

GIGANTIC ECONOMIC POOL POINTS TO "WINNING OF PEACE"

LEND-LEASE PLAN GETS EXTENSION

By WADE WENNER
WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—A gigantic pooling of economic resources on the part of the United States and its allies for the winning of the war and later for the winning of the peace, is indicated in a lend-lease agreement consummated in the process of negotiation between the United States and more than a score of anti-axis countries.

The broad principles of lend-lease assistance and cooperation in the achievement of victory and establishment of a healthy world economy after the war were laid down in the agreement signed last February by Great Britain and the United States.

Get Russian Plans
Tuesday the draft proposal for a similar agreement with Soviet Russia was handed to Ambassador Maxim Litvinov by Secretary of State Hull and yesterday the draft of a proposed lend-lease pact with China was a transcript of the agreement through Foreign Minister T. V. Soong, who is in Washington.

In discussing the agreement offered Russia and China, Secretary Hill told his press conference that the provisions generally were the same as those already entered into with Britain.

The agreement with Britain provides, among other things, that the precise and detailed terms of settlement of lend-lease accounts shall be deferred "until the extent of the defense aid is known"; that full accounts shall be taken of all aid rendered to the United States, as well as aid rendered by the United States to the recipient countries, and conditions of settlement shall be such as to promote world trade balance.

Reciprocal Basis
Lend-lease aid, as interpreted in the United States, is reciprocal in nature, in that the goods and services pooled in the common war effort: American tanks and Russian soldiers; American planes and British pilots; American guns and Chinese gunners. In the final settlement of lend-lease accounts, reciprocity, less emphasis is likely to be placed on striking a bookkeeper's balance than in the past. The purpose is to get world economy on its feet again.

JULY 1 EARLIEST ARMY PAY RAISE

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—Soldiers and sailors will have to wait another month for that pay raise congress has been considering.

July 1 is expected to be the most likely date that the increases will become effective, provided legislative technicalities are ironed out before then and provided the house and senate can decide whether back pay and arrears should be paid.

The house yesterday rejected, 328 to 31, a retroactive conference report on the pay bill and instructed its conferees to insist on an increase to $50-a-month. The conferees had recommended the senate's figure, which would raise pay now set at $41 to $40 a month.

Senate conferees are divided over whether the final action will be Gen. Lester Hill, D. Ala., predicted that the house's higher figure would prevail by virtue of the overwhelming house vote. Other senate conferees declined to place themselves on record but insisted privately that the lower figure would prevail.

made a river crossing. The boats went back and forth for hours—some as many as 50 times—to bring reinforcements. In the end, it was asserted, the Russians succeeded in pushing back the Germans from the bank of the river and establishing so firm a bridgehead that it must disrupt German plans in the entire area.

Russia's own communique said: "During last night our troops operating in the Kharkov area consolidated positions and in some sectors took up more favorable positions. In the Izium-Barvenkova sector our troops fought stubborn battles against enemy tanks and infantry. In other sectors there was nothing of importance."

SAVINGS PLEDGE WIND-UP SOUGHT

All executive chairman of war savings staffs in the eight counties of Magic Valley today were urged to wind up final details of the universal pledge campaign for the purchase of war stamps and bonds and send all pledges and unused material to the Boise office.

R. S. Tofflemire, associate administrator for the district, received the following telegram today from H. M. Logsdon, deputy state administrator of the war savings staff:

"We just received from treasury department requests that Idaho universal pledge campaign be fully completed by June 10. If you have not already done so, push your cleanup to the limit and mail all pledges and surplus supplies by that time."

Mr. Tofflemire explained that practically all the work has been completed in this area, but urged executive chairman to make a final check-up. Individuals who have not yet signed pledges for regular purchase of stamps and bonds may still do so by contacting the executive chairman in their district, he pointed out.

The associate administrator explained further that the voluntary pledge campaign appears to be reaching quotas throughout the United States and he called attention to the recent announcement by Robert V. Sparks, national field director at Washington, D. C., that the federal government will purchase $1 billion of war bonds and stamps during the month of June and July. "The death rattle" he sounded on the subject of compulsory savings.

DESERT BATTLE LIKE SEA FIGHT

By FRED VANDERSCHMIDT
Wide World War Analyst

The opening phase of the fifth major battle in the African desert is more like a great battle at sea between powerful fleets than anything else.

Sweeping over trackless sand like naval task forces, the armored columns circle in search of the mobile enemy, swoop, sideward, and spar again for advantage. The gaining or holding of ground means nothing in itself. The whole object is destruction of the enemy tank squadrons. Pined defenses are very few—like seaports which are defended at a distance. Manoeuvrability is limited only by the endurance of machines and men.

If Rommel's army should be driven from its position in the desert, it would be in a position to wage a prolonged and large-scale campaign. It would engage the whole energies of the allied armies in all the middle-east, direct each of the roads which Russia will need to defend the Caucasus and weaken the frontal defenses of the middle-east oil centers.

It is a major error the whole middle-east from the Libyan desert to Iran must be regarded as an extended flank of the Russian theater of war.

Moreover, the great allied oil refineries east of Suez are directly vulnerable to air or submarine attack or to a land drive via Turkey—especially if the allied tank forces are heavily engaged in the West.

No isolated battle in the desert battlefield can never be regarded as isolated or localized, and it is why there must be a decision in Libya or Egypt before the ultimate allied offensive can get in motion.

America's own stake in this battle drama is a big one. Virtually the whole source of supply in the middle east is in U. S. hands. A large percentage of the equipment of the British fighting forces in the desert and in the air as well, came from American factories. The American troops in increasing numbers have reached the rearward areas to support the combined forces which no longer have the Australian overseas contingent in reserve.

There's a reason for the beaming expression on Herschel Cobb's face in this picture. He and his daughter, Susan Dale Cobb, 18 months old, were the feature of the Rotary father-daughter and father-son banquet last night. Susan walked off with all honors as the youngest guest to enter the annual affair. What makes her the only Rotary guest ever to use a high-chair. (SASST Photo-Engraving)

The Public Forum

VOTERS SHOULD HALT TRENDS TO DICTATORSHIP

Editor, Times-News:—Doesn't it seem strange that Herbert Hoover would advocate dictatorial power for President Roosevelt? Herbert Hoover's address to the national industrial conference board is a reiteration of what has been said so fully informed and active as our representatives in congress and perhaps themselves to be reformed by these dictatorial forces. And now comes the story from England that the Churchill government has suffered its third election defeat in five weeks.

American correspondents in England reported that not week ago the British government represented a popular revolt against the government desire for a wartime political union. W. Brown, one of the successful insurgents, stated, "I won't be taken because the people are sick and tired of the party machines which took us into war unprepared and have led us from disaster to disaster since."

These developments in Great Britain are a powerful illustration of the forces in our own country which have been agitating for the concentration of public participation of the government and the adoption of Hitler's political technique.

GOOD EXAMPLES OF CONFUSION

One thing we have repeatedly criticized in our war production program is the confusion that has resulted from inconsistent information emanating from different government bureaus. We have contended all along that the American people, if reliably informed, could contribute far more to the war effort than is possible when they are continually kept in a state of confusion.

During the last 24 hours, we have had two outstanding examples of this very condition which, we believe our readers will agree, calls for constructive criticism.

When the Times-News-Times from Washington there were two stories, both from Washington. One of these stories quoted War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson as saying that the Office of War Production was planning rationing of gasoline as a means of conserving tires in all sections of the country. Deputy Petroleum Coordinator Ralph K. Davies concurred in Mr. Nelson's remarks by adding: "I do hope the public will understand the facts of the rubber position and the rationing of gasoline as a means of conserving tires in all sections of the country. Deputy Petroleum Coordinator Ralph K. Davies concurred in Mr. Nelson's remarks by adding: "I do hope the public will understand the facts of the rubber position and the rationing of gasoline as a means of conserving tires in all sections of the country."

The other story announced that the Office of Price Administration "has canceled plans for the card - rationing of gasoline in Oregon and Washington."

Then, to add to all the confusion about the rubber shortage, possible conscription of tires and automobiles, gasoline rationing, etc., President Roosevelt came out with a statement apparently in disagreement with the war agency heads.

Saying that he thought the substitutes could be used before tires now in use wear out and that he believed that transportation difficulties would be solved satisfactorily, the President went on to explain there is nothing in the situation to get excited about.

Now, we ask you, how are the American people to understand what they must do or anticipate when they are confronted with such a conglomeration of contradictory information?

We believe the senate's special defense investigating committee hit the nail squarely on the head when, in urging the armed forces and civilians alike to save all the rubber possible, it made the specific recommendation that "some one person should exercise full control over the rubber program," subject only to Donald Nelson, chief of the war production board.

If these over-lapping bureaus and their respective spokesmen are trying to give the American people big headlines, they're succeeding. But it should be apparent that if there is a need for clear-headedness and a clear definition of authority, it is in time of war.

GLEN TAYLOR'S BIG 'ISSUE'

Although he took off his 10-gallon hat in announcing his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for United States senator, "Cowboy" Glen Taylor of Pocatello ran true to form in the wording of his lengthy announcement.

"I have never before released a picture without the 10-gallon hat and I thought it might be a change, a welcome relief, perhaps, to the elite who I fear are inclined to look down their noses at my smockers," he said. "However, if I had to depend on their votes, I would indeed be in a sorry plight, wouldn't it?"

"During the last campaign a clique of our rich, big game sportsmen, cynics spent more money shipping out bales of propaganda calling me Communist, than I could afford for my entire campaign, because I said we ought to plan our production and that $200 a year was enough for any man."

Mr. Taylor would like to convey the impression that Idaho is over-run with "elite and home grown economic royalists," but it takes no clairvoyant to see through his strategy. Fact of the matter is, he knows there's a class of that class of people in the state and their combined vote wouldn't swing a city election. But by conjuring up a picture of bloated money barons who seek his scalp, he can portray himself as being a martyred champion who fights for the salvation of the oppressed.

There is no denying that Mr. Taylor is a clever showman, as he demonstrated in 1940 by winning the Democratic nomination for the same office which he again seeks. But after he has watched our present willingness to offer in action, let's hope that the people of Idaho will nominate candidates who stand for more than without political bugaboos.

Wartime may cut some vacations short this year. Oh, well, half a loaf is better than none.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WATER BILL

SPEER—Government economic experts have informed the house ways and means committee that the best way for action depression in the United States after the war. While framing the revenue bill, the legislators charged with raising levels have been given a picture of conditions that will exist at a long time financial program.

Under present plans American people must expect at least $1 billion annually for taxes and savings. Otherwise we will face terrific inflation. Almost 50 per cent of that total will consist of deferred spending power.

Therefore, if the conflict lasts only through the next year, there will have been piled up in deposits or bonds almost $5 billion dollars. The money will be there also think that the government will be pouring out of funds should provide plenty of industrial activity and employment.

In addition to this $5 billion, the federal government will contribute a tremendous amount of money to the national economic bloodstream. Public works which have been halted during the emergency will be undertaken. Millions will be spent on food, machinery and textiles to feed and clothe countries overseas. In short, Uncle Sam will embark on a spending spree that will be nice while it lasts.

DIG—Democratic members of the house are grouping the outlook for the next year as a "black leadership" or the lack of it. They blame the likable Tucker for their present occupancy of the national dog house.

According to the complaints, Sam has merely performed routine duties as boss of the lower chamber. He has acted as a professor in "check" Gray and the late Nicholas Longworth, he has not served as a personal and political adviser. He has not called a special caucus in many months for discussion of personal and political problems. In the opinion of his critics, the blame should be brought in together when the pension bill came up, and that this was no time in which to enact such a measure. They also think the speaker should have called a caucus and suggested that they apply for A or B gasoline rationing cards rather than the unlimited X credit cards which have been issued.

When the boys even more angry is their belief that the White House is capitalizing on these incidents to cast discredit on the legislative body. F. R. Hendon has no chance to get on the floor, the speaker, especially Mr. Rayburn's crowd. The speaker's associates think that he ought to go to bat for them in these critical pre-election days.

BLOW—Our military experts do not regard Hitler's drive through the Crimea as a side show or a diversion. In their opinion, it is his big play. A successful triumph in this offensive may give an altogether new direction to the axis campaign. It will permit the German army to move into the Crimea, possibly the middle east, unless the emperor's troops are halted and thrown back in India. Victory will enable the German army to strike at the British, possibly gain control of the Suez canal and command the eastern Mediterranean. Should he take over the French fleet, as Washington expects, he will be in a position to shut off supplies which we are getting from that area.

The Moscow G.H.Q. apparently makes the same appraisal of the German's present blow if it succeeds. The warping of the Russian line shows all the strength into the fighting around Kharkov in an attempt to outflank and cut off his logistics in the Crimea. So we may be witnessing now one of the key battles of the war.

OPPOSE—House members are denouncing that they are given a recess as soon as they have passed the 1942 revenue bill. This historic measure should be on its way to the senate. The recess is being taken during the vacation for the whole month of July and August while the upper chamber is laboring over the tax bill.

Primary results have given the politics a bad scare, especially the election's apparent swing against the Democrats. The voters are being urged to vote this year with their friends and enemies and find what the ballot box should do. With all respect, the voters are being urged to vote this year with their friends and enemies and find what the ballot box should do. With all respect, the voters are being urged to vote this year with their friends and enemies and find what the ballot box should do.

PRESENTS—Long before "Jimmy" Doolittle was appointed as leader of the first squadron to bomb Tokyo, he had better still now while the running is good and see just where they stand with that important group, the voters who underwrite their pay checks.

WHY THE LONG DELAY?
The naval battle of the Coral sea was fought and presumably won by the United States Navy. The American public has still been told nothing about our losses. "We must keep the enemy in the dark," is the excuse given. But it is a long time since there was when it all happened.

Since then the British lost three destroyers in one night. The British lost a number of men, named the "sinking of the Prince of Wales" was as promptly conceded by the British admiralty.

Our naval position is no more critical. Britain's, our need for secrecy no greater. Our own belief is that the war is now a rivalry on a par with the world, the people feel that they were getting the whole story, the bad along with the good.—Nampa Free Press.

An American engineer has just found ways to eliminate 750 different operations from the manufacture of a car. He says that he can save the way for car plants to produce the unit at a more rapid rate than formerly. What wouldn't this man do in Washington? But what war effort can get a car like this practice his efficiency methods there.—Wallace Miner.

Storekeepers and wholesalers will be restricted to the volume of goods which they purchased in 1941. The figure substantially less than last year. Later this quota will be dropped down to that of 1938 and finally to 1933's depression low level.

CLAPPER'S OBSERVATIONS ON MEXICO

WASHINGTON, May 28—Mexico is getting ready to declare war on the axis. That will bring the United States into a formal state of war.

South America has been much affected by the war. Some of the countries there have been riding along on the fence. While some of them have been leaning toward the axis, others have been leaning toward the Allies.

While traveling through Africa and Asia recently, I saw superficially at least, some of the effects of our policy. There were outside matters were at work. But it was nothing to the kind of control that the axis had imposed and was imposing wherever it has been able to invade.

BURMA DEFENSE REDUCED DANGER TO INDIA--WAVELL

PLOTS RETURN TO TAKE LOST AREA

By JOHN R. MOHR
NEW DELHI, India, May 28 (AP)—Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, commander in chief of India, today said that India had been saved by the allied defense of Burma from a disaster situation and we now look forward to the day when our strength here and elsewhere will make possible a counter offensive.

"Some day we shall retake the Burma campaign—the other way as we have planned."

Wavell said that more than 80 planes of the British and American forces in Burma under Gen. Harold Alexander succeeded in escaping Japanese encirclement efforts and reached India safely.

At a press conference, Wavell explained that the allied defense in Burma, in a delaying action against great odds, had afforded time for substantial strengthening of India's defenses.

"Air defenses of two important parts of Calcutta and other cities are now stronger than the best that Singapore had during the Malaya campaign," he said in a conference.

Wavell, aided by American air squadrons under Maj. Gen. Lewis Brereton, recently had directed the work of bolstering India's defenses against the expected Japanese thrust from Burma.

The armed forces have been re-organized and retrained. "We are now blowing up air bases against the Japanese in the Akayn sector of the west Burma coast and elsewhere."

NEGRO HONORED FOR HERO WORK

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii, May 27 (AP)—Doris Miller, Negro mess attendant, died today as a hero, after being shot while saving the lives of other crew members, all officers, today to receive from Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, the navy cross for extraordinary heroism in action.

On the height of the Japanese attack today, while enemy planes were bombing the machine gunning his ship, Miller assisted in moving his mortally wounded captain to the bridge to a place of greater safety.

"This marks the first time in the history of the Pacific fleet that a Negro has been paid in the Pacific fleet to a member of his race," Nimitz said. "I am sure the future will see others similarly honored."

Miller's heroism generally, he said: "Among the citizens which will go to these officers and men of the fleet are those who have fought the most bitter warfare our fleet has ever known in the Pacific and the surface of the Pacific ocean."

More than 50 hardware and implement dealers met here last night to hear E. G. Stover, Denver, officer of price administration regional specialist on farm equipment, explain the "ins and outs" of the price ceiling situation.

Stover spoke following a banquet at the Park hotel. The session was sponsored by the Intermountain association of Hardware and Implement dealers with R. R. Lore, Buhl, district chairman, presiding.

Among state officials attending were Ben Davies, Nampa, association president, and F. L. Winder, Boise, secretary. During the evening Davies and Winder touched on the maximum price regulation and the possibility of raising ceiling prices on all cost-of-living articles.

Explains Prices

Stover, following his explanation of maximum price regulation number 323, dealing with retail prices for farm equipment, answered queries of questions during the evening.

Stover pointed out that the maximum price charge for new equipment is the average retail price in the following manner under the ruling:

- An allowance for transportation and freight rate, based on average combined freight rate per hundredweight from factory to dealer for complete unit of equipment of the same general type.
- The manufacturer's handling charge for freight if not included in the manufacturer's charge for freight.
- An allowance for dealer's handling not to exceed five per cent of the manufacturer's suggested retail price less the amount of the freight, plus two per cent of the amount by which the suggested retail price exceeds $100; mileage charge required for delivery; erection of equipment; installation of all accessories; delivery of new equipment and carrying away trade-in equipment, and gasoline and oil for the equipment.
- Installation Charge

CHINESE REPORT JAPS CLOSING IN

CHUNGKING, May 28 (AP)—The Chinese acknowledged today the perilous situation of Chekiang province in the frontal hammer and anvil forces on the south, southeast, west and northwest, but declined to confirm Japanese claims that the city fell this morning.

The Japanese attacking from the south and southeast have been particularly punished in their repeated assaults on the city, a Chinese official said. He also said that the invaders now had seized the artillery superstructure in their massive attempt to seize all the east coastal province.

"In the first phase of the battle of Kintawa the Japanese used more artillery than tanks," said the official. "We also used a good deal of artillery, and at first our firepower exceeded the enemy's."

"The enemy then brought up more artillery until now their firepower has exceeded ours."

Chinese forces near the Yunnan-Burma border, seeking to destroy Japanese units streaming through China, were reported to have encircled Japanese-occupied Lungling, Burma road town west of the Yunnan-Burma border.

Central News, Chinese agency, said the Japanese had been sent into headlong retreat into Lungling after the Chinese had retaken Fungching and Hwangtung, both to the south of Lungling.

This was the main fruit of a series of coordinated attacks launched Saturday along the whole western Yunnan front.

YOUTH FREED OF MURDER CHARGE

KANSAS CITY, May 28 (AP)—George W. Welch, Jr., was freed today of first degree murder charge brought against him by the state in the brutal hammer and butcher slaying of his pretty 24-year-old sister, Lella, March 9, 1941.

The charge was dismissed by J. Dougherty, justice of peace, but County Prosecutor Michael W. O'Brien asked the defendant be held to give him time to file a new action against him. O'Brien did not immediately disclose the nature of the charge he had in mind.

In a dramatic courtroom session, Dougherty read his brief decision. He said:

"A terrible crime has been committed in our city, and I have listened attentively the past seven days to the testimony of the state and of the defense.

"I do not believe that the entire evidence as produced in the case would convince a jury of reasonable men beyond a probable doubt of the defendant, and the defendant is discharged."

Mrs. Rose North Gives Address At Brethren Church's Banquet

Letters—"those miracles of hieroglyphics and paper, the translations of one soul to another"—formed the keystone for the annual mother-daughter banquet at the Church of the Brethren last evening, attended by 90 members and guests.

Mrs. Rose M. North, dean of girls of the Twin Falls high school, was the guest speaker, and Mrs. E. L. Ikenberry was the toastmaster. Arrangements were made by the Junior Guild and the Missionary society of the Church of the Brethren. The church was in the roles of waiters for the occasion.

Letter-Significance Speaking of the importance of the interchange of letters, "particularly today when we need all the courage, love and love that we can give in our lives," Mrs. North said that sincere missives were one of the surest means of keeping alive the spirit of decency, courage and beauty.

In illustration, she read parts of three letters—one from a Scotch mother whose children were being sent to the United States; one from a London business woman, and a third from a girl in Twin Falls youth, now "somewhere in the Pacific" with the United States Marine.

All reflected the attitude of "accepting the situation and making the best of it, with courage and a sense of humor."

But cutes in the form of rural mail boxes, with the red flaps up, to indicate the presence of letters, and small American flags in "wheels" of mail boxes, on twigs implanted in red, white and blue standards around the decorations for the table, arranged in the form of a large Victory-V, and red, white and blue lapers buried in a V-shaped floor arrangement in the chancel, against an American flag background.

Franc Helstad, Hazelton postmaster and active member of the Twin Falls Church of the Brethren, distributed the program, addressed as letters to the guests.

Program numbers were introduced by Mrs. Kenberry, and featured group singing, led by Miss Susan Kenberry, with Miss Lena Nicholson as accompanist, a reading, Miss Lucy Muhlville, a solo, "To the Danes," Mrs. M. J. Murphy, and a song, "To the Mothers," Mrs. Patricia Muhlville.

Prize-winning duets, Miss Verda Helstad and Miss June Helstad, Hazelton; "A Mother's Prayer," Mrs. P. H. Goetsch, and "The Blessing," Miss Ruth Miller; Mrs. North's address; repetition of "Lily of the Home" by Mrs. M. J. Murphy; "Surprise" letters.

As a special feature a number of "Surprise" letters were read from absent daughters to their mothers, under the direction of Mrs. Verne Peterson.

They included a letter from Miss Virginia Kerlin, McPherson, Kan., to her mother, Mrs. Charlotte Kerlin; from Mrs. G. H. Lee, Las Vegas, to her mother, H. A. Swan; from Mrs. Kenneth Clapadine, Seattle; to Mrs. C. M. Bennett; and from Mrs. E. G. Edwards, Emmett; to Mrs. P. O. Edwards.

A letter from L. E. Turner, Boise, Calif., daughter of Phyllis W. Rank, to the entire group, was also read.

It's Tough to Qualify For WAAC—Here's Luck

By JEAN DINKELACKER Step right up, girls, if you want to join the army and don't mind being called a Waack—nickname for the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps.

Blankets for those who want to enter the W. A. C. A. first officer candidate school, were received yesterday by Sgt. Frank Morris, United States Army recruiter.

And was he relieved! He's had long distance calls from Rupert to Hazelton all the past week, enthusiastic volunteers inquiring, "How can I get in to the women's army?" Lots of local calls, too.

First Step to Blank First step is to secure an application blank from Sgt. Morris at the army recruiting station, city hall, territory served by this station is north to Hally, west to Bliss, east to Malia, and south to the Utah border.

Then fill it in, with the necessary supporting papers, and send them to the district recruiting and induction office, U. S. army, 223 East building, Salt Lake City.

"Necessary supporting papers" include a photograph, proof of age and birth date. Instructions in preparing application are specific and easy to follow.

The officer school will be held at about July 15, and those completing the course with the highest grades will be considered as officers.

Others whose work is satisfactory will be appointed to non-commissioned grades as privates, corporals, sergeants, etc.

But before you get an application blank, better check up on your physical condition. The program as outlined was approved by the club, Mrs. C. D. Thompson read an article on "New Year's Resolutions" and presented some interesting facts on the Status of Liberty.

Mrs. B. E. Smith, program chairman, submitted the annual report for 1941. The program as outlined was approved by the club, Mrs. C. D. Thompson read an article on "New Year's Resolutions" and presented some interesting facts on the Status of Liberty.

Mrs. G. A. Gates reported that during the summer months the club members will get 75 cents of fruit for the children's home at Boise. The white elephant, furnished by Mrs. Myrtle Rush, was won by Mrs. H. P. Morrison.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. John Rodman and Mrs. A. G. Hecker.

Snead, Hogan Favored As PGA Meet Advances

ATLANTIC CITY, N. Y., May 28 (AP)—Only 16 players were left today when the field turned out for the second round of the PGA championship tournament and the sharp-eyed men who have watched golfers come and go through little Ben Hogan and Slamming Sammy Snead—remember them?—as the ones who will bear notice when the pressure begins to tell.

Hogan, the mechanical man who began playing in this last of the year's great tournaments with an aching wrist, had a date with Ky Lafoon on the Seaview Country club course and Snodgrass, shooting for one more big cup before he joins the navy, drew Willie Goggin of White Plains, N. Y.

Both were favored.

Wood was paired with Leland Gibson of Kansas City, Mo. The National Open champion was six under par for 32 holes yesterday when he bested Rod Monday of Toledo, O. 5 and 4. Gibson was measuring Jimmy Gannett of Longview, Tex., 10 and 9, and shooting seven under par.

Cooper has an even start today after a Lloyd Maxbaum of Chicago, Light Horse Harry recovered today a very shaky start in the first round. Forth has place in the bracket of 16. Down three holes in the halfway mark, he rallied and upset Mike Purman, 3 and 2, and snatched a 4-3 victory in 12 holes.

McSpaden drew Cooper, Jim Thorne of New York, Xander Fielder, 7 and 6, and clipped par by nine strokes on the 30 holes he played in Georgia. The veteran, eliminating Ed Burke of Hamden, Conn., 2-1, playing par golf for the first time.

As the eight matches began, defending champion Vic Ghezzi, formerly of Peal, N. Y., and now an army corporal, was on the sidelines, blasted out of the tournament by Jimmy Demaree, but the veteran, dominating the 1940 winter swing, defeated Oscar, 4 and 6, and drew the veteran, the man of Montclair, N. J., today.

Salt Lake Club Hits Hard for 13 to 6 Victory

SALT LAKE CITY, May 28 (AP)—The Salt Lake Bees scored 11 runs in the first three innings against the Twin Falls cowboys and pitched to win a Pioneer league game, 13 to 6.

The Cowboys scored one run each in the first and second, and two each in the sixth and seventh, but never had a chance after the Bees' big bats joined forces with the visitors' poor pitching.

In the first, Third Baseman Kerr and First Baseman John Hernandez smashed a single and then Earl Owen walked, filling the bases after Bees' was thrown as the plate.

Then Willie Enos drew another walk, forcing home Jimmy Chappeta way on the Cowboy mound to Angelo Venturini.

Bob Slag promptly knocked another single, scoring Hernandez and Owen, and Andy Harrington's sacrifice scored Enos. Willie Scott filed out to end the inning.

There was more of the same in the second. George Peterson and Kerr walked. Reeves beat out a fly ball, clearing the bases and a Hernandez filled them with a single double to center.

The third Salt Lake filled the bases again on two walks and an error, and Kerr smashed a three-run homer, which came with bases loaded, home. He scored himself on the fly.

The Bees' first run came on a single by Nick Susser, a walk handed to Tony Robello and Scott Peterson, who was out on a second ball and a single by Jimmy Dow accounted for the lone run.

The club's 13 runs came in the following order:

Back from the special session of directors at Pocatello, Business Manager Carl Hoag of the Twin Falls club was optimistic about the future of the Pioneer league, and now expects to see the Wranglers' season in good shape.

Hoag reports that if the current attendance rate keeps up and the weather continues to be favorable for a little cooperation—that everything will be fine with the Pioneer league. He said that the four games played at home, Twin Falls drew 700, 800, 900 and 700, but that the crowd at the Wranglers' game was not very good.

Postponement of the two games with Pocatello last Friday and Saturday hurt business considerably, but the local business men hope to get back at least part of the money lost by the postponement with the cards on their next trip here.

Hoag announced that two games will be played on Saturday, June 10—the first one (nine innings) will be a double-header, and the second will be played on Monday night, June 18. A single contest is slated for Sunday night, June 14, starting at 8:30.

Meanwhile, the Cowboys were having a little trouble. They have apparently lost their first string pitcher, Jim Rowden, to the U. S. Army. Jim Rowden was one of both no-hit games that the Twin Falls boys hurled during the past week. Rowden was rated a very capable receiver.

Seeks New Receiver

Virgil's outfit is being slightly changed at Salt Lake. But Manager Tony Robello is looking for another receiver and is reported to be conferring with another Pioneer league club for release of one of their best.

The Cowboys return to the home lot on Friday and play one game at Pocatello on Saturday.

Saturday, Memorial day, one tilt is slated for the afternoon at 2:30 and another for the evening at 8:30. Pocatello's furnish for all three games.

Over the Cowboys to the capital city for a three game series with the Pilots, starting Sunday night.

The Yanks had pounded two runs across in the first inning on a walk by Frank Zaretski, singles by Buddy Hackett and Tom Hentrich and DiMaggio's leadoff out.

MARKETS AND FINANCE

STOCK EXCHANGE TREND IRREGULAR

NEW YORK, May 28 (UP)—The market closed irregular. The Dow Jones industrial average was 110.44, down 1.14 points from 111.58. The volume of trading was 11,000,000 shares.

It looked at the start as though the list might duplicate the recovery of the previous session but offerings in leading industrial groups soon halted a modest advance.

Dealing dwindle after the opening and transfers for the full stretch were around 250,000 shares. Volume was aided by an 10,000-share change of U. S. International, which advanced 1/2.

The approach of a lengthy week-end and the principal market will see a quiet Saturday for Memorial day. General offerings for Memorial day caused lightening of commitments here and there, brokers said.

Farmer Sues for Bean Redelivery

Asking court order for redelivery of 9,425 pounds of No. 1 Great Northern white beans—worth $477 in the Associated Press dispatch. That figure did not include the state and national reserves, totaling about 10,000, held back for adjustment in emergency situations, or the carryover of unused quota which remains in the committee to which it was originally allotted.

The dispatch reported the OPA is having this experience had it later a number of changes in the allocation for states in June. In making next month's allotment the OPA took into consideration increased industrial activity in some sections and the fact that many of the beans were in the present work.

CARIBBEAN CRISIS

BILL MAKES UP HIS MIND

CHAPTER XI

As abruptly as it had begun the conference was over. Struthers, who seemed to have as little use for food as he had for sleep, departed for the office again taking Halsey with him, and thus Bill Talcott was left alone with MacDowell.

The detective was shaky, off-balance and very near collapse. "You ain't such a bad guy," MacDowell muttered at Bill Talcott, who was sitting at the desk. "I guess you had to hit me—Say, do you suppose I could have a drink?"

Talcott nodded, summoned the boy, and when the drink was brought MacDowell was clothed. "You ain't such a bad guy," MacDowell said again. Suddenly he put the glass down and tipped the chair back, and then he got up and all around; tipped back to the door and searched the hall beyond. Apparently satisfied, he returned to the center of the room, inclined his head in a haughty whisper. "You ain't such a bad guy, are you?" "I don't like that guy Struthers."

Talcott covered his surprise. "What? I thought you fellows were buddies."

"Me, a buddy to him? I'd like to kick him in the pants—MacDowell, get up! Do yer dooty!" Talcott swallowed a smile. "Struthers wasn't it, he avoided all that trouble at the dock?"

"Yeah. Listen, I been watchin' you, the more I watch the more satisfied I am some'n ain't besides the fertilizer around here," MacDowell purred. "Then, can you keep your mouth shut?"

MacDowell bent forward further and in his eagerness his eyes were attracted until he stared from their tops; his voice was sunk lower still. "Private or public, I'm still a cop, and I'm getting paid to do a job, and so far as anybody knows I'm gonna do it. But I ain't such a bad guy no more. Maybe I framed a few guys for divorce proceedings, but it was because the guys themselves wanted to get framed, see? I never been a party to framing a guy for the men, and I'm too old to start now."

Bill Talcott could no longer control his surprise. "Do you think you have convinced that Struthers is trying to frame me?" MacDowell moved his hands hastily. "Listen, I didn't say that, I only said I don't like how this thing smells. So I'm gonna help you if you'll keep your mouth shut."

Was this a trap? MacDowell had come to Abas with Struthers and Halsey. He was hand in glove with the auditor, and if a plot was afoot, he would be an ingredient. But Mr. MacDowell had taken a few nasty raps that weren't in the cards. Was this

How would they interpret his continued inactivity? That would Sebastian and black Tomas and all the others think of him who were to be in the army, but ineffectual, an impotent vegetable ripening to rotteness in the sun? He could face accusations, could fight words and tracks and legal proceedings, but he could never hope to see the light of respect and affection in the eyes of his men change to darkness, bitter and hard with disappointment.

No, the locus of the thing lay in New York; perhaps in the clandestine offices of Federal Chemical Jew. No matter what the manifestations, his task was clear; he must avoid and overcome the lesser obstacles that lay in his path. His object was the end. Slowly he turned. "I appreciate your offer, MacDowell. I fully appreciate what it cost you to make it. The advice you have given me is valuable, but I'm not going to take it."

MacDowell's mouth gaped. "What? You mean you're gonna let them go ahead an' smear you? You're gonna take it layin' down?"

"I mean I'm returning to New York with you on the Blue Petrel. A man can't run away from his troubles. My trouble is in New York. Maybe I'm wrong but that's the way I'm built. I've got to face Winters for a showdown."

"But while you're out here, he can't do anything to you. He has taken a thing. So have I. I much prefer mine."

MacDowell started to sputter something in protest when a new voice from the doorway caused him to whirl about. June Paterson was there, calmly evicting them. "A very pretty speech," she smiled. "How such a vicious creature as you seem to be can get yourself in so much trouble, I don't understand. So you're going on the Blue Petrel too. My, won't that be a jolly party!"

A slow, angry flush stole through Talcott's cheeks. Some day he was promised himself, this start cousin of Lowell Byrd's would find herself across his knee. (To Be Continued)

Just a new twist to the old cliche name, or was the man fed up and sincere? Talcott eyed him speculatively and decided to smile. "All right," Talcott said. "What's your proposition?"

MacDowell inhaled sharply. "This is a Dutch island, ain't it?"

"Yes."

"Okay. What happens if you refuse to be extradited?"

"You mean—"

"If you don't want to go back to New York with me, I ain't got the power to make you. You can tie this thing up in the courts with a writ of habeas corpus. Legally, they can't touch you until you been extradited, and that sometimes takes a long while. From what you said to Struthers, I figure you want to stick around so to see he don't put any clingers on you. That way you could do it, see?"

Talcott searched the other's face in amusement. Here indeed was help from an unexpected quarter. Abas being a Dutch island some 600 air miles distant from the seat of government, he could stand on his rights; could dispatch a letter for legal counsel and wait calmly while lawyers and judges argued the matter. He could remain on the island, a thorn in Struthers' side, watching, tabulating and compiling evidence in his own defense. He could squat on his haunches while the law auditor yapped like a terrier. It would be satisfaction in a huge measure for what he had suffered.

That way he would get satisfaction. But would satisfaction solve the problem? Revenge was like getting drunk; you hurt someone else because they had hurt you and all the while the more important things were going on without you. You stood and gazed over your antagonist win, in the last analysis, might be merely an agent sacrificed to prevent you from reaching the end.

There was something else; deeper, more psychologically significant. Already in the eyes of the men, Halsey was boss. The new man had proved himself twice while Bill Talcott had lost face.

GERMANS ROUND UP CZECH SUSPECTS FOR MASS REPRISALS

GESTAPO LEADER IN CONDITION GRAVE

By JOHN A. FARRIS
 LONDON, May 28 (UP)—Czech quarters disclosed today that only two men were involved in the attempt to assassinate Reinhard Heydrich, deputy chief of the German gestapo, but the Nazi secret police were rounding up countless victims throughout Czechoslovakia for mass reprisals.

Heydrich lay in grave condition in Prague, where two middle-aged men, according to Czech sources here, fired automatic rifles at his automobile yesterday as it sped along a street leading to the Berlin high-way.

The assassins both escaped. One fled on a bicycle and the other on foot under the eyes of the gestapo. They left a brief case, which the secret police examined carefully for clues, Czech quarters said.

Swedish reports said Heinrich Himmler, chief of the gestapo, and many other high officials of the secret police had flown to Prague to quench the lava of Heydrich's shooting. The Zurich correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Socialdemokraten said Berlin authorities believed the assassins were German oppositians who had carefully studied Heydrich's route and made detailed plans for the attempt on his life.

General Curfew
 The Nazi "protectors" of Bohemia and Moravia ordered a general curfew throughout Czechoslovakia from 9 p. m. to 6 a. m. and the gestapo was making a grand-scale round-up of Jews and persons retained as victims for the attempt on Heydrich's life.

Heydrich, "the hangman" who had executed more than 250 Czechs in his role as chief of the gестапо, was shot by Adolf Hitler last September to quell Czech unrest, fell from a plane in the former Czech capital yesterday.

The German radio insisted that his death was a relief, but Vichy reported that his condition was grave. The Stockholm newspaper Tribune said Berlin observers expected a new reign of terror in Czechoslovakia because the assassination attempt had destroyed the gестапо's confidence in the Czechs completely.

The newspaper's Berlin correspondent speculated that the former Czech Premier Alois Elias, now imprisoned in Germany for allegedly conspiring with the Czechs, would be executed in reprisal. Elias was understood to be awaiting a decision on his appeal for a pardon.

Offer Fortune
 The German occupation authorities offered a fortune of 10,000,000 crowns for the capture of the assassins. (At the last rate of exchange, that is about $2,500,000.) The crown is worth much less now.)

A state reward was declared throughout the country and transportation was suspended.

Chief Hermann Franke, Heydrich's deputy in Prague, instituted the line-up curfew. The purpose was to alert if they failed to link on challenge, the Czechs were easy prey for the gestapo men rounding up of reprisal victims.

Franke ordered all public houses, theaters, movies and other places of amusement closed. He announced that persons aiding or concealing the assassins would be shot and their families executed. The entire families of such persons. Death was decreed for Czech possession of a false identification card and not informing German officials.

Swift Retaliation Looms
 There was little doubt in Czech circles here that the gestapo's retaliation would be swift and gruesome.

The attempted assassination came as the Czech administration that Czech youths must be conscripted for the Nazi labor battalions and for military service with the German armies.

The Czechoslovak foreign ministry here confirmed that he informed the Prague government yesterday that the decree given by Hitler, May 22, must be enforced. Under that decree, the Prague government would be reorganized within the next few weeks and compulsory conscription would be started at once.

The German radio announced that the decree would delegate "certain duties" to an "autonomous" administration. The purpose of the puppet government reorganization, the broadcast said, is "to create a basis for peaceful and creative work" in Czech industry, which has been hit with sabotage.

Youth Organization
 The broadcast said Heydrich had informed the Czechs that his establishment of a youth organization, comprising boys and girls from 10 to 18 years old, was imminent.

Heydrich gave his orders to the Prague government Tuesday night. At 12 p. m. yesterday, according to Frank's official announcement of the incident, the assassins struck. Heinrich Himmler, Heydrich's superior and chief of the gestapo, immediately began to strengthen his organization. It was expected that he hoped to double the strength of the secret police, enlisting 20 divisions before summer.

AUSTRALIA GETS STRENGTH U. S. AID

MELBOURNE, May 28 (UP)—Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, commanding allied ground forces in southern Australia, revealed today that United States reinforcements were arriving at a "remarkable" rate and were daily strengthening the allied ground forces.

He revealed that large scale troop movements inside Australia had been completed and that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's ground areas were now well distributed throughout the continent.

After visiting an advanced allied operational base, Blamey said the position of Australia had improved greatly.

"Our armies have increased their efficiency," he said, "and the assistance we are getting from the United States and our own production of war material give us heart for the task ahead."

Prime Minister John Curtin, commenting on bonafide statements by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, said: "Australia's role in this war is to fight."

"To play this role, but in Australia, we must first match it to a fight."

The test matches, in cricket, are being played in Australia, especially those with Great Britain. Australia usually wins.

Allied fighter planes, downing one and damaging six of 15 Japanese planes which attacked Port Moresby, New Guinea, yesterday, brought the bag of American and Australian crews to more than that of the Japanese. Arthur took command six weeks ago.

Former Idaho Convict Held As Impersonator of Doctor

CHICO, Calif., May 28 (UP)—A sane, self-assured former convict was charged today with impersonating a surgeon and performing major operations on patients at a prominent Chico hospital despite the fact he never had a formal medical education.

Arthur Osborne Phillips, 47, alias "Dr.," James Herman Phillips, who allegedly has served seven prison terms in five different states, was held in the city jail accused of practicing medicine without a license and illegal possession of firearms.

Phillips, according to the state board of medical examiners, is believed to have performed 31 appendectomies during off-and-on medical practice as a physician in the past 14 years. He reportedly has performed four appendectomies, tonsillectomies and abdominal operations during the two months he has been in Chico.

Additionally, he has signed one death certificate and one birth certificate, authorities reported.

In his jail cell last night Phillips declared:

"I will stick my skill in medicine against any surgeon, man to man."

Joseph W. Williams, agent for the board of medical examiners, believed Phillips' only knowledge of surgery came from prison textbooks.

71 PER CENT GAIN IN PLACEMENTS

WASHINGTON, May 28 (UP)—The war manpower commission reported today that the U. S. employment service filled more than a half million jobs last month in factories, shipyards and offices, and 50,000 on farms.

The 100 per cent increase in South Dakota, with 2,400 placements, and Montana, with 2,200 topped the list in comparison with the previous month. Western states generally, however, showed no increase.

Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the agricultural commission, explained that agricultural and non-agricultural placements rose sharply because of expanding war and food production efforts. They totaled 620,000 for the month, 10 per cent higher than March.

Farm placements were 42 per cent above those for March. Non-agricultural placements were a fourth higher.

The April placements in states and territories were: Alaska, 11; Arizona, 1,400; Idaho, 1,100; Nevada, 2,300; Utah, Oregon, 9,400; 161; Utah, 3,200; 22; Washington, 18,000; 62; Wyoming, 1,400; 75.

QUICK END ASKED ON MINE DISPUTE

INDIANAPOLIS, May 28 (UP)—Henry P. Schrieker called today for quick settlement of a wage dispute between mine operators and strikers in an effort to avert a complete shutdown of Indiana's deep shaft coal mining field where 6,000 miners already were idle.

Schrieker telegraphed Lewis Austin, president of District 11, United Mine Workers (CIO), and Harvey Cartwright, committee head of the Indiana operators association that it was "essential that the coal mines of this state resume operation immediately in order to produce coal for this great emergency."

Schrieker telegraphed strikers and operators alike on Monday charging they had not received an adequate five-day wage increase. They continued absence from work throughout Indiana to approximately 6,000 other miners in District 11.

Thomas Hulston, state labor commissioner, said the men demanded the increase be made retroactive to April 1, 1941, when their last contract became effective. In a walk-out March 19, however, the men agreed to abide by the recommendation of a federal mediator that the increase be made retroactive to Jan. 1, 1942. The strikers charged the incident in the state supreme court. Spokesmen for the operators declined to comment.

TOKYO TELLS OF OIL FIELD ATTACK

By United Press
 Tokyo radio today broadcast what it termed an interview with a Japanese lieutenant aboard the submarine that ploughed shells into the Goleta oil field, 12 miles north of Santa Barbara.

Although the unnamed officer declared "all the oil tanks in the area" were set afire, a survey of the field by newspapermen today, the time showed one derick damaged to the extent of $500, and no fire.

The following is a transcription of the interview, as recorded by the United Press listening post in San Francisco:

"There was no sign of any enemy patrol activity when the sub bobbed up along the coastline. With the calmness of the night the town of Santa Barbara was twinkling with beacon lights of all types and the oil storage tanks and dericks were clearly visible."

"Along the coast highway the speeding cars threw the glare of headlights into the night and the entire Goleta area presented a beautiful, unwarlike scene.

"When the first shot was fired from the submarine, there were immediately signs of consternation and those on the submarine heard the sounds of the shrieking distant sirens."

"Everyone on board the submarine quickly forgot the hardships they had encountered in crossing the Japan when the first shells shattered the night, and the second and third shots set the target on fire."

"All the crew shouted for joy and threw their arms around each other. I can still remember the painful bruises on the chin of one of my men, but by my check, that the officer, passing his hand over his sunburned face. After making sure that no hot fire lit to all the oil tanks in that area, the submarine submerged and disappeared under the waves."

"Asked whether the raid was timed to coincide with President Roosevelt's fireless chat, the officer said that he didn't know about it, but saw in the news later that the attack occurred when President Roosevelt was making another one of his bad plans against the axis."
