British Lash out In New Offensive In African Desert

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Britain's desert armies lashed out on the offensive with a 30-mile thrust against the axis in north Africa today, a new offensive after withdrawing word had mopped up British forces in a nine-mile sector of the 50-mile British defense line in Libya, but declared the axis supply line was seriously endangered by a thrust to Rotunda Segnali.

Benuda Soguali, a major of the advanced axis positions. Front-line dispatches said the Germans had now established a new alignment after withdrawing word from a violent tank battle at Khatagharige, 25 miles southwest of Rotunda.

Reports from the battlefield said there was no sign of a let-up in the terrific pace of fighting.

While the RAF blasted Essen, German night raiders again attacked the industrial Duisburg area, a city of Canterbury, a Nazi commune said.

The communiqué said German warplanes dropped 10,000 incendiaries and heavier caliber explosives on Canterbury, and that the 24 British planes were shot down in daylight attacks on the Channel coast yesterday and during the night over western Germany.

The German high command admitted last night that it had caused considerable damage in an attack on Duisburg, Ruhr valley neighbor of Essen, and that the death toll at Cologne had risen 200. Earlier reports from one New York newspaper said 20,000 were killed.

German raiders touched off London last night, although in the past few months two main incursions were made by incendiaries in the suburbs. German bombers again struck points in southeast England, during four planes.

Tired of Waiting, This Jap Medic Student Glad to Work

By O. A. RELKER

Take it from Yukio Shimozakura—he got tired sitting around down in the Waikali-Cato reception center so he volunteered for work in Idaho's sugar beet fields.

Yukio, a 19-year-old youth who had been studying medicine at the extension division of University of California, Oakland, before the war with Japan started, is an efficient citizen and one of a group of 30 Japanese who arrived here in the latter part of the war.

Out at the farm labor camp south of the city Yukio was registering this morning and when he got through that task he answered a few questions asked him by this "Times-News" writer.

Being studied in Utah in the United States is really nothing new to this Japanese American. He went through grade and high school in Clearfield, Utah, and is thoroughly acquainted with farm work.

Yukio doesn't like the present war any more than most people, but he is caught in it and intends to make the best of his circumstances and the whole thing is washed up.

He is well satisfied with his treatment since he was placed in the reception center at Waikali, which is near Sacramento.

"Treated Sweet"

"We have been treated sweetly here," Yukio had, of course, spent only one night at the farm camp here when interviewed this morning but he said he had a good time.

"Everyone who has treated me kindly," he said. He said that he was anxious to get to work in the fields.

BURLEY ACTS TO HELP BEET MEN

BURLEY, June 3—Confronted with the danger of losing its sugar beet crop because of a serious labor shortage, the burley growers here today acted to help beet men by offering them a definite plan of action.

Thursday morning and continuing every day through next Tuesday, all business hours will be closed until 10 p. m. to help beet men and their employees to work in the beet fields.

RAF Bomber Units "Mop up" Industry Objectives in Ruhr

LONDON, June 3 (AP)—Strong British air squadrons blasted again at the munitions center at Essen last night, mopping up areas which escaped destruction in the 1,036-plane raid Monday night, and striking at other objectives in the Ruhr valley, authorities said today.

While it was emphasized that the scale of operations was not comparable with that of the previous night, a good deal of smoke and ground fire were reported from the Ruhr valley, and the weather was amok and the results are believed to be satisfactory.

With daylight, the British round-the-clock air assault continued and RAF fighters and bombers were scattered across the Dover strait toward German-occupied territory.

FUNDS FOR CCC CAMPS REJECTED BY HOUSE GROUP

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—The House appropriations committee today voted to abolish the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) camps.

The committee reported a 41-158,454,000 bill for the federal security agency and the labor department, struck out an item of $15,818,000 to be used in CCC operation on a curtailed basis during the 1942 fiscal year starting July 1.

The administration had proposed to operate 300 CCC camps.

The committee voted 15 to 12 to deny funds to the CCC on a motion by Rep. Albert Engel, R. Mich. The labor-federal security appropriations subcommittee had divided 15-12 on a motion to strike the CCC funds from the bill, the vote permitting its retention in the measure by the full committee.

WPB Studies on Man's Order of Bathtub, Wife

LOS ANGELES, June 3 (AP)—Federal engineers have been ordered to study the order of a man's bathtub and his wife's bathtub.

Phillips, 37, of South Lancaster, raised chickens and sells eggs at a rate of 10 to 25 cents per week.

"I want to get married," he said in a letter to the board. "My wife says I must have a bathtub. Will her help I can and will be able to do so."

"You don't please allow me to purchase a bathtub for my wife. One ordered but they referred me to you. After working all day in the field, I am tired and need a bathtub. A man should be entitled to a bathtub."

The WPB is thinking it over.

But he declared he never worked very hard.

Dr. Mittelschmidt said in the confession that he recently wounded Reinhard Heydrich, No. 2 man of the German Gestapo, but his former superior in Berlin had instructed him to "organize sabotage, the blowing up of mines, industrial plants and such things."

"Take photographs of harbors and military objectives."

"Furnish information on persons who might be contacted to create strikes."

He said an uncle, Maj. Hans Bebert, the German military intelligence, who got him the job, asked him to:

"Contact John L. Lewis, leader of the CIO, and Harry Bridges, Pacific coast labor leader, to see their attitude toward the problems and their political philosophies and see if they would be useful to Germany, if possible."

"Represent the military intelligence in the field in connection with the Japanese intelligence department on the west coast."

Thanking you most kindly, again, for the editorial and cooperation. I am,

$10,000 ESTATE FOR BARRYMORE

LOS ANGELES, June 3 (AP)—The estate of John Barrymore, who earned more than a million dollars in his lifetime as an actor, amounts to $10,000 or less in cash, plus personal property.

The last testament of the "great profile" to be filed next Tuesday for public reading, provides that the estate go to his three children, Diana Barrymore, 21, daughter by his second wife, Michael Strange, and John Blyth Barrymore, 10, and Ethel Dolores Barrymore, 12, by his third wife, Dolores Costello.

Attorney Gordon Levey said that he was drafted last Dec. 20, replacing the one in existence before Barrymore and his fourth wife, Elaine Barrie, were divorced. Elaine was the only one of John's former mates who was present yesterday at funeral services in calvary cemetery. The ritual was brief.

Serene and majestic as were the services in the chapel, the conduct of many in the crowd of 2,000 that waited outside was inconspicuous. Women and children applauded the sight of some of the movie stars. Camera enthusiasts pushed others aside for vantage points of focus. Some broke through rope barriers and attemptants had difficulty restraining them.

AIRMEN PREDICT NAZI SMASH-UP

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP) — Enthusiastic American airmen, holding Britain's massive bombing attacks on Germany as a demonstration of the true nature of aerial warfare, predicted today that the growing might of British-American air forces would reduce the Nazi to virtual military impotence without opening of a second front.

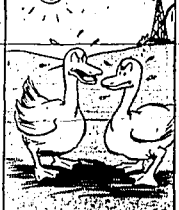

The timing devastation dropped on Cologne and Essen, these experts said, were only the preliminary to a series of attacks on German cities which could cripple the German war machine without the aid of land attacks.

Military men holding more traditional concepts of warfare did not go nearly so far in their appraisal of results. Although they agreed that attainment of some immediate objectives by the use of air power alone was entirely feasible. Mainly, these were:

1. Some relief of pressure on the Russian front by diverting Luftwaffe strength to the protection of industrial cities.
2. Destruction of industrial centers.
3. Destruction of industrial centers, such as the great gun works at Essen and the metal plants at Cologne, so as to make it increasingly difficult for the Nazis to replace their front line war machines.

Beyond these objectives, theories as to how to conquer Germany are split between those who claim that American and British air power can do the whole job and the more traditional strategists who see it as an undertaking for cooperating air and ground forces.

LESSON

There was a new reminder at the sheriff's office today, thanks to Deputy Sheriff John Lister.

In a frame located at the side of the counter where applications are taken for driving licenses are a collection of wreck photographs. The pictures were taken by Times-News photographers.

"I thought that people might like to look to these wrecks over as they fill out their applications for a driving permit," Lister said. "It might show them just what can happen to them if they don't observe the speed and other driving laws."

ONE TON OF OLD STEEL WILL MEAN 5 TONS OF BONBS

Every ton of steel scrap collected during the city-wide collection campaign being conducted by the county defense council under the direction of Supt. of Schools A. W. Morgan means nearly five tons of bombs to be raised on Tokyo and Berlin.

Such computation was made by the state sailing for victory committee in urging both rural and urban residents to search their premises thoroughly for every piece of discarded steel or iron equipment which could be contributed to the nation's war effort.

About half the weight of bombs is steel, it was explained, and the ratio of the iron and scrap steel in making the finished product is about 50-50.

Thus a little over a ton of scrap steel is required to produce five tons of bombs.

City residents are asked to call 672, the board of county commissioners' office.

VENEREAL DISEASE BATTLE MAPPED

The tuberculosis branch of the U. S. public health service has mapped a wide campaign against venereal disease. Dr. C. T. Parkinson, director of the south central Idaho health unit, said after returning from the Seattle meeting of the organization.

The local unit will take an active part in this drive, Dr. Parkinson said.

The director was accompanied to Seattle by Mrs. Parkinson and by two nurses of the south central unit — Mrs. Harry Wilson, Duhl, and Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, Twin Falls.
