MOSCOW, Aug. 27 (AP)—Russian shock troops have stormed into Rzhnev in the red army's big central front offensive that already has killed 45,000 Germans, and dispatches from the front said today that they were driving the nazis back in house-to-house fighting raging in the northern part of the city.

It is believed here that Russian resistance was stiffening on the perilous Stalingrad front, but not because of the growing offensive at Rzhnev, 115 miles northwest of Moscow, and around Vyazma and Gzhinsk in the same area.

JAP LOSSES IN SOLOMONS GAIN

asserted in contrast to a U. S. navy bulletin which declared that American bombers had driven one Japanese fleet into retreat from the approaches to Guadalcanal in the southern Solomons and that another Japanese naval force in the northeast was still being attacked.

The navy bulletin indicated that Japanese attempts to recapture the strategic Guadalcanal-Tulagi base were far in the rear. It stated that "Our forces are holding their positions in the face of strong enemy attacks in each sector and inflicting heavy damage on the attacking Japanese forces."

Six hundred miles to the west, allied troops and planes savagely blasted a new Japanese landing operation north of New Georgia island, destroying an enemy transport and six landing barges and probably sinking a cruiser.

Claim U. S. Defeat
The Japanese press, according to a radio report, makes an American defeat, saying the American fleet, supporting the Solomons from the sea, was sighted and attacked by the Japanese at 3 p. m. on Aug. 24. It said that Tokyo daily, and that "the same day American aircraft carriers are obviously ships which were completely after the outbreak of war in east Asia," and that the battleship was "most probably" the Pennsylvania, which was engaged in the course of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and which was completely obviously had been repaired.

IMPRESSIVE 79ER MEMORIAL HELD

ALBION, Aug. 27—Drawing the parallel between the sacrifices of today—when America is again at war—on their trek westward, was the impressive memorial at Albion.

The first candle was dedicated to all patriotic persons who are giving their time and services to the civilian war effort, and the second to the soldiers, sailors, aviators and marines who are devoting their efforts to the fight for freedom.

Candle three was illuminated in honor of the pilots who died along the pioneer trail on the westward trek; four to babies who suffered the hardships of early pioneer life; the pioneer mothers, and the sixth candle to all pioneers who had died during their efforts to the westward trek.

Five little girls, all granddaughters of the pioneer mothers, took part in the floral tribute. They were Ada Jeannine Gustava, Dorothy Jean Gatchell, Carol Lillian Powell, Thelma Louise Mahoney and Edna May Smith.

One of the girls stood at the back of the white altar and lit the candles, and the other four, dressed in blue, carried baskets of red and blue flowers, as each pioneer name was read placed a flower in a green background in front of the altar.

When completed, it formed a floral piece of red, white and blue, a container of spring flowers already having been placed on the altar.

Flanking the altar evergreens, and blanketing it was a huge American flag, and the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the choir.

TAKE CARE OF YOURSELF

More Americans will die this year, because of civilian accidents, than were killed by the Germans of the first World War.

More will be injured than were in the biggest army we ever raised, the World War I army, including front line fighters, service of supply workers, and those who never got out of preliminary training camps in the United States.

As many will be permanently incapacitated by injuries as the total of American soldiers wounded during the first World War.

In the aggregate, the time has passed when we can take this disposition approach to accidents. The national safety council, with the expressed approval and support of President Roosevelt and Donald Nelson, is trying to prevent the accident trend as a war measure.

Last year four million workers were injured, three-fifths away from their jobs. Fifty thousand of them died. Another 170,000 were permanently disabled.

From the war production standpoint this is the highly serious means, the national safety council computes, that we shall lose five hundred million man-days of labor, at a time when we are pressed to find enough workers to care for our military needs.

Half a billion man-days is equivalent approximately to two million men working fifty 40-hour weeks.

Those two million men are enough to provide the labor for building 71 battleships, or 625 destroyers, or 24,000 flying fortresses, or 120,000 fighter planes, or 312,500 light tanks.

Think in a young way. Needs are what count—not words. But the War Production board's action thus far gives life to the most promising words that have come out of Washington in weeks:

"We are trying to think in a young way on this," E. A. Locke, Jr., assistant to Donald Nelson, said the other day of Henry Kaiser's cargo plane proposal—"vigorously, freshly, without prejudice."

"From here on we are determined to provide the leadership in this war and to be first with all that is new and better. Then let the rest follow after."

"Mr. Locke is just one man out of the thousands who must cooperate if those brave words are to be translated into victory. Perhaps he is just an optimist, a polyanna, a prophet, crying the old sermons of bureaucratic inertia and traditionalism."

"Half of America is doing things it never did before, and the other half is waiting to do them," said Kaiser. And Locke tossed back the flat answer:

"We will not keep that other half waiting long."

GRAVITY—The day of the red, American brand, is done. The day of the red, American brand, is done. The day of the red, American brand, is done.

Two years ago, the District of Columbia witnessed a parade of 5,000 young people with little disguised hammer and sickle slogans and banners, marching to the White House where the first lady greeted some of the leaders as guests, keeping them overnight. This was the high point of the movement.

Since then it has become more and more obvious that the day of the red, American brand, is done. The war and navy departments, of course, don't want them any more.

U. S. BOMBERS STAGE BIG RAID ON JAP-HELD CHINA CITY

BUILDINGS BURN AFTER ATTACKS

By KARL ESKELUND
(Copyright 1942 by United Press)

WITNESSES IN THE EASTERN PROVINCES OF CHINA, Aug. 26—(U. P.—Delny)—United States bombers staged a major raid on one of their greatest cities in the world today. The Japanese strategic center of Lashio in northern Burma today.

They left Japanese military buildings including troop barracks aflame and destroyed the only four Japanese planes they found on the big Laohai airfield.

Col. Caleb V. Haynes of North Carolina and Col. Robert L. Scott of Missouri, Co. commanding the United States bomber and pursuit forces, led in person a devastating raid which this correspondent was an enthralled witness.

Intelligence reports had revealed the concentration of 10,000 new Japanese shock troops at Lashio for an offensive on Kuming, at the head of the Lashio-Kuming Burma road, and the United States army air force went into action.

Ground-level attack

While the great bombing planes attacked from high altitude, the fighters in the air were directed in through a hail of the big plane bombs to attack with machine guns all ground targets.

Japanese military buildings all over the Laohai airfield burst into flames. Barracks, grounds and fields were left strewn with Japanese dead and wounded.

The bombers took care of Lashio city while the fighters attacked the airfield. The fighters were seen after they took off from this secret base in China, we ran into a heavy rainstorm, but just as we reached Lashio the sun broke through the clouds.

From the bombers we could not see a single Japanese plane and we waited vainly for a burst of anti-aircraft fire.

We flew over the airfield but dropped no bombs because we could see no enemy planes.

Leads Bomber Force

Col. Haynes led the bomber force toward Lashio city.

I saw the bombs drop from his plane like shiny cigars and seconds later I saw them explode right in the middle of the main buildings, probably troop barracks.

The buildings were hurled into the air.

Our bombardier, Lieut. Robert Davis, was seen to drop a bomb on his base. They hit another large building.

Sgt. Everett Holstrom, Tacoma, Wash., jerked the plane into a steep climb which threw me against the side of our plane almost directly upward.

As soon as he straightened the plane Holstrom made another pass at Lashio.

This time we dropped our bombs at a distance of 100 feet from the target, and started at least three big fires.

Lashio looked different now to what it had a few seconds before.

Half a dozen fires were burning. Smoke and dust caused by the explosions covered a big area.

Jap Plane Blows up

When the bombs hit, I saw our pursuit planes flying low over the airfield, their guns blazing. There was a small explosion as one Japanese plane blew up.

A few minutes after the bombers landed at this base the first escorting pursuit planes came down.

The pilot of one jumped out and ran over.

"Who in hell dropped that last bomb?" he demanded. "It damned near killed me."

It was Col. Scott, the fighter commander.

"It was machine gunning a group of Jap soldiers near the field," he went on. "They were firing at me with their rifles when the explosion shook my plane. It was one of your bombs."

"Next time I escort you be more careful or I'll make a pass at you."

Farmers in Idaho Planted 290,765 Trees Last Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (U. P.)—The forest service of the agriculture department this week Idaho farmers planted 290,765 trees for forestry purposes last year, an increase over the 246,400 trees were planted.

The trees were distributed from state nurseries under a federal cooperative project for providing the planting stock at low prices. Dwight L. Jeffers, dean of the school of forestry of the University of Idaho in reporting the plantings during the year said the project was the leading source of seedlings, was the 13,065 seedlings being purchased by the farmer and 61 per cent for windbreak and shelterbelt purposes.

This service said $2,850 had been allotted to Idaho for the project during the 1942 fiscal year.

61 PUT INTO 1-A FOR NEW RECORD

Twin Falls county selective service board No. 1 is well on its way toward its quota of 61 men asked by the army from this area in September.

Capt. J. H. Beaver, clerk of the board held this week 61 registrants were placed in the 1-A classification. It is believed the largest number placed in the immediate service group by the board at one sitting.

The 61 represents about three-fourths of the total number of cases considered by the board. Of the total of 61 cases considered, nine were transferred from 2-A to 1-C, meaning that these registrants already had voluntarily enlisted; three registrants were continued in 2-B for two months; two were placed in 2-A; five transferred from 2-A to 3-B and four transferred from 3-A to 4-B.

Eighty-two registrants today had returned from Boise where yesterday they received their final examination, but Capt. Beaver was unable to say officially how many had passed and were inducted in the critical men's reserve. Those accepted were given two weeks' furlough to wind their private affairs before reporting at Fort Douglas, Utah, to begin duty training.

The draft board has counted on only 80 registrants leaving here at 2 p. m. yesterday. However, at the last minute two transfers from other boards reported at the bus station and were inducted in their final examination at other places scattered throughout the nation.

Race Telegrams Receive Priority, Murray Charges

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (U. P.)—Asserting that "messages announcing the results of horse races are receiving priority" while "love messages to Gen. MacArthur" are being delayed, CIO President Philip Murray today had advocated a five-point program "for the immediate conversion of the telegraph industry to meet the nation's war needs."

The program, proposed by the American Communications Association (ACA), listed three points in its remedy:

"Service policies must be set on the standard of 20-minute activity from sender to receiver; all traffic vital to the war effort should be eliminated; labor recruiting to provide an adequate supply of personnel must be immediately undertaken; wages must be raised from the present sub-standard levels to stabilize the industry; and the production program should be financed by the government."

IDAHOAN'S DEATH TERMED SUICIDE

BRIGHAM CITY, Aug. 27 (U. P.)—In connection with the finding of the body of Sherman Dunn, 33, Montpelier, Ida., painter, in a truck here Wednesday, Chief of Police Howard Call today announced in his opinion it was a plain case of suicide.

Chief Call pointed out that Dunn came here and secured a job at the Bushnell general hospital, but said he was dismissed because of drink. He also pointed out that persons who came in contact with Dunn Wednesday said he was in a highly nervous state of mind. When the body was found in the truck the throat was cut from ear to ear and both wrists had slashed. It is presumed, said Chief Call, that Dunn drove the truck near the home of Chief Call and suicide committed.

The body was returned to Montpelier Wednesday evening.

It is reported that Dunn is survived by a wife and three children in Montpelier, besides his parents.

They included John Albert Schoede, Heyburn.

Soldiers Used in Bringing Forest Fire Into Control

CASADE, Aug. 27 (U. P.)—A great forest fire on Caton creek had been brought under control by weary crews of soldiers and U. S. forest service employees, after sweeping for six days across a wide area of the Payette and Idaho national forests.

T. H. Van Meter, Payette forest supervisor, said the blaze, which was controlled on all but its westward side by Tuesday night, had been further beaten back.

He reported he hopes his crews will have the fire entirely extinguished within two or three days. The blaze started last Friday from a lightning bolt, 45 miles northeast of here.

"PAY-AS-YOU-GO"

TAX PLAN DEBATES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Bowling to treasury objections, the House Finance committee voted today to incorporate in the new revenue bill the "pay-as-you-go" plan of collecting individual income taxes but acted to retain a house-approved five percent withholding law on wages, interest and dividends.

The latter vote, to become effective next Jan. 1, would provide a measure of advance collection since the amount paid in the year would be credited against the total income tax due from each individual on March 15, 1944. The rate would be increased to 10 percent on Jan. 1, 1944.

Chairman George D. Go. said the committee had agreed to simplify the collection of this tax as much as possible by permitting employers to make deductions in $10 wage bands instead of figuring each individual's liability to the penny.

To Limit Collections He said also the committee had agreed to limit the withholding collections on interest and dividends by exempting bond and coupon interest, as well as small dividends paid by mutual and loan associations, credit unions and other similar organizations. (Such interest and dividends would still be subject, however, to the regular income tax March 15 of each year.)

The House bill, proposed by Neadeley Ruml, chairman of the New York reserve bank, would have provided for 1941 initial income tax liabilities and considered payments made this year as applying on 1942 taxes. The bill would also provide that in the event of a recession in the next few years, individuals would figure their actual income and make adjustments paying additional tax or receiving refunds.

Modification Rejected George announced the committee had rejected, 11 to a treasury modification of this plan which would have exempted the normal taxes of first bracket taxpayers against individuals on their 1941 income, but would have required larger tax payments for the remainder of their salaries over a period of two or three years.

The chairman emphasized that the votes taken on these proposals were tentative and Sen. Taft, R.-O., said he and Sen. McNamara, D.-Mo., would attempt to reopen the subject tomorrow by proposing that the bill plan be limited to a five percent withholding tax.

The committee rejected the Ruml plan, George said, largely because of treasury protests that it would be discriminatory in some of its aspects.

Applies to Payrolls The five percent withholding law approved by the committee would apply primarily to payrolls, George said. Although a draft of the revised section had been completed, it was understood the house principle of granting exemptions would be retained.

Under this provision, an employer would ascertain from his employees whether they were subject to the law and how many dependents they had. These exemptions would be figured and the amount of the amount of salary above the exemption total would be retained.

Penguin Sues Film Firm for No. 1 Item in "Screwy News"

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (Wide World)—Well, a penguin sued a movie studio because he was prevented from keeping a date with Sonja Henie. . . . The OPA refused from putting a ceiling price on mittens. . . . The New Jersey mosquitoes got so bad they interfered with work in war plants. . . . Those are the slipshod highlights of today's dizzy digest of daily developments. But they're not the half of it.

A coast guard officer in New York chased a boat in a last-minute race to the king of Egypt. . . . Promoted Winston Churchill with $12 million long. . . . 11 candidates at a rally in Sharon, B. Workers, Farmers Get War Profits, Industry Asserts

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—The National Association of Manufacturers asserted yesterday "war profits" of salaried employees and farmers would be "voluntarily" shared, and they are likely to drop still further in 1942.

EARLY, 53, STAYS BEHIND HIS DESK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Stephen Early, a former newspaperman who became one of the administration's principal spokesmen as secretary to the President, was today to pass the anniversary as usual behind a desk which some of his former journalistic colleagues rarely looked into his lap on one occasion.

"Wages and salaries are now 72 percent higher than they were in 1939, due largely to high prices farmers and workers are receiving," said the association.

The desk actually was pushed back a couple of feet in the rush for telephones, and so was Early. A lamp was knocked over, and a press man donkey, and many knickknacks on the desk, was cracked.

The estimated drop in corporate profits, of 26 percent from 1941, means that the average worker will decline from $2,500,000,000 in 1941 to an estimated $4,500,000,000 in 1942.

That was when he heard a formal statement last December disclosing that Winston Churchill, Britain's prime minister, had reached Washington. . . .

REDS STAY AT MOUNTAIN LINE

By DE WITT MACKENZIE The World War Analyst's Disclosure, to today—and thus far very successful—new Russian offensive in the important sector northwest of Moscow led by a forecast by the Soviet army newspaper Red Star that the Bolsheviks will halt the units on the Caucasian mountain line, are an invitation to examine the possibility that the little tide may have about reached high water and be ready to ebb.

One approaches this idea with the utmost caution because of the obvious dangers of the Russian position in face of the terrific strike being exhibited by the Germans. . . .

The red offensive in the Hubei sector northwest of Moscow has been maintained and the slaughter of the Reds claim an advance of 25 to 30 miles, the capture of upwards of 600 prisoners and the loss of 45,000 Germans. . . .

Whole-sale meat prices will be adjusted also, OPA announced, on a basis to eliminate price inequities.

This is designed to check the tendency of packers to shift meat to areas where retail ceilings are high, thereby leaving the low-ceiling areas where the price ceilings are low.

The OPA did not indicate at what level ceilings would be fixed for hogs and cattle. Both have been bringing a profit of 130 per cent.

Lots of Wild Meat to Feed Men in Army

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 27 (AP)—You've been hearing about this important meat shortage?

The surplus in Montana, alone, could supply 2,500 tons of dressed meat annually, releasing sufficient beef, mutton and pork to feed more than 340,000 soldiers for one month, says State Game Warden J. B. McFarland.

This surplus represents the normal annual increase in elk, deer, bear and antelope, and would leave the herds at normal size for reproduction.

Should an extreme food emergency arise, McFarland flatters the stocker herds could be cut in half to release enough meat from this state, and to feed well over 200,000 soldiers one month.

And there still would remain vast untapped flocks of wild sheep, mountain goats, muskox, pronghorn and fish—potential food for thousands more soldiers or civilians, he said.

Yes, there's a well-filled emergency hutter out this way—just in case.

Plane Crashes in Swamp; Two Die LONGBEACH, Aug. 27 (AP)—Two army transport pilots crashed with their plane into a swamp late yesterday near Youngsville, La., an army announcement said, and both are presumed to be dead.

They were 2nd Lt. Earl Eugene Hansen, 41, Great Falls, Mont., and 2nd Lt. Robert Lloyd Hollingsworth, 21, Long Beach, Calif., and were en route from a California base to an airport in Alabama.

Witnesses said the transport plane developed motor trouble and fell into the swamp.

LABOR UNIONS ASK CONTROL OF WAGES BE LEFT WITH WLB

VIGOROUS BATTLE SLATED ON SHIFT

By JOHN M. MECKLIN
WASHINGTON, Aug. 17 (AP)—Organized labor wants wartime control of wages left in the hands of the Federal board and has no informed President Roosevelt.

Both the Congress of Industrial Organizations and the American Federation of Labor, it appeared, are making a vigorous fight against the administration plan to place final control over wages—along with power not only to stabilize prices but to veto or modify WLB wage rulings, if necessary, to preserve overall anti-inflation balance.

Murray and Green left the President's conference without having reached any conclusion but agreed to meet again one week from today—a few days before Mr. Roosevelt is scheduled to reveal his new inflation plan—to see if some labor-government agreement can be worked out.

Murray called an extraordinary meeting of the CIO executive council for next Tuesday, two days before he returns to the White House to go into the entire wage-stabilization question.

Green said he and Murray left the White House that organized labor has always favored wage stabilization.

That was behind the whole setup of the labor government conference. "At least, that is the way we interpreted it."

Battleship "Iowa" Launched 7 Months Ahead of Schedule

By MARTIN KANE
BROOKLYN NAVY YARD, Aug. 17 (AP)—The battleship Iowa, mightiest dreadnought in the fleet, swung into the water today, seven months ahead of schedule, perhaps to take part in that climactic operation of the war—the invasion of the continent of Europe or the island of Japan.

The launching ceremonies were brief and simple owing to wartime restrictions. U. S. President Wallace and Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox were unable to attend.

The Iowa was the first of six super-battleships to be launched. Five more—New Jersey, Missouri, Wisconsin, Illinois and Kentucky—are being built in other shipyards.

Most of the Iowa's specifications are secret, but it may be revealed that her main battery will be of eight 16-inch guns. She is 885 feet long, 100 feet shorter than the largest ocean liner.

Her generators have a capacity of 10,000 kilowatt hours, enough electricity for a city of 20,000. Because of her extreme width and length, she is showing at the keel.

Industrial accidents have cost the loss of both eyes of 8,000 persons in the United States alone.

PILOT TELLS OF HELP BY NATIVES

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 17 (AP)—A meeting on a south Pacific island with 16 navy and army pilots and 17 other white persons who had been rescued by friendly natives to escape from the Japanese was described by Harry Wood of Noble, Idaho, a dive bomber pilot of the carrier Lexington.

Wood said he met several other persons on the island that brought them to an island where they found the other pilots who had also been forced down, together with four civilians, some of them Americans, whom the Islanders had assisted in penetrating the Japanese lines.

SERIAL STORY WHEN A GIRL MARRIES

BY RENE YERSON MARY

COPYRIGHT, 1942,
NEA SERVICE, INC.

THIS STORY: Tom Driscoll meets Edie when following on a day of extra work. Tom proposes to her, but she declines. Later, when Tom suggests they make up an extra night's work, she agrees. Tom's plan is to get a job at the factory, where he can make up for the extra night's work. Tom's plan is to get a job at the factory, where he can make up for the extra night's work.

It would be nice, though, if she could go away for a month or six weeks and do just as she liked—live in a hotel or a nice apartment, settled down forever as Mrs. Thomas Driscoll.

She sat down on the edge of her bed day-dreaming about it. What would she do if she could do just as she liked for a month? Live in a hotel or a nice apartment? Meet interesting people—the kind of people she'd always wanted to know? Pretend that she really was what she longed to be, an artist? Wear beautiful clothes?

VACATION PLANS

CHAPTER III

"THAT you, Edie?" Mom called sharply from upstairs as Edie closed the front door behind her. Mom never went to sleep until Edie was in for the night.

The idea was so breath-taking that she blinked stupidly. Just the thought of it made her dizzy. She got up after a moment and picked up her purse and pulled out a thin bank book. Three hundred and fifty dollars was the last balance, entered in neat black figures. She had saved it painfully during the six years she had been working. Saved it by eating her larders, and buying plain serviceable clothes instead of the ones she really wanted, and by doing her own hair and nails.

She bought a paper next day at lunch time and scanned the Apartments for Rent column while she ate. A nice apartment, she had decided, would be cheaper than a hotel. She could do her own cooking and save on the food item. That would leave her more money for clothes and incidentals.

Edie's face twisted a little as she climbed the stairs. In a way Mom would be right. It was a real marry Tom. Then she wouldn't have to worry any more about what she had to do. And yet she wouldn't like it altogether either. For Edie was the most ticked, now that Pop couldn't work any more.

But the rebellious impulse that seized her in art class was still smoldering within her. It wasn't right that one should never have anything that one really wanted. Why should she put her savings into her marriage? Tom didn't have any. Tom was just putting himself in. He probably thought that that was being generous to any girl.

An address halfway down the list caught her attention. Worthing Arms, Arlington. That read on "4-rm. apt. Frigidaire, Janitor service. Completely furnished." She tore it out and put it in her purse.

Edie reached the upper hall. "Come in here, honey. I've got something to tell you." There was an excited tremor in her voice.

"What?" Edie began. But Mom didn't give her time to finish. "We got a letter from Aunt Faye today. Aunt Faye was Mom's sister, the one who had married money. She says she hasn't been able to rent one of her cottages this summer, and we can have it for a month, free."

Edie sat down on the side of the bed beside her mother. Pop rolled over on his side facing her, his faded blue eyes sparkling with excitement. They were both as pleased as children at Christmas time.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"That's grand, Mom," Edie caught their enthusiasm. "You'll have to rent a rowboat, you and Pop, and you can fish to your heart's content."

"I was just wondering," Mom paused thoughtfully. "You've got a whole month vacation coming, Edie. You know you skipped years last year when all those girls at the office were sick with summer flu. Maybe you could get it now."

Edie leaned down and kissed her mother's baby cheek. "Now, Mom, stop worrying about me. Mom, I'll be all right here. You two go up to the lake and enjoy yourselves. I don't think I could get my vacation on such a short notice."

"Now let's be patriotic and don't discuss military secrets, but the fight that's going on over the new pastor is so much more interesting!"
