BRITISH BAN PUT ON NEW STORES

In England there's little—if any—encouragement for expansion and new buildings for opening up new stores without specific permission (and then only in rare instances) and likewise anything they have not sold in the past.

This was one of the interesting revelations found in a recent copy of the London Daily Mail which was received here after being forwarded by Mrs. J. J. Keiker, former local resident who now resides in Sacramento, Calif.

Food Excluded
The new order, a story in the newspaper explains, does not affect food shops, but 48 other retail trades are listed.

Permitting to open a new store will be granted only in exceptional circumstances—for instance where a district is badly served with essential goods, or where a bombed-out storekeeper wants to open new quarters in the old shop. Opening of new shops it was explained, might seriously disturb the relation between sales and selling costs and tend to make a rise in prices inevitable.

All types of clothing shops, furniture and household stores are affected. The order, according to the publication covers, among other things, leather goods, clothing, china, glass, jewelry, toys and games, musical instruments, electrical goods, drugs and medicines, books, stationary and tobacco. It also includes provision for hairdressing, beauty treatment, circulating libraries and auctioneers.

No War-time and in fact all residents of England—also must carry home purchases in their own hands—without benefit of wrappings of any kind.

Another ban has been issued which says that "from now on" all shopkeepers are "forbidden to wrap up for customers" any of the following foodstuffs—in paper or cardboard: Bread, butter, margarine, jam, marmalade, fruit, vegetables, fish, and other articles in the article is found this paragraph:

If we buy bouquets, stockings, underwear, shoes, we must carry them away from the shop just as they are.

And likewise to save paper: No Christmas cards, birthday or other greeting cards can be printed from now on.

All advertising posters and show cards must be cut down in size by half.

No local guide books or directories can be printed.

Advertising circulars are banned. Cinemas, theaters, racecourses, and other places of entertainment can exhibit only 10 posters to advertise "one programme."

Red Tape Means Nothing to Yankee Soldiers in Australia

By TOM YARBROUGH
SYDNEY, Australia, March 19.—American officers and soldiers began cutting through red tape and showing their traditional mechanical ingenuity in this continent, according to reports today—to the delight of Australians.

The dramatic headlines about the arrival of the Yanks gave Australian morale its biggest boost of the war, even though most Australians had known about some landings for weeks.

The first transports, laden with planes and equipment, were unloaded before only a handful of water-side workers, police, militia and residents of the dock area—in marked contrast to the noisy welcome given previous visits of United States naval units.

Populace cheers
Within an hour, the troops poured down the gangways and marched three abreast to camp sites. A surprised populace cheered, quickly got out flags and bunting.

But the policy of secrecy on anti-Japanese preparations was quickly imposed, and later conveyed, went without greeting, and without mention in the newspapers.

A joking remark, frequently heard before the official announcement, expressed the public attitude: "Hello, mister! Is it an official secret how you like it here?"

"There's a war on," said another American, who refused to be balked by the fact that power and light wires prevented big bombers from being moved into a hangar. He was told it would take two days to get taller poles.

"Fractor, aww," timber and men were muttered. In two hours the poles had been hiked up on stilts.

Americans fit into the Australian scene as quickly and comfortably as they fit in Missouri, or a Hoosier in Kansas.

When they were comfortably housed and well fed at base camps in the interior, most men appeared well pleased with Australia. Said one Californian: "After finishing the Japs I think I will marry an Australian beauty and settle down here."

The papers are full of salutes to MacArthur, praise of the Americans and recollection of past American-Australian camaraderie in arms.

"Yes, sir, IDAHO FARMERS

It all adds up:"

- (1) AMERICA'S NEED FOR SUGAR
- (2) NO ACREAGE RESTRICTIONS
- (3) PROFITABLE CONTRACTS
- (4) COMMUNITY BENEFITS

Sound farm practices tell us that we should grow farm products that are (1) most needed by the nation, (2) most profitable to ourselves, (3) most beneficial to the territory in which we live, and (4) offer us the best opportunity for future continued returns on our investment.

Sugar beets meet all these requirements. America urgently needs sugar to make up for lost foreign supplies and sugar diverted to war production. Sugar beets offer a dependable, fair cash return. The best sugar industry—through beet payments, payrolls, taxes, railroad revenues—benefits every person in every region where it operates. Finally, every farmer who plants a maximum acreage of sugar beets in 1942 will establish for himself and his district a favorable case history that will help him to attain favorable allotments when we return to the quota system.

Sugar beets can be YOUR important contribution to the war effort... and one from which you yourself and your community will benefit.

UTAH IRONS OUT ALIEN PROBLEMS

SALT LAKE CITY, March 19 (UP)—A satisfactory settlement of the alien control and immigration problem in Utah today appeared to have been reached, following day-long conferences between agricultural leaders, state officials, and Thomas Clark, San Francisco alien coordinator for the western defense command.

Clark explained plans to Gov. Herbert B. Maw and officials of the Utah Farm Bureau federation and other agricultural groups. As a result of the meeting, the combined farm groups adopted a five-point statement clarifying their attitude in the situation.

The statement said, agriculture is entirely opposed to sale of Utah-land to Japanese or to leases which extend beyond duration of the war.

Second, agriculture approves employment of Japanese immigrants in harvest and other farm work provided they do not displace local labor and are kept out of strategic areas.

Third, agriculture favors a system under which all immigrant Japanese will report to the U. S. employment service on their arrival in the state.

Fourth, the plan making all his should make surveys of possible public work projects which might be inaugurated to provide employment for Japanese.

And fifth, the Farm Bureau federation and other groups recommended a program of careful supervision of immigrants and approved Gov. Maw's action in making all his information available to federal authorities, and to the counties.

formulation, said "Australians and Americans today are blood brothers under the leadership of the hero of the Philippines, Gen. MacArthur. It is a brotherhood born when the blood intermingled on the soil of France in 1918 on the day which is remembered by all Americans, July 4. On that day American troops fought with the Anzacs under an Australian commander in the battle of Hamel."

The Sydney Morning Herald said "General MacArthur is the embodiment of the aggressive spirit which Anzacs prize. His coming surely sets the end of retreatism."

ESCAPED CONVICT IS IDAHO FARMER

POCATELLO, Idaho, March 19 (UP)—Sheriff D. A. McNeilich said today that fingerprints records showed that Harry Williams, 45, of Pocatello, is George Porter, escaped Utah prison convict.

McNeilich said he had arrested Porter following receipt of information from an undisclosed source that he was a prison escapee.

The man, who has lived in Idaho as "a good family man and good citizen" for almost 22 years, will be returned to Salt Lake City to finish his uncompleted sentence, the sheriff added.

Porter was committed to the Utah prison Jan. 6, 1929 on a second degree burglary conviction growing out of the burglary of a Cinnabun Utah, store of merchandise valued at $2,500, McNeilich said.

He escaped May 27, 1930, and has been living in Idaho since that time. As Williams he married some years ago.

"I'm willing to go back and serve my sentence if they want me," Porter was quoted by the sheriff as saying.

NATIONAL REPRESENTATIVES
 Mills Tower, 225 South Main, San Francisco, Calif.

BIG—The American people are enraged and wounded because of the losses they have suffered so far, especially the defeats inflicted by the Japanese. Never before has the national pride been damaged so severely. All incoming letters and visitors show this.

But there are definite compensations. Whenever our men, ships and planes have met the enemy on fairly even terms, they have shown a decided superiority. We have out-gunned and outmaneuvered them in every area of warfare. Our soldiers have proved that Hitler's legions are not invincible and Moscow's conscripts are no match for the American fighting man. It is perhaps the outstanding lesson of the conflict. Douglas A. MacArthur has revealed that a Japanese fighter man the foe, the publisher of naval communications disclose that our seaman surpasses those of their Pacific opponents. Both the army and the Chinese have equipped and out-gunned them.

Such reports cheer allied leaders—President Roosevelt, Winston Churchill, Chiang Kai-shek and the British—during these hours of darkness. A year or more may elapse before we produce sufficient soldiers and weapons to match them side by side but there is plenty of present-day evidence that we can lick 'em in a big way.

WARN—Fashion trade spokesmen have engaged in a bitter behind-the-scenes battle with the style experts and retailers of the United States. The W.P.B.—a recently proclaimed that they intended to standardize patterns for feminine clothing. Their plan was to force designers to produce the Wickard-Eleanor Roosevelt original radio policy that sugar might run short. It precipitated a sort of arms race between the fashion designers and the W.P.B. answer was: "We don't give a hoot about the garment industry that it has to shift over to the manufacture of guns."

STAGE—Numerous wealthy and patriotic American citizens have offered to dig into their own pockets to finance the construction of a destroyer submarine torpedo boat. Twenty five are offered proposals which would cost their makers from five hundred thousand to five million dollars.

It is a man who has been offered five hundred thousand dollars for a buck but must wait until it is worth only a hundred cents. The difference, four hundred and ninety-nine thousand dollars—from his income tax payments—cannot be patriotic and economical at the same time.

Pending legislation, however, will permit the presenters of the project to purchase the machines to the government. And bills now in the incubator stage may authorize Uncle Sam to requisition needed articles of this nature.

MONEY—Governor Herbert R. O'Connor of Maryland, in setting up a new economic council, has named other chief executives as its members. It seems like a simple proposition but he has received more mail on the subject than he can handle.

The Free State boss has forbidden any of his subordinates to attend local or national conventions unless they are invited. He has also forbidden the exchange of ideas on commonwealth problems is helpful but he feels that such things as the saving of energy should count.

JUST ANOTHER SCREW LOOSE

Old Comptroller, congressman from the First district, is setting up a new economic council. He is the executive Congressional record, we note and he has been named as the chief of the new council. "Which has been hung upon the River and Harbor bill at the behest of the President, under the name of the House of Representatives, and the Congress for consideration. This is just another example of Mr. White's incompetence to represent the people of the State. He has been named as the chief of the new council. He has been named as the chief of the new council. He has been named as the chief of the new council.

WHEN IS LOSEY?

When the navy department released its account of the destruction of the Japs did at Pearl Harbor, it said that the destroyer Shaw was totally lost. We even had pictures to show the loss of the Shaw. We even had pictures to show the loss of the Shaw. We even had pictures to show the loss of the Shaw.

Now comes word that the Shaw has arrived at a safe port. The Shaw has arrived at a safe port. The Shaw has arrived at a safe port. The Shaw has arrived at a safe port.

A HEAVY LOSS TO OUR NAVY

Sinking of the U. S. cruiser Hoot and the destroyer McCracken in the loss of the 900 American seamen, brings the war home to our people. The loss of the Hoot and the McCracken is a heavy loss to our navy. The loss of the Hoot and the McCracken is a heavy loss to our navy.

MOVIE EXECUTIVE SUCCEUMBS AT 56

TWIN FALLS, March 10 (AP)—Edward R. Kent, 56, movie executive, today was named president of one of the nation's largest motion picture companies, 20th Century-Fox, died early today.

He had been in poor health from a weak heart five years, but about a year ago was so improved that he took up his working hours. His death came as a surprise. Only two weeks ago he went to Chicago for a company convention.

Wife Present
Death came at 5 p. m. at his home. His second wife, Mrs. Lillian White Kent, was the only relative present. Kent had been active recently. His daughter, by a former marriage, Peggy Ann Kent Wilson, wife of a local announcer, was at her home in Hollywood.

Kent primarily was a salesman—a super-salesman, who saved the old Fox film corporation from bankruptcy and merged it with Twentieth Century to form one of the industry's leading.

Earlier he had been salesman manager for the company and vice-president of Paramount. In 1932, he resigned to become financial director of the company. He had financial straits it was threatened with bankruptcy. Largely through his reputation for honesty and his record with Paramount, he induced Fox executives not to foreclose.

Effecting Merger
Three years later, in 1935, he effected a merger with the new Twentieth Century Pictures company, organized by Darryl Zanuck and Joe Schenck. This merger was effected as chairman of the board until he resigned last January. Zanuck was vice-president in charge of production, and Kent built the new corporation into one of the industry's most powerful.

Kent was born July 30, 1886, at Lincoln, Neb.

Grange Gleanings

By A. HARVESTER

POMONA
After convening in the fifth Grange hall on March 7, Twin Falls County Pomona Grange lowered to the fourth degree for the transaction of business. Resolutions were read for reference to the executive committee. Mrs. Roy Haviland asked to be relieved from the union committee as she is now resident of the Jerome community.

O. T. Cantrell reported the result of the Red Cross benefit, $440 being received and $15 worth of goods on hand to be sold at the Kimberly sale.

Master Eric Jones reported a consistent growth in all Granges, especially those with smaller memberships, and all Granges are active in Red Cross and defense work. Overzeer R. O. Harding reported the Red Cross benefit sale that the West Grange held on that day. This sale netted $230 for the Red Cross. Another Red Cross sale is to be held at Kimberly this week. Harlan Pleasant Valley, Excelsior Grange, reported.

The lecturer, Mrs. J. M. Pierce, announced a meeting of all subordinate lecturers in the Pomona district together during the meeting. Chairman George B. Johnson reported on the Pomona Grange, and the local and state-wide of the state extend to the family sincere sympathy.

Fairview Home
A. Harvester told the Grange about the new Grange home that is being built. The hall will be 48 feet by 32 feet in the main auditorium, with a 24 feet by 14 feet room. There is a full basement under the main auditorium and this hall is for a dining room and kitchen. The new hall, which is being done with volunteer labor and the cost of the material is being met by the Grange. This hall was purchased from Duhon independent school district, formerly owned and operated by the Grange. The basement area of childer club and make a very nice appearance. The hall is heated four miles south and one and one-half miles west of Duhon on the Castleford road.

All Granges made a gratifying report of activity that we must mention some of them. Pleasant Valley Grange, though not very busy, note what they are doing, has a new member signed up and more have been promised to join. Twin Falls Grange has had 20 new members signed up in the last year and has bought $600 in defense bonds. Cedar Draw Grange, one of the smallest in the state, has purchased the most new members and was a co-partner in the Red Cross sale that netted $123. The Cedar Draw Committee club and the Cedar community helped in this sale.

Recently Grange seemed to be slacking off but a good live juvenile is helping them a lot with good reports from Mountain Hook. Grange has been very interesting discussion of national and world topics, and three very much enjoyed by the members.

When Came Food
At this stage of the meeting a recess was declared and a beautiful lunch was enjoyed by the committee to relate the crowd that was comparatively small all morning had increased greatly and a most enjoyable visit was enjoyed by all as they talked it over with friends they had known some time ago. Some of the one of the values of Grange association that many do not appreciate is that the powers want to keep down their folks they forbid public assembly and exchange of ideas.

The lecturer's program, always most after the noon lunch, consisted with two solos by Doris Jones, an

Don't Throw out Old Anti-Freeze, Motorists Urged

Necessarily for draining and saving automotive anti-freeze for use next winter was pointed out today by Chairman Carl S. Anderson of the Twin Falls county rationing board. A successful campaign against waste of anti-freeze at a time when every gallon of alcohol is needed to make explosives," he said, quoting National Alcohol, the heads of four-fifths of anti-freeze solutions in use is essential to the manufacture of smokeless powder. A single shot from a 16-inch shell, used as much alcohol as two dozen cars in a whole winter.

"Motorists should provide their own recollections when asking service station attendants to drain the radiator, should call the anti-freeze, identify in glass containers and label clearly," he explained.

If metal containers are used they should be stored in a dry place such as a shed, away from the concrete floor or other damp place. "Anti-freeze mixture should be kept in a clean, dry place. It is used again," said Anderson.

BRITISH LEADERS RAP AT TABLOID

LONDON, March 10 (AP)—Home Secretary Herbert Morrison said today the house of commons today that the government had warned the London Daily Mirror that it would be suppressed "if it continued to publish irresponsible material calculated to foment opposition to the successful prosecution of the war."

He said the newspaper, a tabloid morning paper, had posted a warning in connection with a cartoon it published recently, showing a group of seamen on a raft under the caption: "The price of petrol (gasoline) has been raised one penny."

Referring to an editorial in the same issue, Morrison said: "Reasonable criticism is one thing but general vilification, denunciation, threats to undermine the army and depress the whole population, is quite another thing."

"The cartoon in question was a particularly virulent example of this newspaper policy, intent on exploiting an appetite for sensation."

"Will reckless indifference to the national interest be repeatedly published scurrilous misrepresentations and distorted, exaggerated accounts of the war?"

If the newspaper were suppressed, it would be the first since the Communist London Daily Worker was closed down 13 months ago.

HITLER ABANDONS ROLE OF LONE-WOLF FOR NAZI ARMIES

GENERALS CALLED TO AID CAMPAIGN

By The Associated Press
Climaxing three months of bloody retreats, Adolf Hitler has abandoned his lone-wolf role in guiding the destiny of German arms. It was reported today and has called back his generals to help plan the Nazi spring offensive.

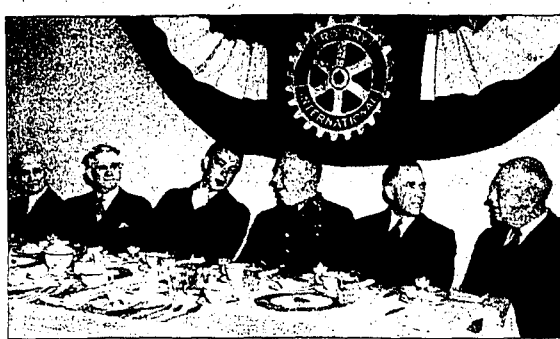

The Berlin correspondent of the Basel (Switzerland) National Zeitung said Hitler has summoned nearly all the German officers, including Field Marshal Walter von Brauchitsch, who were ousted or resigned after the drive against Moscow failed last December.

Hitler at that time announced that his "intuition" had led him to take over supreme command of the German armies.

The National Zeitung correspondent said the Nazi spring offensive might be expected soon, with the feature and his generals now mapping strategy at a series of staff conferences.

The question of throwing Russian armor into the river was not mentioned, however, and today's German high command continues to acknowledge that the Red armies were attacking relentlessly and that "heavy defensive fighting is in progress."

Men Must Be Left on Farms This Year, Says Draft Head

Farmers of Idaho have been asked to increase production of certain wartime commodities 30 to 100 per cent, "hence it is certain men must be left to work on the farms, at least temporarily," declared Lieut. Col. Norman B. Adkinson, executive officer for the state selective service system.

IDAHO AMERICA PLANS RIVER WATERWAY

GLENNIS PERRY, March 10 (AP)—Idaho America, Inc., plans development of Idaho resources and an ambitious program to make the Snake River a navigable waterway, the Glennis Perry Committee has announced at its regular meeting this week.

President V. A. Abschlager presided over the meeting and introduced the representatives of the project, who were B. H. Jackson, P. H. Knight and M. Dr. Barber, all of Boise, and J. A. Davis of Pocatello. The Boise men explained the organization, its aims, etc.

ANZAC ENVOY TO BRITISH CABINET

LONDON, March 10 (AP)—Richard G. Casey, Australian minister to Washington, will become minister of state for the middle east representing the British war cabinet, the first appointment of a dominion statesman as a member of the government of the United Kingdom.

This unusual promotion not only of Australia's only critical role in the war but of the right of all the dominions to direct representation in the war cabinet was announced by Prime Minister Winston Churchill today.

During the first world war, David Lloyd George was assisted as premier by the imperial war cabinet, but no dominion representative became a member of the government.

The spokesman said Casey would include his affairs at Washington, including conferences with recently arrived Australian representatives, then come to London for consultation before going to Cairo.

There his job will be one of coordinating all the middle east war efforts from actual military operations.

Although dominions have been called upon to make contributions of men and materials and have been consulted on matters of the war, the war cabinet of the United Kingdom has been for all practical purposes supreme in direction of strategy.

Casey, who has served as Australia's first minister to Washington since March 5, 1940, will succeed Oliver Lyttelton at Cairo. Lyttelton is minister of war production.

Since Casey was given a job not covered directly with Australia's war effort, observers say this is an indication that the dominions will have a voice in all theaters where the United Nations are fighting.

House Committee Recommends Resettlement Board for Aliens

By MERRIMAN SMITH
WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—The house committee investigating defense migration today recommended establishment of a war resettlement board to direct evacuation and resettlement of enemy aliens.

The recommendation was made in a preliminary report submitted to the house today. It was drafted, however, before President Roosevelt created a war relocation authority, a 4 work-cases in which aliens who are being forced to leave their homes in vital defense areas would be afforded an opportunity to work under federal sponsorship.

The president's program—announced late yesterday—was designed to set an example of "human and constructive treatment." The relocation authority headed by Milton S. Eisenhower, former land use administrator for the department of agriculture.

Many of the house committee's recommendations appear to have been covered already by Mr. Roosevelt's program.

"No Alternative"
The committee commended the army, navy, FBI and justice department for the conduct of evacuation operations on the Pacific coast. It added that it retained a "profound sense" of the injustices and constitutional doubts concerning the evacuation of the Japanese, but admitted that "no alternative" existed.

The report recommended that the proposed war resettlement board be headed by a civilian (Eisenhower is a civilian) that a evacuation be handled by the federal government as a national problem, and that an office of the house committee be set up in each major evacuation center.

Widespread incarceration or forced agricultural labor for the evacuated Japanese will lead only to large-scale deportation later on, the committee declared. Jobs outside prohibited areas should be provided for all evacuees when locally can be proved, the committee said, and resettlement communities for the others must stimulate a diversification of tasks and development of new skills since only 25 per cent of the evacuees are farmers.

Use of Skills
Within the authority set up by the president is the war relocation work corps, designed "to make the most efficient use of the skills and abilities of persons to be relocated."

The president, according to White

EXPLANATION FOR CRASHES SOUGHT

LIMA, Ohio, March 10 (AP)—The army air corps sought today an explanation of a remarkable coincidence in which four pursuit planes crashed within a half-mile radius at almost the same time.

Pilots of all four died in the flaming wreckage.

The planes, out of Detroit, on a mission for the air corps ferry command, came down in a snowstorm here yesterday on farms six miles east of here.

The dead, all second lieutenants, were: Edward H. Baughner, 26, of Lake Village, Ark.; Ronald E. Arnold, 26, of Arundel, Md.; Arthur J. Kennedy, 26, of Oklahoma City; Eugene M. Anderson, of Kewanee, Ill.; Earl A. Houser, 23, of Prescott, Minn.

Officials said there was evidence one pilot tried to use his parachute but his plane struck the ground before it could bail out.

Continuous Pressure

A bulletin from the Soviet high command noted continuous Russian pressure on the Kerch peninsula, in the Crimea, as well as fierce Soviet thrusts in the Donets river sector of the Ukraine, where the Russians are battling at the gate of Stalino.

German troops and laborers were remaining in Netherlands defense and "these preparations show Hitler actually expects a landing by British and American troops."

Neither London nor Washington, however, indicated that any major thrust toward Germany by direct bombing was in prospect immediately.

Advocate Paired Attacks

The Moscow News advocated simultaneous attacks by the Red army and the Red air force on the Hitler coalition to capitalize on gains made by the Red army through the icy winter.

Not Hitler but the anti-Hitler front can and must determine the future progress of the war."

The newspaper said this cannot be achieved by invocations and incantations, but by the concrete and sequential organization of the work.

Two significant steps possibly strengthening German spring activity were cited in the Bern newspaper Basler Nachrichten.

One was an appeal by Reichsmarschall Hermann Goering to farmers to concentrate no never before on utmost production.

See No Cut Off

A Berlin dispatch to the Swiss Socialist paper Die Tat said German military circles made clear that the Nazis did not expect to have strong forces cut off from their main body of troops on the Soviet front.

These units, some of regimental and some of divisional strength, are entrenched in areas accessible with difficulty and are supplied from the air with clothes and munitions," he said.

That, it added, the Germans apparently consider such forces behind the Russian lines as a danger to the Red army and content that they have been organized in recent weeks "to play a definite role in the coming fighting."

Idaho Ship Logs

Idaho America, Inc., has announced, it planned to develop all Idaho rivers, especially the Snake and shipping possibilities of Snake river from Lewiston to Idaho Falls. The project calls for the construction of 13 dams in the river, around which would be built a series of ship locks. This would provide a waterway to the Pacific coast. The dams would develop the practically unlimited electrical energy and bring into production thousands of acres of lands that are now lying idle.

In presenting the project, the men pointed out the immense amount of undeveloped natural resources of the state that would be utilized by the construction of factories and other industries. The finished product could be shipped out by water, which is impractical now because of the cost of shipping raw materials.

The organization is to be made up of memberships by individuals and business firms. Engineering data for each section would be assembled by the local groups and presented to the state office in Washington, D. C.

No definite action was taken on the matter at the meeting pending receipt of further information. Knight and Davis remained over night and Tuesday met with a number of the local business men and the matter has received the favorable consideration of those to whom it has been explained.

Idaho Maintains Dixie Spud Sale

BOISE, March 10 (AP)—A report received by the Idaho advertising commission from C. G. Rice, field representative, indicates Idaho potato sales are "holding their own" in tonnage in the south, by virtue of "increased sales in retail grocery stores."

Rice reported the state has lost "10 to 15 per cent" of crop business this year to Pennsylvania and New Jersey potatoes due to the price differential in price between them and Idaho's.

How Much Revenue can a DAIRY COW pay?

Good housing for good dairy cows pays the dairyman. Agricultural engineers, say extensive research, tell us that a cow can support roof buildings on the basis of about 10% of the income she produces.

The same research showed that it requires about 8% of the building value for taxes, insurance, maintenance and depreciation.

If a cow produces the national average of 6200 lbs. of milk at an average price of $1.70 per cwt., to the producer, plus 1¢ for the calf, that cow could "pay rent" of $10.94 per year.

$10 per year capitalized at 8% is $125, or the amount that can be profitably invested per cow in dairy buildings.

Since Idaho production and prices are above the averages used, Idaho cows can afford more "rent." Are YOUR buildings doing an adequate job for you herd?

Perhaps your cows are ready now to pay for improvements. Whether your problem is the planning and construction of a complete set of new dairy buildings, or the remodeling of your present setup to meet Grade A requirements, you can get plans, materials, financing and helpful counsel at

Barium Mine at Muldoon to Open

CAREY, March 19—According to reports received here from E. Z. Cusick, San Pedro, Calif., the barium mine above Muldoon will open for work without fail this spring. Advance equipment is expected here in about three weeks.

Barium is needed badly by the government as it is an essential ingredient in paint and the California supply is about exhausted and in spite of exorbitant freight rates and operating expenses—the two reasons why this mine did not operate last year—the mine will get into operation as soon as the weather permits this spring.

FRASER EDITORIAL AGREES THERE'S NO EASY WAY

Editor, Times-News:

The writer of the editorial column "Show Your Colors" in March 17 Times-News should receive the applause of every red-blooded American privileged to read it. I would like to suggest a second reading as it contains so much good news, not a morsel should be overlooked.

Yes, Mr. Editor, there are thousands of us here in Idaho who agree with the "fighting-mad Oklahomans," who know this war will not be won with bands and balloons. There is no easy way, no time to lose.

A check for renewal of my subscription was handed in with the arrival of the evening paper and darned if I haven't got my money's worth already.

Yours truly,
CAL LINDSEY.

Carey Air Service

Mrs. W. L. Adamson, mother of Mr. Adamson, left Sunday to visit her son and daughter-in-law and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Burke in Washington, D. C. and will do her fall buying in New York City for the store here before returning.

First Lieutenant

MULTAUGH, March 19—Word has been received here that Glen A. Lee, who was graduated from Wood Point military academy last June, has been advanced to the rank of first lieutenant. He is now stationed at Fort Knox, Ky.

Reader, stop and think. Ask yourself this question, what does an organization that did these things for this boy mean to him?

These and many other things, if we knew them, might bring up the other side of the balance sheet to offset the cry about strikes. Let's not only walk up Congress but ourselves as well and if we don't know find out some of these things.

HEAD TIMES-NEWS WANT ADS.

DWORSHAK URGES FUNDS FOR DAM

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—Rep. Henry P. Dworshak, R. Idaho, wants the house appropriations committee to approve the budget bureau's request for $2,250,000, for the Anderson ranch project and reclamation project now under construction in Elmore county.

The money would be for use during the fiscal year beginning next July. Total cost of the dam is estimated at $12,500,000 by the reclamation bureau, and $4,000,000 already has been appropriated.

"I urgently request that the item for $2,250,000 for Anderson Ranch dam be approved because it is hoped that this project may be completed so that the water and power may be produced during the summer, 1944," Dworshak told the committee which is conducting hearings on the 1943 interior department appropriations bill.

"This project would bring in supplementary water for the area in the Boise valley in western Idaho. It would generate about 30,000 kilowatts of power that is urgently needed to relieve the power shortage in the area of the bureau of reclamation, and Secretary takes on the feasibility of the Pullman project in eastern Idaho.

"That, of course, would be a multiple-purpose project," he said. "It would involve irrigation, power and flood control in eastern Idaho. It would provide for the generation of power to relieve the shortage of power in that section of the state. It would also make possible the use of power for the irrigation of the vast phosphate deposits in southeastern Idaho, which are supposed to be the largest in any area in the entire world."

"Hey, Joe!"

...Wonder what we're worth on the hoof?

Just in case Joe doesn't know, it cost his country $212 to equip him. Multiply that by an army, and you have a tidy sum of money.

We ought to know. Over 4,000,000 Joe's could be completely outfitted with the $510,000,000 which America's electric power companies paid in taxes last year.

That's considerably more than a million dollars a day!

We're glad our stake in Democracy is so large. The freedom America's fighting for is worth whatever it costs.

Even though our taxes have been going up, our rates have been going down. Today, the average household electric user gets about twice as much electricity for his money as he did 15 years ago.

This record is directly due to the careful planning of the business men who manage the nation's electric companies. They were prepared when the war emergency came. Prepared to power shipyards, arsenals and plane plants.

And they'll stay right on the job of making America POWERFUL until a couple of million Joe's go back to civilian clothes again!

We The Women

Now that the family car is spending most of its time in the garage we are going to have a party for those things we never seem to get around to.

Saving your tires is going to keep us as home entertainers, and that will give a chance to our better acquainted with our own families, something we've always meant to do.

Instead of each member of the family going its separate way as soon as it is needed, we'll have a picnic party in honor of husbands Friday evening at the Coaght home.

Principal diversion was reading of the book, "Shake Hands With the Devil," by the author, which club started at a previous meeting.

Mrs. P. A. Cargill and Mrs. Willing, will be featured at the party.

Mrs. D. H. Graves and Mrs. Morris Moore.

Stake M. I. A. Players Score in "Barretts"

What is probably one of the youngest group of players ever to undertake staging of the difficult play, "Barretts," won the applause of a representative Twin Falls county audience last evening at the Twin Falls L. D. S. stake tabernacle. Over 600 persons, many of whom were forced to stand at the back of the auditorium, enjoyed the play, presented as the annual stake M. I. A. spring drama. The play will be repeated at 8:15 p. m. today, and the public is invited to attend.

Spplendid interpretation of all parts reflected the intensive study which the cast has given to the play, under the direction of Miss Louella Tinsley. With the exception of N. V. Barry, who played the role of Edward Barrett, father of Elizabeth, all cast members were taken from the M-Men and Gleaner Girl groups of the stake.

Appear in Cast

Mrs. June McNeely, as Elizabeth Barrett, and Bill Luke, as Robert Browning, headed the cast of youthful church members.

Other cast members included Miss Gladys Hefner, daughter of sister of Elizabeth; Glycerie Elizabeth, George, brother of Elizabeth; Don Freeman, Octavia, another brother, and Miss Mary Skoro, Arabelle, other sister of Elizabeth; Elwood Wilson, Elizabeth's cousin; Miss Naomi Kirkman, Miss Mildred, Mrs. Owen Kirkman, Mrs. Frances Carter, Mrs. Elmo Hutchings, Abby, and Mrs. Vannoy, Cap. Hueston, and Mrs. Albion's costumes of 100 years ago, secured from Salt Lake City.

Stage settings marked by many antiques, added to the general success of the play.

Among the men who lent talents ranging from a marble-topped table to old coal oil lamps, clocks and fireplace equipment, were Mrs. Shilshi Chapman, Mrs. O. L. Anderson, Mrs. Mary Foster, Mrs. C. Von Lincoln, Mrs. Frances Carter, Mrs. J. E. Thurgood, Mrs. Goidie Tolman and Mrs. Emma K. Riedinger.

SERIAL STORY

KINGS ROW

BY HENRY BELLAMANN

OUT OF DANGER
CHAPTER XXVIII
PARRIS shoved a chair toward the kitchen table and sat down. Randy stood for a moment looking at him.

"What's the matter, Randy?"
"You said just now that you considered Drake all right—just as he always was. What about you?"

Parris looked puzzled.
Randy finished the prepatulaton for coffee. "Yes, Parris, you've known ever since you got back here to Kings Row that you're not happy. I don't mean to meddle with your business in any way, but—I just wondered if there is anything I can do for you."

"You're a sweet kid to think about me, but it's just a matter of realization. I didn't like Kings Row when I came back."
"And now you want to go away?"

"You were never more mistaken in your life. I've got my job—it's what I like. I don't like Kings Row. I'd hate to go away."

"I never expected it. It's a little hard to explain, but in some way that lies considerably beyond the ordinary meaning of the word, this is home. I was pretty suddenly and violently uprooted, and when I came back there didn't seem to be anything here that I thought was here. My friendship with Drake was about all that was left of parent soil—do you understand what I mean?"

"I think so."
"Drake and old Professor Bradford. Well, I don't look a white to put down roots again. The hospital is new ground, of course."

Randy nodded.
"Randy, do you know what mysticism is?"

"Well, that'll do as a startling point. I hate mysticism, as I hate everything that isn't clear. And that's ridiculous, too, because just about all of my work is concerned with chasing people that aren't there. I have to try to keep myself and my ideas realistic, but occasionally I'm getting off the track. I started out to say something else, but I'm not exactly in love with Kings Row. It's a little better than town, or the way it looks, nor any places in the town, nor the people that live here. But I'm attracted to the streets of being I went through right here."

"I understand something of what you mean."
"I thought and felt certain things here. Now a lot of people carry their spiritual homes around with them—either inside of them, or, well, maybe the way a small carrier his shell on his back. I can't do that. I have to have a place. And, strangely enough, this is my place. I know in some sort of way that I've got to be here. I used to love to walk about the country and—just look at it. I have to learn to do that, again."

Parris laughed. "I'm talking too much."
"It's your own medicine, Doctor."

"What?"
"You know—talking it out. You've explained it to me."

"Well, I know I'm going home—that's the first time I've said 'home' since I landed here!"

"Why do you ought to get married, Parris?"
He looked at her thoughtfully. "No, Randy, I don't think so. There doesn't seem to be any room anywhere for that kind of—an arrangement."

There was a special-delivery letter lying under the lamp on his table when he reached his apartment.
Dear Dr. Mitchell:
I haven't had the pleasure of meeting you since your return from abroad, and I regret that my first communication with you is somewhat professional rather than social. I shall be grateful if you will call as soon as convenient. I should like, also, to have you keep this in strict confidence. Very truly, alous associations; some special presences.
Harriet Gordon

A WEEK passed before Parris was free to call on Mrs. Gordon.
"Have been a long time since I've seen you," she said. "Of course I've heard—Louise was always speaking of Parris Mitchell."
Mrs. Gordon sat, very stiff and straight, in an incongruous Roman chair. Her hair, a surprisingly even dark chestnut, was fastened high with a comb. The comb reminded him of his grandmother. He wondered a little.
Mrs. Gordon looked sharply at him. "I said, that I have been going through a very trying experience since my husband passed away."

"Oh, I'm sorry to hear that."
Mrs. Gordon moved forward at him. "I have called you to speak about Louise."

"Is Louise ill?"
Mrs. Gordon twisted the ends of her black-lace scarf. "Dr. Mitchell, I've been afraid Louise's mind has been affected. You may see to see you go away."

"I never expected it. It's a little hard to explain, but in some way that lies considerably beyond the ordinary meaning of the word, this is home. I was pretty suddenly and violently uprooted, and when I came back there didn't seem to be anything here that I thought was here. member that some time ago Louise had a most unfortunate accident for one of the most undesirable boys in town.
"You are speaking of Drake Melough?"

"Yes—a very bad case. I suppose I was lost in my case of Louise, but before I could guess what might happen she imagined she was in love with him. Just tell me what happened later."

"Mrs. Mitchell, Louise hated her father!"
"Really? Why?"
"I could never guess. Dr. Gordon was a saint! The woman's face was suddenly transformed. A look that was curiously still and white gave her an appearance of—"

"Parris almost said 'excitation.' It might have been nearly such an appearance if it had not been at the same time to hand and to see, it was a cruel look. Every line of Mrs. Gordon's expression was fanatic. Parris felt a little creepy. He decidedly did not like this interview.
