

Allied Warplanes Batter Four Key Jap Strongholds

American and allied warplanes were officially credited today with battering four key Japanese bases in the New Guinea war zone and damaging an enemy cruiser northwest of Guadalcanal in the lower Solomon islands.

A heavy bomber force from Washington state navy and marine dive bombers hit the cruiser in an attack Sunday.

Imperial Tokyo headquarters asserted that a Japanese submarine had seriously damaged a U. S. cruiser of the 9500-ton Northampton type off the Aleutian Islands, Aug. 31, but there was no confirmation of this claim elsewhere.

Tokyo further claimed that Japanese destroyers sank two U. S. submarines in the same waters during mid-September.

A communiqué from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said allied forces, carrying out one of the most extensive sweeps since the start of the New Guinea campaign, poured more than 500 rounds of cannon and machine-gun fire into Japanese supply bases, troop concentrations, airbases and shipping.

The raiders struck at Buna and Kokoda, in New Guinea; Buna on the northern tip of the Solomon, and Rabaul, New Britain.

In the Owen Stanley mountains, where Japanese have been stalled within 32 air miles of Port Moresby, the situation remained unchanged.

Roaring up and down the track between Buna and Kokoda over which the Japanese supply their forces in the mountains, the fighters set fire to fuel and ammunition dumps at warhounds and used by the Japanese, the communiqué said. The Walpole bridge over the Kokoda river, bombed the day before, was again hit hard.

The raiders struck at the trail of the natives, most of them Gurkhas, three motor launches and a barge were destroyed. The Japanese position was riddled with bullets and allied Japanese ground troops suffered casualties, it was reported. Medium bombers followed up the assault last night with an attack on airfield installations.

Hanging out over the Coral Sea, bombers attacked the Japanese cruiser at Buaya in the northern end of the Solomon Islands, starting large fires and exploding bombs. British troops were reported storming toward the outskirts of Buna on the northern tip of the island after breaking through "stunning resistance" by artillery-aided forces from Port Moresby 15 miles outside the capital.

A British army communiqué said Japanese overcame a small force, apparently drawn up for a major stand, and captured a village on the northern coast of New Guinea.

Other British columns advancing on Transvaal from the east coast of the island, the communiqué said, lie off southeast Africa, were reported making good progress.

SCRAP CHAIRMAN EXPLAINS SET-UP

Hopeful that all details of the scrap campaign will be thoroughly understood by everyone before actual collection of old cast iron and steel gets under way Friday, General Chairman A. W. Morgan today explained the reasons for the set-up.

"In speaking for unified support for the campaign, we must understand that the need for these scrap metals is seriously urgent in war production," he said.

"The people of the county have our assurance that there are no reasons for the set-up other than the need for scrap metal."

"First," he said, "everyone should realize there is an actual need for every single pound of scrap metal. Some of the people living in town may think the scrap metal is a nuisance, but they have no real knowledge."

These sources, whose names were withheld, said dynamite had disrupted lines vital for the collection of war material and foodstuffs from central and southwestern Idaho.

In addition to the Slovaks, he said, 185,000 had been deported with Germany and at least 70,000 to Italy.

Here She Is-Ready to Battle the Axis!

"My deduction is that the Twin Falls county bomber is now winging its way towards the British Isles to participate in the great American offensive that is rapidly gaining momentum," said Mr. Logsdon.

"Anyone of the guns on this new bomber will be capable of stopping almost any type of attack plane, one of the reasons why the flying fortress is such a tough ship for enemy fliers."

"Since your ship is going into actual combat almost immediately, it may be difficult to give you the full details of her first flight," he explained, "but I have been promised that if this maiden flight does not involve the giving of confidential military information, it will be transmitted to us."

"I only hope that some day in the future we will receive word of the Spirit of Twin Falls County's has dropped her four-ton load directly on the castle at Berchtesgaden."

Here she is, folks. So wish her well!

CONVOY REACHES NORTH RED PORT

LONDON, Sept. 23 (AP)—An important United Nations convoy carrying large quantities of war material for the red army has arrived at North Russian port, the admiralty announced today.

The convoy included American, British and Russian ships. The majority of the ships reached their destinations, a communiqué said. It acknowledged some ships were lost.

The communiqué said: "Another important convoy carrying large quantities of war material has arrived in North Russian port."

"Losses were suffered among the ships in the convoy, but despite heavy attacks by enemy aircraft, the majority of the ships arrived at their destinations."

"The motor vehicle bureau says the same mail has just taken an earlier learner's permit—his 25th in 25 years."

"It is not intended to assist the enemy by informing him of the extent of his lack of success against the convoys, but it is possible that his claims on this occasion have been more exaggerated than usual."

"No ship of the escort of this convoy was lost."

The German high command asserted Sunday that Nazi submarines and planes had smashed a great part of the convoys in the Arctic waters, sinking 38 merchant ships totaling 200,000 tons and destroying or damaging six warships in a running battle lasting six days.

"That's all right with me," Miller, concurred, "I feel sure everything will work out fine. I'm willing to try it for a while."

They will occupy separate quarters at the Hollywood apartment in which they have resided since they left Las Vegas, near May 1.

Mrs. Miller said she was becoming accustomed to the new life in which she awoke Friday, in a city stricken to her and wearing clothing she did not recognize.

"She's welcome to a divorce if she wants one," declared Miller, 43, but she has no immediate thought of it.

Mrs. Miller's plight was disclosed Sunday night when she appeared at Hollywood police station following her disappearance Friday. She told police she found herself driving on a North Hollywood street in a strange automobile. Miller meantime had reported her absence, and when she was reunited, but when informed Miller was her husband and she screamed and became hysterical.

Man-to-Man Battles Rage Along Volga

By ROGER D. GREENE

Russian troops slipping westward across the Volga river at night were reported to have driven the Germans from houses, buildings and streets amid savage hand-to-hand fighting in one section of Stalingrad as the siege entered its 30th day with the invaders still held at arm's length.

At mid-day, Soviet headquarters acknowledged the German infantry, led by 100 tanks, captured several streets, but its communications declared:

"In other sectors, all enemy attacks were repulsed."

More than 1,600 tanks were listed as killed and 10 tanks knocked out of action in the last 24 hours.

Nazi field headquarters said German troops had captured further ground in the "center of Stalingrad" despite the "defenders' obstinate resistance" and declared that Soviet counter-attacks had collapsed.

The German command also noted severe defensive fighting in the West and said that the Russians have launched repeated counter-attacks against the Nazi left flank.

While the danger prevailed inside Stalingrad, Soviet dispatches said the Germans were now actually being driven north of the city from the west and southwest.

Woman Prisoner, 31, Sets Cell Bed Afire, Dies of Asphyxiation

By MERVIN SHOEMAKER

Setting fire to her mattress in the Twin Falls county jail, Mrs. Gladys Chase, 31, died of asphyxiation early today.

She was being held for intoxication. Mrs. Chase had been worried by illness and by the absence of a son in the navy.

The body was found at 6:30 a. m. by Sheriff W. W. Lowery when he went to inspect the prisoner, who had claimed considerable of the officers' attention during the night.

He called the fire department and the rescuer was applied, but to no avail.

A. Newberry, county coroner, said death was caused by asphyxiation. Ashes of the burned mattress lay on the floor a short distance from the woman. There were no burns on the body.

The fire motor vehicle bureau says the same mail has just taken an earlier learner's permit—his 25th in 25 years.

ARMY DENIES U.S. PLANES INFERIOR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Oliver P. Echols of the army air forces appeared before a secret session of the senate committee investigating the war today to protest against statements that American fighter planes are inferior to Japanese "zeros."

Charges that combat aircraft being used by Americans on all fronts were vastly inferior to "zero" fighters, British "spitties" and some German pursuit planes were made in the senate last week by committee Chairman Harry S. Truman, D., Mo.

Truman, censuring governmental "brass hats" for the superiority of Axis planes, asserted that it was not the ability of many American pilots to "outshoot the enemy" which prevented overwhelming defeat in air engagements. He said that "nearly a week goes by without some prominent flyer returning to this country and making us aware of his own superiority."

He concluded that the army air forces "should give less attention to the continuing publicity blarney than to the training of our men in air engagements. He said that "nearly a week goes by without some prominent flyer returning to this country and making us aware of his own superiority."

Truman's criticism prompted replies from American air force leaders both in this country and those stationed in Britain. The military planes are inferior to those of other countries, and our war department spokesmen declared that "when our planes are proven inferior, we change their design."

STERNHARDT RETURNING
ANKARA, Turkey, Sept. 23 (AP)—The Turkish government today announced that it expected to receive this week-end from the United States.

The southern Idaho sugar beet harvest will start Monday, Sept. 24, it was announced today by Harry A. Elcock, general manager for the Amalgamated Sugar company here.

Factories at Twin Falls, Burley and Rupert will open as soon as a sufficient supply of beets is on hand. Elcock said receiving of the beets will start Monday at the following stations: Arden, Burley, Cedar, Elmer, Hazelton, Eden, Sugar Land and Gooding.

Beet flow also will start Monday at all the stations in the Burley-Rupert area.

Harvest of the beets will be postponed one week, until Oct. 5, at other stations, Elcock said. These stations are: Murtagh, Bull, Curry, Piler, Peay, Cedar, Barry, more, Jerome, Wendell, Shoshone and Richfield.

The sugar company official estimated that beets will be harvested from approximately 22,000 acres in southern Idaho, and that about 2,500 men would be required to take the beets out of the ground. An additional 750 will be required for work in the three factories, and

ANTI-INFLATION LAWS CAN'T FARE PRICE INCREASE

EXPERTS SEE NO IMMEDIATE STOP

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (U.P.)—Inflation legislation now being debated in congress would not give President Roosevelt authority to bring in an immediate halt in advance in farm prices that started with the outbreak of war in Europe in 1939.

Several important agricultural commodities could advance beyond present or recent peak levels before the chief executive could impose price ceilings, included wheat, corn, cotton, rice, barley, flaxseed, dry beans, lentils, apples, dairy, oranges and lemons.

Ceiling Plans
The legislation would authorize ceilings on farm products at either (1) the highest prices reached between Jan. 1, 1939, and Sept. 1, 1942, adjusted for seasonal variations; or (2) parity prices, whichever is higher. In no event could ceilings be established at less than parity prices. Parity prices described by economists as fair to both producer and consumer are prices that are designed to give farm products as much purchasing power as they had in farm products at a base period, usually 1909-14.

On the other hand, many important farm products have advanced above parity and consequently would be subject to ceilings. These include hogs, beef cattle, veal calves, butterfat, whole milk, sweet corn, potatoes and sweet potatoes.

A farm bill proposal to change the method of setting parity prices by including hired farm labor costs would raise the level at which the subject to ceilings. Under this proposal, the average of 40 per cent.

ing with, but that is a serious mistake. It would be like saying there is no need for two steel helmets or two gas masks, because there is what a small amount of scrap, like an old station for instance, would be used to convert into a gas mask.

The least each householder in town should do, if he does not care to deliver a small amount of scrap himself, is to have it ready for the Boy Scouts when they make their annual drive. Every article coming Saturday in all towns of the county.

"Farmers, busy as they are, should also realize the tremendous importance of all the scrap from their disposal—scrap which in many instances no longer serves any purpose in their farming operations."

With the addition of the scrap which they can use for their own machinery repairs and which the government is anxious to keep, we urge that all farmers start bringing their old cast iron and steel to the scrap drive today, or as soon thereafter as possible. If delivery is impossible, we ask them to have their scrap ready for the drive of trucking arrangements.

Sell to Junk Dealers
It should also be explained that scrap should be sold to the regular junk dealers in all instances and not donated. The government has no need for junk, but the junk dealers know how to sort and grade scrap metal and direct it into the proper channels of the nation, and will be able to control an even flow of transportation to the scrap drive.

"Another question that has been raised is why we are limiting our scrap drive to the scrap metal, while in other parts of the country many additional types of salvages are being collected."

The Reason
"We are selecting only scrap iron and steel that is at least one-eighth of an inch thick, because we have no need of compressing equipment in this territory, which is shipping scrap metal to other parts of the country."

PIONEERS SEP. 23

SUN VALLEY, Idaho, Sept. 23 (U.P.)—Sun Valley, the famed mountain resort in the primitive Sawtooth mountains, spots today a horse and buggy days for its local transportation for the duration of the war on Oct. 1.

Instructions to retire the buses now used in the valley have been given to the local bus company. The rubber driver of the U. S.

We have made arrangements for the use of the buses in the summer and winter, said W. F. Rogers, manager of the Sun Valley Hotel. There are plenty of horses so it won't make any difference to us.

The Russians said fresh squadrons of mail dive-bombers had been thrown into the battle, and fighters proved equal to the challenge.

Flare Fighting
"In the Stalingrad area, fierce fighting continues," the Russian newspaper announced today.

"Individual streets and houses changed hands several times. The Germans launched a number of fierce counter-attacks, all of which were repulsed. One thousand Germans were killed."

"In another sector, our troops pressed back the enemy and captured an important road."

More than 3,000 Germans were reported killed or wounded in the last 48 hours in the sector northwest of Stalingrad alone.

The campaign began a fortnight ago when the British landed on the west coast for the push inland. Until they were within cannonshot of the capital they encountered little resistance except for road construction and bridge demolition.

BURLEY HOLIDAY FOR SCRAP DRIVE
BURLEY, Sept. 23—The Burley Merchants' association has decided to close the city for a day today to cooperate with the national scrap drive for scrap metal.

Business men and employees will spend the day gathering scrap metal and trucks will be donated for the purpose. City residents are requested to bring their scrap in a pile on the front curb of their homes and trucks will pick it up. Farmers, who can bring their scrap to town, are asked to telephone headquarters.

At 8 a. m. Friday trucks and drivers are asked to report to headquarters at the county court house where routes will be given out.

BEET HARVESTING STARTS SEPT. 28

another 200,000 bushels be needed on the dumps and in various other capacities.

"I am inclined to comment on the possibility of a labor shortage, but told of plans to utilize the Japanese labor force," he said. A minimum of 100 Japanese, mostly from the Manzanar, Gila, relocation camps, had been established in quarters at the Piler fairgrounds within the next four or five days, and that these would be available for the sugar beet harvest. The number of Japanese also is to be increased at the migratory farm labor camp south of town.

The opening date of the factories could not be set today, Elcock said, only that they will open "when sugar beet have been harvested."

The sugar content of the beets also had been determined today, Elcock said, but it is thought the figure would be available in a day or so.

BRITISH BLAST AXES DESERT SUPPLIES IN SURPRISE RAIDS

COMMANDOS HIT OVER WIDE AREA

By STEPHEN BARBER

CAIRO, Sept. 23 (AP)—British forces have launched a surprise raid on the Egyptian desert, hitting the supply lines of the German army. The raid was carried out by a commando unit of 100 men, who were supported by a tank and a heavy machine gun. The commandos were successful in destroying a large quantity of supplies, including food, clothing, and equipment. The raid was a surprise, as the Germans had not expected such a bold move from the British. The commandos were then withdrawn without being detected.

With United States and British air forces heavily bombing both Benghazi and Tobruk in diversion attacks, the desert raid struck Benghazi on the same night, Sept. 23, that other forces were landed at Tobruk. Although they began 10 days ago, the Benghazi-Benghazi raids were a tightly held secret until now, after the patrol had been returned to their bases.

Ghato, a remote outpost about 225 miles due south of Benghazi and 200 miles southwest of the El Alamein-Qattara battle line in Egypt, was attacked on the night of Sept. 23. Benghazi and Barga were attacked two nights before—the same night as the big commando raid on Tobruk, 220 miles to the east of Benghazi.

Accomplishments
The commandos listed these accomplishments:
At Benghazi—“considerable casualties” inflicted on the enemy garrison and dumps of ammunition and supplies destroyed by artillery fire.
At Barga and Barga—more than 200 aircraft damaged or destroyed on the ground and several others “shot down while attacking our troops.”
The commandos inflicted on “enemy personnel and motor transport.”
The commandos did not tell how the raid was carried out, but they said they were able to land their men and artillery so far behind the enemy’s line over hundreds of miles of desert, but in the main battle area in the desert, the heavy damage mentioned in the communiqué from the British was sought completely off guard.

“Desert Forces”
The British called the attackers “desert forces,” but the fact that Benghazi-Barga assault coincided with the big commando raid on Tobruk suggested that the desert patrols might have been ferried by sea to landings in the desert. The commandos were then withdrawn without being detected.

Hyrum T. Jacobs
Elected Bishop
DPOLO, Sept. 23 — The DeLoe family, of DPOLO, was reorganized at a sacrament meeting when Bishop Winfield Hurst was elected. Bishop Hurst, who has been serving in that position since 1927, was elected by a vote of 102 to 10. Hyrum T. Jacobs was elected as bishop, and Clifford Darrington as clerk. Bishop Hurst and Mrs. Hurst were in charge of the reorganization.

Mrs. I. A. Lentz
Rites Conducted
Buhl, Sept. 23—Funeral services for Mrs. I. A. Lentz, 55, wife of John Wesley Lentz, 60, were held at the Buhl Baptist church, Rev. E. James Cain, the pastor, officiating.

Mrs. E. James Cain and Mrs. W. L. Cain sang hymns. The choir, Elizabeth Bonar played the piano accompaniment and prelude and postlude.
Pallbearers were Earl Samuels, Edgar Larsen, J. A. Reed, G. W. Moffat, John Kallous and Bud Williams Hutchinson, neighbors of Mrs. Lentz.

Funeral services of the Baptist church and members of the North-Western Social club attended. The latter played a course of evergreen and flowers upon the casket.
Burial was in the Buhl cemetery under the direction of the Aberdeen funeral home.

Among many relatives and friends attending the funeral were Mrs. Lentz’s mother, Mrs. Richard Kendrick, Buhl, and the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. King, Castledorf, Mrs. Thomas McRoberts, Mrs. Henry Lehman and O. R. Kendrick, Buhl, and James Kendrick, Wendell, C. J. Kendrick, a brother of The Dalles, Ore., was unable to attend.

Humorist Is First Talker At Town Hall

“Off ag’in, on ag’in, gone ag’in ‘Panagion,” is an expression common to Americans but there is not one in a hundred who can tell you where it originated or who was its author. But Twin Falls will know before the circus is drawn at the Twin Falls high school auditorium next Tuesday night on the first of the eight speaking programs the Town Hall will present here this season.

The author of that familiar expression, Strickland Gillilan, will be the first speaker in the series. The expression catapulted him from small town editor to national fame as a humorist, a place that he has held for 40 years.

The brother of Rev. J. D. Gillilan, late pastor of the First Methodist church, is termed by no less an authority than Bruce Barton to be the best after-dinner speaker in America. Many regard him as the world’s greatest humorist. Too, he is a poet, a dramatist, a novelist, a humorist, a diplomat and just plain office-holder that he pokes fun at in his writings.

Season tickets for the eight speaking programs may be purchased at the office of the Chamber of Commerce, or if you want to go to some Magic Valley high school boy or girl earn a free ticket, purchase may be made from a student.

K. G. Robinson's Funeral Services Held in Gooding

GOODING, Sept. 23 — Funeral services for Kenneth O. Robinson were conducted at the Thompson chapel, with Rev. C. H. Mortensen, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating. Special music was provided by the Baptist church.

Mr. Robinson died in the Gooding hospital from injuries sustained in an accident seven miles southwest of Gooding.
He was born Jan. 9, 1902, at Julia, Ia., and had been a resident of the Gooding community for a number of years.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Winifred Morris Robinson; four children, Richard, 15; Darrel, 11; Gail, 10; and Virginia, 2; and two brothers, Zeb and Virgil Robinson, Gooding. Pallbearers were Ed Hudson, Wesley Hudson, George Babaska, Roger Park, Gooding; John Ayres, Hagerman. Burial was in Elmwood cemetery in Gooding.

September installment of income tax collections were more than $2,000,000 paid, adding “delinquencies are very low.”

Idaho Scrap Quota Set at 15 Pounds Month per Person

BOISE, Sept. 23 (AP)—A monthly quota of 15 pounds of scrap per person in Idaho has been set in an effort to boost the present salvaging shipping average of 100 carloads per month, Linton Watson, secretary of the Idaho salvage committee, said today.

“Between now and Jan. 1, 1943, we hope to have a per capita collection total of between 90 and 100 pounds,” Watson stated. “We are over our quota schedule now. The greatest job is ahead because our scrap is climbing.”

The quota for Idaho was announced at 14,000 tons for the period from July to Jan. 1 but the figure was later hiked to 25,000 tons by the regional salvage committee.
“We have set now our sights on an Idaho goal of 30,000 tons for this six-month period,” Watson said.

Plenty of Coal For This Winter, Dealers Declare

BOISE, Sept. 23 (AP)—Idaho householders will sleep warm this winter, Secretary P. H. Beveridge of the Idaho Coal Dealers' association, said today.
“There is no threat of a coal shortage in Idaho this winter,” he declared. “Reports from our members show that 40 per cent of the homes in the state already have enough coal in their basements to last through an ordinary winter.”

“Even if we have a transportation shortage, we'll be able to deliver enough coal all winter to keep the entire state population warm,” he added.
The association represents dealers in every city in southern Idaho and eastern Oregon. Beveridge said, he added similarly ample supplies are available in north Idaho, according to information reaching him from dealers there.

510 BIRTHS IN AUGUST
BOISE, Sept. 23 (AP)—There were 545 live births and 364 deaths in Idaho during August, the state bureau of vital statistics has reported. Heart disease led the list of causes of death, with 86, with accidents of all kinds next with 53.

GERMAN MARSHAL REPORTED OUSTED

LONDON, Sept. 23 (AP)—A Reuters dispatch from Stockholm last night quoted the Swedish newspaper, Svenska Dagbladet, as saying Field Marshal Peter von Bock of his command in Russia.
The report said von Bock's dismissal followed a sharp difference of opinion with Hitler over strategy in Russia. The field marshal, it was said, wanted to concentrate on the Caucasus and not attack Stalingrad at the same time. He argued Stalingrad would cost too much in casualties. The news have been attacking Stalingrad for days and have not yet taken it despite the huge forces used.

“The report said that during the past two weeks von Bock had been seen in Berlin.”
