American Flying Forces Drive off Big Enemy Fleet

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—Army flying fortresses drove a Japanese force of battleships and cruisers away from the American-held sector of the Solomon Islands last Monday with a bombing attack which possibly damaged two of the battleships.

The action was announced by the navy today in a communique which clearly left open the possibility the powerful Jap fleet might return at any time for a renewal of the enemy's desperate efforts to wrest the strategic Guadalcanal-Tulagi area of the Solomons from American hands. The communique also reported that Jap bombers had made fresh attacks on Jap installations on Gizo island and at Rekata bay—bases which the enemy presumably uses for offensive operations against Guadalcanal.

While land activity in the Solomons tended to minor skirmishes and sniping with reinforcements in firm control of their positions, the big army bombers drove off a Japanese battle fleet prowling northward of Tulagi and roared in to attack.

"Reports that the enemy force was retreating to the north," there was no evidence to show that the intentions of the admirals in having such an armada in this area. Since their ships apparently lacked aircraft protection, they may have been maneuvering to join with a force of aircraft carriers and possibly transport ships early onslaught against the American Solomons or they may have been making a reconnaissance force.

Japs Withdraw
It was from the north that the Japanese made their last large-scale naval move against the American-held area of the Solomons on Aug. 25. Both army and navy air and sea forces met and thrust and the Japs precipitately withdrew.

As for land fighting on Guadalcanal, where the primary enemy objective is recapture of the airfield, the navy said it had lured since Sunday night, being confined to the beach area. There were no "occasional skirmishes between small enemy units and U. S. marines."

"Supplies and reinforcements have reached our forces," the communique said.

FAIRFAX OF WAR DIES AFTER CRASH

GOODING, Sept. 19.—Kenneth R. Robinson, 40, farmer living near Gooding and the father of four children, died today after he received when his light pickup truck struck the rear of a state highway patrol motor car at about 5 p. m. Friday, at the Nelson corner on the Gooding road, seven miles south of Gooding.

This is Gooding county's first fatal traffic accident in 1942. The crash, said it was apparent that Robinson was going from Gooding to his home with a load of chopped wood. The pickup truck, which was a 1935 model, was struck by the patrol car, which was a 1937 model.

The loaded truck rammed the rear of the patrol car, which was traveling in the same direction. Robinson was killed instantly. The patrol car driver, Deputy Sheriff Sherman Stump, who investigated the crash, said it was apparent that Robinson was blinded by sunlight on his windshield and did not see the patrol car.

Nazis Execute Seven Germans for Treason

LONDON, Sept. 19 (AP)—The executions of seven more Germans who resisted Nazi tyranny and of the man who signalled the start of the recent general strike in Luxembourg were reported from the continent today, while in Norway Major Vidkun Quisling, the arch traitor.

The Norwegian government in London said Quisling had abandoned his plan for a corporate parliament, "which would have been a step toward the Germanization of Norway." The Norwegian government said Quisling had abandoned his plan for a corporate parliament, "which would have been a step toward the Germanization of Norway."

The immediate cause of Quisling's move, the government said, was mass resignation from industrial trade unions and professional organizations after Quisling had decreed on Sept. 10 that membership in those bodies should become compulsory.

A government source said reliable reports showed that Reich Commissioner Terboven was aspiring "to overthrow Quisling and assume the rank of a traitor." He added that widespread dissatisfaction has been caused among Quisling's followers by conscription decrees which, it has been estimated, would affect at least half the men among the Norwegian youth.

The execution of the seven Germans and of the Luxembourg patriot, Heinrich Adam, brought to 103 the number of deaths reported in the past two days, including 118 in France.

CONSCRIPTION OF MANPOWER SEEN

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 19 (AP)—American Legionnaires were warned today by high ranking war leaders that they must utilize all manpower to win over the axis and that military methods for a system of compulsory service may come.

From silver-haired Paul McIntyre, director of the war manpower commission, came a broad hint at an expanded section of the Legion's national convention that some sort of industrial conscription might come.

"America," he said speaking in a quiet voice, "is faced today with the urgent need to produce. Every worker, every man hour of every worker's energy, must be applied at that point which will help the war effort most."

"We are now seeking to obtain such ends as these by voluntary means. We are in this war to win and if that means discipline, we the people, are ready."

Job Assignment
Only a few minutes earlier navy Secretary Knox told the veterans there must be strong unity on the home front, with and without the aid of War Robert P. Patterson said "the time will come when we shall have broad national service legislation under which men and women may be assigned to industrial jobs."

CONGRESS STUDY OF SAVING PLAN PREDICTED SOON

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—A program which would force Americans to buy some $100,000,000 worth of bonds annually to aid in financing the war and controlling inflation may be laid before congress after it disposes of the tax bill, it was learned today.

Expected to involve either stiff increases in present and proposed taxes or the imposition of new ones, the program is to be worked out by a joint congressional committee established by the revenue bill and directed to report by Dec. 1.

Working with this committee will be Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, who recently urged that congress supplement treasury voluntary bond investments by levying against the amount of money individuals spent to insure a form of compulsory savings.

Big Savings Needed
Chairman George D. C. of the senate finance committee, expressed the belief that to be of any benefit in reducing the war deficit, a compulsory savings program would have to produce between $100,000,000 and $150,000,000 yearly. He added that while taxation appeared the only feasible method of enforcing bond investments there was some doubt that taxpayers could stand the high taxes they will pay under the new revenue measure.

The treasury ought to have submitted a compulsory savings plan a year ago, when we could have approached this problem by making gradual increases in taxes," he told reporters. "Now if we are to get anything like the amount that will be needed, we must have to make drastic and sharp increase in taxes."

George said it would require an average increase of about 20 per cent in the income tax to produce $100,000,000 monthly.

Senator Daniel R. Conn, a finance committee member, has suggested that enforced savings be accomplished through a new tax on retail sales, with the purchaser obtaining stamps which he could use to buy bonds.

The need for some form of compulsory savings has been stressed by Senator Charles McNary, Oregon, R., who said that the government would be forced to borrow money from banks to meet its anticipated expenditures of $75,000,000,000 in the fiscal year ending June 30. They viewed this prospective bank borrowing as holding grave dangers of inflation.

The Soviet triumph in fierce fighting on the blood-stained pavements of the city of Stalin was reported as the Germans pressed anew to the assault after regrouping their forces.

Thus the battle for Stalingrad went into its fifth day with the Russian flag still flying over the city. Adolf Hitler has ordered taken at any cost.

But to engulf the city with their first rushes from the outskirts, the Germans formed again yesterday for greater assaults and maintained continuous attacks on the streets.

Tanks in Streets
German tanks were participating in the street fighting. The Soviet high command disclosed, in a communique, that the streets of the battle in one part of the city in an attempt to assist a surrounded Soviet unit. The tanks were burned out by anti-tank guns, grenades and incendiary bottles, it was said.

The German drive in the Moshok area of the Caucasus toward the city of Moscow was reported as being increasing in intensity. The communique mentioned "a number of enemy counterattacks" but said they had been repelled. In this fighting, the Russians said, German field artillery, the first tank army, was killed.

To the east of Moshok, the communique said, one of our sappers wiped out two companies of enemy infantry. The sappers also destroyed a number of tank destroyers, put out action five German tanks.

Earlier reports said two German divisions had arrived in the city of Moscow. The reports said that the first charge they were said to have advanced a mile into the city and on another charge gained another eight miles. They were reported, however, to have lost 20 to 25 tanks.

CLARK ACCUSED OF RAISING TAX

BOISE, Sept. 19.—A State Republican chairman, Kelly Aklund, today charged that Gov. Chase A. Clark's Democratic administration increased taxes by $1,000,000 during the past 18 months as compared with the corresponding period of the administration of Gov. C. A. Holt.

"The Clark administration not only has followed a short-sighted policy by failing to cut down state taxes in the face of insupportably increased federal taxes but seriously impaired the ability of our people to meet the demands of the federal government essential to the war effort," the statement read.

"This means simply that Idaho taxpayers have been forced to pay property and excise taxes of over $4,000,000 more than during the Holt administration and the end is not yet. When we realize that federal taxes accrued during this year will be several times more than last year, the burden upon our people becomes terrific," Aklund said.

He said he based his observations on a recent report by State Auditor Charles E. Peterson.

"Heralding of the so-called tax reductions from the dome of the state capitol," the statement read. "The governor's cut in ad valorem taxes amounts to a reduction of about $1,414,000. The fact remains, however, that Chase Clark collected $4,000,000 more in taxes than he did during a similar period. In other words, he boasts of a reduction of one million dollars when in should have been four million."

Farm Dollar Seeks Parity

They're talking about parity again. President Roosevelt wants parity for the farmer. The end is not yet. When we realize that federal taxes accrued during this year will be several times more than last year, the burden upon our people becomes terrific," Aklund said.

IDAHO BATTLES FREIGHT RAISE

BOISE, Sept. 19.—Intermountain area corporations would lose money if intrastate railroad rates on sugar beets and lumber were raised to levels equal to those charged for interstate transportation, witnesses had testified today at an interstate commerce commission hearing.

R. H. Cotterell, vice-president and general superintendent of the Associated Sugar companies, testified that because of the company's contracts already entered into with farmers, and because of federal price ceilings and rationing restrictions governing the firm's product, any increase in rates would be an unwarranted additional burden.

A six per cent intrastate rate increase on lumber was asked recently by the Union Pacific railroad of the interstate carriers for competition, but only a three per cent increase was granted, and a request for a four per cent increase on sugar rates was denied Friday. The railroad's petition to the I.C.C. to oust its title to Twin Falls residence.

IOWA NAVAL CADETS CRUSH KANSAS UNIVERSITY, 61 TO 0

Bierman Club Slaughters College Team

LAWRENCE, Kan., Sept. 19 (AP)—The Iowa City, Ia., naval cadets, launching crushing offensives by hand and by air, handled a completely outclassed Kansas football team with a terrific, 61 to 0, defeat today.

It was the worst setback in the 62-year history of Kansas. Coach Bernie Bierman alternated his full squad of 36 men, and each combination of the former college and professional stars attempted to outdo the next. Although the frequent scoring plays highlighted the contest, it was the vicious blocking and the stone wall defense of the cadets that spelled the big difference.

The Kansas were so hounded by the Iowa City defense, that it was late in the third period before they even registered a first down. Coach George B. Sweeney, former Minnesota and Oregon Jay Packer center, started the cadet ball rolling with a goal after the first quarter scoring effort was stymied by a determined goal-line stand on the part of the Jayhawkers. On the kick-off that followed the Cadets started on their own 20, and with Bill Schaefer and Bud Meritt alternating, marched to their first score without relinquishing the ball.

That tally was the first of three to come in the second period, and after a one-touchdown full in the third quarter, the Cadets unleashed an attack that brought 32 points in the last game against a very tired but still game Kansas team.

Rupert Rally Wins Over Invaders, 19-6

AMERICAN FALLS, Sept. 19 (AP)—After Roper, American Falls high school left halfback, had intercepted a pass and romped 75 yards for a touchdown just before the close of the first half, Rupert Pirates turned on the power in a gridiron battle here yesterday afternoon and emerged a 19 to 6 victor.

Rupert team was able to score until Roper made his long gallop. However, soon after the opening of the third quarter, the Cadets unleashed an attack that brought 32 points in the last game against a very tired but still game Kansas team.

Another long march in the third quarter gave the Pirates their third touchdown. Quarterback Wally Shipley going over from the one-yard line on a sneak.

Sinkwich Pilots Georgia to Win

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 19 (AP)—Georgia had Frankie Sinkwich, and that's about all that counts, what it took to beat the University of Kentucky, 7-6, today before a crowd of 10,000.

The Kentuckians, touted to lose by at least three touchdowns, knocked the Orange bowl after off the Georgia opponents for 50 minutes of a wild and woolly game, taking a 6-0 lead in the third quarter while holding it until Frankie pitched and pitched his way to the goal-line in the closing moments. Leo Costa, the place-kicking expert, booted the extra (and winning) point.

Bruins Outplayed by Oakley but Win 20-6

Coach Hank Powers looked as kum as ever yesterday—still very doubtful about the future of his 1942 Twin Falls high school Bruins.

The Bruins chalked up a 20-6 victory over the invading Oakley Hornets from the Big Seven conference, but the win was far from convincing because Coach Monk Halliday's club just about walked away with everything but the field during the last half.

The visitors got more first downs, 14 to 10; completed more passes, 12 to 7; had less penalties, 5 yards to 35; and made 143 yards from passes, to 97 for the local club. Twin Falls led in scrimmage yardage gained, 147 to 90.

However, they didn't show much the first half and that was when the Bruins gained their margin of superiority.

What the Twin Falls club did show was a world of speed, some nice punting, some very fine ball handling and regular flea-flicker stuff in ball handling on occasions. On the other hand, the usually strong Powers line has a long way to go before developing into something that will hold for the speed kickfield.

The first Twin Falls score came in the opening quarter when Herb Higgins, who had been doing most of the blocking, took the ball on a double-reverse behind the line and sent over from 12 yards out. Peerson passed to Stan Pettigrove at end for the extra point.

The Bruins got another counter in the second period when Herb Gentry tossed one of those long "do-diddles" success some 25 yards for a counter to Pettigrove. Gentry then led the line for the extra point and Twin Falls ended the half with a 14-0 lead.

The local boys added to this in the third when Higgins, carrying the ball for the second time during the evening, gained 35 yards on the old statue of liberty play. A few plays later Quarterback Malone plunged over from three yards out for a touchdown. Peerson's attempted kick was wide.

Up to this point it was all Twin Falls. From there on it was all Oakley. Led by the charging Bob Matthews, the Oakley backs kept through the Bruin line with will and then tossed passes over the short Bruin back heads.

Midway in the fourth quarter the Hornets pulled a series of passes that finally resulted in a touchdown when McMurray took one of Matthews' losses in the end zone. The tip for extra point was good.

After Twin Falls had received the kick and failed to gain any around, the Hornets again took the ball and passed down toward the goal line again. They had the pucks on the three-yard line with four downs to go, but the local line held on the Oakley line plungers and the game ended with one down to go and the ball on the one-foot line.

Win or lose, I'm going to get a big kick out of seeing the Twin Falls Bruins play this year.

Watching Friday night's encounter, I got the idea that Coach Hank Powers' club wouldn't be so hard to beat for some of the more sturdy Big Six conference competition. However, the boys showed some very nice ball handling that might make them one of the most dangerous clubs in the state.

The habitually strong Mr. Powers hasn't got his usual line this season—the reason being, of course, that the seven men in the front position will probably total about 150 pounds lighter than that which represented the Twin Falls club during the past four or five seasons, or about 20 pounds to the man.

Hank has been used to 200-pound linemen, 175-pound centers and line backs, and they have been here for a long time. They have been here for a long time. They have been here for a long time.

Neither team was able to score until Roper made his long gallop. However, soon after the opening of the third quarter, the Cadets unleashed an attack that brought 32 points in the last game against a very tired but still game Kansas team.

Alsab Whips 'Whirly' in Match Race

By SID FEDER
PAWTUCKET, R. I., Sept. 19 (AP)—Alvin whipped Whirlaway by the width of a whisker today in a $25,000 horse race thriller that you had to see to believe.

Not even a movie script written especially for the occasion could have done justice to the way the three-year-old colt from Chicago and the Kentucky cannonball fought it out in one of the most smashing drives ever on any race track to end their long awaited "dream race."

All the way down Narragansett's straight road home, the Sibs just managed to keep a small bit of his nose in front.

And a crowd of 35,000-collared-out horsemen and just plain bettors who jammed this New England racing plaza, jumped to its feet and roared hysterically with the fierceness of the struggle as the two shiny steeds turned it on down the stretch.

The defeat foiled Whirlaway's hopes of becoming the turf's first half-million dollar money winner with this race, for the two-horse affair was on a wintered night at the track, with this cash: Alsab boosted his earnings to $228,476 for two years of racing, and the kid for the galloper who was picked up by a Chicago lawyer for $700 at the Saratoga racing sales table two years ago. Whirlaway's earnings stand at $491,126.

Buhl and Filer Battle to 6-6 Deadlock

DUHL, Sept. 19.—With both outfits unceremonious in pay-dirt, Buhl and Filer battled to a 6 to 6 deadlock here Friday in the Big Seven football game.

Except for the Indian touchdown in the second quarter and Filer's score in the third the teams fought it out largely in no-man's land. Buhl scored when alert Herb Fender, left guard, broke through to block a wildcat punt in the shadow of Filer's goal posts. Kenneth Murrell, right guard for the Indians, covered the ball for the touchdown.

Late in the third period the Wildcats swung their offensive into high gear to pour down deep into Bruin territory. The Indians held tight for three downs, smashing back every try through the line. Filer switched to an end creep, however, and skirted wide to score.

Buhl rolled up a majority of the first downs but Filer's scrappy eleven seemed greatly improved over its initial start against Rupert last week. The Indians made most of their gains on slivers through the line but couldn't find around the line. Filer was just the reverse, collecting most of its substantial yardage by sweeping the flanks.

Murtaugh Battles Way to 38-19 Win

EDIN, Sept. 19.—Murtaugh's high-scoring six-man football team thought for a while it had met a tougher foe Friday afternoon but finally got rolling to score a 38 to 19 victory over a green Eden club.

The teams fought an even term in the first quarter, both scoring two touchdowns in that stanza. Thereafter, however, the invaders went to town on the feet heels of Junior Walker who scored five of Murtaugh's six touchdowns. The visitors clicked twice in the second period, one in the third and scored another touchdown in the fourth.

Eden after its two scores in the opening quarter, rang up another in the third.

Brown, Murtaugh halfback, was right behind Walker as star for the south edens. Eden's inexperienced team, all new men as result of a clean sweep at graduation last May, showed promise of power later in the season.

Eden journeys to Hazelton Friday.

SERIAL STORY

OF BRIGHTNESS GONE

BY HOLLY WATTERSON

THIS STORY: When Candace and Bruce were with her cousin Peter, Peter's medical school classmate, Peter, who was a doctor, was to leave early for a summer job, taking with him the money after he had been paid for his services as a doctor at the house of Peter's father and Candace's aunt. Bruce and Candace had asked of their love and plan for their future, but Peter had asked medical school.

COPYRIGHT, 1942, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Bruce said, "I'll manage this, Belle."

She whirled on him. "May I point out to you," she remarked, her tone dripping scorn, "that under the circumstances you can scarcely claim to be able to manage anything? I'll manage this—and I prefer," she added sharply, "to do it alone."

Candace turned her back on as not to see Bruce's ignominious retreat from the room. What the trouble between them was she couldn't guess, but she was hot with shame for him at Belle's treatment and her indignation lashed her into a fury that made her forget some of her own fear. Belle had lit a cigarette and was inhaling deeply and then expelling the smoke in angry gusts. "It's a simple reversal to type," I suppose," she said. "Fascists don't mind doing things like that. And your father was a peasant. With a gift of music, but a peasant for all of that. 'Did it ever occur to you,' she demanded, 'in your zeal to do things that are expected of you, that something might be expected of you for all I've done?'"

Candace said miserably, "Of course, Aunt Belle. I owe you a lot, I know."

"But what? But you're just like your mother in that, that's the answer, not an ounce of gratitude in your whole make-up. I should have known. I wanted my whole youth doing without things so that she could have them. But when she had a chance to marry well so that she could make all that up to me, did she do it? No! No! Instead she fell in love, romantically, in love with any cheap little servant girl, with her violin teacher and ran off and married him."

Remembered bitterness threatened for an instant to choke her; she brought herself up sharply. "You might at least have consulted me about your plans. Why didn't you?"

Candace said heavily "It never occurred to me that you'd be at all interested, or care what I did."

"I don't care, really," Belle said.

"You've grown older," she said. Candace laughed. "It's a habit we all have," she agreed.

Belle stood straighter, as though he had snapped to attention, and his face took on the faint expression that she had seen in her father's face when he was invariably wrong during one of Belle's not infrequent rages—and she knew that Belle had entered the room behind her. She thought indignantly, she treats him as though he were her servant too. She turned slowly, her chin unconsciously lifting, and allowed Belle to advance without making any move toward her.

She thought indignantly, she treats him as though he were her servant too. She turned slowly, her chin unconsciously lifting, and allowed Belle to advance without making any move toward her.

"You've grown older," she said. Candace laughed. "It's a habit we all have," she agreed.

Belle stood straighter, as though he had snapped to attention, and his face took on the faint expression that she had seen in her father's face when he was invariably wrong during one of Belle's not infrequent rages—and she knew that Belle had entered the room behind her. RUSSELL LANE
Edell Hale, Jr., teacher of the seventh and eighth grades at Russell Lane, gave his room a party the first of the week.

BOARD MUST 'DIG' FOR LARGE QUOTA

The Twin Falls County select service board No. 1 "will have to do a little more work than it has in the past," said Capt. J. H. Heaver, board clerk of 172 men, Capt. J. H. Heaver, the board clerk, said yesterday that the board would have to leave for induction Oct. 16.

Capt. Heaver said about half that number of men would be available on October 16. He also indicated that the board would have to dip into its reserve list of 100 men to make up the deficit.

The draft board clerk stated that many of the board's registrants had been deferred until after the harvest season, and that the board would be available until the November call.

"The October quota tends to all a little bit," he said, "but it is not too heavy on record. Lieut. Col. Norman B. Addison, executive officer of the board, said that the board's quota was not too heavy on record. He said that the board's quota was not too heavy on record. He said that the board's quota was not too heavy on record."

"Lieut. Col. Addison has been requested to make a report on the board's quota as possible," Lieut. Col. Addison said, "but when necessary, I would not depend on it to find the required quota."

The board's national headquarters of selective service require that the board make a report on the board's quota as possible, but when necessary, I would not depend on it to find the required quota.
