PRICE 5 CENTS

MACARTHUR'S RAID SINKS THREE JAP TRANSPORT SHIPS

By EVERETT R. HOLLES
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's surprise air attack on Japanese vessels in Subic Bay cost the enemy three heavy transport ships and probably thousands of lives, the war department said today.

A communiqué revealed that MacArthur had identified three of five Japanese transports in a damage report on March 4 as transports and "it is believed, thousands of enemy soldiers" on them were either drowned or killed.

Many Japanese casualties, it was believed, were caused by the ammunition aboard the ships exploded as a result of the bombing.

The communiqué emphasized the complete surprise with which MacArthur's planes, presumably flying high, hit the transports. Not a single American aircraft was damaged, the communiqué said, and for the first time since Dec. 7 no enemy planes were in action during an air operation.

No Enemy Planes
The fact that no Japanese planes took the air against MacArthur's handful of attackers may be because the enemy is believing the bulk of its air strength is in Japan, observers here are saying.

There also have been signs, military men said, that Japanese planes flying from line planes faster than their factories are turning them out. From the Philippines earlier this week came reports that the enemy was using some German-type bombers in the area.

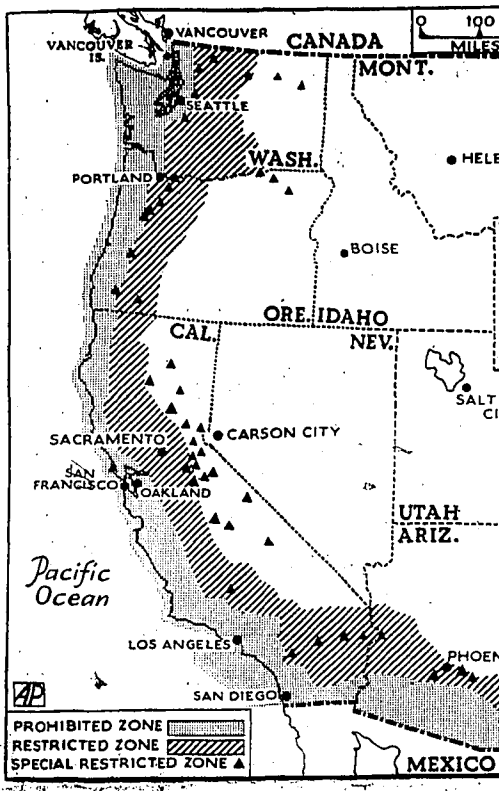

The additional details on the March 4 aerial attack, one of the most spectacular by MacArthur's men, came as military men were forecasting further surprises at the enemy's expense by the conventional commander of the American and Philippine forces on Bataan.

What Next?
The war department reported that unfavorable weather conditions, including poor visibility, hampered the search for a single enemy airplane which had been seen near the island of Honolulu. The bomber, according to the war department, is believed to have been from the Japanese vessel west of the Hawaiian Islands. It lost its missiles from a high altitude and did not damage.

Military men, meanwhile, refused even to speculate on other daring assaults MacArthur might be planning in the Philippines.

36,000 Germans Killed in 18-Day Fight With Reds

Soviet front-line dispatches reported a series of grim and bloody reverses for Adolf Hitler's battered armies today, declaring that the Russians had killed 36,000 Nazis in the 18-day-old battle of Staraya Russa and were now "destroying the remnants" of the trapped invaders.

Nazi prisoners captured in the Staraya Russa sector, where the 16th German army of 96,000 troops has been encircled, were quoted as saying they had gone without food for six days.

A force of 24,000 Germans was likewise declared in Buchholdt dispirited to have been isolated by Red army attacks against Orel, a Nazi-held railroad center 200 miles below Moscow, but a Russian demand for surrender was rejected by the garrison commander, Col. Gen. Heinz Guderian, Adolf Hitler's best known tank specialist.

Reserve planes from Yugoslavia and Denmark were said to have been shot to the Staraya Russa front. London accounts said 200 had been destroyed over that area in one three-day period.

The Russian government announced today that it was ready to establish only 50 miles east of the city of Leningrad, a Nazi defense zone and was set up two regimental headquarters of the 17th German infantry division. A bulletin from Hitler's staff.

Java Appears Doomed as Japanese Press Forward on Fronts of Island

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Java appeared doomed to conquest today as Japan's invasion horde captured at least six key towns, imminently threatened both the old capital, Batavia, and the island headquarters at Bandung, and bombed the last possible harbor at which United Nations reinforcements might debark.

But there was a ray of hope for the stouthearted Dutch and their allies. Lieut. Gen. Robertus J. van Mook of the Dutch East Indies urged the Dutch East Indies to wage a last-ditch defense, then added encouragingly: "It may be expected that at any moment the attack of the enemy will be launched from another side."

Dr. van Mook did not explain what he meant by "another side" whether he referred to embattled Java, another sector of the far Pacific Islands, or elsewhere.

As he spoke, the Japanese had captured at least six key towns, sharply endangered both the old capital, Batavia, and the island headquarters at Bandung, and bombed the last possible harbor at which United Nations reinforcements might debark.

Islands Key Cities
Utilizing effective phony movements, the Japanese isolated Batavia and Bandung, having cut the railway linking those centers of resistance at first unperceived by the enemy. The Japanese had advanced more than half across the island of Java, threatening to capture the island's key cities.

The German radio broadcast a report that the Japanese had captured the island of Java, a report which was quickly refuted by the United States.

NO RUBBER FOR CIVILIAN AUTOS UNTIL WAR ENDS

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—Len Henderson told the senate defense investigating committee today that "no single pound of crude rubber" would be available for new tires or retreads on the upwards of 30,000,000 passenger cars now owned by the ordinary citizen in this country.

Henderson estimated that United Nations rubber requirements for the next five years would be about 2,000,000 tons whereas "the most optimistic estimate" of supply from all sources was only 1,000,000 tons to 1,500,000 tons.

He told the committee that drastic new reductions were in store for civilian uses of rubber, as some still going into such things as shoes, tires and rubber sheets, although non-tire uses have already been reduced from an average of 17,400 tons per year to 14,000 tons.

Car Oil Road
The price administrator at one point in his report statement said that "at best" it was believed that only 1,500,000 gallons of oil would be available for the present 30,000,000 cars in operation over the next three years.

Henderson explained he was appearing as a member of the war production board, as director of civilian supply and as administrator of the price-control act under which he had plan to appear.

Henderson indicated that he had asked the senate group to hold public hearings on the rubber situation which senators later will be making behind closed doors.

Down With Music by Enemy Composers, Grainger Urges

By TOM JOHNSON

No more Bach, Beethoven, nor Liszt, nor Wagner, nor Verdi nor Paganini. They're Italian.

Francis Grainger, pianist-composer, makes today's headlines by urging a ban on music created by enemy composers. He made the declaration last night in Stockton, Calif., where he appeared for a concert, according to the Associated Press.

"Music," quoth Grainger, who will appear in Twin Falls March 17, "is the most infectious form of propaganda under the sun. It is a music of enemy composers should not be played during war time."

These too?

Other Germans whose compositions would be banned by Grainger might include Bruckner, Chock and Handel. The blacklist certainly would include Haydn, Franz Liszt and Mozart.

It would be incomplete without Franz Schubert, Richard Wagner and Johann Strauss. How about Beethoven, Schumann, Weber and Wolf?

Folks who agree with Grainger might testify that Adolf Hitler is reputed to gain solace from Wagner's compositions, some of which are reflecting war tunes.

Incidentally, Grainger is an Australian-born naturalized American who once won the prizes of Edward G. Gies because the Norwegian composer thought the pianist from "down under" displayed a wonderful grasp of Scandinavian music.

Italian composers who would be ousted from the music libraries, according to Grainger's views, might include Rossini, Verdi and Paganini. Estiades here and there still cast a few votes for Billini, Monteverdi, Palestrina, Pergolesi, both Scarlatis and a fellow named Enrico Caruso.

"Music has an emotional appeal," admits Grainger, "and brings out the finest and most beautiful feelings of a people and nation."

Can't praise enemies

"There are admittedly nice things in enemy countries, but it is not good policy to emphasize the fine points of the enemy at the expense of our music."

"It's an automatic thing," he concluded, "like not writing friends in enemy countries."

Banning enemy music, of course, simply would duplicate this republic's action of the last war. Bach, Beethoven and Wagner were castigated in 1917, and returned to favor on or about Nov. 12, 1918.

These composers may not meet with the sympathy of all music-lovers, but he gets whole-hearted approval from the subject of Japanese music.

Folks who have listened to the Tokyo radio maintain the recorded music sounds like a bunch of cats being thrusted into a sausage grinder, with the slices wide open.

Japs Didn't Write 'em

If there are any popular Japanese composers, word of them has not reached our honorable ears. Some jankers are unaware that "Japanese Bandman" was popularized by Paul Whiteman, and all those oriental selections from "Madame Butterfly" were written by Victor Herbert.

As for nice persons who plan to hear Grainger at 8 p. m. Tuesday, March 17, in Twin Falls high school auditorium, should cover prepared to hear at least United Nations music.

BOMB JAPAN NOW, SENATOR ADVISES

NEW YORK, March 5 (AP)—Sen. Elbert D. Thomas, D., Utah, urged American planes to bomb Japanese cities immediately and Maj. Alexander P. de Seversky, designer and United Press aviation analyst, told how it could be done.

Thomas said the war in the Pacific needs "superbombs" and that 1,000 bombs dropped tomorrow on the munitions factories of Tokyo and Osaka would "save the lives of 50,000 American soldiers and sailors."

"The quickest and most economical way for us to deal with Japan," Thomas said, "is to start bombing her industrial centers—factories and shipyards, arsenals and storehouses. Japan's greatest weakness is her concentration in a comparatively small area, easily identified from the air."

"Several hundred construction of a fleet of super-bombers like the Douglas B-19 and the Glenn Martin bomber which have a range of 3,000 miles, with 10,000 lbs. of bombs, and Japan lies within a 2,000 mile radius of Alaska. Fighter planes could be based on Aleutian outposts, 1,000 miles west of the Alaskan mainland, and the acquisition of the Netherlands East Indies would increase Japan's 'air' potential greatly, but said the United States was assured of victory in the air-power race.

SINGAPORE CRAFT LANDS REFUGEES

MELBOURNE, March 5 (AP)—A British freighter, the last ship to leave Singapore, arrived at an Australian port yesterday with 2,500 troops, women and children. It had survived a five-hour bombing by 50 Japanese planes. The ship's normal passenger capacity is 12.

An officer of the Argyle and Buthergland Highland, the Scots regiment, which fought throughout the Malaya campaign and was the rear guard of the retreat to Singapore island, cast off the lines and to be ship as it left, and remained to come a Japanese prisoner.

Most of those aboard the ship had only the clothes they wore. Some women had babies two weeks old.

Passengers and crew praised as heroines two nurses of the Australian imperial force who went to the aid of a gunner wounded by machine gun bullets from Japanese planes, and aided him with their bodies as they dragged him from his gun to shelter, where he died.

Mrs. Speedy pointed out that styles in gardens change as often as styles in clothes, adding that new varieties of old plants made it necessary to "keep up" on garden news to keep one's garden up-to-date.

PLAYERS GETS UNDERWAY IN DISTRICT TOURNAMENT AT WENDELL

8 Star South Central Clubs Fight for Title

By HAL WOOD Times-News Sports Editor WENDELL, March 5.—The city of Wendell was the busiest little town in south central Idaho today as basketball players, fans, coaches and officials arrived here and played in the annual Class B district cage tournament.

The tournament got underway at 2 p. m. with Heyburn tangling with the tough Heppner quintet and Carey meeting Murtaugh.

Tonight's 7:30 show-up, defending state champions, play Paul Panthers and at 8:30 the home-town Wendell quintet plays Castleford to complete the first day's competition.

There's color galore this season and the greatest turnout of fans in the history of Class B district play is expected to find its way into the fine Wendell high school gymnasium where the meet is over and a champion crowned Saturday night.

Some of the color will be provided by the Shoshone Indians—a club that played a pre-tournament schedule of 20 encounters. The Indians, fighting hard last year and pretty much the same this season, came in as runner-up in the 1941 district meet here and then went to the state tournament and walked through all competition to capture the most coveted of crowns.

Defending champion club is the Heyburn quintet—beaten this year in sub-district play by Pauls but still in the district journey because two clubs come from the Mini-Cass area.

However, for the first time since ago state was divided into Class A and B, the Shoshone Indians and the Trojans can be counted a real threat for the district championship and back to back titles are their goal.

The Trojans, coached by Cy Adams, are great pre-tournament season and came through the West sub-district in a very convincing way.

With the added advantage of playing the best of the Shoshone Trojans are as feared by other coaches and teams as much as any club in the meet.

Jerome Boxers Tip Bulldog Battlers, 6-4

KIMBREY, March 5.—For the first time in the history of boxing in Kimberly high school, the Bulldogs were defeated in their home ring here last night.

The victorious club was the Jerome high school Tigers and they triumphed by a 6-4 score with one draw.

Before a packed gymnasium crowd that filled the non-to-spacious stadium, the visitors took five decisions and scored seven knockouts to gain their victory.

Only knockout of the evening was that put on by Quenell of Kimberly and Kinsfinger of Jerome. These two boys have been boxing each other around the ring for two years now—with the Jerome battler still holding the ring.

But Kinsfinger came back with a great rally in the final frame that sent Quenell on an out where the bout ended and gained the decision.

Only knockout of the evening was scored by Hill of Jerome over Buchanan of Kimberly. Hill knocked Buchanan down in second round and polished him off in the third.

Next card on the local schedule will be against Shoshone high school here on Monday, March 9.

Complete results: Jerome, 6; Kimbrey, 4; Jerome, 1; Jerome, 1; Jerome, 1; Jerome, 1; Jerome, 1; Jerome, 1.

Picks for the 1942 Winners at Wendell

As promised yesterday, I'm back with my supply of choice nominations for winning places in the Class B district tournament at Wendell starting tomorrow.

Now, Title No. 1 in any sportswriter's guide is to "stay with the champion until he isn't champion anymore."

And following that listing, we naturally would have to pick the Heyburn Panthers to retain their title—because they are the district champions.

However, the Shoshone Indians hold a better title than that—state Class B champions. So it wouldn't be fair to pick Heyburn's quintet.

So, discarding all rules and regulations which the sports fan would like to discard—with our own special magazine doing the drawing:

- 1—Shoshone
2—Heyburn
3—Wendell
4—Hagerman
5—Castleford
6—Murtaugh
7—Caretay

Now, there are approximately forty-seven other combinations under which the sports fan would like to pick—and probably will. But I took a very complicated system to arrive at the above list.

It didn't cost me anything—so if you want to use it it's yours for the asking. If you don't want it, it goes something like this:

Heyburn to beat Hagerman, Murtaugh and Carey. Paul to do Shoshone and Wendell to beat Castleford in opening games.

Yankees Fail to Offer DiMaggio Any Salary Raise

By JUBON BAILEY ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 5 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, baseball's highest salaried player and No. 1 holdout, broke the silence surrounding his salary negotiations with the world champion New York Yankees today to tell why he has not signed for the 1942 season.

"I don't like to have to wrangle for my salary," he said, "but the only contract the club has offered me was for $37,000, exactly the same as I got last year."

"All I have to do is borrow (president of the Yankees) is that I think I deserve a raise. I didn't give him any figure, so it isn't true that I am holding out for anything exorbitant. I simply said to look at the record and see if I didn't deserve a raise."

The record, it might be mentioned, DiMaggio himself admitted that it would show that DiMaggio had an incomparable batting streak of 56 consecutive games last season, had an average of .327 in 139 games, led the circuit in run-batted-in hits in 1941, was voted the most valuable player in the American league for his part in leading the Yankees to their fifth world championship in six years.

"The club made money last year," DiMaggio said. "I am sure they did. And it won the championship. Now it would be one thing if they offered me whatever rate they thought I earned, but I don't think it's fair to send me a contract for the same dough they were offering me a year ago."

"I'd like to get the whole thing straightened out. I don't want to be in the middle of a strike and see if we can't do something."

DiMaggio is in a spot. In the first place Barrow tells me not to talk to newspapermen and in the second place a lot of fellows making $1 a month in the army are going to figure DiMaggio is a sucker and arguing about that kind of money.

"But I only want what is fair. I know some of the other players are given raises. I know the club made money and that I helped it. So all I want is to be paid what I'm worth."

Albion Boxers Tackle Logan Club Friday

ALBION, March 5.—A boxing card pitting the Albion Normal Panthers against the Logan amateurs has been arranged for Friday, March 6, at the Albion Normal gymnasium.

The amateurs are from Logan, Utah and are composed of college men who wish to condition themselves in preparation for the national amateur boxing meet to be held in Salt Lake City later in the month.

A special feature will be the bout between Merle Reynolds, 175 pounds, of dynamic form from Albion and Chuck Goodwin, 146 pounds, an Idaho boy from Idaho Falls and who is coaching the Logansites. Three years ago Goodwin won the championship in his weight class in the first invitational Idaho high school boxing tournament which was held at Albion last year by virtue of his ability he was crowned champion of his class in the S.A.A.U. meet in the Junior division.

Two veterans will finish the card. Leland Gough, 167 pounds, from Kimberly will give eight pounds in his go with Lynn Steinhilber. Both of them pack dynamite in their wallop so anything might happen.

Other matches on the card will pair Ray Duncanson, 137 pounds from Albion and Gilbert Smith, 144 pounds of Albion and who has won the two fights this year. Glenn Taylor, 137 pounds, will meet Max Jones of Albion, 148 pounds on the teacher squad and Ray Miller, 158 pounds, with Jack Bishop, 161 pounds, of Albion.

SERIAL STORY KING'S ROW

BY HENRY BELLAMANN

TIME IS SHORT
CHAPTER XVI

"SAY—when are you going to Europe? Not soon?"

"Who's your tell me?"

"I know it until today."

"Say—that's tough! I'll be damned if I know what I'm going to do with you! You'll make three-thousand Paris reasonably to lessen the sentiment of the remark."

"Paris, you and me have been in pretty much the same kind of boat so much of the time. You remember I said that right here as this comes about three years ago. We still are, in lots of ways. My girl can't see me, and won't, and you can't come out in the open either and go around with you like other girls and their fellows."

"Cassie's not exactly my girl, Drake. Dr. Tower is very peculiar."

"Could say he is. I think he's a kind of crazy—keeping Cassie shut up all the time away from everybody. But Dr. Gordon's not crazy. He just don't like me."

"Drake, you take on like everything was over. You can get things fixed up all right."

"Oh, let me alone! You don't know how I feel. Don't talk to me, Parris, I—just can't stand more." He turned quickly and almost ran up Federal street.

FOR the first time Parris drew back a little from Drake to get a better perspective. He realized, as he never had, that Drake could be completely illogical and inconsistent, and then feel terribly hurt because he was misunderstood.

"You new and deep fear of Drake, across like a physical ache in his heart. Drake was the best friend he had, probably the best he would ever have. But even as he thought about it he knew that his hopes for Drake had always been unrealistic.

The chances of terrible frustration lay deep in Drake's character—chances, even, of disaster.

PARRIS worked hard. He read day and night, and for the first time prepared digests for his reading for Dr. Tower.

There was a conspiracy of silence among Madame's older friends. Most of them knew of Parris' almost fanatical devotion to his grandmother. They looked at him a little pityingly, but said nothing. Even Drake seldom said anything about Madame, but he knew.

Anna looked with wide, wondering eyes at a remarkably unbreakable old woman, so slight and thin now she scarcely dented the pillows. Each day she smiled and spoke casually to Parris. Then she gave over to the interminable hours of incredible horror—one minute at a time until tomorrow.

During the next two weeks, Dr. Gordon came every day. It was no longer possible to put Parris off with childish answers.

He was eating breakfast absent-mindedly and gloomily, but came downstairs. He looked up quickly. "She is terribly ill, isn't she, now?"

"Very ill, yes. But the weather will be cooler soon—it is usually better the last two weeks of August, you know."

Parris went quietly upstairs and into his grandmother's room. The table was covered with medicine. A hypodermic case was open; the needle and piston evidently freshly dried had not been replaced. He picked up the tube of white tablets and read the label. Just then Anna returned. He pointed at the hypodermic case. "Anna, blanchée à l'huile."

"How long has—has this been necessary, Anna?" His voice shook slightly.

"For several weeks, Parris."

He waited as if he could not say the next word. He picked up the shining hypodermic needle and laid it down again.

"Cancer?" He was surprised that he could say it.

Anna answered in the same tone of voice. "Yes, Parris."

"Why don't you tell me?"

"Madame wished it, Parris. She wanted you to finish your work without worry. She insisted, Parris, she made me promise."

"Yes, yes, I guess so. So that's it! But why did she make plans to go to Europe in September? Didn't she—doesn't she know?"

"Yes, of course she knows. She—she thought she would live through September."

The last tinge of color left his face. Anna moved instinctively closer.

"And—she won't. Is that what you want to tell me?"

"It is impossible that she should live more than a few days. I had made up my mind after Dr. Gordon's visit yesterday to tell you."

He turned and left the room without speaking. Anna heard the door of his room close softly.

"PARRIS!" Cassie's voice over the telephone sounded hurried and anxious. "Listen, Parris, I've got to see you."

"Oh, I can't now, Cassie."

"I know, I would not call it if it wasn't important!"

"All right. Nine o'clock at the corner of Aberdeen campus." Of course she couldn't understand what was happening to him just then. But Cassie had come to tell him.

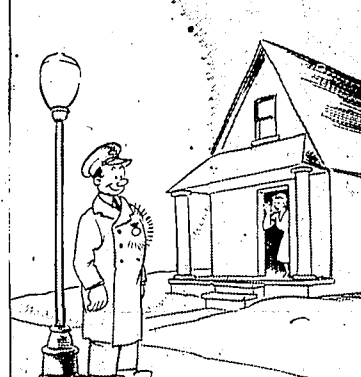

"You know well—you love your grandmother terribly much, don't you?"

"She's all my world, Cassie."

"Everybody's been trying to keep you from knowing how sick she is."

Parris did not reply, Cassie's
