FIGHT BOOMS ON PAY BOOST PLAN
FOR ARMY, NAVY

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—A new and potentially explosive issue—increased pay for men in armed forces—opened the legislative horizon today as congress began its three month session in respect to wartime problems and controversies.

Johnson originally proposed comprehensive basic law changes for pay increases to generals and admirals, but several committee members predicted that the time which congress was trying to complete real action on the troublesome military law would be spent on a settlement of the controversy over price regulations for farm products.

Proposed increases in enlisted grades in the army and navy would range from 10 to 15 percent, and would be effective July 1, 1942. They would be retroactive to the beginning of the war.

A deputy sheriff in Rupert informed local police by telephone that he had a blond boy, 17 years old, who was wearing dirty denim slacks, a pair of white sneakers, a brown denim striped shirt. He did not have a hat.

Japs Use Strange
Planes on Bataan

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—The war department reported today that General Douglas MacArthur's Philippine forces were bombed by enemy planes with unusual markings which "may have been German-built."

The raids, made behind the defenders' lines on the Bataan peninsula, were local and failed to inflict damage, a commanding source here said.

Three two-engine planes were said to have had unusual markings, being painted black with white crosses on the wings.

Operations at Standstill
Ground operations on the peninsula meanwhile dwindled to a virtual standstill in the past 24 hours.

There were some rumors of counter-attacks by the Japanese, but they were not confirmed.

Although American units were believed to be in action on all fronts, both navy and war departments were silent on developments.

The last official word came from the navy Saturday night when it announced that the "initial phase" of the battle for Java, American warships, operating with allied forces, had been ordered to evacuate the island.

The general opinion was that the heavy action was almost concluded with the desperate objective of inflicting the maximum damage on the invaders.

United Nations Smash at
Japs at 3 Points on Java

Frontally and afank, the United Nations' armies in Java thrust mightily today to smash three Japanese spearheads through into that rich and strategic island and one report suggested that the deepest one of these had been shored off from its attack.

The immediate goal of the defense was to shatter the invaders before they could be reinforced from the sea. The invading forces were reported to have suffered enormous losses.

A special Dutch-American aid that nearly all the Japanese lighters loaded in Dutch troops and tanks from transport aircraft near Rembang, eastward of the three invasion points, were sunk in sweeping attacks by Dutch fighting planes.

A tank was fired while being unrolled and fell into the sea. Others, landed, were set afire.

Clark "Interest" is now confined to Governorship
BOISE, March 2 (AP)—The barrier to Clark's federal judge ship for Idaho's federal judgeship after Gov. Chase A. Clark filed a statement which declared he was not interested in the position is now broken.

The proposed statement, which Clark declined to amplify orally, virtually opened the contest for the $10,000-a-year lifetime job to all members of the Idaho bar.

Clark's statement said: "I have no interest in the position I now hold. I intend to devote my full time to it, and I am making no statement for any other purpose."

Several other persons have been prepared in political circles as possible candidates for the position. They include Marshall Chapman, Twin Falls; former Idaho state senator, E. W. Peden, Twin Falls; John Carver, U. S. attorney; and E. A. Peden, Idaho Falls, state senator.

Clark was en route to Coeur d'Alene today where he will address the Idaho bar. He will discuss legal problems with Wallace officials.

States Have No Choice in Taking Aliens, Army Says

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2 (AP)—Lieut. Gen. John L. Dewitt, chief of the western defense command, indicated today that the army could not respect the wishes of nine military governors who announced they would accept "dumping grounds" for alien evacuees.

Disclosing that the army soon will designate additional strategic areas which certain groups must evacuate, Dewitt replied to critics of the military action.

He stated that the military policy and asserted that "military necessity" must take precedence over civilian wishes.

Dewitt believed the new orders might affect 200,000 enemy aliens on the west coast and their American-born children.

NEW DUTIES TOLD FOR AIR WARDENS

Additional duties which all "black" air wardens are expected to assume were announced here today by the defense attorney of the city.

The suggested instructions are from the chief fire warden to the chief air raid warden through the chief air raid warden.

The additional duties follow:

—Have in each residence a tin spray nozzle and shovel available.

—See that each residence is equipped with a fire alarm of other means of getting into the attic quickly.

—Instruct your residents when they hear the alert to fall their beds or some other thing that might be used to cover their heads when the alarm is disrupted. Get acquainted with the construction of the home.

—Other "blowers" carelessly work on the house to handle the fires themselves if possible.

The chief sets of these additional instructions, made up by the defense attorney at headquarters in the courthouse, are being distributed to all air wardens. In a majority of the cases the air raid warden will also assume duties of fire warden in his black, making appointment of a second man unnecessary.

Twin Falls Tops In Newspaper Aid For "Polio" Drive

For a city of 11,000, Twin Falls made a record for the entire nation in amount of newspaper publicity received during the recent anti-polio campaign.

That was the statement made in a letter received here today from the national public health director, for the campaign, from Tomi Wright, national foundation director, who said it is doubtful if all but that Twin Falls, for a city of 11,000, made a record of this kind.

Wright wrote: "I estimate it makes me feel good to read of the numerous articles appearing in Idaho and in Twin Falls. Also, of course, I am happy to note that this publicity, together with the good work of the committee, more than doubled the total for Twin Falls."

WHY CODDLE LABOR LEADERS?

It was a bitter pill Selective Service Director Hershey tossed the American people recently when he suggested that draft boards should give "serious consideration" to granting labor leaders exemption from military duty.

Extending such consideration to move stars on the ground that they can perform a valuable service in the war effort is bad enough, but when it comes to special consideration for labor chieftains, that's about the last straw.

Ever since America launched upon its great defense program and particularly since Pearl Harbor, President Roosevelt and others high in government circles have been appealing repeatedly that strikes in our munitions plants be discontinued for duration of the war.

But strikes have been continuing nevertheless, in many instances over issues relatively insignificant. While the labor leaders have been looking on, thousands of man-hours of labor have been lost for all time, with a resultant proportionate loss in production of our munitions which is so seriously needed by our armed forces.

This in itself is a shameful indictment against those labor organizations that seem more concerned with their selfish grievances, than with their country's defense. But for General Hershey to come out now with the suggestion that exemptions be granted labor leaders who have condoned such mutiny in our defense industries, is almost beyond reason.

It is in the name of American patriotism and justice, can we draft our boys into the ranks to risk their lives at $21 a month, when those responsible for producing necessary war equipment and who have an opportunity to work for comparative safety at salaries many times greater than these soldiers are being paid, quibble, wrangle and strike because of labor issues which at times involve no more than an argument with the foreman?

Let's hope the day will soon arrive in the United States when the labor leader who makes the same sacrifices that our government is asking everyone else to make in an all-out attempt to win the war.

This is no time to be coddling any one element in America, not only because the war is still in progress, but because the demoralizing effect it will have upon the remainder of the people, our boys in the service included.

We're all in the same boat. If there are some who refuse to row, let's throw 'em out.

ELECTIONS AND NON-ESSENTIALS

New York headquarters of national economy groups, which have been nudging an uninterested congress and demanding cuts in non-defense appropriations, hope that the sting from the payment of income taxes in 1942 will add new recruits to the campaign. They have prepared statistics showing that collections for federal, state and local purposes reached seventeen billion dollars in 1941. But this is chicken feed compared to what faces the family pocketbook this year.

Even though the Byrd committee and the presidential budget tabulates reductions, the watchmen doubt that savings will be kept unless the citizen is constantly on the alert. The program is to lop off one billion five hundred million dollars, the equivalent of one-half the money raised by the sale of Defense bonds or approximately ten dollars for every man, woman and child in the United States.

Thrift advocates suspect that the administration and an election year congress will conceal pork barrel squandering under labels of red, white and blue "war necessity." Already forty rivers and harbors improvements which had been postponed as non-essential, are being cranked back into the picture. The St. Lawrence river project, previously rejected by congress, is now likely to gate-crash its way into the U. S. treasury. This huge hydroelectric scheme will require six years for completion and will cost one billion dollars, although only a three hundred million dollar nibble is asked this year.

VICHY VICTORY?

As the tragic comedy that is the so-called war-guilt-trial-at-Florem drags on its weary way, there is a considerable mood at the bar that the defendants accused by Nazi-brother Vichy of forcing France unprepared into the war.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WARNING-The principal but unpublished defendant at the famous Florem trials are ex-President Franklin D. Roosevelt and ex-Generalissimo Benito Mussolini. The world figures brought to the bar in that walled, medieval town under Nazi pressure are William D. Bullitt and Franklin Roosevelt. The outcome may determine whether the United States will break with and fight the Vichy government.

The present action in Paris is a French clique here long contended that our embassy at the French capital, Mr. Bullitt, had acted as a double agent, even though acting in a minor capacity. He has been accused of inciting Hitler to attack France, and of promoting British, French and American planes, tanks and guns would aid towards. The only reason he had for his actions, had it not been for his desire, was the Florem defendants contend that.

RAY TUCKER, holding court Parisian ambassador, German-control, and a member of the President Roosevelt, in short they will amplify the old Hitler theory that the "democracies" not the dictators, were responsible for bringing the world to slaughter.

Ex-Ambassador Bullitt, now here on a special assignment, denies vehemently that the French either Poland or France to resort to arms when they were menaced by Berlin. He repudiates suggestions that he had helped Hitler in planning the attack on France. He says he was in the United States, the American people should be warned that the French are not seeking to discredit the U. S. through these prosecutions.

HEALTH-Summer Welles' pyrotechnic denial that he would ever be a secretary of State, is nobody would welcome such a letter of resignation more than the under secretary, who says that their feud was merely a piece of newspaper copy until we entered the war. Now it is a national scandal. The only reason he had for his actions, had it not been for his desire, was the Florem defendants contend that.

The under secretary was a Gorton man and a Harvard associate of the President. He is a hard-boiled realist, and a member of the Board of Directors of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Mr. Roosevelt knows it. He sees Mr. Hull, which would be a disaster to the country. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

VOICE-Neaton A. Rockefeller's agency has been assigned the task of making friends for Uncle Sam in the Argentine. It is a member of the Board of Directors of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

When Argentina was bucking our demands at the time of the Argentine crisis, it was a member of the Board of Directors of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

TRICK-President Roosevelt's latest address on the state of the world (not on the state of the nation) satisfied both his friends and his critics to a moderate degree. It is a member of the Board of Directors of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

In sober retrospect F. D. R. told us nothing which we did not know before. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

YARN-Fiorelli La Guardia was talking against the army, navy, maritime commission and the treasury - almost the combined federal government - for preservation of the free federal tariff system in New York. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

As a slight example of the irritating things that these people trained by Pol. St. Louis, offer today the case of Frank J. Whelan, who is a member of the Board of Directors of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

But hard-boiled military and naval officers argued that these men and buildings to transport troops who would be needed in the war. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

La Guardia confessed that he was not working against it. At the conclusion of the Yarn Jones Jones, he is a member of the Board of Directors of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Other Points of View

WE DON'T WANT ENEMY ALIENS
We believe enemy aliens evacuated from the west coast should be treated as prisoners of war and not sent to the United States.

While we need farm workers, we do not need them badly enough to take chances on enemy aliens, who are a danger to the community.

Idaho has received practically nothing in defense work; to force the state to accept aliens here from the west coast would be further open an old sore - Minidoka County News.

"I LOVE YOU"

CHAPTER XIII

THEY spoke of many things—of work, of love, of life, of what they thought about. The rain came heavily and went away, leaving a pleasant, moist, dripping from the eaves. It was much later when Parris said, "Maybe I better go now."

"Wait a little." She kissed his cheek.

"I love you, Cassie."

"No you don't, Parris. But that's all right, Cassie."

"Listen now, Cassie."

"All right, what?"

"Somebody I want you to marry me."

"Oh, Parris, there isn't any answer for that—now."

"Why not?"

"Because you don't really want to."

"I mean it! How do you know what I think? I've got to study and be a doctor and it will be a long time—"

She smothered the rest of the sentence with her hand.

Parris opened the door and advanced when the deep night air struck his flushed face.

"Listen, Cassie, I've got to see you."

"Maybe. Maybe I can think of a way. But you'd better go now Parris, see another. It feels like—"

"Listen!" The deep bell of the town clock struck slowly—four times.

"What'll you do?"

"I'm going over to Drake McHugh's. Then I'll say I was with him all night."

"Maybe I love you—I don't know."

"Maybe. Or could you?"

"No." The reply was curt.

Parris shrieked scintillatingly from the cutting tone. "I guess I'm being kind of awkward this afternoon, sit but, see, Dr. Tower, I didn't know why. It was just—just instinctive."

"Him, yes, I see. I think you're going to be a good doctor, Parris."

"Him? Dr. Gordon's good doctor?"

Dr. Tower looked steadily at Parris for a moment. "Not a very factual question, young man, nor a very ethical one for a young doctor-to-be to ask." He smiled, and Parris smiled, too, rather wanly.

"You trust my judgment, do you?"

"Oh, absolutely. I know you know."

Dr. Tower colored a little, a very little. Parris stared.

"I'm curious to know why you think so."

"Well, sir, there are some things

You just know."

"Instinct!"

"Yes, sir. I guess so." Parris moved forward in his chair. He forgot the distant formality that usually characterized his talks with Dr. Tower. "You remember that little book of Friedlander's that you had me read last evening? He said a lot about unconscious observations and how we sometimes add up a long sum of this kind of observations and come to conclusions that are quite right without knowing how we got them."

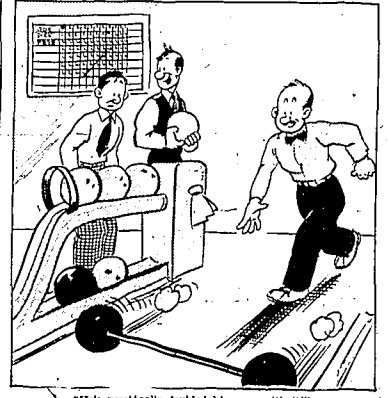

"Yes."

"Well," Parris smiled frankly, "it's like that."

Dr. Tower looked grave. "Well, keep your mind open. You're going to see and learn a lot of new things in your life. We're on the brink—the very brink of important discoveries. Sometimes intuitions are a good corrective for the natural stigmas of human perceptions."

SOVIET TROOPERS PUSH ADVANTAGE

By The Associated Press

The Hitler high command gave the German people today an inkling of the scope of their defensive offensive, with the added admission that the reich's armies were fighting a defensive battle.

The first sentence of the daily war communiqué, contrasting this new initiative, said:

"In the Crimea, on the Donets front and southeast from Leningrad, a part of the broadest defensive fighting still continues."

It was one of the broadest admissions ever made by the Red army's striking power.

The communiqué added vaguely that "additional (Russian) tanks" had been destroyed on the Kerch peninsula, a part of the Crimean front, that a 6,000-ton transport had been sunk by German torpedoes in the Kerch strait and that the Russian engine factory and airplane plant had been bombed.

In African Clans

The communiqués from Berlin, Rome and Cairo unanimously reported control of the front in Libya, the British declaring that a small gap column was repulsed by artillery fire east of El Mechili. Some outside Berlin in reporting that the Germans had destroyed the British planes, Berlin claimed only 20.

Both Rome and Berlin reported the customary air attacks on Malta. In the western air and sea warfare, the Germans said two convoys were "dispersed" by gunfire from the French shore of the English channel. The Hitler command reported a February total of 10 merchant ships totaling 525,400 tons in which submarines were credited with 56 sinkings of 448,400 tons.

A British mortar torpedo boat attack on a German ship in the English channel was admitted in the communiqué without detail. However, one of the little destroyers was sunk.

Wrecked houses of the resort city of Staraya Russa, where 90,000 trapped Germans were said to be running out of food, lay within sight of the Red army. Russian frontline dispatches reported, as the Russians heightened their caution around the German 16th army.

Morale Broken

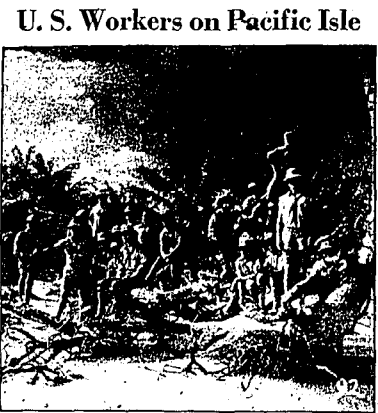

The dispatches reported a German prisoner as saying that Nazi morale in Staraya Russa, center of German communications on the northwestern front, had cracked.

Staraya Russa is 230 miles northwest of Moscow and 140 miles south of Leningrad. Its fall to the Russians would be a heavy blow to the German besieging Leningrad, and to their fighting on the entire northwestern front.

Elsewhere, the Russians were reported advancing to Smolensk, in the face of German counter-attacks, and pushing on Dnepropetrovsk, in the Ukraine, against the planes, tanks and men of the German army.

It was disclosed in London that hundreds of Britain's 12-gun hurricane planes were fighting on the Russian front, piloted by Red air force pilots taught to handle them by RAF fliers who now have returned to London.

U. S. Workers on Pacific Isle

Here's an unusual photo—first of its kind to be printed in Idaho. It shows a group of American workers on Palmyra Island in the Pacific. They wear hard hats, and you can see tropical trees and foliage in the background. M. R. (Bill) Burden, Gooding, is a worker on the island. (Times-News Engraving)

Gifts From Palmyra, Isle in Pacific, Thrill Gooding Wife

By LETHA W. TESTER

GOODING, Feb. 29.—Mrs. M. R. Burden, proud possessor of a beautiful desk she has just received from her husband, "Nate," an employee of the Palmyra Island, said she apparently made of native wood of the island for no one here can identify it. It has 21 one-inch squares by 12-inch-long pieces to make the top, with light and dark wood alternating in a checkerboard pattern. The drawers to the right and below have lovely, moldering pulls made of brightly polished and waxed bit of copper piping about four inches in length. The remainder of the desk is composed of slightly larger, alternating light and dark, pieces of wood. The desk is a beautiful piece of furniture, one to bring a glow of pride in ownership to any feminine heart. The fact that it was made by her husband on the tropical island, however, adds to the value of the desk to Mrs. Burden.

Also sent these:

Included in the shipment with the desk were three coconut crates of different color mounted on a polished piece of wood. These were to each of the three Burden children, and have been proudly displayed at school to their classmates. There was a box of beautiful, polished sea shells and a "native" hat for Junior.

Mrs. Burden left Boise, April 18 of last year to go with the Morrison-Knudsen company. Since that time he has sent her each month "The Palmyra News," a weekly newspaper published by defense workers on the island. Each issue contains a different article concerning the tropical islands.

"Palmyra is the most typical, luxurious and picturesque of the American flag. It has had a varied and interesting history, culminating now in being made into a safe and simple base for American seaplanes. We hope that the procedure of making and exporting this base does not rob the island of its natural charm and scientific value."

Description

"The total consists of a platform of hard sand and coral reef, upon which is situated a horseshoe curve of little islets, covered with a dense growth of trees, shrubs and coconut palms. At the low tide one can walk from islet to islet, with only an occasional channel more than

Farm Laborer Deferment Is For 6 Months

Farm laborer deferments are valid only for six months, Capt. J. H. Beaver, Jr., chief clerk of Twin Falls selective service board No. 1, said yesterday on receipt of orders from state headquarters.

"Any registrant seeking occupational deferment from military service must apply for it through his local board," he said. "He must be able to prove not only that he is necessary to the functioning of an essential activity in the war production program or other work of national interest, but he must also submit proof that there is no supply from which he can be replaced."

No occupational deferment, he said, can be made for longer than six months when it must be renewed. The local board is charged with the duty of keeping constant scrutiny on each registrant it has deferred and of reclassifying him at any time the reason for his deferment ceases to exist.

Emphasizing that no group or class deferment from military serv-

"Me, I'm an Ochlophile"

"Yes, ochlophile...that's a word I picked up in a crossword puzzle. Means somebody who likes to have crowds around. After all, what retailer doesn't like crowds?"

- "You'll find a steady stream of customers in this store every day...customers who are watching the family budget more carefully than ever, now that we're at war, and watching newspaper ads more carefully, too, in order to save money and time."
- "Every chance I get, I tell manufacturers' representatives how I feel about newspaper advertising...how everybody in town reads the daily paper, and the ads in the paper, too, whether other kinds of advertising reach them or not."
- "I tell them that newspaper ads have always been a well investment for me...and for all other retailers in town who amount to anything. So why shouldn't manufacturers take full advantage of this medium, too? After all, their business depends on sales through my store and others like it."
- "Why wouldn't it be smart, I ask them, to move their goods off my shelves with the kind of advertising that brings in crowds of customers? I guess other retailers have been making the same point...that must be one reason why manufacturers are doing so much newspaper advertising these days."

That's what one successful retailer has to say about newspaper advertising and how it works. Are you getting all of this local support you deserve? Take a tip from this happy ochlophile and remind your manufacturers that they can produce more sales for their retailers...and themselves...by advertising in local newspapers.
