

Allied offensives Push Japs Back On Pacific Front

A determined allied offensive appeared definitely underway in the far-flung Pacific war theater today, causing the Japanese invaders to fall back in New Guinea and inflicting heavy losses on enemy planes and troops in the Solomon and Aleutian islands.

The unleashing of allied air and ground power on two of the three strategic Pacific fronts coincided with announcement of a conference of the U. S. navy and air force's high command somewhere at sea. The attacks brought destruction of 43 Japanese planes in the Solomons and MacArthur's ground forces hammered back Japanese troops in the Owen Stanley mountains with an outflanking and outflanking attack about 25 miles north of the important allied base at Port Moresby.

MacArthur's Australian troops announced the attacking forces were "making progress" for the first time since the invaders landed at Gona mission July 21 and began pushing through the heavy, brooding jungle toward Port Moresby, which, if captured, could serve as a springboard for an assault on Australia.

Found Supply Line

Meanwhile, allied air forces continued savage pounding of the Japanese bases and supply lines in New Guinea. These persistent attacks on an army spokesman observed, may have stopped the invaders' progress by smashing vital supply lines.

The aerial assaults on Buna, the enemy's main southeastern New Guinea base, set supply dumps and hula abaze. Barges were destroyed by bombs and supply columns strafed. An aerial offensive against the enemy's main supply line, the Buna-Corrala road, was reported by the navy department.

The greatest blow to the Japanese supply line was struck in the Solomons where 41 planes were shot down and three others damaged, the navy department said. Navy and marine corps fighters bombed the Japanese base at Buna, and probably sinking a transport and ruined Japanese gun emplacements.

Bomb Cruiser, Tender

Without loss of a single U. S. plane, the American fleet, including a Japanese cruiser and a seaplane tender, and shot down three seaplanes. The Japanese base at Buna, destroyed six more enemy seaplanes, damaged a seventh, hit a transport and probably sinking a transport near Shortland Island on Sept. 26. The following day they blasted

SUGAR FACTORIES OPEN NEXT WEEK

With the best harvest acceleration in the second day, Harry A. Block, district manager for the American Sugar company here, said factories at Twin Falls, Burley and Rupert probably will open Monday or Tuesday of next week.

The sugar content of this year's beets had not been determined today, Block said, because "we knew we were going to start anyway." Ordinarily the starting of the beets is delayed by development of the sugar content. It was understood this year's starting of the beets would be the uncertainty on the labor situation.

The district manager said today he had a little in the dark on the question of labor to handle the beet harvest. Block said he had indicated that approximately 1,600 Japanese, and possibly more, would be used on the amount of Caucasian labor that will make the difference between the Magic Valley for the beet harvest.

Beet flow will start Monday on the north at the following stations: Murkhead, Bliss, Curry, Piler, Peavy, Cedar, Harney, and Richfield. Harvest started yesterday at most other stations in the Magic Valley.

Beets will be harvested on an area of approximately 25,000 acres over the Magic Valley. Block said that about 2,500 men will be required to take the beets out of the ground. Another 750 will be required to work at the three factories, and an additional 200 on the dumps and in other capacities.

HASTEN VICTORY, THOMAS PLEADS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Sen. John Thomas, R. Ida., today urged the very near future that an effective program to hasten victory in the war in a 10-point statement of views on current issues.

Thomas' statement, in effect the platform on which he is seeking reelection over Democratic nominee Glen Taylor, follows in part:

"1. Nothing else matters so much as our success in the war. If life is to mean anything to us, we must win. The criterion for government decisions has to be whether or not they will hasten our victory.

"2. Time is most important. I have favored and shall continue to favor appropriation recommended by the administration for the building of a military machine adequate to crush our enemies. Time is more important than dollars, but we should not let time waste or profiteering.

Virtual Okay Given Expanded Police Station and City Jail

Plans for enlarging and modernizing quarters occupied by the Twin Falls police department, at an estimated cost of between $42,000 and $44,000, were given virtual approval by the city council last night.

A leading feature of the remodeling plan is the construction of a four-story building, the third of which will be used for the city's new police station. The remodeling job was piggy-backed because of waste building restrictions.

No formal action was taken on the matter last night, but approval of the council seemed unqualified. As they studied plans prepared by William G. Leach of the Paradise and Leach firm, they agreed to postpone formal action until the next meeting, when they will have had time to deliberate the method

Labor Freezing Act Looms as Answer to Manpower Problems

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—A national service act, for compulsory assignment of workers to jobs where they are most needed, emerged today as the probable administration answer to the multiplying manpower problems of fighting a war on three fronts—the firing, food and factory lines.

Paul V. McNutt, war manpower chief, told the house agriculture committee which is inquiring into farm labor scarcities that an administrative sponsored bill for allocating farm labor probably would be submitted to congress soon.

While remaining silent on the extent of powers such legislation would embrace, he told newspapermen he disliked the terms "labor draft" and "labor conscription."

Persuasion Not Enough

Testifying before the committee yesterday, he said:

"Persuasion is not enough and there is not sufficient patriotic urge. I hope the very near future that certain recommendations will be made. It's not an easy task. We've never had such legislation. Certain constitutional questions are involved. The job ahead is a question of the government's power in the place where they could contribute most to a speedy victory."

Turning directly to the farm labor problem, McNutt told the agriculture group that one way to keep workers on the farm was to increase their wages, so as to diminish the lure of industrial pay.

He said that the government would require that no permit a curtailment of farm output.

Soviet Tank, Plane Force Gains on Foe

MOSCOW, Sept. 29 (AP)—Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's counter-offensive, backed by swarms of planes and tanks, was blasting the German drive along a 50-mile front between the Don and Volga rivers above Stalingrad today, steadily driving them back.

Front-line dispatches said the Russians also were on the west bank of the Don, trying to drive a wedge into German positions there and disrupt reinforcements and supply lines for the Nazis inside Stalingrad.

The government organ Izvestia said Soviet batteries had destroyed a pontoon and sunk numerous troop-laden boats trying to cross the river.

Red Star, the Soviet war newspaper, reported that it had not raised in three months, but Stalingrad and its first light frost yesterday.

The ground was baked as hard as asphalt today and the 3300 trucks which had been in the dust covered the cars.

Slow Progress

Soviet progress above Stalingrad, while steady, was threatened by the enemy held numerous, strongly fortified positions, and it took devastating operations by the United Nations now approaching.

Parliament met on the first time since Sept. 11, a high officer of the British army broadcast in French that "today's war before the possibilities of a British and allied landing on French soil must be forgotten."

CHURCHILL HITS SPECULATION ON SECOND FRONTS

LONDON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill voiced emphatic disapproval of speculation on the time or place of a second front, as the subject cropped up in the house of commons today and as the BBC broadcast to France that an offensive "is in the making."

Churchill's remarks were provoked by a question from Capt. Fred MacDonald which was prefaced by the assumption that "the period of offensive operations by the United Nations is now approaching."

Parliament met on the first time since Sept. 11, a high officer of the British army broadcast in French that "today's war before the possibilities of a British and allied landing on French soil must be forgotten."

The message followed the pattern of previous BBC broadcasts in France. It told the French that there would be no advance warning of the day or place of attack. "An offensive of the allied nations is in the making."

Churchill was anxious lest someone with inside information indiscreetly tip off the enemy with too early a response to the news request for a word of caution, Churchill said.

He said this opportunity of emphasizing the unavailability of public statements or speculation on the time and place of future allied offensive operations even though such statements are based on inference or fact, "will not be used to imply, on inside information."

No Answer

The house's applause was punctuated by the remark which Churchill said did not "imply" that he was converted to Mr. Wendell Willkie's.

Willkie, speaking in Moscow Sunday, said that the second front would be opened in the near future, and that the British would be able to provide the necessary support.

Churchill said that he had been informed of the British plan to occupy Madagascar, announcing that he had been informed of the British plan to occupy Madagascar, announcing that he had been informed of the British plan to occupy Madagascar.

GREAT ALASKAN STORM SUBSIDES

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Sept. 29 (AP)—The great Alaskan storm, which had been raging since Sept. 26, cleared wreckage from a post-war slumber, and was the worst in several years.

The storm reached its height at Nome and for 24 hours mountainous waves crashed against waterfront buildings and a 45-mile-an-hour wind whirled spray into the streets. Basements were filled with water, roofs were flooded and waves of the sea were undermined. Proprietors of the Patterson hotel removed their guests to the city and the city was left a desolate scene.

In the Sustina valley above Anchorage, rivers and creeks were on a flood stage, and the village of Takhleena and many other places were threatened with evacuation of women and children.

"WE'VE LOST EVERYTHING BUT SMUGNESS," GENERAL EARNST

SAYS U. S. MUST HATE JAPS, NAZIS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 29 (AP)—Asserting that "we've lost everything except a smug sense of complacency and that is the one thing we've got to lose," Gen. Earnst B. Somervell, commanding general of the service of supply, was on the record today with one of the most caustic war speeches yet made by a high military official.

Speaking last night before the grand lodge of Missouri Masons, Somervell said the United States have "taken a terrific shelling all around the globe" and that it is time that "we begin to be realistic."

"The Japanese and Nazis hate us and it is high time Americans start throwing some of the hate back in their faces," he said. "You can't kill a man you don't hate and fear and our number one job now is to kill Nazis and Japs."

Lost Rubber, Tin, Silk
"We lost all our rubber, most of our tin, our hemp, our silk. We lost ships by the hundreds, men by the thousands. We've lost the freedom of the seas. We've lost everything except a smug sense of complacency and that is the one thing we've got to lose and lose fast or we'll lose our independence."

Somervell asked Americans not to be "over-confident of our leaders, of our tactics or our military methods."

"No matter what we do, we always seem to do the wrong thing according to the Japanese and the Nazis," he said. "And were always wrong in the end."

He recommended stoppage of all arguments about who will be top man after the war.

"If we keep on fighting among ourselves, Hitler is going to be the top man," he said.

"Let's forget about business as usual, pleasure as usual, and let's be the same war election the day it is today. The danger is going to be the day after the war."

He said that the Japs don't care who wins American elections just so long as they can keep on fighting.

German Helmet Fights Nazis

A genuine steel German helmet, relic of World War I, will help make bullets to defeat the Nazis and Japs. Jim Devereaux, holding the helmet, is shown with other scrap metal being turned in by the J. N. Crowley family, 551 Elm, for the Twin Falls county scrap metal drive.

As for the helmet, one of the Crowley children acquired it long ago in a childhood "swap" with a playmate. (Staff Photo-Engraving)

Continuing their attacks yesterday, the American air forces successfully intercepted 25 Japanese bombers which were accompanied by 18 zero fighters and were headed for marine installations on Guadalcanal.

The navy and marine forces destroyed 23 of the enemy bombers and one zero and forced the others to jettison their bombs.

The marines strengthened their hold on Guadalcanal by destroying several enemy planes which landed on the island with the aid of five bombers.

About 1,000 miles northward, army armor accompanied for the first time by Canadian planes, raided the Japanese position on the Aleutians. Seven enemy planes were destroyed, a zero left in flames. Two submarines struck and an estimated 150 Japanese killed or wounded in a low-level attack on the island.

After heavy army bombers landed enemy installations on the island with the aid of Canadian planes, the navy announced yesterday, a strong force of army bombers and pursuit planes, accompanied by a Canadian air force ship, attacked again on the following day.

Direct bomb hits on one of two transports or cargo ships in the harbor set several fires which were beached and listing badly when last observed. The attack pushed the total of Japanese ships damaged in the Aleutians to 33 since the enemy raid on Dutch Harbor, June 8.

Scrap Pickup Includes Kit For Burglars

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O.—The scrap campaign, under the aegis of the city of Columbus, Ohio, is now in its second year and is expected to be one of the two new laws in use which are not as strict.

"We've got some pretty tough customers in jail," said the chief, "and the reason we've been able to keep them from getting out is that we have an officer within 10 feet of them at all times. I could get out of my cell in 40 minutes with my bare hands. The new laws will be far away from the desk, and must be strong enough to hold up the character."

BALKAN ANTI-WAR SENTIMENT GAINS

By ERNEST AGNEW
LONDON, Sept. 29.—Increasing anti-war sentiment in the Balkans was reported by allied government sources last night and a Yugoslav official described conditions as similar to those in 1918 shortly before the collapse of Bulgaria, Austria and Hungary.

The reasons were listed as these:
1. The lengthening dark list on the eastern front. Rumania alone was said to have lost more than 200,000 men in Russia and Germany reported demanding 50,000 additional.

2. Decreasing food supplies.

3. Increasing allied pressure for closer collaboration.

"The Rumanians are particularly bitter against both Germany and Hungary," for the first time since the war began the word "peace" (peace) is seen scrawled on pavements and buildings throughout the country. Recently several hundred men and women were tried by court martial for unpatriotic activities including sabotage.

Nothing in Return
"The majority of the people feel they have received nothing from Germany except additional demands and they are bitter at Hungary because they were forced to yield Transylvania to her."

In an effort to counter Serbian propaganda in Hungary, Germany recently gave Hungary 200,000 acres of rich Serbian agricultural lands, the Yugoslav government announced. The lands adjoin Banat province which previously had been ceded to Hungary. The inhabitants of 43 villages were evicted.

Hungary also was reported worried by decreasing war goods production because of the flight of workers to the country after an air raid on Budapest.

Reported American bombings of the capital of Hungary, Budapest, Bulgaria and Croatia in the last two weeks also was said to have added to anti-war sentiment.

To Raise More Troops
Swiss Dispatches said Rumania and Croatia had agreed to raise more troops for the Russian front, hoping for political favors from Germany at the expense of Hungary which has reluctantly sent some troops to the east.

Rumania and Croatia were described as working closely together in common interest against Hungary, which both have territorial aspirations.

A British source which remains anonymous said that Rumania for months to declare war on Russia but that country has its hands full trying to repress its own people in a national uprising by war on the Soviet.

"Over 200,000 Bulgarian patriots are in concentration camps since during the first six months of this year over 1,500 men and women were sentenced to death for political offenses."

What part, you might ask, could white bread possibly play in aiding the war effort, even granting that the "staff of life" always has been recognized as the most fundamental of all foods? Of course, more and more of our men are going into service, and they must be in perfect physical condition. But Uncle Sam will take care of that. You know, however, that those who remain at home, the younger men, the older men, and the women too, for that matter, will be called upon to do work and endure hardships to which they are not accustomed. You know that food rationing will bring a lot of problems. You know the war has you worried, not of problems. You know the war has you worried, not of problems. You know the war has you worried, not of problems.

You know that health and morale are things we must maintain at home. But in connection with all these things, do you know why white bread is doubly important in your diet during this time of war?

The Bakers of BUTTER-KRUST Offer You Many Sound Reasons

In its next series of advertisements, BUTTER-KRUST will give you a number of authoritative and informative reasons why bread is not only the most important of all foods, but vitally important in many phases of our war effort as well. These advertisements will quote authorities you will recognize, believe and understand. We are confident you will be interested in these authentic reasons why bread is so important, and that as a result, you will give it greater consideration in your family diet. Also, you will have a better appreciation of what such a high quality bread as BUTTER-KRUST means to Magic Valley.

AP WRITER BACK AFTER SIX YEARS

By WENDELL WEBB
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Clare Lee, war correspondent for The Associated Press, stroled into the AP office here yesterday after a six-year absence with his mind more occupied with a $5 debt than on a reservoir of experiences no one could ever hold.

When and how he arrived are not to be told, and he brought only a checkbook, a small bag and "the clothes I have on."

The 35-year-old roving writer, whose dispatches from his beleaguered Britain brought him commendation in official army publications, hauled out a $5 bill (it looked like he had but $5 left in his wallet) and tossed it at Robert Carnegie, New York representative of the Associated Press.

"I've owed you this since 1931 when you sold me a golf club that had an ingrow hole," Lee grinned. "Here it is."

To Boy War Stamps
Cavanaugh, who worked with Lee in the Newark, N. J., but who had not seen him for six years, had been offered a compromise—Cavanaugh was to buy War Stamps for Lee, and Lee was to buy War Stamps for Cavanaugh.

He's been in China, Japan, Manchuria, Australia, the Philippines, New Zealand, New Caledonia and a myriad of South Sea Islands, and has traveled in excess of 40,000 miles by plane, ship and walking. Most of his walking was done on Bataan, from which he escaped to Australia, just before his capture.

En Route to New York
Lee of recent months has been with the U. S. Pacific fleet, and has seen many dramatic eye-witnessed stories which left no doubt of his happiness in being on the "giving" end after long months under assault in the Philippines.

The writer is en route to New York for a new assignment—"anywhere, it doesn't matter."

Burley Collects 400 Tons of Scrap In One Day Drive

BURLEY, Sept. 29.—More than 400 tons of scrap metal was gathered Friday in the special drive held here. Additional scrap still was being brought in today.

All stores in Burley were closed today, and business men assisted in the collection of scrap while trucks were donated by various firms. The Burley Lions club placed 100 nail kegs throughout the city for the convenience of motorists, and most of them were filled to overflowing.

Most of the donations were made in the name of the Burley Lions club, which will use the scrap for their children's eyeglass conservation work, and to the American Legion auxiliary, for children's welfare work.

CHEST'S GENERAL STAFF COMPLETE

Mrs. R. L. Reed, representing the Y. W. C. A., had been added today to the staff of general staff who will conduct the Community Chest campaign beginning Oct. 6. She was named as the seventh general at a meeting held last night in the office of O. P. Davall, general chairman for the drive.

Other generals attending the meeting were Gordon Day, Boy Scouts; Adj. Wilfred Rosebalt, Salvation Army; Eugene White, Twin Falls Recreation association; Mrs. A. C. Carter, McCluskey health camp; Mrs. Roy Evans, Parent-Teacher association; and Mrs. W. A. Van Engelen, Camp Fire Girls.

General Chairman Davall said that the Children's Home Finding society, the eighth organization which will share in the funds to be raised during the campaign, would not have a general, but would cooperate fully in the drive.

But said that the soliciting plans mapped for the campaign last night would follow those of previous years. The generals will appoint captains and lieutenants whose names would be announced at a meeting to be held Friday night.

Letters have been mailed to 650 business firms, he said, and it is hoped that they would have their contributions ready when they are solicited.

The campaign will open with a kick-off breakfast of the campaign on the morning of Oct. 6. Further details regarding the breakfast will be announced later.

Guard Against Wartime Constipation!

It's frequently due to lack of "bulk"

Millions of folks these war days feel all cramped out, with no slip or pep. And no wonder! Their working, sleeping, and especially their eating habits are all different. Meals are apt to be hurried, improperly balanced—and they neglect the important matter of "bulk" in the diet.

"Yet getting enough 'bulk' might make all the difference. For lack of it is one of the common causes of constipation. Medicinal laxatives give only temporary relief in such cases; they don't get at the cause."

But KELLOGG'S ALL-Bran corrects this constipation by supplying the needed "bulk," often brings lasting freedom from the trouble. Eat this crisp, delicious cereal regularly, drink plenty of water and "bulk" the regular "All-Bran" is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

SERIAL STORY

OF BRIGHTNESS GONE
BY HOLLY WATTERSON

TANGLED WEB

CHAPTER XIV

CANDACE hurried down the rubber-lit hallway to the telephone at the far end. She said, "Oh, Martin," happy at the sound of his voice. "I'm so glad you called."

"You won't be when you hear what I'm calling for," Martin said. "I'm afraid that I can't see you tonight after all."

The faint uneasiness Gates' hand had engendered turned into a sudden fear. She said stiffly, "Not."

"You sound as though you think I'm a bore, and I feel like one for disappointing you. But I've been having some trouble in neurology and the prof agreed to take me and a few other fellows in the same boat and give us a workout tonight."

She stood there, her clation gone and a sick uneasiness in its place, answering nothing.

"Hello, Peter," Martin's voice called anxiously. "Listen, Candace, if you want me to I'll cut it off."

"Oh, no," she said quickly, "go of course. I want you to study, you know that."

"You're an awfully good kid," he said gratefully.

"Candace," his voice had a muffled sound. She knew that he had put his lips close to the transmitter so as not to be overheard by others there in his house.

"Darling," he repeated, "Martin, darling, I wish we were already married. I wish we were married right now."

Things were suddenly all right again. She clung with her fingers to the shelf under the telephone, standing there, against the weakness that seemed about to overcome her. Her eyes involuntarily closed. She whispered, "I do, too. Martin, I do, too."

He jumped when Peter greeted him. Peter said, "amused. 'I'm just your old roommate, remember?'"

Martin grinned sheepishly. "I don't know you were here."

He went into the bathroom and closed the door. Peter heard the clasp of the electric shaver and the splash of the shower.

Peter had seen his father that day; things appeared to be looking up a bit for him and he was eager to tell Candace. When Martin finally emerged and was dressing, Peter inquired, "What about Candace? Is she coming here first, or are you meeting her somewhere?"

Martin looked up sharply from his careful choosing of a tie. "She's not coming in tonight, why?"

"Oh, just some family stuff I wanted to tell her. I thought this was her evening off."

"It is. But she's gotten in bad with Hapgood, somehow, and he's stuck me for a session tonight," Martin said shortly.

Martin had been gone only about five minutes when Mrs. Prosser shouted upstairs that there was a call for him. After she had relayed the message that he was out, she shouted up again, "The lady'll talk to you, then, Mr. Frazer."

Peter ran down, expecting it to be Candace. He called cheerfully into the phone, "Hello!" and a high, young, quite unfamiliar voice at the other end said, "Mr.

Frazer? This is Faith Hartshorne."

"Yes?" he said politely, in a tone that invited her to go on.

Faith Hartshorne laughed a little. "We met at the ten, remember? Martin mentions you so often that I feel as though I know you awfully well, but I can't tell you don't even remember what I look like."

Martin mentions you so often, Peter's mind repeated. He answered, hoping his voice wouldn't sound as stunned as he felt, "But I do indeed. You're the tall blond girl with blue eyes that I know to match, tastefully decorated with tea stains."

"That's me. All but the dress; that's been put into my memory museum." Under that brittle tone she sounded absurdly young. "The person who answered just now—your landlady, wasn't it?—told me that Martin isn't in. Is he likely to stop by, do you think, before he starts to meet me?"

Peter said dryly, "I'm afraid I don't know that. I don't always know what Corby is up to."

She laughed. "Do you feel that way, too? But that's part of his charm, don't you think, that unaccountableness?" She didn't wait for an answer, fortunately. "If he should come in will you tell him that I've just missed a train and I'll have to wait a half hour for the next one and may be a bit late? I thought I'd catch him in plenty of time."

She resumed her grand body tone. "I've missed Martin several times to bring you up with him, but he always claims to have forgotten to ask you, or he has some other excuse. You might speak to him about that."

"I'll speak to him," Peter promised, grimly.

He hung up the receiver slowly. He thought of Candace sitting alone in her room, loving Martin, trusting him, and his face comforted with sympathy. He began to swear softly, savagely.

The instant Peter saw Martin when he came in he knew that Faith Hartshorne had told him of her call.

He had been waiting up for

Martin, getting a grim amusement out of at least this part of the situation. Ward and Davis were both asleep and he had closed the sliding doors between the rooms so that they would not be apt to hear any possible argument—following a pattern, Peter was sure, for all the world like that of a wife grimly suspicious but trying to prevent her children being disturbed.

Peter had tried to cherish a faint hope that perhaps Candace knew about this girl, that she had known about tonight, in spite of Martin's lie to him; but Martin's attitude made short shrift of that.

"I suppose you've been putting two and two together and getting something really big," Martin said.

"It didn't add up to no tale for tiny tale," Peter said.

Martin shrugged. "I could explain the whole thing easily enough," he said. "If I cared to, I don't. I don't owe an explanation of any conduct of mine to you."

"Not to me, as myself," Peter said, "no. You wouldn't have to anyway. I know without being told what you've been up to. Faith Hartshorne, the daughter of the chairman of the board; that speaks for itself, doesn't it?" His voice was heavy with contempt.

"Who you kick in the face during your climb up the ladder of success is your own dirty business, not mine—except where Candace is concerned. There it is mine."

"I don't suppose you'll have sense enough to stay out of this," Martin said. "What are you going to do?"

"Do? I'm not going to do anything. At least for the present. But you are. You're going to Candace and you're going to tell her everything. What happens after that depends on her."

"Brave talk," Martin said, sneering, "brave talk. I don't suppose I can convince you that I'll be better for Candace, easier for her, if you let me manage things in my way."

"Feller," Peter said, "I have watched you manage things in your way; and in my opinion, your way stinks."

Rupert Prisoner Of Japs Hopes to Come Home Soon

RUPERT, Sept. 29-Mrs. Reed Catmull has received a letter from her husband, Reed Catmull, a prisoner of the Japanese at Shanghai, China.

The letter was written June 4 and stated that he was well; that the prisoners had recreational and church facilities and hoped that he might be in the next group of exchange prisoners.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Catmull, pioneers of Minidoka county, left Rupert two years ago for Wake Island where he was employed in defense work and was taken prisoner by the Japanese at Bataan. Mr. and Mrs. Catmull were heard on the radio several months ago by friends of the family.

Lincoln County's Campaign Brings 200 Tons of Scrap

SHOSHONE, Sept. 29-Stores and schools were closed throughout Lincoln county Friday to enable merchants and students to assist the county committee in gathering scrap.

It was estimated that 200 tons were gathered in the county, with stock piles in Shoshone, Richfield and Dietrich. Rodney Tegen, salvage chairman, reported that 20 trucks and three wreckers had been used.

Workers gathered at 7 a. m. Friday at the Shoshone stock pile across from the Martin Motor Company to receive assignments. A long blast of the siren started the busy day. The drive will be continued as there are still many farms to be canvassed.

Tippling Charges Put 13 Into Court

A. L. Farnham, Homer Lechner and Herman A. Horn, identified as "floaters," were allowed deferred judgment, committing to the custody of the chief of police, and given an opportunity to leave town.

Homer Rice, Twin Falls, who was given a $5 fine, elected to "pay it out" at the rate of $150 a day.

15 Die When Plane Crashes in Brazil

SAO PAULO, Brazil, Sept. 29 (AP) -A Paula De Brasil airplane crashed in the mountains between Santos and Sao Paulo in southern Brazil yesterday, carrying to death 15 persons, including two U. S. citizens.

The plane was piloted by Paulo Machado, possessor of one of Brazil's greatest fortunes and the country's most famous racehorses. Reports from the scene said that weather caused the accident.

The American pilot, Edward Adler, 41, Philadelphia, an agent in Brazil for United States products and a resident of Sao Paulo, was a clerk in the U. S. consular service who was on route from Puerto Rico to assume a post at Sao Paulo.
