WAR BULLETIN
BANDONG, Java, Wednesday, March 4 (AP)—American, Dutch and other allied ground forces early today were pressing home a counter-offensive against the Japanese invaders of Java while the United Nations' air and naval units sought to cut off the enemy's sea lanes of retreat and possible reinforcements.

U. S. Destroyer Goes Down With 100 Men Aboard

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—The navy today announced the torpedo sinking of the U. S. Destroyer Jones off Cape May, N. J., with loss of more than 100 officers and men.

It was the first known naval loss in the enemy U-boat campaign along the eastern seaboard that has claimed many merchant ships.

One of two torpedoes hits blew up the destroyer's own supply of anti-aircraft ammunition.

Explosion of these charges apparently contributed to heavy losses of life on the American ship.

Only 11 crew members survived on a possible complement of 125 to 150 men. The navy indicated that the dead included Cmdr. H. D. Black, skipper of the craft.

Old-Type Destroyer
The Jacob Jones was a World War I type destroyer, having been commissioned in 1919. Her sinking brought to nine the number of known naval vessels destroyed by enemy action in the Atlantic and the Pacific. In addition, two navy vessels were reported to pieces in a severe storm off Newfoundland.

According to the strictly accounts told by the Jacob Jones' survivors, two torpedoes apparently struck the destroyer.

The first blew up the bow. The second struck the stern, blowing it along with all the depth charges.

Casualties in the first blast, according to the report, apparently included the personnel on the bridge and men sleeping in the forward bulkhead compartments. The second torpedo, crashing into the stern, left only the men ashkips alive, left with only one engine room.

None of the survivors was seen before the ship's final entry into the water.

Details of the action in which the Jacob Jones was lost, apparently because "so few of the survivors were on deck at the time."

The second command, that the first sinking the Jacob Jones had of the presence of a submarine came when the first torpedo hit.

Neither the submarine nor the torpedoes were sighted, according to the navy.

Second Jacob Jones
The Jacob Jones was the second ship so named. Its predecessor, also a destroyer, was sunk by an enemy submarine off the coast of Ireland, France, with a loss of 64 officers and men.

The announced loss of U. S. naval vessels since American participation in the war has been 100.

Including the battleship Arizona, which was sunk by a Japanese cruiser, torpedoes off Pearl Harbor, and the destroyer Reuben James, torpedoed off Iceland with a loss of 100 lives; the twin-engine submarine USS Thetis, torpedoed off Iceland with a "moderate" loss of life; and the tanker Neches, which was lost by enemy action in unexplained waters.

Family Separated by F.B.I. in Alien Roundup

This San Francisco Japanese alien family was only one of many homes broken up by the alien when agents of the federal bureau of investigation cooperating with police, rounded up scores of enemy aliens considered potentially dangerous in widespread raids throughout California. As his wife, left, looks on, Glenn Nakimura, clutching a Bible, is taken from his bakery establishment for questioning—and possible internment. Similar raids have indicated in Idaho, with FBI agents seizing much contraband alien material especially in southeastern Idaho.

Jap Warships Shell 7 Philippines Ports

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Japanese warships shelled seven Philippines ports today as they attempt to extend and consolidate occupation of the islands.

The new Japanese action was disclosed in a war department communique which said the city of Zamboanga on Mindanao was in flames. Enemy troops landed at Zamboanga from four transports, escorted by a cruiser, while other Japanese warships shelled ports on Cebu and Negros islands.

The communique reported "practically no ground or air activity in Batavia" where Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Filipino and American troops have extended their lines in the past few days.

The thrust came at a time when the Japanese navy was intensifying its operations in the southwest Pacific, as reported by the United States.

Japanese naval units including a cruiser and destroyers, shelled Cebu City and the various islands of Cebu, the communique said, Misaki, Tolong, Dumaguete and Maricao Islands on Negros island, and Buga on Mindanao.

The resurgence of Japanese offensive activity in the Philippines apparently was designed to smash inter-island trade and communications between the various islands on Mindanao where 30,000 Japanese troops have pledged loyalty to the United States.

Before the new drive the Japanese held only the southeastern part of Savau on Mindanao island and, as revealed in previous communique, had been able to disrupt communications between the various islands and between MacArthur's forces and guerrillas fighting elsewhere.

Record Snow Fall Reported in East

PITTSBURGH, March 3 (AP)—A blizzarding storm, three minutes of snow, "Remember Pearl Harbor" will begin with new record snowfall in the far east, according to this country before the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Reported today that only one minute had been allotted for the blizzarding but veteran blizzards in the past were just time enough for a warm-up. Unlike blizzards, there is no ceremonial blowing in blizzards.

TREASURY SEEKS GIANT INCREASE IN INCOME LEVY

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., warning that war is cheaper to win than to lose, today asked congress to double income taxes of persons earning $10,000 a year and increase other levies to raise an additional $7,000,000,000 annually in war revenues.

The administration's "victory" tax program calls for taxing both dividends and interest, increasing the whiskey tax from $1 to $1.50 a quart, doubling the present gasoline tax of 1 1/2 cents a gallon.

Morgenthau described the stiff cut in the earnings of all Americans to the house ways and means committee, which will draft the bill.

The new taxes will be severe, and their impact will be felt in every American home except to a degree to lose.

"War Never Cheap"
"War is never cheap; but... it is million times cheaper to win than to lose."

He urged that congress vote these annual increases in taxes: Individual income tax, $3,200,000,000; corporation, $3,000,000,000; inheritance and gift, $3,000,000,000, and excise, $1,800,000,000.

Another $800,000,000 would be realized by taxing income from state and municipal bonds—both existing.

TAX PLAN

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Here is the way the administration proposes to raise $7,000,000,000 in war revenue:

Item	Prop. 1942	Prop. 1943	Prop. 1944
Individual income tax	1,000,000,000	1,000,000,000	1,000,000,000
Corporation	3,000,000,000	3,000,000,000	3,000,000,000
Inheritance and gift	3,000,000,000	3,000,000,000	3,000,000,000
Excise	1,800,000,000	1,800,000,000	1,800,000,000
Total	8,800,000,000	8,800,000,000	8,800,000,000

Formation of an American bank corporation, $3,000,000,000; inheritance and gift, $3,000,000,000, and excise, $1,800,000,000.

Another $800,000,000 would be realized by taxing income from state and municipal bonds—both existing.

The treasury requested authority to collect part of the individual income tax in the form of a loan.

Under the treasury's new proposals, a married person with two dependents having a net income of $2,000 would pay $100 in taxes.

The third was slated at the reconstruction finance league by Secretary of Commerce Jesse H. Pomeroy.

Waves of Japan Bombers Attack Main Java Areas

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

American, British and Dutch troops were reported taking the offensive in Java today to drive Japan's invasion forces into the sea, and the Dutch high command announced that Japanese assault forces had been checked in all three battle sectors.

While the situation thus somewhat improved, the Dutch acknowledged that the N. E. I. government had been removed from the capital city of Batavia to inland Bandung, and that the Dutch command, with all three battle sectors.

The Tokyo radio, in an English-language broadcast, asserted that Japanese troops who landed on the north central Java coast, near the town of Bandung, and had occupied an important railway junction between Batavia and Bandung.

A Reuters (British news agency) dispatch from Bandung, headquarters of the Dutch command, said the allies had started a counter-offensive.

Tough Task
Informed London, quarters, however, said the defenders still faced a "tough task" as they were fighting "extremely well."

Waves of Japanese bombers, early today, struck the Dutch-held Bandung for an hour and a half, with only a bare handful of allied fighters able to fight off the attack.

Even anti-aircraft fire, it was acknowledged, failed to beat off the raiders.

Finally, the Dutch declared the three invasion columns had been temporarily halted, it seemed clear that the well-aimed dwindling numbers of allied fighters had done what was said to be a "tough task."

One source of opinion sounded but the general picture was gloomy.

The situation in hand

It can be stated without reservation that the situation remains well in hand on all fronts, "an authorized Dutch spokesman said.

Informed London sources said the allied forces were taking a "formidable" stand against the Japanese, who were reported to have 8,000 troops.

HALL OPENS GOP OFFICE AT BOISE

BOISE, March 3 (AP)—Howard H. Hall, newly-appointed executive director of the Republican party in Idaho, had opened headquarters at the Owyhee hotel in Boise today.

Hall, who also is president of Idaho Young Republican clubs, announced in a prepared statement that he had opened headquarters at the Owyhee hotel in Boise today.

"My job," he added, "will be to assist in party activities until after the primaries and to be active temporarily in nature, as leaving my business in Twin Falls is quite a problem."

"Never was there a time when two strong parties were more needed than before the people the actual facts concerning our war-time efforts. To drift into a one-party system as in the past would be fatal to our nation and destroy the democracy for which we are fighting."

"The Republican party in Idaho realizes the desperate situation and our party will put forth its best efforts to promote the best interests necessary to the victor's conclusion of this present conflict."

Hall criticized the present Democratic state administration under Governor Clark.

"State affairs under the Clark regime," he wrote, "have been badly managed and the government officials have been mounting steadily to further the building of a machine system of conditions, including such factors as the actions of our party board, must be remedied and it is the purpose of the Republican party to bring this about."

UCDA PLANS FOR '43 SPUD BOOST

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—An increase of about 10 per cent in Irish potato production is planned by the department of agriculture for its 1943 program, Rüdolph M. Evans, administrator for conservation and use of agricultural land resources, told appropriations committees in hearings on the annual supply bill.

"I do not think there will be any particular restriction," he said regarding this crop. "What we want to do is to get more white potatoes. It is one commodity that we are up against the problem of converting with the alcohol of starch. Alcohol is still needed and we will convert some corn, and might convert a little white into alcohol to help meet the sugar situation."

On the other hand, Evans said, "I have asked for an increase of dried beans from 2,500,000 acres to 2,500,000 acres, with a very real increase in the amount of acreage." He continued, "On the subject of farm machinery, in 1941 12,700,000 100-horse power tractors were produced in the United States and the total requirement was 20,425,000 units, Evans added.

Testimony on Farm Bill Gives Comparative Utah-Idaho Loans

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Testimony on the agricultural appropriations bill introduced today in the house, provided many side-lights on the industry in Idaho and Utah.

Some of the highlights follow: With evidence of the "contraction" of the Mountain creek plague in Idaho, Utah and Arizona, and the perfection of a new method of control, it has been possible to discontinue the research station at Winnemucca, Nev.

The statement was made by Dr. P. N. Anand, chief of the federal bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, who formerly was stationed at Twin Falls, Ida.

Outstanding irrigation water facilities loans amounted to $227,646 in Idaho and $142,498 in Utah on Dec. 31, 1941. This testimony came from George L. Phillips of the office of land coordination, who also reported that the Mountain creek plague in Idaho, Utah and Arizona, and the perfection of a new method of control, it has been possible to discontinue the research station at Winnemucca, Nev.

OPENING OF CAMP HINGES ON LABOR

No date has been set for opening of the farm labor camp south of Twin Falls but rather the opening time will depend entirely on weather conditions and the influx of transient labor, Roy C. Lane, camp manager, said this morning.

Lane pointed out that last year the opening had been set for April 15 but that on early spring weather conditions the opening was delayed to the time to be set ahead to March 15.

"Exact opening date is entirely up to the management this year," Lane said. "If a few stragglers start coming in this month they will probably be permitted to move into the shelter portion of the camp providing the weather has moderated sufficiently and providing they are planned to fumigate the 216 shelter homes."

Regarding the farm labor situation, Lane said that farmers are "concerned about help" and that the camp is receiving many calls which are being referred to the United States employment service.

"We find that many farmers want men for year around work," the camp manager said.

College of Idaho Students May Graduate In Three Years, President Hall Reveals

Alumni "All out" for C. of I.

Beginning June 8, 1942, the College of Idaho is instituting the accelerated program whereby entering freshmen may qualify for a bachelor of arts degree in three years.

This important information was given by Dr. William W. Hall, jr., to the alumni and former students of the College of Idaho, Caldwell, who assembled last evening at the home of Mrs. C. Ryssell Weaver, Eleventh avenue east, to form a College of Idaho Alumni association.

"This is made possible without diminution of standards or requirements, by the shortening of vacations and the inclusion of a nine weeks summer session. The program is optional and boys and girls may proceed on the four-year basis as heretofore," Dr. Hall, president of the college, explained.

"Center of the universe" in the attention of those assembling last night at the home of Mrs. C. Ryssell Weaver, was the College of Idaho, Caldwell. Newly elected officers of the College of Idaho Alumni Association, conferring with Dr. William W. Hall, jr., president of the college, are, left to right, Miss Dorothy Evans, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Weaver, vice-president; Dr. Hall and Mrs. Weaver.

Proposed Schedule

For those who enter in the accelerated program, the schedule will operate as follows:

Members of the class of 1943 may graduate in January, 1943. Members of the class of 1944 may graduate in January, 1944. Members of the class of 1945 may graduate in August, 1944. Freshmen who enter in June, 1942, may finish in June, 1943. Freshmen who enter in September, 1942, may finish in August, 1943. Freshmen who enter in February, 1943, may finish in February, 1944. Gerald Wallace, an alumnus of the college, who served as temporary chairman, was elected president of the alumni association. Mrs. Weaver, vice-president, and Mrs. Dorothy Evans, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Weaver served a buffet supper following the business session.

Mrs. Hall, who accompanied President Hall to Twin Falls last week, was scheduled to be at the meeting, but was called back to Caldwell yesterday afternoon.

An intensive Red Cross training course was being organized, under the direction of a Pacific coast representative, as it was essential that she be there.

Past-60 Trick Skaters ~ Envied by Buhl Youths

By LAURA LEE SMITH

BUIHL, March 3.—It happened on ice—when two prominent skaters of the west end demonstrated their skill by cutting the figure eight, the letter three and the pigeon wing with such grace and ease as they did 20 years ago it put in name 700 ice-skating amateurs of this community.

On holidays and evenings, under flood light of the new city park skating rink, which in summer is the tennis court, C. C. Merrill and Harry Wilson have played together often this winter with their children, grandchildren and friends.

Child-Rearing Still Women's First Job

In every cycle of advancement in America, women have held an important place. But woman's greatest contribution social, cultural and spiritual reform is still, however, possibly only through the role of motherhood—of being the mother of a good, American family is still the highest honor any woman can achieve.

Thus did Mrs. John E. Hayes summarize her inspiring address at the Twentieth Century club luncheon this afternoon at the Park hotel. Subject, "They Brought Their Women," she emphasized the significance of "woman's place in this changing world."

"Fifty years of constant struggle brought the right to vote; 150 years of striving has not yet achieved for women, equal property and civil rights," she observed.

Heroic Feat

She expressed her belief that the streak across the continent made by a woman and a child, Spaulding in 1850, was the most heroic and most far-reaching feat ever accomplished by American women, because, as Mrs. Hayes said, "that civilization goes only where women go," and those women went where a believed woman could venture, but only when they brought their women, did the land become a more cultured and perpetual wealth," she declared.

Commenting on social reforms of the past, she said, "The great advance through the efforts of women, Mrs. Hayes enumerated these:

Equal educational opportunity for men and women.

Public responsibility for the welfare of all citizens.

Organization of the American Red Cross and its peace-time service.

Public care for dependent mothers and children.

Humanitarian hospitalization of the insane.

Extension of juvenile courts and probation.

Paying tribute to pioneer American women all over Mrs. Hayes said, "Women who crossed the Atlantic in small boats, women who braved the rigors of colonial life and the women of the Oregon and California trails, accomplished their high purpose because they were willing to give up all luxury and comfort, even necessities, to stand by their men in the great adventure of finding new homes and an improved social order.

"The life of the luxuries denied to many of the women whose lives have helped to shape the social progress of our country."

SERIAL STORY

KINGS ROW

BY HENRY BELLAMANN

MIXED EMOTIONS

CHAPTER XIV

DR. TOWER smiled again. "What are your plans for later, Parris? A visit?"

"I want to be a doctor out at the asylum."

"Here—in Kings Row?"

"Yes, sir."

"That put that idea into your head?"

"A man who works on our plane."

"Indeed, you seem to have a number of influences."

Parris related the story of Lucy Carr's death, and explained the way he had felt, even at the outset of his acquaintance with her, that there was something some way to seize her fitting mind and hold it still.

"And there's another thing, too—somebody else."

Parris told Dr. Tower of Benny Singer and of old Tom Carr's theories about curing him, or at least helping him. He finished, a little disconcerted by Dr. Tower's silence. The doctor pushed the papers aside.

"You ought to be a fine doctor. There's just one thing I feel a little dubious about."

Parris waited.

"It's your idea of coming back here to Kings Row."

"Well, Tom Carr was the first one to suggest it, and then I kind of mentioned it to my grandmother, and she spoke right away to Colonel Skiffington, and he spoke to Dr. Nolan out at the asylum."

Dr. Tower laughed once more. "Young eagles should nest far from home! Ever hear that?"

"No, sir."

"It's a good saying. There's a curious rivalry between the old and the young. It's everywhere, but it's keener, and it's more ruthless and more cruel in the home nest, so to speak."

HE had seen Cassandra several times this year—whenever she could slip away," as she said. He had never felt any trace of conscience about it. Those meetings with Cassandra were in a world apart.

Cassandra He could not precisely say to himself how he felt about her. He knew exactly how he felt about Renee—still. He knew how he felt about Drake, and almost as much about the new girl, Cassie. That was a different relationship.

But now he was once more aware of the disastrous consequences that might follow if Dr. Tower so much as suspected anything. There was a quiet, a threat about the man that was not comfortable to contemplate.

PARRIS hurried toward home. He was nearly at the end of Federal street when Drake overtook him.

"Hop in. I'll drive you home. I got something for you."

"Oh," Parris' exclamation was dull and uninterested.

"Is that the way you receive a note from your sweetheart?"

Parris read the few lines hurriedly. "She wants to see me at our house tonight."

"Don't you want to?"

"I just can't see her tonight."

"What's the matter with that girl, anyhow?"

"Just—well, a strange, Drake. Cassie—gee, I feel terrible talking about her like this. You know I wouldn't to anybody else. But she frightens me, sometimes. She's so—intense."

"I know."

"She's pretty swell, Drake."

"Maybe a little crazy. Like her old man. Else why would he try to keep her locked up at home like a dog?"

Parris thinned his lips. "He's not crazy, Drake. He's more intense than all of Aberdeen College put together."

"All the same, there's something pretty funny about that house. And old Cassie—you just won't mind yourself."

"All right, all right. But I can't see her tonight. And I haven't got any way to let her know."

"I'll just tell her you couldn't come."

"It's my grandmother I'm worried about, Drake."

"Well, you're not her doctor—yet."

Anna listened carefully to Parris. She controlled her face and tried to keep from remembering Madame's warning.

"To tell you the truth, Parris, Madame did see Dr. Ladd."

"Consultation?"

"Yes, Dr. Gordon thought she ought, too. There's no use denying it—she ain't been so well, but she's better. Don't you think she looks better?"

"Madame's not so young, Parris, and little things get wrong with you when you get older. But you shouldn't worry now."

He felt mightily relieved. "All right, I guess I just got a little worried when Dr. Tower said he thought she didn't look so well."

"She's had a little cold, you know. That pulled her down, too, Look, Parris. The cookies are done."

Parris grinned. "And a glass of milk."

"Good. I get it right away."

"I've got to telephone, too. I'll be right back."

PARRIS was invaded by the strangest discomfort he had ever known. He was unable to analyze it, but he knew it was more acute and arose from deeper sources than the normal unrest of spring. He roamed the place from end to end.

Madame von Ein observed his restlessness. So did Anna.

AUSTRALIA, ASIA NEW ALLIED BASES

WAVELL ORDERED TO POST IN INDIA

By EDWARD W. HEATHE
LONDON, March 3 (U.P.)—Australia and the Asian mainland became the chief bases today for eventual allied counter-offensive operations under revised United Nations strategic plans which left the Netherlands Indies a separate theater with its own army and the small American, British and Australian units which are there.

It was believed here that the United Nations had given up hope that Java might remain a potential base for quick counter-attack.

Military experts here believed that the Dutch, with such support and reinforcements in materials as the allies could give them, could fight on indefinitely in Java, that the island, and with it all the Netherlands Indies, must be given up as a base.

Wavell Leaves Java
An announcement made here that Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, who had served so briefly as United Nations commander in chief for the southern Pacific, had left Java meant that there were now four commands in the area. There were the Netherlands Indies command under the Dutch, the India-Burma command under Wavell, the China defense area under Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and the Australian command, which assumed greater potential importance each day.

The news of Wavell's transfer was made in the following communication issued at No. 10 Downing street, Prime Minister Winston Churchill's office, London, today: "The following communications were issued in Washington and Java."

"Command in the Netherlands East Indies:
"The loss of Malaya and the entry of the Japanese into Sumatra has separated Burma from the Netherlands East Indies. In three circumstances it has been decided that the command of the land, sea and air forces of the United Nations in the Netherlands East Indies shall pass to the Dutch, who will continue to receive all assistance which can be made available by the United Nations.

Back to India
"With the approval of the king, Gen. Wavell will resume his appointment as commander in chief in India, which will increase his responsibility for operations in Burma and close co-operation with China. There will be no change in the present arrangement for general coordination of strategic policy in the war against Japan.

Well informed sources here emphasized that Britain would continue assistance to the Dutch but add the type and extent of assistance would be measured by two standards: first the maintenance of such forces as could be left intact and available to inflict losses on the enemy; and secondly the need to avoid pulling in any reinforcement which might subsequently be more urgently needed at points more vitally important strategically.

The military and air commanders will remain in Java, informants said, prepared to continue resistance beside the Dutch. But the effect of the withdrawal of Wavell is to dissolve the southern Pacific command which President Roosevelt and the prime minister agreed on only in December.

This War Vet, 47, Marks His Birthday by Joining Marines

By TOM JOHNSON
Carey Albert Hilling, overseas veteran of World War I, is celebrating his 47th birthday today by making final enlistment tests for the U. S. marine corps in Salt Lake City.

Hilling and two other men more than 30 years of age, Twin Falls yesterday for enlistment as limited service men with the "sea-breeze" corps.

Hilling lives at 744 Second avenue east in Twin Falls. Last year he was commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars post at Rupert. He is a past deputy chief of staff for the VFW's sixth district.

78 Days Under Fire
"Served one year overseas in 1918-19," recalled Hilling, "spent 78 days under shell-fire and six months with the army of occupation in Germany." Hilling enlisted Feb. 23, 1918, in the Texas and Oklahoma infantry division, left the United States June 30, and arrived at Liverpool, England, where he was among the first American troops to land.

"Following my honorable discharge papers presented by Hilling to the marines, indicate he participated in the following actions against the enemy:
St. Mihiel offensive, Sept. 12 to 16; Brevelaire sector (Army offensive), Sept. 25; Metz-Arnaville offensive, Oct. 19 to Nov. 11; Villers-en-Haye sector, Aug. 24 to Sept. 11.

Wants to Serve
Hilling is the man who answered the marine's question, "Why do you desire to enlist in the marine corps?" with the classic, "To serve my country."

Mason's record shows he has served 10 years in the national guard, as a member of the council expressed the opinion that "we're glad to have you back."

Gillette said that he would take a day or two to "kind of get on to things again" and then would "get back in harness."

Gillette, who has been chief of police here for the past half dozen years, was given a leave of absence by the council to accept the FBI call. At that time it was agreed that Gillette could have the chief of police post during his absence. He returned to Twin Falls Monday afternoon and spoke to the council while he was in session that night.

Little Action
The chief said that he felt it was "an honor and a privilege" having been called into the FBI service but pointed out that he was away from Sioux Falls, S. D., where there was little action.

"If I had been a war job with action, and I had been sent to Hawaii or to some other place where I had had more of a job, I would have been of some service, I would have welcomed it," Gillette said.

His resignation was accepted both by J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, and the U. S. attorney general. He pointed out he was still in "good standing" with the bureau.

More Help Here
"I thought that I went back that I could pack a gun and aid my country with action," Gillette said, but I was farther away from activities there than I would be here. For that reason I believe I want to have a bit of a job right here at home."

He said that when he went to Washington he had hoped he could be assigned to the Blue Office where "I could work U. S. territory where I had had most of my life, where my wife lives and where my children go to school."

O. M. Coleman, police and finance commissioner, said that "there is plenty of work here for a man who knows all the ins and outs. I believe that Gillette's work here would be

GRAZING SERVICE TO HELP IN WAR

Directed by the Rutledge set up a huge equipment pool for the vital western defense area and said an estimated 50 automobiles and pieces of heavy machinery will be available as needed for military or defense contracts by the army or other war agencies.

Sharp curtailment of all non-essential activities of the grazing service will make the pool possible, Rutledge said.

"The time for government as usual is over," the director declared. "It is important now for all government agencies to cut their expenses to the bone."

"Our work is important, and none of the equipment we are releasing is surplus. It is needed by us for important grazing projects."

"But some of these will have to wait. The main thing now is to win the war. That's the nation's No. 1 project."
