All-India Congress Party Turns Down British Plans

LONDON, April 10 (AP)—Reuters reported today from New Delhi that it understood the All-India Congress party had rejected British proposals for Indian independence. The dispatch said Sir Stafford Cripps called a press conference for next tomorrow and was expected then to announce the final result of his mission as bearer of the British offer.

He has not yet received the reply of the Moslem league, second largest of the Indian parties. Reuters said the news agency reported that the decision of the Congress party—presumably an action by its working committee—was unanimous.

Reuters said it was believed that the Congress party committee resolution expressed willingness to form a fully national government, but took the position that the offer as explained by Sir Stafford did not permit the scope of such a government.

A prominent member of the committee told reporters: "The sky may be overcast, and the weather may change, but the sun will still shine. We are meeting tomorrow."

It was understood that the first task of a new national government would be to raise a militia from the rank and file of the Indian people.

In his talks with Louis Johnson, President Roosevelt's emissary, Sir Stafford Cripps had proposed an Indian government could do this, Johnson was believed to have expressed his agreement to the proposal.

Reports were heard of high officials in Sir Stafford's negotiations. The committee members of the All-India Congress party working committee were said to have been changed to original British proposals un- satisfactory now that they have been fully explained.

Registration of Women Studied by Government

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt disclosed today that, in connection with studies for mobilization of man power for war industries, the government was considering voluntary registration for all women 18 to 65.

One difficulty in registering women was the need for a precise definition, is inherent in the number of persons who would come forward to enroll. This would create mechanical difficulties, he said, remarking that the preparation of cards alone would be a tremendous task.

He said there had been talk of a voluntary registration for women on the next registration day for men up to 65, on April 27, and he emphasized the idea is decided to register women, a date will be set later on.

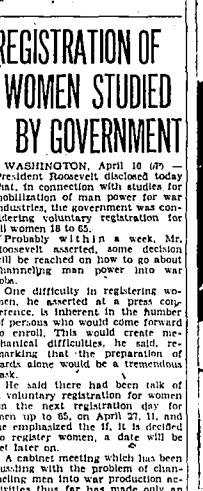

A cabinet meeting which has been talking with the problem of enlisting men into war production activities thus far has made only an oral report, the chief executive said, but the question is being discussed, at nearly every cabinet meeting.

One of the real problems in setting up the machinery, after it is determined what is to be done with available man power, Mr. Roosevelt explained, lies in a determination whether a completely new government agency should be set up.

He said the government was studying whether there should merely be some extension of the War Relocation Administration, or whether a new governmental agency should be set up.

JAPS SEALED LUZON FATE IN FIRST BLOW, SAIS REPORTER

PLANES CAUGHT WHILE GROUNDED

By CLARK LEE
MANILA, Australia, April 10.—The ship of Luzon and Bataan was sealed just before 1 p. m. on Dec. 8, some 10 hours after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Our main bomber force was lined up on Clark field, 40 miles north of Manila on Luzon island, with the crew standing by awaiting orders to take off and bomb Japanese air and naval bases on the island of Formosa.

When the pursuit planes were at nearby field.

Parasuits and some bombers had been shot down the morning but had returned to the ground for orders.

Followed by fighters
Eighty-six Japanese "zero" fighters in their attack on the morning of the planes, ground forces and anti-aircraft batteries in low level attacks.

Simultaneously other bombers and fighters dived on the packed planes at the Clark field, dropping flares and bombs at the air base.

Some of our planes were shot down but main bulk of our air force was gone.

After midnight that night Japanese bombers came in over Manila bay and, aided by flares and fires set by their supporting forces on the ground, attacked Nichols field on the outskirts of Manila, where planes assigned to the Cavite naval base were stationed.

Earlier Monday the Japanese air force struck at Angeles field, the post air field strung upon the western and northern coasts of Luzon, and then supporting forces completed only a few days before. At each place planes were destroyed or damaged in perfectly coordinated attacks.

Pre-War Boats
Japanese planes were seen flying over Luzon several nights prior to the war.

To Snip or Not to Snip—It's Pants Query Still Indefinite

As far as Twin Falls tailors know this afternoon, the whole thing is apparently "just a Dobe controversy." It is short, Raymond J. Briggs, Idaho production analyst for the war production board, Boise, said tailors are to snip off cuffs from trousers left for repair in the tailor shops here.

In addition to snipping the life out of the customer who finds his trousers shorter after they're in long—the WPB edict by Briggs suggests:

Wool suits saved will be reclaimed and used in making other garments. Failure to comply with the rule on snipping off the cuffs makes the tailor liable to a stiff fine and sentence.

BRITISH-AXIS BATTLE RAGES IN DESERT; 'REDS' GAIN

RUSSIANS MOVE ON GERMAN LINE

By The Associated Press
British and axis troops fought their fiercest battle since the north African desert today, while the Soviets, who are reported to have crossed the frontier into Russia and were continuing their advance.

The drive into white Russia, a Soviet republic, was said to have taken place in a sector 75 miles northwest of Smolensk, between Vitebsk and Novos.

If continued, the thrust would be a serious threat to the important Vitebsk defenses guarding the flank of the German "escape corridor" from Moscow on the old Napoleonic road to Smolensk.

The Vitebsk, Soviet German news agency dispatches, also reported mounting Soviet pressure in the Orel and Kharkov sectors, south of Moscow, and in Sevastopol, the long-beleaguered Russian naval base in the Crimea.

A bulletin from Adolf Hitler's field headquarters acknowledged heavy Red army attacks on the Kerch peninsula in the Crimea, but declared they had been repulsed and that Nazi garrisons had knocked 82 Russian tanks out of action.

In north Africa, British headquarters reported that the British in the renewed Libyan desert. Fighting had knocked two axis columns and 40 tanks out of action.

Italy's high command said new clashes between the British and its vanguards "trailed again to our complete advantage" and the German command reported several British armored cars and guns destroyed or captured in the desert work.

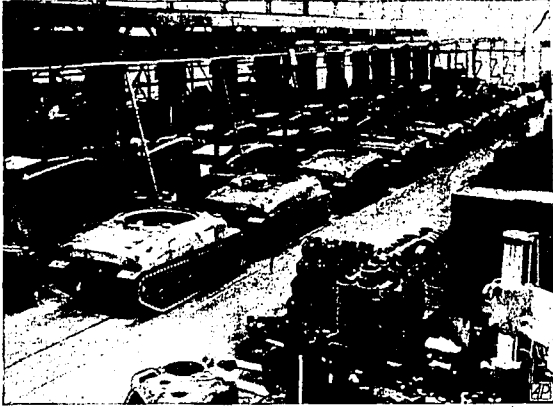

The German account told of continued day and night assaults on British batteries in the Mediterranean stronghold in the Mediterranean, which has experienced more than 2,000 air-raid attacks.

In Russia, Soviet dispatches told of increased British attacks on German reserves, reporting 5,670 Nazis killed. Two German divisions continued attacking on the front line, while the broad, general front north-westward of Moscow were reported after a fierce battle.

A Berlin radio broadcast conceded that Red army troops, attacking with many tanks, had broken through the German defense line around Novgorod, and dislodged advanced Nazi units.

The broadcast asserted, however, that the Russian spearhead was apparently cut from supplies and reinforcements.

Here's How You Address Letters To A. E. F. Men

Specific instructions regarding the addressing of mail to soldiers serving outside of the United States are given today by the western defense command area through army, according to a bulletin received here.

It was emphasized that some mail is not being delivered despite every effort of the post office and the post office department because letters are not being properly addressed.

The additional essential element in these letters is the post office handling the mail bound for that unit.

PILOT TRAINING SET IN SCHOOLS

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The nation's high schools will be the scene of the elementary training of pilots in fly America's great air arm.

W. W. Studebaker, U. S. commissioner of education, said Thursday that the plan contemplates the teaching of aeronautics in all high schools where 15 or more prospective pilot cadets are enrolled.

"It is expected," Studebaker said, "that recommendations for pre-pilot training courses in physics and mathematics soon will be sent to all school systems of the country."

The recommendations to be issued soon thereafter by the publication of detailed suggestions emanating from the army and navy as to the course outlines and instructional materials.

Leaders Confer

The office of education and representatives of the army, navy and civil aeronautics administration now are conferring to determine what the high schools can do immediately to speed the pilot training program, in view of the president's goal of 60,000 planes this year and 125,000 in 1943.

Studebaker outlined tentative plans agreed upon as follows:

1. For the present semester, mathematics and physics applicable to the high schools can be included as extra subjects in the boys' schedules, or taught before and after regular school hours.

2. Intensive refresher and pre-pilot courses might be given in the summer months to the larger communities and boys from nearby areas, permitted to attend, tuition-free.

Full Semester

Next September a full semester's work in aeronautics should be offered in every high school in which as many as 15 prospective physically qualified air cadets can be enrolled. Boys who have taken such courses will be enabled, upon the induction into air cadet training, to devote more time to flying. Fewer boys will be needed in the ground school phases of their first three months' training period.

Studebaker said the high schools also could acquaint older boys in and out of school of the need for men to serve in the air force, of the standards for selection of men to undergo training as pilots, and of the schools to which they should apply to receive training as pilots.

Studebaker also has physicians expanding prospective air cadets to advise their parents whether they may hope to meet the physical standards required; and the schools could help boys to obtain remedial physical and dental treatment to remove minor disqualifying disabilities.

Marines in Iceland Cemented Friendship via Jitterbugging

By TOM JOHNSON

Iceland and Idaho may have more in common than the capital letter "I."

To quote a Jerome man who's been here, "Iceland resembles to a great extent the primitive area of Idaho."

Of course, there is one exception. Icelandic rugged outlines are embellished by forests; Iceland is treeless and a vast majority of the land is unproductive.

Marine Service

Ellis E. McGee, 25, has returned to Meigs Valley after serving nine to 10 months with the U. S. marines on the volcanic Isle in the North Atlantic.

McGee, a private first class, was a member of the American continent which "moved" in July, 1941, at the request of the Danish government.

"For Icelanders, it was a unique experience, and for all I know they may not be over it," said McGee.

Iceland—which has had its own parliamentary form of government since the year 1824—had neither army, navy nor fortifications.

After 1,500 or more years of independence when they were in isolation, Denmark concurred with the United States that the Yankee move in.

In fact, Nazi U-boats and reconnaissance planes more than once flew overhead when the island of Reykjavik, seat of government for the 110,000 inhabitants, was under their return.

"The enemy will receive a warm welcome," pledged McGee, who with other Americans, Britons and Canadians made Iceland more defensible than it ever was in the past centuries.

Pleasant Climate

Iceland has a fairly pleasant climate, thanks to the warm waters of the Gulf Stream, and the low temperature during the winter was four degrees below zero," said McGee.

"Illiteracy is low among the Icelandic people, they have complete freedom of religion, the only one in their treasury and no unemployment," he said.

Education for the men consisted mainly of old melon peels shown in front of the community hall and public dances at the best of comely Norse maidens.

Studebaker said the high schools also could acquaint older boys in and out of school of the need for men to serve in the air force, of the standards for selection of men to undergo training as pilots, and of the schools to which they should apply to receive training as pilots.

Studebaker also has physicians expanding prospective air cadets to advise their parents whether they may hope to meet the physical standards required; and the schools could help boys to obtain remedial physical and dental treatment to remove minor disqualifying disabilities.

Anything Goes

Marines soon learned "that any old step" was accepted as bona fide dancing by their neighbors here. Professional dancers couldn't have aided more in practical establishment of the good neighbor policy.

Days of hard work were broken once by the arrival of a new music minister, Milton Churchill, accompanied by a U. S. naval lieutenant, Francis Travis, who had been serving side by side with the Yankees, shared the silver-onyx "warrior" belt emblem which McGee proudly wears on his field service uniform.

No project of years a blue and gold campaign ribbon denoting service with the Iceland detachment.

"Iceland was a quiet outpost, all right; the only disagreeable feature was the high wind velocity. At one time a storm attained a maximum of more than 100 miles per hour," he said.

McGee, two and one-half years in the marines, doesn't know where he'll be sent next. Iceland, he said, was "a good experience."

"But," he concluded, "it's a big world, and it looks like the marines are going to see some real hot spots before this war is won."

Lend-Lease Farm Shipments Drop

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The transfer of cargo ships to other uses cut lend-lease agricultural shipments to the United States to 300,000,000 pounds in February, less than half the December total, the agriculture department reported today.

The February total, valued at $22,000,000, was 25 per cent under the January volume, although dollar-value of shipments for the three months remained about the same because of concentration on less bulky foods.

Shipments from start of the lend-lease program on April 29, 1941, to March 1 totaled 4,000,000,000 pounds, valued at $48,000,000. The department said, Britain received the bulk, although some flour and other foods went to Russia.

The department said the transfer of cargo ships to other uses began with American entry into the war. Axis submarine activity off the Atlantic coast, was relatively minor in cutting down shipments.

"Does the War affect MY business?"

"You bet it does! As a retailer, I'm the link, you might say, between manufacturer and consumer. And what affects each of them under these wartime conditions is mighty important to me."

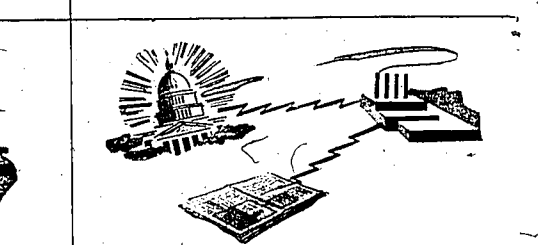

1. "Take Mrs. Consumer. She and her family have to plan their shopping more carefully than ever these days. They have to know in advance how and where they can make their dollars go furthest. In order to find out, they read newspaper ads."

2. "Why? Well, they've always turned to newspapers for news... and that means buying news in the ads, too. Today, with all this big war news popping, more people than ever are reading newspapers... and paying even closer attention to the ads."

3. "It's plain to see what this means to manufacturers. They know the best help they can give in moving their goods off my shelves is newspaper advertising here in this community. And today this is stronger, faster-acting support than ever."

4. "Then, too, manufacturers these days often have to change their sales or distribution plans overnight, and newspapers are the only place where they can keep their advertising in step with these sudden changes, and keep customers coming in here."

This retailer is right! Wartime conditions are changing the making and selling and buying of goods. And the service of newspaper advertising, to manufacturer, dealer, and consumer, is greater than ever before. Today, more than ever, manufacturers produce more sales for their retailers... and themselves... when they advertise in local newspapers.
