NAZIS HURL NEW TROOP UNITS AT NORTH CAUCASUS

By EDDY GILMORE
MOSCOW, Sunday, Aug. 15 (AP)—Apparently launching a full offensive against Stalingrad after securing strength in the north Caucasus, the Germans hurled masses of infantry, tanks and planes today against Russian positions on the Kizletskaya and Kotelnikofskaya fronts before the important Volga city.

Reports early today said the German had opened up a series of attacks with no respite for hours, with German bodies littering the ground along a railroad east of Kotelnikofskaya where the German struck after regrouping their forces.

The Germans have been attacking the Kizletskaya and Kotelnikofskaya fronts for weeks while they won positions in the Don bend and east of the city toward the Caucasus. Now they appear to be putting on the pressure again, with most of the north Caucasus in their hands.

New Drive
Coinciding with the threat to Stalingrad, the new drive aimed at Astrakhan from the Kotelnikofskaya area.

The Russian midnight communiqué said that the Germans last heavily in attempts to recapture the city of Kotelnikofskaya, while the Moscow radio broadcast that the regrouped Nazi fighting east of the city were trying to drive to the northeast toward Stalingrad. Kotelnikofskaya is 95 miles southwest of Stalingrad.

On the northern arm of this huge pincer movement against the city came the German troops which the Germans apparently were trying to develop and enlarge their breakthrough in the Don river valley north of Kizletskaya, which is 75 miles northwest of Stalingrad.

The Germans also attacked in the southern area of the Don bend, and slightly westward toward the city of Kotelnikofskaya. However, the Russians beat the axis forces back and killed 400 Germans.

The Germans were also on the western bank of the Don. Hungarian troops were killed and a group of German troops were sent to the rear, the Russians said.

The communiqué took of no major gains in the Caucasus. It mentioned fighting continuing in the area of Cherkessk, Mineralnye Vody, Krasnodar and Malkop.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—Weighing present earnings against the rising cost of living, the national labor board today announced it had approved a 7 1/2-cent an hour wage boost for 61,000 textile workers employed in the industry.

The board also granted a $1 a day increase for 11 southern aluminum workers and 11 northern aluminum workers.

The pay increase for the textile workers retroactively to June 15, and the board's 12 members voted unanimously that the boost was "in the public interest."

The communiqué itself made no reference to these enemy warships and transports, which apparently had been headed toward the Solomon Islands to reinforce Japanese forces there.

AD VALOREM TAX LEVY FOR IDAHO MAY BE LOWEST

BOISE, Aug. 15 (AP)—Indications that Idaho's 1942 ad valorem tax levy would be "as low or lower" than any previous levy in the history of the state was the belief expressed today by State Auditor Calvin E. Wright as the board closed the first week of a two-week session of the state board of equalization.

"Present indications are that the levy should be as low or lower than any prior state levy," Wright, ex-officio clerk of the board, said.

Present low levy was that in 1933 with a levy of 3 mills on the dollar value of property. In 1938 was 3 1/2 mills, in 1940 it was 3 1/4 mills, and last year 3 1/2 mills. Levies include the general interest and sinking fund, state highway redemption, public school and relief funds.

Levies not controlled by the board of equalization include the general interest and sinking fund, inspection, tuberculosis eradication, abortion eradication, and the levy on the state.

The state board of equalization has been meeting this week with county assessors and public utility representatives. Sessions will continue the balance of next week with the board's adjournment on Saturday, Aug. 24 at which time the final levy figures will be set.

Members of the board of equalization are Governor Clark, chairman, Attorney General Bert J. Miller, State Treasurer Merrill P. Eakin, Secretary of State George E. Curtis, and State Auditor Wright.

No definite indication has been made regarding the trend of assessments, which are to be made in the first week of next week. In 1939 the valuation base was $258,106,686 as compared with $297,338,000 this year.

In previous press releases, however, Governor Clark has expressed the belief that wherever possible, assessed valuations should "be held down to a pre-war status."

Conclude Initial Phase of Attack On Pacific Isles

By C. XATEN McDANIEL
GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australian, Aug. 15 (AP)—Fighting leathernocks of the United States marines were believed tonight to have captured important coastal bases in the Solomon islands in triumphant conclusion of the first phase of that great battle still raging in the southwest Pacific.

The failure of Japanese to make any but a negative reference to their land forces, coupled with a Washington announcement that the marines had qualified observers here to the belief that the Nipponese had been driven from the bases. The Japanese controlled radio stations failed to refer to ground forces on the southern Solomon islands yesterday but an intercepted Danel report from Balatai, captured Java, admitted today that a heavy enemy force was left on one Solomon island.

Japanese in recent days have become curiously quiet on the Solomon battle but a report from Tokyo yesterday said that the Japanese broadcast acknowledged fierce fighting as one point.

"The Japanese are reported to be taking place between Japanese forces and United States marines who have advanced today to the topography of the Tokyo dispatch to DNB, German news agency, said.

PLAN LOOMS FOR CLOSING STORES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—Some form of concentration of wholesale and retail business and distributive facilities, as well as civilian industries, will be necessary before mid-1943 to save thousands of merchants from bankruptcy, informed government officials predicted today.

A tentative plan which would permit hard-pressed stores to close "for the duration" and reopen after the war with a minimum of financial loss, already is under study, it was learned.

Officials in close touch with the general merchandising situation, who do not seem to be quick by name, said the overall plan for wholesale and retail concentration now was little more than a "study for argument" and a recognition of the economic restrictions which will be necessary in a long war.

Under the tentative plan, which draws on experience in England, merchants could be grouped in price ceilings, or faced with business failure because of normal competition. The plan also contemplates a lack of consumer goods to sell, would be able to turn over their stocks and their customers to a competitor and close their doors.

Their firm names, good-will and investments would be protected either by mutual agreement and voluntary cooperation, or under the plan, the government would take over the financing. Details as to the financing methods are among the many problems yet to be worked out. The plan also contemplates changes on the closed stores could be paid in part by the company which remains in operation and in part by the government, officials suggest.

One alternative would be a private or public insurance plan, comparable to the unemployment compensation system, to which merchants would contribute and from which they would draw the maintenance funds necessary after their stores close. This plan now is being studied in Britain.

WOMAN HELD FOR KILLING OFFICER

DOULAS, Ariz., Aug. 15 (AP)—Capt. D. C. Carr, chief of the anti-tank division at Fort Huachuca, was fatally shot today in the home of Mrs. C. G. Herby and daughter, 11-year-old Ruth, on Jump overboard. Officers said.

A charge of assault with a deadly weapon was filed by the county attorney's office against Mrs. Herby, an attractive red-head, a few hours before Carr's death in the Douglas hospital tonight.

The shooting, Police Chief Percy Rowden said, occurred about 1 a. m. at the Herby home in the presence of Mrs. Herby. Three bullets were fired, one striking Carr in the neck another in the chest and the third going wild, he added.

Mrs. Herby is in the Cochise county jail under $10,000 bail, suffering from shock and hysteria, Rowden said.

Rowden indicted the 21-year-old daughter of Colonel Herby, Fort Huachuca tank company commander, as a party to the shooting. The out-growth of a quarrel which began as they were en route home from a party at the Herby home on the Mexican border at Agua Prieta.

Mrs. Herby said the couple was married Sept. 13, Rowden related.

Passengers Leap From Towed Car; One in Hospital

When everybody in a car gets out while it is being towed, it is a bad thing and if the people getting out don't land just right on the roadway, they can be hurt.

That's just what happened on the creek road south of the Herby home. Fred Thurman, 61, who lives west and north of Twin Falls, and his wife, Mrs. Browning, were in the car when it was being towed. A passing motorist in a pickup truck stopped to help them in.

The car started. The dust flew and Thurman was unable to see the road. He honked and yelled but the driver of the pickup apparently couldn't hear him.

So Thurman decided to do something about it. He asked his sister to slide over into the driving seat while he got out. She did that and he jumped out and overtook the pickup. He couldn't quite make it, however, and fell behind.

Then Mrs. Browning became frightened and confused. She also tried to get out and fell just that. The car—now driverless—went into the ditch and was slightly damaged.

Mrs. Browning was taken to the county hospital for treatment of bruises and a bad shock. Her condition was not serious.

Sheriff Lowery began looking for the car and driver and did not stop until returned to give aid, then went home.

SHEEPMEN FACE LABOR SHORTAGE

BOISE, Aug. 15 (AP)—The labor problem in Idaho's sheep industry is so pressing that there is "probably not an employable, qualified sheep worker to be found," the Idaho Wool Growers Bulletin said today.

The industry as a whole has fared quite well in obtaining temporary draft deferments of key men, but one great difficulty lies in the loss of workers to highly paid, subsidized war industries," the paper explained, adding the growers had lost probably 10 times as many men to war plants as to the draft.

"The availability of sheep workers is at a low tide," the story continued. Contrary to many people's opinion, one qualified to work with sheep is truly a professional.

"We appreciate that those of our industry are employing many inefficient and unqualified workers, and this kind of employe is the cause of inefficient operations, costly waste and extravagant losses."

PHOTOGRAPHERS FACE COMPLAINT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—Eight persons from Boise, Idaho, are charged by the federal trade commission in a complaint with misrepresentation in the sale and distribution of tinted or colored enlargements and miniatures of photographs.

The complaint named John C. Lucas, trading as the Fox studios, formerly the United studios and Saul C. Fineman, Ida Fineman Lucas, Harry Beck, Howard Shild, Harvey Grayley, Dick Sperling and Nicholas Mock, all of Boise.

The commission said the complaint charged that John C. Lucas directs the activities of the Fox studios and exercises control over the personnel which includes house to house salesmen.

The salesmen, equipped with attractive samples of photographic enlargements, allegedly induced prospects to make down payment of 50 cents and to execute orders which entitled them to a 7x11 beautiful colored photograph to be taken at a later date and upon payment of an additional 40 cents, the commission said.

"All these representations are alleged to be false and misleading," the commission said, adding the so-called "portraits" and "hand paintings" are merely press prints, produced from a photocopied base and negative and slightly tinted or colored.

The respondents were given 30 days to answer the charges.

East Meets West

NEW YORK, Aug. 15 (AP)—The offensive landing staged by U. S. marines against the Japs in the Solomon Islands "is something marines have been trained to do for the past 167 years," Lieut. Gen. Thomas Holcombe, commander of the U. S. marine corps, said here.

Holcombe declared the war in the Pacific was an amphibious war and that the landing made by the marines was a "specialty of our corps."

Gen. Holcombe said a training operation "similar in most respects" to the Solomon Islands landing had been staged on Solomon's island—in the Chesapeake bay area.

Describes Action
"Slips arrived off shore," he said, describing the training. "Marines shined off in fast landing boats and at the pre-arranged time sped shoreward. During the run to the beach and throughout the attack, some of the feet and planes plumed the enemy to the ground with their shells and bombs."

"Upon reaching the beach, the first wave of marines quickly followed by others, began the slow, difficult process of cutting through enemy wire and infiltrating through enemy lines."

He said that marines had received special training in jungle warfare to prepare for operations in the south Pacific. Realistic training and individual combat were stressed as the day for attack came closer.

Past Graduate Work
"But we must remember," he declared, "that specialized training for jungle warfare—training by parachute troops and special landing battalions—in the nature of post-graduate training for a marine. It is all superimposed upon the solid basis of physical vigor, discipline and soldierly virtues which are instilled in every marine recruit from his first day at the recruit camp until the day he leaves the corps."

"The marine corps is proud that once again its men are taking part with the navy, the army and the forces of our allies in offensive action."

HAGERMAN MAN VICTIM OF CRASH

HAGERMAN, Aug. 15—Farming was too tame for D. R. Kirklund, 33, of Hagerman, who died in the crash of the U. S. air corps—and death.

The body of the staff sergeant and those of three other army men were recovered from the slope of Wolf mountain, 40 miles east of Princeton, Ore., where they had lain since Feb. 3 when their army bomber crashed while on a flight from Hamilton field, Calif., to Spokane, Wash. The plane and its passengers, missing since leaving Hamilton field, were found by a sheepherder Thursday.

Wanted Excitement
Kirklund enlisted in the army a few months after he moved with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kirklund, to a farm three miles east of Hagerman from Bountiful, Colo., 12 years ago. Completing an enlistment two years ago, he had been intending to resume farming with his parents, but after a few months he concluded in the air corps.

Friends said he told them farming was too tame and he liked army much better. "He became a radio operator and rapidly advanced to staff sergeant."

When the news of the recovery of his body arrived early yesterday his parents were visiting in Colorado. Other relatives said they had requested the army to send his body to Hagerman for burial.

Six Brothers, Sisters
In addition to his parents, he leaves four brothers, Arthur and Kenneth, at home; Stanley, Hagerman, and Edward Kirklund, Rigby, and five sisters, Mrs. Sam Wayman, Hagerman; Mrs. Leland Green, Carleton; William Decker, Mountain Home; Mrs. O. V. Fawcett, Alamosa, Colo.; and Mrs. H. H. Grey, Fort Bliss, Tex.

Others in the plane, which hit a tree on the mountain and then crashed into timber on an slope a quarter of mile below the summit, were Lieut. Walter B. McShane, Hagerman; Lt. H. Y. Allen, Hagerman; Capt. Geneb, Neb., and Tech. Sgt. Michael Blitzer, Memphis, Tenn.

COOPERATION

A preview of England's program for world reconstruction has been furnished to Washington by a report submitted to the United States by the Federation of British Industries, which reflects the sentiment of businessmen over there. Although an unofficial document, it sets forth the theme of an Anglo-American union which was hinted at in the Atlantic charter and known to the United States by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

The analysis points out that Britain will become a major factor in determining the postwar economic and commercial structure of the world. It suggests that the alliance cooperation for postwar reconstruction is a long-term arrangement that will allow for the unification of the world under the leadership of a board of directors of the world, including India, would be a desirable outcome. This proposal contemplates that the United States should assume the leadership of the world for the purpose of "formulation of a world program of world reconstruction."

"LUXURY" RUMORS ARE SPIKED

Thanks to the U. S. army, the war relocation camp, camp authorities and the newspapers, most of the vicious rumors which have been making the rounds in condemnation of "all the luxuries" at the Japanese relocation center near Eden are definitely squelched.

Now that government officials have taken newspapermen on a tour of the camp and given them a free hand to describe in their own words what they saw, all the stories you have been hearing about "littered bathrooms and cold running water, a hospital that would put our county hospital to shame, luxuries that many people in Magic Valley would never enjoy, modern conveniences of every description" and other such, are revealed to be nothing more than, but ridiculously absurd as well.

Even the newspapermen, who are trained to take little stock in rumors, were completely let down by what they observed.

There is no need to elaborate on the "Times-News" reporter who joined in the official tour of the camp. It completely discredits all the ugly rumors about facilities being afforded the Japanese.

Within the last few days, the editor of the Tri-County News at Pocatello had the opportunity to inspect the camp from every angle. All he can add is that in its entirety, the camp is a dreary and crude affair, which comes far closer to having the appearance of a concentration center than anything approaching the standard of a relocation camp. It was a dreary and crude affair, which comes far closer to having the appearance of a concentration center than anything approaching the standard of a relocation camp. WHY DO WE KID OURSELVES?

Although the rank and file of American people like to kid themselves into believing they are making real sacrifices to help win the war, the matter of civilian sacrifices are practically negligible in comparison to those of other countries engaged in the world-wide conflict.

True, the men serving with our armed forces are making the greatest sacrifice possible. But when we compare their civilian sacrifices are practically negligible in comparison to those of other countries engaged in the world-wide conflict.

MISJUDGING THE ENEMY

People who now marvel at the Spartan resistance of the Russians are the same people who were saying just the other way only a few months ago. They were saying the same people were heard to say when the Japanese stormed the Marco Polo bridge, "The Chinese can't hold out for long."

It is hard to believe but historically true that it took the guns of the First Massachusetts to convince the British that they were not as invincible as they had appeared. Troops of Georgia had said that the northern troops could be whipped with corn stalks. The union troops that came to a halt at the end of the war.

There is no mistake more dangerous than the mistake of underestimating the fighting quality of an enemy. But it is a mistake that runs deep through the ages to the days of the covenant—Oklahoma City Oklahoma.

PROBLEMS—Dramatic rationing of essential foods, household furniture and articles of clothing hereafter will be a part of the life of the citizen. The plan is to impose real curbs through legislative or executive action has precipitated the loss of the fear of inflation.

Cost of vital goods has soared to such a degree that the "gold standard" is being abandoned for the cheapest charges through the land. The margin between what processors must pay and what consumers are paying is being squeezed so tight that it is squeezing the former into bankruptcy, especially small firms. Even government agencies are being squeezed.

There is no secret that when the matter was first suggested, that of using part of Jerome county as a dump for the city's garbage was a very foolish idea. It is a fact that many people in Jerome county will probably profit in time—North Idaho News, Jerome.

POT SHOTS FOR CHILDREN

JOY OF PLAY IS CREATION

The heart of children's play is imagination. The joy in it is the joy of creation. We rob children of this imagination by giving them elaborate store-bought toys. A few of them help to fill out the picture, but they don't make the whole thing. Not if we would have the children grow through play naturally, they should be given things to make for themselves. Let the children use the things they find about the house and lot. Let them have boxes, tin packing cases, ideal for making houses and barns and garages. Children love to make things for themselves. Stoves, benches, anything in fancy, in the house, in the neighborhood, in the yard, in the garden, in the field. Let them use their imagination to make things for themselves. Another Camera Jaunt to Japanese Relocation Center

Above, one of the barracks houses in which Japanese will be housed at the relocation camp now under construction near Eden. The picture was taken during a newspaper tour of the camp. A complete array of the tour, together with one set of pictures, appeared in Friday's Times-News.

Times-News. Interior of the barracks, divided into rooms, is bare with exception of one electrical outlet and a post-berthed stove. Outside is of tarp paper braced with lath. Tour of the camp showed there was "nothing fancy" about the living quarters or facilities. As one official put it: "The rumor that the Japanese were to have little white cottages must have got around because these buildings look almost white—being covered with dust." CO. C. TO NEW JAPANESE CENTER

Discussion of the relocation of Co. C. of the Japanese evacuation center at Eden at the Chamber of Commerce meeting Friday led to an announcement by Frederick Ray J. Holmes that he was planning a "see-it-for-yourself" tour of the camp for chamber members. A date for the tour will be announced later.

Mrs. Georgia Chatham, Jerome, Times-News correspondent at that point, is shown above inspecting one of the large cots ranging in which Japanese meals will be cooked. Each cot has a large oven and six top holes. Mrs. Chatham and two other Times-News representatives made the tour of the camp in a "see-it-for-yourself" arrangement made possible by the army officials. Reporters were told they could write their own opinions as to what they saw there so that the general public would know "the facts." (Staff Photo-Engraving)

Buhl Youth Now On Missing List

BUHL, Aug. 15—Norman Flynn, son of Mrs. W. H. Clark, Buhi, is reported by the adjutant general at Washington, D. C., to be missing in action at Corregidor, as of May 7. The message stated that Norman Flynn would be 23 years of age at the time of his disappearance. The category of "missing" for 12 months, and that in the meantime if it was not found he is to be listed as dead.

One of the first of the slightly more than 200 Japanese to arrive at the Eden camp is shown above while busy in the kitchen preparing their meals. Each of the 35 blocks in the camp will house 300 persons and all 300 will eat in one hall with the food being prepared for them in one place—by the Japanese themselves. Contrary to some rumors, the reporters making the camp tour found there were no automatic photo peddlers or anything slightly resembling them. (Staff Photo-Engraving)

Draft Board Gets a Blow: Quota Is 161

"Brace yourself because you're going to get a shock that's liable to take your legs right out from under you," it did and my assistants here this morning. It was Capt. J. A. Beaver, chief clerk of area No. 1 draft board, speaking to a Times-News reporter when the latter stopped by yesterday on his regular daily news route. Before the puzzled reporter could even say: "What is it?" the captain shouted: "You know that numbered September draft call for 161 men? What do you know about that? Yes, we've got to deliver 161 men and eight 1-B men to Boise on Sept. 17. When we had a call for 90 men in July we thought it was a job for 101 that's something else again. Where are we going to get them when we were down to stock Boston right now?"

Swift Response Greeted USO Move to Aid Camp Soldiers

The Twin Falls USO chapter was growing by leaps and bounds today and getting more important every minute. Received many telephone calls offering other help. A few hours after the Times-News reached the street Friday bearing a story of the manifold duties that had been thrust upon the chapter by the coming of the soldiers to the Japanese evacuation camp at Eden, here's what had happened. Received an offer of a whole set of furniture to equip a center for the soldiers when they come to Twin Falls. Offered the use of a playhouse place. An offer by two girls to do whatever stenographic work the chapter required—and the USO may require quite a bit soon.

John Walters, Twin Falls, has been accepted in the air arm of the navy. Magic Valley's own politician, candidate for U. S. House, W. H. (Bill) Reiser received admiral's support here at home but here second in line in the respective races throughout the state. One of Twin Falls' citizens first named to be commissioned in the navy is Second Lieutenant Annabelle Gay. She reports in Seattle. Ray Jennings, who has been reported for navy duty, Miss Betty Varborough and Miss Mildred Jennings did their part for USO by appearing in concert this last week. Most of you Twin Falls kids will remember their part for their distinctive musical ability.

NEW YORKERS AWAIT ROOSEVELT-FARLEY POLITICAL TEST

CONVENTION SET FOR WEDNESDAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 19 (AP)—New York state, a reservoir of President Roosevelt's political strength, today eagerly awaited Wednesday's convention for a major test of Franklin D. Roosevelt's political prestige at home.

Candidates in the battle raging for the gubernatorial nomination were the gubernatorial nominee for fall, James M. Mead, U. S. senator from Buffalo, and general John J. Bennett, state attorney general from Brooklyn.

To political observers generally Mead and Bennett were only the front men with the underlying contest one between the new deal forces of President Roosevelt and James Farley, state democratic chairman and once a close Roosevelt aide.

Bennett, whose campaign has been carefully guided by the veteran Farley, was in the race first and piled up a stack of delegate pledges. Coming in later after a "draft" movement, Mead claims to have cut into the Bennett strength through support of Gov. Herbert Lehman.

Senator Robert Wagner and National Chairman Edward J. Flynn.

Despite far-flung implications of the battle, the White House has little to say publicly. At a press conference the President said: "I was a delegate to the convention, I would cast my vote for Jim Mead."

Sees No Opposition

In the face of the presidential nomination Farley has maintained consistently that Bennett would be nominated and elected and predicted that Mead's name would never be presented to the convention.

There has been virtually no activity in the republican ranks where former District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey appears to have a clear field. The GOP will convene Aug. 24 at Saratoga.

The American labor party, which gave Gov. Lehman his margin of victory over O'Neary in the last election, has indicated that Mead would be acceptable but has turned thumbs down on Bennett. The party will hold its convention here next Saturday.

ANOTHER POSTAL WORKER IN NAVY

Clyde Nelson Rosa, 151 Addison avenue, Twin Falls postoffice worker, was expected to report out of civilian life to a chief petty officer in the navy if he passes his physical examination in Boise within a few weeks.

Rosa, 56, enlisted at the local recruiting station yesterday in the specialists' division of the navy and will probably be assigned to the post office at Fort Rye, Md., where C. A. Edmonson, navy recruiter here, said.

The navy will be nothing new to Rosa. He served one four-year hitch before reaching his majority and was discharged as yeoman, third class. He served on the battleships West Virginia, California and Maryland. Rosa is married. His enlistment marked the second for local postal workers within two days.

Frederic M. Sanger has also enlisted as a specialist.

Kloyd Benson Tankersley, 29, who gave his brother, Charles Tankersley, Jerome, as his nearest of kin, enlisted as apprentice seaman, while Lynn Robert Huffman, 19, son of Mrs. Katherine Brinson, Goodwin, enlisted as a radio technician.

Three others who enlisted in the V-1 section, which will permit them to continue their schooling before entering the service. They were: Tamadge Porter Hawkins, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hawkins, Flint; Cecil Clark Watson, 30, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clara Watson, Dietrich; and Roy Samuel Bate, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Bate, Dietrich. Hawkins will return to the University of Idaho and the other two to Ablon Normal.

WIDOW RECEIVES BICYCLE PERMIT

The Twin Falls rationing board didn't take long in considering the appeal of Mrs. Margaret B. Nelson for a war bicycle after the members learned that the widow, 41, and her son were working and all needed the vehicle to get about. She lives at 31 Washington court.

Mrs. Nelson was the first woman in Twin Falls to be given a permit to purchase a bicycle.

Phyllis Jean Peterson, a working girl at Washington court, also was given a permit. She said her bicycle was stolen last February and she had waited until this time for it to be returned.

Victor Charles Goertzen, photographer for the Times-News, also got a permit because, he said, he must "travel a mile and a half several times daily."

Eugene D. Pippitt, Kimberly, got a bicycle permit because he has to travel six miles to work and with bicycle could "cut the two hours and 35 minutes" he now consumes in travel by conveyance by "one hour and 45 minutes."

RAM SATE SET AT POCATELLO OCT. 3

BOISE, Aug. 19 (AP)—The annual Idaho fall range ram sale will be held Oct. 3 at Pocatello, the Idaho War Relocation Authority said today.

"As in the past 15 years," the paper added, "rams of both black-faced and white-face types will be offered."

"Usually over 800 rams are listed for trading over for listing of entries on Aug. 31."

Outstanding ideas of local time do not apply at the North Pole, so there is no midnight there.

Vegetables--And More Vegetables

Kids--An Army of Them--Turn Out for Back-to-School Event

Kids--eight blocks of them. Kids in overall. Kids in play suits. This girls masquerading as oldsters--with glasses. Little girls carrying dolls and pushing go-carts. Kids with dirty faces. Kids slicked up and dressed in their Sunday best. But, after all, just kids--America's hope, America's future.

That's what Twin Falls saw between 9:30 and 10 a. m. yesterday in the city park, where they assembled, and on Second avenue east and Main avenue west, where they marched to the Orpheum and Roxy theaters in the Merchants' bureau "Back to School Day" celebration.

Bring Vegetables

And in the hands of each child was at least one vegetable--the admission fee to show at the theaters. Some even had whole bags full. They carried potatoes, heads of cabbage, onions, the Pop Eye food--spinach. One even had a big squash. But most of all, they carried bunches of carrots--so many carrots in fact that the parade was colored with their glistening yellow.

The vegetables were carried away in bushel baskets and finally in a heavily-laden truck by the Salvation Army to use in feeding the city's needy this coming winter.

Show over, the children filed out, each to be presented with a war savings stamp booklet containing one stamp. These were given out by six pretty Jaycees: Gladys Sweet, Margaret Detweiler, Virginia Allen and Joann Henry. From there they went to the city's stores to receive more free gifts and be outfitted for school, which will open in most places in the Magic Valley on Aug. 24, if not already open.

R. H. Gray was general chairman of Merchants' bureau committee in charge of the affair. He was assisted by Russ Jensen, the parade chairman, and R. J. Vallton, under whose

Bill's a bigger man than his dad was in '17

WAR DEPARTMENT figures show that today's average soldier is nearly an inch taller and ten pounds heavier than in 1917.

That's a great gain for one generation and a real tribute to the men of science and the men of industry who helped build Bill's husky frame. We're glad the electric industry had a hand in it.

While food experts were discovering new vitamins and better diets for Bill, electric research was working out ways to refrigerate his food so it would be fresher, safer, cheaper.

While doctors were developing new serums, drugs and healing techniques, electric laboratories were improving X-rays, diathermy lamps, electric knives.

Even before Bill was born, electric servants freed his mother from much of the work of washing, cleaning, cooking and sewing--so that she and her children could be healthier and happier.

Actually, these advances can be credited to the American Way at work--free men creating and producing the things that other men want and need--for everybody's benefit. The electric industry grew that way. A few men organized a company. Many men invested their savings. Good business management under Government regulation multiplied jobs, extended service, lowered rates.

Today, the average American home pays only 10¢ a day for all electric service--and gets about twice as much electricity for that time as it did 10 to 15 years ago. More important still, thanks to business management, America's war industries have the world's greatest electric power supply on tap!

NINE KILLED IN BOMBER'S CRASH

HASTINGS, Mich., Aug. 15 (AP)—Four army officers and five enlisted men--the entire crew of a B-24 army bomber stationed at the Willow Run airport in Detroit--were killed last night when the ship crashed in a corn field.

Officials at the airport, where the army air force's 90th heavy bombardment group set up headquarters only a few days ago, said the ship crashed 10:30 last night. No details are known here, but a military investigation is underway.

They added that the huge four-motored plane was demolished. Witnesses here said wreckage was strewn for hundreds of yards after the ship apparently developed a major trouble, lost a wing when it hit a high tree, and crashed into the bank of a creek.

Willow Run officials released the following list of dead:

1st Lieut. Eugene C. King, pilot, Brawley, Calif.
2nd Lieut. Lewis H. Talley, copilot, El Paso, Tex.
2nd Lieut. James H. Daley, bombardier, Upper Darby, Pa.
2nd Lieut. Morris E. McCall, navigator, Etherville, Ill.
Staff Sgt. John D. Horen, radio operator, Lewiston, Mont.
Corp. George E. Strenge, engineer, Mountain Lake, Minn.
Corp. Ernest J. Frasier, asst. engineer, Schofield, Va.
Pvt. Steve Appleton, asst. radio operator, Weilsburg, Va.
Pvt. Raymond W. Carlton, gunner, Millersburg, O.

Next of kin of all victims have been notified, it was said.

Bad weather hindered the pilot, witnesses said, and he circled over the brilliantly litged Barry county fairgrounds in an apparent attempt to find his bearings. He then headed south, flying low, toward Battle Creek, site of T. Custer and Kellie air field.

BUHL, Aug. 15--George Howard, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lee Howard, Buhl, enrolled at the U. S. naval academy at Annapolis Aug. 10, for three years' training, having been appointed by Cong. Henry C. Dvorzhak in June.

The family, including Mr. and Mrs. Howard, George Howard and Miss Ruth Howard, enjoyed a vacation trip to Yellowstone park before George departed for Utah and Annapolis.

George was graduated in 1941 from the Buhl high school where he had made an excellent record in his studies as well as in music and speech, winning honors in both departments. DELINQUENT TAX NOTICES MAILED

Property for which taxes have not been paid for 1939 and 1939 will go to the county in January, 1941, Mrs. Cora Stevens, county treasurer, said yesterday as her office began mailing "notices of issuance of tax deeds." She said that notices were being sent to about 500 property owners.

The reason for property on which the taxes were delinquent for two years going to the county next January was explained by Mrs. Stevens as follows: "1938 was included in the moratorium law granting four years' delinquency and 1939 was not included and comes under the three-year delinquency law."

"Any taxpayer knowing that taxes for the two years are unpaid can save $1 by coming into my office and paying the taxes now before notices are mailed out," Mrs. Stevens continued.

The treasurer said that after property goes to the county in default of tax payment, a property owner must pay all taxes against the property, plus all penalties, interest and deeds before he can redeem it.

Mystery Bullet Wounds Child, 9

RUPERT, Aug. 19--Source of the stray bullet which Friday night struck Rex Stockton, 9, remained a mystery early last night, according to Sheriff William Manifold of Blaine county, who was continuing the investigation.

Young Stockton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stockton, was accidentally shot in the back while swimming in the canal west of Rupert.

The shooting occurred at 8:30 p. m. Friday, and to date the source of the bullet had not been determined.

Rex is receiving treatment at the Rupert general hospital. His condition is not believed to be critical.

Boys with whom he was swimming were unable to give any clues as to the accident, according to officials.

SERIAL STORY LUCKY PENNY

BY GLORIA KAYE

THE STORY of Lucky Penny... CHAPTER V

JIM studied her upturned, eager face. "Are you tired, Penny?"

"Not a bit," said Penny, stretching her little legs. "Why?"

"All this is terrible," said Jim, waving his hand in the direction of the hillside.

"There's a plateau stretching back behind the Kirk Memorial Building that's big enough to build at least 500 homes, enough to house everyone who lives in Kirk town now."

"A model town would pay for itself," he said. "I know it sounds revolutionary, but the councilmen and the mayor and the few businessmen with sense in this town might be impressed. They laugh at me."

"Wonderful!" enthused Penny. "Some day, Penny, I'll show them. I have an idea. I'll put cash, searching for words."

"That's where John Kirk lived," she heard him say. "I have a hunch that John Kirk will come back there, eventually. Then I'll get my chance to tell her a few things. I'm going to tell her, Penny. Even if I have to go back to Europe and kidnap her."

"You're the first one who hasn't laughed at the idea," he said. "But it's just a dream that sounds good. What could you or I, or anyone else do to make it come true?"

"Nothing much," Bud answered. "It's always the same. 'Do you like working at the mills?' Penny questioned."

"Do I? The Kirk mills are tops for my money," he said proudly. "Did you know that we use some of the steel for the Grand Coulee Dam?"

"With increasing frequency, Penny hurried the men who came to Pietro's huddled together in secret conversation. She studied their set faces."

"Midgie," she asked one day, "is something wrong? Have you noticed the strained way the men are acting?"

"Trouble," Penny asked, bewilderedly. "Before Penny could make further inquiries, Midge had lost interest in the conversation. Over Penny's shoulder she grinned the big smile she reserved only for Bud Walsh."

"That," Midge called, "what brings you here so soon?" In her eagerness to reach him, she dropped her towel, and saved herself from tripping only by a miracle of acrobatic balancing."

"Howdy, Midge. Hello, Penny," Bud answered, with a shy wave of his hand. He was tall, husky, handsome. His hands were the tough hands of a steel man accustomed to hard work. He had the quiet power that characterized so many of the workers Penny had met."

"Penny waited until Midge was called away. Then she asked nonchalantly, 'What's new at the mill?'"

"I'm going to make it my business to see that every day is a pleasant one for Penny. She was glad, now that no publicity had attended her return from distant shores. For a little while, at least, she preferred to remain unnoticed."

"The week that followed was an illuminating one for Penny. She was glad, now that no publicity had attended her return from distant shores. For a little while, at least, she preferred to remain unnoticed."

"I'm trying to teach them after-noon teas, not cowcamp wolf baits!"

"Well, here's my plan, as usual. I read in the papers that scads of workers are physically unfit for war jobs."

"Egad, Jake! You are decades behind the times, as usual. I thought occurred to me during the Spanish-American war, but hostilities ended before I got around to it."

"I don't get it, whose this guy is. What's he got to do with my appetite?"

"We'll give a show right here! There're probably lots of farmers in the neighborhood—the price of admission will be food—anything from onions to eggs!"

"It's a great gimmick, Jimmie! Well, even accept Spanish if anyone comes up with cooked vittles, he can sit right on the stage!"

"I'm a great guy, you say. The mills could use someone like John Kirk now. He understood men as well as steel."

"Midge was back now, slowly happy as she always was when Bud Walsh was near. 'Break it up,' she pleaded. 'Give me a chance, Penny.'"

"That Penny wasn't listening to Midge. In her mind a bold plan was forming. She would need help from Midge's father, an executive at the Kirk mills meant trouble for Penny. She wanted to strike at its source."

"I'm a great guy, you say. The mills could use someone like John Kirk now. He understood men as well as steel."

U. S. AIRPLANES HOLD WIDE EDGE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, commander of the army air forces, today said that 1,110 U. S. army planes have met 1,450 Japanese craft in aerial combat and have shot down 196 of them with a loss of 104 American ships.

The figures did not include operations of the American volunteer group in China, which up to the time it was disbanded on July 20, downed 218 Japanese planes with a loss of 84 of its ships. Including the AVG results, the score would be 408 Japanese planes shot down, against a loss of 168 American craft.

Verified losses included only verified losses on both sides. Planes destroyed on the ground in bombing or strafing attacks were not taken into account.

Arnold said that a steady stream of American pilots and crews is being sent to England. The pilots complete their training on the other side of the world and then return to the British techniques.

He also said that in every way we can see we are standardizing our equipment with that of our allies for interchangeable operations.

The air commander at a press conference described the problems of airplane production as "something like eating burnt jam; first one then the other runs out." As an example, he said, "We once had 400 planes sitting on the ground for lack of generators. This problem was soon solved but was immediately replaced with another one."

Wants Young Men

Arnold several times referred to American pilots as "youngsters." Asked about it, he said that in fact it was what they are.

"We want young men at their prime when they have the confidence of youth, and when they know there's nothing in the world they can't do," he said. "Older men tend to become a little too cautious for modern aerial combat."

He said the ideal age for pilots was around 27 years.

Army Wants to Know All About Twin Falls Area

The Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce receives a lot of letters of varied sorts but the one it receives yesterday will probably start a lot of eyebrow-raising.

The letter was from the quartermaster station of the war department, Utah general headquarters at Ogden and signed by First Lieut. H. F. French, quartermaster corps assistant.

It asked for information on the "important towns" in southern Idaho and especially sought are vital statistics on Twin Falls. In this case, the letter asked for the population, male and female; what percentage of the population is engaged in farm labor, the existence of a newspaper and whether there was a business or mercantile district.

Another letter received yesterday was from a man in Missoula, Ore., seeking employment during the onion and potato harvest. He wants to provide fire workers, his entire family. The man said they were working their back to Missouri.

A summer, Wash. man wants to know if "better apartments" are available in Twin Falls and asks for facts on the state income tax.

MURDER PROBED IN DODGE DEATH

DETROIT, Aug. 15 (AP)—Authorities punctuated their investigation into the death of John Dodge today with the statement that "murder is definitely a possibility."

Inspector John C. Whitely, chief of the homicide bureau, said Prosecutor William E. Dowling had given orders that all persons with information concerning the case be brought in for questioning. Dodge died Thursday night, 42 hours after he was arrested while trying to break into the room of a woman friend, Miss Milgram Pontaine, 32.

Miss Pontaine told authorities the points on a map in the roomer, and asked whether he could find her and a companion, Theodore Kiline.

She said Dodge began talking about converting all cars to armor-plate, and "became such a bore that Kiline went home." She said Dodge drank.

Wife Calls

A short time later, she said, Dodge's wife, Vera MacDonnell Kiline Dodge, came to the Lange home with a heavy suitcase to borrow few dollars to take to a party she was attending next door. Langes are old friends of Dodge and his wife.

Without reason, Dodge started abusing his wife in a tone so vulgar that she fled the room. Miss Pontaine said she heard Dodge yell "I've accused her of spying on him. A few seconds later I heard a thud."

She said she found Mrs. Dodge sitting on the kitchen floor, her lip cut and the glass bowl broken beside her. Dodge, she said, tried to apologize for hitting his wife.

Mrs. Dodge returned to her party and Miss Pontaine said she went to her room, leaving Dodge resting on a first floor sofa after complaining that his head hurt. A coroner's report yesterday said Dodge died of a badly fractured skull.

Tried to Enter Room

Miss Pontaine said Dodge later tried to get into her bedroom. Failing, he climbed outside and tried to pry his way through a window. Miss Pontaine then ran downstairs.

In the meantime, a neighbor had seen Dodge and summoned police, who took him to headquarters.

There, according to police, Dodge resisted detention so violently he fell and struck his head on a stone floor. He was taken to a hospital and placed in an oxygen tent. He never recovered consciousness.

Here is How to Reduce Gas Use By 40 Per Cent

A number of Twin Falls motorists today were making plans to try a simple, inexpensive life discovered years ago which, it has been revealed, will give 30 to 40 per cent more mileage for each gallon of gasoline consumed.

Details of the method, which involves operating passenger automobiles on half their cylinders and minor carburetor adjustments, have been dictated by oil company engineers. The method boils down to three steps—removing valve lifters from every other cylinder so that both intake and exhaust valves remain closed; pinching together the points on spark plugs in the non-working cylinders so there will be no ignition spark, and carburetor adjustments to cut the flow of gasoline.

Some carburetors require two new parts converting all metering pins and a low speed jet. Other carburetors can be adjusted by blocking off half of the working jets. The new parts are not available at present, but carburetor manufacturers have indicated they will stock them.

The whole operation costs about "a day's labor and a couple of dollars for the new parts if needed."

A test car ran 25 miles on a gallon of gasoline. There is some vibration when the speed falls below 10 to 15 miles an hour and the engine more gear shifting. The best speed range is between 30 and 35 miles an hour.

$1,000 Bond for First Private to Step on Jap Soil

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 15 (AP)—Harry J. Burk—the man who gives away $1,000 bonds—a tough job getting rid of his last one.

The Huntington Park life dealer judged the first American to step on Jap planes over Pearl Harbor Dec. 7.

Then he offered $1,000 to the first flier to bomb Tokyo.

It took him three months to straighten that one out. He corresponded with Brig. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle, who told him no one man could be so designated and who finally recommended in a letter that the bond be donated to the army air forces aid society in Washington, D. C. Burk sent the bond.

Now he's offering another $1,000 bond to the first man in the ranks of officers are ruled out—who steps on Japan as part of an invasion force.

Asked why he gives them, Burk answered: "I served in the last war and besides I have a heart for the air forces military."
