WAR DECLARATION ASKED OF BULGARIA, HUNGARY, RUMANIA

BALKAN STATES BATTLE AMERICA

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—President Roosevelt asked congress today to declare war on Bulgaria, Hungary and Rumania.

The chief executive, in a terse message to the houses of representatives, said that these three countries had declared war on the United States as "the instruments of Hitler."

"They are now engaged in military activities directed against the United States and against an extension of these activities," he added.

The message did not go to the senate, since it was not in session.

The governments of Bulgaria, Hungary and Rumania have declared war against the United States. I realize that the three governments took this action not of their own initiative or in response to the wishes of their own peoples but as the instruments of Hitler. The three governments are now engaged in military activities directed against the United States and against an extension of these activities.

Therefore, I recommend that the congress recognize and state its opposition to the United States and Bulgaria, between the United States and Hungary, and between the United States and Rumania.

The declarations of war against these three minor axis powers are expected to be the first of a formally adding them officially to the list of countries with which the United States now is at war. So far, this government has declared war on Japan, Germany and Italy.

Roosevelt mentioned plans for an extension of military activities against Rumania, Hungary and Rumania was without amplification. There have been frequent reports, however, that the United States is planning that they supply additional troops for the campaign, against Rumania.

Furthermore, advice from Europe have pointed to the possibility of the United States sending troops in the form of a sappers movement on Iran and the Caucasus, with their rich oil reserves.

IDAHO GUERRILLAS NOT PLAY-ACTING

(From Page One) The volunteer reserve movement. His aim is a force to be used in the event of a military attack. Each company will eventually have a battalion or company, according to Mr. Peterson. Members are drawn largely from veterans' organizations, gun clubs and other organizations. They are not paid, but they receive frequent reports, however, that the United States is planning that they supply additional troops for the campaign, against Rumania.

Other States May Follow The volunteer reserves are now just getting started for the summer. They perform necessary, if unglamorous, duties like collecting scrap metal, and they are also working out some of their own plans. And some of them are working out such helpful, constructive plans as collecting scrap metal and they are also working out some of their own plans. This Mother of Soldiers Is Sold On Value of USO

Mrs. G. T. Parkinson, Twin Falls, sold on the USO, and she wants everyone who has a soldier, or who is planning to contribute to the campaign for funds, to know that the money is being well-spent.

Mrs. Parkinson visited a USO center in the heart of London, England, in the business section, when she and Dr. Parkinson were in the northwest metropolitan recently.

"Every service man I talked to said that the USO is the finest organization ever sponsored by the government," Mrs. Parkinson declared. Two of her sons, Sgt. Leo Parkinson and Bert Parkinson, are headquartered in Seattle with the army air corps.

She was escorted through the building by a matron whom she described as "white haired and charming." The night the USO was staging a dance, and expected a thousand men to attend, she was told. "The name" band was to play the dance music.

On the main floor is an office; a large lounge room, tiled with comfortable overstuffed furniture; a library, a game room, a dance hall and a kitchen where coffee, milk, milk and soft drinks are served. A four-gallon coffee jar is just inside the door, and a soldier or sailor can help himself to as many as he wants at any time.

Over there are two floors of beds, and sleeping accommodations are available for this service men when they are on 24-hour furlough.

Rise to Riches of Il Duce's Son-in-Law Becomes Scandal

NEW YORK, June 2—Wife World's Mussolini's young son-in-law, Count Galeazzo Ciano, is rapidly becoming one of Italy's richest men. The speed with which this handsome playboy husband of the dictator's favorite child, Edia, has built a fortune, is a greater private scandal than the rise to power of Benito Mussolini.

On Greater Scale
Others have grown rich under Fascism. Some, like the late Benito, have gained control of the country. Some have added to their already stable fortunes. But Ciano has done it faster and on a greater scale.

The ways in which Ciano has acquired his wealth are various. Some say graft has figured in one way. His official position has enabled him to play the market, buying and selling the golden possibilities of marrying into the Mussolini family.

After a brief spell as a small-time journalist, he chose the fashionable and socially agreeable career of a diplomat for his real start in life. At the same time he considered the possible prospects for son-in-law to Mussolini and found them to be outstanding possibility—a socially acceptable, aristocratic son of a diplomat.

He was waiting with a hand on the door knob when opportunity knocked. Affable Diplomat—Important decisions leaves to his father-in-law, a sole recognizer of a direct private telephone line between the foreign minister in the United States and Mussolini's office in Venice, placed six blocks away.

At one time Ciano was considered an outstanding possibility for the succession to the dictatorship of his German-Breton father-in-law, Benito, crown prince. That now seems much less likely, because Ciano is considered a possible rival for the crown. He is a son of a diplomat, a diplomat, he has been primarily a diplomat.

It is general gossip that Ciano is prepared for possible political action. He is a son of a diplomat, a diplomat, he has been primarily a diplomat. He is a son of a diplomat, a diplomat, he has been primarily a diplomat.

You could have knocked Doc Perkins over with a butterball when I told him that. But I didn't. I just said: Doc, you've got 25,000 miles coming out of those tires yourself if you let Standard give 'em the right prescription... and maybe only 10,000 if you don't. "What's the right prescription?" he asks.

First, let me switch 'em scientifically (just the way it's in the picture here) so that the wear is even all 'round. Then, I said: you come here once a week regularly and let me check the air—even if you don't drive a mile, or buy any of that swell Standard Gasoline. Then have your garage check the wheel alignment. "What's that?" he says.

Like a run down heel . . . I TOLD HIM. If you walk with your knees out you wear out the heel on the outside. It's the same way with car wheels. The thing to do is be sure the wheels are on straight now, and then be careful not to bump into curbs.

OLD DOC PERKINS SAYS:
"I'm sure back of Uncle Sam 100% on that slogan of his . . . Care for Your Car . . . for your Country!"

WHAT'S GAS GOT TO DO WITH LONGER CAR LIFE?"

I told Doc the first thing he could put down was that he couldn't buy better gas than Standard . . . Unsurpassed. That's not. Then, I said: what's the use of taking a chance on a gas that explodes too fast and hammers the bearings—or a gas that starts slow and overworks the starter and battery. So he grinned, and said he guess he'd never get stuck if he stuck to Standard, and shoved off.

Just think a minute about the most beautiful field of California poppies you've ever seen. Then add 25¢ and you've got the field of poppies that's pictured in the Scenic View that we Standard men are going to start giving out Friday, June 5. This wonderful art print, including a grand tribute to California's state flower, by Donald Cuiross Peattie, is free to every person buying a War Savings Stamp, wherever Standard products are sold. Ask for it Friday, June 5.

DON'T BUY OIL WITH A HOLE IN IT!

Let me explain that. If some of Standard's famous RPM Motor Oil and a few drops of some other oil were treated in water crystals, do you know what would happen? The ordinary oil would run away from the heat, leaving a hole in the center—like a doughnut! But not "RPM." It's Thermo-Charged. It sticks to the hot spots other oils leave free. No other motor oil in the whole world can match "RPM" for protection.

WARRIOR'S GIG

FRONT—A huge underwater vessel, reportedly called "motor ally" in naval lingo, are believed by American and British experts to be feeding the Japanese war machine with high-speed torpedoes. The brood has been discovered but it will be difficult to smash this threefold threat to our separate contribution to a quick European victory.

THEir immediate placement on the seas by this fuel-burning type of craft, a variety of their greatest maximum, American engineers and naval planes know. The vessel's placement may be 10,000 or 15,000 tons. That is three times the size of the largest Japanese submarine.

The ill-fated French Furcous. The navy figures that such a vessel could carry the storage capacity for at least six months without returning home. Blom Lake, the famous inventor, says that the long endurance may run as long as 18,000 to 20,000 hours. In view of this, the Germans and the Nazi plane-borne operation from St. Lawrence River to the borders of Brazil, it seems probable that the enemy will be sent abroad. Moreover, the enemy search indicates that the foe is not using the land in the waters there. Therefore, the belief holds that Hitler has perfected a revolutionized sort of submarine.

WARRIOR'S GIG

Besides the obvious effect of severing our supply lines, this gas-filled craft, which has been built with diplomatic repercussions, this cut in our physical ties with South American and Caribbean nations. The use of the submarine also makes some of them doubtful of our eventual triumph.

SNEAK—The recent arrival of America's topnotch air commanders and land strategists in London has again raised the hope of a fairly immediate front in Europe. The first step, however, is to determine Hitler's latest activity suggests that our men may be planning a savage repulse of the first Nazi attack on the British Isles.

THE belief here is that our dealer has made careful preparations for a violent air blitz against our forces in England and possibly in the West Indies. And to meet him we have rushed a vast concentration of men and weapons to those danger spots. More than a psychological device for our enemies, this first contingent animates the Nazi general staff and Admiral Raeder. Nobody knows better than they—the forces of the Reich—that the use of planes, tanks and artillery have meant to the Russians. Without this assistance they have been backed up to the point of becoming vital to the enemy to close the sea lane through which sea-lend lease is flowing into Murmansk.

BOMB—President Roosevelt has placed the scene on another inflammable spot by asking it to approve a "hard-boiled" man as a member of the Federal Reserve Board in place of a politician. This move is a puppet of the Jersey boys by the highest specified Governor Charles Edison and other elite leaders in the New York financial community, public opinion polls and the upper chamber.

Others believe members argue that the boys in the suits are maintaining an effective line against the President's request. It is in that body that all measures disciplining or regulating certain labor organizations and their actions are decided. The President's request. It was here that the movement for repeal of the pension bill originated, even after that the Senate and House passed the bill. Higher clergies have scoffed at almost every economy enacted by the House or proposed by the Senate in the past year or so. The Senate is virtually sagging the T. V. A. fiscal setup, although that agency has been expected in the budget. The Senate is the factor of vital materials. By a vote of 60-2, the elder statesman refused to renounce their preferred position in the banking industry.

It is an even bet, however, that the current candidate for the bench will be accepted, despite the revenue of the Senate. The President's action, in tradition known as senatorial courtesy will be undermined if drooping Smithers and Papa Hague were to denounce the candidate at their building in a black-robe.

PATRIOTS—Sixty days' trial of the Washington rent control law has proved a distinct disappointment to numerous expectant beneficiaries. Local community leaders are urging that the law be extended. In many homes and apartment operations here, the rent has been increased to the point where tenants with strangers than the Yankee stadium on a world series day. They saw a chance to make some easy money and they have done it.

MORE THAN A GESTURE—A declaration of war against Mexico against Germany is more than a gesture. Although her army now numbers only around 75,000 men, whose training appears to the observer inferior to that of our pre-war national guard outfits and whose equipment is scanty, the soldiers are better equipped than they are in the zone of belligerency against Hitler would be made unbroken from the north pole to and through the vital Panama canal, including the islands of the Caribbean. Thus there would be no excuse for our lack of preparation and propaganda; increased control could be exercised over spots physically suitable for secret axis flying fields.

SOLDIERS? HELLO!—The Canadian army production, Ralph Bell, did a good job of debunking the fallacy that war production workers are soldiers in the front line.

The slogan that "the front line runs through the factory" is true, the extent that the soldiers' ability to fight depends upon the civilians' ability and willingness to produce weapons. But as for relative sacrifice:

Soldiers of production in the front line of defense, they produce. But a soldier who costs an hour with time and a half and double time adds up to a lot more than $39 a month and bullets."

NAVAL ACHIEVEMENT—One job that the navy has done so well is the guarding of our troop convoys. Unless the record is broken now, and assuming that censorship would not dare withhold such news, we have moved thousands of soldiers and marines to the other side of the globe without the loss of a single troopship.

Axis submarines and planes did their best, by published accounts, to get some of the boys who went to northern Ireland. It is the fact that the navy has done so well in our convoys. That they went through unscathed is an outstanding naval achievement.

OTHER POINTS OF VIEW

RUBBER FROM WHEAT—Secretary Hunker's proposal that 500,000 bushels of surplus wheat be converted into rubber to provide farmers with tires for their automobiles, trucks and tractors is a good idea. It is not only a good idea, but it is a reasonable one. It is not only a good idea, but it is a reasonable one. It is not only a good idea, but it is a reasonable one.

Twin Falls Women Leave for Three State Meets This Week

It's "convention week" in Idaho, and beginning this morning many Twin Falls women left for the site of the first state convention on the week's schedule—that of the Idaho department, ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, which opens in Boise this evening with registration and continues throughout Wednesday and Thursday in the capitol city. Boise will not be host this week to the state Elks convention, with registration slated Wednesday night, and sessions called through the remainder of the week.

Third state convention this week opens in Grangeville Thursday, with P. E. O. Sisterhood delegates from all of Idaho to be in attendance. Twin Falls women who attend will return here Sunday.

Headed by Mrs. R. J. Riley, president of Dan McCook circle, ladies of the Twin Falls delegation left this morning for Boise. She was accompanied by Mrs. Edna Moore, Mrs. Betty Smith and Mrs. Mary Trunkley Hansen.

Planning to leave this evening are Mrs. J. H. Johnson, Mrs. Nora Faxon, Mrs. Vivian Lawson, Mrs. Bernice Clyde, Mrs. Ollie Jones, Mrs. Edna Cook, Mrs. Mary Miller and Mrs. Edith Neely.

The Twin Falls drill team will re-enact the ritual during convention sessions, and members will return here Thursday evening and Friday morning.

To Elks Meeting
H. O. Hayes, exalted ruler of the Twin Falls Elks lodge, and Mrs. Hayes will head the local delegation to state Elks sessions, planning to leave here Thursday morning. Registration will open Wednesday evening. Officers who plan to leave Thursday morning are J. H. Blundford, immediate past exalted ruler and manager of the Elks entertainment band, which will perform during convention sessions throughout the week. The band goes by his Thursday morning.

Enter Contest
Miss Margaret Cawley, local winner of the Elks American oratorical contest, will accompany Mrs. Hayes to the state sessions Thursday morning, and will compete for state oratorical honors Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard will leave Friday, and Mrs. Harry Balch, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stinson and Mrs. Pat Cockrum, Milner, will leave Friday.

Feathers-Into-Blooms Profitable for Woman

By JEAN DINKELACHER
Times-News Staff Editor

Fine feathers make fine corsages. That is what Mrs. Nellie Cochran Dickey, Eden, believes. And she has convinced sophisticated Sun Valley of it. Likewise, the Paramount studios wardrobe department.

You see, Mrs. Dickey makes flowers out of rooster, turkey, duck and pheasant feathers, mesh, and yellow yarn. The exquisite bits of fluff, depending on their design, may be worn either on sports outfits or with evening gowns.

She is already in some of the best vacation spots at Sun Valley. On a recent trip to California, she was worn on the Paramount wardrobe department, and impressed the powers that be sufficiently to get some of her feather flowers "on call."

She gives partial credit to her neighbor, Frank Kenney, Jr., for her "Hollywood success."

Kenney, now with the United States radio as a former Paramount studio employee.

Flower-Making
Mrs. Dickey developed her technique in the past year, and is now turning out artistic groupings which are worn on coats, dresses and hats, and some which are suitable for growing bouquets.

After the growing season is over, Mrs. Dickey finds that she can get 20 different colors of flowers by using the feathers of the fowls, and, seven from the female feathers.

Story in McColl
An illustrated article, telling how to transform ordinary feathers into flowers, appears in the present issue of McColl's Needlebook.

Dickey's Inspiration
In that article, telling of Mrs. Dickey's inspiration, it is explained that her idea was inspired by the memory of a feather wreath which her mother made more than 30 years ago.

American Loop Slates New Service Tilts

BY TOMMY DEWINE
CHICAGO, June 2 (AP)—A revised schedule to increase baseball's contribution to army and navy relief funds was announced today by American League President William Harridge.

Disappointed with the crowds attracted for weekday contests played in the past two weeks for the relief fund, Harridge drew club owners to adopt a new plan to bolster gate receipts. After lengthy conferences, it was decided to play three Sunday double-headers and a night game in place of four single day contests this season.

The double-headers, all scheduled for Aug. 23, are Washington at New York; Boston at Philadelphia and St. Louis at Detroit.

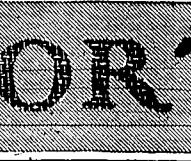

In the night game the Chicago White Sox will entertain the Cleveland Indians on July 2.

Waner Nearing 3,000 Mark On Total Hits

BY PAUL SCHEFFELS
NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Paul Waner has always been one of baseball's rugged individualists. His mysterious training routine is a mystery and his merrily disposition makes him almost unpredictable but today, unaccountably, he has become close to the supreme moment of a memorable career.

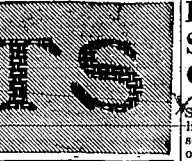

Waner, 33, himself to hit corners with a broomstick so accurately during his Oklahoma school days that he became a student body favorite. His team had dropped the games to Brooklyn and admitted that such an unaccountable player could only be a major league leaguer.

Boise Bunches Seven Blows Off Tony Tom

BOISE, June 2 (AP)—Gerald Staley, veteran Boise twirler, limited Twin Falls to five scattered hits and batted in one run to give the Pilots a 7-0 victory over the Cowboys in a Pioneer baseball league game last night.

Five of the Cowboys hits were singles. Harold Burton got two of them and Jimmy Dow, Manager Robello and Bill Gyremann, each one.

Staley struck out seven Twin Falls batters and issued only one walk. Tony Tom pitched seven balls in four innings to score four runs.

Salt Lake City and Pocatello Triumph

SALT LAKE CITY, June 2 (AP)—Salt Lake City's Bees made it four straight over Ogdén last night, capitalizing on six errors by the Reds to win the Pioneer league baseball game 11-0.

A first-inning Ogdén misplay that caused an attempted double-play to go awry, started the Bees on their victory trail. They scored twice in the initial frame, added three more in the second inning, then tallied four runs in the fifth and two in the sixth.

Big Charlie Sheenamp, who joined the Bees pitching staff shortly after being released by the Idaho Falls Rustlers, limited the Reds to eight hits, well scattered over the fourth and fifth frames.

SERIAL STORY

CARIBBEAN CRISIS

BY EATON K. GOLDTHWAITE

COPYRIGHT, 1942, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE ENEMY STRUTTERS
CHAPTER XV
TALCOTT accepted the print and as he scanned it his bewilderment grew. The print was a copy of a crowd and rather amiable, but it was the head-and-shoulders likeness of a man in uniform, a U.S. Army soldier of the first World War. His head was closely shaved or bald. Under a pair of forehead his eyes held the steel, glazy stare of unquestioned authority. His chin was short and square, his lips thin and cruel. He didn't look like anybody Talcott could remember ever having seen.

"That's a photograph of Baron Gerhardt von Stampf," the slow, musical voice said. "A brilliant and unscrupulous agent. He speaks five languages as fluently and effortlessly as if each was his mother tongue. He was operating in Brazil until the recent upheavement there. We have reason to believe that he may be in the Islands."

"I don't like to think what a Nazi agent could do if firmly established nearby. We'll check on him thoroughly. And now, the cloudiness in his gray eyes as he turned to MacDowell, "you claim to be employed by the Standard Detective Agency, that your name is Patrick MacDowell and you are a resident of New York. You have your license?"

"MacDowell was taken completely by his shack. He didn't recall having many claims to this disconcerting individual; didn't remember that he had even opened his mouth. He fumbled through pockets and produced a card with a photo attached, a motor vehicle permit and a few letters.

"I got your note about my son being in a fist fight—did he lick the other kid?"

"Anybody can go right in if they've got brains," the gray-eyed man said faintly. He turned to Talcott. "Did you know Halley through letters?"

"Which could have been sent without the knowledge of the President. This may be a conspiracy to defraud the Company, or—" He paused, searched through his papers again, found a blue sheet and said, "You operate a distillation plant for the production of nitrate acid. How much oil-fies it consume?"

"About a barrel a day." "How much stock do you ordinarily carry?"

"Two months' supply." "Any idea why Struthers would order five hundred barrels to be shipped immediately?"

"Five hundred barrels? Not unless he was afraid priorities would shut off his supply."

The man at the desk asked himself behind his eyes. One, two, three minutes passed in which his fingers drummed restlessly. Then, smiling, he said, "Well, watch it."

"Any idea why Struthers would order five hundred barrels to be shipped immediately?"

"Five hundred barrels? Not unless he was afraid priorities would shut off his supply."

"I don't know what you mean about Halsey before his name was even mentioned. A guy who asked dumb questions about how many barrels of oil it took to run a still. A guy who talked about international intrigue; as if anybody would want to get control of a stinking, desolate hunk of rock like this." "That guy is—"

"But Talcott was vanta away, staring toward the waterfront. Suddenly a look of positive brilliance burst from MacDowell's eyes. "That's that, gosh!"

Down there a woman screamed; the crowd bulged and parted momentarily and MacDowell saw a uniformed officer pushing them back from the launch that belonged to Federal Chemical Company's Plant Number Six. Another uniformed officer was in the launch, bending down. Well, maybe the cops could tell him something. Maybe they could tell him about the guy in the room that knew so much.

"I'm in charge of it." "Then you're the one we want, Walter, take the gentleman over to the Fort." The officer stood up, and MacDowell, crawling close, saw "Sobush" stretched out in the bottom, he was, his handaged arm covering his face. Beneath the blade of his left shoulder was a glistening dark stain from which a knife-handle protruded.

AUDIT SHOWS CITY FINANCES SOUND

The city of Twin Falls is in a "sound financial condition" and all city general funds are maintaining an adequate cash balance with no registered warrants outstanding. This in no way means, it is the finding of the annual audit, of the city's accounts and books just completed by the H. C. Edmunds and company, public accountants.

The audit also points out that all bond coupons presented have been paid and the city retained bonds amounting to $35,000 during the fiscal year just passed.

The examination of the minutes of proceedings indicates that the council is in close touch with all matters pertaining to the city and that expenditures are being kept within the amounts appropriated, Edmunds wrote in the report.

Regarding the various city departments affected by the audit, the following was pointed out:

Excellent Records
City clerk: The records of the clerk's office were found to be in their usual excellent condition and well kept in balance and all supporting files neatly maintained. The detail of all receipts and disbursements was checked by the clerk's general ledger and found to be correctly posted.

City Treasurer: The records of the city treasurer were found to be properly maintained, and found in agreement with the controls on the city clerk's general ledger.

Waterworks Department: The waterworks cash was counted on May 28 and was found to be in balance and reconciled with the cash on hand at April 30, 1942. A test check—about 80 per cent—was made of the daily collections, which were found to agree with the turnover to the clerk and treasurer.

Police Books Treated
Police department: The records of the police judge were found to be complete and neatly kept, and proper turnover to the city clerk of all fines and costs collected. Monthly reports in proper order were kept in all cases on the docket, were closed.

The audit covered the period from May 1, 1941 to April 30, 1942. At the council session last night Mr. Edmunds was again awarded the contract for auditing the city's books for the next fiscal year.

Error by Pilot Caused Capture Of Nazi General

WITH THE BRITISH FORCES in the Libyan desert, June 1 (Daily Mail)—Gen. Ludwig von Bruck, deputy commander of the German African corps who was captured by the British last night, was taken prisoner because his pilot landed in the midst of British desert troops in the mistaken belief that they were Italians.

At the same time, British sources disclose that Gen. Erwin Rommel, commander of the German African tank corps, sought shelter in a British field hospital in Libya while his motorized troops were being unopposedly against a British tank attack.

Rommel came into the dressing station after his troops had been in possession and chased with soldiers and patients. After four hours, he slipped to the door, fired a signal pistol and was picked up by a Field Hospital plane. The field hospital was later recaptured by the British.

Crewel told his captors that his pilot took the wrong turn, that he and his allies started to land. The pilot was killed in a burst of fire from the British and Crewel said he was barely able to stumble out of the plane after it caught fire.

Shortly afterward, he appeared much upset over being a prisoner, although he was only one of several hundred, including many Italian staff officers.

City Will Order Water Main Pipe

Purchase of 5,000 feet of water main pipe for use in furthering construction of the city auxiliary water supply line from the sewer into the city had been authorized today by members of the city council.

Councilmen approved request of Commissioner Truman Grenneth to make the purchase, which will also include 10 couplings.

Several hundred feet of the line is in the ground at the present time.

Submarine Inventor at Work On Plan to Offset Its Peril

POTTSTOWN, Penn., June 2 (AP)—Simon Lake disclosed today he is at work on another invention—designed, he claims, to offset the menace of his most famous creation, the submarine.

The white-haired 75-year-old inventor came here to perfect a new type of concrete pipe, able to withstand terrific internal pressure, which could be used in cross-country lines to carry oil and gasoline to any part of the nation.

Lake believes his brain-child would save thousands of tons of steel in the construction of pipelines such as that now being considered by Congress to relieve the eastern states gasoline shortage, due largely to submarine torpedoing of tankers.

Details of Lake's newest invention have not been made public because they are considered of military significance. However, it can be said that it is being tested by a large commercial producer.

Lake, who dreamed of the submarine as a major merchant carrier, rather than an instrument of destruction, still is convinced huge cargo undersea boats would be the answer to the nation's shipping problem.

"The only way to combat the submarine is with another submarine," he said, "and a cargo submarine would differ greatly from a huge cargo-carrying submarine, and there still are many ways a military submarine can be improved."

He already has conferred with builders about construction of these super-tugs, capable of carrying cargoes up to 7,500 tons or as many as 2,500 trucks.

This giant undersea craft, he said, would be about 400 feet long and displace about 12,000 tons, nearly twice as large as the 6,000-ton 11-bow ship which the Navy reportedly have in use supplying troops in Libya. Its arm, he estimates at around $1,000,000, considerably less than that of an aced, fighting sub.

WANTS "SLEEPING" AMERICA TO WAKE UP
Editor, Times-News:

In calling your paper as to this sugar rationing, I received this reply: "I'm sorry, but I haven't time." "No, we had no time to stop our play and Pearl Harbor and Wake Island went with that. We cannot turn our vital affairs into hands of those who never made a success of their own businesses or who turn their phones into hands of children."

There must be any more "I'm sorry." We've paid for that—it's time for those "I'm sorrys" to put an end to it. If you cannot stop your trousers and let their suspenders hold them still long enough to "try to act," this is not a matter in it clear to our touch. Forget this political "backslapping" or put these politicians away for a week. Japan proved this point and we should profit by it—this one who who acts in the first strike has the fight half won.

Let those who want a slant-eyed ruler go to those places but if we want America, let's not say "I'm sorry." MOVE IN.
