

CHINA SOUNDS

500 PLANES ARE MASSEBY FOES

By The Associated Press
China sounded a rare note of alarm today, warning that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's army faced a "very grave" danger in the five-year war with Japan amid reports that a major Japanese offensive against China was imminent. While allied warplanes alofted at the invaders on the approaches to Australia and in Burma, a Chinese government spokesman said Japanese reinforcements were pouring into Burma and that 500 Japanese planes were massed there on a scale "not of proportion with their land operations."

The spokesman said the Chungking government had come into possession of an officially approved Japanese map, published in Tokyo, showing that Japan's "co-prosperity sphere" for greater East Asia" included Indo-China, India, Iran, Persia and all of Russian Siberia.

The projected Japanese western boundary, he said, ran up the Persian gulf, then to the Caspian sea and on to the Ural mountains.

"According to present indications, the next item on the Japanese program is a major drive against China," the spokesman declared.

The enemy has concentrated considerable forces for an attack on Chekiang (Chinese coastal province just south of Shanghai) and for the purpose of destroying any possible springboard for an attack against Japan.

"At the same time, he is sending more troops to Burma. The bordering of India and northern China, with witness during the next few weeks fighting on an even larger scale than that now being fought."

The immediate future is very grave."

Gen. Harold Alexander's frayed British forces still slowly retreating from Burma into India, and the Japanese are pushing the Burmese port of Akyab and attacked Japanese river craft in northwest Burma.

Akyab, a lively springboard for the Japanese invasion of India, lies on 300 miles of coast, the bay of Bengal from the great Indian city of Calcutta.

Transports III. In the battle of Australia, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported that allied forces probably destroyed two Japanese transports in the Indian ocean at the Sempang, Dutch Timor, while enemy warplanes attacked the allied base of Port Moresby, New Guinea, in the heavy rain in three months.

An armada of 34 Japanese bombers and 15 fighters attacked the port yesterday, the 52nd raid since the war began. MacArthur reported that allied interceptors shot down one heavy bomber, probably destroyed three others and damaged three enemy fighters.

Dispatches said the bomb-scarred port was now a virtual ghost town, with its civilian zone and most of its houses burned or wrecked.

Early this year, with a population of 80,000 residents and some 2,000 natives, Port Moresby was a typical island town, a counterpart of any south sea isle by Hollywood.

Many of these troops are towed into battle in armored trailers because the tanks, but when the tanks are knocked out the counter-attack is disrupted. Red Star said.

"German infantry following each tank column rushes on one side to the other when it falls under our fire."

The enemy's spring infantry doesn't venture into attack without tanks. A "combined" part of its consists of German infantry brought from France or mobilized in Germany.

CONVOY FINISHES TRIP TO IRELAND

see, from all parts of a nation of 135,000,000. The Irish troops poured ashore at a northern Ireland port yesterday after a five-day voyage, unloaded their supply ships, and the disembarkation was completed yesterday and the troops were released.

To Join Offensive
The troops had come to strengthen those already in the British Isles, and they had not the slightest doubt at the time appointed they would join a United Nations offensive on the continent of Europe, forming a bridgehead from which United Nations forces, with the aid of conquered peoples, would start to sweep Hitler's armies back into Germany.

The landing was a result of the promise of Gen. George Marshall, United States Chief of Staff, on his visit here a month ago that the United States would furnish material would be sent to fight the war "to early victory."

It is emphatic also to Marshall's statement that American troops would be operating against the enemy in the very early stages.

As fast as the men landed they were hustled off to their training camps.

Equipment in Operation
Equipment was put in operation as fast as it landed. The Irish countryside echoed with the tramp of soldier feet, the rattle of machine guns, the hum of aircraft.

As I write, American light and medium tanks are being used by the Irish army. The fathers of the troops are working on the home front as some of the Irishmen are in the villages, the first American tanks in Northern Ireland.

In addition to the armored units there are considerable numbers of mobile anti-tank guns.

The first Irish anti-tank gun was a 3.7-inch gun, which was used by a 50-year-old commander from New York, a stout, gray-haired veteran who directed his subordinates as a specialist in field artillery.

First Private
The first Irish private in the convoy was Private First Class Martin H. Neal, Philip, 35, a freckle-faced, red-headed youth who has been in the army 15 months.

He is a member of the Irish American Legion in New York. Neal said, "We are engaged and are going to be married when I get back home."

N. M. Vinyard, 80, Passes at Jerome

JEROME, May 19.—Norman M. Vinyard, 80, for many years a Jerome resident, died here yesterday of a heart attack at 10:30 p. m. yesterday.

Although Mr. Vinyard had been ailing for several years, his condition was not believed serious, and he had been at his home in Jerome for some time.

He came to Jerome in 1922 and operated the service garage and Chrysler service in addition to working in the lumber business.

He was employed in the lumber business of the Rock Island Railroad at Delia, Tex., for 22 years before coming to the garage and farm property here, he had extensive business interests in Texas at the time of his death.

Mr. Vinyard was born in Pella, Ia., and was a member of the Pella, Ia., church.

In addition to his wife, he leaves two sons, Harlan E., in business with his father, and a daughter, Mrs. L. M. Vinyard, in Seattle.

Three grandchildren, Vernon Vinyard, Seattle, Wash.; a great-grandchild, the 14-month-old child of Mrs. L. M. Vinyard, Seattle, Wash.; and a great-grandchild, a nephew, Charles Vinyard, Eden, and two sisters, Mrs. L. M. Vinyard, Seattle, Wash., and Amelia Tripp, Chicago.

The body is at the Wiley funeral home, Jerome, pending funeral arrangements.

PAINT
Why are the new parking lines in Twin Falls being painted white?

Reason: The federal government needs all the chrome it can get, and by painting these material used in the manufacturing of yellow or orange paint.

The city priority rating permits this type of paint to be purchased without Charles P. Larson, street superintendent, said today that "while it is just as good as we're using that and doing a little bit toward the war effort."

Schools Picnic
PILGER, May 19.—Pilot grade school picnic, Friday, May 15, was the eighth of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades picnicking at Bannock Mountain and ending at the school in Twin Falls and the Victory school children held their picnic at the county fairgrounds.

which it was intended. We would have been in the air and in the development of fire and explosion, but even so we were forced to retreat. A fact which is reported from the excited Japanese radio broadcasts. It took them several hours to calm down to deception and accusation."

Had Been Secret
The identity of the leader of the raid had remained a closely guarded secret. Just before pinning the congressional medal of honor on Doolittle's breast, Mr. Roosevelt remarked with a grin to reporters that not even a columnist had guessed it.

Besides General George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the army, Lieut. Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air service, and Mr. Roosevelt, no one knew about the decoration until a few moments previous, and Mr. Roosevelt said he thought it would be quite a surprise.

Marshall and Arnold were on hand for the ceremony, as was Mrs. Doolittle, who was flown here from Los Angeles.

No Revelation Yet
"Brigadier General James H. Doolittle, United States army, for conspicuous leadership above and beyond the call of duty, involving personal valor and intrepidity at an extreme hazard of life, with the apparent certainty of being forced to land in enemy territory or to perish at sea, General Doolittle personally led a squadron of army bombers, manned by volunteer crews in a highly destructive raid on the Japanese mainland."

Both the President and the war department felt unwarranted that important question to which Japanese would like a solution; Where was the raiding squadron based?

MINDOKA FOREST DIRECTOR NAMED

Regional Forester C. N. Woods announced last night that John T. Mathews, assistant supervisor of Washington national forest, with headquarters at Salt Lake City, has been appointed forest supervisor of the Mindoka national forest with headquarters at Burley.

Approval by the secretary of agriculture was received yesterday. The transfer will be made without delay.

Mr. Mathews will succeed Curtis Price who for several years was forest supervisor at Mindoka and who recently resigned from the forest service to go into private business.

A graduate of the University of Montana, Supervisor Mathews has had many years experience in national forest administration on the Washington, Idaho, and Montana national forests. He has worked up from the ranks from forest ranger to assistant forest supervisor to his present position. He has had extensive experience in forest management and timber sale administration.

Mr. Mathews is now in Burley and will take over his new responsibilities immediately.

HAWAII VOLCANO ERUPTION STOPS

HILO, Hawaii, May 19 (AP)—The great volcano, Mauna Loa, which had spouted flame and lava for two weeks that United States army planes bombed it twice, finally cooled and spouted in normal inactivity today.

The eruption began at 3 p. m. on April 24. Explosions burst the sides of the 13,680-foot mountain and lava streams started coursing down, coming within eight miles of Hilo's suburbs. Until May 6, lava poured from the volcano, and at night a column of fire mounted hundreds of feet.

Because of the fire, the army would not allow the eruption to be revealed until last night because it constituted "information of value to the enemy."

The column of fire could be seen 100 miles away, and the Japanese had known about it, they might have used it for a beacon to guide their ships to Honolulu on the distant island of Oahu.

May 6, the eruption weakened, and on the night of May 10, Mauna Loa made its last spout.

Volcanic activity had been expected, said it was not as violent as the previous one. In April, 1940, Mauna Loa erupted in two or three-year cycles.

Rupert Seniors Have Class Day

"RUPERT, May 19—Members of the senior class of Rupert high school entertained relatives and friends Wednesday night at the high school auditorium, the event being invitational. Decorations were simple and charming.

The first number on the program was an address of welcome by Jack Steneck. The salutatorian's address was given by Ann Benadum. A quartet, Phyllis Meati, Marie Gira, Marjorie Thompson and June Girdle, sang a song written by Marie Girdle, dedicated to the class and sung to the tune of "The End of a Perfect Day."

The class history was given by Lela Rasmussen. A piano solo was played by Betty Faye Brezner. June Girdle, as valedictorian, gave a short address followed by the "Seniors in Review."

Each senior appeared. Jim Brockle and David Smith, as voices back stage, gave an outstanding characteristic of the person. Solo numbers for the program were sung by Marie Sears, and Phyllis Meati and Mary Ann Sawyer gave a reading.

The reading of the class will be by Lela Rasmussen closed the program. Following the program dancing was enjoyed in the gymnasium; music by Keith Winton's orchestra.

"It's Consistently Good...."

Here's What Another Housewife Has to Say

About BUTTER-KRUST Bread—

"I don't care whether it's bread, canned goods, coffee, or what, the average housewife, in preparing her daily meals, likes to use brands that she knows are consistently good. That's what I like particularly about BUTTER-KRUST Bread. It's a wonderful bread and it's the same high quality every day in the year. No matter what you are planning in the way of meals, you can always depend on BUTTER-KRUST. It's consistently good."

My guess is that the people are ready to go a lot further than the President has gone in the fight on the high cost of living and especially on the price and wage ceilings. Sticking to the forty-hour week, however, is a pay chocky wad. A lot of folks feel it doesn't make sense. They're willing to buy more bonds and pay more taxes, and sacrifice, but would like to know that we're in a bigger hurry for production than forty hours a week represents, unless time and a half overtime is paid.

ARMY SHIP GOES BACK TO AIRBASE

JEROME, May 19—The small army ship which was forced down on the highway near the local airport last week was "back in service" today after being flown from the field here Monday.

Pilot of the ship when it was forced down by motor trouble was Capt. Earl T. Vance. Capt. E. W. Macmeyer arrived Sunday to look over the ship then returned to the Ogden air depot that same day. Vance flew the ship out and apparently headed for Ogden where the ship, which was slightly damaged when the first attempt was made to move it from the highway to the airport, was to be repaired.

HYSTERIA ON U.S. JAPS SUBSIDING

POCAHONTO, May 19 (AP)—Idaho residents are changing their attitude toward American Japanese, believes United States District Attorney John A. Carver.

"The almost hysterical attitude citizens took toward local Japanese is gradually fading," he said in an interview. "Today, pretty nearly everyone, farmer or business man, is willing to give our own Japanese a chance to prove their loyalty by their work."

The American people now want to make democracy work.

"After the dastardly attack on Pearl Harbor, the people in the United States vented their feelings on the Japanese in America; they felt almost as though the Japanese here were responsible for the actions of their kinfolk in Japan."

"Now they realize these American orientals are no more responsible for Hirohito's actions than the American-Germans are for what Hitler does."

Night Baseball Comes to End For N. Y. Clubs

By PAUL SCHEFFELS
NEW YORK, May 19 (UP)—Night baseball, like sugar, gasoline and tires, went out of the lives of metropolitan fans for the duration today but the heaviest blow was expected to fall on the two July All-Star relief games.

Intensification of the coastal drive out to protect shipping against the marine typhoid epidemic brought a definite postponement of the game. Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine on the nocturnal games but his statement, while startling, only amplified stringent dim-out regulations which went into effect for the first time last night.

Chief Sufferers
The New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers are the chief sufferers from Valentine's veto of the eight contests since the first of the after-dark contests involving the two clubs was set for Friday night and had to be switched to the day time of the same date. But the action also made the staging of the All-Star games at the Polo ground and at Cleveland on the nights of July 6 and 7, respectively, uncertain.

National and American league all-star aggregations are scheduled to meet in the first contest with the survivor to play an All-Star service squad at Cleveland the next night. However, Ford Frick, president of the National league, said transportation difficulties might disrupt the plans.

It would be difficult, according to Frick, to hold the July 6 contest at the Polo grounds in the daytime because many stars probably would be playing in the west on Sunday, July 5, when for example, the Cubs and Cardinals collide in a doubleheader at St. Louis and the Browns and White Sox play a twin bill.

Chicago. They might not reach New York in time for the daylight train. Flying the players might be interrupted by priorities on plane use.

Frick expects Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis to hold a meeting soon to determine what shall be done about the New York game.

Castleford Club Honors Mothers

CASTLEFORD, May 19—Members of Sew and So club entertained their mothers Friday at the Methodist church at the annual luncheon.

A contest featured identification of baby pictures of club members and pictures of guests taken years ago. Mrs. Pearl Black, guest, and Mrs. Denver Kinyon, member, each won a prize for perfect score.

Mrs. Minnie McChesie received prize for the mothers for high score in "peanuts" and Mrs. George Thomas, high for daughters.

Elmo Oskey presented eighth grade students in musical numbers. Carol Jean Miller played a piano solo; Cheryl Jeanne Haley, a flute solo, accompanied by Margaret Maloney, a trumpet trio. Bebe Burkhalter, Junior Stelma and Bob Jones played.

Mothers were presented smocked satin pillows made by their hostesses and each member was remembered by her "Sunshine Pal."

Chairmen for the luncheon, last meeting before new officers take office, were Mrs. Johnny Black and Mrs. Joe Becker.

Income officers are Mrs. William Kinyon, president; Mrs. Johnny Black, vice-president, and Mrs. Gus Kudlak, secretary-treasurer.

HAILEY

Mary Louise Inchausti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Inchausti, celebrated her 18th birthday by entertaining a number of her friends at her home.

Paul C. Haderlie and Lorna Lee, both of Freedom, Wyo., were married by George A. McLeod, probate judge, Wednesday, May 13. They were attended by Lloyd M. Wilson and Ericson C. Wilson.

Mrs. Frank McGinnis, Twin Falls, visited at the home of her sister, Mrs. Glenn Jones, last week and attended graduation exercises for her niece, Miss Virginia Jones.

Arthur Berns and daughter, Ann, left last week for the Sawtooth valley ranger station where they will spend the summer. Mr. Berns is already located there.

The C. L. Wilson family will leave this week for Utah to make their home. Mr. Wilson has employment there.

Mrs. Margaret Walker is vacationing in California. She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fox, formerly of Hailey, now at Idaho Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Fox plan to reside in California where he will be in the hotel business.

Frank Powell has returned to Hailey after several months' absence. He spent the winter in Long Beach, Calif. His wife was unable to return with him, due to ill health, but he reports her much improved. She will return later.

"I'd like to enlist in the high command!"

Yanks, Going Across, Itch For a Battle

By JOHN A. MOROSOFF III
A NORTHERN IRLAND POST: May 19 (AP)—I have just crossed the Atlantic with a huge American convoy that outdistances enemy submarines all the way.

We had to "push the periscope down" almost all the way of the 2,400-mile voyage of daring and skill. The destroyers and planes delivered thunderous depth charge attacks.

In the convoy work the job is to get the troopships through. You don't have time to investigate attacks or run the enemy down. You blast him when you think he is near and keep sailing.

The vicious explosions left no doubt in our minds that some more strangers would have breakfast in hell. I was five miles away but our ship submerged sharply from the blasts.

Subs Couldn't Escape
We were near enough to the target to believe the submarine could not have escaped.

No torpedo was fired at us. Neither were we bombed by planes although our eager gunners prayed for an attack as they crouched by their guns night and day.

This experience was one of the cheering things during the voyage. Our Yankee kids have the utmost confidence in their ability to knock down planes.

So thousands and thousands of smiling Yankee soldiers—mechanized men of America's new world-fighting army—have arrived here after their dangerous and fog-filled journey.

Battle Told Apathy
With these jaunty lads came the millions of dollars worth of battle tools—ready for instant use.

The value of our convoy and its ultimate effect on the war are the operational details of our life—military secrets. But I am allowed to say that it was the largest to arrive here.

The soldiers of this war are better equipped and prepared than the Indians who rushed overseas in the last conflict.

They have a new type of helmet and footgear more protective. Their rifles shoot harder and faster. Their food is more plentiful and scientific than ever.

They are sturdier, healthier, and as cheerful as kids at a circus. Some grew homesick at times. Others got seasick, but all carried on.

One exuberant gang nicknamed their freighter "Berlin Express."

Gooding Pledges
GOODING, May 19—Adrian Schubert, executive chairman for Gooding county, reports that 2,265 persons have pledged to buy war bonds at the rate of $18.634.65 per year. The May quota is $3,000 and the committee urges people to keep on buying in next monthly cash sales quota.

Mrs. Schubert received letters from R. M. Landon, state bond director, and R. S. Tofflemire, regional director, complimenting him upon the showing made in Gooding county.

If anyone was not contacted during the pledge drive he is urged to notify his local chairman. Papers should contact County Agent E. J. Palmer.

Gooding residents may show 121. Hagerman people missed in the drive should notify Emerson Puuming and those of Wendell may get in touch with Larry Schwesinger.

"Backward Party" For Lucerne Club

BUHL, May 19—Mrs. Marie Morrison entertained the Lucerne Social club Wednesday. Mrs. Thomas Hetzmarck presided and Mrs. Hazel Winans was program chairman. Silver offering was given for cancer control, and the USO program was explained by Mrs. Edna Ahlin.

A "backward party" had been arranged by Mrs. Winans, each member wearing her apparel backward. Each woman was given a mirror to assist her in drawing, with her left hand, a picture of herself. Mrs. Ahlin won the prize. A needle-threading contest was won by Mrs. Agnes Sumner and Mrs. Helen Layns.

A poem was read in commemoration of Mother's day, and Mrs. Leola Winans sang a solo, accompanying herself on the guitar.

LEADERS CHOSEN FOR FLAG EVENT

Primary plans for what is expected to be the greatest flag day celebration in Twin Falls history, on Sunday, June 14, were made Monday at a meeting of the county civilian defense council. Asher H. Wilson, chairman of the council, will be general committee chairman with James Winterholler, chairman of the committee in charge of the day's services.

Not only will Old Glory be displayed but also the flag of the United Nations in accordance with the request of President Roosevelt. Committee chairmen were appointed. They will formulate the complete program, which probably will include a parade, at a later meeting. The Elks lodge will have charge of the flag services proper.

Other committee chairmen are: Red Cross—Dr. Charles R. Scott; American Legion—W. W. Franz; Boy Scouts—Executive Gordon Day.

Parent-Teacher and other women's organizations—Mrs. John E. Hayes. Law enforcement—Sheriff W. W. Lowrey.

Fire wardens—O. H. Coleman. Education—A. Morton Granger—E. E. Jones. Elks—P. C. Schenberger. Initiatives—Harry Edwards. Medical association—Dr. A. A. Boston.

Couple Married

JEORIE, May 19—A marriage license was issued here Thursday from the offices of Mr. Clunette Robertson to Frank Struick, 20-year-old, and Miss Naomi Marble, Wendell. They were married at 5 p. m. by Probate Judge William G. Conover. Witnesses were Mrs. Betty Turner Crow and Mrs. Sunny Langer.

ROGERSON

Rogerson school celebrated the end of the term by having a picnic at Nat-Son-Pah.

Mrs. W. H. Cox has been rehired to teach the Rogerson school.

Mrs. Laura Griggs and her grandson, Bill, left Sunday for Reno, Nev.

Vegetables, Flowers Discussed by Club

DECLO, May 19—Garden club met at the home of Maxine Dent. Laura Anderson gave a talk on planting and care of annuals. Marjorie Moffett gave a talk on care of chrysanthemums.

Bessie Clark and other vegetables were discussed by Mrs. Eola Plater. Plans were discussed for an exhibit at the fair. Mrs. Marcell Lindsay, Hazelton, was a guest.

Miss Della Brabb Honored at Party

CASTLEFORD, May 19—Miss Della Brabb, who will become the bride of Paul Prieda at a church wedding May 20, was honored at a miscellaneous shower at the Baptist church.

Guests wrote advice to the bride, which Miss Brabb read aloud, and each guest wrote her favorite recipe. Hostesses were Mrs. David Graybeal, Mrs. Russell Fields, Mrs. J. H. Burke and Mrs. Henry Graybeal.
