GREEN EXPECTS LABOR GROUPS TO REACH "FAIR SETTLEMENT"

MEETING PLACE TO BE ARRANGED

CHICAGO, Aug. 4 (AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, announced today that AFL representatives would meet with the CIO in an effort to bring the two great labor groups into organized reunion ending their seven-year rift.

He said the two "peace committees" for the two organizations would reach a settlement fair to all concerned.

The standing peace committee of the American Federation of Labor is ready to meet with the committee appointed by Mr. Murray (Philip Murray, president of the CIO). Green said "steps will be taken at once to arrange a time and place of meeting convenient to both."

He said he was willing to meet with Murray, also in Chicago, but "I may or I may not."

Invited Green Murray invited Green to participate in the effort to bring labor to a maximum reunion at Pittsburgh Sunday. The move was understood to have stemmed from a previously secret White House conference on July 23 during which President Roosevelt urged them to settle their differences in the interest of national unity and uninterrupted war production.

Green said unaffiliated unions such as the Brewery Workers and the International Telegraphers Union would be invited to participate in the conference but that the railroad brotherhoods probably would be brought in only if their previous refusals of invitations to affiliate.

Will Make Contact Peace committees of the two organizations will contact one another immediately, Green said. Harry C. Winters, executive vice president of the CIO, will represent Green. Murray heads the AFL committee.

Accused by the desire for peace which prevails throughout the country, the labor congress will be able to reach a settlement fair to all concerned.

12 FEARED DEAD AS DRAFT SINKS

STANDISH, Mich., Aug. 4 (UP)—A cabin cruiser which foundered Sunday in Standish bay with 12 people aboard was sighted submerged near Point au Gris today and coast guard experts believe that at least one known survivor had perished.

Fear that six men and five women still missing would not be found alive was voiced when coast guardmen discovered the body of Cecil Day, 45-year-old miller, south of the wreck, a converted tug, was located.

The cruiser, which had left early Sunday on a fishing party, foundered about 10 a. m. off the Point au Gris.

The only known survivor, Mrs. Louis Rejke, 27, of Day City, who swam an estimated seven miles to safety, was recovering from a horrible experience to give the first account of the apparent tragedy.

Regaining strength but still shaken, Mrs. Rejke said of having a second woman in an attempt to swim to shore after the 30-foot craft presumably struck a rock in mid-bay.

From about 3 p. m. until darkness, the three kept together, then they became separated. After what she believed to have been hours, Mrs. Rejke attained shore and struggled to an unoccupied hunting cabin, there to fall into an exhausted sleep.

At noon yesterday she awakened and walked three miles to a farm house. When Mrs. Rejke and her two companions began their swim, their friends, all wearing life jackets, were clinging to a portion of the cruiser's cabin.

ALIEN RIGHTS TO LAWSUIT UPHELD

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4 (UP)—A ruling by the third U. S. circuit court of appeals held today that enemy aliens have an "unquestioned right" to prosecute private lawsuits in state and federal courts even while this nation is at war with their homeland.

Judge John Biggs, Jr., Charles Alvin Jones and Edward P. Goodrich maintained the position of the department of justice and overruled District Judge Alfred P. Barakoff of Lynchburg, Va., who said that German, Italian and Japanese nationals must wait until after the war before bringing such suits.

The circuit court added, however, "that proceeds of any judgment recovered by a resident enemy alien... may be so awarded that they will be of benefit to the enemy." It suggested this purpose could be accomplished by "freezing" of the judgment by the secretary of the treasury.

FAMED "SPHINX" POLITICIAN DIES

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (UP)—Christopher D. Sullivan, 72, the Sphinx of Tammany hall who in 23 years as a congressman never was known to make a speech, died last night.

The big politician, whose ruddy face under a thatch of white hair was a familiar sight in Washington, New York and Albany even if his voice seldom was heard, collapsed in the record assembly district Democratic clubhouse—his last stronghold since his master last February from the leadership of Tammany.

A native New Yorker, "Christy" as he was known—entered the real estate business as a young man but politics was his prime interest. In the latter field, his methods differed widely from the run-of-the-mill politician.

Throughout his political hey day from 1917 to 1940, Tammany chairman from 1937 until six months ago, he showed an aversion to publicity and the limelight.

Strictly a behind-the-scenes manipulator, his modesty and shyness on his few public appearances won him the nickname of "The Sphinx."

ELKBRIDGE, Md., Aug. 4 (UP)—Leon, 30, and apparently still the worst for going 30 days without food, hunger-striking camp inmate, went back to ditch-digging again today at the Anvlon correctional objector camp, still refusing to eat.

Arthur Gamble, director of the camp operated by the American Friends service committee of Philadelphia, said Dr. Wilmer K. Gallahue, Anvlonville, camp physician, examined Bishop last night.

The doctor said he seemed in good condition, and found little change since he examined Bishop last Thursday, Gamble said.

As far as we know, he has taken nothing but water. Bishop, 36, whose weight has fallen from 172 to 120 pounds, left the camp infirmary and returned to work yesterday morning on orders from selective service headquarters in Washington.

Bishop began his hunger strike June 25 when he said officials had failed to act on a request for $10 to $15 days furlough to return to his West New York, N. J., bookstore and close out his business affairs.

CAR STAMP SALE

SHIFTS TO BOISE

The stamps are no longer available at postoffices or at district internal revenue offices. Distinctive for the stamp, which costs $5, must be made either in postal money order or certified check. Personal checks will not be accepted.

TWO KILLED IN FIRE STAMPEDE

MONTREAL, Aug. 4 (UP)—A spectator at a charity vaudeville show in an old, open-air stadium last night smelted smoke and shouted "Fire!"

Instantly, the 2,000 persons present took up the cry. Jumped up and stamped for the single narrow exit. Scores of women and children were trampled down. The crowd, yelling and jamming in panic, trampled them over.

When police finally restored order, they found Mrs. M. Cole, 63, and Dennis Wistare, eight, lying in the exit. Mrs. Cole was dead. Dennis died an hour later in a hospital.

At least 20 more were taken to hospitals and one of these, an unidentified young woman, died today. Seven, suffering from serious injuries and shock, remained in the hospital.

The fire, under the grandstand of what used to be a ball park on Ontario street, was extinguished before all the victims were removed.

CAUCASUS NEARS GERMAN'S GRASP

By LOUIS F. KEENLE
Of The United Press War Desk
The main German thrust now is centered south and southeast of Rostov, and it is the Russian left wing counties there that the Germans will have the north Caucasus oil fields virtually within their grasp.

Banglinary fighting still continues in the bend of the Don reaching Stalingrad, but the Russians are holding there and are making a stand which at least gives promise of stopping the Germans short of Stalingrad and the Volga.

But in the south the situation is extremely critical. The Germans, who massed enough troops there to storm strongly-defended Rostov, apparently have moved in heavy reinforcements and have advanced one point 100 miles south of Rostov. They are striking in two spearheads toward the Kuban river and the northern foothills of the Caucasus and form a perfect pathway to the Crimean fields and along the Caspian to the principal Baku fields.

German claims to have reached the upper arm of the Kuban probably are premature and their statements that they have reached Voronezh, only 10 miles north of the Baku railroad, is fantastic.

However, they have reached Kuzhchek, 50 miles south of Rostov, where the Russians admit they are on the defensive and claim only to have stopped the Germans "at some points." To the east, the Germans have reached Bialk, 100 miles southeast of Rostov, where the Soviet communiqué admits a withdrawal to new positions.

By reaching Bialk the Germans have cut the railroad leading from the Caucasus to Leningrad. It is possible for them to attempt a turning movement from there along the railroad and strike at the flank and rear of the Russians in the Kuzhchek area. That is more probable than a drive due eastward across the open steppes to the Caspian, although the latter is feasible for a mechanized army at this time of the year.

Opportunity Time
This would be an opportunity time for the Germans to attempt a third drive across the strait of Kerch from the Crimea. Such a drive has been expected ever since their costly reduction of the fortress of Sevastopol. If they succeeded in making a crossing in force, the situation of the Russian left wing would become extremely critical and the Russians in that area would be in danger of being surrounded from the north and east.

The situation is ominous and it may become apparent even in so short a time as a week or so whether the Germans are likely to succeed in this, the most threatening of their drives. The outcome may have an important bearing on the final front deliberations in London.

WILLKIE REJECTS WAR IN POLITICS

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie believes that the war should be eliminated from politics in congressional and state political campaigns.

Willkie, titular head of the Republican party, prescribed a three-point program for his party yesterday. He said he spoke as a Republican, but hoped Democrats as well as Republicans would adopt similar principles as "the chief element in our objectives for which we fight."

His program follows:
"That America must fight this war in union with other countries until the last vestige of totalitarianism and aggression is destroyed throughout the world. For we have come to know that the world of today is not interested that a cancerous growth in one part quickly infects all other parts. And we know that we in America for the sake of our own survival, must be concerned with the health of each part of the world."
"That no matter how painful or how long and arduous the road to complete victory may be, we must tread it with no thought of appeasement, and no hope of peace until such it is reached. And that end must be a world in which men and women of every race and creed can live in decent lives, expanding economic opportunity and political and religious freedom."

"That within the war is over, we must set up institutions and methods of international political and economic cooperation and adjustment among the nations of the earth to the end that excess nationalistic ideas and military ambitions will find no spawning ground; that we must, in addition, devise some form of joint international forces to prevent their growth under any circumstances. For we are resolved that the people of the world shall not again be cursed with the frightful suffering of modern warfare."

BRITISH AND U.S. SOLDIERS SCRAP

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Aug. 4 (AP)—One British soldier was killed and several American soldiers were injured in a knife fight in a Randalstown dance hall. It was revealed today in an indictment in the county Antrim coroner's court.
At the conclusion of the inquest into the death of Pvt. Owen McLaughlin, 24, of Motherwell, Scotland, a member of the British platoon company the coroner said that two American soldiers had been stabbed in the fracas.
The chief constable of the district, he said, is prepared to give evidence regarding the participation of the American soldiers in "this regrettable fight."
The coroner said he did not think that anyone involved in the fight had any intentions to kill and that he "trusted that this unfortunate incident will give the good relations existing between the British and American forces."

The Public Forum

ASKS WHY SUIT WAS FILED
Editor, Times-News:
Two years ago the voters of Twin Falls county elected a prosecuting attorney and a county treasurer, the former a Republican and the latter a Democrat. At the beginning of this year the Republican gentleman loaded both barrels of his legal shotgun against the Democrat. The public is getting curious to learn why he did that.

A certain law suit was filed in district court by the county attorney against the lady. To date this case has not come to trial. We wonder why. If the lady is guilty of any crime against the commonwealth she people she serves so well have a right to know about it. Also if the suit was filed for political purposes or for persecution of the lady we also have a right to know about that.

So we are asking for a public explanation as to why this suit was filed and why it has not been heard in court or dismissed. We have voted for the lady each time she has run and intend to do so again this year. She is a good, capable, public servant.

We have been hearing of many complaints regarding taxpayers having to pay a delinquent tax penalty this year because they were alerted by over the deadline when their check reached the county treasurer. The latest date you could pay your taxes set by law and that date was only advertised as per state law. The prosecuting attorney is a fair-minded lad who is the law dictator for the rest of our county officials. We understand the gentleman now in the prosecutor's office sent a notice to the lady now in the treasurer's office not to pay any money without the penalty after the deadline date. She has one and she believes it is not suit against her now. Lawsuits are expensive and she could not afford to pay any attorney fees for nothing. If you got stung with a tax penalty by a biased Democrat lady, but by blaming the state of Idaho on the Republican prosecuting attorney who always ready to fire both barrels of his legal shotgun against Democrats ready to pay the largest penalties for this is as it is we as a taxpayer and voter want to know. If you don't know the answer your guess is as good as mine.

Mr. Chairman: Politics is now adjourning for the duration of the war. I will not until my rights of the political case. We'll get our own share of suffering, fighting capital, labor, and grieving over some senseless battle the enemy that we will elect every year. John Q. Taxpayer replied: "Thumb down! We are not asleep!"

PELLEY GETS NO LINDBERGH HELP

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 4 (AP)—Charles A. Lindbergh, appearing as a defense witness in the extradition trial of William Dudley Pelley, testified today that it was his impression that the majority of the people opposed our entering the war before we were attacked.
The aviator made a 10-minute appearance in Federal Judge Percy C. Baltzell's court without offering a word of support for Pelley or his fascist aviator organization.
Lindbergh, a star America First orator before Pearl Harbor, testified he had not spoken publicly since the outbreak of war. Defense counsel asked him whether he had made any effort to determine whether people's opinion toward war had changed since the U. S. declaration of war. "No sir, I have not," he replied.

Helping Win War
"Since America entered the war," he added, "I have devoted my time and energy to helping out in any way I could in connection with the war."
Lindbergh came here from Dearborn, Mich., where he has been serving as technical advisor on war plane production for the Ford Motor Co.

Most of the 10 minutes was consumed by a detailing of Lindbergh's background as an aviator and employe of Ford. Several hundred boys jammed the courtroom and 250 stood outside, trying to catch a few glimpses of the aviator.
At the outset, Pelley's attorney asked him if he should be referred to as "colonel."
"No," he answered, "I resigned in 1940."
Only Defense Witness
Lindbergh said he was a member of the national committee of America First prior to declaration of war. He was the only defense witness today. There was no cross-examination. The defense offered no evidence. Judge Baltzell said he would not take the responsibility of permitting defense counsel to do so if there were a possibility they might call other witnesses for Pelley later. The judge then adjourned court until tomorrow.

The defense was believed still planning to call Hugh E. Holt, former West Virginia senator, and Jacob Throckmold, former congressman from Rutte, Mont.

4 STATES CAST BALLOTS TODAY

By The Associated Press
Four states joined the August primary parade today with voters electing a Democratic majority for 37 congressional seats.
The year's biggest primary month included 15 states. The Democratic nominees for state and federal offices turned today's political spotlight on the Democratic nomination for West Virginia where the chief issues were labor and pre-war foreign policy.
In Tennessee, the Democratic nomination for governor, illia opponents were E. Lee Carroll, former U. S. Senator, and State Senator Thule B. Howard, foe of the federal farm program.
Capper Runs Again
Senate re-nomination for a fifth term, U. S. Senator Arthur Capper, Republican, was opposed by John Allison and C. J. Wiley. The Democratic nomination for the senatorial seat was sought by former Senator George McGill, former Rep. Randolph Carpenter and W. C. Clendenen, Topeka newspaperman. The three representatives also were seeking re-nomination.
The bitterest contest on the day's schedule was in Virginia where Emmett O. Dalton, former Alexandria mayor and secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Architects (I.A.A.), opposed the nomination of Rep. Howard W. Sinn, Democrat, of the eighth district.

Claimed Labor Foe
Smith also resump the Wagner labor relations act and to outlaw strikes during wartime, were opposed by Ernest Arthur Capper, foe of labor and of failing to support the administration in "vital times," according to Dalton. Dalton's spokesman questioned Davidson's loyalty to his own union organization.

CHINESE, HELPED BY U. S. BOMBERS, STORM JAP-HELD CITY

YANK AIR BLAST INFLECTS DAMAGE

CHUNGKING, Aug. 4 (AP)—Chinese infantry, supported by American bombers and fighters, were attacking the south and west sides of the important Japanese-held Pao ruler terminal of Linchow today as their main forces drove 200 miles outside the city.

Japanese military officials who have established in the Kiangsi province city their base for operations in southeast China were said to have been panic-stricken by the American bombing yesterday of their headquarters and the synchronized Chinese front offensive.

Headquarters Hill

Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, commander of American forces in China, said a 550-pound bomb scored a direct hit on Japanese headquarters while other bombs, augmented by incendiaries, were raising barracks and other military buildings.

Chinese leaders at the front said the American bombers and their fighters scored a major blow on the morale of Chinese troops and made possible the charge on Linchow.

It was reported that the Japanese were seen falling from the American planes into the target area.

Woman, Sentenced to Death, Tells What She Thinks About

By ELLIOTT CHAZE

LAKE CHARLES, La., Aug. 4 (AP) (Wide World)—Tom Jo Henry balanced her chair against the thick steel bars of her death cell and said she might as well "kick the lid off."

"About folks wonder what goes on in the mind of a condemned person," she said. "All right, I'll tell you. Maybe it'll help some reader. Most of us must see like crowd-punker to readers, the way we're photographed behind these bars."

Tom Jo Henry is 26, slim, brunette and was sentenced to die Aug. 10 for the 1940 St. Valentine day slaying of a Houston, Tex., salesman.

"In the first place, the victim doesn't return to haunt me. I never think of him. I've known all along it would be my life for his. I believe mine is worth as much to me as his was to him. I wonder though, sometimes, why it's hard now for some fellow to kill me."

"Another thing, I have a brother good enough with the 'almay,' any day now."

Fears for Brother

"I hope he gets off before I'm electrocuted. I think he might try to stop a bullet over there, and I wake up at night, you see, and my nerves yell and jerk at me because he might try to stop a bullet."

She lighted a cigarette and inhaled absently, fingering her cigarette lighter.

"The lighter is guaranteed for a lifetime," she laughed. "You know one person whose lifetime I'm electrocuted. I think he might try to stop a bullet over there, and I wake up at night, you see, and my nerves yell and jerk at me because he might try to stop a bullet."

She lighted a cigarette and inhaled absently, fingering her cigarette lighter.

150 TON TANKS URGED FOR U. S.

TOURNAPULL, Ga., Aug. 4 (AP)—R. C. LeTourneau, who makes the world's largest earth-moving machinery, said today it was up to the United States to "get busy and build a lot more of the big old battle ships that will blow the whackers off Hitler."

"Take nothing unreasonable about a 150 or 200 ton tank, armed to blast anything Germany's got off the face of the earth, and we'd really like to get out of the way if it mixes," said LeTourneau, who pushed two mountain loaders together to make an airport here last year.

LeTourneau said he had the chassis and power unit for such a tank in his "Tournapull"—the named the tank after it—a two-wheeled mechanical counterpart of Paul Dunbar's blue ox, Babe.

The Tournapull will pick up 100 tons of dirt and chug off over rough terrain at 20 miles per hour. Its two wheels are equipped with tires 36 inches across and nine feet, eight inches high.

"These chassises, put 90 tons of armor and guns on it, time it up to run at 60 miles an hour—and that's a 150 ton gun—big enough to stay out of range and smash any tank Hitler's got."

WOMAN RECOVERS $90 FROM SEWER

CLEVELAND, Aug. 4 (AP)—The money was a little damp, but a 42-year-old Cleveland woman was able to pay the rent for her delinquent store today.

A small paper bag containing the rent—$92—dropped into the plumbing yesterday, she made 13 calls before locating a plumber to dig up pipe in her basement to look for the money.

"I'll be back in a flash with the cash," the plumber said confidently—but he failed.

At the suggestion of a 16-year-old neighbor boy, James Sommers, a Puller announced this afternoon that he would immediately start digging to turn a hose into the plumbing. Then Sommers and Cal Yuhns, 23, went to a nearby machine and waited.

Sure enough, the money came floating in the stream of water poured up by the firemen. Sommers and Yuhns salvaged seven $10 bills, 12 cents and one $3 bill—but lost $5 of the $92.

Woman Recovers $90 From Sewer

CLEVELAND, Aug. 4 (AP)—The money was a little damp, but a 42-year-old Cleveland woman was able to pay the rent for her delinquent store today.

A small paper bag containing the rent—$92—dropped into the plumbing yesterday, she made 13 calls before locating a plumber to dig up pipe in her basement to look for the money.

"I'll be back in a flash with the cash," the plumber said confidently—but he failed.

At the suggestion of a 16-year-old neighbor boy, James Sommers, a Puller announced this afternoon that he would immediately start digging to turn a hose into the plumbing. Then Sommers and Cal Yuhns, 23, went to a nearby machine and waited.

Sure enough, the money came floating in the stream of water poured up by the firemen. Sommers and Yuhns salvaged seven $10 bills, 12 cents and one $3 bill—but lost $5 of the $92.

ESCAPED CONVICT KILLS WIFE, SELF

ROUNDUP, Mont., Aug. 4 (AP)—After boasting he would kill three sheriff's officers and his four children, an escaped convict shot his wife to death and fatally wounded himself yesterday, Sheriff Wes Burns said.

The escapee, Harvey Cline, 41, died on an operating table last night.

Cline, who had been hiding in the Bull mountains since his escape from Montana state's penitentiary on June 26, appeared yesterday at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mabel, where his wife, Owendolyn, 31, was staying.

Cline fired several rifle shots into the kitchen door and a moment later Cline, standing outside, put the "to his face and fired again, which snapped away part of his jaw.

En route to the Mooney home, Cline robbed Carol Lewis, water-pumping station employee, of his clothes and pickup truck. Lewis said Cline told him he planned to kill his wife and children, Burns, Undersecretary Frank Ottman and Deputy George Smith.

Mrs. painted their fingernails to show to which political party they belonged in the old days of Oregon glory.

SEATTLE CALLING WOMEN TO JOBS

SEATTLE, Aug. 4 (AP)—Seattle is calling its manpower agency today to fill 100,000 war jobs in a shipyard and aircraft factories.

Every woman capable of doing any sort of work was asked to register during the next three days at the city's nine high schools and at schools throughout surrounding King county.

The city war commission and the U. S. employment service, which sponsored the registration, set a goal of 25,000 applicants immediately but said four times that many war jobs would have to be filled eventually this year.

Immediate employment was not guaranteed. The registration was planned to serve as a survey of potential employees who can be drawn from the industrial, farm and other work as the demand arises.

No more workers can be brought in from the outside because of the lack of housing and the present strain on municipal transportation facilities. There are not enough men available to fill the gaps as airplane plants and shipyards expand, and thus women must take their place, officials said.

British Fighters Bag Nazi Planes

CAIRO, Aug. 4 (AP)—Two German Messerschmitt-109 fighter planes have been shot down over the Egyptian front and British fighters have found off two enemy plane formations which attempted to raid Malta, a communication said today.

It noted that aside from patrol activity Sunday night there was nothing to report on the ground situation.

Both men, who received only few scratches, were from La Grande.

Don't Butt Into Running of War, Gossett Advises

American people should leave the "running of the war" to the officials who are charged with the responsibility and should be continually telling everyone "how it should be done," Gen. Charles C. Gossett, lieutenant governor of Idaho and Democratic candidate for governor, was quoted as saying today.

Gossett was in this section in the interests of his campaign. Late yesterday afternoon and last night he visited with party leaders and friends in Gooding and Shoshone.

Gossett said that he had contacted a lot of people over the state and that all of them were interested in winning the war than anything else.

Of an one candidate who has pledged to back President Roosevelt in any effort which will lead toward winning this war, Gossett said.

Concerning his chances of receiving the Democratic nomination for governor, Gossett said that he was "optimistic."

OUR ELECTRICITY IS MORE IMPORTANT TODAY THAN EVER...

For a great many years electricity has been an important factor in our lives. With the advent of the war, electricity was ready to serve wherever production was needed. Today it is adequately meeting the wartime requirements of the Snake River Valley.

Helping speed up food production on the farms—serving industrial establishments—working in homes and shops and stores and offices—electric service carries on with its important job. Dependable electric service is proving more important than ever before.

KEEP YOUR APPLIANCES WORKING FOR THE DURATION

Weeks, who was married at Camp Chaffee, Ariz., last night, which was highlighted by the largest crowd attended the service and community meals Sunday, several members of a camp breakfast Monday morning, followed by a fellowship supper.

Mrs. R. H. Dunbar, pastor of the Rogerston-Hollister church, conducted the sunrise service, emphasizing the 13th year.

Indian Pageant
The pageant Saturday night was introduced by stories of the Indians told as the "pioneers" sat around the camp fire. This was interrupted by the story of the Indians, "I hear something," and an old Indian came sneaking out of the brush to inquire, "White man, have you got gun?"

When assured that the White man had not gun, the Indian brought his squaw and little girl into the clearing.

White man say one Ogo, White man say one Ogo, White man say one Ogo, and Holy Ghost, Indian don't understand. Rev. Pratt explained: "The Indians and Americans are three separate things and yet they are one. This is your family, yet they are three of you." Bessie, with the explanation, the Indian asked that the Book of God be sent back to his people, and the pageant was concluded.

Charles Shirk, son of Rev. Shirk, of the ministry at Wheaton college, Wheaton, Ill., took the part of the Indian brave.

We The Women

By RUTH MILLETT

There is no place for smobishness in this time. And yet there is plenty of it around.

The civilian population falls all over itself to be friendly and helpful to our officers. The slight of an official uniform has the magic of good address, expensive clothes, or "fine old family." Everybody is impressed by officers.

Country's Due Them
But the men who are giving up more than anyone else, the fellows who aren't yet officers and likely never will be, aren't getting the respect, courtesy, and gratitude due them from a great many civilians.

You even hear the phrase "just a private." He's just a private, the girl who is dating one says apologetically. "He's just a private," a mother feels called on to exclaim to a smobish friend.

Where do they get that "just a private" stuff? What is it that so many of all this civilian smobishness toward men in the service?

Well, part of it is the fact that so many men who are known to the public movie stars, athletes, writers, politicians are aiming for commissions—and getting them whether they deserve them or not.

Somebody who considers himself anybody (with a few outstanding exceptions, of course) wants to go into the army as a private.

So just about everybody you ever heard of goes into the service with a commission. And the civilians take their cue from that.

Their War
The men who are giving up most and who are going to have the toughest time in this war, the ones we should make heroes of, aren't getting their due from civilians.

It's not only smobish, it's ungrateful. So let's not have any more "just a private" talk. The "just a private" guys are going with the war, and the people whose homes they are fighting to preserve ought to treat them with more admiration and respect. If there is going to be any "just a" talk, let's say "just a civilian."

More than 300 attended the camp Sunday.

This Marine Unit Turns out to Be First-Rate Group

The band of marine recruits who marched away from Twin Falls June 4 to the tune of "Anchors Aweigh," the navy song, has turned out to be a prize leatherneck outfit, according to informants received from San Diego, Calif., where they are in training.

Five members of the group have already distinguished themselves one way or the other at the camp and in the platoon lead the entire camp on the rifle range with a score of 84.2 per cent.

Otis D. Cryder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Cryder, 1631 Poplar street, was second in his platoon, just as he was in his platoon lead the rifle and also was among the leaders in the camp. In addition, the young man made expert with the bayonet.

Robert L. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Johnson, 410 S. Main, made expert rifleman with 22.8. He was third in the platoon.

Five of the nine members of platoon 403 who made expert were from Idaho.

Although they failed to make expert rifleman, two other members of the June 4 delegation distinguished themselves at the camp. Bert Sweet, Jr., just missed expert rifleman by a single point but made expert with the pistol, as Gaylord Toler, another Twin Falls boy.

2 Women Accused On Vagrant Claim

Three persons, two of them women, were charged with vagrancy in complaints filed against them in municipal court, records show today.

J. C. Harmon pleaded guilty to the charge and was then fined $20 or given the alternative of spending 30 days in the county jail. Records show he paid the $20 fine. The charge came after he could show no visible legal means of support.

The two women, Rita Matt and Jean Spore, also entered guilty pleas. Sentences were deferred on each case and both were placed in custody of Chief of Police Howard Gillotte and are now in the county jail.

KNOW YOUR FABRICS

Whatever you select for your fall wardrobe you might remember that this is a year to know what the fabric that you're buying is made of. Rayon can be warm, cool, look like wool, like silk, like cotton. But each fabric requires its own kind of care, and the wise shopper looks for labels which state exactly what the material is, or the care instructions for it.

Buy the fabric that makes her choice.

GRAIN GAINS ON MODERATE SALES

CHICAGO, Aug. 4 (UP)—Moderate buying, moderate sales, and a public wheat price higher today in the almost complete absence of selling pressure.

Wheat closed 1/4 cent higher. Strength in cotton and firmness in putting markets helped local grains. There was some belief that an increase in the spring wheat movement will produce a corresponding expansion in flour buying, particularly because market levels are far below the government's last year's level.

Wheat closed 1/4 cent higher than yesterday's high, September 87 1/2-88 1/4, December 87 1/2-88 1/4, and corn was up 1/4-5/8, September 87 1/2-88 1/4 and soybeans 1/4-5/8 higher.

SERIAL STORY

BANNERS FLYING

BY MARY RAYMOND

THIS STORY... when Christie... a few nights after... Christie, Jan's twin sister...

high and banners flying. You, too Jan. Now, get dressed and come down to give your brother-in-law a proper kiss.

THE GROOM IS JEALOUS

CHAPTER VII

IT was around noon next day when Christie opened the door to Jan's room.

"Awake, Jan!"

Janet was sitting up in bed, a pillow at her back, a cigarette in her hand.

"I was never more wide awake in my life," she said.

Christie sat smiling down at her. "It's funny seeing you smoke. You never did before."

"A cigarette helps sometimes."

"Don't pull a nervous wreck business, Jan. That comes only after a whole season of parties. Didn't you have a good time?"

"I had a miserable time, Jan answered. 'You should know that.'"

"I'm sorry. What went wrong?"

"Stephen said the party was as senseless as money could make it, and he wondered how many Defense Bonds it really cost."

"Your Stephen has atrocious manners."

"Stephen?" Janet flared. "MY Stephen?"

"I don't know what is the matter with you," Christie said, "and I haven't time to find out. I came to tell you Bart and I are married. We decided to skip all the fuss. We just walked over to a minister and—"

"Christie! I was out of bed, fingering her arms around her sister. Color flamed in her cheeks.

"Did you have a good time?" Christie, you're joking!"

"I've jessed him up tight with a wedding rope."

Christie set down on the edge of the bed, her eyes bright with excitement. "Oh, Christie, why didn't you say so in the first place?"

"What on earth! What difference—"

"Oh, nothing, Christie, I'm as happy—happy for you and Bart."

"Well," Christie marveled, "it's nice you're pleased. Though I really didn't know Bart rated so high with you. Now, I've got to get to Mother and Dad now I've made them in-laws."

"Where's Bart?"

"Downstairs, pacing the rug, and watching the clock. Our honeymoon hours are flying. Bart has to report on Monday. Uncle Sam doesn't play favorites, not even the brides and grooms. But we have had a break. Bart's been transferred to our nearest flying field."

"You and Bart can take it," Jan said softly. "It'll be a grand colder and you'll be a grand soldier's wife. How about making a pipe of peace with me?" She held out a cigarette and Christie took it, thoughtfully.

"Were we at war, Jan? I didn't know."

"I was. With you, with the world. I'm ashamed, Christie, I'm not brave like you. All I want is to be happy and I'm afraid I never will."

Christie came over, placed her hands on the thin young shoulders and gazed down into the shadowed face.

"We've got to keep our hearts the tone of one who didn't see at all. He had liked to think at Christie, secure, protected under the parental roof. It was not that he wanted favors. He detested them. But he wanted to feast about his young wife while he was off taking risks.

"Christie thought unhappily: I worked so hard to get it ready for a surprise. I was so thrilled about it and Bart thinks it was all a pose."

"I'm sorry, darling," Bart was holding her close, kissing her. "It's really a swell little place, that I had the thought of you staying here alone."

"I'll manage fine. It will be good for me," Christie said. Her voice was hollow, drained of exaltation. "We're invited to have dinner with the folks."

"Good enough," Bart replied. "I thought maybe you were planning to show me some plain and fancy cooking."

The pantry was stocked and the ice box was filled. Christie had hoped Bart would say: "Let's stay home and try out the new stove."

But he hadn't. He had said "good enough." He thought rich Christie Colton was putting on an act, telling the world she was going to be brave and live on a soldier's salary.

What Bart didn't know was that the loved all of his in amazement.

As they left the elevator they came face to face with Stephen Starston.

"Well, think of meeting you two here," he drawled. "Stunning!"

"We live here," Christie answered, an edge to her voice.

"Not really," Bart was staring at her in amazement.

"I live here, too," he said. "My mother and I. May we call?"

"Hence die," Christie's eyes traveled to Bart's immobile face. Bart was acting rude. Very rude.

"It's nice we're neighbors," she added impulsively.

It was after they had driven off that Bart spoke. "Do you have to see so all-dire direct to that fellow? Wasn't saving his life enough?"

"You don't like him," Christie said slowly.

"I don't like him at all," Bart answered.

REDRAFT SLATED ON TAX MEASURE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Chairman George D. Cline, said today the senate foreign relations committee would redraft a section of the house-approved revenue bill which imposes income taxes on American citizens who are residents of foreign countries.

George made this announcement when Minnie T. McGovern of Havana, Cuba, representing the American Chamber of Commerce of Cuba, appeared to protest that elimination of a tax exemption which has existed since 1923 for citizens who are residents of foreign countries would result in the liquidation of private American business abroad.

The chairman said there was no disposition on the part of the committee in tax bills to non-resident Americans who pay taxes in foreign countries. The objective, he said, was merely to tax those American citizens who were temporarily away from home.

Pointing out that there were 230,000 Germans, 1,200,000 Italians, 230,000 Japanese in Latin American countries, McGovern urged that nothing be done to place United States citizens at a disadvantage with these enemy nationals in connection with the clearing up of the common practice for Germany and Japan to subsidize their nationals abroad.

Before the committee met, Senator Brown, D. Mich., proposed a revision to give taxpayers $400 credit for support of children attending college and to permit deductions from income taxes for extraordinary expenses caused by illness.

Historic City Now Ghost Town As Rail Line Is Dismantled

CORINNE, Utah, Aug. 4 (AP)—A historical event took place at Corinne, the closing of the Southern Pacific depot, which has been in operation since the railroad came to the west in 1859. It was pointed out today by Bernice Gibbs Anderson, of Corinne. The closing is connected with the clearing up of the old Southern Pacific line. The building will be abandoned and later may be wrecked or taken over by another railroad company.

When Corinne became the jumping off place on the railroad for all points north in Idaho and Montana and Wyoming, and parts of Oregon, the points out, an enormous amount of freight moved through this depot and was loaded into huge freight cars to be hauled to its destination. Some of the freight was stored in great warehouses at Corinne for later transportation. Passengers also left the railroad here to take the stages running northward.

Corinne was the last town to be built along the railroad and nearest to the scene of the driving of the golden spike. Historians give the population of the town at its peak as anywhere from fifteen hundred to 4,000. Built as boom town Corinne had a brilliant future planned for her by her ambitious founders, but their hopes failed to materialize and when the freight business moved away as the rails were built into the country northward, the main population of Corinne moved to greener pastures — to Oden and Salt Lake City and other ports.

The long lines of freight wagons loaded with food and supplies for mining towns in Montana continued to roll for some time, however. Among the early residents of Corinne was General Patrick E. Connor, who was the moving spirit that led to the building of a smelter on the bank of the Bear river in 1870 — probably the first smelter for the separation of gold and silver ores in the state. Slag from this smelter was crumpled and scattered on the town's streets, later slag piles were reannealed, yielding $20 in gold to the ton. This the streets were literally paved in gold.

Early Buildings Among the buildings built in the early days that are still standing is the huge dance hall and opera house, now in use as an L. D. S. church, which was constructed in 1870. Dedication exercises were held and a

KILLING BLAMED ON DOUBLE-CROSS

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—Old-fashioned gangster justice was meted out with bullets for a double cross in dollars was the motive given by a Broadway bookmaker who admitted killing two former associates as they played cards.

Not since the notorious Arnold Rothstein paid with his life 14 years ago, apparently for winking on a bet, has New York seen such a vengeful killing as that yesterday. Jerry Robert B. Greene, 40, and Norlas (Emphatic) Wolenski, 34, were shot Max Fox, 48-year-old ex-convict, behind bars.

"They did me dirt," Fox was quoted by Assistant District Attorney Louis A. Pagnucco in confessing he was the double gunman who killed the pair in a midtown bridge club early Monday.

Fox was booked on homicide charges, Pagnucco said the former bookmaker poured out a tale of how Greene and Wolenski had reduced him from a big-time bookie to a virtually destitute gambler with only a few dollars left.

It was on $350,000 of election wagers in the 1940 presidential campaign that Pagnucco claimed Greene and Wolenski "doublecrossed" him, their partner, by "hedging" bets without informing him and leaving him holding the bag.

Fox, who is 1924 was sentenced to a 2 to 10 year Sing Sing prison term for attempted robbery and he had a wife and three children and was unable to make enough money as a lone gambler to maintain his hatred of Greene and Wolenski rankle ever deeper.

Measuring Method

When determining the limits of Albany, N. Y., in 1632, Peter Stuyvesant fired a cannon north and another south. Then he declared all land in the space between the cannon balls to be within the city's limits.

HUNT UNDERWAY FOR ATTACKERS

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 4 (AP)—Radical Deputy Dr. Manuel Pintos today sought authority from his party to submit a resolution to the chamber which would denounce the hoodlum attack on American lecturer Waldo Frank and demand that the government take all measures necessary to apprehend the attackers.

Police believed they had identified one of the men who beat Frank a few hours after the government had declared him persona non grata. A hat found at the Frank apartment was tracked to Jorge Fernandez, who disappeared from his lodging about the time of the attack. He was being sought in La Plata.

(Berlin radio, making the most of the Frank expulsion, broadcast that the Nazi foreign office quarters considered the action a result of "the behavior of representatives of the United States in South American countries which they regard as United States colonies." Argentina announced that it no longer was willing to countenance such an attitude, according to the Nazi circles.)

The ministry of interior announced that in pursuance of Argentina's neutral policy it had ordered the deportation of Huber Kemper, a German understood to be a Nazi leader, who had become undesirable as a result of propaganda activities. He was ordered to leave within eight days.

In the last two years, he said, sewing rooms of the agency have produced a total of 362,850 new garments. Another 8,000 garments, mostly from CCC camps, were repaired or remade.

A total of 2,141 mattresses were made at a Boise factory and 41,447 pieces of bedding were made in sewing rooms of the state.

Save Vital Telephone Circuits... War Calls Come First!

America is straining every nerve and sinew for Victory. The vast war on every continent and sea—the vast behind-the-lines job of preparation in this country—is being speeded by telephone. For time is of the essence. The war is on the wires.

When a call important to the war effort gets tied up in a telephone traffic jam, Victory is postponed.

We can't cure such tie-ups by new construction, for the materials most important for telephone equipment are critical war materials as well.

So may we ask your cooperation in the following:

- 1 Limit your long distance usage to necessary calls and be as brief as possible.
- 2 The careful use of local telephone facilities is almost as important as the judicious use of long distance service. Long telephone conversations not only tie up the two lines that are connected, but central office equipment that is common to many lines. Please use the service moderately. A long, unnecessary conversation may delay a call essential to the war effort.
