GURB IN USAGE MAY BE LIFTED

WASHINGTON, April 30 (UP)—Officials of the office of petroleum administration and the office of petroleum coordinator were virtually agreed today that the gasoline rationing program has been "greatly exaggerated."

Director Robert E. Allen of the production division of the office of petroleum coordinator Harold L. Hicks also said it was almost certain that there would be no rationing of gasoline in the Pacific northwest and that it might be possible soon to remove all restrictions on sales in that area unless demand increases sharply.

He said he had conferred with Dr. John W. Frey, director of the OGP marketing division, who returned today from a trip to Oregon and Washington, and that Frey was "very optimistic."

Stocks built up sharply on "Gasoline stocks appear to be building up very nicely out there," he said. "Some of the companies affected by present restrictions which they can be relaxed now. We're getting more and more tank cars into the area every day."

Allen had good news for the 10,000 eastern motorists who will have to have ration cards in order to buy gasoline.

Everybody probably will be able to obtain all the gasoline he needs for his minimum requirements," he said. "It'll guard the rationing against the inconveniences of getting ration cards to buy it."

Seven units of non-essential drivers will be allowed seven units of gasoline—each unit probably will be around 15 gallons—be issued during the period from May 18 to July 1, when a permanent program will be started.

A motorist can use up a quota at once or spread it over the entire period, making vacation plans possible for all.

Drivers who depend upon their automobiles to get to the jobs they need for this purpose—they can continue their rationing boards that no other transportation is available.

3. Machinery will be set up to allow motorists who think his ration is unfair to appeal for a larger amount.

After July 1, the program will be set up in such a manner that motorists still will be able to save up their coupons for long vacation trips.

1-A Registrants in War Work Will Be Put in New Class

Draft registrants who have dependent children are being placed in a new classification created for them, according to a report from the War Relocation Authority.

The new classification will be known as 2-B.

Previously all registrants with dependents, whether essential to war production or not, were placed in class 1-A. Consequently, some 2,600 registrants now in the 1-A class are being moved to the new 2-B class.

Outstanding contributions should be made as soon as possible, in order that the campaign may be closed early in May, officials announced. Individuals who desire to donate, may also still contribute.

Cancer Campaign Vital to Children

The control of cancer is as vital to children as to adults, it was pointed out today by Mrs. F. G. Kleffner, president of the Twin Falls Parent-Teacher association council, on the eve of Child Health Day, May 1.

Mrs. Kleffner, in making this statement, quoted a letter which she received from Katherine L. Leonard, chief of the children's bureau, U. S. department of labor, as saying, "It is vital to the children, as well as the adults of America, that as marked progress be made in the control of cancer as has been made in the reduction of deaths from causes related to childhood. Cancer deprives many children of care from their mothers, and so may be counted as one of the great enemies of childhood."

JAPANESE TAKE CITY IN BURMA

(From Press Des)

base at Shinyang. He recalled that the Japanese had made several other attacks from Shinyang in the past two years without extending their gains.

However, a drive through southern Hlonan might develop into a thrust at Chinsung, Chingkuang and other cities in the mountainous south of Shinyang. Such an attack might go through southern Hlonan into Hsichuan.

Heavily Bombed

The Tokyo radio broadcast today a news dispatch from a certain Japanese base" reporting that Japanese bomber formations heavily bombed Suifu, capital of Shantung, and two airfields northeast and northwest of that city Tuesday.

It added that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was known to have been in the area area on an inspection tour about that time and may have been there during the raid.

Chinese quarters in Hsichuan indicated they were greatly heartened by President Roosevelt's Tuesday night speech especially his assurance that supplies would be found to deliver war supplies to China despite the Chinese quarrel with its associates.

In return for this assurance, the General News said, "China offers to use her other American friends her untiring faith and unwavering determination which no adversary in Burma or any other theater of war can ever match."

The Chinese army organ Sao Tang Pao, said Roosevelt's speech showed that America's manpower and resources have been sufficiently mobilized to enable serious blows to be dealt to the Japanese, who no longer will be able to add weight to their efforts as it will encourage the ally.

Supplies Moved Ahead

An army spokesman said most of the "Amur's manpower which had piled up at Lashio awaiting truck shipment had been moved on. The commander, he said, was destroyed to prevent its seizure by the invaders.

A Chinese spokesman said that there was only minor fighting on the central and western Burma fronts, in the Bittang and Irrawaddy river valleys.

Chinese force still was engaging the Japanese around Pyawbwe, 85 miles west of Mandalay. It added that other Chinese force was attacking east of Pyawbwe, 60 miles east of Pyawbwe.

This latter force could, with sufficient strength, isolate which had communications, he said, but by cutting the Japanese lines of communication and infiltration, that the Japanese would have the choice of prolonging and shortening of the Chinese border, or swinging west to encircle Mandalay.

Recreation Unit Facing "Ouster"

Unless Twin Falls city or interested organizations take action soon, the supervised recreation program here will terminate June 1, it was announced this afternoon by Harry Haines, district WPA recreational supervisor.

The WPA, he said, has just announced that reduction in quotas will result in cities designated as defense centers and in those areas will be used chiefly in adding morale of the armed forces.

The new move will affect the staff of seven persons now maintaining a continuous and summer program for children and adults. The staff here has varied from seven to a peak of 15.

Haines pointed out that Burley, forecasting the current situation, has already contracted for three instructors and is prepared to carry on with its recreational program after WPA help is cut off.

Cal Meeting

Joe Donahue, president of the Twin Falls Recreation association, announced a special council meeting of the board for 7:30 p. m. Friday, May 8, at the center. All other interested persons, he said, may attend. The association is composed of two representatives from each club or organization in the city. Funds from the Community Chest and other agencies are disbursed through the organization for purchase of equipment, for rent and for similar purposes. Until now the WPA has provided and paid continuing instructors for rent and for similar purposes.

Donahue said withdrawal of WPA supervision will leave "large quantities of recreational equipment idle unless some means is found to adopt a local program."

NATIONAL REPRESENTATIVES

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

SLINGSHOTS—Two of the nation's princes of commerce—James H. Jones and Donald M. Nelson—were struggling for the privilege of having the nation's businessmen from bankruptcy. Although preserving American Main street constitutes a prize headache, the two men created the impression of staging a fierce fight with no holds barred.

A bill setting up a hundred million dollar corporation to control Main Street was introduced by Sen. James H. Murray of Montana a few months ago. It is now in the hands of the Senate. It is a measure which would give Murray's friendship with the White House and the big corporations a new lease on life. It is a measure which would give Murray's friendship with the White House a new lease on life.

RAY TUCKER friends in committee, with Messrs. O'Connell, Virginia Hanley, Kentucky and now the Michigan championing the conservative banker. They were whipped 10-to-seven through a combination of anti-Jones, Democratic and Republican. When the proposal passed through the Senate unanimously, it was heralded as the commerce secretary's first setback on Capitol Hill.

The Houston financiers' backers will stage their last stand in the house banking and currency committee, which has before it a plan having the money of Mr. Jones's hands. The crowd from the Lonsdale state office will be in the hands of the lower chamber. They control the speaking and most of the committee, and they won't let "our James" be kicked around by any of the corporations.

BLABBERING—The great weapon which the United Nations leaders have not mastered is silence. Trolley cars, office walls and theater programs at the Capitol blabber with the news of the day. When the ship, but some of our most responsible officials are directed against.

The high command's latest complaint has been directed against Philippine Commissioner Francisco B. Sayre. After he had given a press interview describing his visit to the Philippines, he was well as life on Bataan, the army's smarter publicity expert, and the high command's latest complaint has been directed against.

REFORMS—Thousands of reformers, who have temporarily lost their freedom, are being given a contribution to the society they stymied against in chapter and more peaceful days. In almost every penitentiary across the land, men who have served their terms of imprisonment are being given a contribution to the society they stymied against in chapter and more peaceful days.

WELCOME TO THE COWBOYS

PROVING SOMETHING
Dear Potshots: No matter what anybody may say, a great many of our own Idaho Japs residents think and live in the same old, same old way. I heard a group of small boys talking Monday about Japs. ANALYZING CURRENT NEWS FROM NEW YORK

STAR—The significance of the fresh appeals by the Red Cross for more human blood for transfusions is not bruited in public lest the truth about the revolutionary methods in the organization explain the fact that the famous mercy unit's revised quota of one million three hundred thousand units of blood is based on the fact that the Red Cross expects severe casualties. Even this, says the terrible toll of the war has drained some of the nation's blood.

WHY WE FACE INFLATION

Unless we get hot-bodded very soon, this nation can hardly escape a spectacular and eventually disastrous wave of price inflation. In the abstract, that stark statement will create little argument. But concretely, the issue has been obscured by so many big words that the man in the street is confused.

There can be no better time than now to try to clarify the danger in words of few syllables and in figures that do not lie. The danger is not in the fact that we are having to eliminate the manufacture of many articles of civilian use, so that men, machinery and raw materials can be used against the axis.

But in the coming fiscal year, civilians will have at least $110 billions with which to buy such goods. The danger is not in the fact that we are having to eliminate the manufacture of many articles of civilian use, so that men, machinery and raw materials can be used against the axis.

Unless the setup is modified by some type of controls, prices will skyrocket as each of us tries to outbid the others for the commodities on sale. This tendency will be exaggerated by the fact that much of the new money is in the hands of men and women who haven't been prosperous for so long that they have no ideas of its value.

The quantity of civilian goods available will be just about that of 1933, at the depth of the depression. The quantity of money, seeking to pay for such goods, will be about double what it was in 1933.

Nevertheless, price inflation already has made strides. The cost of living generally has risen close to 15 per cent since the war began. The cost of food has gone almost 20 per cent in a year. Numerous individual table items—important ones, too—have risen from 25 to as much as 65 per cent in a year.

These things are pretty elementary. They are neither mysterious nor complicated. Perhaps they're too elementary.

SACRIFICES AND TRENDS
New York wholesalers have gathered fresh statistics which show that the public is responding to the appeal to do with less sugar. Consumption has dropped appreciably even before rationing becomes effective. This is a great tribute to the voluntary spirit of sacrifice in the United States.

Many Gardeners Taking Imported Seeds for Trial

JEROME, April 30—Scores of victory-minded residents of Jerome county have been coming in to the office of O. A. Power, Chamber of Commerce secretary, all this week to receive free packets of imported seeds to plant in their victory gardens.

The recent program which was launched only last week has already shown such success that no doubt the supply of rare and expensive seeds will soon be exhausted.

The seeds were obtained from the national chemistry farm council and the project has been adopted nationally by the Chamber of Commerce. Principal objective of planting the seeds is one of experimentation in order to determine those seeds which are best adapted to this section. First plantings should be saved and are to be returned to the Chamber of Commerce office.

Most of these seeds have been imported from the axis nations, but have been used extensively by the American people, some because of their medical properties and some because of their value as seasonings. Some also are used for silage, such as the mammoth Russian sunflower seed.

It has been urged that all dependent citizens who wish to participate in this program locally, come in and obtain their seeds. Full instructions will be given with each type of seed.

RAF PLANES BLAST, SET FIRE TO WAR PLANTS IN FRANCE

U. S. CRAFT AID MALTA DEFENSE

By RUSSELL C. LANDSTROM
LONDON, April 30 (AP)—The RAF blasted and set fire to the Goodrich rubber works and the Gnome-Rhone plant in the Paris suburb of Gennevilliers last night in a vigorous renewal of the campaign to deny captive French factories contributing to the German war arsenal.

The air ministry said both plants were left aflame by low-level attacks made in the face of anti-aircraft defenses directed against the raid on the Gnome-Rhone factory April 26.

Six British planes were listed as missing in the night's operations, which included blows at the docks of Ostend, airbases in the low countries, and mine-laying in enemy waters.

Shortly after dawn allied planes swept out over the channel again to attack shipping and airbases.

Acknowledges Damage
The Germans acknowledged that considerable damage had been done to buildings at Gennevilliers, 10 miles from the heart of Paris, and that the RAF also raided the north German coast.

British news agency, said the Vichy radio reported 52 persons killed and about 100 injured in Gennevilliers. It was also reported that the RAF also raided the island in less than two months on factories in the Paris area.

RAF bombers were engaged over the continent, the Nazi air force lashed back with a short but forceful attack on the night of May 1 in east Anglia, which a communiqué said had caused casualties and damaged buildings in residential and shipping areas.

The Berlin radio said the raid on Norway, which also was bombed Monday night, was a severe reprisal for attacks upon German ships.

London Stirred
London, meanwhile, was stirred by reports from Stockholm that the United States fighter planes now were participating in the defense of Malta, Britain's vital Mediterranean island base.

The Berlin sources did not specify how the American planes had reached Malta, but suggested they might have come through the Strait of Gibraltar. President Roosevelt said Tuesday night in a radio address that American warships were operating in the Mediterranean.

The job of every American now is to help win the war.

WPB Receptive to Clothing Plan Begun by Mrs. Harman

By WALTER H. BOYCHIK
WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—An Idaho clerkship wife said today she had found war production board officials receptive toward her suggestion that materials for clothing and home furnishings for many families could be salvaged from the nation's 20,000 automobile graveyards.

The 62-year-old woman, Mrs. Walter E. Harman, Jerome, Ida., was invited by Leasing J. Rosenwald, chief of WPB's industrial conservation bureau, to come to Washington to tell what church-women of her home town had done with materials salvaged from automobiles and to explain how such a program might be undertaken nationally.

Studies Proposal
C. B. O. Murphy, chief of the WPB automobile graveyard section, has been studying Mrs. Harman's recommendations and the shortage of labor is complicating their task, WPB officials said.

War production board figures show that approximately 2,600,000 automobiles are scrapped annually in the 20,077 yards, and that 800,000 cars are to be demolished monthly during the next 20 months for scrap iron.

"Wrecking crews are setting the interior of abandoned cars and to explain how such a program might be undertaken nationally."

On Congressman Dvorzhak's work. A poem was read by Mrs. Gus Connelly, accompanied by Mrs. Dallas McNeill. Jenn Allen sang two songs, also accompanied by Mrs. McNeill. Refreshments were served by the hostesses. It was voted to adjourn until August.

Uncle Ef
Some of the ardent New Dealers have been trying for years to make it appear as disagreeable to be known as a business man. And now they want to draft business executives because they believe that businessmen have been scared so badly they won't volunteer. What we need is everybody in the game pitching his best in these times, and it wouldn't require drafting if the hecklers would lay off.

HONOR AWARDED TO GEN. GEORGE

WASHINGTON, April 30 (AP)—Award of the Legion of Merit was conferred today by Brigadier General Harold H. George, who met death in an air crash over the Southwest Pacific, was announced today by the war department.

The award was announced in a communiqué which reported the death of the former chief of staff of the far eastern air force and of McMillan Jacoby, military correspondent of Time and Life magazines.

The DGC was awarded posthumously with a citation of General George's "exceptionally meritorious service to the government in a position of great responsibility."

As chief of staff of the far eastern air force and commander of all air corps troops in the Philippines from Dec. 21 to March 11, he directed all air defenses of the Bataan peninsula and the besieged fortress of Corregidor, and fighting against overwhelming enemy air forces demonstrated outstanding capacity for command.

"His personal courage and unceasing devotion to duty, his loyalty to the government in a position of great responsibility, and his inspiring leadership in the execution of seemingly impossible tasks kept his force intact and effective in spite of air losses and the fact that he was immediately to the defensive effort of the entire command," the citation said.

DOG MEN REDS PICKED TO CAPTURE PIONEER LEAGUE CROWN

Cowboys Seen As Second Division Club

By Mac R. Johnson SALT LAKE CITY, April 29 (AP)—Dog men are expected to pitch the season at heavy hitting outfield, besides a few other lads who can rap out base hits, the Ogden Reds appear to be running on the inside track in the 1942 Pioneer league baseball race.

Spring exhibition games indicate that the Pocatello Cardinals will turn out a first position for the powerful Ogden entry. It appears doubtful that Boise, Idaho, can claim to have won the second division in the new campaign.

Hot Cleveland Club Extends Wins to 10

PHILADELPHIA, April 30 (AP)—The red-hot Cleveland Indians stretched their winning streak to 10 in a row yesterday by coming from behind to beat the Athletics 11-4.

The victory gave the first place Indians the same lead over the New York Yankees who lost again to the St. Louis Browns. Roy Weatherly started the game by blasting a 5-2 pitch by Phil Marchiondi over the right field wall for a home run, but it took six more innings for the fourth to seal up the A's.

The six-run outburst came after the A's had fashioned a 3-1 lead in the second on four consecutive hits by Sam Rice, Babe Ruth, Marv Miller and Mike Kreevich.

Dodgers Rally To Nip Reds In Overtime

CINCINNATI, April 30 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers pulled a victory over the Cincinnati Reds out of the fire yesterday. Using the score on a home run by Daphn Camilli after two were out in the ninth and busting three runs across in the tenth for a 5 to 2 verdict.

The Reds were led to four hits but Frank McCormick led off the second inning with his fourth homer of the year. Then Kingie Walker of Frank Secory, and in attempting to catch him off base, made a wild throw that let Secory reach third. A moment later catcher Ray LaMano singled him home.

That ended Cincinnati's offensive for the day, but for nine innings Brooklyn was just as helpless against the Reds as they were against the regular line-up. Ural Camilli's homer, his sixth of the season, was the only run in the fifth when Billy Sullivan pitched two days and four of the season, the only run on a single by Precwe Reese and came home on a fly by Hibel.

Sweep Swinger Seen as Derby Upset Hope

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30 (AP)—The best shot of a Derby sweep for the improvement of Derby Loust-Blaibers held a meeting today to discuss the possibility of a Derby sweep. The Derby sweep is a long shot, but it is not impossible.

The regular season in all streams that will be open this summer starts on May 24—that's when the great waters will be open. However, the chances are good that opportunities for some early fishing will come from the reservoirs this season.

And Eric Mollis, veteran caretaker at the dam, gave you several scientific reasons why fishing in the reservoirs is better than fishing in the streams. "The water is up near record heights and that always means plenty of fish," he said.

FRANTIC WEEKEND

BY EDMUND FANCOTT

THE STORY: Betsy Brien, who was a Canadian, was a... attraction, the stage... Peggy Mack... "Do you like Ferd?" "I think he's a darling..." "Not good-looking though, definitely not. Neither is Nigel."

"Do you like Ferd?" "I think he's a darling..." "Not good-looking though, definitely not. Neither is Nigel."

"Do good looks mean so much in a man?" "Peggy had an immediate and definite reply to that. She adored her brother..."

"Yes, you bet, when they go with something else. Look at Mike, my brother..." "Fay, who had had almost ten full shure of handsome hangers-on in New York..."

"It's more than that. He's got something," said Peggy. "Then her enthusiasm carried her away and she began to talk about her brother in the way that younger and adoring sisters often do..."

"It must be wonderful," said Fay, as she slowly climbed the slope toward the smell of frying bacon that came over the scent of pine..."

Breakfast at Ferd's cottage was a moving feast. The guests wandered in and out to please themselves and time did not matter..."

"Time is short," said Peggy. "And we've got to move fast..." "Mike is crazy about Fay..." "So is Nigel..."

"That's it," said Peggy. "We've got to help Mike. She thinks he is wonderful..." "Who does," asked Myra. "Fay Ransom?"

"Yes," said Peggy, stretching the fact into fiction. "She told me she'll..." "Myra was doubtful but willing to listen..." "Ferd's already off, painting somewhere... and Fay has gone with him..."

"So that's it," said Peggy slowly. "The pest has been asking for all through breakfast..." "Where's Mike?" "I haven't seen him for five minutes..."

"Peggy smiled. 'Good!' She had already asked Ferd before he left where he was going with his folding cot and other paraphernalia..."

"Then when Nigel had asked her if she had seen Fay, she had said quite truthfully that she had seen her on her way to the wharf..."

PEGGY OPENS FIRE

CHAPTER X

PEGGY donned her more modest bathing suit and a beach robe and slipped into the morning air that cooled the balcony outside her room...

"Hello," she said, with much greater respect for Fay after the revelations of last night. "Coming for a dip before breakfast?" "Yes," replied Fay. "Wait for me..."

There were no other sounds in the house save those made by Marie, busy in the kitchen, as the two girls slipped out into the morning air. They breathed deeply of the cool, exhilarating freshness as they ran down the brown pine path to the lake...

Throwing off their beach robes they plunged into crisply cold waters and swam at a brisk pace. The sun sparkled on the water they splashed and glittered over the waves they cut in the still water. Little curls of mist drifted from the surface of the water, bird calls echoed distantly in the hills behind them, and both girls thrilled to that delicious sensation that comes with being clean-cut, strong, young, and alone with the world on a bright, joy morning...

They climbed out onto the wharf, and ran to the beachhouse. There they stripped their swim suits and rubbed themselves briskly with rough towels. "My!" said Peggy impulsively. "You're lovely..."

Fay rubbed herself dry and picked up her beach robe. "I don't see that you have much to grumble at..." Peggy regarded her own figure. In comparison and she was not displeased. They were different, but both slim and trim, although Fay had the mature softness that a few more years had added...

"I think you're so lucky," said Peggy, fishing with one toe for her sandals. "Why?" asked Fay, knowing quite well what was in Peggy's mind. "If I could only have a chance like yours, I certainly wouldn't come back here to a hurry..."

Fay said nothing to that. It was an attitude shared by almost every girl who knew her. She was even uncertain herself whether she had done the right thing. What did she want, if not success? Of one thing she was sure, that if she had success she wanted more control over it and over the rewards it brought...

One thing was quite clear. If success meant being a puppet pulled by a hundred different strings and imperishable by a...

It's Desolate Area, Is That Spot for Japs

By VIC GOERTZEN
Bill H. H. H.
We're over . . .

That was the song of the wheels from the press car as it sought that much discussed strip of desert land, which our "Doc" Chase Clark says 10,000 Japs will clear and till in the near future.

At Eden, we learned that it was referred to as "Little Tokyo." So at the sign—Owl creek and all points north. Ketchikan—we turned north, crossing the Jerome canal, onto that Jap-intended tract. From there we traveled over a road the Lord never meant for a car, what with tire rattling and all. Winding through the desert and lava wilderness, we came to a steep rocky knoll, where we sighted the first living thing—a sheepherder.

In talking to this man, much speculation flared over a newspaper man. Finally Clinger Butte and Wilson range were pointed out. As to the roads he answered listlessly, "They're about the same as they are you have just come over rocky with high centers."

Even rabbits avoid it. Then, following some fresh tire tracks, we progressed to a small, dry drainage that even the Jack rabbits seemed to shun. Over a net-work of ravin falls and thin sheep trails, we went sighting many whitened skeletons of sheep, rabbits and birds that hadn't been able to exist in this rugged terrain.

Marking a surveyor's work, a red line told us we were on the right track. Here we stopped and found numerous pieces of yellow, approximately colored, paper filler with figures like these . . . 113031; 80-56; 2630 and a triangle with angles of 25, 4 and 72.2. But what had we? At last we caught up with the two surveyors who were reading the markings on a lava rock, made probably 50 years ago. Through the help of the younger partner, these were translated to mean one mile from a township line and four from what range.

But the other government man with the "holly" red-sweater wasn't so cooperative. When asked for the loan of his shovel, he retorted, "You may use it, but I'll not loan it!" No picture, Thank You.

As to actual information it was nil or less. They, the surveyors, were staying in Twin Falls and were in the employ of the federal government. They wouldn't pose for a picture. When asked where the townsite might be they replied that it would have to come through the army at Boise. Red-sweater muttered, "Just ask the governor."

We're still wondering why they were sighting 1 1/2 foot deep holes when they had already planted another red-flag.

Before reaching the boundary of "Little Tokyo," we traveled another 10 miles through a country where in places even sage wouldn't grow. And that's something.

As of today, the Jap "garden of Eden" would tear off even an evacuee—if the army weren't parked behind him to see that he doesn't wander.

Infectious Orchard Trees Condemned
Fruit trees which are infected with San Jose scale and which have not been given a dormant spray covering this spring will be cut down, as directed by the state department of agriculture, G. C. Magers, horticultural inspector, said today.

The expense will be charged against the property in the form of taxes, the inspector added.

Magers declared complaints have been filed by the owners of commercial orchards that some fruit growers have made no effort to control the San Jose scale, either by spraying or cauterizing the trees.

He said the proper time to apply Calox spray is when 50 per cent of the petals has fallen. A tree should be covered thoroughly, using two pounds of concentrate of Calox. He advises against the use of a sprayer.

BUHL
George Roe, advertising manager of the Buhl Herald since last July, resigned his position last week and went to his home at Chesham, Wash., Friday to visit his parents until he is inducted into military service May 8 in Washington.

R. C. Moore went to Las Vegas, Nev., last Wednesday to spend a week to days visiting his sister and family, and other relatives.
