

INDIAN CONGRESS
HOLDS UP ACTION
ON BRITISH OFFER

NEW DELHI, India, April 1 (AP)—The British-allied Indian Congress, one of India's minority groups, issued the first flat rejection today of Britain's offer of a post-war dominion status for India.

By JOHN R. MORRIS
NEW DELHI, India, April 1 (AP)—The possibility of unfavorable reaction in the United States today delayed completion of a statement by leaders of the All-India congress today, saying they were "compelled" to turn down Britain's offer of post-war dominion status for India.

Such representations are particularly in America, were reported considered by the congress working committee in the British proposal to turn down Britain's offer of post-war dominion status for India.

The leaders of the congress were reported to be studying the offer drafted by Mohandas K. Gandhi and Jawaharlal Nehru as an alternative to Britain's offer. The congress plan, it was believed, rejects Britain's proposal because the British insist on a system of responsibility for the defense of India.

SUN "Diehard"
The British-owned newspaper, The Statesman, today described Cripps as still "a bondman of the empire" in London. It asserted that not once during the New Delhi negotiations has he said that the nation of the British India offer would cease.

Unless the British cabinet authorizes Cripps to make a statement "in the old regime" and new men and methods are at work in the government, it will end in failure, the newspaper said.

Gandhi, spiritual leader of the nation, was reported to have rejected the British offer. Nehru, left wing congress leader, was reported to have accepted the offer. However, the Gandhi-Nehru draft resolution reported to have been unable to get Cripps to accept his reservations to the working committee has been described as "moult" that the offer could not be accepted in its present form.

The memorandum to be sent to Cripps was reported to follow the lines of a congress resolution adopted on 6 expressing the willingness of Indians to take part in the defense of their country as free men fighting for freedom.

"It was expected," the paper said, "that the offer would be accepted in its present form. It was expected that the British did not intend to transfer any power to Indians now. It was expected that the British would not accept the offer in its present form. It was expected that the British would not accept the offer in its present form."

Parade Will Feature
Army Day April 6th

An estimated 4,000 school children as well as several bands and also hundreds of representatives of veteran, civic and fraternal organizations will take part in an Army day parade announced today for next Monday at 1:15 p. m.

Arrangements and appointment of committees to handle details of the observance, anniversary of the United States entry into the first World war, were made at a session here last night called by Mayor Joe Koehler.

Parade Formation
According to arrangements last night, head of the parade will form on Shoshone street at Fourth avenue north and east. The balance will form a marching line around the city park. After the parade, completion the school students will return to their classes.

Scores of persons attended the organization session at the city building and members of all committees in charge were selected at that time.

General committee will be headed by Mayor Koehler. It will include Councilmen Lionel A. Dean, Truman Greenhalgh, L. O. Coleman and Carl R. Johnson.

It was explained at the session that all schools of the county, as well as all communities, are asked to cooperate in the observance, either by staging a celebration in their own community or by joining in the Twin Falls celebration.

Ask Full Cooperation
"We are asking every man, woman and child in Twin Falls, and those in our neighboring towns and cities, who are not going to put on the parade, to help us. We are asking you to come to Twin Falls and help us put on the parade," Mayor Koehler said.

Mayor Koehler said he added that Gov. Chase A. Clark has been invited to attend the parade and that officials of the Governor and his cabinet have been asked to attend. He said that he is at the city at or shortly after the time the parade is scheduled to start.

Committees appointed last night are:

Capl. Groves in Charge
"Generalissimo" of the celebration will be Capt. M. O. Groves, head of the local state guard unit.

PACIFIC COUNCIL OF WAR MEETS

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—The new Pacific war council represents the first of a series of similar groups in the Pacific theater, met for the first time today in what members of the council have described as a "very valuable conference."

The council was organized in Washington last night by the War Relocation Authority, Canada and Great Britain.

Dr. T. V. Soong, Chinese foreign minister, was reported to have said: "We will be getting to grips with the whole situation more and more."

The council will be an advisory body, but its members are expected to have an encouragement regarding his own country's problems, he replied.

Survivors Assert
Vessel Sank Fast

NOBOLP, Ky., April 1 (AP)—Survivors of a torpedoed cargo ship related today that it sank so fast that the crew members did not have time to get to lifeboats.

The ship, a medium sized craft, was torpedoed by a second German down three minutes after one well-lit torpedo sank its bow.

The survivors, who were rescued, were known to have died, and 38 were listed as missing. Seven of the 11 survivors drifted for more than hours, were brought to the naval operating base here and were hospitalized for severe exposure and minor injuries.

The sinking occurred the night of March 28. The attacking submarine was not seen by any of the survivors.

Building Permits Down

FLASHES OF LIFE

By Associated Press

SHINERS
RICHMOND, Va., April 1 (AP)—Richmond firemen have thought of a new use for some old city-owned tin cans which have been stored here since they were hung with American, British, Belgian and French banners on Richmond's main boulevard to celebrate the return home of the doughboys of World War I.

Because the price of cleaning rags has advanced, the firemen plan to use the tin can for shinning fire engines.

THIEF SOLVED
NEW ORLEANS, April 1 (AP)—An aged man in Glendale, Cal., is sleeping well now, or so it should be. The New Orleans public service received a letter which explained the thief's case. The man, who had been in prison for 18 years, was released in 1937.

UNLUCKY
INDIANAPOLIS, April 1 (AP)—Mrs. W. John's yearly custom was to go into her backyard on the last day of March and look for a four-leaf clover. She always found one.

She thought that brought her luck. Yesterday she didn't find any, because of some bad luck. There was sickness in the house and the captain of the fire department was in the city.

SOFT LANDING
PORT EVANSTONVILLE, Kan., April 1 (AP)—Capt. H. K. Speed can't sleep at night. He is flying at 6,000 feet in a bomber a foot off the ground and his planes fell out.

Secretary of Navy, Frank Knox, told of Troy, Kan., informed him that she had found them, broken in her yard.

Flier Commended

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—Secretary of Navy, Frank Knox, today commended Lt. James V. Whelan, army flier, for destroying an enemy submarine in the Atlantic area on Jan. 18.

Edmundson, 26, son of James A. Edmundson, of Santa Ana, Calif., was lauded by Knox for his "brave and skillful flying, and successful attack with bombs."

MAJOR INDUSTRY
PLANTS SHIFT TO WAR PRODUCTION

By HILBERT KRUEGER
WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—Industries which produced more than $400,000,000 worth of civilian goods last year have received orders to shift to war production, a survey showed today.

Investigation showed that 737,500 workers were employed last year in industries now being converted or under war production based instructions to shift to manufacture of war goods in the immediate future. An estimated 1,000,000 workers are prevented disclosure of contracts held—indicated that the conversion of plants to war production will cost approximately $1,000,000,000.

Starting April, the most striking feature of the conversion yet launched by the WPB will be made in industries which are making civilian goods this month.

III By Regulations
Vacuum cleaner, household and kitchen electrical and toy manufacturers were hit yesterday by drastic regulations which will bring common household items in children's rooms and the household aids of their parents.

War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson, issuing a supplement to the WPB war production plan book, said:

"Right now we're losing battles and lives in Germany and Japan are beating us at our own game. And that ought to be getting the attention of every American. The only way we can get back on top is to throw everything we've got into war production immediately. The war aren't enough plants, machines, workers, or materials to make both civilian goods and war goods. The production of civilian goods must, in large measure, be cut aside."

Jobs as usual. Use as usual, no matter how heavy the work. No military contracts, patriotic work, won't matter.

Auto Work Halting
A survey of the 13 industries which already have been listed for conversion to war production.

Automobiles—Production of civilian passenger cars ended Feb. 1 and the production of trucks will be cut off the production line a month ago. Unofficial Detroit estimates placed the industry's production value at $1,000,000,000 and $120,000,000.

Truck Equipment—Truck producers must stop making wheeling machines and tractors April 15; trailers, tanks and other equipment must stop making wheeling machines and tractors April 15; trailers, tanks and other equipment must stop making wheeling machines and tractors April 15.

Radio and Photographic—After the end of the war, the industry will be making military sets for airplanes and tanks. War contracts now held by the industry are worth approximately $400,000,000 compared with $100,000,000.

Airlines, Japs Trade
Blows on Burma,
Australian Fronts

By The Associated Press
Allied defenders of Burma were forced back another notch today by the United Nations stubbed at Japan's thinly stretched logistics on the approaches to Australia and the "down-under" continent, another step in vital preparations to meet an attempted invasion.

Hard-fighting Chinese defenders were reported to have encountered a Japanese trap at Toungoo, falling back to the north after the fiercest battle of the Burma campaign. Heavy casualties were inflicted on the little Burma men.

Explosion of Australian bombers, operating in the face of heavy tropical storms, struck destruction at a Japanese base north of Australia. A communiqué said it was believed the enemy planes were destroyed on the ground, six others were damaged and many fires and explosions were reported. Australian bombers which attacked Keapung, on Timor, were an allied force across numerous hills with heavy bombs on an airframe nose at Salamaua, New Guinea.

Emergency Planes Delivered
The continuation of the aerial offensive by Australia's defenders came on the heels of an official report that the United States had sent 100 B-24 bombers to Australia. The planes as put out of action in three days. Four were reported destroyed, including four flying boats machine-gunned on a previous raid on Keapung.

The Australian government ordered that all Commonwealth land forces be called up to the front line by calling up additional personnel.

Age Groups
The announcement explained that the group who registered Oct. 16, 1940, and July 1941, constitute the group which was referred to in the memorandum to local boards as the "second age group."

The announcement said, "has indicated that the first age group should be called for for men to be both age groups."

The local boards which had not completed mailing of questionnaires to registrants of the first age group continue to mail them "at the same time the local board will proceed with the mailing of questionnaires to registrants of the second age group."

If any local board finds it does not have a sufficient number to insure the filing of the June call, it is authorized to exceed the call in class 1-A to fill its May call.

FOOLER?
WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—The war today chose April Fool's day to end a 10-year struggle against Dan Cupid. It was not until the day after tomorrow that a order was issued suspending the war period only a regulation which was required to sign agreements not to marry for the two-year period.

LOS ANGELES, April 1 (AP)—Grand jury charges accusing Mayor Fletcher Bowen of misconduct of office were dismissed today by Superior Judge Raymond McCrost.

Outfitting of Women's Unit
Worries Army

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—It looks like this man's army may have to go into the business of buying and issuing women's underwear.

Legislation to set up an army of auxiliary units of women is the final approval in congress soon, and the quartermaster corps has to get production immediately. They are not only uniforms but undies for civilian goods and war goods.

Plans for clothing the WAAGS had been proceeding smoothly enough until someone asked, "What about underwear?"

Considering that the girls will be recruited from the civilian world and the army pay increase bill—plus the prices of girdles, etc., being so high, it is hard to get. "Let 'em buy their own."

But even if the army does decide to buy the underwear for the WAAGS, there remain the problems of style and material. Inasmuch as the girls will have to wear cotton stockings, it appeared likely that they would have to wear cotton underwear, too.

It is expected that the WAAGS will be accepted and wear girls' silk and cotton underwear. It is expected that the army will give them all like it.

These matters had never come up before the girls were in the army. The navy's recommissioned of World War I boys and girls in the army.

QUESTIONNAIRES TO REGISTRANTS

BOISE, April 1 (AP)—State selective service headquarters announced today that questionnaires will be distributed early this month to Idaho draft registrants to determine their occupational and military status.

The forms will include questions concerning each man's experience, occupational status and military status. The men will be required to fill out the forms by the U. S. employment service in the local office.

First questionnaires will be sent to men who registered for military service in 1940, 1941 and 1942. The men who registered in 1940, 1941 and 1942, registered on the first call, and the men who had not previously registered, who were within the age limits of 20 and 45 years were listed.

CLARK RAP STAND
MEETS DIFFICULTY

Gov. Chase A. Clark admitted today he is having "a great deal of difficulty" in meeting the demands of the war department in regard to handling the Japanese in Idaho.

He wrote Ray J. Holmes, president of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, that he was having difficulty in getting the support of the governor on the issue of settling Japanese in Idaho.

"In fact," confided the governor, "about my only weapon at this time is the request of the Japanese to save our state and nation. If we would let them and let the Japanese buy our state."

The governor stated: "I do not know what our boys who are in the service will be required to do to save our state and nation. If we would let them and let the Japanese buy our state."

It was recalled that the Twin Falls chamber "keep up the good work" will make recommendations on settling permanently in Idaho.

MAN MUST FACE BURGLARY CLAIM

JEROME, April 1—Howard Fahrni, Jerome resident, was bound over to district court, and placed under bond of $500 after he was brought before Probate Judge William G. Comstock on charges of first degree burglary.

In default of payment of bond, Fahrni has been placed in custody of Sheriff Lee S. Johnson, and is in Jerome county jail.

Charges of burglary were filed against Fahrni earlier this week by H. C. Papenbusch, with the County Deputy Sheriff Paul M. Jensen who stated that Fahrni had admitted the theft of a house radio from Jack Morehead, recently living northwest of the city.

India Misses Chances to Get Strangle-Hold on Her Liberty

By DEWITT JACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

Passion emanating from New Delhi regarding the fate of Britain's offer of dominion status is causing widespread expressions of fear that dark-eyed India, having sought so eagerly and so long for independence, is now going to fall to its knees and accept the opportunity of centuries.

"This is far more than a family affair in the British empire. It is one of the paramount issues of the moment for the whole world, for with the hordes of the rising sun milling at the gates of Hindustan, the course of the world is involved.

One of these great war eras could have imbued Britain to make such a sweeping concession, for it is convinced that India isn't ready for self-government. True, there are difficulties to be overcome, but those are largely inherent in the religious and social structure of India. They haven't been injected into the offer by the British and would still be present if Britain withdrew entirely and let India go her own way.

It is astonishing to hear Indian leaders insisting that they can't accept Britain's qualification that conduct of the war remains in her hands. India has no military experts, and she hasn't even a butter-paddle with which to defend herself.

In short, it is disappointing to India's host of friends and well-wishers to see her hesitate.

One wonders what has happened to Gandhi. He is the greatest individual force in all India. Millions follow him blindly and many of them literally worship him, despite his efforts to discount such practices. There's small doubt that he could persuade acceptance or rejection of the British offer.

He's one of the outstanding leaders of generations. For long years he has battled for Indian independence. He has gone to prison many times for his crusade. He even journeyed to England in his own cloth and showed off his plain dress of his people.

And yet now when he has a double Nelson on John Bull and we trust friend John will excuse our bluntness, Gandhi hesitates, over an ace which, if it doesn't give him precisely what he wants, assuredly must lead to it. Having defended Gandhi in many arguments in conservative England, and having even folded my long legs up to sit on the floor and listen in admiration to his words of wisdom, I feel at liberty to ask what has happened to this famous sage.

The way matters stand, with the Japs successes continuing in Burma, Gandhi may find himself not only without dominion status but a slave under the Japanese yoke. Countless millions of his people may follow him into servitude merely on his word.

Authorities insist: CHANGE OIL FOR SPRING. And you can insist on this oil that outlasted five other big quality brands by far. Not one came nearer than 58% of its mileage!

DOWN where the desert slow gold-burners—down where 100° heat is "cool"—down in Death Valley six cars strook! All were alike... all ran till wrecked. All started with 6-quart fills of oil-locked in. All conditions were alike—certified. Five cars—five hoisted brands of oil—went as dead as the cattle skulls in the sands, while the other oil still had quarts to go!

That was Conoco N7h motor oil, which can refill your crankcase today with the N7h degree of mileage and engine endurance. Changing from weakened winter leftovers to Conoco N7h gives you engine OIL-PLATING for Spring. And OIL-PLATING is closely famed all over inner engine parts as if "magnetized" against all draining back down to the crankcase. Bonded in place—even on straight-up surfaces—even overnight—OIL-PLATING can cut down the raw rubbing of precious parts during starting and running.

That's all against hollowing out your engine till it eats too much oil, and may demand replacements that are getting scarcer. But another big thing is to keep the oil all in shape. And Conoco N7h oil—at its popular price—comes to you with Thiokene inhibitor... the modern synthetic developed to check or inhibit effects that would otherwise degenerate your oil.

The science of it is a long story, but the mileage is a thousand times longer, and Death Valley proved it. So can you by changing today for Spring, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

BOMBER STINGER BRINGS RESULTS

MELBOURNE, April 1 (Australian broadcast, recorded by UP in San Francisco)—Japanese aviators have not yet learned that the American flying fortress has a potent stinger in its tail, allied pilots related today. They told of tricks used by the Japanese in an effort to outwit—so far without result—the trio of the huge four-motored craft.

At a five-mile elevation, where the bomber crews find snow storms even in the tropics, Japanese stratosphere fighters race over the fort-guns, in every instance so fast, the full-quarter has brought down its man.

Japanese navy-air fighters finish this roll just above and to the rear the Navy's. This is the one spot from which an enemy plane can be blown to bits but the Japanese apparently underestimate the deadly efficiency of the bombers' tail guns. In every instance so far, the full-quarter has brought down its man.

Don't Wait for Constipation to Hit!

What do you do when constipation comes? Do you rush to the medicine cabinet for an emergency cathartic? Don't—have a laxative on hand. It's the common kind of constipating due to lack of fiber in your diet. You can avoid it by taking a little of the KILLGUSO'S ALL-BLAIN regularly. ALL-BLAIN corrects the condition by adding bulk to your food; and its high content of water, and its high content before it hits you! ALL-BLAIN is a natural laxative. It's the only one that's safe. If your condition is bad, take a little of the simple treatment, see a doctor.

Histor of England Revived at Party Attended by 475-Guests

Nearly 50 girls presented an outstanding program at the Twin Falls high school last night, as arranged by G. A. members, under the direction of their president, Miss Julie McBride, and their sponsor, Miss Madeline Gartin, portraying the history of England and English customs, "in an Old English Garden," at the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet of the Girls' League.

For hundreds, seventy-five girls and their mothers attended the event, in which more than 150 girls participated directly, and which received cooperation from practically every girl and nearly every department of the school. This mark in attendance exceeds the turnout at any previous Girls' League banquets.

Garden Setting
Miniature "Old English Gardens," with rose-covered arbors, realistic green trees, flower-bedecked white picket fences, and flower-bedecked hedges and "paths of weather" on mats of soft greenery, were arranged in the garden, the delicately arranged ferns and flowers in the garden, and the garden furniture and croquet court completed the English garden scene.

The buffet-style banquet was by candlelight. Candies, breads, and salads were served. The girls' League president, and her co-president, Miss Madeline Gartin, presided at the assembly singing of songs, accompanied by Miss Mary Jane Shuler at the piano.

Miss Owen Davis welcomed the mothers and the program was given by Miss Madeline Gartin, co-president of the program, which was printed on original paper, "Mothers," by Miss Madeline Gartin.

Miss DeWetter offered a toast to the mothers of the League and especially to Mrs. Rose M. North, dean of girls and general sponsor of the Girls' League. Mrs. North, who has been a member of the Girls' League since 1912, was presented with a certificate of appreciation and a gold watch by Miss Madeline Gartin.

SERIAL STORY

MEXICAN MASQUERADE

BY CECIL CARNES

THE STORY: Now it can be told... strange tale of Allan Steele...

"CONFUCIUS"

Allan thought he had rarely seen a face so lowering, brutal and villainous.

Briefly, Allan studied the yellow, fullmoon countenance of the man in Lower California whom he had been advised he could trust.

No muscle moved in the impulsive face of the Chinese, but a flicker of interest lighted his almost-shaped eyes.

HOLD EVERYTHING

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"I believe you," said the American, and cleared his throat. "He didn't give up his secret..."

"I wish my luck," said Allan fervently. "Are there many bandits like that around here now?"

"His horse, which had wandered off in a futile quest for forage, came trotting up obediently. When he had helped Allan put the unconscious Pepe in the rear seat of the sedan, the Mexican swung himself into the saddle and led the way at a canter.

"You are going to stop a while at a hotel, aren't you? And we shall surely meet again. But first, may I ask your name, and the nature of the business that brings you to the little out-of-the-way community?"

"Ah, senior, a thousand pardons," he began, genuinely contrite. "I should have introduced myself at once. I am Col. Alfredo Escobar y Carvajal, of the Rural Guard. I am over here on leave from my regiment, which is stationed across the Peninsula at Ensenada."

"So that was it. Allan had come face to face with officials for the first time since leaving the border. Automatically, he straightened up and started to raise his fingers to the brim of his panama; he caught back the gesture and lifted his hat instead.

"Delighted to meet you, Senior Comandante," he responded. "My name is Allan Steele, United States citizen, native of Los Angeles. I am a photographer by profession, attached to the staff of the Golden Horn Review, a magazine published in San Francisco. My editor thought a series of photographs showing typical scenes of Lower California might be interesting, so here I am."

"You are a pleasant profession, senior, and I trust you will find subjects to your liking along the Gulf." A bit disconcertingly, he concluded: "Nevertheless, I think your editor must be rather a cold-blooded tyrant to send you on such an assignment—in July!"

NEW COMMANDER FOR NINTH AREA

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1 (AP)—Command of the vital ninth area, which embraces the strategic western states, today was placed in the hands of 62-year-old Major General Kerney A. Joyce, who started soldiering as a child in private in the Spanish-American war.

In announcing the appointment, Lieut. Gen. J. L. DeWitt, commanding general of the western defense command and fourth army, stressed Joyce's "intimate knowledge of the military situation existing in the western theater of operations."

The army announcement also pointed to the importance of the command "because of the vital role the corps area must play in protection against subversive interests, sabotage, evasion of enemy soldiers and defense against possible enemy raiding activity along the Pacific coast."

Joyce relinquishes command of the ninth army corps at Fort Lewis, Wash., a position he has held since Oct. 25, 1940. He replaces Major General L. Benedict, who will assume a new command to be announced.

The ninth corps are comprised California, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Utah, Nevada, a portion of Arizona and the Territory of Alaska.

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP) — President W. S. Bryan testified during questioning today that officials of the Standard Oil company (N.E.C.) had not disclosed the full process of manufacturing synthetic rubber to a civilian representative of the navy when the latter inspected Standard's plant in 1939.

The disclosure caused Senator O'Malley, D. Wyo., to assert in a hearing before the senate defense investigating committee that any lawyer such as he could not "avoid the inference that an official of Standard was instructed to alter the navy official away from a knowledge of the manufacturing process."

Treatment of the incident came after Paris, replying to charges made by an assistant attorney general Thurman Arnold that Standard had falsified synthetic rubber production in this country because of cartel agreements with the German trust, told the committee that Standard had turned information about synthetic rubber over to the Germans in 1939.

O'Malley read from a letter, taken from Standard's files and previously introduced in the record by Arnold, excerpting what he said was a handwritten note that a "mural representative, identified only as Mr. Wertheim, had visited Standard's plant in 1939."

In this letter, an unidentified Standard representative said that Wertheim came away without any fundamental knowledge of Standard's process of producing butyl synthetic rubber.

Faith insisted that Wertheim was a civilian employee who was instructed primarily in the work which the navy might use the product, that he had little if any interest in how it was manufactured and that the navy itself did not desire to alter the synthetic rubber producing firm.
