RUSSIANS STRIKE HARD, SEIZE HUGE NAZI WAR SUPPLIES

WOMEN FIGHTING IN FRONT LINES

By WILLIAM R. DOWNS

LONDON, March 11 (AP)—The Russian strike has now hit the Germans on either end of the long front today, killing them by the hundreds and seizing huge piles of war materials.

Soviet forces evidently were maintaining their attacks on almost all sectors, but were unleashing the most terrible fury on the trapped German force around Staraya Russa, and on German forces in the south, trying to hold a springboard for an offensive into the oil-rich Caucasus.

Methodically continuing the destruction of the Germans around Staraya Russa, the Russians reported they had "completely annihilated" two more companies.

Nazi Positions Worn
The positions of the Germans were said to be deteriorating daily, as fled anti-aircraft batteries and pursuit planes shot down the gliders and transports with which the Nazis were trying to supply the encircled remnants of the 10th army.

New successes were announced on the Leningrad front, farther north. The Russians were reported to have taken 17 more strongholds on that front.

The advance toward Scheremetz, the German-held fortress east of Leningrad, was becoming an increasing threat to German communications.

Today's first Russian communiqué reported that in two days' fighting on sectors of the Leningrad front, the Russians had destroyed 12 German blockhouses and 27 dugouts, blown up a large munitions dump and killed 1,000 of the enemy.

Women in Lines
A special broadcast from the southern front, through radio, showed how Soviet troops were "ambushing" the enemy with tripled energy and driving him further west.

A dispatch from Stockholm said the Russians were approaching Kharkov from the sides, and were almost entirely around the city.

Radio Moscow revealed that many women were serving in the front lines, fighting shoulder-to-shoulder with men.

Public Forum

STRONGLY DISAGREES WITH NEED OF JAP LAID

Editor, Times-News:

I, being a farmer in this Magic Valley, also pride myself as being a patriotic farmer. However, I do not agree with Mrs. Mill's statement in her Public Forum of a recent issue. She states we are faced so badly in need of labor and are denying ourselves of the same just because we are prejudiced against the Japs.

Lady, you are absolutely right. We farmers are prejudiced against the Japs. The vote of the Farmer's Congress will bear me out in that.

She states that our prejudices have gone to ruin, or words to that effect. That is my way of thinking almost, because along the line of being pro-Jap, we have handicapped in the line of all the labor we might be obtaining but if we farmers retrain ourselves the same as all other business is trying to do, we are going to get by without any serious results in our operations.

She also states her ideas are not the sentiments of her husband. I believe she is absolutely correct in that statement. I feel her husband, being a patriotic farmer, is in accord with the balance of us farmers.

Sometimes I think Winston Churchill was the hillside irrigation expert. Sidney Byram, district president; Samuel E. Vance, district secretary, and all unknown owners of claimants of three district bonds, was reversed in part by the Idaho supreme court.

The judgment of the district court was appealed after it ruled Boulder, Wegener and company, a hole bonding corporation, was entitled to recover upon three $1,000 bonds stolen from the Vesta State bank at Vesta, Minn., in 1931. The bonds were issued by the district in 1921. The supreme court ruled "the property of public and quasi-public corporations is not subject to execution" in such action.

The irrigation district, being a quasi-public corporation, the court ruled, in trial court's judgment, insofar as it affected the district, should be reversed.

The judgment was "otherwise" affirmed and remanded for "further proceedings in harmony with the views expressed" in the supreme court opinion.

OFFERS TO PAY FOR SENDING LETTERS TO SENATORS

Editor, Times-News:

If every genuine American citizen of the U. S. could read, understand, fully digest and obey the letter that masterful address by our esteemed Congressman and citizen, Claude Bowers, this letter would be that foretold on us by the war mongers of this nation as well as other nations, ought to be put out of business instantly.

I think of the young manhood who were used to have home and mother and all this to hold dear, to march off to the fields of death for the paltry sum of twenty-one dollars per month, while racketeers run the country at fabulous salaries and call for more soldiers while the taxpayers are being held white.

Politics and power have just us where we are today. Will the people continue to stand for this? I challenge anybody to stand up for this. Next phase of the plan, according to Mr. Toffemire, will be the distribution of "universal pledge cards," late in April or early in May.

All persons having a regular income from any source will be requested to sign the form, indicating the percentage they wish to set aside regularly for the dual purpose of investing their savings and financing the war.

First Aid Classes

BOND ALLOTMENT PLAN COMPLETE

Eight south central Idaho counties have turned in complete reports on the extent of the payroll allotment plan. It was announced today by R. S. Toffemire, regional coordinator for the U. S. defense savings bonds staff in Idaho.

Twin Falls and Gooding counties turned in their complete reports last night. Cassia, Minidoka, Lincoln, Jerome, Blaine and Camas counties have reported to the defense savings office at Boise.

Claude H. Delweller, chairman in charge of the payroll allotment plan in Twin Falls county, noted that more than 80 establishments are covered in his report, in most instances 100 per cent of the employees cooperating.

A. J. Schubert, executive chairman for Gooding county, reported that all but three or four firms employing two or more persons in Gooding, Wendell and Hagerman were included. The remainder are expected to sign in the next few days to make it 100 per cent. Approximately 40 companies joined.

R. M. Logsdon, deputy state administrator, Boise, is expected to give a report on the status of south central Idaho's cooperation in the savings bonds program.

Next phase of the plan, according to Mr. Toffemire, will be the distribution of "universal pledge cards," late in April or early in May.

All persons having a regular income from any source will be requested to sign the form, indicating the percentage they wish to set aside regularly for the dual purpose of investing their savings and financing the war.

They're 'Good Eggs,' These Briton Fliers

Take it from Wayne Minnick, three young Briton fliers being trained in the United States in the art of flying are "good eggs."

Minnick, member of the ground force (civilian) at an air training school at Lancaster, Calif., is in Twin Falls for a week's visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Minnick, 609 Blue Lakes boulevard.

Allied Training School
The school where the local youth is employed is just 70 miles north of Los Angeles and, at the present time, is utilized exclusively for training of young British, Polish, Welsh and Australian pilots.

Particularly noticeable about the young English boys, Minnick said, is their keen sense of humor and also their politeness.

"When you just wipe off a plane for them, or wash the plane's windshield for them, the boys, Minnick said today, this he pointed out, is a "little different" from the American custom.

Average age of the young fliers in the Lancaster camp ranges from 18 to 21 years. They come all the way from their home land, via Canada, to take flight lessons here using U. S. civilian instructors. The school is operated, of course, on a military basis with officers in charge of the ground workers and the flight instructors are civilians.

Wise Is Commander
At the present time the flight commander is Jack Wick, former Twin Falls flier who formerly operated a school at the municipal airport here. He also served as GPT instructor in Twin Falls for several months.

Concerning the Irishmen who have volunteered their services to England to this war—while their own country is neutral—Minnick said: "They don't say much about the neutrality of their country."

Young as they are, some of the boys in the California school at the present time were in the battle of Dunkirk and after that they joined the air force "so they could get something done."

COURT REVERSES BOND COLLECTION

BOISE, March 11 (AP)—A judgment against the hillside irrigation expert, Sidney Byram, district president; Samuel E. Vance, district secretary, and all unknown owners of claimants of three district bonds, was reversed in part by the Idaho supreme court.

The judgment of the district court was appealed after it ruled Boulder, Wegener and company, a hole bonding corporation, was entitled to recover upon three $1,000 bonds stolen from the Vesta State bank at Vesta, Minn., in 1931. The bonds were issued by the district in 1921. The supreme court ruled "the property of public and quasi-public corporations is not subject to execution" in such action.

The irrigation district, being a quasi-public corporation, the court ruled, in trial court's judgment, insofar as it affected the district, should be reversed.

The judgment was "otherwise" affirmed and remanded for "further proceedings in harmony with the views expressed" in the supreme court opinion.

This statement was made in reference to a western defense command announcement Monday that practice blackouts were planned in the west and had been since Dec. 9. Homer Hutcheon, state blackout director, made a similar statement and asserted the practice had been of great value to the state.

"However, there will be no statewide blackout as we had planned," he added, "and will there be any more district blackouts."

DETOUR

America's Number One objective is to win the war, and the degree of our success will be measured in our ability to shift from peace-time to war-time production.

The Automobile Industry and its allied businesses have made one of the greatest sacrifices to date. Automobile dealers of Snake River Valley have patriotically accepted the stoppage of automobile sales. The production lines of Detroit and elsewhere are rolling out tanks, plane engines and guns, jeeps and jeeps, and all the other vital machinery of war.

This is only one of the major changes which will come as the result of war. This is EVERYBODY'S WAR—and it will be everybody's peace. Against the day when America returns to peace, we should ALL be responsive to one another's problems. We should help keep open the channels of distribution which have been dislocated by war—so that they will be ready for the post-war job of carrying the nation to greater heights than we have ever before known.

We can only win BOTH the war and the peace by standing together now.

Idaho Power Company owns and operates some 200 cars and trucks — to maintain and electric service throughout an area of Snake River Valley more than 400 miles in length. We are conserving our transportation facilities to the best of our ability, and local garages, repair shops and service stations are helping us to do it.

So make use of the facilities your dealer has provided to conserve your car. The "detour" can't last forever.

Prize Picture to Be Unveiled at Heyburn

Most dramatic moment of the 10th annual Heyburn art exhibit will come Friday night, March 13, with the unveiling of the prize painting.

Canvases of Utah, Idaho, Colorado, North Dakota, California, Pennsylvania, Maryland, South Carolina and Washington, D. C. artists are competing for this honor.

The past decade, when America was discovered artistically, is regarded by the critics as the most provocative 10 years in the history of art in this country, and the vitality of the decade is reflected in practically all of the canvases shown this year.

Selection of the picture, which will be the permanent collection of the Heyburn high school, is determined by the board of directors of the art exhibit, members of the school board and Supt. Walter Binger.

Leading in popular appeal this year—according to the votes cast by members of those attending the exhibit—was "Wood River at Casley"; Edgar A. Payne's "French Tuna Boats"; and Mildred Miller's "The Art Room."

Moller, who does Idaho and Wyoming landscapes with compelling authenticity, is represented by two pictures in the permanent collection at Heyburn—largest in the state. His first was purchased in 1937, and the second in 1938.

Payne's canvas is an interesting contrast of mazy pasted background and vivid-sailed boats in the foreground.

ATTENTION, People of Magic Valley!

PLEASE ANSWER THIS IMPORTANT QUESTION FOR US!

For the past several weeks, the merchants of Twin Falls have observed 9:00 A. M. to 6 P. M. as Retail Store Hours for the week—including Saturday.

These hours were adopted for two major reasons - first, to save electricity, fuel and power as a patriotic contribution during this world wide emergency; - second, to give our employes more leisure time, which in turn, is a contribution to their health and which will likewise allow them time to give more of their time to civilian defense activities.

However, it is our desire to give the people of Magic Valley the best and most convenient retail service.

We want an answer to this QUESTION: Have you been--or will you be--materially inconvenienced by these Saturday shopping hours... 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. Grocery 9 A. M. to 7 P. M.

BURLEY, GOODING, BUHL, TWIN FALLS POST FIRST DAY WINS

Potting Two Points for Burley

Thriller of the day in the opening round of the Class A cage tournament here last night was the Burley-Oakley battle... (No. 4) Peterson of Oakley in foreground; Matthews (No. 12) of Oakley; Martin, Oakley; McMurray, Oakley and Roberts of Burley.

Eliminations In Class A Start Today

Four unbeaten teams put their records on the line in the Class A tournament this afternoon and tonight—and when the dust settles they will have two of eight south-central Idaho quintets will be shunted to the sidelines for the duration.

The four winners in yesterday's play were Twin Falls, Gooding, Burley and Buhl. Today's schedule pits Jerome against Piler in an elimination contest at 3:30 and Oakley vs. Rupert at 4:30 in another bout that sends the losers to the sidelines for the rest of the meet.

SPORT Scrubs by Hal Wood

The cry is "get the Bruins" in this Class A district tournament. And we have an idea that the more the Twin Falls club will know it has been in a battle-deplete yesterday's very convincing victory.

However, to the sideline observers, Coach Doc Cranney's crew look like it has just about everything that will be needed to carry it through—experience, height, height, scoring ability.

Draft Hits A's Hard But Prospects Good

ANAHEIM, Calif., March 11 (AP)—The city of it is that Connie Mack might well have had a first division club for the first time since 1933.

It is incontestable to report, around the Philadelphia Athletics camp is that the honorable A's will make a determined fight to stay out of the American league cellar for the third consecutive year.

Good Rookie Hunters On the good side of the ledger the venerable, lovable Mack has a fine looking array of new pitchers. If we can just keep them around for a year I believe we'll have a real star in 1942, and the other big boys might come through this season.

There are 14 pitchers in camp, 11 of whom will be in the regular line-up. The regulars include Jack Knott, Herman Besse, Luman Harris, Les McCann, Ed Phil Marchionini and Bill Beckman.

KINGS ROW

BY HENRY BELLAMANN

CURLEY XCIBS

CHAPTER XXI

DRAKE walked across the lawn and stopped to straighten a row of sea shells he had set in a rectangular flower bed near the drive. It had been his Aunt Mammie's favorite spot. All of her plants flourished here. It was looking a little withered just now, but of course it was late September. He'd get the place fixed up—have the house painted and the low picket fence taken down. There were really many reports to be made. No wonder the house didn't rent. He had never looked at it closely before. It was dilapidated, that's what it was—downright dilapidated.

He heard the telephone ringing. He went slowly and indifferently toward the house. It was Mr. Wakefield calling.

"Could you come down here to the bank for a few minutes?"

"Why, certainly."

Half an hour later he faced Mr. Wakefield at the cashier's window. Mr. Wakefield came back and unlocked the heavy oak door.

"You're overdrawn a little, you know."

"Overdrawn?"

"Yes. Let me see, I think about fifty dollars, or so, nothing to speak of."

"But—could I speak to Mr. Curley?"

"Mr. Curley's in Texas. Went down on business. I expect him back next week."

"But I thought I had more than a thousand dollars in my account?"

"How could you be that far off?"

Mr. Wakefield smiled again.

"No. Sure enough, Mr. Wakefield. I haven't been spending my money—not much. And on the first of July there must have been about a thousand dollars put in."

"Well, well, I see, Drake. I guess Mr. Curley just overbooked it. But he's usually very punctilious, indeed."

"What about my account?"

"Well, we'll fix that up. It's just a matter of a few days. I can arrange that for you. You want to require the whole amount, of course?"

"No, certainly not."

"Mr. Curley ought to be back on Tuesday. I'll call you."

On the way back to his own house, Mr. Wakefield stopped to speak to Percy Davis. They chatted for a moment.

"Um... Mr. Wakefield granted permission naturally, but there was a slightly troubled look in his eye. Mr. Curley was a reticent man, but he usually discussed such matters with someone. Mr. Wakefield tried to recall the terms of Rhodes Livingston's will, but he was pretty sure that Curley had an absolute freedom in managing the estate."

All through the morning Mr. Wakefield was somewhat distrustful. He always walked home to midday dinner, leaving the bank exactly at half-past five. Today he left at fifteen minutes early.

When he returned, Mr. Wakefield walked on several customers. Then he called Percy Davis. Davis was a round-faced elderly man, who had been in the Farmers Exchange for many years.

"Yes, sir, Mr. Wakefield."

"Come on back to the vault with me, Percy."

"Yes, sir."

They entered the vault.

"Which is Mr. Curley's box?"

Union street. Only when he was inside of it with the doors closed did he show his deep discontent.

He made Randy promise not to let Parris know. No use troubling Parris. It never occurred to him that Parris had money and he didn't. It was simply that he didn't want Parris bothered about this. Then, of course, he'd get it all fixed up some way pretty soon.

But Drake did not "fix things up." The winter passed, and he had no job. He tried for anything he thought he might be able to do. Everywhere the men he talked to were good-humored and jocular—sometimes a shade contemptuous. By spring he was becoming despondent. He notified mention of a job unless he was actually making application.

Then he began to pretend he wasn't looking for work.

He left the boardinghouse and cooked his own meals. At first he made a frightful mess of it, but later he improved. When Randy found out about it the same coming time late in the evening and helped him. She put the rooms in order and taught him something about being a chef. By the end of the summer his cash was running alarmingly low.

Now he did his own washing, and dried the clothes in the kitchen so no one would know.

"Yes, sir, I saw him staggering out of Fritz Bachman's lunchroom just last Saturday. Drunk as a fool."

Fritz Bachman's lunchroom, which was patronized by railroad men, was also a convenient "blind tiger."

Somehow Drake found himself going rather often to Fritz Bachman's place. Sleep came with increasing difficulty. He had made it a habit to stop by the amply little lunchroom when he left Randy's house at night. It was directly on the way home. He exchanged a few rough jokes with Fritz, gulped a glass of whiskey, and went home. Randy knew nothing of this.

German officials declared these attacks were only preliminary raids, and expected that they would have British planes were reported shot down.

The French radio broadcast from Brazzaville, French equatorial Africa, said de Gaulle's forces entered the city of rails upon Italian positions in southwest Libya.

Important munitions depots were seriously damaged and prisoners were taken in a 1,200-mile drive from the Lake Chad region across the great Pecos desert, it was said.

The British command reported a series of engagements of the enemy in Libya in all of which its units were compelled to withdraw although they had artillery and in some cases tanks.

This fighting resulted from activities of British patrols, the daily command reported.

The Italian claims were that the home high command claimed that 20 planes were shot down by Italian submarines off the east coast of the United States.

Italian torpedo boats have sunk two submarines in the Mediterranean and definitely lost six of the underwater craft in the Mediterranean in the last four weeks, the high command added.

Two torpedo boats shared in the latest success in destroying a submarine at different places and on different days, it was announced. The German radio said that German men sank a 2,000-ton merchant vessel and attacked British airplanes over an reconnaissance flight to the Faeroe and Shetland islands.

Sophomore Stunt Wins Honors At Pre-Tournament Assembly

Sophomore class at Twin Falls high school yesterday won 100 points toward the citizenship cup with their prize-winning play, "The Citizens of Pikes," "Colas, Pooled Again!" Yesterday's program was the semi-annual student assembly held each year before one of the most important fall football games, and before the dismissal of the tournament. Second place went to the senior classmen, which presented a "Naughty Marcella," and the juniors came in third with their presentation of "Byrd Lede," which was not entered in competition.

The winning stunt was a pantomime, written by John Lindemann and Barbara Price, with Bill Robinson as narrator, and portrayed by Mollie Pig, Bonnie Jean Douglas, and her Pig and Pig sisters, taken by Ronald Zuehl, Clark Robertson and Gordon Felt, respectively.

Each play organized his own basketball team, to be challenged by the "William Deaf," as played by Franklin McMillin. On the 13 team were Gordon Hayler, Steve Cox, Robert Woods and David Steiner. Pig 11's squad included Wayne Armstrong, Lawrence Paterson, Wesley Martin and Teddy Durrant.

"Brin" team of Pig 11 was the only one to win the title in the attack, thus attaining their superiority to all the other teams, as symbolic to the rally program to go to the tournament. Members of this squad were Bill Weber, Delmar Wibley, Harold Peterson, Perry Bragg, Stanford, Hard Work, Bill Bukak, Courage, and Francis Kleffner. The German radio said that German men sank a 2,000-ton merchant vessel and attacked British airplanes over an reconnaissance flight to the Faeroe and Shetland islands.

Senior Offering

STATISTICS FOR SALES TAX ASKED

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—The house ways and means committee, trying to raise at least $7,000,000,000 new revenue, called on treasury officials today for all available statistics on the sales tax. The committee is looking for $15,000,000,000 in new revenue, and sales tax is expected to be a major source of funds. Some members of the committee are expected to push for a 5 percent increase in the retail sales tax but is maintaining an open mind on a manufacturing tax. Morganthau and many treasury officials have expressed opposition.

to a sales tax, contending among other things that it would be inequitable and inflationary. W. J. Scheffelin, jr., chairman of the New York state Chamber of Commerce, proposed yesterday that Congress should raise $4,000,000,000 through a graduated retail sales tax and $1,000,000,000 from higher income taxes, with the other $2,000,000,000 from President Roosevelt's $7,000,000,000 program being deferred until 1943. Treasury officials have estimated that a 5 percent increase in the retail sales tax would yield from $15,000,000,000 to $2,750,000,000, depending on exemptions. Chairman Doughton, D. N. C., of the committee said that he opposed a retail sales tax but was maintaining an open mind on a manufacturing tax. Morganthau and many treasury officials have expressed opposition.

AIR RAID ALARM SOUNDS ON COAST

LOS ANGELES, March 11 (AP)—Air raid wardens and emergency units were mobilized shortly before dawn today by an alert order, but the fourth intercepted command gave an all-clear signal an hour and six minutes later without declaring a general blackout.

In San Francisco, the western defense command said an "unidentified object" caused a preliminary "yellow" alert at 5:42 a. m. This was changed to a "blue" alert at 6:02 a. m. The "blue" signal mobilized emergency agencies and alerted radio broadcasting stations.

The "yellow" alert was effective from Santa Barbara to San Diego counties, the "blue" only in Los Angeles and its neighboring counties on the north and south, Ventura and Orange.

Radio stations returned to the air at 6 a. m.

It was the first radio alerting in nearly two weeks, since the entire metropolitan area was blacked out and anti-aircraft guns fired for a half-hour Feb. 25 at what Secretary of War Stimson said was a flight of enemy commercial airplanes.
