BOMBING PLANES DAMAGE 2 MORE JAP TRANSPORTS

By BRYDON C. TAYES
GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, May 12 (AP)—United States bombing planes have damaged two Japanese troop transports and a tanker in the latest phase of their offensive against enemy invasion forces in the northern part of New Guinea.

They brought to 24 the total of Japanese ships sunk or damaged, including at least three transports and two tankers, since May 4 when the naval air battle of the Coral Sea, greatest of the war, started off the Solomon Islands.

MacArthur's planes scored direct hits on two enemy transports, believed crowded with invasion troops, in an attack off Koro, in the Solomons.

They showered bombs on Japanese shipping in the area, and it was indicated that they might have scored hits or near misses on additional invasion craft.

Tanker Damaged
The tanker was damaged by two hits or near misses in a plane attack on the seaplane base at Deboyne Island, in the Laidlawe Island group off the southern coast of New Guinea. In addition, the planes damaged a seaplane and buildings which were left afloat.

Japanese planes did slight damage in an attack yesterday on the allied airbase at Port Moresby, New Guinea, MacArthur's report said. The attack on the airbase on Horn Island, off Cape York at the northern tip of Australia, without damage.

The command, U. S. No. 25 from MacArthur's headquarters Pacific general headquarters, said in full:

"Laidlawe archipelago—Deboyne Island: Allied bombers attacked the enemy seaplane base yesterday. Two hits or near misses were obtained on a large tanker, a four-engine seaplane was damaged and direct hits were obtained on stores and buildings."

Solomon Islands—Koro: Two enemy transports were hit yesterday in an attack off Koro, in the Solomons.

Damage Slight
"New Guinea—Port Moresby: Enemy bombers attacked an airbase yesterday. Damage was slight. The enemy seaplane base was not damaged. The enemy seaplane was damaged and direct hits were obtained on stores and buildings."

The allied planes, led by flying ace, Major General Jimmy Doolittle, attacked the enemy seaplane base at Deboyne Island, in the Laidlawe Island group off the southern coast of New Guinea. In addition, the planes damaged a seaplane and buildings which were left afloat.

The office personnel of the local board was busy today helping registrants of the third draft fill out the industrial questionnaires which they received last week. More than 50 were aided at the "school" conducted last night in the office of the state employment service in the Rogerson hotel building. BOISE, May 12 (AP)—As a means of conserving labor for the thinning of sugar beets during the next few weeks, Governor Clark today requested that construction activity at the Eden power plant be delayed until after the beet thinning season is ended.

Clark said he also had requested federal authorities to postpone the blaster control program in the Eden area until after the beet thinning season is ended.

McNutt Urges Financial Aid to Army Dependents

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt urged congress today to establish a system of financial assistance for the dependents of men in the armed forces, "for the sake of national morale."

The house, meantime, was scheduled to take up a senate bill to raise the base pay of enlisted men in the army, navy and marine corps. The bill provides for a minimum of $42 for privates and the corresponding rank in the navy, and would boost the pay of the lowest grade of commissioned officer in all three services.

McNutt told the house military affairs committee that he was in complete accord with pending legislation to provide family allowances for dependents of enlisted men. The bill provides for federal contributions to match, and in some cases to exceed, those that an enlisted man would be required to make to his dependents.

Supplementary Grants
The bill also authorizes the federal security administration to make supplementary grants in cases where an investigation reveals that additional financial assistance is needed. This phase of the bill has been criticized by some members of congress.

McNutt quoted selective service figures to show that 10,740,000 men are in the armed service. He said that 10 per cent of these registered men are "unfit" to make blanket exemptions for dependency, but added that an allowance system would be established for men with dependents are inducted into service.

McNutt said that aid to dependents would not become a burden upon state and local governments or upon private philanthropy.

Under the pending measure, a married man would also $20 a month to his wife and the government would match the amount, giving the wife a total of $40. In addition, the government would pay an extra $10 monthly for each child.

McNutt recommended that a policy board be established to advise the army, navy, selective service and the FSA, be established to administer the allotment program. He asked that congress place no limit on the supplementary grants which his agency could make.

6 GERMAN HELD HOTELS BOMBED IN PARIS AREAS

By RALPH HEINZEN
VICHY, France, May 12 (AP)—Terrorists have bombed six Paris hotels and restaurants frequented by the Germans, officials from Paris said today.

German authorities isolated the entire area affected, including the principal downtown business districts and the eastern railroad station, in an attempt to trap the terrorists responsible.

Subway traffic was suspended in the bombed area.

The world famous Marquise restaurant and the Ambassador hotel were among the hotels and buildings bombed. All had been requisitioned for German army use.

Three other central Paris hotels were bombed, and the hotel in the eastern railroad station area also was bombed.

French Police Help
French police aided the Germans in blocking off the area.

The first terrorist outrage came one day after the dynamiting of the great German-controlled Bourges steel manufacturing plant and the derailment by a mine of a freight train near Parisieny in the German-occupied zone.

Two of four 450-foot pylons at the Bourges station were destroyed and were believed that service of some of the three long-wave and short-wave stations would be suspended for months. Radio Paris, however, continued to broadcast occasionally, possibly through emergency arrangements.

The news of the Paris bombings, potentially one of the most serious breaks of the war since Marshal Henri Philippe Pétain returned to Vichy by special train from an interrupted Riviera vacation and went at once to conference with Chief of Government Pierre Laval.

Terrorist activities, as well as American negotiations with authorities of Vichy Martinique and the British campaign in Madagascar, were on the agenda even before news of the Paris bombings arrived. It was understood that the government had no direct information on the bombings, but that they were conducted by Rear Admiral John H. Hoover, American naval attaché at Vichy, Robert Vichy, commander of the French navy, and Admiral Laval, premier of the French government.

Laval, named last, met with German envoys at Moulins, near the border between occupied and unoccupied territory.

Reports that Laval had seen Field Marshal Hermann Goering, Nazi No. 2, were denied.

Early Meeting
It was known, however, that he had arranged for an early meeting among Goering, Pétain and himself.

Laval proposed to discuss with Goering both general problems and the specific financial assistance needed. Spanish demands for French territorial concessions, it was understood, were not on the agenda.

Pending receipt of an official report, the government withheld formal action on the German negotiations. It was emphasized, however, that Vichy would recognize no action which had not had its approval.

BRITISH LOSE 3 SHIPS IN BATTLE

LONDON, May 12 (AP)—Three British destroyers were sunk yesterday in the eastern Mediterranean during a series of attacks by German warplanes, the admiralty announced today.

The Rome radio, broadcasting an Italian high command communique, reported earlier that German fighter planes "attacking in waves" sank three of four British destroyers encountered north of the African gulf of Sollum, near the Egyptian-Libyan border.

British planes escorting the three destroyers were shot down, the admiralty said. The three destroyers lost in the action were the HMS Kipling, HMS Jackal and HMS Kipling, which was sunk by its own crew after being hit by a German plane.

The Kipling and Jackal were 1,600-ton destroyers of the Javelin class, carrying 100 anti-aircraft guns and 183 men each and completed in 1932. The Kipling was one of the 1,200-ton destroyers which included some of Britain's latest destroyers, built since the start of the war.

The admiralty said that "it is known that more than 500 officers and men from the three ships are safe so the total number of casualties cannot be heavy."

Military Striking Force of 9,000,000 Men Considered

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—A United States military striking force of 9,000,000 men is being considered in Washington legislative circles.

Sen. Vinton, D. Cal., chairman of the house naval affairs committee, said he believed the ultimate goal of the campaign would be to raise 8,000,000 men and that the navy probably would need 1,000,000. Vinton said these figures were "official."

Veteran Chinese Troops Hurl Back Jap Invaders

By ROBERT F. MARTIN
CHUNGKING, May 12 (AP)—Veteran Chinese troops intensified their campaign to hurl a battered invasion column beyond the Chinese frontier today by forcing a 50-mile Japanese retreat from the west bank of the Salween river to the Yunnan province town of Mangshui.

A dispatch by United Press correspondent Darrell Herrigan from Calcutta, India, indicated that the Japanese force totaled about 5,000 men, with 15,000 in the Salween valley in northern and central Burma.

It was reported that some Chinese troops had pursued a number of Japanese back to the frontier and challenged a column of enemy reinforcements.

The spokesman disclosed that the Chinese were attempting now to cut off the entire enemy column in the Salween valley by attacking Lashio, in Burma, southern terminus of the Burma road.

CURLY TOP PEOPLE FORECAST LIGHT

KANSAS CITY, May 12 (AP)—First Class Seaman William Smith, 21, has found some interesting reading: his own obituary. Smith, who is a curly-top, was a member of the navy as a Pearl Harbor casualty, read the Dec. 13 newspaper account of his death when he returned on furlough yesterday.

Winter was unfavorable for survival of the beet leafhopper in southern Idaho and the spring surveys show a comparatively low population in the desert areas and a medium population on host plant patches within the cultivated areas.

No direct information is available in a statement of beet leafhopper conditions in southern Idaho for the British campaign in Madagascar, which was reported today by J. R. Douglas, bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, U. S. department of agriculture, Twin Falls.

The report by Mr. Douglas is automatically swayed by beet, bean and seed growers as an important factor to prospective "white fly" infestation.

The growth of spring host plant patches has been delayed by cold, dry weather. Since the magnitude of the spring migration depends largely on the number of overwintered beet leafhoppers and the abundance of favorable spring host plants, the number of leafhoppers entering the cultivated areas could be below the average number, Douglas said in the report.

It was known, however, that he had arranged for an early meeting among Goering, Pétain and himself.

Rate Retained on Mortgage Interest

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—The house agriculture committee approved today a bill by Rep. Philip H. Hays, D. Ore., to extend to July 1, 1944, the present 3 1/2 per cent interest rate on farm mortgages.

The rate, in effect for six years, expires July 1.

FRENCH PROGRAM STILL PUZZLING

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE
LONDON, May 12 (AP)—Axis armies attempting to start an offensive through the Crimea toward the Caucasian oil fields appeared today to have been smashed back at most points with severe losses by what the Berlin radio called "numerically superior" Red army forces.

Details of the fighting on the Kerch peninsula, where Adolf Hitler may be trying to launch his long-horizoned summer offensive with powerful air support and "new weapons," still were lacking. But the German propaganda broadcast which first described the "first great offensive operation" of 1942 as "in full swing," later said German military circles were "not inclined to describe this battle for the Kerch peninsula as the beginning of the spring offensive."

The Berlin radio also complained that the Kerch sector had "unusually serious difficulties" and that the Germans and Rumanians were being a "numerically superior" enemy.

No Further Mention
The Red propaganda broadcast indicated that the operation on the offensive on May 8 was a land battle by axis infantry and appears to have been a tactical move. No mention however of what had happened the four days after the landing to the men who made the Kerch beachhead. It was said that nothing further had been heard of the operation.

A British military commentator said the Germans apparently made some progress on the northern part of this front but that they seemed to have been smashed back to their original positions.

The Russian campaign, after having told of the offensive earlier, said today that the importance developed during the night.

Dispatches from Moscow, however, said Soviet forces in the year was growing as a result of the increasing strength of the Red army and that the Soviet Union was strategic war materials are rapidly nearing the exhaustion point.

Nampa, Caldwell Clerks Working in Sugar Beet Fields

NAMPA, Ida., May 12 (AP)—Sugar beet on Idaho farms were in the local today by townspeople of Nampa and Caldwell as a plan for a seasonal agricultural workers by utilizing city-dwellers arrived its first test in Idaho.

Eleven men employed in Caldwell and five in Caldwell of Idaho students went to work in the beet fields this morning, the employment office at Caldwell announced. About 25 students were sent from Nampa to work in the fields and the number of beet thinners converted from clerks was expected to be increased tomorrow when a survey of Nampa store employees was completed.

The exodus of store workers and school children to the farms was part of a plan formulated to offset a shortage of migratory farm workers.

On the contrary, the Red army's success in working out a technique to crush Soviet forces in the Caucasus appeared to have forced Hitler to fall back on something like a modified strategy of attrition, which was successful in Europe but failed on the vast fronts of Russia.

Against this long-expected attack to resume the offensive, the Russians have been preparing for a long time. The Soviet Union has been successful in Europe but failed on the vast fronts of Russia.

FARM SURPLUSES PRICE PACT NEAR

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—Senate farm bloc members offered today to reach an agreement with the farm bloc of government-held farm surpluses below parity prices in order to release some excess wheat supplies for feeding livestock and poultry.

Chairman Russell, D. Ga., of a senate appropriations subcommittee, said that the farm bloc of government-held farm surpluses below parity prices in order to release some excess wheat supplies for feeding livestock and poultry.

The amendment, he said, would be offered as a substitute for a house-approved provision which was designed to release some excess wheat supplies for feeding livestock and poultry.

GERMAN MILITARY BOOSTS WORKING HOURS FOR FRENCH LABORERS

EACH TRADESMAN MUST REGISTER

VICHY, Unoccupied France, May 12 (AP)—The German military commander in France today issued a sweeping decree taking it upon himself to increase working hours in French enterprises and to force employers to register immediately the number and categories of workmen made available for other work as a result of longer hours.

(Presumably the order applies only to the occupied zone.)

Despite abolition of the old popular front law, a large proportion of French industry has been working a 40-hour week, and even as little as half that in order to spread the limited employment possibilities after the armistice.

Mobilizing Hours

The decree, Gen. Otto von Stuebelgauer, military commander of southwestern France, said, was working hours would be set by the economic service of the occupation authorities. The number of hours would render many persons unemployed, and it is with them that the census order deals.

(The implication is that the Germans intend to increase their pool of forced labor, which has been reported running short of the Nazi demands.)

Simultaneously, Chief of State Petain returned to Vichy on a special train from his suddenly interrupted holiday on the Riviera and immediately began a series of conferences with the chief of government, Pierre Laval, and various cabinet members.

Vacation Cut

It was said the marshal's vacation was cut short "because of circumstances of nature" of which was not revealed.

(However, there was a possibility that the return to Vichy was of talks involved Martinique and French East Indian possessions since the United States last week requested guarantees from the local government of Martinique that the United States and other French possessions in the area would not be used by the axis or in any other way become a menace to the United States.)

BOMBERS HIT 2 JAP TRANSPORTS

Guinea and the Coral sea, over a battlefield which is nearly 200,000 square miles in area, for enemy invasion ships.

The Japanese fleet which attempted a surprise attack on the Coral sea, perhaps for a direct attack on the northeast coast of Australia, had been driven back into the Coral sea by a dozen or more invasion ships, large and small.

But there was increasing belief that heavy Japanese fleet units were lurking somewhere off northeast Australia. It only because the enemy naval activity assumed additional importance.

It was believed that the Japanese had lost about one-fourth of the ships, including transport and tankers, in the battle of the Coral sea.

But the Japanese command had never previously launched an invasion attempt without adequate strength to back up and it was believed that the enemy might still have intact a formidable naval force.

There was some belief that the Japanese might as a preliminary move launch an attack on Port Moresby, to obtain a base 350 miles from Australia. Hence the Japanese planes now going out daily to an attack which the enemy bases almost unobtainable.

Such an attack would skirt the southeast end of New Guinea and it was pointed out that the Japanese navy-O fighter planes, which have a range of 1,800 miles, could screen an attacking fleet.

Australian Air Minister Arthur S. Drakeford said today that the royal Australian air force was awaiting confidently the zero hour for a decisive clash with the enemy.

Motorist in Jail On Drink Charge

Pleading guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated, Robert D. Zelen, 32, Twin Falls, today was in the city jail serving out time in lieu of bond of a fine of $100 and costs of $13 assessed against him by Municipal Judge J. O. Humphrey.

If Zelen elects to serve out the entire fine he will go to jail at the rate of $15 a day.

The man was arrested, police records show, after the car he was operating was involved in a crash with another machine, driven by Olive Wells. The mishap occurred when a block of Main avenue north of Lake City was hit by a car. Total damages to the cars were estimated at $60 and one tire on Zelen's car was ruined as a result of a blowout.

SCHOOL SYSTEM COAL BIDS NEAR

Call for coal bids for the Twin Falls school district will be issued soon and bids will be opened at the June session of the trustees, board members said at last night's meeting in office of A. W. Morgan.

On recommendation of the purchasing committee, the trustees approved an additional $50,000 in fire insurance to maintain the district's coverage. Since the insurance is distributed among areas here under a schedule previously approved by the trustees, this will go to Max Gray, $20,000; C. A. Robinson, $20,000; Sid Craig, $5,000; and the Coal Agency and J. W. Rutledge, $5,000 each.

Pender Refunding

Discussion on possible refunding of the last-maturing $70,000 of the school district's bond issue (some of which is now being paid off annually), indicated approval of the proposition by the trustees. The bonds could be amortized starting in 1948. If amortization, however, must begin within two years, the district provided in state school law, the trustees opposed the move. Refunding of the bonds was discussed as an alternative sum on interest, since the last $70,000 is now drawing 2 1/2 per cent interest, and the refunding was as low as 1 1/2 per cent.

Sup. A. W. Morgan was instructed to confer by telephone with the Edward L. Burton corporation, Salt Lake City bond house which proposes to handle the district's bond issue. A meeting of the trustees with the bond company representative might be arranged if the plan is feasible.

Graduation Friday

The superintendent advised the board that the 1942 commencement theme will be "Our American Heritage." The graduation ceremony will be at 8 p. m. Friday and a class of 24 seniors will receive diplomas. Size of the class, Mr. Morgan said, is about average for a school with 200 graduates in 1920, 200 in 1940, 238 in 1941.

Trustees approved bills totaling $18,224 on the general fund and $1,824 on the combined fund and June salary payment to teachers this month. The faculty receives July checks by mail and collects August salary on return here next September.

NEW ZONING ACT GIVEN APPROVAL

A new zoning ordinance for Twin Falls has been adopted by city councilmen today after the action was recommended by members of the zoning commission.

Main object of adopting the new ordinance was to zone sections which only recently were brought into the city. These were placed in, either the first or second residential district, depending on which areas they adjoined.

In addition to this the only other change was that the Chapman subdivision was transferred from the second residential to the industrial zone. The subdivision is on the east side of Blue Lake, south across the Union Pacific railroad tracks.

Full ordinance will be published as a legal advertisement in the Times-News on May 14.

Views in Verse
NORWAY, O. NORWAY
Norway, Norway, the land of my birth,
I grieve for thy fate and thy liberty's dearth.

The quibbling you reared your freedom betrayed
And let in the swine that hogged all your grain.

They have robbed you of food and clothing as well
Your life blood they spilled just for lust and a thrill

Rise up, you brave Norwegians, like warriors of old
And strike to the hilt your terrible foe.

Rejoice not your action if sword you must use,
To wipe out the Quiltings and stop their abuse.

MRS. ANNE D. BAIN
Seattle, Wash.

(The bewilderment of an 81-year-old woman at the fate that has befallen her beloved Norway, is expressed in today's Views in Verse. Mrs. Bain, a resident of Seattle, sent this verse to a relative, A. M. Johnson.)

Army and Navy Dates—Here's Clothes Advice

What does a soldier want his suit to look like? He wants her to look feminine and charming always. His favorite color for daytime clothes is blue and he wants her to wear evening clothes, preferably red, at army dances.

What does a sailor want his suit to look like? He wants her to look like a lady. This information comes from a bit of skulking and interviewing at the New York defense recreation center, 93 Park avenue, where service men meet and talk, get tickets for movies, concerts and baseball.

One caution for may dates is this: You may find that the dressmaker has tucked on some may insignia that will make you outstand your escort. With the result that he will probably be repulsed and call the whole evening off, and you will be left for naught or dressed to offend.

USWV Auxiliary Will Take Part In June 15 Tea

WPB Smiles On Wartime Bride

By DOROTHY ROE
Wide World Fashion Editor

U.S. War Relocation Authority. As America prepares for a record boom in June brides, the old-fashioned gown with the white whiskers makes it known that she can—just this once—disregard the rigid rules of wartime economy and show the world her little heart desires.

The usually unadorned war production board has made three important exceptions in its new fashion order L-85, limiting yardage and styling of current fashions—bridal gowns, maternity dresses and burial suits. Thus the government gives carte blanche to the three most important events in any woman's life.

So the American wartime bride may plunge recklessly into flowing trains and floating veils even in this year of wartime economy. If she feels that her wedding will not be a success without a bridal gown with a six-foot train and a skirt using 20 yards of material, that's all right with the WPB. After all, the production chiefs murmur tolerantly, a girl gets married once—sometimes. Anyway she only has one first wedding, which calls for veils and orange blossoms. She also may have as big and beautiful a diamond as her fiancé can afford, since government restrictions apply only to costume jewelry and not to precious metals and gems.

She's urged, even, to select as expensive a diamond as possible as a patriotic gesture, so that the price of industrial diamonds for war production may remain low.

That's the story, and here comes the bride—two million strong this year, according to predictions of statisticians versed in the graphs of war and marriage.

Miss Newbry Bride Of Paul A. Pufahl
Trinity Lutheran church, Clover, was the setting for the wedding Sunday evening of Miss Hope Newbry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Newbry, Twin Falls, and Paul A. Pufahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Pufahl, Bull.

Rev. W. F. Dammendorf officiated at the single ring ceremony, and C. C. Westerlump played the wedding march. Background decorations featured a pink and white color motif, with spring flowers predominating.

Mrs. Dora Carlson and Mrs. Pines Amundson presented a cake. "The Puller Brush Man." Music was in charge of Mrs. Alice Carlson.

Preceding the program, carousels of sweet peas were presented each guest.

Guests were Mrs. Adie Ambrose, Mrs. Richard Strickland, Mrs. Hawley, Mrs. Mamie Kleih, Mrs. C. T. Pulkerson and Mrs. Henry Cline.

Mother's Day Party For Mrs. Kohntopp
Mrs. Jacob Kohntopp, Piler, was honored at dinner on Mother's day by her sons and daughters-in-law from Twin Falls and Piler. Following dinner at Mrs. Kohntopp's, the entire group attended the theater.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kohntopp, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kohntopp and daughter, Deloris Ann, Twin Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kohntopp and son, Dean, Bull.

Sodales Pionier club will meet Thursday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Glen Gott.

only has one first wedding, which calls for veils and orange blossoms. She also may have as big and beautiful a diamond as her fiancé can afford, since government restrictions apply only to costume jewelry and not to precious metals and gems.

She's urged, even, to select as expensive a diamond as possible as a patriotic gesture, so that the price of industrial diamonds for war production may remain low.

Boys Win Prize Given by Girls At Doll Show

Proving that it's not all girls who enjoy the company of dolls, two young brothers entered their favorite doll and won one of the prizes offered at the doll fair at the Twin Falls public library Saturday and Sunday, sponsored by Cynacene group of Camp Fire Girls.

Announcing prize winners this morning, Mrs. Ralph E. Smith, guardian, and Mrs. Lyons Smith, assistant, announced, expressed appreciation to the public for cooperation in making the fair a success by entering dolls and buying tickets to see the exhibit. Miss Jessie Pinner and Miss Edith Dygert, librarians, were judges.

The youths who won a prize were Larry and Bobby Clineker, who won the prize for the smallest doll with their own small inch model complete with moving arms and legs. Old-fashioned dress, bonnet and lace apron.

Mary Jane Deagle won the prize for the largest model, with her huge baby doll and Mrs. Lewis Hawk Piler, won the prize for the oldest doll with her 70-year-old model.

A flouncing entry by Barbara Pinner won 10 years old, but was not included in the doll classification.

Prize for the best handmade doll went to Jennifer Smith, whose entrant was a tiny Tennessee lady seated in a handwoven wooden chair manipulating a hand and by a miniature chair. Her shawl and apron were of hand-woven materials.

Popular Doll
Most popular doll, selected by vote of all who attended the fair, was a beautifully dressed baby doll, used as a tea cozy, to an Amish boy with handwoven clothes, belonging to Miss Agnes Stronk; a black mammy doll made from a cotton ball and hickory nut, belonging to Mrs. Lewis Hawk Piler; and a doll made of wood and had movable arms and legs.

"Ideal for Every Purpose"

Here's What Another Housewife Has to Say About BUTTER-KRUST Bread—

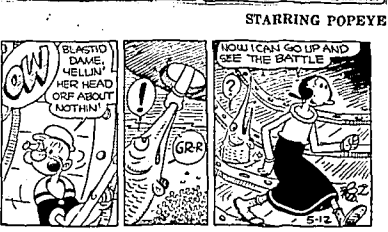

"For an all-purpose bread, I think you would have to look a long time for a better loaf than BUTTER-KRUST. For every day use on the table, it can't be beat because it's always fresh and it always has that same good flavor. Not only that, it has just the right texture for toast and sandwiches as well. And now, since they have introduced BUTTER-KRUST, I would say that it is ideal for every purpose. I don't know what else anyone could expect."

CRIMEA ATTACKS TO TEST HITLER

By De WITT MACKENZIE

Wide World War Analysis
The heavy German attack in the Crimea probably represents an effort to divert an entering wedge into the Russian front by embarking on his delayed spring offensive through the gateway to the Caucasus where the area of oil on which he yearns to float to glory.

The four-day-old battle is still under way, but the business-like manner in which the Reds reported by having the enemy back in the early stages is a further demonstration that the Muscovites are awaking into this critical year with great striking power. This is the third time within recent days that the Redcoats have displayed their readiness to deal with emergencies, rejected German thrusts in the Ukraine and Leningrad sectors have been met in part temporarily by lightning thrusts.

Tough Going
The Reds' persistent attacks against the uneasy German line throughout the winter, and their ever-ready counter blow at the spring offensive, certainly are going to go down as a factor in the going tough for Hitler's spring drive. The further is ready for the race, (we are not sure) but the Redcoats just won't give him time to dig in his spikes and get a good start.

This is the third spring for which the Nazi chief has prepared offensive, and always before this he has gone into action with the first flowers and the earliest birds. He hurried Germany's massive weight onto Norway and Denmark on April 9, 1940. Last year he struck on April 6 at Yugoslavia and Greece. This year he is at May 12, with summer already trying to crowd out spring, and the further hasn't yet fired a big gun in anger, so to speak.

Decisive Effect
These Red tactics of beating the German offensive by not letting it get started may have a decisive effect on the trend of the spring and summer fighting, and this is to say the outcome of the war. If the Muscovite can continue to prevent another blitzkrieg from getting under way, they will have gone far towards beating the man who would rule the world.

Meantime a host of Russian civilians behind the German lines have answered the call of the line and are conducting a vigorous and bloody guerrilla warfare against the invaders. The damage done by these irregulars is enormous and, plays a very valuable part in nullifying the German plan.

Cancel Municipal League Sessions, Twin Falls Urges

City councilmen today instructed City Clerk W. H. Edlridge to write Mayor Austin A. Walker, Boise, urging that "in view of the war and present uncertain conditions," the proposed convention of the Idaho Municipal League at Sun Valley be cancelled.

The convention has been set for June 20, 29 and 30. The league numbers more than 20 municipalities in its membership.

Mayor Joe Koehler, however, said that if the suggestion of Twin Falls that the convention be cancelled could not be followed and it was found necessary to carry plans for the meeting to a conclusion "then this city, of course, will be represented at the session."

Blandford Heads Flag Week Plans

J. A. Blandford, state chairman and member of the U. S. marine corps in the first World War, today had been named by Mayor Joe Koehler as general chairman in flag week of arrangements for Flag Week in Twin Falls to be observed June 3 to 5.

The observance is on a national scale and Mayor Koehler, in a proclamation issued today, set that period aside to be observed in this city, along with communities scattered throughout the nation.

"I urge the people of Twin Falls to display the Stars and Stripes at their homes and places of business and to hold patriotic ceremonies as a public expression of their appreciation of flag being the beacon of hope to liberty-loving people throughout the world," the mayor's proclamation read in part.

Poultry Club Elects

BUHL. May 12—The 41st Poultry club, under the leadership of Mrs. Ed Harding, is again organized for this year's activities. THANKS
Mayor Joe Koehler sent $5 to his son-in-law, an army corporal at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

It was a "gift" as a little spending money.

Today the mayor received a letter of thanks signed by 26 enlisted men at that fort.

It developed that Corp. Max A. Winner had used the money to purchase cigarettes for his men.

Hazelton Sailor Sends Home Piece of Downed Jap Plane

By O. A. KELKER

Jap Trophy

There was more than a squall in the sky over Pearl harbor back on the day it started raining. It was in the sky didn't remain there. A piece of "what didn't stay" in the hands of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Havens, sr., Hazelton, today.

The piece is a small aluminum portion of a Japanese plane which crashed on a U. S. cruiser after being blasted out of the sky by one of the cruiser's gun crews. The trophy was sent to Mr. and Mrs. Havens by their son, Bert, Jr., 19, a radio operator (seaman), first class, aboard the cruiser which the plane hit.

Downed Five Planes
On that fateful day in December 1941, Bert wrote his parents, accounted for five Japanese planes. He supposed that this was, in fact, the largest U. S. ship. The plane was practically picked up by Bert. He kept it until only recently when his ship reached U. S. port for repairs and then he mailed it home.

The aluminum is painted olive green on one side and blue green on the other. It consists of two portions riveted together.

Saw Other Action
The young sailor, who attended Hazelton high school and joined the navy when he was 18 years old, was plenty of action. His father has been informed he has been in two and possibly three major sea engagements, including Pearl harbor.

So the souvenir of the battle of Pearl harbor is now in Hazelton and—as a coincidence—Mr. and Mrs. Havens reside almost directly across the street where the Japanese relocation camp will be placed in this section.
