British Mass at Gates of Matruh; Slow Nazi Attack

CAIRO, June 27 (AP)—The British eighth army stood reinforced at full strength—15 miles west of Matruh against a powerful axis striking force spearheaded by three mechanized divisions aiming at Alexandria, 165 miles away and the Suez canal beyond.

The British eighth army was in position on a chosen line 115 miles inside Egypt, and military men said that when the imminently expected German onslaught comes, the veterans will defend Egypt inch by inch.

With the enemy within 150 miles of the Suez canal, the British eighth army was in position on a chosen line 115 miles inside Egypt, and military men said that when the imminently expected German onslaught comes, the veterans will defend Egypt inch by inch.

Throughout the day and night, the allied air force which includes some of the United States army's B-24 bombers, fought against the approaching enemy host.

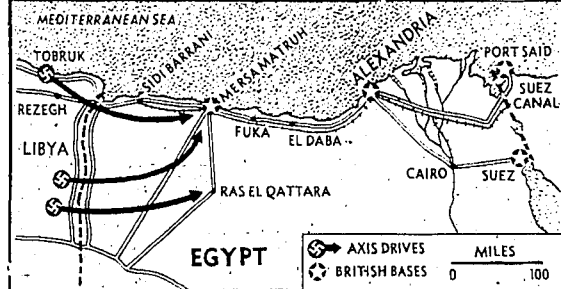

By day and night, bomber and fighter-bomber formations of the allied air force in the battle area have been turned against the enemy ground forces and grounded air forces in the area of Matruh.

Axis Lines Harassed
The axis zone of forward operations while still only about 60 miles from Matruh on the coast was criss-crossed by planes guided by radio beams and directed to a terrific toll from the invader before he came to grips with the battered eighth army.

Home's Drive
Home's drive had definitely ended at the moment the German was believed to be exercising considerable caution before tackling the final stretch of Matruh and waiting for his onslaught.

German Captures 8
NEW YORK, June 27 (AP)—General Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, tonight said the FBI had apprehended eight alien agents who infiltrated the United States from two German submarines.

Where Climactic Battle for Egypt Rages

Mapped here is the three-pronged drive of Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's armored force into Egypt where German and British armies may meet in a major clash before Matruh, anchor of the new British defense line, 140 miles east of the Libyan frontier.

CIVILIAN CONTROL OF BUYING URGED

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—Full civilian control over army and navy purchases, so far as it has not already been achieved, is being urged by members of the senate defense investigating committee who said they are not sure that the war production board might lose its authority in a current reorganization move.

Chairman Truman, D. Mo. and Senator Mendenhall, D. N. D., said they desired to see Donald M. Nelson, the war production chief, retain the final decision on the letting of major contracts but believed the assistance of several Nelson's aides in the war and navy departments might portend a change in policy.

Army Wants More Freedom
Under the present arrangement Nelson can issue orders for arms and navy purchases, so far as it has not already been achieved, is being urged by members of the senate defense investigating committee who said they are not sure that the war production board might lose its authority in a current reorganization move.

While Nelson assured the committee that he was fulfilling complete responsibility over the war production effort, Mendenhall said he was impressed by Nelson's desire to retain the final decision, it is best for the country to have the authority originally delegated to the WPB chief.

CHURCHILL VIEWS AMERICAN TROOPS IN "SHAM BATTLE"

FORCES SOON TO FIGHT BY BRITISH

FORT JACKSON, S. C., June 24 (Delayed) — Prime Minister Winston Churchill last night gave a range of live artillery shells today to go through battle maneuvers with American forces that are fighting soon alongside British troops "not as invaders, but as liberators."

With our soldiers fighting it was connected with super-realism for the British leader here at the world's largest infantry post. Interrupting for a day his Washington conference with President Roosevelt, he spent the day watching troops from the eighth motorized division, and the 30th and 70th infantry divisions, which simulated warfare that lacked little in reality but the dead and wounded.

Missing in Action

(Publication of this account of his visit to South Carolina on Wednesday was withheld until Churchill's safe return to Great Britain.)

He saw transport planes loaded to fight parachute troops ready in his ample leg.

He was in a dusty dugout and saw a peaceful little village pulverized by heavy artillery and tanks whose light-musket mms guns whammed out live shells.

He saw harmless-looking scrub trees in a stone's throw suddenly come alive with machine guns that set big fires with their gleaming flash bulbs.

Churchill's impressions.

And when it was over, Churchill said he was "enormously impressed by the thoroughness and precision with which the formation of the United States is proceeding."

"The day will come when British army units will march into countries not as invaders, but as liberators, riding down under cruel barbarian yokes," he said.

"That day may come to those who are not fighting across seas and months, but when the day comes, it will be worth your while to be fighting for."

"When it comes, it will make amends for all the suffering which it will open the way to larger freedom and to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness as the grand words of your declaration of independence put it."

LEADERS OBJECT TO BAN ON FAIRS

Lundquist declared he thought "we should cooperate with the government but not object."

"If the rubber situation is so acute that they want to cut out these county fairs to save it, then they let them clamp down on these other things which are causing the use of rubber every day in this year, such as the baseball games, classes and other things."

Cancellation Resolution
At one point Claude Detweiler, member of the Twin Falls county fair board, offered a resolution calling for the cancellation of all fairs and "because we think it's only our duty to cooperate in anything we are asked to do."

This resolution was later withdrawn as the members know that such members were in favor, for the most part, of holding the fairs if such a step was at all possible. It was then called for no resolution until August and an official of the International Fair Association filed a "Certificate Statement." This motion was offered by Paul Keroult, secretary of the Gooding fair board.

After more than two hours of discussion the fair board voted that Clark, Burley, secretary of the state board, was in favor of such a decision and that no action be taken until an answer is received from this wire.

Big Chief Attends
Among those attending the session was J. B. Newport, Boise, state secretary of agriculture, who announced that he is a member of the fair board, through him, urged the fair members to "work out their problems and solve themselves and with Eastman."

heavy toll of cargo ships, the actual production of new tonnage is actually increasing month by month," they said in pronouncing action to cut down the effectiveness of German submarine warfare on allied shipping.

The statement, released simultaneously in Washington and London, looks "full confidence of allied dispatches and advances, but when the whole it was an optimistic comment from the two ranking leaders of the United Nations."

"The United Nations have never been in such hearty and detailed agreement on plans for winning the war as they are today," the statement said.

"In the matter of production of munitions of all kinds," Mr. Roosevelt and Churchill said their agreement was on the whole an optimistic one.

"The previously planned monthly output has not reached the maximum but is fast approaching it on schedule," they said.

"Because of the wide extension of the war in all parts of the world, together with the transportation of the fighting forces, the United Nations," the two leaders said.

While Churchill was at the White House, he and the President called in ranking shipping experts of Great Britain and the United States. The statement today gave no concrete indication as to what these steps will be.

"The week of conferences between the President and the prime minister covered fully all of the major problems of the war which is conducted by the United Nations on every continent and in every sea," they said.

Here Is How New Draftee Gets Number

The oldest youth whose name is first in the alphabet among the existing 700 to register in the fifth draft under the jurisdiction of Twin Falls selective service board No. 1 on Tuesday, June 30, will receive No. 1291.

This means that after all available army manpower in the first, second and third drafts (the 25-43 year old group) has been exhausted, No. 1291 will be considered for army duty in the fourth draft (the 43-65 year old group) are available for occupational duty only, while the next number in the third draft is 1292.

No Lottery
"There will be no draft lottery so far as it concerns this new class," Capt. J. H. Staver, clerk of selective service board No. 1, announced today.

The oldest registrant whose name is first in the alphabet will be considered first for army duty and so on down the list to the youngest whose name is last in the alphabet. The names of the registrants will be given the new registrar at a meeting of the local board on July 1.

Youths required to register, whether a citizen of the United States or not, who were born on or after Jan. 1, 1922, and up to June 30, 1942.

Registrants who will be between 17 and 19 years of age, Wednesday, June 24, and 18 or older, Wednesday, June 25, will be in charge at Hansen and Parley Perkins at the local board.

Registrants at Milner will be under the jurisdiction of the Cassia county board.

Lundquist declared he thought "we should cooperate with the government but not object."

"If the rubber situation is so acute that they want to cut out these county fairs to save it, then they let them clamp down on these other things which are causing the use of rubber every day in this year, such as the baseball games, classes and other things."

Cancellation Resolution
At one point Claude Detweiler, member of the Twin Falls county fair board, offered a resolution calling for the cancellation of all fairs and "because we think it's only our duty to cooperate in anything we are asked to do."

This resolution was later withdrawn as the members know that such members were in favor, for the most part, of holding the fairs if such a step was at all possible. It was then called for no resolution until August and an official of the International Fair Association filed a "Certificate Statement." This motion was offered by Paul Keroult, secretary of the Gooding fair board.

After more than two hours of discussion the fair board voted that Clark, Burley, secretary of the state board, was in favor of such a decision and that no action be taken until an answer is received from this wire.

Among those attending the session was J. B. Newport, Boise, state secretary of agriculture, who announced that he is a member of the fair board, through him, urged the fair members to "work out their problems and solve themselves and with Eastman."

Check Price List, Merchants Urged

Retail merchants who have filed their lists of cost of living articles with the local rationing board were asked yesterday by Carl Anderson, board chairman, to check whether their lists have been filed out properly.

He said many of the merchants had signed only their names and left off the names of their firms and the location.

It is the deadline for filing lists of cost of living articles. The lists must be forwarded by the local board to Washington on that day.

Sugar Ration Books

BUILT, June 27—Bernard Starr, city clerk, announces that sugar rationing books and certificates for canning sugar are now at his office and may be obtained by all persons who, because of surplus sugar on hand or other conditions, have not yet received their war rationing books and certificates. His office will be headquarters for the distribution of sugar rationing.

CLASH IN PHONE USE REQUESTED

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—Curtailed use of telephone calls—both local and long distance—was urged today by Chairman of the War Relocation Authority, W. L. Rorer, in a report to the War Relocation Authority.

His request was made in letters to telephone companies and heads of government agencies. The companies were asked to seek the cooperation of the public in curtailing long-distance calls as much as possible.

Mr. Rorer said there has been a steady increase in calls from many parts of the country and that important official calls often were delayed.

Toll calls, other than those placed during the war, should be reduced during off-peak periods, Mr. Rorer said, between 12 noon and 2 p. m., between 2 p. m. and 9 p. m., and between 9 p. m. and 6 a. m.

He requested government agencies to employ more telegraph wherever possible and to place long-distance calls during the off-peak periods whenever practicable.

RUBBER SALVAGE SPEED-UP ASKED

With only three more days to go—today, Monday and Tuesday—E. E. Ostrander, Twin Falls, chairman of the Rubber Salvage Association, tonight urged citizens of south central Idaho to go all-out as they bring in their scrap rubber.

After a late check Saturday of the district office in each of the 10 counties of the district over which he is general chairman, Ostrander announced that total tonnage up until that time was 650.

"This figure of 650 tons probably does not include much rubber which is still being held, piled in front of various service stations," he said. "If we will have to work and work hard during the next three days (including Sunday) we can get our quota anywhere near our assigned quota of 1,563 tons," he said.

The district chairman pointed out that all service stations will pay one cent a pound for scrap rubber, as authorized by the federal government.

"And the people of Magic Valley can rest assured that every pound of rubber turned in will find its way into the war industry," Ostrander added.

Buhl Boy Earns Fast Promotion In Navy Service

From ordinary seaman to aviation mechanic in less than three months is traveling "pretty fast" in the opinion of Chief Petty Officer Ed Edmonson, chief mechanic here, here. But Lester L. Ballou, son of Mrs. Pearl Larson, room 409, Buhl, has an excellent record in the navy.

The young man enlisted at the local station on August 7, 1941. He was sent to the Alameda, Calif., training station for aviation mechanics and on March 31 graduated the 22nd highest in a class of 160. He is now at the Naval Air Station, Beaufort, N. C., where he has received advanced training unit and will graduate there on July 1. From there he will go to the American Expeditionary Force, in the Spruce Knob, Alaska, where he will take special training in the use of the B-24.

In a letter to Edmonson, Ballou says: "It was a great day when I five class in the navy. The navy has treated me swell—I could not ask for better. I weigh 25 pounds more than when I enlisted. You can quote me as saying the navy offers more to young men than any other branch of the service. I have found out there are no limits to the places one can get if, as the saying goes, he goes his way."

"My mother is in the navy at Pearl Harbor and she went through the December 7 bombing. She looks almost no regret in his choice. If this letter will help you in any way, I am glad to do it in all means," he wrote.

Jerome Boy Gives Account of Meet

JEROME, June 27—Chamber of Commerce members listened to a comprehensive report on Boys' State by Special Agent in Charge Merrill Bill, who was nominated for lieutenant-governor, and led by only small margin in the general election.

Reporting on the rubber drive in Jerome county, Paul Rudy said 374 tons had been gathered, leaving a large balance to go if the goal of 625 tons is to be reached.

The body voted to draft a resolution opposing the action of Twin Falls in establishing a dump ground in Jerome county, north of the rim-to-rim bridge.

William A. Peters, representing the Jerome Water company, appeared before the Chamber to protest a recent resolution asking the company to provide better fire protection for the city. Peters admitted the insufficiency of present fire hydrants, but declared that this was the fault of the company. He recommended 10 to 15 more hydrants, placed at carefully selected points.

GOV. CLARK WILL SPEAK AT RUPERT

RUPERT, June 27—With receipt of word from Gov. Clarence A. Clark that he will be here for the July 4 celebration, Rupert rodeo association officials announced today that everything is in readiness for the 13th annual rodeo and holiday festivities here July 3 and 4.

Gov. Clark will speak at a patriotic program at 10 a. m. Saturday at the Elks club in the city square. He will speak again that afternoon during the second rodeo program, scheduled to begin at 2 p. m.

"Twilight Show"

Holiday festivities will begin Friday, when a twilight show is staged at 7 p. m. at the rodeo grounds where a grandstand has been completed, greatly increasing seating capacity.

Besides the regular rodeo program of bronc riding, calf roping, bull-dogging and wild bronco bull riding, selection of a rodeo queen, who will be Miss Milda county queen at the Gaston county fair in the fall, is expected to attract great attention.

Only rodeo

The largest crowd in rodeo history is expected here July 4, since the rodeo is the scheduled rodeo at this time. Many new riders from California and Nevada, as well as a number of Indian riders, will be seen.

Street sports will precede the patriotic program the morning of the Fourth, and a patriotic parade will follow the program at which Gov. Clark is scheduled to speak.

Ogden's outstanding Union Pacific band will play both days.

Roper Joins Navy In Special Class

Enlistments in the navy announced yesterday by Chief Petty Officer C. E. Edmonson included James Henry Roper, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Roper, Burley, and Ray Leo Norris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Quinley Norris, route one, Kimberly.

Roper, whose father operates a logging camp, was assigned to class V-1, which will permit him to finish either his sophomore or senior year at University of Idaho. If he reports for service after his sophomore year, he will enter the flying cadet school and after his senior year the deck or engineering officer's school. Roper has completed his freshman year at the university.

Patriotic Note Added to Indian Sun Dance Ritual

POTATOBLISS, Idaho, June 27 (AP)—Patriotic note will be added to sun dance ceremonies performed this year by members of four Idaho Indian tribes, Fort Hall reservation officials disclosed today.

The sun dances were regarded by Indians as a religious appeal for victory in battle and protection of their country from enemy attacks. Also, the rites set for next week will be concluded with celebrations of American independence.

"Two sun dances, symbolic of former days when the Indians served as spies for health and prosperity, were scheduled.

Bannacks Start Monday

One dance, for members of the Bannack tribe, was to start Monday and continue for four days; and the other, for mixed Bannacks, Shoshonis and Lemhais, will start at sundown Thursday for three days. Both affairs will end July 3 when dancers and participants in the ancient ceremony will return to their homes for Fourth of July feasts and celebrations.

PILOT COURSE AT BURLEY, ALBION

A civilian pilot-training program, as revised in line with recommendations of the war department, will start July 1. It was announced here Saturday by the Burley Flying School, maintenance supervisor for the CPT.

In this section the program will be carried on concurrently at the Albion National college ground, near the Albion-Burley airport (flight training).

Blanks Available Here

Application blanks for entry are now available at the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce office or in Burley.

In connection with this program throughout the United States, the navy will furnish 50,000 enlisted recruits to serve in flight training, after which the majority will be assigned to naval air stations for further training to combat pilots at the stage for which they are qualified. Of this group, some 1,500 will be carried through CAA advanced courses to become instructors and ferry pilots.

The CAA program will be utilized by the army during the coming year for training of enlisted pilots. The specialists—instructors, glider pilots, co-pilots, liaison and service pilots—will be available to be assigned to men who have reached the age of 18 years but who are not yet qualified for flight training and are unable to meet the stringent physical requirements of the army for combat pilot.

Other Classes Later

Applicants who are successful but do not desire to enter the navy will be given priority for later classes starting each eight weeks.

It is explained that due to the urgency of the war effort, the original pilot training and flight training in the air corps enlisted recruits will be abandoned and these civilian pilots will be trained in pilot training and have been thus enlisted, will be called to active duty at an early date.

GROUP SEEKS TO OUST LAGUARDIA

NEW YORK, June 27 (AP)—Ten citizens have filed a petition with Gov. Herbert H. Lehman asking the removal from office of Mayor J. La Guardia on the ground "his maladministration cripples free speech, breeds corruption and obstructs justice for evasion of laws, and fits him to be removed from office."

There were 24 counts of high-breaking and 10 of irregularity in the petition drawn by Frank J. Best, Brooklyn pastor and manufacturer of pianos. His list of charges included: "The mayor's maladministration in taking homes and other real estate; the mayor meets taxpayer protests with evasion, neglect, interference, vilification and other reprisals; misleads elected officers, public and press; depreciates the value of homes and business real estate; violates the state constitution by permitting assessments to exceed full value; is taking property without due process of law by keeping assessments too high.

The federal reserve's consumer credit regulations, issued May 6, require that charge accounts be paid in full no later than the 10th day of the second calendar month following the calendar month in which the charged purchases were made. The regulations closed all charge accounts unpaid before May 1 along with purchases made during May. Hence all the "old" accounts must be paid in full by July 10.

Old charge accounts not paid in full by that date will be declared "default." This means the creditor's credit will be stopped by the merchant holding the unpaid bill. A default, once imposed, can be lifted by one of three methods: (1) Payment in full of the amount of the bill; (2) entering into a written agreement with the merchant to pay the bill by regular installments within six months, the payment to be not less than $5 a month or $12 a week; (3) filing with the creditor a statement that payment within the six-month period would work a hardship and entering a written agreement to pay off the bill within 12 months.

Installment sales are not affected by the approaching July 10 deadline on charge accounts.

DEBTORS WARNED TO PAY ACCOUNTS

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—Persons with unpaid charge accounts starting from last May 1 have just two weeks left to clear their bills or face default, the federal reserve system said yesterday.

The federal reserve's consumer credit regulations, issued May 6, require that charge accounts be paid in full no later than the 10th day of the second calendar month following the calendar month in which the charged purchases were made. The regulations closed all charge accounts unpaid before May 1 along with purchases made during May. Hence all the "old" accounts must be paid in full by July 10.

Southwest Rural Area Gives High Per Cent to USO

The county district northwest of Twin Falls contributed almost 100 per cent to the USO campaign, Mrs. Anna Blom has announced today, in praising the energetic work of Mrs. W. A. Poe, chairman in that particular district.

Returns to date total $3,400 and the drive is expected to continue another two weeks.

Because of the lateness of the farm season this year, many of the country sections have not been completely canvassed this year, the collectors being engaged with farm work at present.

Among other districts yet to report are parts of the Salmon tract, the Kimberly country district, Buhl and Piler.

PRaise For Twin Falls County

Once more the people of Twin Falls county have reason to be proud of the record they are making in support of their country's all-out effort to win the war. The patriotic observance here Friday, featured by the personal appearance of Johnny Sheffield, boy movie actor, and a demonstration of a U. S. army tank, was an outstanding success in every way.

Every committee assigned to assist in the preparations carried out his work like a veteran, with the result that the auctions of merchandise donated by Twin Falls merchants in support of their country's all-out effort by the local sponsors—totaled more than $10,000 in the voluntary purchase of war bonds and stamps.

Significant, too, were remarks made by representatives of Metro-Cadwell-Mayer and the U. S. Treasury department, only sponsors of the Sheffield tour. For a city of its size, Twin Falls demonstrated support and enthusiasm beyond all anticipation, they agreed.

Sen. George Pugmire, assistant deputy administrator of the state war savings staff, even went so far as to predict that Twin Falls county will be the first in Idaho to have a United States army bomber named in its honor.

Twin Falls county has been successful in exceeding its bond quota not only because individuals have been buying these wartime securities liberally. Organizations, associations, political sub-divisions and the like also have been making substantial purchases. Included among these are the Kimberly high school student body, the First Federal Savings and Loan association of Twin Falls, the Twin Falls highway district and the city of Buhl.

No less this widespread support of our war effort limited to Twin Falls county alone. It is general throughout the eight counties of Magic Valley.

We all have reason to be proud that we're in the lead and let's hope that we stay there.

THERE'S NO UNEMPLOYMENT

Even out here in isolated Idaho we have experienced labor shortages which indicate there is little reason for continued talk in Washington about unemployment. That's particularly significant at a time when we're making the WPA, CCC and NYA.

Two years ago the United States had slightly more than 9,000,000 classified as unemployed. The war has put 8,250,000,000 on payrolls, including those who went into the armed forces. Meanwhile normal increases added almost 1,000,000 to the labor reservoir.

So today—or to be exact, two months ago, since we always are behind in the compilation of such statistics—there are only 1,753,000 men and women who are theoretically available for employment of whom 1,151,000 have been on the rolls of the WPA, the CCC or the NYA, exclusive of the latter's student beneficiaries.

The Army wants at least a couple of million more this year. The Navy and the Marines want the many. Agriculture needs a couple of millions. Factories which have been re-tooling and converting from civilian to war production, would like to replenish their personnel. New plants, built or building to make arms and munitions, need workmen.

Obviously, there is no unemployment in the ranks of the unemployed couldn't supply these needs. And that is only the immediate problem. If the war goes on, and Uncle Sam has to take a second 5,000,000 men on top of his 1942 quota, the moral is obvious. We've passed out of the era of depression and unemployment. It's a jobseeker's paradise. So why the WPA, the CCC, the NYA, etc., are created to relieve the effects of unemployment?

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHORLIGIG

POWER!—The current Capitol Hill revolt against Leon Henderson represents far more than so-called protection against his rationing regulations. It marks a definite movement by the legislative branch to recover prestige and to reestablish itself in the minds of the voters. The chief administrator is simply the victim of circumstances, for any other bureaucrat would have been swept the back-room gentleman's purpose.

Several weeks ago, when the congress got itself in a lather by grabbing X-ray and voting penalties, an actual all-arounding speaker Sam Rayburn, "Lionel Lincoln," an actual all-arounding neck of a fix. The New Deal boys are cheering you on to your grave, Sam. How do you like that? Why don't you take back some of the powers you gave to executive appointments? Why don't you clip the wings or force the firing of a few of these presidential czars? Why don't you take back some of the powers you gave to executive appointments? Why don't you clip the wings or force the firing of a few of these presidential czars?

RAY TUCKER
Sam Hadden and nodded. Few days later he told "friends" that "he ran a tin pot shop in the back of his house." His gang proved it sooner than he expected—or wanted—by voting for abolition of the civilian control of the army and the navy. What a situation. Ousting Leon, they hope, will be their next declaration of independence. It looks as if they have cornered the market on the "back-room" man, eventually be administered by a board of three carefully picked men.

BOX—Mr. Henderson has helped to dig his own burial spot and to fabricate his personal tombstone. He has written the President's close friends that he, superlative statistician, regards congress as a collection of low and negligible minds. In the sphere of politics he is a civil irritant, a thorn in the side of every smart boy—from Charley Murphy to Ed Kelly Knowles—and here are a few examples of how he has succeeded.

Some time ago Rep. John Vorys of Columbus, O., wrote Mr. Henderson suggesting that holders of gas rationing stamps be required to show their rationing status on their windshields. At John pointed out, this would prevent bootlegging (providing the fact of their bootlegging) and, by the way, the so-called equality of sacrifice which everybody is making on the star of locomotion. The Ohioan did not receive an acknowledgment of his suggestion, but a few days later the price administrator adopted the idea in a big way, and received considerable editorial credit for his statesmanship. He is now a close friend of Capitol Hill among the Vorys crowd. It so happens that John is extremely popular in congressional corridors and in cocktail parties. He controls, personally, at least 50 votes on the house side and they won't stand up and cheer for Leon.

Mr. Henderson has a delightful personal life and a well-to-do at bridge the always bids no trumps whether he has a justifiable hand or not; he also has a reputation as a "big spender" in the social field. He has rejected their ideas and given them the ideological go-by. In all, it looks as if the boy is on his way out. He is a "big spender" in the social field, a Chaucerian fellow, and the O. P. A. chief will probably pop up into a more important and lucrative office. You can't keep a "jack-in-the-box" down.

REPORT—The Hoover-Gilson book on our foreign policy since the first world war, might be a masterpiece among mid-twenties Washington correspondence. The work cannot be understood in completeness without a knowledge of the author's background and his position. Here is the inside story as the writer, who participated in the beginning, sees it.

In 1928 Mr. Gilson returned from Europe, where he had been in the state department and gave us a picture of the conditions in Europe. He was a "big spender" in the social field. He has rejected their ideas and given them the ideological go-by. In all, it looks as if the boy is on his way out. He is a "big spender" in the social field, a Chaucerian fellow, and the O. P. A. chief will probably pop up into a more important and lucrative office. You can't keep a "jack-in-the-box" down.

DEAR THIRD ROW:
I hold your hat while I tell you about the district episode at the bond auctions Friday. And when I say "hold your hat," I mean it literally.

Somebody asked Stuart Taylor's hat off the Taylor noogie, and it was put up for auction. Mike Strok finally got it in a $49 bid.

It was the same hat which Mike had admired and which he had bought from Taylor for $5 last summer. He had the name hat back for nothing—but has lost his new one, which adorns the Bronx noogie.

ANALYZING CURRENT NEWS FROM NEW YORK

BASES—Congressmen are putting on another's backs because at this time they have decided to allow the construction of 50,000 tons of aircraft carriers, which cannot be completed in less than two years.

Yards are available—Chapman Wilson of the Navy naval academy says that the Navy is planning to build a new shipyard in the next winter's frozen water. And because he will not look for the construction of a new shipyard to be completed in the next winter's frozen water, he is likely to become the worst fuel crisis in the history of the north Atlantic area.

To smart matters more seriously, some of our country's most important heads have access to these facts. It has taken the government so long to make up its mind that none of the proposed flooding basins will be completed during the critical winter day of their launchings the range of day's forecast very likely will make them obsolete.

YOUR BEST

"Wife-Time" INVESTMENT

A HOME FURNISHED
THE AMERICAN WAY

Make It a Home Worth Having!

AMERICA has the best-furnished homes on earth — because American brides interpret themselves in their homes. In times like 1942, it is urgent that we invest in furnishings of intrinsic worth . . . the best in style and quality and workmanship we can afford. Fortunately most home furnishings do not interfere with defense. Our stocks are complete, and waiting for your selection.

Two American Institutions:
BONDS of VICTORY
BONDS of MATRIMONY

Every couple who budgets for their new home should include under the heading of "Savings": U. S. War Bonds. Just as their new furnishings will give pleasure through the years, the bonds will provide security for the future of the owners . . . as well as the U. S. A.

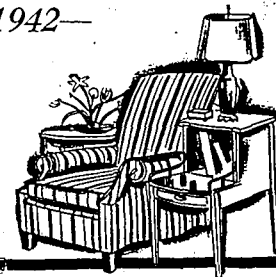

A GIFT FOR THE HOME IS A PRESENT WITH A FUTURE

— A Word to the Families and Friends of the Bride of 1942—

LET'S don't forget that marriages transcend ordinary things. The new home — the home we are fighting for — is not for today, not for a short time, but forever after. Even if the bridegroom is going forth to war, well selected furnishings will be a cornerstone of that new life when Johnny comes marching home again.

The enduring gifts are the ones remembered through the years. Why not shop now, while stocks are complete? You'll find many wanted items, some of which are becoming scarcer. Give a present with a future!

PROSPECT OF INCREASED SUGAR RATION QUOTA GROWS DIM

WAR EFFORT TO SLASH SHIPPING

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—The prospect of any increase in the present sugar ration appeared dim today as price administration officials pointed out that any action on rationing will be influenced by shipping forecasts for the next six months.

A stepped-up war effort—possibly including a second front campaign to divert shipping from the Caribbean and practically close down sugar shipments from Puerto Rico and Cuba, they said.

While imports during April and May were beyond expectations, OPA officials said that any estimates on future imports were sheer speculation. Information now being compiled by the OPA will give a reliable estimate of sugar consumption under the rationing program. But no matter how accurately the nation's sugar consumption is gauged, OPA officials emphasized that the available supply always is in a state of flux.

Supply Uncertain

"It seems to me that the supply is always going to be uncertain beyond the immediate needs of the war effort," one official said. "As for consumption, we've only had two months to base our plan on. With the war effort in all towns, you have to figure what your shipping prospects are and I don't know how we are to do it."

Officials are studying a plan to streamline administration of rationing. It is expected to be completed within this flexibility, they said, the current ration would never be more than a few days ahead of the available shipping situation in the Caribbean.

OPA Alarmed

The OPA expressed alarm over "distorted" prices of a surplus sugar supply created by reports of the immediate needs of the war effort. They pointed out that cuts for sugar inventories were cut down and much of the sugar now being produced would in normal times be in private and commercial hands.

But the immediate supplies on hand do not justify any increase in the ration, pointing out that current supplies are estimated to be one-third less than in July, 1941.

Sen. James Murray, D. Mont., said one of the sugar problem rests with the beet sugar industry, which, if fully developed, would furnish a supply of sugar and maybe even more than we need."

OPA officials, however, contend that labor supply is insufficient to develop the beet industry much further.

AREA WPA MOVES TO OFFICES HERE

Headquarters offices for the work projects administration of the state today had been returned to Twin Falls, their location before removal to Buhl several years ago.

The removal was completed yesterday following a consolidation of the state WPA administrative functions in an economy move announced by U. S. Interior Secretary Harold I. Green.

The new headquarters here will be in the Burkholder building in the 200 block on North Shoshone street.

With the consolidation, the state has four divisions in Idaho—Twin Falls, Boise, Pocatello and Coeur d'Alene. The functions of the former Buhl, Jerome and Twin Falls areas now will be handled in the Twin Falls office, according to Robert Hampton, the Buhl district manager who will now become manager of the Twin Falls area. With him to Twin Falls Hampton brought C. M. Perkins and Wendell Flores, the employment and financial supervisors of the former Buhl district who will hold similar positions in the Twin Falls office.

Major operations in the former Buhl district will be taken over by the Twin Falls area, including the City of Rocks road in Cassia county, the Kimberly school, highway No. 83 and highway No. 20 in Twin Falls county. Projects continuing will continue in most counties with an average reduction of about 20 per cent in the number employed, Hampton said.

Records and equipment from the Buhl district have already been moved to Twin Falls.

Contest Assured In Filer Precinct

Democratic contest for election as committee in Filer precinct No. 2 was assured Saturday when two candidates filed petitions with the county auditor.

The only other filing of the day was also from Filer, Edward J. Roberts presented declaration of candidacy for committee in precinct No. 1 on the Democratic ticket.

Two candidates for major county offices have submitted declarations in this county for more than a week. Republican state remains largely unfiled; Republicans have filed for all but one major post. Deadline is July 11.

Early Vegetables Develop in June

BOISE, June 27 (AP)—Weather conditions during the first half of June were better than in previous weeks and as a result early vegetables in Idaho developed well.

The U. S. department of agriculture reported today a absence of normal high mid-June temperatures favored early lettuce and peas.

Lettuce shipments were larger than those expected and lasted longer. Early green pea shipments began about June 15, with quality good. Shipments will peak until July 10 or longer.

Early potato prospects are excellent with harvest indicated about July 15.

TAYLOR DEMANDS UNITY OF ACTION

SHOSHONE, June 27—Glen Taylor, seeking nomination as Democratic party candidate for United States senator in the August primaries, today had left for another section of the state after giving his opening campaign address at the Wood River Grange hall near here.

Taylor, accompanied by his wife and two children, appeared before what Grange hall operators said was the "largest crowd ever to jam into the building." The estimated attendance was placed at 250.

If his talk, the candidate, who was the primaries two years ago but was defeated in the general election by Senator John Thomas, called for unity of action in the war effort and "a platform for benefit of the common people."

Taylor, his wife and two children presented a musical program after his address.

Detweiler Given Women's Support

JEROME, June 27—Support for W. H. (Bill) Detweiler, candidate for governor, rallied added strength in Jerome county today with the announcement that the Republican Women's club had unanimously endorsed his candidacy with the entire membership pledged to an all-out effort in his behalf.

This action was taken at a largely attended meeting of the Republican women, held at the home of Mrs. Wayne A. Barclay.

Mrs. A. T. Jorgensen is president of the club and Mrs. Barclay, secretary.

Two More File for Office at Jerome

JEROME, June 27—Two more petitions of candidacy have been received in the office of County Clerk Charlotte Roberson, bringing to eight the number who have filed.

The filings include those of Richard H. Seely, for reelection as prosecuting attorney on the Republican ticket; and Edward W. Little, Edley attorney on the Justice of Peace on the Republican ticket.

Visit of Boy Actor Produces At Least $15,000 Bond Sales

Officials in charge of the sale of stamps and bonds during "Johnny Sheffield's" day in Twin Falls had all figured out late Saturday and estimated that the citywide sale will come to more than $15,000, maturity value.

Actual records at the three bond and war stamp auctions which merchants aided in staging in the downtown section Friday show that maturity value of bonds sold came to $12,250. Stamps sold as a result of the three auctions, and also the auction which the young movie star staged for children at the city park during the afternoon, amounted to $3,750.

Probably more

The citywide total was estimated on the basis of incomplete returns from regular bond outlets and also from the actual figures from the three auction sales.

The auction sales with aid of the U. S. Army tank proved to be the highlights of the day. In each case merchandise donated by Twin Falls merchants was offered and the successful bidder received the article as a gift, plus the amount bid in war stamps or bonds.

Board Sets New High by Okaying 4 Auto Permits

A new record for the issuance of permits to purchase new automobiles during the inauguration of car rationing was set Saturday by the local rationing board.

Four permits were issued, completely exhausting the regular quota of eight. Carl Anderson, board chairman, announced. However, the board had 22 permits left from its March, April and May quotas to dip into if permits are requested and granted during the remainder of the month.

Receiving permits today were David John Koehn, Twin Falls; Arthur John Lindauer, Twin Falls; Arthur John Lindauer, Twin Falls; and Arthur John Lindauer, Twin Falls.

Weight of the 22es will be felt next Friday when total county purchases for the fourth week of June are announced in the Times-News weekly survey in connection with the "Buy a Bomber" campaign.

the large gold mining companies. He is a brother of Jim Thornberry, who was wounded in action Feb. 8 when serving with General MacArthur, and who is now reported missing after being in action in the Philippines.

AIR RAID FIRST AID BOXES MADE

Three first aid boxes have been made for the first aid stations designated by the local civilian defense board to be used during air raids. W. G. Walstra, first aid chairman of the Twin Falls chapter, American Red Cross, announced at an executive board meeting last night at the Idaho Power company auditorium.

Tentative plans are to place these at the fire station, the sheriff's office and the American Legion hall. More boxes will be made when other materials are designated. Equipment is available for several more stations in Twin Falls and surrounding towns, Walstra added.

Activities Checked

Hansen's Murchaug, Hollister and Filer branches reported the results of their activities, and chairman of the section company, Twin Falls chapter offered resumes of their activities. Tom Alworth, president of the chapter, reported that Hansen has established a loan closet, equipping it with supplies for all emergencies was announced.

Since January, 21 cartons and two bundles of garments have been received, according to Mrs. F. V. Bracken, in charge of the knitting department. Of this, four cartons of the chapter were paid for by the Twin Falls chapter. While the collection of about 10 points, this has been given out to knitters.

A total of 216 garments was shipped in April and there are now on hand 192 garments.

Many of the garments made and ready to be issued include sleeveless sweaters, helmets and socks for the army, and hurlerocks, the sweaters, wool caps, helmets and wristlets for the navy.

Here for the emergency cloth, huyettes, children's clothing and comfort kits have comprised the major output from the production unit in the past several weeks, it was reported.

33 Teach

Thirty-three of the instructors who took the last instruction course are now teaching, or have taken up the instruction course continued. Since the first of the year, 1,042 persons in 47 classes have taken first aid courses through the Twin Falls chapter.

Mrs. Marjorie Hyram and George Loeb have been sent to the aquatics school at Como Springs, Utah, and are now available to conduct a swim campaign. Mrs. Hyram is also a swim and home accident prevention instructor as the result of her training.

The instructors' club has formed an emergency first aid unit. Members who have cars which they drive almost exclusively, carry blankets, splints and first aid kits and are to carry Red Cross markers for their cars.

Members of the mobile unit must stop at the scene of an accident and offer assistance but are not subject to call out to do ambulance service. There are now 31 active members, according to Walstra.

Improved Bombsights Used In Tokyo Raid Cost 20 Cents

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—The American B-25 bombers which wrought havoc in Tokyo and other Japanese cities April 18 were equipped with improved bombsights costing 20 cents each.

This was revealed by the war department today as decorations were pinned on 23 members of the raiding expedition which Brig. Gen. James H. Doolittle commanded.

The planes normally were equipped with the Norden sight—details of which still are a secret unknown to the axis. They are removed from the planes because the raid was planned as a low-altitude raid in which the remarkable sight would not be greatly needed, and because "it seemed inevitable that their some planes might fall into Japanese hands."

Actually, as it turned out, none of the planes fell into Japanese hands. One did land on Russian soil. The crew of that ship was interned. Doolittle watched as Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the army air force, presented the distinguished flying cross to his 23 colleagues at Doolittle field here.

The 23 agreed unanimously that they were ready, willing and anxious to make a return trip to Tokyo. "But we want the Little League (Doolittle) running it," one sergeant added. Sgt. Edward J. Sawyer, Doolittle, Mont., said he wanted to bomb Japan again but would like "some home cooking" first.

President Roosevelt presented the congressional medal of honor to the 23 at a ceremony at Sun Valley, Idaho, June 27. The medals were presented by the governor of Idaho, Elmer L. Anderson, and the secretary of the state, Fred W. Meyer.

Picked up After 72 Hours in Sea

HANSEN, June 27—Picked up after 72 hours of floating on debris in the Pacific ocean, following the sinking of the U. S. S. Neosho, "Buck" Smith is now safe in Honolulu, according to a letter received Friday.

The message telling of his safety was received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Smith, Jerome. After they had been informed by the U. S. naval department that their son was "missing."

The Smith family lived in Hansen for 15 years before moving to Jerome.

In the letter he told his parents that he had spent several days on a raft after the ship had sunk, and that he was "pretty well shaken up." He added, however, that the Japanese paid well for what they did.

Strawberry Fest Is Planned by League

HANSEN, June 27—Final arrangements for the Eyworth league strawberry festival, to be held the evening of Wednesday, July 1, at the lawn of the Community church, were made at a meeting at the home of one of the league sponsors, Mrs. Charles P. Parry.

Posters were made by members who attended the meeting. The festival will be highlighted by a continuous program throughout the evening.

Sun Valley Trip to Be Taken by Scouts

GLENN'S FERRY, June 27—Members of Sacajawea troop of the Girl Scouts plan to go to Sun Valley for the day Monday. They will make a stop at the Shoshone cave in the morning.

Mrs. William Petersen and Mrs. P. C. Whitney will accompany the girls as chaperones. The trip will be taken this year instead of the usual week's camping trip.

STORE MEN WILL PLAN STAMP DAY

Plans for the 15-minute all-out sale of war savings stamps to be observed throughout the nation by retail merchants Wednesday will be perfected Monday, R. J. Vallon, chairman of the Merchants' Bureau stamp and bond committee, said last night.

Mr. Vallon also is retail chairman for the county war savings committee.

The plans for the July 1 event will be taken up in one phase of the combined meeting of civic organizations Monday noon at the Rogerson hotel. The retail merchants have been requested by the government to set aside the period from noon to 12:15 p. m. Wednesday for the sale of stamps. During the period there will be no sale of merchandise—just war saving stamps.

Vallon said that the all-out sale will tie in with the programs already planned for the month of July. He said most of the firms already have set quotas for the month.

"For 1942 we are going to have 'Woolworth's' quota for sale of war stamps during July is five per cent of the total sales of the store. Penney's is four per cent and I understand other firms have similar quotas."

Sinclair Honored

Staff Sgt. James A. Sinclair, Twin Falls, is one of the 13 survivors and loan association staff members to be elected in the first installment of a nationally compiled honor roll of such workers in the armed forces.

The roll entitled "John Jay Get You Gun" appears in the June issue of "Savings and Loans," official publication of the United States Savings and Loan League. Pictured in his uniform, Sgt. Sinclair is listed as former staff sergeant of the First Federal Savings and Loan association of Twin Falls. He is now at Gowen field.

what is America Fighting For?

Protection of Property!

(One of the Essentials of a Democracy)

Abraham Lincoln said: "Property is the fruit of labor. Property is desirable. Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, but let him work diligently and build one for himself, thus assuring that his home be safe from violence when built."

On this philosophy of protected property rights, Americans have built America. They have successfully defended this precious principle for more than 300 years.

On today's far-flung battle fronts, Americans fight again to protect their precious principles of human liberty and individual rights... rights of free speech, a free press, the right to govern themselves, the right to own a home or a business, the right to work and enjoy the fruits of their toil.

To safeguard them, America fights, until Victory.

CHAPTER I

JUDITH pressed the corky little hat over her red curls and reached for her purse. It was 12 o'clock and she was in a hurry to be off, but as she turned to leave the office, the buzzer on her desk rang. Reluctantly she flipped the button with a perfectly manicured finger. "Yes, Mr. Watson?" "I want to see you at once, Miss Kingly," said the president of the Watson Airplane Corp. His voice was crisp and urgent. "Yes, sir," she replied, her tone lacking its usual enthusiasm. She could have remained here, but she did not. She had her lunch hour and he might as well know she expected to eat. She picked up her note pad and pen and started for his office. When she entered the spacious room, Watson looked up, a deep frown between his eyes. "Sit down, Miss Kingly," he instructed, and motioned her to the chair on the other side of the desk. She hesitated, thinking if she sat down the interview might be too long. He smiled, relaxing his sternness for the moment. "I know—it's 12 o'clock and you have a date for lunch."

plenty of determination to see a thing through. I've had my eye on you for a long time, young lady." "Thank you for the nice compliments, Mr. Watson," Judith said, blushing. "But when do I start for California?" "Sweetness, I'll be there in a week," he said, exactly 3 o'clock. He glanced quickly at his watch. "You haven't too much time. You will take the plane for San Diego, and no one here is to know you are going. Just walk out to lunch without a word and don't come back. I'll say you phoned in you were sick. A place will be reserved for you on the liner, and you can pick up the ticket at the field office." "The plans for that new bomber are being carried out to the west coast factory on the same plane. It's a secret. So keep your eye open." "How am I to know who has the plans?" she asked. With her red hair peaking slyly from beneath her hat she looked more like a detective than an investigator. "After all I don't want to protect the wrong man."

and stood up. "Keep your eyes open. I want to nick any envelope in the lot that might be containing information for the company. By the way, Burke is remaining on the coast for the time being. He'll be of information sink in, then reached for her hat and pressed it. "I'm depending on you to carry through for the company." "Then I'll be on my way, Mr. Watson," she remarked, curtly. "You have a free hand on expenses. And happy landing." Judith fairly raced from the building and did not stop to eat lunch. She hailed a taxi and rushed to her apartment to pack a hasty bag. As she walked through the airport gates, the loudspeaker announced the approaching departure of the westbound plane. The afternoon sun sifted through her red hair, and the light of adventure glowed in her eyes. She hurried aboard the big silver ship and took a seat in the rear. She did not have time to look around at her fellow-travelers for a few minutes. There was the task of adjusting the safety belt and making herself comfortable. But she was in the air, she settled down and let her eager eyes rove the sky in search of Tom Burke. In a moment she saw him, up and over the clouds. She smiled and crossed the aisle. She studied what little of his head she could see, wondering if he would sense her presence. But he did not turn. A little sigh passed her lips. She knew in her heart that she still loved him, regardless of what had happened or been said. With an effort, she pulled her gaze from him and looked around at the others she could see. The man in front of her had his head turned to the side. His eyes seemed to be focused on Burke, but she could not be sure from where she sat. The man across the aisle from her was either very frightened or very excited. His stare was glued to the back of Tom's seat. She studied the man for a long time from veiled eyes, just as she settled down to read a magazine, a sudden alarming thought came to her. "These men are watching Tom. They must know he has the plans for the bomber." (To Be Continued)
