British Repulse German Attacks On Egypt Front

CAIRO, July 2 (AP)—British forces, making their stand in defense of Egypt, on a line approximately 70 miles west of Alexandria, repulsed heavy axis attacks yesterday at El Alamein, British headquarters announced today. Results of the fighting were "not unfavorable for us," a communique declared.

"One attack by enemy tanks effected a temporary breach in the defense line, but it was quickly closed, and the enemy tanks were driven out and engaged by our anti-tank units. The tanks, meanwhile, were reported stepping up their attacks on the land forces, blasting away at the lines and concentrations of mechanized units."

While the main fighting on the land front apparently was centered about 57 miles west of El Alamein, British mobile columns further south yesterday lashed out 17 miles west of the Nile river. The British forces, which were fighting the Qattara depression, the communique declared, "are continuing to advance and a 350-mile retreat across the desert in less than three weeks."

Planes that enemy swept over the main fighting zone, allied warplanes including American fighters, fighters, bombers, and fighters, were reported attacking the British forces. A German broadcast declared that Rommel's army was pursuing the British forces through the Nile after axis troops had broken through at Alamein.

It is rather expected that in view of the importance attached to the position, the battle will be fought along the coastal plain. Despite the high command's order, the British fleet is not of the opinion that Egypt will now drop out of the hands of the British. The German Transocean news agency said.

Battle for Egypt Now in Balance; United Nations Stronger, Britain Told

LONDON, July 2 (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill won a vote of confidence in the house of commons today after a dramatic speech in which he said the costly battle for Egypt was "now in the balance" but declared his confidence that "the general strength of the United Nations has greatly improved" in 1942.

The vote was 475 to 25 after the prime minister demanded "a decision one way or the other without favors, either for myself or for the government but sustaining the government or changing the government."

"I have never shared the view that this would be a short war," he said, "but I am confident that the United Nations has greatly improved since the turn of the year."

CHINESE DAMAGE YANGTZE SECTOR

CHUNGKING, China, July 2 (AP)—Chinese heavy bombing planes escorted by fighters of the American volunteer group, have been attacking a stretch of the Japanese-held Yangtze River in central China, it was announced today.

A big force of the Chinese bombers heavily attacked Japanese military installations throughout the Yangtze area, the big enemy base on the central Yangtze, yesterday.

Another strong bomber force, escorted by the AVG planes, blasted Japanese supply lines in the Yangtze area around Yowchow, 110 miles southwest of Hankow, and attacked communications and supply dumps north of the river.

The attack was made in an area 500 miles inland and north of the fighting zone in which the Japanese have their most advanced military operations, are trying to gain full control of the coastal province, as a two-front operation by the American volunteer group and American planes based on China.

It was one of the last activities of the American volunteer group as such, for the little force, which was sent to Burma road, is to be completely disbanded by the American army corps July 4.

Full Speed Ordered At Jap Camp; Must Be Finished Aug. 5

From now on out there will be no holidays—or anything resembling a holiday—for workmen at the Eden Japanese relocation center construction site because the government has now ordered completion by Aug. 5, instead of the previously extended date of Oct. 5.

This announcement was made today by A. M. Cronson, general superintendent of the job which is being handled by the Morrison-Knudsen company.

Cronson said that because of the step-up order there will be 2,000 men working on the project within the next 10 days and that before completion 2,500 workers will be on the job.

When the camp is completed there will be between 500 and 600 structures including recreation buildings, two fire stations, a sewage disposal plant and all the rest.

OPA RAISES PRICES OF 1942 CANNED FRUIT 15 PER CENT

CONGRESS FAULT, HENDERSON SAYS

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—Price Administrator Leon Henderson announced today he was compelled to raise by as much as 15 per cent the retail prices of 1942 pack of canned and dried fruits—the first purchase of the universal price ceiling.

Henderson characterized the move as "inflationary" and "a serious setback in the battle being fought by OPA to maintain stability in the cost of living."

In a statement addressed directly to American business, the price administrator blamed the situation on the special price concessions granted by congress to farm products, and on a refusal of congress to approve a subsidy program permit the government to absorb higher costs of fresh fruit.

Soldiers Unsatisfactory

"This is not a satisfactory solution to the problem," he stated. "It is inflationary. It translates into retail price increases a burden that the government might properly assume as a charge connected with the war."

"And this burden of higher prices for canned and dried fruits will be shared equally. It will fall heavily on large families, especially in the low and middle income groups."

The office of price administration will go to work immediately preparing a price formula which will be based on the price of the 1942 crop fruit, Henderson said. He warned retailers, however, against boosting prices now charged. The higher prices will apply only to the 1942 items.

Among the fruits affected are canned peaches, pear, fruit juice, apricots and applesauce, dried apples, dried peaches, dried apricots, dried pears, and raisins.

Price Ceiling Removed

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—Price ceilings were removed today from farm service charges involved in planting, cultivating and harvesting crops, raising livestock and preparing for market.

Services such as plowing, fertilizing, spraying, sheep-shearings, cattle picking, cutting, and milking, and burning and grafting, ditching, purchasing, peanut digging, and mowing are excluded from all restrictions imposed either by the general price regulation of the ceiling on consumer services.

NAZI LOSS CLAIM CONFLICTS REDS'

BERLIN. (From German Broadcasts). July 2 (AP)—The German high command today claimed that total Nazi losses on the Russian front from June 22, 1941 to last June 21—the first year of invasion—were 271,412 officers, non-commissioned officers and men killed and 63,720 men missing.

In the last two months alone, since the Nazi offensive has been resumed, it said, more losses have been suffered. It said that 20,231 officers and men killed in action and 6,077 others missing.

The communists called "the great number of casualties" proof of "the magnitude of the danger which hangs over Europe."

All those who have fallen for Germany, it said, "are heroes of our victory—a victory which will secure the future of Germany and thus the liberty of Europe."

The German statistics were in sharp conflict with the Soviet Russian summary of June 23 which said the Germans had lost 100,000 men killed, wounded and captured in the first year of the German-Russian war.

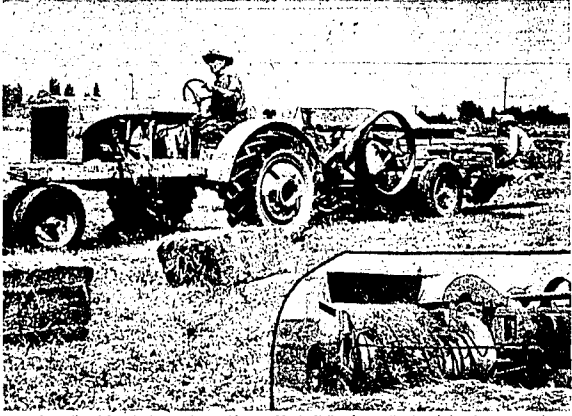

The Soviet information bureau, reviewing the first year of the Russian-German war, said at least 550,000 Germans were killed and 80 per cent of those wounded were unable to return to the front.

A Berlin dispatch to Der Bund, crediting official German military sources, said last March 9 that Germany's total losses up to then were 1,500,000 soldiers but that this figure was "far behind private estimates."

Hay Baler Scoffs at Farm Labor Shortage

With wartime labor shortage a vital problem on Magic Valley farms, the hay baler shown above looms as an important field help. Operated on the Joe Marshall ranch about a mile and a half east of Twin Falls, it eliminates up to 75 per cent of the labor needed in handling hay. And it bales the hay as it goes, making it easier to handle in feeding, reducing storage space, keeps the hay cleaner and cuts down loss due to excessive handling of dry hay. Inset photo shows the power pickup in operation, catching the hay on an endless ribbon and feeding it to the compression baler. Only three men are needed to run the machine. George Craun is tractor operator; Cliff Jensen and Ted Harris are on the baler. (Staff Photo-Engraving)

The ships will fly in two formations of three planes and each plane will carry a pilot and observer. Following are the pilots and observers, with the pilots being named first in each case:

MINERAL SCHOOL HELD AT OAKLEY

OAKLEY, July 2—As an aid to prospecting for strategic and other important metals and minerals, a reconnaissance mineral survey and a prospectors' round-table are being conducted here by Professor W. W. Staley, University of Idaho school of mines and the Idaho bureau of mines and geology.

The project, sponsored by the Oakley Valley Chamber of Commerce, is bringing visitors from a radius of 60 miles, including many from Buried Inheritage and settlements along the Idaho-Utah-Nevada border. Claude Critchfield and Jack Kingsbury are sitting for the Chamber of Commerce. Arrangements for the mineral survey and the round-table are handled by the mining committee: J. Lynch Smith, chairman; Emerson Sears and Leonard Critchfield.

With the exception of local transportation, for which Oakley is responsible, expenses of the undertaking are paid by the Idaho bureau of mines and geology. Maxwell W. Pahrman is director of the bureau.

The round-table, which is held in a classroom on the first floor of the high school building Monday-Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings beginning at 8:30 p. m. in the great variety of subjects for identification. In addition to Professor Staley answers questions, gives advice and discusses mining matters.

Daily trips to claims and prospects take Professor Staley into most of the country where even a severe drubbing from his rocks in the roads and trails. Some of the claims are still inaccessible on account of huge snowdrifts. If Professor Staley stays until the end of next week, it is believed that most of the mountain thoroughfares will be open.

Requests to have Professor Staley examine claims should be made to Mr. Smith, chairman of the mining committee, or to Mr. Sears or Mr. Critchfield.

All of Professor Staley's services, including examination of claims and analysis of ore, are free under sponsorship of the Idaho bureau of mines and geology.

Twin Falls Company B, Fourth Infantry, Idaho state guard, will soon become a shotgun outfit completely. Capt. M. Grotes, the commanding officer, stated today.

The rifles which the war department had allotted the company are being taken away, the captain said, and shotguns will be sent from a U. S. ordnance plant in Maryland.

The company now has about 30 rifles making it already necessary for some members to drill with their own shotguns.

The company also has been promised a machine gun.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Does your eyes contain 15 milligrams of sodium chloride? If so, you are tired. Tired eyes are a sign of tired kidneys. Many people have to get up at night to urinate because their kidneys are unable to filter out the excess sodium chloride from their blood. This condition is known as nocturia. It is a sign of kidney trouble. You can get relief by taking a course of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. They will help you get rid of the excess sodium chloride from your blood. TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

NEUTRAL—American val experts are now convinced that the Nazis have established a base in Caribbean or South American waters for submarines operating off our coast. The epidemic of sinkings in the Gulf of Mexico and nearby areas appears to support this conclusion.

This fixation of the press upon a sharp shift in our foreign policy, which has been somewhat mischievous with respect to the feeling and opinions of Vichy and certain supposedly "good neighbors."

Sen. Henry Byrd of Virginia recently suggested, we may be compelled to take over Atlantic trade routes in order to protect our possessions bordering the Atlantic. It is interesting to note that the limited control of possessions bordering the Atlantic coast is not a matter of course, but a subject of giving countries but subject to the striking U-boats, Albers along the Atlantic coast, and under the same scrutiny as they which have been applied to Japanese from Alaska.

The destruction of our shipping has become far more menacing than home folks dream. The extent of our economic life through the figures are kept secret, it is doubtful whether the United Nations are turning out enough merchandise to maintain our life. It is a pity that these ratiocations or the prospect of an early triumph for our side grows. And Washington has complained that our credit is going when it has such measures antagonistic to diplomatic neutrality.

SPOT—James M. Landis will soon become an assistant secretary of the treasury, probably Mr. Roosevelt makes a deal with an old enemy and erstwhile foe, the man who is in the line of the "Whirlygig." This quarrel about patronage is interesting because of the important persons involved, but it is chiefly significant because it demonstrates that the capital is operating on a basis of "politics as usual."

Secretary Morgenthau wants the former head of the securities and exchange commission, and has so informed the President. The Harvard dean has not found the office of civilian defense any less desirable, and he would be glad to let the man at the head of the office go. But "Dave," frequently under fire by F.D.I.'s friends for his pre-war Harbor activities, demands that he be given the job. He states that one of his boys is named to an impending vacancy on the federal bench in Massachusetts. Otherwise, he threatens to block the confirmation of Mr. Landis.

REVISION FROM THE AIR
Quite apart from wishful thinkers, there is becoming apparent a new note of cautious optimism as to the probable duration of the war.

To part, undoubtedly, this is attributable to the fact that long retreats before the axis appears to have been nearly halted. When we resist now we hope for success, instead of having to concede that we're stalling with men's lives for delay. Actually we are stalling in order to bring the tide seems to have turned and ready to turn in our favor.

But the newer optimism rests also upon more general acceptance of a theory which only a few have advanced consistently. The idea is spreading that the war can be won first by air bombing.

Hitler thought that, of course, and tried it out against England. It proved false in his case. Though Nazi planes seemed unlimited and the British had only a few, though manned bombers broke through nightly and devastated industrial centers as well as residential and cultural areas. Hitler discovered that he could not beat Britain from the air.

Thereupon a revision set in. Air marshal statistics of the war were still must be won by the slogging dog with his heavy pack and hand weapons. The air force could be an invaluable aid, but no more.

Now, however, Great Britain has begun going to town. Where the nazis dropped 60,000 tons of bombs on poor Coventry, the British tossed some 700,000 pounds on Rostock and Lubek. Where the Luftwaffe devastated London with 1,200,000 pounds of explosives and incendiaries, the R. A. F. has rained both Cologne and Essen with more than 1,000,000 pounds of bombs in one night each.

British Air Marshal A. T. Harris forecasts nights soon when 3,000 United Nations planes will drop 11 million pounds of bombs on Hitler's industrial heart.

So we are shifting back to the 1940 Hitler viewpoint. We say the Luftwaffe failed because it did not follow through strongly enough—that we now have the material which Hitler failed to accomplish against Germany.

The idea is that such mighty death blasts as we can throw from the air can soften the reich so effectively—in morale, but particularly in destroying her war production—that relatively few land fighters can almost stroll to Berlin.

If this proves true, it will eliminate months or years that might be required to establish major bridgeheads on the continent land military and air operations of tons of armaments and supplies and food, and not only while they fight their way northward or eastward toward Germany.

That, at least, is the theory of those who now think we possibly could win before the end of 1944.

AXIS ATROCITIES
Rightly, we think, Americans tend to be suspicious of atrocity stories in wartime. During World War I the count of such tales was such that many of them were deluged with official allied propaganda speakers and writers. Afterward, we became convinced that most of them were false.

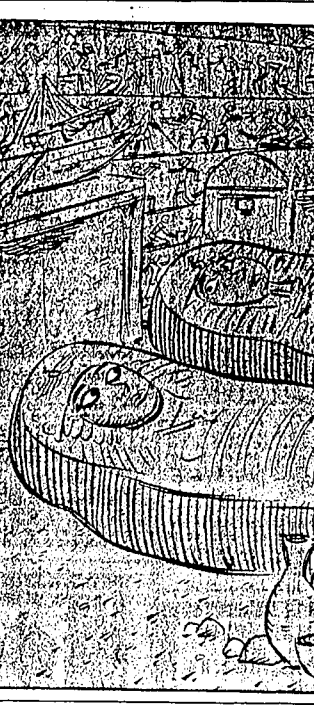

Some, apparently, had no foundation at all. Others were exaggerations. The vast majority of verified incidents turned out to be individual acts of excitement, sadism or lust.

CLAPPER'S OBSERVATIONS ON NATIONS AT WAR

A U. S. ARMY PORT OF EMERGENCY
Darkington, July 2.—Through the courtesy of the war department, I have recently had an opportunity to see how American troops are moving out of the country in large numbers to foreign fighting fronts.

It was late at night and I was struck by the sight of army officers at the foot of the train. They were more than a soldier, each carrying his full war equipment. They were being loaded onto the train to be sent to the front.

RAYMOND CLAPPER
I have had a little idea of the conditions in the front lines. It is a hard life. The men are tired and hungry. They are being sent to the front lines. It is a hard life. The men are tired and hungry. They are being sent to the front lines.

EGYPTIAN BATTLE KEY TO FUTURE

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

This waiting for the decision in the battle for Egypt is like sitting on a hot seat. The British are in a hospital while a surgeon wields his scalpel in a life or death operation.

The momentous engagement which now is going full blast across the desert near El Alamein, 70 miles west of the great British naval base of Alexandria, may be one of the threads upon which hang "our way of life." Equally it must determine the fate of the Nazi who would make us servants and rob us of our heritage.

General Sir Claude Auchinleck, the British commander, suddenly ended the withdrawal of his army and deliberately precipitated the big battle. At least reports the fighting was along a front of about 40 miles between the conforts of the sea and the great Qattara depression which forms a barrier to military operations and so would protect the allied left flank.

Minutiae Flanking

Auchinleck chose this position, I should say, because only a few miles inside east the Qattara depression ends and the desert widens out. This further retirement would prevent Field Marshal Rommel with an opportunity to try to outflank the enemy on their southern wing.

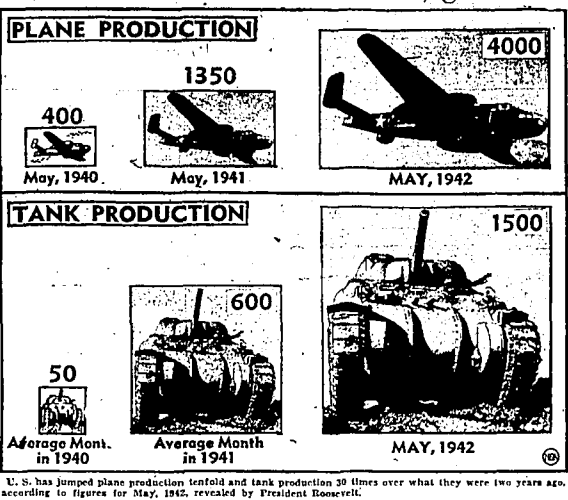

It was the supreme moment for which Rommel had been striving, since he not only was anxious to engage the British before the latter had a chance to reorganize their disorganized forces, but he wanted to do battle before his dangerously drawn-out lines of communication further extended. The Nazi commander's supply lines likely are his greatest menace, especially since the allies have a superior number of American and British warplanes have been making his communications and supply bases unguessable.

Nazi Claim Sevastopol

Meanwhile, over on the other side of Hitler's pincers operation the Nazis claimed the capture of the important Russian naval base of Sevastopol, which the German commander described as the "most powerful land and sea fortress in the world." Informed quarters in Leningrad said they didn't doubt the Berlin claim.

The fall of Sevastopol, while not a decisive event, would have far-reaching effects both strategic and political. For one thing it would weaken Russia's hold on the Black sea and would increase Nazi pressure on Turkey.

FEELS AUTO WRECKING FIRM TREATED UNFAIRLY

Editor, Times-News:—
Your editorial of Friday, June 26, strikes me as being unfair in your criticism of the auto wrecking yard east of the city on highway 20. You maintain that it is an eyesore to the city, and yet I have never had a more orderly arrangement of cars than they display. After all, their wrecked autos are a showing of merchandise; a privilege any merchant is allowed. Their new block building is as neat and good-looking as any of your business district buildings in Twin Falls.

Comparing the odor of the dump grounds to that of the auto wrecking yards is unfair. Why not compare the dump yards with the tanning of hides and pelts or the sugar factory? Both of these are within smelling distance of the city proper at all times.

What about the help these yards give in keeping the city itself clean? Compared to a few years ago, how many junk cars do you see clogging the alleys and vacant lots of your city?

In this war emergency what would the present situation be to the Iron

MEXICO RETURNS 2 OIL PROPERTIES

MEXICO CITY, July 2 (AP)—The Mexican supreme court ruled yesterday that expropriation of two small standard Oil company subsidies in Mexico was improper, thereby opening the way for the return of 11 of the 12 Standard Oil properties which were taken over in 1938.

The court ruled that the expropriation decrees which named the Huasteca Oil company as one to be seized, did not include two other smaller companies which the government claimed were subsidiaries of the Huasteca company. Standard Oil claimed that these two companies, like the Huasteca, were direct subsidiaries of the parent company, Standard Oil.

The court, overruling a lower court, said the two smaller subsidiaries, the Mercedes and Titania companies, were not Huasteca subsidiaries and therefore the decree expropriating Huasteca did not apply to them.

Foreign oil men, who were surprised by the ruling, said the decision left the way open for the return of nine other smaller companies which had the same status as Mercedes and Titania. Standard Oil has filed appeals in these nine cases and they are now pending before the supreme court.

WENDELL, July 2—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clark recently saw the same show twice—and they had a good reason.

Minidoka Forest Bans Fireworks

No fireworks will be allowed this year anywhere on the Minidoka national forest, Supervisor John T. Matthews announced today.

An order signed by Regional Forester C. N. Woods effective from July 1 until further notice closed the Minidoka national forest to the discharging of fireworks and the throwing or placing of any burning substance where it may start a fire.

"A fire apparently started by a firecracker thrown from a car burned over 10 acres of Big Cedar canyon on July 4, 1941. We want to avoid a similar happening this year," explained Supervisor Matthews. "If you so picknick or camping on the forest over the holiday, please leave your fireworks at home."

If both are pure, there is no difference in the degrees of heat sugar and cane sugar.

U. S. SPENDS OVER 25 BILLION FOR WAR IN FISCAL YEAR

EXPENDITURES TO BE BOOSTED NOW

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau announced today that the treasury spent a record total of $25,955,003,854 for cash war expenditures during the fiscal year which ended Tuesday night.

"In the fiscal year just closed," he said, "the war program was expanded approximately 25 per cent of the national income for the year. In the fiscal year 1942 the contemplated war expenditures will increase approximately 35 per cent of the national income."

He referred to a budget bureau estimate that was in the second fiscal year just beginning will cost the treasury $67,000,000,000.

"The rate of expenditure for war purposes has risen rapidly," he continued, "month by month reflecting the steady expansion of our war production."

In June, 1941, he spent on national defense $4,922,000,000, approximately 10 per cent of the estimated national income for that month. In June, 1942, he spent $24,500,000,000, or about 40 per cent of that month's estimated national income.

"During the first six months of the government total treasury expenditures were at the unprecedented figure of $14,913,303,337 for the fiscal year."

Revenues, also a record, aggregated $12,009,000,000 for the first six months of the fiscal year, an unequaled deficit of $11,902,223,770.

From Motley Crew to Perfect Group Is State Guard Record

From a group of aging World War I veterans plus new recruits beyond army service age—to a military outfit that rates 100 per cent by the War Department five months later.

That's quite a jump. But Twin Falls Company B, Fourth Infantry, Idaho state guard, accomplished it.

It's called the Rathes Excellent.

Capt. M. Crookes, commanding officer, announced today that the company had been advised of the results of the inspection conducted by Sergeant J. Groves, fourth infantry corps area headquarters, Salt Lake City, on April 25. In each of the 12 categories it received a score of 100.

The regular army officer during his visit the company received a satisfactory rating. Captain Crookes declared:

"There was not a single recommendation for improvement made to the local commanding officer, 'but that doesn't mean we're not going to try to make our outfit even more polished than it is now. We're going to try to improve with every training period."

"And we'll be ready for the mock warfar exercises that Brig. Gen. M. G. McConnell, the state adjutant general, has promised to call for this outfit in the near future."

"Conditions and situations which might confront the organization will be simulated as closely as possible in problems and exercises," McConnell declared.

"Officers part-time instructors are to be provided for the state guard whenever they can be spared from the regular army."

The organization is being trained to cope with civil disturbances and disorders, to guard vital industrial installations, and to assist the army in combating fifth columnists and parachutists.

Putzier to Take Officer Training

Among the 22 candidates for the volunteer officers' training corps who will go into training with the induction of July quotas of draftees will be one from Twin Falls selective service board No. 1. It is Charles C. Putzier, auto body repair worker and formerly a sergeant in the local national guard company now in federal service.

Carl D. Albertson, principal of the local national guard company and accepted for the volunteer officers' training corps but he will not leave until next fall.

Others from Magic Valley accepted for officers' training were: Lee Smith, Casula county; Harold Robinson, Jerome county; and Laurel E. Sorenson, Gooding county.

Volunteers accepted in June included Ross V. Freer, Casula county.

EXECUTION ASKED FOR NAZI AGENTS

WASHINGTON, July 2 (AP)—The district attorney will tonight seek execution next week charged with the sabotage of the submarine for the purpose of blowing up American military installations.

An tentatively developed during a series of conferences between war department officials, plans for the trial of the alleged saboteur rounded up by the FBI after he had escaped from the Long Island island for appointment by President Roosevelt of a seven-member military commission to pass judgment.

The trial will be closed and will be held in Washington or at the nearby government reservations. The defendants will have counsel.

While three are to be sentenced to the gallows, it was expected the trial would follow the general pattern of court martial.

WHEAT-REPLACING CROPS PROPOSED

Although the national wheat allotment remains at 55,000,000 acres for the state, a new wheat allotment also is virtually the same as last year. Twin Falls county farmers are urged to consider seriously other crops which can replace wheat on their farms in 1943 because of the shortage of wheat in the food for freedom program.

District Meet Similar to Camp Program Considered by Women

There will be no women's vacation camp at Easley hot springs this summer—because of the wartime emergency—but the women of southern Idaho will not go entirely unrepresented concerning war needs of the nation, since women's participation in the wartime program. That is, if the camp committee's plans can be carried out.

Members of the district vacation camp committee met this afternoon at the office of Mrs. Margaret Hill Carter, district home demonstration agent, to consider the possibilities of having a district meeting in July, presenting an all-day program similar to the camp program.

Only two women's vacation camps will be held this year — one at Latta hot springs, and one in northern Idaho.

Miss Hepworth Explains
Problems relating to the war, such as additional work, shortage of labor on the farms, the shortage, possible gasoline rationing and the impossibility for some to get to the camps, have made it necessary, at least temporarily, that we should attempt to hold our camps in all districts as we have formerly. Miss Marion Hepworth, home demonstration leader, said here yesterday.

She conferred with a few members of the camp committee and the committee met Tuesday evening, when the possibilities of a district meeting were discussed. It is being recommended throughout the state. Efforts will be made to have the district meeting here on July 21, with 25-30 speakers from the Latta hot springs camp. A picnic picnic will be held at the same time. Included in the prospective plans. Further details will be announced here by Mrs. W. J. Wilson, chairman of the Twin Falls county defense council, has pledged cooperation of the county. Miss Hepworth said.

BUCKLEY, July 2.—The Missionary Society staff entertained the retiring and new officers of the Young Matrons' club at a luncheon recently.

World Peace Willed For G. R. Next Year

"World peace" was willed to the Girl Reserves of 1943, when this year's attendants at the Girl Reserve summer conference placed "buried treasure" at the foot of the pine during the gypsy panorama, according to Miss Susan Kenberry.

King's Ring

Miss Kenberry, president of the Twin Falls Girl Reserves club for next year, was the only local representative at the conference held recently at Payette lakes, but a total of 14 girls attended from Magic Valley, including seven from Filer; two from Eden, and five from Burley.

One of the highlights of the conference is the gypsy panorama, next to the gypsy panorama, the girls hike into the woods, dig up the "will" for their year, left by girls from preceding conferences, and "bury treasure and a will" for girls at future camp seasons.

The endeavor to be beautiful in all things; "the attempt to find our way in the world, and the determination to be close to God in these times"; "the cultivation of appreciation for the things of our country in this emergency as Girl Reserves."
