STUDYING INFLATION

President Roosevelt's study of inflation. This is supposed to be in preparation for action in some form or other, perhaps a new executive order, perhaps recommendations to congress, perhaps both.

With the fact-finding facilities at his disposal, the president will not rely upon what every man knows. And yet, we wonder what his researchers will produce other than elaboration upon a few fundamental sets of facts?

First, the factories that used to make consumer goods means making armament and munitions and supplies for the fighting forces. To do this, they are employing every worker they can get.

Therefore we have more money but fewer consumer goods. This means that as a nation we shall have close to 110 billion dollars in cash, but not more than 70 billion dollars' worth of goods on which to spend it.

That leaves 40 billions for savings, including war bonds, for taxes and for inflation. Out of 40 billions we can and will pay out excessive prices for anything we want and can buy, unless Leon Henderson can keep prices down. That will not lead to inflation. That will be inflation.

Second, Mr. Henderson has imposed ceilings on almost everything. But not on farm products, and not on wages.

Third, prices already are very high. Paced by the sprint in agricultural commodities, the most recent basic commodity price index shows that the department shows that prices generally have risen more than two-thirds since August, 1939.

Fourth, the wages paid to workers—whether computed hourly, daily, weekly or yearly—are at an all-time high. Almost no group has fallen out from this. The War Labor Board has set 35 per cent above the level of Jan. 1, 1941, as the point at which wages are to be pegged.

Fifth, all these and other economic developments are based upon efforts to maintain the American standard of living and to improve it. But we can't do that until we have beaten Hitler. The standard of living depends upon usable goods, not on paper or metal hearing mystic symbols imprinted by the Federal Reserve.

THEY SHOULD GET TOGETHER... On the 27th day of June Capt. C. C. Poole, Brigadier General M. F. Wadsworth, and the Galveston, Tex. Navy yard, said that enough supplies were being made in U. S. wharves, for lack of shipping space, to turn the tide of battle in the middle east.

Captain Poole was on a tour of shipyards under the auspices of the National Maritime Commission. It is to be supposed that he spoke with authority.

On the 6th of July W. Averell Harriman, U. S. lease-lend administrator, was quoted in the Chicago Journal of Commerce as saying that the U. S. is now producing more than enough supplies for all allied fronts.

Obviously somebody is wrong. Who is it? The preponderance of evidence is on the side of Captain Poole and Admiral Vickers. Yet Mr. Harriman certainly occupies a position to know the truth, and there is no apparent reason for him to gloss over unpleasant facts.

Is it any wonder that the public is bewildered by such completely different stories, coming from presumably reliable experts?

It has a very similar situation in connection with the rubber shortage. The rubber shortage congressional committee, claims vehemently there is no rubber shortage—that if not a pound of natural rubber were imported and no pound of synthetic were manufactured, we could supply both military and civilian needs for five years in the most reliable way.

Government officials, subordinate experts, private rubber interests agree almost 100 per cent that the rubber shortage is so serious that we might even lose the war because of it, unless we act speedily and mercilessly against wastage.

Simpson retorts that those who disagree with him are biased toward the big four companies of the rubber industry, who, he says, know there is no shortage and are seeking to preserve a monopoly by frightening the public.

The rest of the rubber fraternity dismisses Simpson as a victim of his own fancies. Who is right? We must consider Simpson wrong. If we don't, and he really is wrong, we are going to get a rubber shortage.

But how can the public know? Why can't the experts get together, agree on the truth, and tell it?

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

SHERLOCK—The inability to obtain efficient help in Washington definitely retards rearmament. It is a principal topic of discussion and complaint in the White House and among military and industrial circles. The shortage may be only a minor inconvenience that prevents them from giving their full attention to the war effort. But the War Department is almost as serious a problem as devising means to win the war.

Instructions on giving out competing proposals to contractors are very frequently mislaid, and recovered only after a week or more. In fact, it is almost impossible to compare the rich moments which have been wasted because of the incompetency of minor government war and navy departments and the war production board.

ANXIETY—William Green years to retire as president of the American Federation of Labor when he conceives to be a well-earned one. The laborer, the proletarian. The former lay preacher believes that he has been a deacon if not a dynamic leader of the workingman and that he has the right to rest on his laurels. Perhaps he has, for he is almost 70 years old.

But President Roosevelt will not permit it. Although F. D. R. once decreed that supreme court jurists must go on at the age of 70, and that senators and judges must be 65, he has not decreed that labor leaders must be 65. He has decreed that labor leaders must be 65. He has decreed that labor leaders must be 65.

SCARS—Although the supreme court did not announce its numerical vote on the German appeal nor did it know in numerical votes that the denial of the plea was an eight-to-nothing verdict, Justice-Stout, Col. of the law, and the fact that the German appeal was denied, the decision could hardly have been otherwise.

Members, Chief Justice Stone and Associate Justice Felix Frankfurter, were "tatted" during the last conflict by the D. of J. "red squad," then disbanded and disbanded more of life (that is until recently), he will not let "Old Bill" sit by a slow warm ray on the hands of the "red squad" who are on the job for the duration. If the ancient patriot persists, Green will do Franklin's bidding.

It was no accident that Justice Owen J. Roberts asked the shapeliest and best penmanship of anyone during the hearing on the request for a writ. The Philadelphia was a special assistant attorney general in the office of Justice Roberts, because of his well-known fame of whom was Grover Cleveland Bergdoll. The judge's frame of mind still reflects his excellent penmanship, and he has always specified the government's cause in similar trials.

WERE—"Let's shoot me and talk less." That expressive slogan will be used by government and private industry alike in an attempt to persuade the American people to ration their food and long distance travel. It was coined by William W. Wheeler, vice-president of the National Automobile Manufacturers Association, in an address designed to impress defense manufacturers and army-navy brass hats with the seriousness of the situation and the need for more production.

The war production board's order L-50, recently issued, places transmitters and receivers in a class with other electrical products. The board has formulated after election. Applications for new construction will not be granted, according to the latest order. It is to be noted that the fact that the war workers have been supplied. Even the latter will be accommodated only in the order of their importance.

Mr. Wheeler emphasized in down to earth language the need for more production. He said that the amount of electrical wire will furnish approximately 30 pounds of copper, the amount consumed by the average home. He said that the amount of wire is so scarce on the conversation and help the Hitler!

SCHEMES—Andrew Jackson Higgins' revelation of a "black market" in steel may force the administration to investigate and reallocate inventories of key materials and products. The step was urged by Price Administrator Leon Henderson for many months but the White House has been reluctant to take the step.

The system applies to many other goods necessary in the manufacturing of weapons. Certain interests are "cleaning up" the system. The War Production Board is fully cognizant of their position and the W. P. B. has been deterred for fear of antagonizing powerful and well-connected capital.

Other Points of View... THE TRAGIC HAPPENING... In the tragic happening near Lewiston Monday, in which a young boy was killed upon the motorcar who had acted as his benefactor and ridden him along, leaving him bleeding and for dead on the roadside, it is interesting to note that the pitiful savagery, while this type of attack has been known for a long time, it is a common occurrence. The savagery is well known to the general public, and reads the crime news in the newspapers. What is new is the savagery in such unprovoked and cruel and cowardly brutality meted out to a young boy. Even the certainty that punishment will not be long in coming does not seem to deter the gunman who was captured within an hour of the crime. The savagery is well known to the general public, and reads the crime news in the newspapers. What is new is the savagery in such unprovoked and cruel and cowardly brutality meted out to a young boy.

THE NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS BOARD... The national labor relations board is having a terrible time at El Paso, Arizona, trying to decide which union is the one to represent the workers in the operation. An election to decide the bargaining agency between the CIO and A. F. of L. resulted in a tie. The board is now having a second election, but a counting of 23 challenged votes but the result was still counted a tie. Now the board has ordered a run-off election and will have to choose by August 15. It will probably have to close down—Wallace Simpson.

U. S. "FLYING DRAGONS" DUMP BOMBS ON JAP-HELD BASES

NIPPON ADVANCE IN CHINA SLOWED

By KARL ESKELEND
 U. S. ARMY AIRFORCE HEADQUARTERS, HENG-YANG, Aug. 11.—Col. Robert L. Scott, commander of the 23rd pursuit group, led his "Flying Dragons" in a raid on Japanese-held Nanchang today in which they shot down three Japanese fighters and dumped 500-pound bombs on their targets.

It was the second raid of the day for the Americans. A few hours earlier they bombed the railway station, barracks and warehouses at Yochow without meeting opposition. The Japanese were on the alert at Nanchang, but after three of their 97 type fighters had been shot down, they relied on anti-aircraft fire for protection.

Capt. Harry Tike of Fortage, Wis., described the destruction of the enemy planes, one of which he accounted for personally.

"We saw Nanchang's airfield through a hole in the clouds and I saw all our fighters, acting as dive bombers, roaring in and directly hitting the runways," he said. "One of the eight bombs dropped hit a hangar. Our fighters dove straight through heavy anti-aircraft fire to reach the target. I shot down one Jap plane with one burst of fire."

Gets Another
 Lieut. Buro Hanson of Old Lyme, Conn. got another when he came out of the clouds and found an enemy plane just below him.

"I was over the airfield when I sighted this Jap 97 fighter a few hundred yards below me," he said. "I dove head-on on him with all guns blazing and I saw my bullet entering his plane. He made a sudden turn and disappeared into the clouds, the plane trailing smoke. I am sure that I got him right in the wing area."

Direct hits were scored on every target, it was reported. At Nanchang, the western terminus of the Nanchang-Hankow railway that runs through Chekiang and Kiangsi provinces, a Japanese hangar and airfield runway were hit.

Two hours and a half after the Yochow raid, the American planes were sweeping through to Nanchang targets despite efforts of Japanese fighters to head them off.

Heart of Jap Area
 The Nanchang raid carried the Americans into the heart of the Japanese area from which the enemy has been trying to push southward through Linchuan, toward Changsha and eventual control of the railway running from Hankow south to Canton on the China sea.

The bombing of the railroad station at Yochow, 180 miles due north of Hengyang and approximately 100 miles northwest of Nanchang probably disrupted Japanese communications, as the town is on the line running south from Hankow.

One of the country's greatest assets in productivity and beauty is the state of Washington's Grand Coulee dam. Here it is in the moonlight in its sparkling setting of jewel-like lights. The lighted 40-foot windows at the top of the spiral waterfall are evidence of never-ceasing work of generators in the powerhouse and at left continues the round-the-clock construction of another power-house to add to the already huge output of electrical power for the nation's war effort.

APPRECIATION OF JAPANESE CAMP AT EDEN

Editor, Times-News:
 This letter is written in appreciation of the Japanese camp at Eden. To the army: Again you have done a good job. You are entrusted with the resettlement of thousands of Japanese, and you are doing it quickly, efficiently, so that your engineers can go on to other jobs. You are providing health and sanitation for 10,000 people who are to be concentrated in small areas. We are glad you have taken precautions against disease and plague.

To the contractors: You are working night and day to complete the Eden camp so that skilled men may go to other construction jobs. You are working your men 70 hours a week—and paying them for it.

To the laborers: No 40-hour week for you! You are working for no more than other skilled men, per hourly rate. You are working to the overtime you get. You are buying war stamps and bonds. You are providing for your families, your parents, your dependents. Uncle Sam is standing up a tax bill against you, but you will pay it. Many of you will soon be called into the army. You are doing it.

To the Japanese-Americans: Many of you are American citizens who are being deprived of constitutional rights during this unfortunate war. But you are being philosophical about it. You can depend on the tolerance and good-sportsmanship of the American people.

To the people of Idaho: You have long wanted war industries and payrolls in your state. Hundreds of Idaho men are now receiving good pay at the Eden camp. The Eden camp has been good for Idaho business.

To the United States government: War problems are being met. There has been a magic transformation in this nation during the first eight months of a united people, including those of Idaho — are marching on to victory.

RESCUERS HUNT 11 MEN'S BODIES

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 11 (AP)—Grimeystrated rescue squads, fighting their way inch by inch through tons of broken glass and debris today uncovered the body of one of the 11 men believed to have died when a warehouse collapsed in suburban Wauwatosa.

Frank Dreyer, warehouse employe, identified the body as that of William Schaefflich, 47, Milwaukee. The body, badly crushed, was found about 14 hours after the accident occurred.

The harsh glare of floodlights fell on hundreds of the sweating rescue workers who slowly worked last night on a 30-foot mound of broken beer bottles and bricks, picking away carefully from the top with drag links and clam shovel, lest other parts of the building collapse and bury them.

Outside a great circle of light that bathed the building at womenfolk of the men believed buried there, sobbing and receiving consolation from clergymen and Red Cross workers.

They cling to a very slim hope that through some miracle their men still might be alive. Police Chief Louis Wrasche said there was practically no hope, however, that any of the men would be found alive.

Nineteen other men who were working in the building escaped when one of the top floors collapsed and starting smashing down through. Six were treated at hospitals, but the others were uninjured.

We The Women

By RUTH MILLETT

You are of military age and you want to do your part in the war effort— you're a woman and you can't fly a bomber or train a tank. Since the war broke out you have been a man. To remark, "I wish I were a man."

Can Men for Duty

But you don't have to be a man. Whenever the fighting is fiercest you're in dead earnest about wanting to get into the thick of things.

You can take nurse's training and sign up for duty with a branch of the armed forces.

Nurses are needed desperately and the girl who goes into nurse's training is bound to be a credit to her country. She can take a job wherever she likes.

Of course, your parents may try to talk you out of serving with the armed forces if you do get nurse's training. But if you're sure you want to be a nurse, you are also learning a profession that will make you independent in the years to come.

Independence

It is one of the handiest professions for women, for it offers a chance to do part time work to the girl who is married and wants to contribute something to the family checkbook account. And with little effort, a nurse can keep her standing in her profession as that she can take a job wherever she likes.

Of course, your parents may try to talk you out of serving with the armed forces if you do get nurse's training. But if you're sure you want to be a nurse, you are also learning a profession that will make you independent in the years to come.

Ovation Given Talent At Concert for U.S.O.

Army Nurse

Headed for foreign service is Miss Anna Toothman, Twin Falls, who has reported to Denver for duty as an army nurse. (Staff Engraving)

Between 600 and 700 persons last night were both enthusiastic and appreciative in their reception of concert numbers presented by Miss Betty Yarbrough, assisted by Miss Mildred Jennings and Glen Boren. All three are young musicians from Twin Falls. Many of the youthful concert artists were in the audience at the Twin Falls high school auditorium.

The event, staged as a benefit for the USO, was sponsored by the Y. W. C. A., with Mrs. Kenneth Henderson, Mrs. Edward Strickland and Mrs. Frank Wells as the committee on arrangements. Proceeds from the offering totaled $80, to be turned over to the local USO committee.

Quartet Received

What amounted to an ovation was received by Miss Yarbrough and Miss Jennings when they took their final bows and accorded floral congratulations at the close of the program.

Miss Yarbrough's rendition of "Behrens in E Minor" Op. 18 No. 2 was played with great dexterity. She caught the ethereal spirit of this number quite well.

The middle section of "Impromptu in C Sharp Minor" Op. 28, No. 3, Mendelssohn, was particularly fine and well interpreted. The piano and technical demands of beginning and ending sections adequately.

Her finest interpretation was "Lulus Land," Scott. It was beautifully played with fine regard for poetic quality of the piece.

"Etude de Concert" Op. 38, McMillan, was played with fine distinction. It was particularly fine in "Lulus Land" that her work in such Negro performers, as assisted by Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. E. Skinner and daughter, and Mrs. Wells.

Appropriate Setting

Mrs. Edward Strickland, USO hospitality chairman for colored troops, and a member of the Negro Women's Service club of the Y. W. C. A., was in charge of stage decorations, assisted by Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. E. Skinner and daughter, and Mrs. Wells.

Flowers for decorating were contributed by the Twin Falls Floral company, Randall Floral company, Gladys Stewart and others, and the Idaho Power company loaned the v-for-velocity.

Among the flowers Miss Yarbrough and Miss Jennings received were baskets sent by the Negro Women's Service club; Colonial bouquets by the Y. W. C. A.; roses by Mrs. D. L. Alexander and baskets by Mrs. Frank Wells.

Others were Miss Della Hart, Miss Alice Beatty, Miss Althea Seligmy, Miss Jenny Sigurd, Miss Estelle Cunliff and Mrs. George Emmen.

You Can't Strap Your Razor on a Slice of "B-K"

Whether it's for toast, sandwiches, or general table use, we still cling to the principle that bread is made for just one purpose — and that's eating. It plays too important a part in every family diet for any of its food qualities to be impaired by unorthodox baking methods. If we were taking bread for any other purpose we could have it textured, for instance, to resemble a piece of leather. But we're too proud to undertake any such silliness. We'd like to be helpful, but you can't strap your razor on a slice of "B-K."

RULES SET FOR PRISONER MAIL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (UP)—The prisoners of war board of the new department, acting in conjunction with the U. S. postal service, today announced detailed temporary instructions for mailing parcels to prisoners of war and civil internees in the far east.

The parcels are expected to be carried by a Red Cross vessel scheduled to leave San Francisco about Aug. 15 for Japan and Japanese occupied territory.

Parcels sent in this ship must be accompanied by a letter from the provost marshal general's office in Washington, signed by Lieut. Col. F. Breese, authorizing the holder to dispatch a parcel. The letter will be retained by the postmaster as authority for accepting the package.

The navy said this rule was invoked to limit the packages to one parcel for each prisoner or internee. Packages must not exceed 10 pounds gross weight or be more than 18 inches in length and 42 inches in length and girth combined.

For this shipment, senders are to route parcels directly to the district postal center at San Francisco instead of the censorship station at Chicago as requested in previous instructions. The district center is at the parcels reach San Francisco by Aug. 12.

Correspondence for prisoners and internees will continue to be routed via the censorship station at Chicago. But in this instance will be forwarded by the Red Cross vessel from San Francisco.

O. K. GIVEN PHONE CABLE EXTENSION

Members of the city council last night approved plans of the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph company to extend the local underground cable and conduit system.

Permission of the city was asked prior to start of the work as trenches will have to be dug on several paved streets. The telephone company agreed to restore the pavement and fill in the parkings in a manner satisfactory to the city authorities.

The work will consist of installing an underground four-duct system along the northeast half of Shoshone street from Third avenue east to Addison avenue and Blue Lakes boulevard. The line will be 11 feet out from the curb as far as Sixth avenue east and seven feet out from that point on.

The line will then be carried underground north on Blue Lakes boulevard in the east parking strip for the Washington school. It will go to the north city limits bordering on Flax avenue. Here it is proposed to install buried toll cable facilities in the east parking approximately 18 inches east of the curb line.

Telephone company officials said that the work would be undertaken in the immediate future. It is being done on suggestion of war authorities.
