

NAVY QUOTA FOR MONTH DOUBLED

Twin Falls' quota of navy enlistments for September is more than double that of August, Chief Machinist Mate Edmund Hannan, navy recruiter, announced today.

The quota for September is 84 regular enlistments and eight radio technician enlistments, he said, whereas last month it was 42 regular and eight radio technicians. Hannan declared that the September quota for the state, 320, is slightly more than one recruit for every 100 population. Only the main station at Boise, with 140 regulars and 20 technicians, has been given a larger quota than Twin Falls.

The Twin Falls sub-station, one of four in the state, finished second in Idaho Falls in enlistments based on population in August. Forty regular enlistments were secured. This was nine more than the quota. However, in August of technicians Twin Falls fell two short of its quota of eight but tied for first with Idaho Falls in this respect.

Other sub-stations in the state are at Pocatello, Lewiston and Coeur d'Alene. Two more youths had been tentatively accepted for enlistment today. They were Thomas Huxsey, 20, son of Mrs. Helen L. Huxsey, Wells, Nev., but who resides at 520 Second avenue east, Twin Falls, and James Leroy Higgins, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Higgins, Hansen.

Chief Hannan was on recruiting duty in Gooding yesterday.

'Preparing "Give 'em a Ride" Station

Rest stations, for men of the service who are seeking rides, have now been erected at the eastern and western ends of Twin Falls under sponsorship of the Kiwanis club. This picture shows four club members engaged in putting the one up on Felsen Auto court property. Complete with benches, the station will serve as a reminder to "give the boys a ride." Erected the station are (left to right) J. A. Cederquist, Ray J. Holmes, H. H. Hedstrom and Ed Tinker. (Staff Photo-Engraving)

Kiwanis Club Installs New Rest Benches

Members of the armed services who want a ride through Twin Falls can now sit and wait for one, thanks to the Kiwanis club. Two rest stations have been erected under club sponsorship and are complete with signs which urge motorists to "give the boys a ride." One is located near five points west on property donated by the Twin Falls auto court and the other is at five points east on a parking lot. Each station will have a bench placed directly under a supporting roof. The two stations were erected by J. A. Cederquist, Ray J. Holmes, H. H. Hedstrom and Ed Tinker. "It will not be necessary for men of the service to stand at the curb any longer as they seek a ride," Mr. Cederquist said. "Faster they can take a well deserved rest by sitting on a bench while they wait for some motorist to stop. It is hoped that all motorists, seeing soldiers sitting in one of the two stations, will offer them a ride." Under regulations a soldier cannot ask for a ride but may accept one if it is offered to him. The large signs on each station will urge motorists to stop and make that offer. A smaller sign on each station also tells soldiers that there is a USO headquarters in Twin Falls. The inner part of a bread loaf is called the "crumb."

DIES BLASTS AT FBI FOR FAILURE OF SUBVERSIVE PROBE

SAYS CONGRESS WISHES IGNORED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—The FBI and the Dies committee were at sharp odds today over the extent of subversive activity among federal employees.

Chairman Dies, D. Tex., accusing Attorney General Francis Biddle of having "failed utterly" to comply with congressional wishes, asked the house to reject a Justice department report which criticized the committee indirectly for sending the FBI a time-consuming order for delay of government workers.

Dies, head of the special committee set up four years ago to investigate subversive activities, made his request in a letter to Speaker Sam Rayburn in which he referred to a recent act of congress asking the FBI to make the checkup.

"The Justice department, the Times charged, did not want the FBI started in its investigation. It is not strange that nothing but an attempt to smear our committee has resulted."

Biddle's report said that as a result of the investigation, including many suggested by the Dies committee, only 46 government workers have been found and 131 indicted.

"This result, he added, was 'utterly disproportionate to the resources expended.'"

Design Under Pressure

Dies said he had "conclusive proof" that many suspected employees were put under "conspicuous pressure to resign voluntarily" before the FBI started its investigation.

The Times was represented as having determined to force a showdown in the house on the Dies committee and Biddle by formally requesting the rejection of Biddle's report as not meeting the congressional mandate.

At OPA "Price Clinic" for Businessmen

That Twin Falls and the Magie Valley are becoming increasingly war-minded was indicated last night when retailers flocked to capacity the first floor of the Twin Falls high school auditorium to participate in a price clinic under the direction of specialists from the state office of price administration in Boise.

State Price Director R. B. Hefelbower characterized the gathering as the largest of the sort that he and his associates are making.

In fact, there was so many food retailers present that the number proved too large for room 121 in the high school auditorium where they were assigned for their group meeting. A more ample meeting place had to be found by Principal Edward B. Fogel.

The general meeting attracted five times as many retailers as were present at the first price clinic held by Price Director Hefelbower in the Idaho Power company auditorium three months ago. As previously, the meeting was held under the auspices of the Twin Falls Merchants' bureau with Charles Shirley presiding in the absence of Chairman Vay Hudson, who is ill.

Group Sessions

Following the brief general meeting, which was addressed by Hefelbower and Walter Lockwood, state price administrator, the retailers were divided into groups for group meetings in various parts of the high school. Walter Taylor, assigned to Idaho by the regional office in Denver, presided over the food section, Rene Caron over the clothing and furniture section, Lawrence Quinn, state price attorney, over the miscellaneous merchants' section.

Hefelbower's address was commended more with the background of regulations of the office of price administration and what had been accomplished since his previous visit here.

The former Washington State college dean cited the report of the bureau of labor statistics that the OPA had stopped the general upward spiral of prices. He said that food prices under the control of the WPA had risen three-tenths of one per cent between June 15 and July 15, whereas food prices outside of OPA control had risen two and one-half per cent.

In the previous 30 day period, OPA-controlled prices had fallen one per cent, he stated, while those not controlled had risen four and one-half per cent.

Seek Simplification

Denn Hefelbower stated that every effort was being made to simplify the price regulations and that his purpose their clarification in the minds of retailers. He said Hefelbower had set up for merchants whose margin of profit is too low to obtain relief. He cited one case in the Magie Valley relating to the price of overalls that had been adjusted.

He said a merchant to obtain relief must be able to show that the price ceiling is working a substantial hardship and threatens his ability to continue in business.

Ration Board Is Key

The price director declared that the major unit in the price ceiling setup is the local rationing board, a fact recognized from U. S. Price Administrator Leon Henderson on down. He said that probably after the war is over due credit would be given to citizens volunteers who served as members of rationing boards.

He asked members of rationing boards to stand but the only members present were Carl N. Anderson, chairman; Asher B. Wilson, member, and Don J. Covanagh, price director, all of the Twin Falls county board.

Consumer Relations Officer Lockwood declared that his department had no intention of setting up a group of "snooper" men to worry the merchants. He asserted committees would be appointed to work with the merchants to "ferret out law violators" retarding the efforts of the 98 per cent of the retailers to do business lawfully.

The law violator, he said, that the committees would be composed of citizens who would be known to all the merchants.

He said that America was but "a little deep" in the war but soon "wished thinking" would give way to serious thinking and it would be either "sink or swim for all of us."

He said he was certain that practically all Americans would give their all to preserve the principles of the boys who may be out there tonight dying so that we can have sugar tomorrow and a tire on our automobile tomorrow.

At the group sessions, the OPA specialists explained specific rules applying to individual businesses. They answered concrete questions submitted by the retailers themselves.

QUEST FOR IDAHO MINERALS ASKED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Possible new sources of four strategic minerals in Idaho would be thoroughly investigated under a program advanced by Rep. Randolph, D. W. Va.

Randolph told the house the work which he estimated would cost $1,865,000 and affect most western states, "should start immediately."

His studies of the far west indicated, he explained, that more information was desirable on usable reserves of vanadium, beryllium and molybdenum. Search also should be expanded, he added, for manganese, chromium, tungsten and other ores.

Altogether, he listed 18 strategic and critical minerals in 37 states as "vitally needed to win this war."

Geologists, he said, have reported Idaho has large quantities of molybdenum, high grade and high grade manganese and mercury in Idaho.

The West Virginian's proposal called for the forming of a private corporation, to be financed through congressional appropriation, to bore 1,000 holes 3,000 feet in depth, by core drilling, as a means of "scientifically prospecting" for these rare materials.

The work would be done under negotiated contract in places recommended by the geological survey and state geologists. All discoveries would be made in the government's behalf.

"Honest congressional attempts to provide stockpiles of these minerals, he said, had 'met with setbacks,' though effort should be given concrete form.

But, he said, 'the job, I believe, needs private industry operating under a negotiated contract to produce these holes.' Essential value in our war effort can come from the cores that are drilled."

FISKE, FAMOUS PRODUCER, DIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Harry Gray Fiske, 81, theatrical producer who introduced such famous American stage, died Wednesday in a small one-room apartment lined with paintings of his retired actor-wife, Minnie Maddern Fiske, in her most noted roles.

The elderly producer had reached the year 1912 in his autobiography, and had just finished describing the production of "Kismet" starring Olin Dickinson, when heart attacks put an end to his work on his memoirs. He had been retired for 10 years.

Fiske, one of the leading figures of the American theater for more than 30 years, first produced Henrik Ibsen's "The Master Builder" in New York. His wife produced notable successes in "A Doll's House," "Ghosts," "The Master Builder," and other plays.

Fiske's production of "Kismet" ran for more than two years, but in 1914 his financial resources were destroyed in an unsuccessful speculation. He was adjudged bankrupt, his liabilities exceeding his assets by $10,000.

A year later he had paid off his creditors and entered another period of success, with productions of "The Merry Widow," "The Merry Widow of the West," "The Merry Widow of the East," and "The Merry Widow of the South."

When Fiske was a student at New York university he wrote sketches and essays on the theater. Later he wrote for "The New York Star" and at 20 became editor and sole owner of "The Dramatic Mirror," a theatrical publication.

In 1890 he married the brilliant actress Minnie Maddern Fiske, who appeared in many of his productions. His last production was "The Merry Widow" presented in Chicago with Mrs. Fiske in the leading role, in November, 1931.

Mrs. Fiske died in New York the following February.

MIDDLETON, IDA., PAPER IS BANNED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—Postmaster General Walker has charged today that "the Boise Valley Herald," a weekly newspaper published at Middleton, Idaho, printed matter that is seditious and defamatory and ordered the publisher to show cause Sept. 7 why his second-class mail privilege should not be revoked.

The postmaster general acted on the recommendation of Attorney General Biddle, who said in a letter to Walker:

"Basically oriented in opposition to all wars on religious and moral grounds, this publication nevertheless, in my opinion, has exceeded the permissible limits of free speech. It has endeavored over a period of time in a sustained and comprehensive attack upon the participation of the United States in the world war."

The paper, he said, had "labeled the selective service act obscene and unconstitutional" and "insulted those who refused to comply with it."

"Since Dec. 7, 1941," the attorney general added, "this publication has expressed sympathy for the Japanese and their aims and objectives, blaming the aggressor nation less than the United States for the attack on Pearl Harbor."

Attaches in Carver's office said they could not identify I. W. Correll, co-publisher of the Herald, as the father of Boyd and Clark Correll, Middleton men who served nine months in a federal camp at Koonaka, Idaho, for violation of the selective service act.

The Correll brothers were convicted at a trial in Boise in February 1942 of failing to register under the selective service act of 1940 and were sentenced to the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas.

Attaches in Carver's office said they could not identify I. W. Correll, co-publisher of the Herald, as the father of Boyd and Clark Correll, Middleton men who served nine months in a federal camp at Koonaka, Idaho, for violation of the selective service act.

Idahoan, Held by Japs, Glad "Uncle Still Working for Us"

PAIMIA, Sept. 4 (AP)—At least one Idaho prisoner of the Japanese has been treated with "kindness and consideration" by his captors, it has been disclosed today in a letter received by Mr. and Mrs. R. Herndon Young, Jr., former civilian construction worker on Guam.

Young, now a prisoner, said the Japanese in Paimia, he said, were "kind and considerate" and that he was "allowed some time for exercise each day in a nearby park. There is a small library at our disposal and I have done a great deal of reading in the time that we have been here."

"One time in April we were taken out to see the world famous cherry blossoms. They grow all about the hillside nearby and are beautiful to behold."

"Naturally what we wish for most of all is to return home again and I imagine that you are well informed on the possibility of this change as we are. I think our chances of returning fairly soon are pretty good, since we have been properly identified and classified as civilian internees from Guam and that our uncle is still working for us."

The last reference to "our uncle" apparently refers to Uncle Sam, the family believer.

Horse Carryall May Be Used in National Parks

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—The horse-drawn carryall, familiar sight to early-day national park visitors, may be resurrected in 1943. The office of defense transportation, which studies such things as bus operations and where they are most necessary, admits that the problem of getting visitors to and from the parks may become a difficult one next year.

Restrictions were felt this summer by bus operators in such national parks as Glacier and Yellowstone.

The ODT said it was "a little early" to determine whether the carryall would be lighter in 1943. But it turned out next summer that the carryall would be better utilized serving workers in war industry areas, an ODT spokesman said, that would be where they would go.

MIXED BLOODS GIVEN RELEASE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4 (AP)—Some 100 mixed blood Japanese and white blood have been released from relocation centers in the western defense command after thorough investigation, the wartime relocation administration said today.

Such mixed blood families are few in number because Japanese generally marry on marriage outside their race, the WCCA explained, only families with children are considered for release.

A Japanese husband and a Caucasian wife and their mixed blood children may be released from the relocation centers if approved by the army, but they may not remain within the western defense command.

However, a Japanese woman and a white husband (if he is not an enemy alien) and their children may remain inside this military zone if approved.

A few mixed blood families have been released during the past several weeks from relocation centers and many more have applied for release, the WCCA said. Thirty-nine families have been released from a Colorado army relocation project and one or two have been allowed to return to their homes in the western defense command, the WCCA added.

Judge Dismisses Alleged Fat Lamb Violation Charge

DENVER, Sept. 4 (AP)—Juvenile Judge Philip B. Gilliam today has sentenced an itinerant laborer to a year in jail with the alternative that he join the army so support money would go to his wife who testified she was left 11 days with only $1.35 to buy food for herself and two small children.

Mrs. Minnie Hall, nearly blind, testified she tried to feed an itinerant laborer, who was a fat man, flour and water, because no milk was available. She could not see well enough to go out and forage for food when her husband, Ralph Hall, left them alone, she told the court.

He was placed in jail pending his decision to join the army.

We The Women

By RUTH MILLET

It's no fun for a girl who's used to plenty of dates to be married. At night after night with no one to take her dancing since all her young men have left town to go into one of the services.

But a satisfactory solution isn't for her to date married men. Yet that is what a lot of girls are doing today, according to what business girls have written and told me.

Married Men
They say that girls who last year would have been lashed if a married man asked them for a date are already so fed up on spending their evenings with men that they jump at a chance to go out with a married man, just to get to go dancing or to have dinner in a nice restaurant.

That is a scatter-brained, irresponsible way of meeting their problem—and no real solution to it at all. Of course, we've never for a girl to go dateless week after week. But there are a lot of things about war that are not so simple.

All that a girl can do honorably about the matter is devote the evenings to her studies and then she will have a problem on her hands. But even if she doesn't get emotionally tangled up with any husband she is almost sure to get herself a less than shining reputation.

And, she'll need a good boy if she is to marry one of those boys who is used to dateless weeks is over.

FRANCO DECISION

FRANCO DECISION

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
WIDE WORLD WAR NEWS
If one were asked to pick the most important international development of the past 24 hours, it would have to be the Spanish Franco's removal of his brother-in-law, Generalissimo Ramon Berrio Serrano, not only from the office of foreign minister but from the presidency of the republic, which is Spain's sole political party. While this dramatic and daring shake-up bears the marks of being in no small degree an internal affair, yet its potentialities in relation to the allies and the Axis are vast. There is much that needs clarification in this greatly complicated situation, but we can at least say that Franco's action must cause heart-burnings in Berlin and a sense of satisfaction to the United Nations.

Strengthens Neutrality
I think we may put it this way: By eliminating a powerful pro-Nazi influence from his cabinet and leadership of his party, Generalissimo Franco has—whatever his underlying motives—strengthened the neutrality of his country. From the allied standpoint that is a gratifying sign of independence. The face of powerful Hitlerian efforts to make Spain a haven of wood and a drawer of the Axis.

As a matter of fact, despite Spain's former friendship for nationalism, Franco's action has not only maintained the freedom of action, despite threats from the axis, but also has removed a very real, extremely difficult and dangerous, especially with a German army ally, and a potential source of trouble in the sticking to the middle course.

Allies May Profit
Now Franco himself has taken over the leadership of Franco, and has placed in the foreign ministry Count Francisco de Jesus, who long has been credited with being well disposed towards the allies. While diplomatic observers are inclined to jump to broad conclusions, it's a fair assumption that all the interests may prosper.

As the allies press look this situation over speculatively, it strikes me that there may be some things in Franco's mind that the "hope" perhaps, but still there—that this autumn's fight for the world may be won, and that the allies are strongly in favor of the United Nations, Generalissimo Franco might have been directed to consider whether he would have a more attractive appearance.

What a godsend it would be for the allies if Franco should do this, and thereby make Spain the continental gateway for that second front. However, that is a very faintful exclamation on my part—yet of thoughtful thinking, still, quelling hopes are having a more and probably will again.

TRIO OF SLAYERS

ASKING PARDONS

Three convicted murderers from Twin Falls county will ask for pardons or for commutation of sentences at the next regular session of the Idaho state board of pardons, it was learned here today.

The trio consists of L. O. Hale and Daniel Williams, both convicted of first degree murder in the death of Patricia C. Hale, and William C. Sullivan, who was convicted of first degree murder in the shooting of his wife in 1940.

Since the three men went to prison on June 1, 1939, they have been treated as prisoners. Williams was captured a short while later. Williams and Hale had robbed a gasoline station in the city and were stopped by Bracken and Patrolman Kenneth Barclay, now assistant chief of police, at a near Drury park on the truck lane. As Bracken walked up to the car he was shot by Williams, according to information brought out at the trial. Barclay then shot Hale and also Williams, the city and were stopped by Bracken and Patrolman Kenneth Barclay, now assistant chief of police, at a near Drury park on the truck lane.

In the case of Sullivan, he gave himself up to police and admitted having been a part of the shooting. Williams followed a similar course. Williams failed in a recent attempt to secure parole.

TREASURY PROPOSAL SPURS DRIVE FOR RETAIL SALES TAX

SENATE OPPOSED TO FEDERAL PLAN

By JOHN H. DEAL
WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—Members of the senate finance committee, pronouncing the treasury's plan for a 50 per cent increase in retail sales tax "dead" almost before it was fully explained, today said it had served only to spur the drive for a federal retail sales tax.

Some senators said the treasury's plan acted, in effect, like a boom-crash. They contended that the treasury had designed it to head off the increasing sentiment for a sales tax to which it is opposed.

At the official request of the committee, Treasury General Counsel Randolph Paul reluctantly outlined to the committee the type of a sales tax the treasury would prefer if it had to choose among the variations of such laws.

"Too Complicated"

While a majority of the committee were condemning the spending tax as "too complicated," "unworkable" and leading to a 50 per cent slash in the standard of living, Paul outlined a plan for a retail sales tax on all goods and most services to be collected quarterly on the gross sales of licensed retailers.

Paul said such a sales tax would present the least administrative difficulties. The levy he suggested would be assessed against the retailer who would pass it on to the consumer. It would apply not only to all retail sales of personal property, but to such services as repair, fabrication and installation. Likewise, services rendered by barber shops, laundries, dry cleaners, beauty parors, etc., would be taxed. Exemptions would include home rent, building repairs, real estate sales and public utilities.

Gives Example

Paul declined at this time to discuss rates. But he said if a 10 per cent tax, for example, were assessed on the sales he outlined it would be on a basis of $40,000,000, yielding something over $4,000,000,000. If food sales were taxed, he said, it would yield only about $2,000,000,000.

Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., O., said that Paul on the differential in food sales were exempted. He contended that on the basis of goods and services, such a levy would yield $2,000,000,000.

Large Opium Ring Reported Smashed

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 4 (AP)—State Narcotics Agent A. D. Beckner said one of the largest opium smuggling rings ever to operate here had been broken up today.

State, county and local officers took in custody six men and four women, and seized $100,000 worth of opium.

Beckner said the investigation began a month ago when customs agents found opium in a shipment of dried fish from New Orleans to Alphonse McKay Lima, 24, alleged leader of the ring.

EXCLUDED FROM CEILING

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—Sales by private contractors and other individuals of military surplus were excluded from the universal price ceiling yesterday by the War Relocation Administration in order to speed their movement to soldiers and sailors.

The War Relocation Administration board last month ordered private contractors and other individuals to dispose of their stocks of obsolete plants before Oct. 1, 1942.

WANT ACCEPT SUGAR RATION GRACEFULLY
Editor, Times-News:
I want to pay tribute to the many hundreds of women who are doing their share in the sugar rationing. A very great number of them have accepted the situation gracefully and patiently, and many, many times they have said to me, "I'd be glad to do without sugar altogether if it would only stop the war." Some have denied themselves anything luxuriantly because they thought the condition much worse than it is. Others have thought they must limit their eating, not understanding that it is only the proportion of sugar that is controlled.

A few days ago a lady signed original ration cards for herself, her husband and her son. Asked why he had not registered before, she said, "Well, we had 10 pounds of sugar on hand last May. We do use sugar in our tea or coffee and we figured we could get along for a while without any more. But now we're all out of sugar and we'd like to have a little to do some cooking. I've already canned 100 quarts, but I put that up without any sugar." I asked her why she didn't get the fruit and I didn't want it to spoil. And we thought conditions might be better after a while.

True, there have been a few who, because they have always had plenty of sugar, have been a little bit grumpy. They are entitled to special consideration; but they soon learn that the rationing is for the good of the country.

MEAT INDUSTRY CONTROL NEARS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—In a move designed to prevent the evasion of existing and forthcoming price regulations, the War Relocation Administration shortly will place the entire meat industry, except for retailers, under unified licensing control.

Announcement of the licensing program was made following the beginning of court action against approximately 115 meat packers and wholesalers to compel compliance with price regulations.

Alleging "up-grading" or "padding" and simply overcharging, OPA began filing injunction suits in 18 cities.

Effective Sept. 8, OPA will automatically license all packers, wholesalers and custom slaughterers, and make the license a required condition for selling any meat product subject to price regulation. Dressed hogs, beef, veal and lamb carcasses, and almost all wholesale and retail cuts except mustard, now are subject to such regulation.

The order provides for suspension of licenses in the event of violation of regulations.

Retailers were excluded from the earlier regulations because they are licensed under the general maximum price regulation.

OPA said it had received complaints from all parts of the country that price regulations were being ignored by packers and wholesalers and that inferior cuts were being sold at prices exceeding established ceilings.

YOUTHS HELD AS HORSE-THIEVES

BLACKFOOT, Sept. 4 (AP)—They don't hang horse thieves any more in the old west—at least the young and homeless ones. In deference to the machine age, they just send them to industrial training schools.

Arthur Saxton, 18, Rigby, and Walter Van Duren, 18, North Platte, Neb., today faced an immediate future in the Idaho industrial training school at St. Anthony, following their sentence yesterday afternoon by Judge Guy Stevens in sixth district court.

The youths pleaded guilty to stealing two horses Aug. 24 at Bernice, in Butte county. A third youth, Ed Ward, who said he was AWOL from the U. S. army air forces at Sheppard field, Tex., was being held today in the Arco jail pending investigation by government authorities.

Sheriff S. A. McLerran of Butte county said the youths stole the horses and rode back over Birch creek pass into the community of Birch Creek. No horseman, Worson, showed up with one of the other youths.

Recognized on their trip by sheepherders, the youths abandoned the horses at Birch Creek and Worson hitchhiked a ride into Lemhi county, where he was apprehended Aug. 26.

The other two stocked up on provisions, Sheriff McLerran said, and set out on foot over the hills to Clark county. They camped out on one of the higher peaks, but a suspicious ranger brought them to Dubois Aug. 28 and turned them over to the Clark county sheriff. They had walked an estimated 45 miles and the sun down heels of their shoes showed it.

CARE FOR JAPANESE CALLED GOOD PROTECTION

Editor, Times-News:
I wonder if people who comment on the generosity of the Japanese to the interned Japanese at Eden ever stop to think that this is only good common sense on the part of the government and a protection to the citizens that live here?

If these unaccustomed Japanese were undetected and disease would break out. Germans are no respecters of persons nor of the color of people's skins. What disease these Japanese families would have if they were not protected by the government is a question that no one who has had some experience in filing here a chance for those who can give such help to show their patriotism.

NELSON'S PLAN SATISFIES LABOR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—Labor, which has asked for membership on the war production board itself, last night voiced "perfect satisfaction" with Chairman Donald Nelson's assurance he would consider labor nominations for two vice chairmanships in WPB.

This decision and other measures to give labor men a greater voice in the management of war production were announced by Nelson at a press conference after a meeting with President William Green of the AFL and Philip Murray of the CIO, and six other labor officials.

Nelson made it clear he had not finally decided whether any of the names to be submitted by labor actually would give WPB vice chairmanships—a title new held only by William L. Batt and James S. Knowlton—but gave the impression the names of "some of the best men" would get favorable consideration for administrative jobs.

Most Step Union Job

He specified, however, that any man so chosen would have to drop his union job and go on the government payroll.

Nelson said the meeting was very satisfactory. Murray called it "an entirely satisfactory conference," an outline of which would grow a closer working alliance with the government and industry than labor ever has had before. Green, stating that perfect understanding was reached, added: "All points of difference if there were any, have been adjusted."

Two other major decisions were reached. The first was to place a current campaign for increased war production, which now has enrolled 1,500 plants over the country, under control of a five-man committee composed of an impartial chairman, two management spokesmen and two labor men, one each from the AFL and CIO.

Other Concession

The other principal concession won by labor was Nelson's decision to give the labor representatives a corner seat in each of WPB's 40 industry branches, wherein are developed programs for curtailment, expansion, and conservation of production in every line of manufacture.

Joe Day, chairman of a committee on the repairs of the Hansen bridge, told of discussing the problem with Gov. Clark and state highway commissioner.

During the lecturer's hour, Mrs. M. C. Stone conducted a Grange dance and Mrs. Curtis played charge of two games. Lunch was served by Mr. and Mrs. Hawley and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Felling. Plans were made to hold a booster meeting, Sept. 30.

BACK-WAGE SUIT DISMISSAL ASKED

MOOSEWICK, Ida., Sept. 4 (AP)—Bert H. Miller, Idaho attorney general, has asked dismissal of a back-wages suit filed by Mrs. Doreen D. Alene, former University of Idaho nurse, as a test of Idaho's nepotism law.

Mrs. Doreen entered the complaint in district court July 8, seeking to collect $135 allegedly due for work at the university hospital.

She charged payment was refused on grounds she was related to J. P. Jenny of Cottonwood, a member of the board of regents. Mrs. Doreen contended she was not serving on the board at the time she was employed in 1940.
