feasible of any alternative for the Burma road.

First Real Shortage of Labor Will Hit in America by July

By FRANK I. WELLER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—The first real labor shortage in modern America will occur between July 1, 1942, and July 1, 1943, if national mobilization of man-power for war proceeds according to plan.

Those dates bracket the year in which President Roosevelt hopes to convert 50 per cent of American industry to war production and to spend more than $50,000,000,000 for war materiel.

By December of this year, the war production program will add 10,000,000 of war production workers and 2,000,000 more men for the armed forces, and decrease of 10,000,000 in the number of non-defense, agricultural, self-employed and unemployed workers.

No Washington source presently will estimate where labor shortages may fall, but authorities forecast "not only complete mobilization of man-power but also a real labor shortage." They say the scarcity will be much more marked than during the last war. This time Uncle Sam is arming his allies as well as himself.

For many it seems fantastic that a nation of 120,000,000 which has 2,000,000 unemployed in its last years and saw idleness mount to 8,000,000 during the depression, now should face a labor shortage.

How fully realize yet the tremendous labor readjustment in store. The defense effort started 18 months ago with less than 800,000 men in uniform and only a few thousand persons employed in war factories.

By next December 4,000,000 will be in service and 15,000,000 employed at making war goods.

Two Navy Sons Safe, Parents Told at Burley

BURLEY, Feb. 24—Two sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor have notified their parents they are safe after wartime experiences with the U. S. Navy.

Two other sons of the Taylors, Burley ranchers, are stationed on the mainland with the U. S. army.

Mark Taylor, 32, steward first class, was stationed at Oahu at outbreak of a U. S. port after scuttling his parents, in a letter which reached Burley 60 days after it was written that he no longer was on Oahu—a U. S. possession in the Pacific, specifically occupied by Japan after Dec. 1, 1941.

Allen Taylor, fireman first class, recently advised his parents he had reached a U. S. port after scuttling with the navy in the Iceland war zone.

The sons in the U. S. army are James Taylor, Fort Lewis, Wash., and Vernon Taylor, Fort Ord, Calif.

Relations between the Johnsons and the Taylors have been strengthened by the Sullivan marriage to an English woman in 1940.

PLAY GETS UNDERWAY IN CLASS B SUB-DISTRICT TOURNEYS

Lem Franklin Big Factor To Trip Pastor

By SID FEDER
CLEVELAND, Feb. 24 (AP)—Touching in a new skyrocket on the fast-paced football Cleveland has enjoyed in 11 years, a rush of "fresh" money hit town today to make Lem Franklin a top-rated favorite over Bob Pastor for their ten-round brawl tonight.

About the same time Promoter Bob Brickman predicted a sellout crowd of 14,000 and a gate of some $15,000, to make it the Purit City's biggest punch party since Max Schmelling and Young Stripling held their suits back in '31. The Chicago boys blew in with large packages of scratch to back Franklin and send the odds sky high.

In contrast to the 2 to 1 odds quoted yesterday, the 24-year-old boxer today was a 4 to 1 favorite, and the forecast was that he would be 4 to 1 throughout the night.

Both of the fighters are throwing the fight for events tonight because the winner stands a very good chance of losing the heavy sign of a major match with Joe Louis' corner.

Getting odds meant about as much to Pastor as the color of Franklin's socks. The 25-year-old boxer has never been in a fight in his career of some 60 fights. Yet he has done considerably better than a green hand, regardless.

Forget Curves, Scout Tells Young Hurlers
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 24 (AP)—Forget about the curve ball and develop terrific speed, says Scout John Thomas, the scout for the Athletics to all youngsters who wish to become winning major league pitchers.

"If you haven't any curve when you get into the major league, worry. We'll teach you how to throw it, for that's the easiest part of the job," Thomas added.

Young America now is concerned with a desire to toss fast-breaking curve balls, he asserted, and that's why big league pitchers capable of winning 25 or more games are at a premium.

"Kid pitchers want to learn how to throw a curve before they can 'control' it," he went on. "In my day we youngsters concentrated on our fast ball."

"That's the reason why we had so many great pitchers like Addie Joss, Walter Johnson, Grover Cleveland Alexander and a score of others," Thomas believes, "is the last one comparable to the old time great."

Heseman Captures Dog Derby Again

ASHTON, Ida., Feb. 24 (AP)—Everett Heseman, a home town entry, today held permanent possession of the American dog derby trophy following his third victory in the 26 year old event, the first attempt to achieve the feat.

With a Doberman-Pinscher in the lead, Heseman flashed around a two mile oval track five times in 40 minutes to retire permanently the Hologorth-Kaiser trophy, recognized as the emblem of dog racing supremacy in the United States.

Heseman had two legs on the trophy for his victories in 1940 and 1941. Last year he set the course record of 40 minutes and 13 seconds.

Close Behind
Close behind Heseman were two other Ashton drivers both of whom had previously won the race and fought vigorously to acquire permanent possession of the trophy.

They were Cely Beyer, 1939 and 1940 winner, who finished second, and Lloyd Van Sickle, 1938 and 1937 champion, who came in third.

Baum, using an Irish Setter for the lead, finished in 43 minutes and 41 seconds. Van Sickle, with a Chesapeake Setter in the lead, finished at 43 minutes and 14 seconds.

A field of 14 mushers competed. The sleds were all specially constructed Alaskan type racers.

It had been announced that for the first time in the history of the event a woman would compete. She was Van Sickle's wife, Alvin, but at the last few minutes before starting time she withdrew and turned two of her dogs over to her husband.

Humorous Touch
Dwight Stevens, Jackson Hole, Wyo., was fourth in 45:50. Austin Hiley, Driggs, was fifth, and Albert Groen, Rigby, sixth.

ROBELLO MAY PUT CITY BACK ON BALL MAP

Unless the current board of directors meeting in session this afternoon affirms the action on the proposal they handle the Twin Falls Cowboys for the coming season against the local baseball situation will be pretty much as it was a month ago.

It was supposed that last night's fans' meeting that they are offering the $5,000 collected on public subscription and again take over the direction of the club.

If they take over the "task," it will be the initial franchise transfer of baseball here and it will give the new organization the advantage of experience and was so lacking in last year's club.

Tony Robello, in his report to Business Manager Carl Anderson offered to handle both the management and financial side of the club for a reasonable sum—plus a bonus at the end of the season if he could acquire 2,000 customers through the year.

Now, for some reason or other, was Robello running the club. The men who could turn the trick of bringing baseball back with a bang.

He has several good youngsters already lined up, other clubs in the league have offered to play with him and the Pacific Coast is a strong possibility.

From these men he should be able to acquire the nucleus of a very fine baseball team.

However, to make his work here a howling success, Tony would have to be able to hold down the first base position with a minimum of error in the first two years of the Pioneer league.

There's one thing that Robello will certainly give the Magic Valley fans: a ball club that pays strict attention to the business at hand; and a ball club that is a team.

Lack of control of his players after working hours was one of the troubles of last year's club. Robello had last year. Andy was a fine field general—but keeping the boys in line was a horse of a different color.

Jackie Wilson Fights Garcia
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24 (AP)—Luck turned back on boxer Jackie Wilson once, but this time sharpshooters were in the line.

Wilson, 24, of Cleveland, Ohio, who scored 20 knockouts in 22 fights, was defeated by Garcia, a golden opportunity—a chance to fight in New York's Madison Square Garden.

In mid-January it came a telegram from Garden officials offering Wilson a fight with Garcia. But the message went to Manager Walter McKeen's law office, and he refused to sign it.

The Garden waited two days for an answer. It didn't come. Two days later, Garcia was scheduled to fight in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Wilson is California lightweight and welterweight champion. If he defeats Garcia he should get a new offer from Jack Jacobs of New York.

Bruins Tackle Filler Cagers Here Tonight

Always one of the tougher battles to crack on the Twin Falls basketball schedule, the Bruins tonight invade the fair of the Bruins to fight for what almost is the Dodge Grange's basketball power.

A schedule tonight pits the Bruins against the Jerome on the Tigers' floor. In their previous contest played on the Jerome floor, the Bruins ran into unexpected trouble and the light William, who had been used in Twin Falls, Glenn Gibb, scoring star of the Bruins, was held to exactly nothing that night and was so closely guarded that Grange finally pulled him.

However, he'll be out to redeem himself tonight and the Bruins must be favored to win by a somewhat large margin.

Superior stars a fine record to Jerome tonight. The Bruins tonight are expected to be favored to annex another county champion, John Norby of the Jerome tonight has some way figured out to stop the high scoring of the Bruins.

Other Class A clubs are idle tonight, but tomorrow Grange invades the Bruins' floor. The Bruins tonight are expected to be favored to annex another county champion, John Norby of the Jerome tonight has some way figured out to stop the high scoring of the Bruins.

BRITISH WARNEE "TORMENTING OR REALS" STILL LIE AHEAD

SHIPPING LOSSES SHOW INCREASES

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE
LONDON, Feb. 24 (AP)—The British war effort today is being hampered by a "most serious" increase in shipping losses in 1942, but that will not deter the British from the fight to the last man and the last penny, according to Winston Churchill, prime minister, in a broadcast to the nation.

The increase in shipping losses in 1942, according to Churchill, was due to the fact that the enemy was now attacking the British in the far east from the moment Japan attacked.

More than 40,000 men, and many ships, were sunk in the Pacific, he said. He added that the British were now fighting in the far east, and that the British were now fighting in the far east, and that the British were now fighting in the far east.

ASSISTANT AGENT NEEDED FOR 4-H

Appointment of an assistant extension agent for Twin Falls county is recommended by the county agent, Bert Bollingbroke, in his annual report to the extension division of the University of Idaho college of agriculture.

"Due to the heavy demands made on the agent's office, the regular expansion programs together with the new programs that have come into existence in the past few years, we find ourselves unable to devote sufficient time to the 4-H club program," he said.

War Program

"Additional demands have been made for help in the war program and will continue in 1942. That means other projects will have to be dropped or curtailed. The 4-H club work in Twin Falls county has 215 boys and girls enrolled in 1941. With more than 3,000 farms and a total population of more than 26,000 persons, the agent estimated "We could easily have at least 1,000 club members if sufficient help was available."

Twin Falls county farmers, generally, are very busy with their crops. The officers of all farm commodities and livestock were good. Yields and quality of crops were good, with very little loss as a result of bad weather.

Maternal Project

Cooperating with the AAA and the surplus marketing administration, a cotton marketing program was put into operation at Mountain View, Idaho. The officers of the project alone were 23 applications and 42 members had been completed.

Twin Falls County Livestock Marketing association shipped a total of 11,104 head of lambs and sheep for a total of $184,802. Total of 2,447 hogs was shipped for a net of $107,128. Total of $109,804 was paid growers for hogs, lambs and wool shipped through the association.

Russian Girl, 18, Acclaimed As Hero After Gallows Death

MOSCOW, Feb. 24 (AP)—Zoya Koudomnitskaya, 18, a tall, shapely, dark-eyed girl who stood on a German gallows and exhorted her countrymen to strike the Nazis until they were exterminated, was acclaimed a hero of the Soviet Union posthumously today.

"The 'Tas' news agency said she had just been named to the 10th grade of the 22nd Moscow secondary school when she was killed. She left her mother and brother and joined a guerrilla attachment.

It operated in a woods for two weeks, harrying and killing Germans, the communists, released through the 'Tas' agency, said. Others in the land wanted to move on but Zoya decided to stay on more into the town of Pskovskoye, which was swarming with Germans.

"I may perish, but first I'll annihilate at least 100 Germans," she swore to her comrades.

Caught By Sentinels

She crept up to an important officer and was about to set it off when German sentinels seized her. They took her to a house where German officers were gathered. The officers brutally ordered the Russian woman of the house to be killed, but they heard the German sentinels and Zoya saying:

"Not! Not! I will not tell! I will not demand anything from you."

Then a leather belt cracked across her body. The Russian in the kitchen counted 200 lashes, but didn't hear her utter a sound. When the flogging stopped, she repeated: "Not! I will not tell!" After further unproductive questioning, she was taken to the home of Gavril Kozlov. She had been deprived of her shoes, and was forced to walk barefoot over the snow.

Sentry Comes

When the soldiers tried and went to sleep, a sentry came for her, and urged her on with the point of his bayonet, walked her, barefoot, about in the snow.

She spent the night in Kozlov's home, and the next morning the officers came.

Some of the clothing taken from her the night before—her trousers, her shoes, her coat—were found in the house of Gavril Kozlov. They were taken to the village of Gavril Kozlov, where the Germans had erected a gallows. Ten horsemen with drawn sabres were around it. Several soldiers had been ordered to attend.

The hangman put her on a box and threw a noose around her neck. One of the officers was focusing his camera on the gallows.

"Comrades," she shouted to the villagers and farmers, taking advantage of the delay. "Cheer up, fight the Germans! Burn them!"

A German raised his hand to strike her, but she pushed it aside and went on:

"I'm not afraid to die. It makes me happy to die for my country."

The officer by now had taken down and close-up shots of the gallows and was looking for a place to make an angle shot.

"Hurry up! I should be the commandant."

Zoya addressed the commandant and his soldiers:

"You hang me now, but I'm not alone. There are 200,000 of us. You won't hang everybody. I shall be avenged. Soldiers! Surrender before it is too late. Victory will be ours."

The hangman impatiently tightened the noose, but she snatched it by standing on her tiptoes and, straining with all her might, shouted:

"Hurry up! I should be the commandant!"

The hangman kicked the box from under her and as the crowd in the village of Gavril Kozlov, the communique concluded.

SHARE ASKED IN LABOR CONTRACT

IDAHO FALLS, Feb. 24 (AP)—Eastern Idaho Grangers and farmers today pledged today to refuse to sell potatoes to dealers who sign labor contracts without giving farmers a voice in contract negotiations, as the result of a Grange sponsored meeting last night in the nearby York Grange hall.

Approximately 200 farmers unanimously passed a resolution demanding they be given a voice in all labor contract negotiations affecting agricultural products in the area.

The move, according to Wilford Taylor, Madison county representative to the state legislature, was taken in order to give farmers a firmer hand in labor matters.

The state Grange is ready to back you to the last ditch," said State Grange Master E. T. Taylor of Coeur d'Alene, who attended the meeting. "We'll go wherever necessary to help you win a case," he said.

"We have been asked to raise 25 per cent more food, but labor contracts such as those approved in the past have not improved the situation. We'll go wherever necessary to help you win a case," he said.

The meeting pledged cooperation with a newly organized Idaho Falls employers' council, composed of 110 business firms, and represented by E. A. Weston, Boise attorney.

The council was formed two weeks ago, but its existence was not revealed until Weston's appearance at the farm meeting. A committee of 20 men representing all industries in the city, and an executive committee of seven have been appointed, but Weston declined to identify any members of the group.

Home Defense Volunteers to Organize Soon

Organization of Idaho volunteers for home defense in Twin Falls county will probably take place in the immediate future, it was announced this afternoon by Sheriff W. W. Lowery, in charge of civilian police work.

Sheriff Lowery said that he would confer with Judge James H. Bothwell, county defense head, regarding formation plans and added that the setup should be complete "before too long."

The new units would be armed groups of citizens, recruited from communities. Organized service groups, lodges, sportsmen's associations, gun clubs and other organizations. These groups will be prepared to defend the homes and families of their communities against any eventually, Lowery said.

Complete plans for the organizing of such groups will be announced later as soon as the details are received from state defense headquarters.

Gov. Clark has urged formation of these special armed units so that if the time ever comes when enemies of any kind get into this country we in Idaho will be able to give them a hot reception from behind every fence and farm yard wall."

SUGAR-CARRYING FREIGHTER SUNK

HAVANA, Feb. 24 (AP)—The navy said today that the 7,000-ton American freighter Colcord, carrying 80,000 sacks of sugar from the Cuban ports of Manzanillo and Jucaro, was sunk last week by German U-boats off Cienfuegos Saturday night.

Navy Chief Julio Diaz Argueta said that the freighter was sunk by a U-boat. The sinking was the latest development in the submarine warfare in the Caribbean, where U-boats sank several tankers and shelled oil installations at Aruba and Curacao last week. Centinaga is in central Cuba, approximately 800 miles north of the Panama Canal and 900 miles from the Dutch West Indies islands where last week's attacks occurred.

Assumes Responsibility

Churchill said that:

1. He assumes full responsibility for disasters in the far east; that he, Sir Winston Churchill, will provide leadership in the house of commons and promises that further losses will be made among cabinet under-secretaries to meet criticism.
2. Britain's anti-submarine flotilla is strained to the utmost to keep food and war supply lines open and carry troops in great numbers to the fighting fronts.
3. Japan has massed 20 divisions in support of her southwest Pacific offensive—a force of between 400,000 and 500,000 men—trained "wanting" command of the sea and command of the air in that region.

Britain has obtained a much needed breathing spell due to the fact that the Japanese army, against Germany and as recently as October and November not only was defeated but, indeed, over-stretched.

TWO ARGENTINA DUELERS INJURED

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 24 (AP)—Raul Danoneta Taborda, 32-year-old chairman of Argentina's "Cerecero" committee, was wounded today in his right arm in a duel with another Argentine, retired army officer whom he had criticized. Rottler was wounded again.

Rottler, 51, formerly was acting governor of Buenos Aires province, and Danoneta Taborda had said in a campaign address that the colonel was a disgrace to the army uniform.

The colonel demanded satisfaction, and despite the laws of Argentina prohibiting dueling, the men met shortly after dawn.

Taborda's congressional committee recently toured the United States investigating conditions and methods of the United States in dealing with subversive activities.

Danoneta Taborda, a civilian, had insisted on pistols for the duel, but the colonel maintained that he was the aggrieved party and as such entitled to the choice of weapons. He demanded sabers.

The combat was fought on a private estate outside the city. Rottler was wounded more in the chest and twice in the right arm.

Reports that trickled from the battle through heavy censorship imposed by the owner, described the duel as a "savage assault." Both contestants were badly lacerated at the end of the second of two two-minute rounds when the bout was terminated by the referee.

Use of the diffusion disk and portrait attachment was discussed last night by Paul Magee, president of the Magic Valley Camera club, at a meeting of the advanced class in the clubroom in the Wiley Drug company.

C. C. Dudley, who discussed use of filters, presented two tinted enlargements of Wood river scene for the club bulletin board.

Magee, it was stated, will lead discussion on composition at the next study session, Monday, March 2.

All persons who took the beginning course should bring their micrograph supplements.

Mrs. O. T. Koster will present the portion of the Twin Falls county fair board towards a photography exhibit at the 1942 event.

Howard Wibeman, secretary, will report on the collection of film scraps and packs. Business session will be held.

Prints to be entered in the scenic contest are due late in March. It was emphasized. Prints also are being made for a salon the first week in April in the Twin Falls public library.

Both men were employed on Wake Island when the Japanese attacked Dec. 7, 1941. Mrs. Summers was informed of their probable safety until Feb. 19.

Road Conditions To Be Maintained

BOISE, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Idaho highway bureau's major task during the war will be the maintenance of existing roads in as good a condition as possible, Director B. E. Johnson said.

His policy shall be, so long as equipment and materials are available, to reinforce old roads that cannot be expected to survive the war period without excessive maintenance costs," Johnson said.

Because of the war, he added, "one would need a reliable crystal ball to predict the 1942 road program."

Many projects which would be considered essential in peace times must be shelved because of the inability to obtain materials, he explained.

Letter From Son Heavily Censored

GOODNIGHT, Feb. 24—Mrs. Lee Garlock has received a letter from her son, Tom, who has been employed in defense activities, without delay. The letter, without date or address, was so heavily censored that all he was able to say was, "I am well and healthy."

This is the first time Mrs. Garlock has heard from her son since receiving a cablegram from Honolulu dated Dec. 16. He had registered for the draft and had been ordered to report for military service by the outbreak of the war for employment with the Morrison-Knudsen company.
