Nazi Tank Force Forwards Barrier in Battle of Kursk

MOSCOW, July 3 (AP)—One of the most savage battles of the war is raging on the Kursk sector of the southern front where German tanks forced a strategic river barrier after losing thousands of men and hundreds of tanks and guts, the army newspaper Red Star said today.

The enemy tanks were attacked by Russian armored forces and the engagement still is progressing, the Red Star said. The banks of the river already were strewn with thousands of German dead and hundreds of tanks and the wrecks of many guns, the newspaper said.

The newspaper also stated that the whole situation on the southern front growing more tense and the magnitude of hostilities is mounting daily.

Fighting at Kharkov Heavy fighting also was reported on the Kharkov front in the Volchansk region where the Red Star said that "useless German attacks succeeded in piercing the Soviet defense at a few points, but finally the enemy was driven back with high losses, including several dozen tanks and several hundred men."

"At some points the Russians have started the initiative with attacks that recaptured villages and in others ground is changing hands," the Red Star said. "Several enemy regiments have reportedly lost 50 to 60 per cent of their effectives."

Reinforcements From Crte During a five-day battle in which the Germans were repulsed repeatedly, the enemy then moved up a new mechanized column supported by strong air support, a group of which had just been transferred from the newspaper said.

"Small groups of five or 10 tanks managed to force the river, by Soviet machine guns were driven by Soviet machine guns," the newspaper said.

President Signs Army Cash Bill

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt has signed the Army Cash Bill, an appropriation bill for 1943, the largest single appropriation measure in history and the first designed for the United States with the most powerful air and ground forces in the world since the white house opened today.

The bill contains $1,116,892,210 for 1943, including $1,000,000,000 for the army, $100,000,000 for the navy, $100,000,000 for the air force, and $16,892,210 for other military activities.

To pay and maintain the army as it expanded during the year, the bill provides for $1,000,000,000 for the strength scheduled to be reached during the 1943 fiscal year—the 1,000,000 men authorized by the act in that is the recently enacted legislation increasing the base pay of the army from $21 to $22 a month.

The President is authorized by the bill to allocate a maximum of $12,700,000 for land-lease purposes.

The house appropriations committee reported that the 23,650 planes that would be produced in the department's part of the program completed by the President on Jan. 1, 1942, including 10,000 bombers, 60,000 airplanes in the calendar year 1942, and 125,000 airplanes in the calendar year 1943.

Sen. Elmer Thomas, D., Okla., chairman of the Senate appropriations committee, gave his colleagues a hint of the number of planes that would be produced in the calendar year 1942, and 125,000 airplanes in the calendar year 1943.

"We are now making two good tanks. They are of different sizes. We are making a very large number. The amount in the bill for ordnance will provide for almost 100,000 tanks. I don't desire to disclose the exact number for reasons of military secrecy," contributing her 20-inch, brown curls.

TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, FRIDAY, JULY 3, 1942

The 4th of July Spirit

REMEMBER THOSE KIDS DOWN THE STREET WHO USED TO WAKE THE WHOLE NEIGHBORHOOD WITH THEIR FIREWORKS!

WELL, THEY'RE STILL AT IT.

High Dive by Fireman Added to July 4 List

Twin Falls won't have a carnival for its July 4 celebration but Saturday through will have a high diving exhibition just the same—of the Twain Falls variety.

It will be put on by one of Chief Zeke Bartlett's crack firemen and will be part of his department's fire fighting demonstration set for 8:30 p. m. The jump will be from atop the hand shell at the city park into the pool of water.

Without the carnival there won't be any fire-eaters but the city's firemen will demonstrate how to put out fires, especially troublesome gasoline fires.

The fire department exhibition will be just one of the many interesting features that the Junior Chamber of Commerce July 4 committee has arranged to entertain the citizens of Twin Falls and south Idaho.

"This July 4 celebration seems to be shaping up with the same sincere spirit that has motivated our 'fourths' of years ago," said Albin Young, general chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce committee. "It's all clean-cut entertainment and all free to our friends throughout the Magic Valley who want to come here for a morning and afternoon of fun and demonstration of patriotism. We especially recommend the parade."

The parade scheduled on and on the festivities of the day is expected to be one of the finest in recent years—a parade that will show all Twin Falls' military and patriotic groups and many of its civic organizations, according to Harold Luckey, the parade chairman.

The units of the parade will assemble at 9:15 a. m. and will begin marching on Second street east on Main avenue to Second street east, then on Second street east to the library building. The main section of the parade will move onto Sixth avenue east for the break-up, and the children will break off into the park where treats will be served to all participants.

Farmers Urged by FDR to Pay Debts

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt asked today that farmers begin immediately to pay off their debts, mortgages and other obligations so as "to avoid the uncertainties of the hardship such as were experienced by farmers and others during and following the first World War."

So next week a concentrated drive will get underway to sell bonds which, in maturity, will be used to become the first county in the nation to name the honor.

Uncle Sam can start warming up those motors on the bomber quota when the amount needed to reach that quota is now less than $30,000.

There one man who asked that his name be withheld bought all $30,000 worth himself. The goal was promptly boosted to $100,000.

British Throw Back Nazi Attackers in Egypt With Heavy Loss to Axis Force

By The Associated Press

Cairo, July 3 (AP)—The British, after a 11th hour, were reported to have thrown the axis aviators into reverse in the flaming three-day "battle of the bottleneck" today, inflicting heavy losses on the enemy.

A bulletin from British imperial headquarters said Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's tank army "withdrew to the west, leaving our positions intact" after a fierce tank battle at evening at El Alamein, 65 miles west of Alexandria. The axis forces fell back to positions some three or four miles to the west to regroup.

Italian headquarters yesterday claimed the capture of Alamein, which was described as the last British stronghold guarding the great road to the Nile.

Front-line dispatches said the twilight tank battle in the desert, the first for which the British tanks were used, was a tactical success that Rommel called a retreat.

Bombers Used Throughout the battle our fighters, fighter-bombers and light bombers were employed in increasing numbers and heavily attacked enemy concentrations of armor and tanks, British communications said.

ROOSEVELT RAPS "PRESSURE" FOR PARTY QUARREL

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt today blamed "pressure group tactics" for the current congressional controversy over permitted to sell grain surpluses at below-parity prices for feed purposes.

Intervening in the dispute which has been up since the 1943 farm appropriation and left the agriculture department without funds since Tuesday, Roosevelt sent identical letters to seven leaders of farm, labor and religious organizations who had written him previously imploring congressional failure to complete action on the legislation.

"The only real issue involved here is the price of feed for livestock. The price of feed is a matter of public interest and the government should be free to use its feed resources to produce food for the war-time and post-war periods."

ANTI-INFLATION PROGRAM WALTERRIG; RIVAL GROUPS PARRY

SHOWDOWN SEEN FOR ECONOMICS

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The administration's anti-inflation program is falling today and heading the nation toward a spectacular showdown on domestic economic policies.

At the moment the show is being held at a contest between the House Administrator Leon Henderson and the administration on the one side and congress on the other.

But that is not a fair representation. Instead, it is a battle royal—no holds barred—in which meet the special and superficially non-political and superficially non-political interests of farmers, manufacturers, laborers, and consumers.

At the moment the show is being held at a contest between the House Administrator Leon Henderson and the administration on the one side and congress on the other.

sum of British tanks and mobile artillery except around Rommel's right flank in a surprise thrust and encircled the enemy.

It was not immediately clear whether this was merely a light harassment force to attack enemy communication lines or a full-scale encirclement maneuver. If the latter, it would appear that Gen. Auchinleck had out-fought "the fox," drawing Rommel deep into the coastal hinterland and then cutting off the escape route to the west.

Withdrawal of Rommel's heavy mechanized divisions through the Qattara salt marshes would be virtually impossible.

American Bomb Troop American planes, manned by American crews, took part in one of the fiercest bombardments of Tobruk, Libyan port.

Throughout yesterday's battle, British planes in the air were shuttled over the land forces, providing invaluable backing for the defenders and attacking Rommel's concentrations. It could be assumed that this offensive continued today.

British headquarters said the enemy had suffered sharp losses and declared that imperial defense positions in the west coast of Libya from Alexandria, were holding firm.

Balatak in Fight

Informers quarters in the new Italian Littorio mechanized division had gone into action in the desert for the first time in August when they armored strength to four divisions—two German and two Italian.

"There was an increase of enemy air activity over the battle area during the afternoon of July 2 and 3," the communiqué also said. Numerous dogfights developed over the line, and British fighter planes were credited officially with shooting down eight Axis planes. The British squadron, some 45 miles from Alexandria, were holding firm.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL HIGH RIGG

REVOLT—European peasants may contribute as much to the eventual defeat of Hitler as allied fighting men. With the most serious problem, the growing recalcitrance of farmers in France and Germany troubles the Berlin ministry of agriculture, where several significant changes of top personnel have taken place in the last few months.

The French rural people, always rebellious, exhibit the most sinister mood they are recent. For their individual and social life has been defined as prisoners instead of exchanged. It is not likely that the day when the revolution should be returned home for every Petain laborer shipped into the reich, but Adolf would not agree. He needs the waters of the horizon blue uniform in the factories and fields. As a result, the average countryman has been unable to keep his piece to send 350,000 rifles to the front. The close cooperation of the conscription for fear of a real revolt against his already unpopular regime.

The reported interior of allied arms to the front. The day that victory will be on the horizon banner. The deficiencies exist chiefly in some types of machinery and in some types of munitions. In such varied areas of combat as the Libyan desert and the southwestern Pacific.

The flag is the primary to circumstances, but it also stems from the creation of a new world order. It dates from the Spanish civil war of more than six years ago. The Axis and Russia have thus combined in a laboratory, discovering and remedying the weakness of their equipment. England and France held aloof for fear of aiding the communists, and had no chance to profit by first-hand studies of the make-up of modern arms. The result is that the Axis has a bomb destroyed a loyal battle-ship—the first event of its kind in history—the admiralty and our own naval equipment scoffed, calling it a "lucky hit" from the smokestack.

The Polish campaign provided another test for the new arms. Hitler learned there that his land monsters and anti-aircraft had serious defects. He spent the next winter, the period of the "phony war," in close study of the attacks on his own territory. In that winter the British had few opportunities to capture enemy equipment. The Axis had a chance to gain the element in an attempt to catch up. It may be at least six months before we are a match for the foe in this respect. When the summer comes, the air war will be a hot one. It is probable that the Axis will slip most of its construction secrets to Tokyo.

The security of the basic metal in both a civilian and wartime economy—steel—threatens far greater hardships for the day-ahead than have been appreciated or published. In every line of activity where this material is needed—building, motor repair, lawn and machine tools, and in many other ordinary citizens must do without. Almost every product produced in 1942 and 1943 will go to the fighting services.

The army and navy estimate that they will require about 90 million tons, perhaps a 100 million in view of the fact that the Axis is producing about 25 million tons in the fairly prosperous and booming Axis. The Axis is producing about 25 million tons in the fairly prosperous and booming Axis. The Axis is producing about 25 million tons in the fairly prosperous and booming Axis.

Washington's day in developing high-cost mines and oil fields. The situation is such that we are in a position to expand the industry now. We must get along as best we can. That will necessitate a heavy reliance on the steel industry, and possibly federal repurchase of idle inventories.

CAPTURE—The appearance of the names of Elliott Roosevelt and Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., in the war news column of the Times and Washington Post raises the question of whether the present conflict will produce a political hero to rank with Washington, Jackson, Tyler, Grant, Taft, Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson.

These two scientists of distinguished fathers, not to mention the names of Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson, may emerge with definite battle-advantages. Even if modern military operations do not permit of the blood-curdling yell, returning soldiers invariably carry an edge over fresh colonial opponents. So far, Douglas MacArthur has not been in a position to give his men a fighting word. His friends already are urging him for the White House. In 1940 if not in 1941, if the war continues to its present residential election, if the defender of Britain is not permanently alerted in remote Australia, he may prove to be the man to succeed. He will have a battle-fied full of rivals.

These prospective candidates must also escape capture by the enemy in a residential election. Their competing should they linger in prison camps at voting time, their absence might prove a handicap rather than an asset.

PALEO—Secretary Morgenthau before the House War Relocation Authority committee was asked by the "voluntary" purchase of war securities. In opposing mandatory sales, he pointed out that his own purchases were in the hands of the government. But grumbling procurers confide that their boss did not tell the whole story. The buy-bond campaign was placed in charge of office hours and division chiefs. They were given bearing cards signifying their responsibility and the signature of the secretary. The buy-bond campaign was placed in charge of office hours and division chiefs. They were given bearing cards signifying their responsibility and the signature of the secretary.

Come on and Help Uncle Sam Drown Rats

ALBERT LEAMAN sneaking into secluded boys in the Yukon peninsula, which is low in rats, and are at the top of the food chain, and are also attacking us with both feet and claws. The tide is on our side, and makes detection difficult. Local men are extremely lax and grow fat on the backs of the rats, the other way when a gas runner is creeping along the coast.

Hundreds of maul subjects have been killed in several instances powerful two-way radio sets uncovered. This is a natural explanation of the communications is possible. But perhaps more of the type of sub creates more mystery. Steamship lines are between Progress, Vancouver's main port, and New Orleans, when he was stationed there as Hitler's consul. A few conventional boats and forth might have prepared the way for today's supply depot—and slaughter on the sea.

LOST—The threadbare theme of government oracles has been "We are at the top of the food chain, and are also attacking us with both feet and claws. The tide is on our side, and makes detection difficult. Local men are extremely lax and grow fat on the backs of the rats, the other way when a gas runner is creeping along the coast." The argument always has good for a few hip-hip-hurray in a victory, but which are collected in the inner sanctum of New York aviation engineers. Our antagonist is well prepared to plug it out with us for mastery of the air.

In 1933 when Hitler rose to power, Japan made nearly 4,000 planes a month. In this year, it has produced 4,000 more planes. A negligible number was lost in China.

CARE OF YOUR CHILDREN

It is becoming smart to be thrifty. Waste is no longer a sign of superiority, but is rapidly becoming what is called a sign of a lack of indication of vast stupidity.

Children will benefit by learning that the things they use are made of things that they gain in intelligence. Learning that we have about the house to make things that need strength their efficiency because they use their ability to create.

Whenever the children make something that they used such as a sled, a wagon, a usable bicycle, they are on the road to mastery of their own destinies. They are on the road to mastery of their own destinies. They are on the road to mastery of their own destinies.

POT SHOTS

THE ARGUMENT—WAS THE GUY DIRT-CLOTHED OR NOT?

Dear Pot Shooter: Here is a bit of sentimental verse I composed the other day while waiting my clothes in the laundry. I was thinking about those washings they were such an abomination to me. I was thinking about the fact that when I was at home, how gladly I would wash, and scrub, and cook for them.

I don't know how I feel. I would only have him back. I wouldn't care about the tracks across the floor. I wouldn't scold about his dirty clothes. I wouldn't like would bother me no more.

I wouldn't care about the gangs that gathered round. Nor fret about the noise they make. I wouldn't rebuke him when they were being nice. I wouldn't care about the tracks across the floor. I wouldn't care about the gangs that gathered round.

ANALYZING CURRENT NEWS FROM NEW YORK

DISCOVERY—Close on the heels of FBI disclosures regarding ships laden from U-boats, come sensational reports from Mexico that German U-boat drifters just back from Mexico. They claim that for the past several weeks, German U-boats have been operating in the Gulf of Mexico, and that they have been making landings on the coast. The discovery is a serious one, and it is a matter of great concern to the American government.

BLUENOSE—Eight out of every 10 of the eastern seaboard's 55,000 dealers had nothing to offer to the buyers who were looking for a new car. The dealers were so few in number that they were unable to meet the demand. This is a serious situation, and it is a matter of great concern to the American government.

CLAPPER'S OBSERVATIONS

On the other transport I saw the hospital arrangements. The main hospital on the ship was a long and narrow operating table so that operations can be performed even if the ship's lighting system goes out. Other emergency operating equipment was stored in various parts of the ship.

RAW COURAGE

One type of courage goes over the top, in the form of physical combat, against shells and machine gun bullets, tanks and flame throwers. Another type, and perhaps even greater, sits in an open boat and refuses rescue, in order that the would-be saviors themselves might not become victims of a German submarine.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL AIRPIG

REVOLT—European peasants may contribute as much to the eventual defeat of Hitler as allied fighting men. What you witness food stocks are being stored in a serious problem, the growing recalcitrance of farmers in France and Germany troubles the Berlin military of agriculture, where several significant changes of top personnel have taken place in the last few months.

Despite shortages of seed, machinery and help, der. The farmer has grown into a powerful, independent producer, and imposed severe penalties when they failed to meet his needs. He has grown into a powerful, independent producer, and imposed severe penalties when they failed to meet his needs. He has grown into a powerful, independent producer, and imposed severe penalties when they failed to meet his needs.

RAY TUCKER, stubborn, individualistic and fiercely anti-French, has been appointed to a post of great responsibility. He is a former prisoner of war, and his experiences should be returned home for every French soldier who slipped into the Reich, but Adolf would not agree. He needs the services of the hospital also in the factories and fields. As a result, the Auvernian country has been unable to keep his plow to send 350,000 acres of land to the front and the result is a total crop failure for a real revolt against his already unpopular regime.

TEST—The reported inferiority of allied arms to certain key German and Japanese weapons may postpone the day that the Allies will be able to use their own. The deficiencies exist chiefly in some types of planes, tanks and artillery, and they have been manifest in such varied theaters as the Libyan desert and the southwestern Pacific.

The lag is due partially to circumstances, but it also stems from the fact that the Allies have not had the same strategists in Berlin than in Paris and London. It dates from the Spanish civil war of more than six years ago. The Axis and Russians used to consider a laboratory, discovering and remedying the weaknesses of their equipment. England and France held their feet for fear of the consequences of the loss of chance to profit by first-hand studies of the make-up or use of modern equipment of destruction. When a facet of the Axis or Russian machine was exposed, they were quick to find its kind in history—the admiralty and our own naval experts scoffed, calling it a "lucky hit" down the smokestack.

The Polish campaign provided another test for the Axis. Hitler learned there that his land monsters were not invincible. He learned that his tanks were not invincible. He learned that his tanks were not invincible. He learned that his tanks were not invincible.

IDLE—The scarcity of the basic metal in both a civilian and wartime economy—steel—threatens far greater hardships for the stay-at-homes than have been anticipated or publicized. In every branch of industry where this material is needed—building, minor home repairs, lawn and farm machinery, garbage containers, and many other things—there is a shortage of every point produced in 1942 and 1943 will go to the fighting services.

It is now estimated that they will require about 50 million tons, perhaps a 100 million in view of perils upon upward revision of our production schedule. The steel industry has produced about 40 million tons in the fairly prosperous and booming year of 1940. In the latter period the amount set aside for the military was about 10 million tons. It is doubtful if the like total for the current development will reach four million, despite increased demand for it.

CAPTURE—The appearance of the names of Elliott Roosevelt and Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., in the war news indicates official and unofficial Washington. It also indicates that the present effort of action is a political one to rank with Washington, Jackson, Taylor, Grant, Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson.

NEW TECHNIQUE—The War Labor board's new technique for handling wildcat strikes has certain merits. If one is not given to worrying about the future. By using labor unions to discipline members who walk out or sit down without authorization, the WLB sets production in motion without the unpleasantness of a show-down against workers.

RAW COURAGE—One type of courage goes over the top. In the excitement of physical combat, against shells and machine gun bullets, tanks and flame throwers.

Other Points of View

TOO MANY AGENCIES—A frightening document has been compiled and distributed by the office of government reports in Idaho. It lists the names of 117 agencies, divisions, offices and State Agencies.

TRIALS OF A SECRETARY—Sleuth XXV brought us the following: "The information it contains is enough to frighten the living daylight out of any taxpayer. It doesn't list the names of the hundreds of thousands of underlings employed in each department.

LET'S TAKE AUTOS AWAY FROM ALL CARELESS DRIVERS! Then our streets will be safe and quiet—and almost deserted.

EVERY WAR STAMP OR WAR BOND YOU BUY WILL HURRY THE TIME WHEN HITTER'S "ALL OUT" WILL BE ALL IN.

Come on and Help Uncle Sam Drown Rats

ALBERT LEMAN breaking into the Yucatan peninsula, which lies toward Cuba. Many are stocking up with both fuel and newsworthy. The thick forest growth and the difficult terrain make the tanks and other equipment. When he can get no supplies for his water pump, his cattle go thirsty. The motor on the water pump engine may consume 10 to 20 gallons a day.

LOST—The threadbare theme of government oracles has been that although the Japanese army and navy were not equal to the United States' it's so hot; it couldn't be replaced; and the allies were "whittling away at the Japanese empire." It was good for a few hip-hip-hurrahs in any pep talk. World production of steel is the largest in the world. Our nation's steel industry is the largest in the world. Our nation's steel industry is the largest in the world.

WAR RATIONING AND BANS INDICATE "SAFE" FOURTH

FIREWORKS BAN PUT ON COASTS

By The Associated Press
A nation fighting to protect the freedom it won in other wars celebrates tomorrow the first anniversary of the Fourth of July in a quarter-century under conditions that may make it the most unusual and safe.

Most war factories will turn on, many fireworks have been abandoned and on the popular coast, gasoline rationing will keep the greater part of the area's 100,000 motorists off the highway. Many of the 54,000,000 residents of the 17 sea-starved Atlantic coast states plan to make their usual holiday trips by train or motor.

Army warnings that fireworks displays and large gatherings might present opportunities for token attacks and for saboteurs and actual bans on such celebrations on the east and west coasts as well as the Gulf states indicated that these areas would observe the holiday quietly.

In the nation's capital, Washington's annual municipal fireworks display was cancelled and it was announced that work would go on in all government offices connected with the war effort.

Inland, however, in some central and southwestern states, where the danger of possible air raids is less than that on the coasts, many big events were planned to attract thousands of celebrators, unhampered by gas rationing.

Mississippi Celebrates
Typical of these will be Mississippi's annual American Legion show at Powderhorn park, where 20,000 largest crowd in the event's 13-year history—are expected to attend an 11-day program featuring the mass induction of 1,500 navy recruits.

Many communities in the intermountain west planned celebration but they were generally stopped without elaborate fireworks displays. In many cities statutes prevent the private use of fireworks and municipalities generally decided not to stage public displays.

War Industries of the vital Salt Lake City-Ogden area in northern Utah will be busy as usual.

Shriners Drop Pyrotechnics
Indianapolis, the Shriners abandoned their annual fireworks show for a day of a similar one to be staged by the army relief fund, while in the American Legion planned a fireworks exhibit at the city's university stadium, including on the program of the American Legion's annual picnic.

New Yorkers, prohibited from using fireworks and many unable to get for cars, are expected either to stay home or do their shopping by train and bus. Travel indications are that there'll be plenty of the latter.

The New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads reported that they were prepared to use every piece of available equipment for the annual rush by millions both into and out of the city.

Grange Gleanings

By A. HARVESTER

FAIRVIEW

In a very discourteous way I was invited to write up a Grange meeting and find after you have it in the mail that you have left out something, but when I wrote up the last Fairview Grange session I left out several things. It was in the very early morning and I guess I was not thoroughly awake. In fact, many things were not up yet.

My memory must be slipping, with so much to remember. I must try to remember. I can tell my grandchildren, when I used to drive up to a service station, some smart fellow would start kidding my tires around and say, "Better let me trade you a new set of tires." Then they would start kidding me about my tires and I would say, "I must remember Pearl Harbor, Danton, Corregidor, Wake Island, the rubber drive and my stamps. So excuse if the old pumpkin shell cracks under the strain."

Well, anyway, my sincere apologies to Mr. Melvin Harrison, our worthy secretary, and to all others involved. Mr. Harrison gave me a very good copy of the program, which I had to read to my memory, which, like rubber, just isn't anymore. The program compared the graduates, when we were honoring, to a garden, the soil, seed, cultivation, etc., and all followed by the harvest. Mrs. Frank Southwick gave a humorous reading, Mrs. Alvin Krueger responded to a toast "Soil," and an original poem, "Victory Garden," which presented in action the various activities of the Grange. These are critical times and Arditia Harger, Bob Chandler, a high school graduate, and Forrest Holt from Aillon Normal, were also among the graduates honored.

DEEP CREEK

Deep Creek Grange met last Friday night with a good attendance, at the L. B. Tilly home. The Pomona flower show and the report of the USO drive were topics before the club. The latter a very satisfactory report showed a large amount above the quota.

For the program Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Sweet sang "Rose O' Day" and "Secret Mystery of Life," accompanied by Mrs. M. J. Thayer. Mrs. Bertha Ann solo. Mr. Bertieau talked on "Traffic Regulations and the Motorist's Responsibility." On the whole, rural America shows a reduction in traffic accidents on the highways, while the urban areas (as denoted show an increase). Mr. Nefzer played two piano selections. The Major Fred Vandergent expressing thanks for the membership for the duration and also for the Christmas present sent from the club, was read.

BUHL

Build Grange met June 23, with a good attendance. The program was very good. The Pomona flower show was reported. Only routine reports were given for action and the season was short. The program furnished by Deep Creek Grange was excellent.

CEGAR DRAW

Cedar Draw Grange met last Friday night at the home of Mrs. M. J. Thayer and several visitors. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jones (Edie), Mrs. M. J. Thayer, Mrs. M. J. Thayer (Mrs. Grange?) and Mother Jones. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eastman, Mr. and Mrs. George Baxter, and Mrs. and Mrs. Lonnie Moore and Beulah Moore. Opening song was "The Dear Old Partners" from the "Duke and the Duchess." The program presented by Fred Blenk Grange lecturer, opened with group singing "The Duke and the Duchess" followed by "The Soldier's Farewell." Beulah Moore played two selections on the guitar, "Quantita"

SUGAR CHISELING SLOWS UP TASK

The slowness with which the task of causing sugar rationing complete is being carried here is attributed today to the attempt by heads of families to "get unlimited and abnormal amounts of sugar."

Carl Anderson, chairman of the Twin Falls county rationing board, called attention to the fact that law provides a 10-year prison term or a $10,000 fine for both the giving and the receiving of sugar rationing tickets.

The following statement on sugar rationing was issued by Mr. Anderson: "The final records of the sugar rationing campaign for causing complete rationing to be completed and will be finished next week. The amount of sugar that has been industriously chiseled and hoarded for the past two weeks."

"The Twin Falls county rationing board issued about 25,000 ration cards, and one can hardly appreciate the amount of sugar that has been hoarded in this county. It is a remarkable fact that, with the rush, the campaign against sugar rationing has been completed. The detailed information required the sugar rationed for causing purposes was so equitably distributed into family units."

"Inequalities developed and these inequalities are due to several reasons. One reason was the small amount of information available to the ration board, the hesitance of the registrars and the speed with which the campaign was organized and completed. Perhaps the main reason for inequalities was due to two factors: The party registering for the family unit attempting to get unlimited and abnormal amounts of sugar and the registrar failing to stamp ration tickets."

"The rationing board in checking the sugar rationing records is working under section 25A of the United States Internal Revenue code, which provides for the making of false statements by a criminal offense punishable by a maximum of ten years imprisonment or $10,000 fine, or both, to make a false statement or representation in any department or agency of the United States or in any matter within the jurisdiction of that department or agency of the United States."

"Units that applied for sugar must use it as stated in their applications. If not, it should be reported to the Twin Falls county rationing board after 30 days."

RAF BLASTS AT BREMEN SECTOR

LONDON, July 3 (AP)—A strong fleet of long range bombing planes estimated to number upwards of 300, made the fourth large royal air force raid in eight nights on Bremen, key German submarine and war factory area, during the night. It was announced today.

Many fires were left burning in the city, already devastated by three previous raids in the first of which, on the night of June 25, a force of upwards of 1,000 big planes, each with tons of bombs, hurled destruction on factories, docks and building yards.

An air ministry communiqué, reporting that 13 bombers were missing, indicated the size of the raid. It was estimated that in eight
