India Riots After Arrest of Gandhi

12 Die, 60 Injured As Strikers Spread Over Major Regions

BOMBAY, India, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Bombay government issued a communique tonight saying police and troops were forced to open fire 10 times on rioters in the city yesterday and today.

BOMBAY, Aug. 10 (AP)—Troops and cavalry reinforced police today to quell demonstrators, strikers and rioters spread in Bombay, Delhi and other cities of India. Crowds renewed rioting in which 12 persons have been reported killed and 60 wounded since the arrest of Mohandas K. Gandhi.

Bombay and Delhi, seat of the British viceroy, were the centers of disturbances arising from the All-India Congress (nationalist) party's theoretically non-violent drive for independence, but outbreaks also were reported from Poona, Lucknow, and other cities.

All-India radio reported that police again had fired on crowds in Bombay, wounding several persons. The rioting also spread to other police headquarters.

In Delhi, where demonstrators' hostile (strike) was in effect, a large force of British and Indian troops were ordered to move out behind a military band past Old Delhi fort, about a mile from the demonstrations in the streets of the old city.

The troops were said to be in great numbers and swung from the docks near the city to the British area. British are still able to defend India from the Japanese. Whether India will be ordered to do so is a question against rioters was uncertain.

Demonstrations started in Bombay and Delhi began early in the morning. At Delhi a crowd collected at the British consulate and a procession started.

The march was led by Panabhai D. Desai, secretary of the All-India Congress party.

The crowd was in a hostile mood and the situation was much more intense today as demonstrators' march all through the city, including a few Melem stores that had attempted to remain open.

Many towns and cities were affected by the congress call for a campaign of non-violence to force the British to grant independence to India, and by protests against the arrest of Gandhi and many other congress leaders.

Two Jailed

In Calcutta, congress officials said that two local congress members had been taken to jail this morning for leading a small procession through the city.

NEW CONTINGENT OF U. S. TROOPS REACHES BRITAIN

AT A BRITISH PORT, Aug. 10 (AP)—A very large contingent of United States troops arrived here today and left immediately for training camps somewhere in rural Britain.

Superbly equipped and tough looking, the Americans were in high spirits and swung from the docks near the city to the British area.

Hours after their tender disembarked and forth between the American troops, equipment and the dock as the troops were brought ashore.

As they landed, a Scots army band greeted them with rousing Sousa marches, striking up as the first man dropped his duffie bag on the dock.

It was evident that the troops liked their treatment.

Thought only American army bands could play Sousa as though it was to be played, a soldier said to a United Press correspondent.

READY TO FIGHT HEADQUARTERS, U. S. GROUND TROOPS, SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, AUG. 10 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Mark W. Clark, who says the Americans are ready to fight, said "I'll go on my rear side and be on the defensive" intends to have his ground force ready whenever the order for a second attack comes.

SENATE ALLOWS SPLIT INCOMES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—The senate finance committee today voted 11 to 4 to permit husbands and wives to be treated as one unit for the purpose of continuing to split their income for federal tax purposes.

The present law requires that couples in community property states may split their income and each file individual returns on half their total income. This reduces their total taxes. The treasury wanted the income to be reported by the spouse who earns it, or reported in a joint return. It estimated this would bring in $25,000,000.

The committee, however, voted against further consideration of the bill. It is expected to be reported by the treasury proposal.

The action was a sequel to the committee's earlier decision to limit income from consideration of a treasury proposal to married couples as a feature of the $2,700,000,000 war revenue bill.

Community property states are California, Texas, Louisiana, Arizona, Nevada, Idaho and Washington.

The four who voted in favor of the bill are Sen. Charles McNary, reported to be Chairman Walter George, D. Ga., and Sen. Robert M. La Follette, R. Wis., today. They are joined by Sen. Charles McNary, R. Mich., and Peter G. Gerry, D. R. I.

Axis Angered by Spies' Execution

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP)—In its first comment on the execution of six saboteurs in the United States, the United States radio said today that by its action the United States "refused the right of protesting against the execution of military saboteurs by the territory occupied by the German army."

The broadcast, heard by CBS, added, without giving any source of its unreported information, that the United States military authorities failed to prove that the six were guilty.

SCORCHED EARTH PROGRAM IN USE ON RUSSIA'S OIL

By The Associated Press

Diplomatic telling of the scorched earth program on the Caucasus front indicated today that the Russians, carrying out their scorched earth policy, were dynamiting the menaced Maikop oilfields, toward which powerful German tank forces were pushing through scorching Red army defenses.

A Russian communique said the lines guarding the Volga field firm under assault northwest and southwest of Balaikovo, but acknowledged withdrawal close to the Maikop fields and the jutting spur of the Caucasus foothills.

The Russian tank back in the Ararat region, 60 miles northeast of Maikop, after a fierce engagement. The Germans were reported to have withdrawn to advance. Another withdrawal was made under heavy German pressure in the Kirovograd, 60 miles north of Maikop, the Moscow communique said.

The German tank force had captured the Maikop, Kropotkin, Armariv and Krasnodar, 85 miles north of Maikop, said in a report that thrust 170 miles southeast of the oil field center and seized Tzardor. The Russians have reached the north slopes of the Caucasus range along a 200-mile front.

The Russians have established resistance on the Stalingrad front as desperate but said the Red army had withdrawn to the southwest of the latter fighting.

The Russians said the axis onslaught was beaten in a standstill in the Kietzka area, 80 miles northwest of Stalingrad, and northeast of Koidanovsk, 60 miles southwest of Stalingrad.

GERMANS ADMIT RUSSIAN ADVANCE

BERLIN, Aug. 10 (German Broadcast Recorded by UPI in London)—The Germans admitted today that the Russians had crossed the Don river in the Voronezh area, vital strategic highway between Moscow and Stalingrad.

A German radio commentator said German bombers and dive-bombers supported ground forces seeking to halt Russian motorized troops and tank concentrations which effected the crossing of the river Don. German fighters shot down 27 Soviet planes in the Voronezh sector yesterday, it was claimed.

A British Broadcasting company report, quoted a Reuters dispatch from Moscow that the Russians over the weekend crossed the Don at several points south of Voronezh and were pushing forward to attack Maikop, a strategic German fortress 100 miles distance west of the river.

The regular high command communique reported that motorized troops, striking southeast through the city of Voronezh, were at Platavsk, 120 miles southwest of Maikop.

Units of German forces defending the southwest approaches to Stalingrad counterattacked vigorously, but the high command said the Soviets were "frustrated in fierce fighting."

SABOTEURS MARK VITAL OBJECTIVES

MITCHELL FIELD, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—Ground markers emblazoned by rural Irish colonists with the other farm implements to guide enemy bombers to vital objectives that have been discovered by army observers and destroyed.

Danger to large eastern airports, vital factories to which the markers pointed this has been reported by the first ground air support unit of the first air force, said in making the disclosure yesterday.

The markers, discovered by several intelligence officers and the federal bureau of investigation, Dache said, were placed by the Axis forces of those who fashioned the ingenious markers visible only from the air.

Aerial photographs of the marked area, the location of which was described only in the eastern part of the United States, showed several clear instances of how enemy agents or sympathizers sowed into peaceful farmlands potential devices to aid destruction.

Wells, Fargo "Pony Express" Letter Of 1883 Discovered in Canyon Cabin

Way back in 1883 there was a cabin who received a letter. Its contents are as fresh as the logs of its cabin and then forgot it.

Finally, 1942 rolls around and Mrs. M. E. Ray, one of the owners of the cabin, enters the old cabin and finds a "look around. She finds that letter."

The letter was posted somewhere in Idaho, as can be read on the post office stamp, and the date is 1883 although the month and day have faded out as has the person to whom the letter was addressed apparently in pencil. It was carried by the famous "pony express" today Wells, Fargo and company "Over Our California Coast Routes."

Inside the envelope was a sheet of paper upon which there had, at one time, been writing but the year had faded out as has the person to whom the letter was addressed apparently in pencil, and the letter is now unrecognizable.

Those who write up and down instead of across. The first row on the right says "Please forward to" while the second says "Brother V. K. Williams of Wood Hoop company," and the row at left says "From Steve Wain."

Quietest Primary in 20 Years Near Close

BOISE, Aug. 10 (AP)—Idaho's quietest primary election campaign in years came to an end today as 20 candidates with opposition awaited only the test at the polls tomorrow in Idaho's first war-time balloting in 24 years. Polls will open at 11 noon and close at 8 p. m.

Only new development over the week-end was the Republican campaign to nominate three candidates to fill vacancies on the ballot by the "write-in" method. Candidates backed by many heads of the state are for election on August 12. One of the candidates is for station WOW, Omaha, opposed each other in a Democratic tenorral race. Coffey freely admitted he had been an isolationist before Pearl Harbor but said the isolation issue is not in the contest but observers believe it will be.

With a last minute write-in campaign among Democrats marking the end of the quietest primary in Idaho's history, the party today mapped a triple write-in primary election balloting Tuesday.

Leads in both parties feared the vote turnout will grow sparse, especially among busy farmers.

Although Democratic chairmen made no announcement officially, it was understood this afternoon that word had gone out to a sufficient number of liberal party members to write-in names of candidates for the three major spots left blank on the Democratic ballot. There are one state representative; county auditor-recorder; county superintendent of public instruction.

The write-ins, according to informal reports, will be Claude Pratt, Twin Falls businessman, for state representative as running mate to Harry Heller and Frank Atkins; who are aspirants.

What may be another close battle is the Republican argument over the gubernatorial nomination. C. A. Belderson, former governor who was defeated by a narrow margin in the 1940 general election by incumbent Gov. Charles Clark, will be pitted against William H. (Bill) Detweiler of Hazelton, farmer and state representative of Jerome county. The third candidate is Thomas McDonald of Boise, former state administrator of the national bank. Compton I. White, incumbent first deputy county clerk, is also in the race. He was defeated by John Knox, Gov. of Coeur d'Alene, weekly newspaper publisher, in the 1938 election. Mr. White is the C. A. Belderson of Parma is unopposed for the Republican nomination. (Continued on Page 2, Column 5)

2 Meet Death in East Flash Floods

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 10 (AP)—The death toll in flash floods in Bucks, Montgomery, Lancaster and Berks counties Saturday and early Sunday morning stood at two. The water downed creek beds, flooded homes and industrial plants, up set transportation schedules, and seriously damaged hundreds of acres of farmland. More than 200 families were evacuated from their homes between Collegedale and Perkiomen.

LATE BULLETIN WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Justice department plans to seek indictment of the 14 alleged confederates of the eight Nazi saboteurs on charges of treason and knowledge of treason, it was learned from an authoritative source today.

Forces Land In Strategic Pacific Area

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—Admiral Ernest J. King announced today that American forces had landed in the southeastern Solomon Islands with the purpose of driving out the Japanese and permanently occupying this strategic area in the southern Pacific.

The announcement was made in a statement which said that "heavy fighting is still in progress" and that the American units engaged so far have had at least one cruiser sunk and two destroyers, two destroyers and one transport damaged. Information as to damage inflicted on the enemy is incomplete, King reported, but includes "a large number of planes" as well as surface units "put out of action."

King said that an air surprise attack was effected and that "planned landings" were accomplished.

The text of King's statement: (1) Offensive operations by U. S. Navy and Air Force, looking to the occupation of islands in the Solomons in the southeastern Solomon Islands have now been underway for about three days. (2) The objective of the current operations is to drive the Japanese from the Tulagi area and to make use of that area for our own purposes. (3) The primary purpose of consolidating their positions, in which their purpose has been not only to gain a base to use them as a base of offensive operations against our positions, which are being held in New Guinea, Australia and New Zealand. (4) An initial surprise was effected and planning was completed. The enemy has been completely defeated. Heavy fighting is still in progress. Our operating forces are employing all available communications in the conduct of the operations, so that our information is incomplete, but it appears that we have had at least one cruiser sunk and two destroyers, two destroyers, and one transport damaged. (5) The extent of damage inflicted on the enemy is incomplete but includes not only the sinking of a cruiser, but also the destruction of surface units put out of action. (6) This operation in the Tulagi area is significant in that it marks our first successful operations of the offensive. All of this previous operations in the Pacific, however, have been essentially defensive in character. (7) It should be understood that the operations in the Tulagi area are one of the most complicated and difficult in warfare. Considerable losses, such as aircraft, are to be expected. (8) The operations in the Tulagi area should be expected as the price to be paid for the hard won experience in the Pacific. (9) The operations in the Tulagi area are essential to the attainment of far reaching results. (Signed E. J. King.)

ISOLATIONISM IS ISSUE AS STATES VOTE ON SOLONS

Isolationism of incumbents before the election was a major issue in four or five state party primaries as voters in New York, Idaho, Nebraska and Ohio prepared to vote tomorrow in first primaries and Arkansas in a runoff primary.

The issue was a major issue in the 1940 general presidential campaign, and it has been a major issue in the New York G. O. P. primary.

King said his first serious opposition in 22 years from three candidates headed by August M. Bennett, Newburgh attorney who received endorsement from Wilkie.

The other Fish opponents attacked the congressional incumbent, isolationist views. They were Amerson D. Pate, Poughkeepsie and Edward J. Down, Poughkeepsie.

Under Attack

Rep. William B. Barry, D., was under attack as a pre-war isolationist in the New York second district. He was opposed by William F. Brannan who was unopposed for the labor party nomination.

In Nebraska Rep. Harry B. Coffey of Chadron, a wealthy cattleman and former congressman, was the Republican candidate for station WOW, Omaha, opposed each other in a Democratic tenorral race. Coffey freely admitted he had been an isolationist before Pearl Harbor but said the isolation issue is not in the contest but observers believe it will be.

SPUD KING RAPS HEAT 'AD' TALK

Joe Marshall, prominent potato producer in the Idaho potato industry, today took issue with a statement made by the state advertising commission, Preston, incumbent state senator from Franklin county and former chairman of the Republican party.

In recommending a reduction in potato prices, the commission stated complete elimination of state advertising for the duration of the war. "The potato is the main crop plus crop," he pointed out. "We must feed the world and we have a ready market for our garden crop potatoes, so why should we charge the farmer money to advertise them when advertising is no longer needed?"

Returns Offer Low

"I would like to ask Mr. Heath how long he has been engaged in the potato industry," said Marshall today. "There has always been a market to take up Idaho potatoes. It has been reported, and it has been the way the potato has been marketed since the entire war has tripled its production and the price of Idaho potatoes has been forced nearly down to freight."

The Idaho advertising commission was formed through the potato growers and shippers to develop a market for Idaho potatoes, but in other territories, and never in the history of Idaho has there been a better opportunity than at present to develop these markets—not only markets for the growers to get bare but a market for the consumer as well. A reasonable return for their product as well.

Marshall said last spring when the Idaho potato industry as a political football, because Idaho is a major potato state and we must have wide distribution so we can demand a reasonable return for their product as well.

"This is a poor time to use the Idaho potato industry as a political football, because Idaho is a major potato state and we must have wide distribution so we can demand a reasonable return for their product as well."

Marshall has been a member of the non-partisan advertising commission since its inception under the Barzilla Clark's administration as governor.

HOUSE LABOR COMMITTEE RAPS 'LAG' IN WAR PRODUCTION

RESULTS BELOW EXECUTIVE GOAL

By RICHARD A. BLACKBURN
WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—The house defense labor migration committee charged today that American war production is "lagging" and accused both civilian and military officials of failure to demand maximum output.

The committee in filing its report introduced a bill which hopes that "our war production activities... are falling behind the President's goal of maximum output or margin." Although the report did not present figures, a member of the committee stated that members of the committee was "satisfied" that its statement was accurate.

The office of war information reported Saturday that although the United States produced more airplanes than any nation in the world during June, the number was not as great as the schedule had called for. Unless the slack is taken up, it was indicated that President Roosevelt's goal of 60,000 planes this year would not be attained.

No Real Attempts.

"There has nowhere been evidenced," the house committee's report said, "any action on the part of the responsible officials, civilian or military, to regard it as their job to demand maximum output or to move heaven and earth to get it."

The committee urged reorganization of the war production program with the intent of coordinating a "labor mobilization program with present war production programs; to correct a "current drift" toward vesting control of procurement and production in the hands of the armed services.

The production effort continues to be reported by the committee... points out that six months after the creation of the war production board controlling it still has not getting underway, that many durable goods industries are producing civilian goods that nations; that peak production is not scheduled before the end of the year; that the supervision over contract let is not exercised; that small firms are still largely excluded from war production program; and above all, that there does not yet exist a general determination on the part of responsible officials to overcome all obstacles to maximum output.

Policy Criticized.

The report also criticized the policy of operating "within existing limitations on capacity" and stated that such a policy on a permanent basis may "ultimately result in cutting off the breathing flow of vital war products."

It said that shortages of critical materials and the difficulties of manpower mobilization would disappear or diminish with better organization and more vigorous prosecution of the war program.

The report recommended that the task of mobilizing labor for maximum production be centralized in one agency. It said the war manpower commission had been "superimposed" on various agencies, and that the commission had issued directives to various agencies with no assurance that the latter could perform the duties assigned to them.

The report said many industries do not utilize even the "inadequate" facilities of the U. S. employment service. It was charged that some employment service officials had, like the commission, discriminated against "certain available supplies of labor."

CANAL CHAIRMAN BACKS GOODING

Definite support of L. O. Gooding as Twin Falls canal company manager was voiced today by John M. Thomas, Caldwell, chairman of the board of directors.

Thomas declared his support with a forthright statement in a meeting of the board of directors held in the Times-News of Aug. 4, accusing Mr. Gooding of being a "member of a double-crossing firm."

Suggested Resignation
Mr. Thomas had reference to an editorial which called for a resignation of the canal company board because of past differences and suggested that the board members and L. O. Gooding, the company manager, should hand in their resignations.

"The stockholders want to know where I stand in regard to whether or not Mr. Gooding should resign," Mr. Thomas said, "and I am supporting him as manager," Thomas said.

"I believe he has given us the best run of water in the history of the canal," Mr. Thomas said, "and after his life in the employ of the Land and Water company and the Twin Falls Canal company, he has done more than any other man working under him."

"It seems strange that he should be asked to resign," Mr. Thomas said, "because he has given us the best run of water in the history of the canal, and after his life in the employ of the Land and Water company and the Twin Falls Canal company, he has done more than any other man working under him."

Quota Sliced For Month's Bond Selling

Reduced quotas for Maglo Valley war bond purchase will be effective this month—but the "carryover" system has been inaugurated by the Treasury.

Statement of August quotas was received here today from Washington. With the figures came an announcement that the "carryover" sales will be compared with quotas on a cumulative basis. The amount by which sales fall short of the quota, for instance, will be added to the quota for August. Similarly, when sales are over-subscribed the excess will be subtracted from future quotas.

Quiet Campaign Nearing Close
In the second congressional district, Henry Dvorshak, incumbent representative, is unopposed for the Republican nomination, but a three-way race developed for the Democratic nomination. Ira H. Masters, veteran political campaigner of Republican persuasion, has been sought by Arnold Williams of Rexburg, state senator, and Frank J. Keenan, Boise real estate dealer. John Thomas of Gooding, incumbent Republican, has been sought by John C. Sanborn, Hagarman farmer and seven-term Idaho legislator, and Francis J. Kellie, Caldwell, real-estate and business man.

Maglo Valley Goals for August:
Boise $14,000; Camas $2,000; Cassia, $14,500; Gooding $20,800; Jerome $25,400; Lincoln $10,000; Minidoka $23,200; Twin Falls $178,800.

NATIONAL REPRESENTATIVE

WORTHY OF OUR SOLDIERS

The army's chief of ordnance, Maj-Gen. Levin H. Campbell, Jr., has gone to some length answering criticisms of the guns and tanks being built for use of American and other United Nations soldiers.

Recent discussion at Sillsbury, N. C., deserves emphasis because he was as specific as, under war conditions, an army spokesman can be asked to be.

For that reason he was convincing. And this is a time when we want, and need, to be convinced that "our weapons, ammunition and tanks are worthy of our soldiers."

"America's colossal war production effort, excelling as it does in quantity and quality the output of any other nation, has been put to the test by the hands of fighting men," generalized General Campbell, and then he became specific.

"Our machine guns are still firing when the enemy has to stop to change barrels. Our tanks have heavier guns, heavier armament and greater speed. Our tank-guns outrange the best the enemy has. The Garand rifle speaks for itself wherever it is used.

These things are reassuring. But even more reassuring is General Campbell's discussion of certain armament items which ugly rumors have been disturbing the public.

It is not true, said this expert flatly, that the German Mark IV tank carries an 88-millimeter cannon. The gun is a low velocity 75-millimeter cannon. The high velocity cannon of equal caliber in our own M-3 tanks can be fired while the tank is in motion—while the Nazi weapon can not—and will blast big holes in a Hun tank at distances at which enemy weapons cannot reach our tanks at all.

The "new" German 88-millimeter anti-tank gun, says General Campbell, "is about as secret as a water pistol. It has been known to us and our allies for at least 10 years."

He said that the anti-tank gun is a high velocity cannon of equal caliber in our own M-3 tanks can be fired while the tank is in motion—while the Nazi weapon can not—and will blast big holes in a Hun tank at distances at which enemy weapons cannot reach our tanks at all.

"We outmatch this gun with several of our field and anti-tank guns. We, too, have superb anti-tank weapons. They are heavier in fire power, they possess higher muzzle velocity and carry greater explosive charges than the German 88-millimeter gun."

"This is the sort of news which can properly be given to an anxious public without aiding the enemy."

After all, as General Campbell remarks, "guns are machines. Nobody in the world makes better machines than are made in the United States. You wouldn't believe Germany or Japan could make better automobiles than the ones that we can make better guns. They can't."

POOR, ABUSED ARGENTINA

Foreign Minister Guinazu of the Argentine is enraged because the United States, fighting for her national existence, will not supply arms to Argentina without any strings attached.

"The 'strings,'" says Guinazu, were a request that the Latino republic convoy shipping part way toward the United States. This the foreign minister resented as an obvious attempt to "put to Argentina in wrong with Germany."

If those were the "strings," our government certainly was wrong. What we should have demanded was that any munitions we supplied be used against Hitler and his allies.

A NATIONAL WAR

Ours probably is as nearly perfect a selective service system as has been devised. Its administration has been remarkably intelligent and free from serious errors. Having been so conscientious, one may feel free to suggest a criticism.

The drafting of men into the army is done by districts. By reason of differences in types of population, one district may exhaust its quota of eligibles, in any classification, and pass on to the next while there still are tens of thousands, in other districts, not yet called.

This is a national war, not one of communities. Why not select for army service on that basis?

WAGE RAISES

Employers have shown surprisingly little worry about the War Labor board's decision that a 15 per cent wage raise, above Jan. 1, 1941, level, is permissible.

Why? Because the Treasury will pay close to 80 cents out of every dollar in the raises, in the form of excess profits taxes lost. The cost to the employer will be negligible.

When learning to drive a car you're lucky if you're thrown only on your own responsibility.

The poorest gambler we know of is the fellow who is afraid to take a chance on himself.

WAR ARE WON BY PEOPLE WHO DO IMPOSSIBLE THINGS

IMPOSSIBLE? YOU CAN'T BUILD AIRPLANES IN SHIPYARDS AND WHAT'S MORE...

Uncle Sam can't feed his armed forces, our allies and American consumers through 1942 because he has built up a surplus during the lean years. He was then thinking in terms of domestic supply and demand. The barns and the packing houses filled with surplus food. Now we are consuming that hoard to produce the surplus for the army. Now we are consuming that hoard to produce the surplus for the army. Now we are consuming that hoard to produce the surplus for the army.

BAY TUCKER—The White House and department of agriculture would like to warn us of the inevitable death. They know that the fundamental principle of economics is that from the market. Any student of economics can arrive at that conclusion for himself. But Washington believes that the country is unready for conditions and therefore conceals the fact that we have to pull in our belts within the next few months.

BREAD

While Uncle Sam worries about future provisions for the domestic and foreign populations engaged in fighting the axis, Hitler digs deeply into unquarried mines for grain and wheat. He has already accomplished agricultural miracles in the Ukraine.

Dr. Fischer is changing that country to a joint color of the axis. He is doing this by eventually prevailing. Into that broad and fertile land he has transported the machinery of the German farmers, with orders to grow the produce needed by the reich. He has given priorities to tractors, barnyard equipment and wheat which they will require. In addition he has hastened to transform this sector into a bread basket for Germany.

FRUSTRATION

President Roosevelt will face an extremely hostile and critical congress when the boys and girls return. The high school and college boys and girls will be returning with their constituents in their absence and confab with the voters over the fence should stiffen the opposition to the president. The popular belief that the war has been mismanaged by the bigwigs in Washington.

CRITICISM

Andrew Jackson Higgins of New Orleans has been ordered to relinquish 200 Liberty ships for various reasons. The public explanation is that the war production board ordered the maritime commission to transfer the ship to the navy. Higgins' vessel faster than expected, cutting the time from 105 to 40 days. That situation is another reason. But under a poor flag officer, the ship was a factor behind Admiral Land's decision to wind up the transaction. Here is the story:

He then observed that Higgins had agreed to construct a yard for $23,000,000. Maritime commissioners with an understanding of prices questioned the cost. Higgins' cost was $23,000,000. Higgins' cost was $23,000,000. Higgins' cost was $23,000,000.

JUST A MATTER OF COMMON SENSE

Thinking farmers, and the responsible farm organizations, are not fighting reasonable limitations on the price of farm products. They are fighting farm price controls are impossible without control of labor and other operating costs. Farmers want to be paid for their products. The increase in farm prices has been more than offset by the increase in overhead costs. If we are to limit the price of farm products, it is also a matter of common sense.—Pocatello Tribune.

BANNERS FLYING

BY MARY RAMOND

CHRISTIE'S LAST FLIGHT

CHAPTER XII

"It was on the World War that I got that letter from a French girl—one of those Modiglianis from Armentieres that the song is about. I guess, Bart's mother was saying. 'Anyway, Christie, she wrote that she was in love with my husband; and what, in so many words, was I going to do about it?'

Fifteen minutes later, Christie was circling over the air port. She spoke into the microphone: 'Christie Sanderson speaking. . . Give me landing directions.' In a moment, stern and curt, came the reply: 'You're not to land, Mrs. Sanderson.' Christie's excited voice again: 'I've got to land. It's something of utmost importance to Lieutenant Sanderson. I've got to come in.'

'These are orders. You're to come back where you came from.' CHRISTIE wheeled her plane, fighting back the tears. Now that she thought about it, it seemed there was a rule about civil planes landing at army fields—something about shooting first and asking questions afterward. Heavens, of course you must have special permission. Just because Bart was assistant to the commandant of cadets, she had acted exactly like she owned the place. Back at the airport, she brought the plane down, taxiing across the field.

Suber-eyed, she stepped out on the ground, only to be lifted up again—higher than any ship could carry her. Straight into heaven! 'The first thing you must learn, young woman, is discipline,' came Bart's voice. 'No army man's wife runs after him. He runs after her.'

'Yes, Lieutenant,' Christie whispered, her arms tight around Bart, her sunny head pressed close to him. 'Huss phoned the field to have me meet you. They told him I had left for town, and so they expected that little reception—extra rough one—to get you back here quick. Lucky I was at our apartment when Huss called and I broke all speed limits to beat your arrival. . . . Bart kissed her long and hard. 'I had come home to wring the truth out of you,' he said after a moment. 'No find out why I had seen you in another man's arms.' Christie laughed softly. 'We were raising, and here was a little ditch. When I stumbled, Stephen caught me. I suppose you would have preferred having me pitch straight down on my nose. . . . Much preferred. Bart's voice was grim. 'That little ditch was big enough to plunge me straight into hell. Darling, all I had to do to put myself back on the torture rack was to think of it again. Then, today, something snapped. Somehow, I was able to blame, and that your letter didn't make sense. So I came home. . . . 'When I found out you'd come to town with Sandra and didn't come near me—' 'So that was why you wrote that letter.' 'It made sense to me, then,' Christie said. 'Sandra was coming back for good,' Bart explained. 'Seems she got fed up entertaining the boys and gave up her job. She asked if she could drive back with me.'

'Bart, we were a pair of idiots.' They stood, arms' close about each other. Nearby was the plane. To Christie it seemed symbolic of something; its strong alloy wings outspread. Wings like those, and the men who flew them, would keep her country free. Bart's thoughts must have been traveling along with hers, for he said, slowly: 'This war isn't a private affair of men. There's probably going to be a real place for women flyers before it's over. Civil planes, transporting planes. Just a moment ago, I watched you come down from the sky, Christie. I could feel how sure and calm you were. I was proud of you. That's my wife, and she's a born flyer,' I said, Darling, I'm going to release you from that promise. It wasn't fair of me. It's up to you.'

Christie's smile thinned around him. 'I guess you're going to do all the flying for our family, Bart.' She was smiling. After a moment, she said: 'I'm very well satisfied with ground work. Besides, there's a lot of knitting I'm going to have to do. Not only for the soldiers and sailors, but for one of Uncle Sam's future young Americans! It's likely to keep me very, very busy.'
