JAP SHIPBUILDING POWER STRAINED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—Naval experts believe today that the Japanese shipbuilding industry is being seriously strained as the result of the ever-increasing demands on enemy seapower by American submarines and warplanes.

Even if Japan had sufficient facilities to repair or repair ships sunk or damaged, these experts said, there was considerable doubt that its steel-producing industry could meet all demands arising from her sea losses.

Shortly before outbreak of the Pacific war, it was estimated that Japan's shipbuilders could produce between 500,000 and 600,000 tons of steel vessels annually. In the last month, the experts believed, the sinking and damaging of both combat and non-combat ships is at a rate well in excess of more than double Japan's pre-war capacity.

An unofficial compilation of Japanese ship losses showed that 200 enemy warships, auxiliaries and merchantmen, besides 100,000 tons sunk or damaged since Dec. 7. This staggering figure was reached when the navy disclosed that 12 more Jap ships have been sunk or damaged in the Pacific by American submarines and army bombers.

Here is a breakdown of Japanese ship casualties:

SK. PB. SK. DED. 71	Warships	114	22	83
Non-combatant	114	27	58	100

Totals—100, 49 (43) 300
Of the overall total, submarines accounted for 115 ships—74 sunk, 19 probably sunk and 22 damaged.

FARM PRICES NOT TOO HIGH; FAIRITY ISN'T COMING

Editor, Times-News: Recently the local newspaper stated in one of its numerous editorials against "too high" farm prices, that most of us farmers were quite willing to line up with President Roosevelt on getting them lower, but the trouble was with a few unprincipled farm leaders.

How many farmers has our editor interviewed in arriving at such a conclusion? Our newspapers should wake up to the fact that a farmer who desires a fair price for his fair day's work, plus interest on his investment, is not contributing to inflation. Neither is he a traitor.

Ever since about 1930, in spite of killing little pigs and plowing crops under, the farmer has fought to hold his own against two to three cent buns, 45 to 70 cent wheat, five to seven cent logs, and so on. Prices have risen so used to buying their food on the basis of these depression prices that they think that's the way it should be. Yet the same people can pay $1.00 for a "low-price" car, $150 to $200 for an electric refrigerator, and $35 for a common suit of clothes. The farmer plans over paying $1 for a box of apples.

It is said about parity. We farmers are supposed to be getting above parity. The fact is that on the basis of present conditions and price scales the farmer is not getting parity, and Mr. Wickard, Roosevelt, etc., know it. Neither do they intend that we shall.

True parity provides the farmer with the same pay for his work, considering the skill and effort involved, as his city cousin received, plus interest on his investment. It is the opinion of our newspapers that when a farmer, by working double the hours that others do, and with the help of his children who may do more real work in a day than many grown factory workers, plus the help of a wife who raises the chickens, and garden, coals for the household, etc., is able to make a fair income, that he must have his price whacked down? Is that your parity?

Anybody can't farm. Many have tried it and "gone broke." Contrary to general opinion, much farm work calls for highly skilled labor.

Perhaps the farmer will never get parity until he begins to organize, but should that day arrive, under the same system as labor has done, and a John L. Lewis told the reins, then what?

In the meantime Uncle Sam may be forced, through curtailed farm operations in the face of impossible or unreasonable economic and labor conditions, to put pretty hungry if he doesn't change his tune on farm parity.

Last Call Takes Pioneer Rancher

JULIA, Oct. 3—John Parker, 72, for many years a well-known stockman and rancher at the Pioneer ranch, died at 6:30 a.m. today following a heart attack at the home of his son, John C. Parker, on Interstate 16, near the junior high school.

Mr. Parker was born at Beautiful View, Nov. 28, 1869, and came to Cassia creek, Cassia county, with his parents when four years of age. His mother died a short time ago, and he lived at Cassia Creek with his father and a brother, until he was nine years of age when he moved to Albion. There he married Delia Delight.

After residing near Albion for 44 years, Mr. Parker, with his wife, came to Twin Falls to live with his son last April.

In addition to his wife and son he had three daughters, Mrs. Winifred Phillips, Mrs. Meadows, Ida, and a half sister, Mrs. Ethel Bayly, of Pocatello. Three brothers preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Masonic hall in Albion with burial in the Albion cemetery. The body will be taken to Albion Thursday morning where it may be viewed. Allegation funeral home, Buhl, will be in charge.

Beer consumed in the month totaled 44,791 gallons, compared to 31,207.8 gallons last year. The total collection this year included $100 in license fees and $150 in miscellaneous income. The collections last year included $220 in license fees and $35.50 in miscellaneous income.

COMEDIAN'S WIFE TAKES OWN LIFE

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 3 (AP)—Comedian Michael Auer, who recently lost a child, today said in which he attempted to prove his former wife lived in a "moral atmosphere" today that she had returned their two small children to him shortly before she took a fatal dose of poison.

The Russian actor was called to Mrs. Norma Auer's bedside shortly before she died yesterday. She was 36. Police had been summoned to Mrs. Auer's home a few hours earlier by her maid, Hester Reed.

"There's no reason for me to live and I just turned over the children to my former husband," Mrs. Auer was quoted as saying when police arrived.

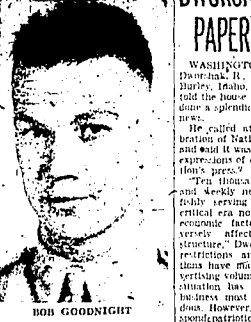

They found an empty bottle of potassium cyanide in the bed beside her and rushed her to a hospital. Efforts to save her proved futile.

Her maid told Capt. W. W. White of the Beverly Hills police that Mrs. Auer had been in a "comatose condition" shortly before she drank the poison.

Auer said he had agreed on Thursday evening to take their adopted daughter Zoe, 3, home with him and, at Mrs. Auer's request, he had taken custody of their son, Anthony, 8, two weeks ago. Less than a month ago, Mrs. Auer won the court battle for the custody of their daughter, and was granted custody of her for them.

DWORSHAK LAUDS PAPERS' WAR JOB

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—Rep. Dworshak R. H., publisher of the Idaho Statesman, today said that newspapers have done a splendid job in handling war news.

He called attention to the celebration of National Newspaper week and said it was being observed "with expressions of confidence in the nation's press."

The 100-year-old small town daily and weekly newspapers are unselfishly serving the nation in this critical era notwithstanding certain economic factors which have adversely affected their financial structure," Dworshak said. "Priority restrictions and rationing regulations have materially curtailed advertising volume and the acute labor situation has made the publishing business most difficult and hazardous. However, these newspapers respond patriotically to every call for service and they will continue to justify the confidence and respect which they command."

"Freedom of the press is a sacred right, without which there can be no free government. Although they are being called upon to meet abnormal wartime demands, and to make sacrifices, American newspapers will measure up to the high standard of tradition. The tough estate will meet every challenge in this hour of grave national peril."

This 'Draftee' "Proposed" to Wrong Lady

BOISE, Oct. 3 (AP)—Lt. Col. Norman B. Addison, executive officer of service service, in this one of a prospective Idaho inductee who wrote to the wrong person—a stenographer of one of the local draft boards.

The letter read: "Baw your picture in the Moscow Daily Telegram, and I thought I would write to you if I could get in touch with you, as I am looking for a woman to be my wife. I know I am a stranger to you, but I don't mind that."

"Please let me know at once. I am in the draft, now, too, but a board member told me if I marry, that I would not have to go to the army. I am looking for a woman."

"I am running a farm for my brother. My age, 31 years, my height is 5' 6". Please give me your name and address. I will send you some snapshots of myself."

Col. Addison did not reveal the identity of either the registrant or the stenographer who received the letter, but had this notice posted on the board's board at state headquarters.

"Don't allow your pictures to be printed in newspapers."

All younger business, professional and industrial women in Twin Falls are invited to attend the informal party at 8 p. m. Monday at the Y.W.C.A. rooms, arranged by the Beta Gamma chapter.

"If you are eligible to attend, but have not received an invitation, please come anyway. It has not been possible to contact all, particularly the newcomers," Miss Yvonne Alzaga announced last night.

The club, which was organized in October, 1931, "to unite young business girls in a spirit of comradeship in social and cultural pursuits," has a varied program of activities. The club is planning to sponsor a USO dance this year, to replace the customary annual Valentine dance. Committees for Monday's party include: Invitations, Miss Betty Wilson; Music, Miss Arabelle Brown; entertainment, Miss Velma Moore; refreshments, Miss Helen Cappe; general chairman, Miss Alzaga.

Two Honored at Farewell Party At Ailee Home

Mrs. Gladys Von Baur, and Miss Bernice Surfo, who are leaving town for Palo Alto, Calif., to make their home, were honored at a surprise handkerchief shower and farewell party Thursday evening at the Addison Avenue home of Miss Winifred Ailee.

A chili supper was served, and bunces was played during the evening. A birthday cake was served in honor of the birthday anniversary of Miss Surfo.

Guests were feminine personnel members of the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph company, with which Mrs. Von Baur and Miss Surfo have been associated for a number of years. Mrs. Owen Kreffer, Mrs. Howard Ward were special guests.

Roses and other mid-autumn flowers formed the party decorations.

Inez Robb Has Small Towners Sound Big Time

You won't mind being called "Small Town Stuff" when you read Inez Robb's article by that title in the November issue of COMMUNALITY magazine.

You won't even mind being called "copy-cat." You'll be proud that Twin Falls is one of the towns that DID copy Boise's idea of the Ministry war stamp and bond sending pretty girls who wear their blue dresses with stiff white collars, white headresses and a touch of red on their costumes.

Inez Robb, Idaho's most famous woman reporter, "A New Yorker by adoption," tells the world how Boise gets out the bond and sells war stamps and bonds.

The same story could be written about Twin Falls. It'll give you a catch in your throat, a tear in your eye, and "First big prize" for Idaho, and our own bondholders, even though they aren't mentioned in the Robb article.

Kids Get on Assembly Line With Gift Boxes

The children of Twin Falls haven't lost their faith in Christmas, nor their interest in youngsters of other countries.

It's Christmas in October, as far as the Junior Red Cross of Twin Falls is concerned.

Twain this year as for more than 20 years the American Junior Red Cross gift boxes will be given to children in other countries.

"Boxes for Britain" Washington school children last week sent 4 gift boxes to San Francisco, with the request that they be sent to children in Great Britain who have either been evacuated to the country or who are in children's wards of hospitals.

From Lincoln school went 29 boxes, American flag stickers lending a new significance to the customary Christmas boxes. All of the gifts were American made, the youngsters explained proudly.

Lincoln Junior Red Cross will be giving the Christmas gift project this coming week, according to Mrs. Ethel Gray.

All of the gifts will be sent to Pacific area headquarters at San Francisco, and shipped from there.

It's amazing what can be packed into a small box. A box is a wash cloth, a bar of soap, a tooth brush and a tube of tooth paste, hair bows, hair combs, handkerchiefs, crayons, eraser, sewing kit, small toys, jacks and a ball in a bag, a purse, and some costume jewelry.

For some lucky boy there's a rubber ball, a wash cloth, glasses, crayons, tooth brush, tooth paste, two socks, a pen and pencil set, a small boat, eraser, writing pad, two more pencils and a small silk American flag.

"When the children learned that a Red Cross gift box is the only gift the young recipient gets, they were more eager than ever to include as many varied presents as possible, but were careful to include items that placed the accent on health and hygiene," Miss Beulah Way, Lincoln school principal, said.

The teachers and pupils of both schools were highly commended by the principal, Miss Way and Mrs. Nora Fritcher, for their cooperative spirit in assembling the gift packages. Teachers at Bickel will give the same assistance.

Red Cross Work Shop Opening in Ideal Location

One of the most ideal locations in Twin Falls, from the standpoint of pleasant surroundings, has been chosen for a workshop for the women who will make surgical dressings for the war department, under the direction of the Twin Falls chapter, American Red Cross.

The Red Cross has generously donated the use of the spacious and sunny Venetian room in the Elks lodge for this project. Boys in the mechanical arts department of the Twin Falls school have been busy the past week completing a set of 100 charts to be used in the making of surgical dressings.

Surgical dressings will be made on Tuesday and Wednesday of each week, starting Oct. 6. All women of the community are urged to aid in this highly essential form of production. The workshop will be open from 8 a. m. to noon and from 1 to 5 p. m. Each woman is asked to give at least one-quarter day a week to this work. Twin Falls' first assignment in this line is the making of 62,250 sponges. Your assistance is needed.

CAMP FIRE WORK AIDS WAR EFFORT

(Editor's note: This is one in a series of short articles covering the work of the various organizations of the Twin Falls community. The annual Camp Fire campaign starts Oct. 6.)

The Camp Fire Girls, one of the organizations which will share in the funds derived from the Camp Fire Chest campaign, extended to start Oct. 6, have as one of their aims for this coming year the securing of "enough leaders so that every girl in Twin Falls who has the desire to do so may become a member."

Other aims of the organization are to "keep faith with our girls" and "to live up to our law and give service."

The Camp Fire Girls have 10 active groups from 10 to 15 years of age and four groups of Blue Birds from eight to 10 years. In 14 groups there are 40 girls.

Each group is sponsored by a well-known civic organization, while the "leader of each is the best that the community affords."

Primary Purpose
The purpose of the Camp Fire is to help girls build character in their leisure hours, thus supplementing the work of the home, school and church.

The local Camp Fire organization is chartered nationally and is headed by an executive council of 20 prominent citizens.

The organization employs a part-time secretary, who transacts all official business at the Camp Fire office under the Wiley drug store. The office is the clearing house for all activity of the organization.

Aid War Effort

The Camp Fire Girls are participating in the war effort. They have worked consistently on a "victory program" outlined by the national organization. The main project is called "Fortifying the family" and covers a broad field from recreation to instruction for each girl to accomplish for her and her family. They also participate in patriotic sales and drives, such as the forage-meat sale for the Veterans, the Forage-Meat War and the weighting and packing of all peaches which the Red Cross asks for this winter.

The local organization also has been active in national training camps in Missouri, Pennsylvania and thus keeping Twin Falls on the Camp Fire map nationally, maintaining high standards and keeping in touch with the entire national organization.

Other War Help

Other war effort activities of the local organization have been the collection of tin tubes and tin foil and the gathering of unexpired stamps, of which it shipped a 100-pound sack full to a charity in New York City.

This year a "happy autumn" project was substituted successfully for a canned trip and girls earned the local "Twinkum" honor by participating.

The program calls for the girls to work for honors that keep them doing and learning, the following of health and thrift rules, the collection of rank for required achievements, learning to live the outdoors and go on hikes and camps, and for fun.

Grange Furrows

By J. R. CRAWFORD

I wonder if people in general realize the full significance of the statement made by President Roosevelt in regard to the anti-inflation legislation that he had asked Congress to pass. I refer to the threat that if Congress did not take action by Oct. 1, he would do so himself.

These are the words of a dictator and cannot be passed lightly by, even though we are in a critical period of our history. Powers once usurped by a government agency are not easily regained by the usurper.

Executive Trend
The trend for the past three years has been to test more and more of the duties of the congressional branch of the government in the executive department, and this in violation of the constitutionally stated duties of each branch of the government.

I had always thought that the history of the United States, from early colonial times to the present, revealed pretty clearly the character of the rural population of this generation, much of which greatness was derived from those sturdy patriots who sprang from the soil. The early settlers of this country were rural minded people. It was the farmers who paid the debt of the nation and sustained the land that others might follow. It was the farmers who "gave their blood for ball, from behind each fence and farmyard wall" at the battle of Lexington, where the struggle for freedom began.

Farmer Leaders
It was Israel Putnam who led his plow to lead a poorly equipped but determined band of farmers in the early days of the struggle. It was farmer George Washington who led his bleeding but courageous band of patriots in that famous Christmas eve. And it was the same farmer who was called to the presidency of the infant republic, that emerged in swaddling clothes at the close of the revolution.

It was humbly and sturdy "Honest Abe," a farm boy, it you please, who led the torn and bleeding young nation through the bitter Civil war. It was the farmer boy from Ohio, William McKinley, who led us out of the terrible days of the party platform, to a greater prosperity than the nation had yet known. It was a lucky city boy, made strong and courageous by life on a western ranch who dared to defy Wall Street and the world's bankers, the man known and endeavored to all Americans as "Teddy" Roosevelt.

In fact, the pages of our national history are full of the names of national servants and heroes, who as boys came from the farm. Why the Abuse? In view of all this then why all the hue and cry about the lack of patriotism of the farmers who, as one city slicker (I believe his name was Henderson) said, "are more interested in making a profit than they are in winning the war."

It is not hard to find a person answering that description perfectly, in any big town in this nation. If I were looking for unproductive people in this country, I would pick out the gang who so largely are responsible for our present rubber shortage and who continue to be the dog.

By the way, I see that a dairyman in Utah is discontinuing the practice of delivering milk because of the tire situation. Wonder why he couldn't get some tires off one of those Cadillac cars I saw over at the "Hink center?" They have WEP and WRA on them and the tires looked awful good compared to mine. They didn't seem to be short of cash either.

3 PER CENT CUT IN IDAHO SALES

BOISE, Oct. 3.—Idaho retailers reported a drop in sales of three per cent during August of this year as compared with sales for the corresponding month last year, a report from the U. S. bureau census revealed today.

Sales volume for the first eight months of 1942 was down slightly from that reported for the same period a year ago. J. C. Capt. director of the census reported.

Based on a comparison with August, 1941, the dollar volume of various lines shows: 37 per cent gain in apparel stores, 21 per cent gain in department stores, 19 per cent gain in food stores, 14 per cent gain in drug stores, 14 per cent gain in eating establishments, and 10 per cent gain for general stores. Sales reductions were shown for automobile dealers, hardware stores, lumber dealers and furniture stores.

Retailers from Boise reported four per cent below August of last year. Peacelton showed a gain of four per cent and Nampa had a slight decrease.

134 ALASKANS AT JAPANESE CENTER

HUNT, Oct. 3.—One hundred and thirty-four residents of the Japanese relocation center here came from Alaska. And strangely, many of them never have seen or associated with a full-blooded Japanese before being brought here. Neither do they speak nor understand Japanese language.

However, because they are partly Japanese they were evacuated with the others.

The Alaskan brothers, Jim Taylor and Donald, came from Decatur, 100 miles north of Napa. They are half Eskimo and half Japanese.

Two colonists are from the Yukon by region, north of the Aleutians. They are half Alaskan-Indian. Their ancestors from the Kodiak mistle-pole are a Russian strain, as descendants live in the background.

A number, but lived in Indian villages and lived by hunting while some of them were in the majority came from the southern part of the territory and was engaged in normal business such as operating grocery stores, laundries, bakeries and restaurants.

Salesman Knifed In Boise Attack

BOISE, Oct. 3.—W. L. Goode, a salesman of Dallas, Tex., was in a Boise hospital today suffering from four knife wounds, and T. S. Davidson, operator of a Barber shop, was held by county officers as a result of a fracas at Davidson's motel.

Davidson was charged with assault with a deadly weapon in a complaint signed by County Attorney James Blaine and bond was set at $2,000 in a hearing before Justice of the Peace T. M. Roberts late today.

According to Sheriff Don Hendrick, the two men got into an argument over the lack of service in the resulting struggle Goode received one wound in the head and three on the back.

Goode's condition was reported to be serious.

Second Offer Of H. S. Play Earns Praise

By MARTHA SCHOFER
Scoring another hit with as equally a fine performance as that of the night previous, "Charley's Aunt" was given again Friday evening by local high school students. Again all the galaxy of the local Nurtures was brought to the audience by the fine acting of the cast, the music rendered and the costumes.

David Page and Clinton Lake were "naturals" as college men in an opening scene. Bill Iron, who in Thursday night's production played a different role, scored capably as Driscoll, the butler.

Robin's a Hit
The entrance of Robin Blaser as Lord Puncroft, Babbalanja, set off the TNT of laughter and explosions of mirth were heard throughout the performance. "Babbalanja" was school chums called him, posed as Charley's dear old aunt. Blaser's acting was so well received the patrons all but rolled in the aisles.

The cause of all the worry on the boys' part were Kitty, played by Miss Elaine Durling and Amy, played by Miss Shirley Hayes. Paul Mooney, a veteran Theatopian, again did a fine job in the role of Sir Francis Cliveley. Jack's father, Spectroque was well done by Don Quigley. Fred Van Engelen was seen as Farmer, a valet, and Miss Viki Bell as Maud, the maid. Arrival of Donna Lucia L'Alvador, the real aunt, enacted by Miss Shirley Hayes, Paul Dinger, brought the play to its peak. Miss Dinger was a find in this role. Miss Dorothy Kersel as Ella, the sweet thing of Lord Puncroft, dreams, came with Charley's aunt and joined letting the comedy to a happy ending.

Features Help
Adding to the interest of the evening's entertainment, features were given between the acts.

Going "back back when," Bob Dinger, Earl Dougherty, Carl Goodman and John Nevis, as the barber quartet, sang those old poppy-mist-pole favorites. Giving the quartet its final touch, Miss Alice Greer, dressed as the belle of the town, sang "She's Only a Bird in a Caged Cage" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." Then came a duet duet by Miss Orpha and Miss Eva Slokes.

Other members of the production were: Mable, Richard R. Smith and orchestra members; stage design, Miss Agnes Schubert, supervisor, Miss Vera Austin, Miss Mary Ann Durig, Miss Leta Pettigrove and Ned Smith; stage construction, H. Patterson and manual arts class; business management, Garth Reid, supervisor, Don Hickey, Miss Ruth A. Smith and Miss Katharine Graves.

Others Who Aided
Make-up was in charge of the play production class. Properties, Miss Betty Jo Knox and Miss Harriet Holter, advertising, Daniel Scott and Ernest Kienberry; costumes, Miss Susan Kienberry and Miss Rose Marie Harmony; vocal, Miss Marian Griggs; cell girls, Miss Betty Lou Wood; electrician, George Goff and Bob Wood, and stage manager, Tom White assisted by Claude Carvel and Ed Carroll.

Miss Florence Ives as director was assisted by Miss Audrey Wertheimer.
