GUNS BLAZE AT UNKNOWN CRAFT

ammunition truck during the black-out. The truck was hit by a shell and apparently was responsible.

It was broad daylight before the aircraft appeared at 7:10 a. m. The bombers and early workers, who had been flagged down by air raid wardens, started moving.

Soon traffic was snarled. Thousands of Angelenos were on their way to their jobs.

The blackout was the first covering the metropolitan area since the first week of the war.

There were isolated instances of failure to comply with blackout regulations. Neon signs were left glowing inside stores. Traffic signals continued to flash in some areas.

Stations went off the air. Radio stations went off the air with the first alert, and were not permitted to resume broadcasting until 8:24 a. m.

There was speculation, meanwhile, that the unidentified object might have been a blimp—although recent history showed that blimps were not used in the Los Angeles area.

An official source which declined to be quoted directly told the Associated Press that U. S. army planes probably were not involved.

The source, however, an official said no U. S. craft had taken off because of possible danger from the enemy's own anti-aircraft guns.

Planes were seen. Airmen saw a blimp. Pedro A. Ramirez, a resident of the Los Angeles Long Beach harbor area, said he saw a blimp.

There were no reports of any attempt to bomb this area from the blimp, which was probably a training exercise. The blimp was seen by many people, including factory workers, and other defense industries were on the route the blimp followed.

Although some watchers said they saw airplanes in the air, anti-aircraft batteries were not alerted. The U. S. army's pursuit.

All of the action, several spotlights were trained on the blimp, and 30 searchlights, was just a few miles west of Los Angeles proper.

PROBE OPENS ON SEATTLE BLAZE

SEATTLE, Feb. 25 (UP)—A probe today sought to determine the cause of a fire which raged over a waterfront area embracing a block for two hours last night.

The fire, which started in a unit of the port of Seattle's Salmon yard terminal and an adjoining furniture factory.

Horace P. Chapman, president of the port commission, said he did not believe it was a case of sabotage.

Four fire companies answered the three-alarm call and succeeded in preventing the blaze from spreading to Fishermen's dock and numerous boats anchored nearby.

Only the framework and one wall remained of the two-story building, a unit of the terminal group. The terminal serves as winter storage and repair headquarters for fishermen.

Survivors of Wreck Honor Civilian Men

ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, Feb. 25 (UP)—Forty-three survivors of the United States destroyer Thetis and her U. S. naval supply ship Pulitzer owed their lives today to the hands of men, women and children from the village of St. Lawrence who risked up a boat's chair in defiance of the storm that smashed the ships, and pulled them to safety over a 200-foot cliff.

The survivors were hospitalized in Argentia at St. John's.

A third U. S. ship struck the shore in the same storm which wrecked the destroyer and supply ship, but floated clear and reached harbor.

The story of the rescue was the first report of the number of men saved.

Word that the two ships were in distress brought the villagers of St. Lawrence to the scene from across three miles of snow-covered, wind-swept hills.

They found a cluster of men clinging to a cliff and began hauling them to the top with the boat's chair, a rough wooden seat slung from a rope.

Other rescuers attempted to save some in the surf by a dory lowered from the top of the cliff but the dory was swamped.

A third U. S. ship struck the shore in the same storm which wrecked the destroyer and supply ship, but floated clear and reached harbor.

AIR WARDENS TO CHECK SANDBAGS

Air raid wardens who have been appointed for each block in Twin Falls will be expected to investigate and make sure each resident has a sack or bucket of dry sand immediately available. Fire Chief L. Z. (Zee) Bartlett, city fire warden, said this afternoon.

Bartlett pointed out that this investigation will be the responsibility of each individual warden. At the present time the residents can get the sand for use in extinguishing incendiary bombs either at the new city shop building or at the gun club grounds at the end of Washington street north on the Snake river canyon rim.

A public educational program on the correct methods of extinguishing these fire bombs is being arranged for some future date, Bartlett said.

The chief pointed out that in case incendiary bombs are dropped on the city of Twin Falls it would be an impossibility for city firemen to get to all fires, because of this it would be up to the individual citizens to protect their own property, and firemen would handle the major blazes under plans which have now been worked out and which will be put into effect at once in case of an emergency.

Reasons firemen would be unable to deal with the situation was outlined by the chief as follows:

Out of every six or seven incendiary bombs which fall in a given area, one is likely to start a fire. Bombers are capable of carrying from 1,000 to 2,000 of these incendiary bombs.

Out of 1,000 bombs dropped, there started on an average 160 fires. These bombs can be dropped at the rate of 50 a second and so it would be possible for 160 fires to start in a matter of only 30 seconds.

Request that air raid wardens see that a bucket or sack of sand is kept in a dry place at each home or business establishment in their block was made after the fire chief conferred with Leonard Avant, county air raid warden, and O. J. Coleman, county fire warden.

PATTERNS

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 25 (AP)—A man walked into the federal employment service office today announcing he was a pattern maker and the staff, which has been searching with scant success for tool workers and pattern makers to build submarines at the Electric Boat company, was ready to give him almost anything he wanted.

That, however, was before questioning revealed that he made patterns for women's dresses.

NEW TAX PLANS TO BE OUTLINED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—The taxpayer will get a fair idea a week from today what the expenditure of $150,000,000,000 and more is going to do to his pocketbook.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., will explain to the house ways and means committee Tuesday how he proposes to raise $150,000,000,000 in new taxes and boost the federal government's annual income to $27,000,000,000. The committee announced that public hearings on the tax program will start with Morgenthau's appearance.

So far the only substantial reports of what the treasury has in mind indicate that Morgenthau will suggest tapping the standard sources of revenue for more money in this manner:

1. Corporations—$3,000,000,000.
2. Individuals—$2,000,000,000.
3. Miscellaneous sources, such as gifts, inheritances, excises, and "loophole" plugging—$2,000,000,000.

Although corporations will carry the heavy end of the load, the individual taxpayer will pay heavily through higher prices, lower income from money he might have invested directly in business or insurance policies, and perhaps even unemployment, because some businesses will not be able to keep their doors open.

News Analyst Will Be Burley-Speaker

BURLEY, Feb. 25—Arthur Geeth, radio news commentator and analyst in station KBL, Salt Lake City, will speak in Burley high school auditorium Friday, Feb. 27. The program is the second in the cultural art series being sponsored by the Burley Education association.

Geeth lived and studied in Europe for a number of years, and has been an instructor at Brigham Young university. He will speak on "Our Job Ahead."

Before emerging as an aerial insect, a dragonfly may spend three years in the water.

Duties Outlined for Air Raid Wardens in County and Area

Urging air raid wardens in Twin Falls county to "know your people well," Leonard P. Avant, chief warden, today outlined the duties of such wardens. The summary applies equally well to the air raid wardens in all other counties of Magic Valley.

Prefacing his instructions with the statement that wardens are not policemen, firemen or doctors, Avant advised them that their work is related to that of all these groups and demands "an effort not less than your best."

The duties as the chief warden outlined them:

BEFORE BLACKOUT

Call on each home in your block or sector. Leave your name, address and telephone number (home and business phone). Know your people and know your buildings. Have detailed knowledge of the people. The people themselves must be studied carefully as to temperament and ability to assist in emergency. You should know at which address reside the aged, deaf and infirm and small children, also where reside persons of special training as doctors, nurses, etc.

Urg every home to prepare a blackout room. Offer suggestions and assistance. Inspect all blackout rooms from outside, at night.

Know your stations of nearest police officers, fire alarm boxes, first aid stations, messenger stations, etc.

DURING BLACKOUT

Provide a dependable alternate in case of your absence.

Avail yourself immediately of all required courses of instruction. Read carefully the blackout ordinance and proclamation. Provide yourself with a flashlight with covered lens.

Acquaint yourself with the special lights used on doctors' and nurses' cars. It is usually a light attached to the bumper of the car and has a cross painted on the lens.

Be at your post of duty at once. Assist in spreading signals and alarms. Assist in enforcement of case of violations or emergencies which you cannot handle alone.

Do not attempt to control traffic on streets or roads. Do not attempt to clear the streets or enforce parking requirements. It is very dangerous for a warden on foot to attempt to control automobile traffic. Wardens must protect themselves at all times. Traffic can nearly always be controlled by officers in cars. The sheriff's department or patrol cars from the police department.

Maintain liaison with adjacent wardens and also your home and immediate superior. Have one member of your family remain at home for telephone calls and radio reports.

Do not leave your own sector—even to assist in another sector—unless ordered by competent authority.

Cooperate with all officers and fire wardens.

Along with the fire wardens know the character of buildings in your sector, locations of lythuria, places of special danger of fire hazard. Check the distribution and maintenance of sand supply.

NEW CAR QUOTAS SET FOR RATION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—The office of price administration announced today state and county quotas for the rationing of 145,500 new 1942 passenger automobiles to eligible buyers in March, April and May. Rationing begins March 2.

The actual quotas are 120,000 cars, but an additional 25,500 vehicles were placed in state and national "reserve" and a small number were released for sale in Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and the Canal Zone.

War Activity Counts

County quotas were arrived at largely on the basis of 1941 new car registrations. However, in many counties the extent of local war and defense activity was an important factor in establishing both quota and reserve figures. Price Administrator Leon Henderson said.

California, described as "a state of great distances, with a long, exposed coast line," was granted the comparatively large reserve of 10,000 cars because of its "exposure to potential air or naval attack."

Offers Adjustments

The state reserves will afford a pool from which state rationing administrators may adjust county quotas, if necessary, to the particular needs of each community. The national reserves will allow similar adjustments of state quotas and will provide a pool of automobiles for owners cars belonging to federal, state and local governments.

The new passenger car quotas and reserves, by states, include:

State	Quota	Reserve
Alabama	499	22
Montana	564	38
Nevada	144	47
Oregon	240	225
Utah	425	94
Washington	1,261	842
Wyoming	275	24

Throng Applauds Kimberly's Band
KIMBERLY, Feb. 25.—Playing to an out-and-out audience that filled the high school auditorium to capacity, and expressed its appreciation with enthusiastic applause, the Kimberly high school band presented the second concert of the year in full style and precision Monday night.

A special stage was erected to give better acoustical advantage to the musicians, attired in blue uniforms, trimmed in red. Harold Dodd, band instructor, directed the spirited concert.

For the benefit of the audience, a radio was hooked up so that President Roosevelt's speech could be heard before the concert started. Band opened the program with the patriotic march, "We're All Americans." Other selections of special interest were "The Contest Number," "The Two Admirals" and the finale from "New World Symphony."

Miss Jewel Jones, piano soloist, was featured. She played "Reparations" by Beethoven and an encore, "Toy Piano Minuet."

A cornet trio, Lyle Magnusson, Pat Day and Gordon Roberts, played "The Three Kings," and three other boys, Rex Wood, Joe Hilligan and Carl Min, played a trombone trio selection, "The Three Slippers." "ARM TO FIGHT," IDAHOANS URGED

POCAHELLO, Feb. 25 (AP)—Idahoans are urged to "arm to fight," their firesides.

Governor Clark and N. R. Smith of Seattle, regional director of the Moose lodge, were speakers at a meeting of the Pocahello unit.

Both made the suggestion that individual citizens prepare themselves to resist invasion attempts.

"Smith stressed the importance of every man, and woman, too, getting themselves fitted for use in event of invasion by parachute troops."

Governor Clark commented: "All Idahoans have a singular responsibility in these times—as an organization and as individuals, to do their part in winning the war."

Auto Skids off Grade; Teacher Escapes Unhurt
CAREY, Feb. 25.—Because of extremely slippery roads, Miss Ellen E. Carey, Shoshone, a teacher at Arco, lost control of her car, and went over the guard rail near the top of Tom cat grade between Carey and the Graters last Friday evening.

The state highway crew pulled her car back into the road but broke an axle in one of its largest trucks. Because of the steep grade and many large rocks in that vicinity, Miss Carey might have been killed but she escaped with only slight scratches and bruises. Her car was not badly damaged.

At the time of the accident, Miss Carey was en route to her home in Shoshone for the week-end.

RUSSIA CLAIMS SMASHING VICTORIES OVER NAZI INVADERS

FUEHRER AWAITS SPRING ARRIVAL

By The Associated Press
Russia proclaimed a smashing victory over Adolf Hitler's battered invasion armies today even as the Fuehrer announced that the bitter snows of winter were melting and that he had completed preparations for the "final struggle" this spring.

Snow and frost brought to the temporary standstill the series of victories of the German army, unique in history," Hitler declared in a message to Nazi party followers.

"Our enemy then hoped to inflict on the German army the fate of the Napoleonic retreat. This attempt has collapsed miserably."

In Moscow, Russians celebrated a communique reporting that the triumphant Red armies had crushed Germany's 10th field army, shattering three divisions and killing 12,000 troops in the Staraya Russa sector, 140 miles below Leningrad.

Key German Base
Staraya Russa had been a key German base guarding the southern flank of the Nazi armies before Leningrad. A decisive breakthrough by the Russians would gravely endanger the whole northern arm of the German invasion and the Russian force a hurried withdrawal of the Nazi garrisons around Leningrad.

Soviet front-line dispatches also reported important new Red army gains during the past 48 hours on the southwest front—presumably between Orel and Kharkov, in the Ukraine, with the slaughter of 2,200 Nazis.

Hitler asserted that the coming spring campaign would be "a settling up with that conspiracy which was hatched in the bunking houses of the plutocrats and extended to the vaults of the Kremlin."

New Reverses
Military dispatches said the Russians were pressing on in the face of strong German resistance and the handiwork of deep snow, sub-zero temperatures and the absence of any roads. The Nazis were reported throwing in large forces of reserves to block a thrust which endangered vast areas of defensive positions.

Land and air operations on the Libyan front have been so hampered by a severe sandstorm that British operations visibility was too poor to effect contact with the Italian forces.

On Monday night, the communique reported, a patrol "surprised and inflicted casualties on a party of the enemy north of the Tmimi-El-Mechili trail without loss to itself."

Ships Damaged
Two large merchant ships were declared by the German high command to have been damaged heavily in an aerial attack last night on a British convoy in the North sea north of Orkney, England.

The Italian air force, continuing violent attacks on the British island base of Malta in the Mediterranean, reported that important military objectives were hit and several enemy planes destroyed in day and night operations against the island.

Golden Eagle Retains High Idaho Regard

BOISE, Feb. 25. (AP)—The lovely golden eagle, one of the most majestic birds, is unexcelled in Idaho now although five years ago he was marked for death as enemy No. 1 of the state's game population.

Fish and game authorities recalled today the controversy that arose in 1937 when Amos Eckert proclaimed the golden eagle the worst of predators and engaged veteran marksmen to bring them down.

The Audubon society and other agencies protested Eckert's action and the campaign to eradicate the big birds—some of which measure six feet from wing tip to wing tip—was called off by William H. McIntyre of Boise succeeded Eckert as warden.

Good Word
Since then little has been said concerning their alleged ravages. John J. Boyle, state director of wildlife conservation projects, has a good word for the birds of the air as a result of primitive air surveys on mountain sheep, which have been decreasing in numbers in late years.

"It was thought by some that the eagles carried off the young of the mountain sheep," Boyle said. "In our survey, conducted for two years now, observers have watched the animals at all seasons of the year and have seen eagles in close proximity, but have never come upon a single instance where the young were carried off. This is also true of the young deer and mountain goat."

Claimed Destruction
Eckert, in ordering the execution of the birds, had asserted that the eagles took a heavy toll of the lambs, kids and fawns.

The birds are found in virtually every part of the state and are numerous in the lumbered reaches of the Salmon river watershed where the mountain sheep are located.

Boyle indicated the survey had shown the principal enemy of the big game was poaching by man.

ROOKIE HARVEST 'ARMY' PLANNED

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (AP)—An army of rookie harvest hands—school boys and girls, women and business men—may be recruited to help gather the nation's wartime crops this year.

"That possibility arose today at an 11-state conference of farm placement experts confronted with what one conference called a "definite farm labor shortage" in 1942, when the United States needs its maximum harvest to assist in feeding the anti-axis allies.

The "Oregon plan" and the "Goodhue (Maine) plan" were discussed as capable of widespread adoption. In Oregon, school children from the seventh grade up have been recruited this year for possible work in the fields and there has also been a house-to-house canvass throughout the state of every available worker. Officials of that state believe that with this emergency labor supply the Oregon harvest can be brought in without the customary migratory forces.

In Goodhue, Minn., a village of 480, students of the town, high school students and housewives voluntarily registered to do farm work if needed.

Elsewhere other Minnesota communities have taken up the "Goodhue plan" and it is spreading to Iowa, Nebraska and North Dakota.

Pay W. Hunter of Washington, chief of the U. S. employment service's placement section, declared a farm labor shortage was unavoidable but "no one, in my judgment, knowingly has great it will be, just low many of the average of 11,000,000 farm workers will not be available this year."

He said the problem must be solved on a state-by-state basis because of varying and rapidly changing conditions. Employers of farm labor, he added, may have to take family men when they want single men; Negroes when they customarily hire white men; women and children instead of male adults.

Easy Life—And Had a Chance To Leave, Said Wake Sailor

By TOM JOHNSON
Frank B. Kidd, Twin Falls, undamped his rhapsodies in a room at the naval air station. Wake Island, it was Nov. 30, 1941. He decided to write a letter.

"This is easy duty here," he wrote his buddy, Edward O'Leary, Twin Falls, "Swelling conditions, if I stay here six months, I should save between $400 and $500."

Kidd, who enlisted in the navy at Twin Falls on Oct. 24, 1940, wrote "the new rate makes my pay $105 a month and that's not bad going for the first year."

Kidd, who made the trip to Wake in eight days from Honolulu, confessed to a liking for Wake Island rather than service at sea, when he wrote "I gave him a laugh."

"Could Have Left Wake," a "radioman on the ship," he said, "offered me the $100 cash to swap duty! He wanted to go on Wake and I could go back on ship to Wake. I gave him a laugh."

"Thus, the curious twist in the story of Kidd, who has been listed by the navy department as a probable prisoner of the Japanese."

Had he accepted the offer of his shipmate, he would have escaped the Wake Island tragedy—and would have been $150 to the good.

"I have some Christmas cards to mail," wrote Kidd, on the last day of November, "I am going to mail them. It will probably take a month by ship. Don't know when the next one will be here."

One of Kidd's Christmas cards, addressed to his former employer, Harry Muegge, Twin Falls, was received Dec. 24, 1941, on the mainland.

Attack Near
Kidd was right. It took four weeks for the Christmas cards to arrive. But, what he and hundreds of other men on Wake could not foresee, was to commence in one more week.

Kidd was one of a few sailors detached to serve with the U. S. marine corps on Wake Island. He is a radioman, third class, with the

MORE BEET SUGAR ACREAGE

SUGAR BEETS

A DEPENDABLE CROP

AN ASSURED CASH CROP

FURNISH LIVESTOCK FEED

INCREASE SOIL FERTILITY

There is no longer any question about the seriousness of the national sugar shortage. A million tons of sugar which we normally import from the Philippines have been cut off and imports from Hawaii may be greatly reduced. Another million tons, or more, of Cuban sugar will be diverted to the manufacture of smokeless powder. Sugar from this continent must also go to England, Russia and other allies. This means strict sugar rationing.

How much of these sugar losses can beet growers of the nation make up? This is an important question, and one that must be answered NOW, before our farm lands have been planted to other crops. If all Idaho factories were to operate at full capacity this year, they could process the beets from 100,000 acres of land... 100% increase over 1941. This would mean 200 million pounds more sugar from Idaho beets than were produced last year. Whether or not this potential 100% increase is achieved this year will depend upon the growers themselves... and the growers and the processors are expected to do their very best.

Beet Prices Most Favorable in Years

Beet contracts this year guarantee the best beet prices in years. All government planting restrictions and acreage allotments have been lifted. These factors also favor greater sugar beet acreage.

Sugar beets are not only a property crop, but have almost always provided a DEPENDABLE CASH CROP for the farmers to fall back on when other major crops have failed. For this reason and for the benefits which come from crop rotation and the value of sugar beet by-products in livestock feeding, thousands of Idaho farmers plant beets every year.

A Performance Record, Established Now, Will Assure Favorable Future Quotas

There is an urgent need for maximum sugar beet planting now, while restrictions are suspended, to establish for each grower and each factory district a record of performance that will assure more favorable allotments when the industry returns to the quota system.
