BRITISH PLANES THUNDER AHEAD FOR EIGHTH DAY

By DREW MIDDLETON
LONDON, Sunday, June 7.—The British RAF bombers thundered into its eighth day, with a raid early this morning upon the German- and French coast and British coastal guns joined the assault, sending a series of earth-shaking explosions across the channel.

Nazi big gun positions in the Boulogne and Cap Gris Nez areas appear to be the target of the post-midnight attack, which followed a third powerful night assault Friday on Germany's industrial belt. Ruhr and a Saturday daylight sweep perhaps outdoors all others over northern France.

German Strike
The Germans struck back early today, making an hour's attack on the southeast coast with high explosive and fire bombs.

3,000 Bombers in Attacks
Hundreds of Britain's fighter planes were seen in the air over the enemy-occupied coast last night as British bombers estimated that they had destroyed 100 German aircraft and had dropped 10,000 incendiary bombs on cities of the rich, but war-torn, continent.

BEET VOLUNTEERS WILL WHIP-CRISIS

BOISE, June 6 (AP)—Turnout of white collar workers for a few days will "whip" the labor shortage in southwestern Idaho sugar beet fields, A. J. Tillman, Idaho director of the U. S. employment service, said today.

Work remains in some areas, he said, but in the Nampa factory district most of the beet thinning had been completed. Work was practically completed in Payette and Washington counties.

Tillman also disclosed that the manner in which southern Idaho white collar workers were turning out to prevent loss of sugar beet crops was attracting nationwide attention.

One letter, received from an Indianapolis, Ind., youth-teen to join the navy air corp, expressed the sentiment of many persons, Tillman said.

The letter, addressed to Tillman, said: "It is not my habit to write every person that I hear of who is helping our great war effort, but when I read of how the people of the state of Idaho left their jobs to work the sugar beet crop, I couldn't help writing to you and telling you how wonderful all the rest of America thinks it is of them."

"Of course, individually they will never know how much you will appreciate their efforts, but it shows that all of us are determined to preserve freedom. I am sure that shortly for pilot training in the navy air corps to do my part, and I am happy to do it knowing that there are more people throughout the world like the citizens of Idaho."

The letter was signed by Ben Burber, Indianapolis, Ind.

Camping Scouts Must Take Exam

All Boy Scouts and Scouters who plan to attend camp this summer must submit to a physical examination according to a letter sent by Scout Executive Gordon Day. MOVIE STAR SYSTEM BRINGS 'MANIACAL' DISPLAYS

Editor, Times-News: One evening of the disreputable demonstration by the public outside the chapel at the last rites of the actor John Barrymore, my mind recalled a particular occurrence as I was walking down Vine street in Hollywood one afternoon. "Bubbling ahead of me with a nonchalant air was a youth who all of a sudden gave forth with whoop and dashed down the street (today, I would think it was the outcry of one who was suddenly conscious of an air raid). A split second after this exclamation of the husily dewing adolescent, I saw dashes from nearby street crossings and store foyers, innumerable persons all hurrying to one point of demonstration. I soon came to the congregated scene and recognized the popular movie actor, Pat O'Brien, king of humanity—feverishly signing autograph books of the autograph hounds who had seemed to make their appearance as though a magician had produced them from thin air.

TWO MOODS FOR BERT MILLER
Bert J. Miller, attorney general for Idaho, whose office is responsible for administration of the state's unfair sales act designed to protect small merchants against unfair competition, found himself in a fog when the federal price control act became effective and the OPA went into effect.

So he made a trip to Washington to get first hand information from the Office of Price Administration, and what he found out opened his eyes. Now he has written a letter of protest to Senator D. Worth Clark, saying "I think it is up to you and your colleagues to see to it that such unwarranted extravagance, as is evidenced in connection with this matter, be checked and curtailed. All other things considered, the congress of the United States is still charged with some responsible duties."

The attorney general saw "acres of floor space . . . thousands and thousands of articles of merchandise . . . hundreds and hundreds of automobiles, hundreds of Leon Henderson, price administrator at $1,000 a month, washing, lime riding a bicycle to save rubber, while without restrictions, 6500 taxis cruised around Washington looking for fares."

"I particularly resent the man to whom I was assigned if he thought he could administer the Office of Price Administration with 300,000 attaches," said Miller. "He took me seriously and expressed the belief that they could."

In his letter to Senator Clark, the attorney general quoted D. C. Stansbury of Seattle, recruiting specialist for the OPA, as saying that the OPA nationally will employ 315,000 persons and that Idaho's personnel quota of 150 will be increased three-fold by the end of the year.

"It is a very conservative estimate to say that the aggregate salaries of these employees will average $200 per month and that the overhead for each will not be less than $100 per month," said the attorney general. "These amounts, multiplied by the estimated number of employees, will aggregate the sum of $94,500,000 per month, or $1,134,000,000 per annum. In other words, and on the authority of Mr. Stansbury, it will cost more money to operate the OPA than Uncle Sam's 'million dollar congress,' which provided the funds for all governmental departments, including the army and navy."

"In addition to this lavish expenditure of money," he says, "the further situation to consider, that is, manpower. What vast amount of war materials could be produced if the efforts and energies of these anticipated 315,000 employees of the OPA were directed along productive lines?"

Mr. Miller contends that the principle of Idaho's unfair sales act would come closer to accomplishing what the government is trying to do, than is possible with the OPA's "highly extravagant, complicated, unwieldy and difficult system."

Fixed by the new federal regulations will not be the same for any of the retailers, Miller pointed out, because they are based on the highest retail prices each retailer was charging in March. He repeated that the OPA is not to be fixed, and then, it will continue to exist, and with this system will come the need for a vast personnel to police individual retailers.

"As I see the picture," he says, "all that is required is to place a maximum price on the war materials and to allow the government to be fair to the retailer. The only matter then would be to ascertain if the retailer was selling in excess of the permitted markup."

Since the OPA's general counsel advised him that the act would be "a disaster," he said, "practically, must give way when it is inconsistent with a federal statute," the attorney general apparently has formulated some very definite opinions on the ways certain government bureaus are managing our affairs.

VOTERS WILL BALLOT ON 16 JURISDICTIONS IN FALL ELECTIONS

NINE JURISDICTIONS CAMP ALIGN PLANS

By PHILIP HEARING
BOISE, June 6 (AP)—For the first time in four years Idaho will elect its judges in a bi-partisan ballot election. The judges have informed the Associated Press they will seek re-election in 1942. The judges, Koelch of Boise, has indicated he will seek a fourth term unless he is defeated in the upcoming election. The other two seats are to be filled.

Three more of the jurists have indicated strongly they would run again, according to friends. The remaining three, although they have not announced publicly, also are expected to seek reelection, legal circles reported.

Four Year Terms
The judges are elected for four-year terms on a bi-partisan ballot initiated in 1933. The last previous election was in 1938.

In addition, Supreme Court Chief Justice Raymond L. Owens and Associate Justice Alfred Budge have announced they intend to run for reelection. No opposition to either has as yet been evidenced, unless Koelch decides to seek a fourth term.

The supreme court pays its members $5,000 annually, the district courts $4,000.

Also among the candidates are Wallace, Bert E. Reed of Coeur d'Alene, and Miles S. Johnson of Lewiston. The judges who would run again, while in the "unannounced" category are Judges Isaac McArthur of Coeur d'Alene, G. J. Taylor of Idaho Falls and James W. Porter of Twin Falls.

The first judicial district, that of Judge Pennington, is the only one containing only one county, Shoshone.

Judge Morgan sits in the second district comprising Clearwater and Latah counties. Judges Koelch and Winstead in the third—Ada, Blaine, Elmore and Owyhee. Judges Budge in the fourth—Blaine, Camas, Gobe and Lincoln. Judge Downing, Douglas and Powers in the fifth—Bonneville, Bear Lake, Caribou, Bonanza, Blaine and Bling. Judge Elder and Bunker in the sixth—Blaine, Canyon, Camas, Prayette, Valley and Washington. Judges Reed and Ed-wards in the seventh—Bonneville, Boundary and Kootenai. Judge Taylor in the eighth—Bonneville, Clark, Jefferson and Madison. Judge McArthur in the ninth—Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, Lewis and Nez Perce and Shoshone. Judge Taylor in the tenth—Cassia, Jerome, Minidoka and Twin Falls counties.

Each candidate for district court judge must have 100 signatures for his name on petitions and each candidate for the supreme court 200. Petitions of candidates must be filed with the secretary of state between June 12 and July 11. Voters ballot only for the candidates in their district.

In districts having only one judge, the electorate receives a majority of all votes cast at the primary he is elected without running at the time of the general election.

In districts having two judges, if the electorate receives a majority of half the votes cast at the primary he is elected. It is possible for two judges in the same district to be elected in the primary even though they may have opposition.

LARGE AUDIENCE CHEERS DANGERS

By MRS. J. G. VENTER
BURLING, June 6—"Good News," the brilliant dance revue presented at the Grand Hotel, Burlington, Monday night, was enthusiastically received by the large audience which filled the theater to more than 1,000 persons.

Highlights of the evening was the "Ballroomology" dancing of Wayne and Roberts, their classical style and beauty of interpretation. There were also an outstanding number was the dance, "Me and My Shadow," by Gary Meyer, and young Buhl dancer, and Wayne Kenworthy as the showstopper. The brilliant show with solo numbers, young Buhl dancer, and Wayne Kenworthy as the showstopper. The brilliant show with solo numbers, young Buhl dancer, and Wayne Kenworthy as the showstopper.

Always a popular performer with his solo numbers, Wayne Kenworthy continued progress in style and beauty of dancing. Her "Superiority" was a delightful surprise.

Little Lucille Langdon almost stole the show with solo numbers. If all the Langdon girls who performed in the revue are sisters, it should come as a "surprise."

Popular novelty numbers were "A Sailor's Life," a trio to which Jean Boudewick, Betty Jean George and Barbara Young danced in, and "The Blue Bird," a public meeting, a trio by Gary Meyer, Leonard Short and Art Koenig as "Superiority" ("Captain Meyer"), "The Sludger," "Red, White but Not Sold," a cute group number by Betty Jean George, and "The Blue Bird."

LAND AIRPLANES AIDED IN ATTACK

By CARL C. CRANNIER
NEW YORK, June 6 (AP)—The navy and air battle raged around Midway Island probably has been precipitated by Japan's effort to seize at least one base point in the Hawaiian islands.

Some of the events of the past week are being re-examined. An expedition across nearly 2,000 miles of open sea was carefully planned and thought out. And that apparently unrelated actions were part of a premeditated scheme.

The Japanese may have figured that after the battle in the Coral Sea, they would be able to push forward for a new Japanese base in that direction, the United States fleet would be found off Hawaii.

They may have calculated further that the taken attack on Dutch Harbor, 2,300 miles to the north, which first heralded the presence of a Japanese naval force in the eastern Pacific, would send such forces of ours as remained at Pearl Harbor scurrying to cover Alaska and the northwestern approaches to the United States.

Young, but resourceful, motherless twin lambs learn their food problem satisfactorily with the cooperation of an obliging Quinsay cow on a Bushford, Minn., farm. Whether the call approves of the arrangement is something else again. You can observe a scene similar to this—but with a slightly different cast—on a farm near Rupert. There the diners are little pigs.

CLARK PONDERING MORE BEET HELP

BOISE, June 6 (AP)—Governor Clark awaited tonight a report on progress of sugar beet thinning in southern Idaho before he indicated state employees into the fields to meet a once-critical shortage of farm labor.

The shortage, which last week threatened to force farmers to plow their beet beds, was apparently dissolved tonight by A. J. Tillman, Idaho director for the U. S. employment service, who expressed belief the entire beet crop would be saved "if the city workers keep working."

The governor, who has spent almost half his time this week wading through a mountain of public correspondence, said he would again today. He declared a holiday for all state employees desiring to work on farms during the week.

If thinning is not completed in the valley area he indicated, he would extend the holiday an additional day.

Tillman said townpeople may be called upon to aid in farm work later in the season, although even a few more beet thinners would ease the load. About 2,000 were sought but so far only a fraction of that number has arrived.

Still to be met met are labor demands for the first and second beet seedings and the peas and cherry crops. Those tasks, Tillman pointed out, were not as great and would not create as much of a labor need.

First "Oldster" Called in Draft By Local Board

A fellow residing on rural route two, Twin Falls, could be named as a registrant in the first draft following the first to be selected for immediate army service from among the 16 draft classes existing in the February 16 draft (35-45 year old class) with selective service board No. 1. It is a first for a number of reasons.

No. 1 reason is that selective service board No. 1 is the only one which enforces the names of registrants about to be taken in the draft. It is the only one that does not require men never violate confidences, while No. 3 is that the registrant cannot be located to obtain his consent for the use of his name.

The rural route registrant was the only one put in 1-A from among more than 300 registrants in the Feb. 16 draft who status has been considered by the local board. He already has volunteered to go in the first call for the 35-45 year old class.

Two hundred and seventy-two Lefly registrants in the Feb. 16 draft have been placed in the 3-A class, one in 1-C, one in 4-D, one in 4-F, 14 in 2-C and three in 2-B.

About 50 other registrants in the class have been called for examination, court and service clerk of local board, announced.

A number of registrants in the Feb. 16 draft will be called for service during July along with registrants in the first and second drafts.

Vacation Bible Classes Progress

JEROME, June 6—Concluding the first of 16 two scheduled weeks, the vacation church school, sponsored jointly by the Presbyterian, Methodist and Christian churches, held a union devotional service Friday.

In charge of the pre-school department are Mrs. George Buckley and Mrs. W. L. Boyer.

The primary course is directed by Mrs. E. M. Peterson, with Miss Margaret Herbert assisting.

A Junior course is taught by John McConnell, with Miss Louise Smith assisting.

In charge of girls' handwork are Miss Mary Ann Platin and Miss Anna Lou Giles, who also serve as secretaries for the school. Rev. Charles Hoyle, superintendent of the school, conducts the worship period and instructs a handwork group in photography.

The school is open to all children not enrolled elsewhere. Parents are invited to visit classes, especially on Thursday of next week.

"Over the Top"

WENDELL, June 6 — Gooding county's USO drive is reported by Lefly to have topped the year's total of $120,000. Gooding raised $645, but was over its quota last week. Both the Wenatchee and Ingerman have exceeded theirs. Final figures are not yet available.

Please Note These Changes In Your Telephone Service

EFFECTIVE LAST NIGHT AT MIDNIGHT

Ringing Signal This is a steady burr-ringing sound at short intervals to indicate that the bell of the called telephone is ringing. After you have waited a reasonable length of time for the called party to answer, hang up and try the call later. The operator will no longer come in on the line to say "I am ringing."

Busy Signal When the telephone you are calling is busy, the operator will no longer come in on the line to tell you. Instead you will hear the busy signal which is a rapid buzz-buzz sound. As soon as you hear the busy signal replace your receiver and try the call later.

Every operator can now handle local and long distance calls so it is no longer necessary to ask for "Long Distance."

Cook-out's Fun For Vacation—And Here's How

First you build a fire, and then you let it die down to ashes. Then you wrap up the meat, paper and let it cook and you cook it until it's done enough to eat.

There's a lot more to it than that, really. There's all the fun and excitement that goes with building a fire and having a picnic in an orchard at the close of day.

Just how much fun a cook-out will be experienced by Twin Falls Camp Fire girls next Tuesday, June 9, when they attend the second event of a "Happy Summer," planned by the Twin Falls Camp Fire council.

The girls will assemble at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the city park and leave exactly five minutes later for the orchard on the country home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Chase.

Miss Virginia Ann Chase and Miss Judy Jones will be the counselors in charge.

One mother from each Camp Fire group will be responsible for the transportation of her own group...

Each girl will take her own picnic lunch, a cup and an uncooked egg. If a girl fails to arrive with an uncooked egg, she'll better bring an extra in case of emergency.

The girls will work on ragged-finding honors. Those attending the outing will be divided into groups, and each group will build two fires, one for warmth and one for cooking.

The second fire will be allowed to die down to ashes, and the uncooked eggs will then be wrapped in wet paper and leaves and prepared for the picnic supper.

Each girl participating will earn two honors, and have a lot of fun, according to the committee.

F. M. Club Party Mrs. Emma Balch was hostess to the F. M. club Friday afternoon at a luncheon, followed by an afternoon of cards.

COWBOYS ROSE TO 10-INNING THRILLER TO SALT LAKE, 10-8

Bees Hit 4 Homers To Take Sugfest In Series Opener

A two-run outburst in the tenth inning handed Big Jim Olsen, young Cowboy hurler, his first Pioneer league defeat last night when the Salt Lake Bees captured the initial game of a new series 10-8.

Helped by Jimmy Dow on base in the last half of the ninth inning knocked the score after he had hit since the first inning.

Salt Lake slugged for hits off four Cowboy hurlers, including Reeves, Be centerfielder, smacked two of the circuit clouts and Tru Kerr, former Cowboy utility man, landed his only homer. Sanders' home came in the 10th inning with the base empty to take the game for the Utahns. The Cowboys touched Orelle, Ball, Liche pitcher, for 12 hits three of which came from the bat of Jack Lechler, Twin Falls shortstop.

Don Noriega, who pitched last year in the Arizona-Texas league, made his initial appearance with the Twin Falls club and pitched for five hits and four runs in the 12 1/2 innings he worked.

He relieved Bill Williams in the first inning after he had scored three runs and a Hernandez pinch runner in the second. Kerr and Reeves opened the first by clouting homers of Chenard, Sander and Chenard through third to win the game.

Williams walked Brown scored an error.

Pocostello runs scored in the sixth. Peterson singled to open the rally. Barr walked and Paulson singled to score. Peterson and Doug Williams walked Brown scored an error.

Portland Tips Padres, Oaks Defeat Angels

LOS ANGELES, June 6 (AP)—Oaks defeated Padres, untying a five-run uprising in the sixth inning, trounced San Diego to win the third game of a three-game series in the Pacific Coast league today.

White Sox Win Over Boston By 3-1 Score

BOSTON, June 6 (AP)—Don DiMaggio, the first man Orval Grove faced, banged a home run today, but after that the 22-year-old Chicago right-hander had things pretty much his own way as the White Sox beat the Boston Red Sox 3 to 1.

Grove was found for only four hits and had comparatively good control, winning only three men. The Red Sox made a "team cycle," single, double, triple and home run—but they couldn't banish him.

Meanwhile, the White Sox belted Ted Hughes and Bill Rutledge, Boston pitchers, for 10 hits. Chicago scored all their runs off Hughes, who gave up nine hits in seven innings.

Reds Put Down Russet Rally To Win, 8-7

IDAHIO FALLS, June 6 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs put down a spirited Idaho Falls uprising in the nick of time tonight to edge out the Reds 8 to 7 in a Pioneer baseball league game.

The Reds were about 8 to 4 going into the last half of the final frame. But the home-town Russets staged a rally that stopped only one run short of a tie score.

Tom Ryan started the Russets' ninth-frame uprising with a single. Steve Hester hit a home run off Les Mulcahy, who walked to fill the bases. Ray Adams drew a base on balls that forced

Dodgers Annex Mound Duel From Cubs, 2-0

CHICAGO, June 6 (AP)—Curt Davis and Bill Lee had a tight mound duel today as he pitched the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 2-0 shutout over the Chicago Cubs for his fifth straight victory and his eighth of the season.

With the second and third place teams, St. Louis and New York, bumping into a postponement, the triumph of the Dodgers' National league lead to seven games.

The Cubs got a runner to third base in the first, fifth, seventh and eighth innings but the Dodgers' defense held them out.

Red Ruffing Hurls 250th Victory And 39th Shutout

NEW YORK, June 6 (AP)—Charley (Red) Ruffing, dean of the New York Yankee pitching staff and winner of more games than any other major league hurler, reached the 250 mark today when he tossed a fancy four-hitter at the Cleveland Indians for a 3-0 shutout.

Joe Gordon helped the Yankee righthander become the first active pitcher to win 250 games and boosted his own hitting streak to 22 consecutive games by driving in all the runs on a first-inning double with the bases loaded.

The victory was the sixth of the year against two defeats for Ruffing. He has won 19 previous seasons with the Yankees and the Boston Red Sox. Ruffing also leads the major league pitchers in shutouts and today's whitewash was his second in his career, two more than the National star season pitcher, Brooklyn's Larry French.

Buddy Hassett singled with one out in the seventh inning, increasing his hitting streak to 11 straight games. Tommy Henrich sent Hassett to his second homer as Joe DiMaggio was fouled purposely to fill the bases.

Charles Keller fouled out, but Gordon smacked a two-bagger to left field to center the rally. Thereafter neither pitcher allowed more than one hit an inning until the eighth, when Lou Bourque hit a single to get the last two of the four singles off Ruffing, only to be left stranded when the Yankee star failed to pitch better at Milton and forced Dean to ground out.

Ruffing came through with one out in the seventh inning, increasing his hitting streak to 11 straight games. Tommy Henrich sent Hassett to his second homer as Joe DiMaggio was fouled purposely to fill the bases.

A's Get Revenge, Win Over Browns

PHILADELPHIA, June 6 (AP)—Despite a seventh-inning shutout that nettled them four runs, the St. Louis Browns were defeated by the Philadelphia Athletics 4 to 3 today. The Browns knocked Roger Wolff, rookie knuckle-ball pitcher, out of the box in the seventh but southpaw Hermin Hanning in the eighth, allowed only two hits the rest of the way.

It was vengeance for the A's, who took a 10-1 beating from the Browns in a 16-inning encounter last night. St. Louis led 4 to 0 in Philadelphia at 11:15.

CARIBBEAN CRISIS

BY EATON K. GOLDTHWAITE

JUNE ENLISTS CHAPTER XIX.

SOMEONE was standing in the corridor; someone's hand was on the knob of the door. Talcott was in a terrible spot there. He heard the door opening, he heard the rest of his ship-board days in the brig. If it were the steward, wondering why he took so long, he would be a little better off. But he would have to show the envelope to prove good faith and the steward, when Halsey's search began, would remember. Why, he thought agonizedly, couldn't I have said a magazine! The tumbling at the knob stopped, and knuckles sounded against the polished wood panel. "That's Halsey," he thought. "Who's there?" Talcott called.

"Constantine," the professor's voice quavered. "Didn't get a chance to speak to you in the dining room— is your headache any better?"

"Blessed relief— I quite, thank you, trying to make his voice sound like Halsey's."

"May I come in?"

"Not just now, I'm dressing."

"Oh." Disappointment. Then, "All right. See you on deck."

Talcott waited, counting to 20 and then he opened the door. The envelope tucked under his arm, stepped nonchalantly to the corridor. The professor was gone and the steward was nowhere in sight. A short distance aft a couple blocked the passageway, discussing plans for the evening.

What to do with the envelope. Put it back? Halsey would immediately see the rip in the flap and would naturally assume that the true contents had been appropriated and blank paper substituted. No. Better to take the envelope and leave it overboard. Unless— Could Struthers' report be written in invisible ink? Under ordinary circumstances such a thing would have smacked too much of fiction. Now, he wasn't sure.

He couldn't hide it in his cabin. Search and discovery would leave him without a straw of defense. No. Find a hiding place, and soon. There wasn't much time—

He found it. In all places, the feet from locker J12, beside the door to Halsey's stateroom. Only a map-catch held its glass-enclosed front and Talcott, swinging out the ribbon-racked hose, placed the envelope behind.

HE was pacing the deck when he saw a lone figure leaning over the rail, watching the moon. It was June Paterson and at his approach she glanced up and then hastily away. "Hello," she said dispiritedly.

"Hello yourself," he replied with forced joviality. "Where are the rest of our playmates?"

"If you mean Martha Swenson, she's with the doctor. Looking at the moon. Maybe you'd like to join her."

He tucked her hand under his arm. "Let's find a couple of chairs and look at the moon ourselves. That is, if you can stand my company."

She didn't answer that, but she accompanied him. Which in itself was a little of a surprise. Forward they found two unoccupied chairs, a little apart from the others.

"You like to sit beside me?" she asked.

"Are you sure you trust me?"

"More than I trust myself."

She sighed. "I'm terribly glad. Really, I'm not a bad person, just have the unhappy faculty of hurting most the people I want to hurt the least."

"I suppose you refer to your spying on MacDowell and me back on Abas Island?"

Her head turned quickly. "Spying? Do you mean the time I walked into MacDowell's room? I wasn't spying. You were so wrapped-up in yourselves you didn't even hear me. And I was a little bit angry with you because you wouldn't take Leonard Halsey's suggestion."

"Halsey?"

"It was he who told MacDowell to remind you of your rights of fighting extradition if you so desired. Didn't MacDowell tell you that?"

So that was how it was. MacDowell, still groggy from the blow on his head, had forgotten who gave him the idea. No wonder Halsey's attitude had changed. Halsey had been trying to help him, Halsey and the girl. Sighing he said, "I'm sorry June. I owe both you and Halsey an apology. I'm pretty much mixed up."

"I'm not surprised. I've kept silent because you acted so— so darned formal and disapproving. It was your attitude that made me mad. But I couldn't help noticing what was happening to you. You're not a criminal. I don't know what's behind all this, or why. But I do know you."

SUDDENLY he understood. Her reticence. Her seeming apologetic. Her swift changes of mood. She, an old acquaintance and cousin of his best friend had expected her, at least to feel welcome. And how had he acted? She was talking again; low, as if it were painful: "You forget that I grew up with Lowell. He was my ideal. Anything that he held above other men and his virtues and accomplishments were standard bywords. It was I who wanted you into our first blind date."

And he had doubted her! She was in effect confessing that she had fallen in love with him as a girl; that as a woman she had accepted him as a standard to be held above other men and his virtues and accomplishments were standard bywords. It was I who wanted you into our first blind date.

"Good heavens!"

"In it your pride? I shall further cast mine. The winds tell you that I visited Saint Thomas with the sole purpose and intent of seeing you."

"No, no!" Against his will, it came out in a tumbling rush. Everything. The frame-up, his suspicions, his fears. No smallest item did he leave out, even to discovering that the "report" in Halsey's envelope was nothing but sheets of blank paper.

At its end she was silent; so silent that he leaned over in annoyance, thinking she must have fallen asleep. But she was very much awake, and the flash in her eyes warned him to turn.

His room steward, the one he had asked about the grotesque bald-headed man, stood by his chair. "Mr. Talcott, sir? The gentleman, Mr. MacDowell, wishes to see you immediately. On the boat deck, sir. He said it was important."

The steward trotted away and Talcott climbed to his feet. June Paterson arose also, saying, "How that we have completely barred our route I'd like to enlist on your side. I'm really very clever."

He looked at her thoughtfully, and suddenly gathering her in his arms, kissed her hard on the mouth. Nor did she try to pull away.

QUALITY BY KUPPENHEIMER. COUNTDOWN TO KEEP COOL. A man in a suit holding a briefcase. Text: District court attaches think it sets some kind of record in Idaho a mother and her daughter both receiving divorce decrees on the same day in the same court, and each testifying for the other. The decrees went to Mrs. Cora E. Walker, Buhl, and Mrs. Lillie Amy Brown, her daughter, also of Buhl. Mrs. Brown was a witness in support of her mother's claim that Ernest C. Walker was guilty of non-support. Mrs. Walker testified in support of her daughter's assertion that William George Brown was jealous and nagging. Mrs. Walker married July 15, 1918. Mrs. Brown married Feb. 20 of this year. Attorney for both wives was J. T. Taylor. Buhl former attorney-general J. W. Porter executed the decrees.
