CLAPPER'S OBSERVATIONS NATIONS AT WAR

WASHINGTON, May 15—Two American leaders from opposite sides within the last few days have said the same thing in different words. Vice-President Wallace and Wendell Willkie have both made strong appeals to the American people to follow a bold course in carrying through the war into the job of organizing the world afterward.

Wallace and Willie undoubtedly will disagree about many details. The important fact is that these two leaders lity that are asking us so violently. The old fellows know so much that isn't so any more. The youngsters have free minds instead of cluttered museums in their heads.

Some scouts are sent out to find the places where they waylay Italian supply trains. ## Australia Fine Land for Boys, Says Mrs. Brown

Women who have heard Mrs. Claude Brown tell of her experiences in Australia were doubly interested in her address yesterday afternoon at the Women's association meeting of the Presbyterian church, for some of the women were in service in that country, and others expect their sons to be sent there before the war is over.

Mrs. Brown, who described the island and its people as the most interesting she had ever seen, said that during her extended visit there several years ago, she saw the finest land that if the boys were in the finest land they could be sent outside of the United States.

People Are Kind

"The people are kind and friendly, and their homes will be opened to our boys," she declared.

Sticking a little venom, she said, "Many of the people ride bicycles there, too. Cars and gas stations are as here and gas stations are everywhere."

Opening the program, arranged by Mrs. H. A. Ball, a member of the Presbyterian church, was a group of military songs, which opened with a song led by Mrs. C. H. Krenge, president, who gave a report of the association's progress since its organization in March.

A carefully prepared report of the spring meeting of the Pan-Hellenic held in Hazelton April 14.

Corregidor War
Account Offered

"We must sacrifice as we have not yet begun. . . Come on America! Wake up and prove to the world how America, thoroughly aroused, can fight," the theme of his report, was also the theme for the program arranged by Mrs. Morris Owens and Mrs. Martha Butler.

Bill March, Bill Haley and Miss Mary Jane Shreiner, high school students, each read his prize winning essay, "The Statue of Liberty Faces a New Order of Tyranny." The essay contest was sponsored by the American Legion.

Patriotic melodies were played as flute duets by Miss Eva Stokes and Miss Orpha Stokes.

Inaugurating a new step that will "last for the duration" no refreshments were served. Instead, Mrs. L. A. Hansen, hostess, presented each woman with a war stamp. Mrs. Hansen, Abbott and Mrs. Blanche Blaisius were guests.

Concluding the meeting, a stork shower was arranged in honor of Mrs. Bud Syster.

A "love" of a dress to wear when your best friend is at home on leave is a soft, feminine two-piece New York creation of rayon crepe printed in sentimental valentines—heart, flowers, cups and tender messages. ## Suicide Squads Can Invade, PTA Told

"Be very certain to get people for block mothers who are not solid on the idea that 'it can't happen here,' for we are fighting the cruellest, craftiest, crueziest enemies since time began," said the warning of Leonard Avanti, county air raid warden, to the Twin Falls Parent-Teacher association council members, meeting last night at the Idaho Power company auditorium.

Avanti drew a verbal picture of what could happen here if we did not have air raid warden. It was a picture of suicide squads of enemy bombers following the Columbia river and its tributaries inland, and its irrigation dams and ditches, forces of the north-west as their targets.

Hour From Coast

He pointed out that the Magic Valley is less than an hour by plane from the coast, and that there are 100,000,000 people and one-half million sheep and cattle in our hills.

"The enemy is well aware of the location of every dam, every forest," he declared, and concluded by saying that the duties of an air raid warden or block mother in face of an emergency are governed by 80 per cent good, common house sense, and 20 per cent technical knowledge.

President of the three grade school Parent-Teacher associations reported that the immunization program and pre-school dental examinations for pre-school children in connection with the summer round-up project, which began on Thursday, May 1, are nearing completion.

Mr. Lunch Project

Mrs. Glenn Chung, hot lunch chairman for the council, said that 7218 hot lunches had been served school children during the year, and that the drive for food donations for next year's lunch project was well advanced.

Mrs. John E. Hayes, legislative chairman for the council, reported that the state P-T-A convention at Nampa, Idaho, was scheduled for a school equalization fund which makes it possible to maintain a minimum school program without maximum taxation.

She announced that at the annual convention in Texas, Idaho was third on the list of the 48 states for subscriptions to the national Parent-Teacher magazine.

Liquidated gases for fuel, mostly obtained as a by-product of Germany's coal hydrocarbonization process, are being used successfully. At the end of 1939 about 40,000 German motor cars were operating on this compressed fuel.

CORVETTE LOST AT MADAGASCAR

LONDON, May 15 (AP)—The British corvette Auriculæ was sunk by a mine at the approaches to Courber bay during the occupation of northern Madagascar by British forces, a communiqué said today.

A joint war office and admiralty communiqué describing the occupation of Diego Suarez and the naval base at the northern tip of the island said the British found the approaches to Courber bay heavily mined, necessitating considerable mine-sweeping operations.

No reports of casualties aboard the Auriculæ have been received, it was said, but "the circumstances indicate they probably were light."

The small vessel was being used for the landing of some of the first British Imperial forces on the northern tip of the strategic island, lying off the southeast coast of Africa along the allied supply route to the near east.

"I admire your work, Mister—about giving me an autographed original!"

JAPS GET 'WORK CORPS' CHANCE

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—More than 12,000 Japanese ordered removed from western military area will be offered the chance in the near future to demonstrate their loyalty to the United States by enlisting in work corps for agricultural, construction, irrigation and other projects in inland communities.

The enlistments, purely voluntary and lasting for the war's duration, will be open both to men and women, M. S. Eisenhower, director of the war relocation authority, announced.

Small cash payments will be made, but in no case will they "exceed the minimum base pay for the American soldier," Eisenhower said. In opening stages of the program, the sums will be charged against the enterprises under development. Later, portions of the earnings of the projects will go into the cash stipend.

"It is hoped that relocated communities of Japanese will become self-sufficient in production of foodstuffs within the turn of a season, and will be producing additional crops for the food for freedom program shortly thereafter," Eisenhower said.

"Makes Excellent Toast"

• Here's What Another Housewife Has to Say
About BUTTER-KRUST Bread—

"I'll admit we all like BUTTER-KRUST Bread, and we like it real well. There's one thing we notice particularly; it seems to be baked in such a way that it's neither coarse nor rubbery. My husband and the children are especially fond of breakfast, and toast is always an important item on the menu. If you want to put any bread to a test, try making toast that's rich, brown and crisp. We're all for BUTTER-KRUST Bread because it makes an excellent toast."

This country is engaged in the business of winning a war. It is a serious business, affecting the lives and works and plans of all of us.

Day by day, wartime conditions raise new problems in the making and selling and using of goods. Day by day, advertising is called upon to help meet these emergency problems. And by its very nature, the newspaper is better equipped to serve advertisers and consumers today than any other medium.

The speed and flexibility of newspapers, more valuable today than ever before, enable an advertiser to meet the swiftly changing market conditions of this emergency, when and where these changes occur. In newspapers, an advertiser can deliver the right message in the right markets at the right time. In no other medium can an advertiser fit his message to current emergencies so quickly and effectively.

The coverage of newspapers, more complete today than ever before, includes all the people an advertiser wants to reach. Executives, retailers, consumers... everybody who should be kept posted on a company's wartime operations... can be reached through this single medium. (The latest official ABC reports show newspaper circulations at an all-time high.)

Reader interest in newspapers, more intensive today than ever before, assures an advertiser of even closer attention to well-executed newspaper ads than in the past. The Continuing Study of Newspaper Reading shows that war news in the headlines means more careful reading of the ads; that the more important the news, the more thoroughly people read the whole paper, including the ads. Today, more than ever before, people realize that the ads are news, too... timely news that gives them valuable advice, saves them time, energy and money.

The efficiency of newspapers, more important today than ever before, gives an advertiser a more economical, waste-free delivery of his message than any other medium can offer. Advertising economy is all-important these days, and can best be effected through the marksmanship of newspaper advertising.

These and other advantages, each one accentuated by wartime business conditions, make newspaper space the one medium which is completely geared to today's needs. That's why the makers and sellers and buyers of goods are finding newspaper advertising so serviceable and so valuable today.
