CLAPPER high standard of living in America. It was the envy of the rest of the world. But we know now that we cannot fight this war on that standard of living.

Long before the war began Europe was pulling in its belt. In 1937 in Europe I saw queues in cities I visited. Lines of people waited in front of vegetable stands in Moscow. In Berlin my wife went shopping with a friend and they found an amazed crowd of housewives standing around a produce dealer's little stock of eggs—the first that had been on sale in months. Children in Berlin were at that time gathering up toothpaste tubes and metal scrap on Saturdays. They were already at war on the home front. People shivered in their homes in the winter months.

For a long time Donald Nelson and Leon Henderson have been warning us that the standard of living in this country would go down to 1932 levels before the war was over. It will not be easy in this country unless we readjust ourselves mentally to the fact that during the war we are not living in a land of plenty but in a land of shortage. Our bakery shop here has one sign above the main service counter:

CHILD AID SETUP HAS WIDE SCOPE

One of the last in a series of community projects concerning the children of Twin Falls is the Child Aid Setup, which is now under way.

Two hundred and sixty-one children were cared for during 1941 by the Children's Home Finding and Aid society, Boise. To which the probable courts in the 34 southern counties of Idaho count about 50 per cent of this number. About 50 per cent received temporary care and later returned to their parents. The remainder were received on permanent court orders because parents had shown their unwillingness to rear the children.

The society is managed by a board of directors consisting of 11 members and is partly financed by the state and various counties. But the society finds it necessary to solicit half the funds from charitable subscriptions and in consequence it is one of the many organizations aided by the Community Chest campaign in Twin Falls.

Foster Homes
Whenever possible, children received on permanent court orders are placed in good foster homes. These homes are selected before children are placed and also afterwards to assure the happy adjustment of the child. The foster parents in solving problems resulting from the new relationship. Many of the children are excellent homes, while many of the older girls are placed with relatives who are respected and reliable.

While receiving the care of the children's home, children are given the best of education. Recreational facilities are provided by the home staff. Miss Beulah, Girl Scout and YWCA.

Wages
Whenever possible, the children are placed in homes where the wages of each child and the supervision of their attendance at school are made in making plans for the religious affiliations of the parents are considered and the child is placed in a home of the same faith.

Health Safeguarded
To safeguard the health of the children in the home, all preventive measures such as vaccinations, inoculations and other immunizations are employed. Blood tests and general physical examinations are given to each incoming child. Surgery is performed when necessary. Mental care is provided and alcohol is forbidden.

In the war emergency, birth certificates and affidavits of relationship are required. The date of birth have been secured for former residents of the children's home so that they can be traced in the armed forces and take employment in war industries.

Questions and Answers About Stabilization of Living Costs

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The following questions and answers were compiled on the basis of information supplied by government officials who are developing plans for the administration of the President's executive order stabilizing living costs by control of prices and salaries.

Q. What does the program cover?
A. Nearly all prices of commodities and services. Also all wages and salaries.

Q. What does the order try to do?
A. To bring prices and salaries back to the level of September 1, 1941.

Q. Are there any exceptions to this?
A. Yes, to the case of certain agricultural commodities and foods to which other standards can be applied.

WAGES AND SALARIES.
Q. Does the program define the difference between wages and salaries?
A. Yes. Salaries are specifically defined as remuneration for personal services regularly paid on a weekly, monthly or yearly basis. Wages are remuneration on an hourly rate basis.

Q. Are wages frozen at the present level?
A. Yes, at least for the time being. The war labor board may approve any increase or decrease but it has not set up the machinery for doing so.

Q. Can salaried workers earning less than $5,000 be given raises without WLB approval?
A. Yes, if the raises come through collective bargaining, or other group measures. Individual bargaining is not afforded for salaried persons making less than $5,000.

Q. Can an individual paid on a wage basis be granted an increase without WLB approval?
A. No. The WLB cannot grant a raise unless it can obtain an increase. A raise not kept in line with the ruling will be subject to a fine.

Q. Must salaries in excess of $5,000 be approved by the WLB?
A. Yes, in this respect. Until a regulation is issued by OES Director, Mr. Eugene A. Tamm, a regulation cannot be answered specifically.

Q. I work in a small grocery store and my employer agrees to give me a raise. Will I have to wait until the WLB acts in my particular case?
A. The WLB probably will exempt small establishments from the order.

Q. I am an executive earning about $25,000 a year. Must my case first get specific approval from the WLB?
A. Yes, unless you have been responsible for work of your employer decide whether you have been assigned to such work, but the ultimate judge, it is found that the increase violates the law, both of you are equally guilty.

Q. I live in an area which was not designated as a defense-related section until this week. How soon may I expect a cut in rent to the March 1, 1942 level?
A. This federal government order must be directed for 60 days dating from Oct. 1.

Q. What happens at the end of the 60 day period?
A. If price Administrator Leon Henderson finds that the rents are excessive, he can be stepped in and regulate the rents.

Q. I operate a rooming house in an area where the rents were ordered to be rolled back to prevailing level of Jan. 1, 1941. Can I now make my rents to conform with those in the area?
A. Yes, unless the area has been designated as a defense-related area. In that case, the rents would not be affected by the order.

Q. I take in a single boarder. Am I affected by federal rent control?
A. Yes.
Q. Does the new order apply to rents in office buildings or warehouses?
A. No, unless the space is to be used for living quarters. This would not affect the rent.

WAR CRIMINALS TO GET TRIALS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—A post-war trial of Adolf Hitler for high crimes against humanity was apparently foreshadowed when President Roosevelt asked the terms of the United Nations victory would call for punishment of "war criminals" responsible for organized murder.

Without mentioning Hitler by name, the President disclosed the United Nations were already moving to set up a commission to gather evidence for use at post-war trials.

Drawing a sharp line between Axis leaders and the people under them, Mr. Roosevelt said in a statement: "It is not the intention of the government or of the governments associated with it to react to such reprisals, it is our intention that just and sure punishment shall be meted out to the guilty."

The commission will be responsible for the organized murder of thousands of innocent persons and the commission of atrocities which have violated every tenet of the Christian faith.

Laird Sumner, Welles, acting secretary of state, and the United Nations commission mentioned by Mr. Roosevelt would begin operations soon; that is, it would begin the collection of evidence and the examination of reports to it concerning various atrocities.

WLB AFFIRMS ALL PAST PAY RAISES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The war labor board today affirmed all its past wage increases and gave approval to any voluntary wage raises between Sept. 15 and Oct. 8, thus clearing the way to start from scratch as of Monday under the president's new anti-inflation order.

The order nullified the board's jurisdiction to include labor disputes in all industries.

The President gave prices and wages, generally speaking, as of Sept. 15, with provisions for the correction of inequities.

The ruling of approving all increases put into effect prior to Oct. 8 reserved the right for the board to order discontinuance of such increases which it later finds to be inequitable with the policy of the executive order of any policy formulated by former Supreme Court Justice James P. Byrne, economic stabilization director.

Chairman William H. Davis of the board said the board lacked jurisdiction over salaries less than $10,000 and that it would be up to firms to deal with "excessive increases" to employees in salary brackets below $5,000.

SPEAKERS STATE OLD ORDER GONE

PAULO ALTO, Calif., Oct. 8 (AP)—The phrase "for the duration" probably means 100 years so far as the effect of the present war on civilization is concerned, Lewis Mumford, noted social planner, had asserted today.

He predicted that for many years Americans would have to live in a war economy, foregoing private comforts in order to share their production with the people of conquered countries.

Mumford said "some American leaders" were making "only false, empty promises" when they talked about the likelihood of a great outpouring of private airplanes, automobiles, refrigerators and other material comforts after the fighting has ceased.

The end of the war, he added, will not mean the end of war conditions. Men must create new institutions for a more solid, more humane world. Religion, morals and political science must be advanced to give man a civilization that physical science could not achieve.

Mumford's comments marked his first official appearance as a member of the Stanford university faculty. With other Stanford professors he spoke at a symposium on the war.

Dr. Karl Brandt, former economic adviser to the German government, now a member of the Stanford food research institute, said Hitler's new order already had been achieved in Europe.

It may be replaced by a newer order if the United Nations win, Brandt added, "but the old order is gone—not for the duration but forever."

YOUNG MEN ARE ASKED FOR ARMY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—Maj. Gen. James A. Ulio, adjutant general of the army, for the second time within a week, appealed today for immediate enlistment of 18 and 19-year-old youths in this "young man's war."

He warned that "too many of us are still qualifying the conditions under which we will go all out to win the war."

Ulio did not specifically propose that congress change the selective service act to include the younger men, but congressional sources revealed that the war department is preparing for immediate enactment of such legislation.

Ulio's statement was made in a radio interview over the Atlantic coast network and was similar to a plea he made last Sunday.

"Today, endurance and skill are the main tests of soldiers in battle—and both of these military attributes can be readily developed in young Americans," he said.

In British troops men and 19 are serving with distinction. Boys 18 and 19 years of age have been sent to the front in the United States. No doubt about it, this is a young man's war and when the final battle is fought, it will be won by young veterans."

"Our problem today is quite serious," he said. "In this planet we must have sufficient troops to serve on every front. Remember, when we open the front door, we must have men guarding the back door and the battle may sometime equal our own in both our front and back yard."

Japs Sign Lease For China Isle

CHUNGKING, China, Oct. 8 (AP)—A Chinese army spokesman reported today that Japan and the Japanese-sponsored Chinese government had signed a secret treaty which provisions included a long-term lease for the Japanese for the island of Hainan.

Hainan, an island of 14,000 square miles, lies off southernmost China and French Indo-China. Japanese forces landed there in February, 1939. The United States, Great Britain and France all asked Tokyo for explanations and were told the occupation would last only as long as military necessity demanded. The Japanese then established themselves solidly there and erected a base, utilized in their southwest Pacific campaign.

When Buhl Grade Schoolers Went to Town With Scrap

Graders at Buhl Climax Own Scrap Drive With Big Parade

BUHL, Oct. 8 (AP)—Two hundred and sixty pupils of the F. H. Buhl primary school had their own unique parade at 1 P.M. Monday, culminating a week's intensive campaign of friendly competition among the various classes of the school in collecting scrap metal. The line of march was from the F. H. Buhl school building on Ninth avenue, up Broadway to the Langdon salvage depot, where the scrap metal was weighed and the various classes were paid for their collection.

A total of 5710 pounds of scrap was collected by pupils of the school, and it was found that Miss Elizabeth Adams' third grade class had collected the greatest amount. Their contribution weighed approximately one ton.

Dreiser Renews Attack on Titled Class in Britain

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—Dreiser today had renewed his criticism of England's "titled and moneyed" class in a formal reply to a recent denunciation of him by the "writers" was based on Sept. 24 issue of the "New York Times."

The writer was based on Sept. 24 issue of the "New York Times" in a formal reply to a recent denunciation of him by the "writers" was based on Sept. 24 issue of the "New York Times."

In a letter answering the board, Dreiser accused it of "allying" with the "titled and moneyed" class without "troubling to investigate the facts concerning my remarks" at Toronto.

"I did not ally myself with Hitler and I did denounce the titled and moneyed class of England which I held and still hold to be responsible for the 'Hitler' future to our kind."

Dreiser was quoted as saying that Hitler would attack England and abolish that titled class.

People Responding Admirably In Scrap Drive, Nelson Says

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—Dr. A. J. Nelson, chairman of the war production board last night said the American people were responding admirably to the current drive to collect metal scrap and urged citizens with local boards and collectors in getting the material to processing plants.

"Reports from all sections of the country," Nelson said in a statement, "indicate that patriotic Americans are responding admirably to the appeal by the newspapers to save scrap metal immediately in order that our steel mills may operate at capacity."

"In some sections the 'household' collected has exceeded our most optimistic hopes and the people of the country should realize that the facilities necessary to clean, prepare, sort and bale this material will be taxed to the limit and that operating at capacity, it will take some time to move all this material. These victory stock piles, however, will not ensure continued operations."

"If trade channels cannot immediately buy and start processing the victory stock piles, I assure the patriotic citizens of the country that the government will do so because all of the material is so urgently needed."

SENATE SETS 40 PER CENT LEVY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—By an overwhelming vote, the Senate today had approved a 40-per cent tax on corporation incomes above $50,000, after rejecting, 73 to 9, a proposal by Sen. La Follette, R., Wis., to increase that rate to 50 per cent.

Then it voted to reduce the credit for dependent children and others from $400 to $200 and turned to a discussion of the problem of taxing income from state and municipal securities historically exempt from federal assessments.

Both votes on corporation rates found the Senate following the advice of its finance committee and disregarding the recommendations of the treasury. The latter had recommended a rate of 35 per cent on corporation incomes over $50,000. By comparison, the house approved a rate of 45 per cent.

24 Per Cent Normal Tax. The rates cited, consisted of a normal tax of 24 per cent (unchanged from the present law) plus surtaxes, but not including a 90 per cent tax on excess profits.

"The people of this country face the greatest tax crisis in the history of the world," La Follette said, in prefacing his program. "It is imperative that we exercise the power of taxation in order that we may maintain the credit of the government and levy the crushing burden on the people and the corporations in proportion to their ability to pay."

Senator Taft, R.-O., objected that La Follette's rates were so stiff that they might destroy industrial initiative.

"Too great taxation may wreck the country and wreck the success of the war," he said, "and the government must be able to pay."

Takes Exception to Statement. Taking exception to a La Follette statement that the finance committee was a "conservative committee," he defended what he termed its effort "to give the country a sound economic background."

As drawn by the committee, he said, the bill would take away about $200,000,000 of a total corporation net income of $17,000,000,000. At the same time, he added, it would take

Veteran Receives Army Promotion

Ronald O. Bell, a native of Twin Falls and a veteran of 12 years in the army, has been promoted from master sergeant to warrant officer, according to word received by his mother, Mrs. C. B. Bell, road three.

Warrant Officer Bell, who serves with a medical battalion at Camp Swift, Tex., was born and reared at Twin Falls, and enlisted in the army in 1923. He went to Camp Swift as a master sergeant when that camp opened in July.

only about $100,000,000 from individuals with a combined income of $200,000,000.

Sen. Vandenberg, R. Mich., interrupted to observe that the transaction would be unable to "reduce" $100,000,000 out of individuals if we rob the corporations of money with which to pay dividends.

REVISION OF BUS SCHEDULES ASKED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—Defense Director Joseph B. Eastman called last night for a revision of school bus schedules "on the assumption that the physically able child can walk two miles to and from school, where weather conditions permit."

Eastman gave assurance that the 4,000,000 American girls and boys who must ride school buses will continue to get to their classes this winter, but declared "school districts everywhere should survey their bus service at once to determine where weather conditions may be made."

He called for elimination of school bus service where rail or regular public bus service is available for reduction in the number of stops by having children living on side roads meet their buses at the main highways, even if this means additional waiting for them.

In a statement aimed at school officials, he added: "Staggering of school hours, worked out on a communitywide basis, also will reduce school buses for the transportation of workers."

School buses must not be used where curtailments may be made.

PILOT GOES FROM MUSIC TO BOMBS

By MERVIN SHONEMAKER

Twin Falls realizes that it is a silent army which is getting into its stride, when it hears that Claude Jorgensen, former trombone player and vocalist with Will Wright and his orchestra, is plotting a bomber carrying the attack to the enemy in the middle east.

About three years ago Jorgensen was recruited as one of the trombone players in this part of the country, where he was a member of the Wright organization. He not only played the instrument well, but he added color as a bass soloist and arranged orchestration for the organization. Nobody watching his delicate manipulation of these fingers later would guess a Comanche D-24 for the dropping of 1000-pound bombs on enemy targets.

Plane Attacked

"I rode with Americans from nine states in the Wichita," writes a special association correspondent accompanying our files on a middle east raid. "The pilot was Lt. Glade Jorgensen, a blond, husky, square-jawed trombone player who used to lead a band at Twin Falls, Ida. . . Our bomber got the word of it because she was the last to drop her bomb load. But she shot down a Messerschmidt plane for her, and then, with three wounded men aboard, and riddled with holes from enemy cannon and machine gun fire, landed home over 100 miles of ocean. Before she left, she told me her work with dropping her bomb square on the target in the face of heavy anti-aircraft fire."

The official communiqué said that the Americans dropped two large supply-laden cargo vessels, and bombs which resulted in violent explosions attended by fires.

In school together, Wright and Jorgensen were good pals for their band when they were in high school together in Utah in 1909. They had made plans to start when Will came to Twin Falls and band plans were changed. Wright then went alone to the west and Jorgensen joined him in 1924, after being graduated from Brigham Young university. From there, where he majored in music and came through with high honors, Jorgensen started with this band from 1925 to 1927, then was out for a time, and rejoined the organization for the summer of 1929.

The popular trombonist was playing with Jerry Jones' orchestra on the roof garden of the Hotel Utah at Salt Lake City when he was inducted as a soldier in 1940. Immediately after his induction he applied for entrance into the army air forces, and began his training in that branch at Santa Monica, Calif. There successive stages of training took him to Moffet field and Lake Field, where it was all pure flying, and then to heavy bomber training at Sheppard, La. His first assignment was as co-pilot of a heavy bomber over the Caribbean in submarine patrol. About two months ago he flew a bomber to Europe and stayed on the other side. Jorgensen is a talented and educated musician who furnishes the perfect illustration of American versatility. For as long as it takes he will do that heavy bomber work, where that Hitler or Hirohito can be given a good passing, and then he will go back to his trombone by way of war, and enroll at the Boston Conservatory of Music.

Former Twin Falls Trombone Player Pilots Plane in Raid

By HENRY T. GORRELL

AT A U. S. NAVY COMBANDMENT BASE IN THE MIDDLE EAST, Oct. 3 (Delayed UP-1) trying to cross the Atlantic in an air force today, roughly retracing the route along which it retreated from the British in April 1941.

I saw the enemy draw Yankee blood at Navarino bay (Troy) and counted the toll as they paid here in the air. Two powerful waves of four-engine Consolidated planes drove the German fleet back with an air-attack of 1000-pound bombs.

Shipping was blown to hither and yon, and the German fleet was completely, losing four of five fighters in the attempt.

The line was blind crazy about it. Once he shouted over the radio to our commander, Maj. John Kane of Sheerness, La., to "get hell off the air" because our radio was interfering with the control of his Messerschmidt fighters.

From Nine States

What he really meant was "get the hell off the air because I'm trying to send a message of planes up to you."

Sees Action

LIEUT. GLADE JORGENSEN

had done much flying since they found her in Lakeland, Fla., but she couldn't make this trip because there were no gammas for dogs.

We flew in loose formation until about an hour before we reached the target. There was little talking. But Staff Sgt. Joseph X. Byrne, radio operator-gunner from La Crosse, Wis., who wears a wisp of a goatee like Lili Albers' puppy, found time to remark that he wanted "to get back early to listen to the world series."

Busy Later

Byrne was plenty busy later, piloting 50-caliber machine gun but he was not alone. He was joined by Staff Sgt. Donald S. Allen of New York, who was credited with sending one Hun down in flames.

Staff Sgt. Henry M. Sparger of Mt. Airy, N. C., the bombardier and the only married man aboard, also had a busy time.

Then there was Fred, the right wing gunner who took an enemy ship in his right hand, shouted over the communication phone, "We got him," and fired a down more bullets at the German plane for good measure before he collapsed.

First to reach Prok was Technical Sgt. Marvin L. Breeding, ordered gunner from Dallas, Tex. He had just signed in his leg but his first concern was for his pal.

Technical Sgt. Joseph E. Farmer of St. Charles, Va., who saw the first attacking Messerschmidt fall in flames, also was hit by shrapnel, but he suffered only a scratch under his right eye.

FRENCH PEOPLE WARNED BY U. S.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—A United States army warning to the people of occupied France to move away from objects likely to be targets of U. S. bombers was broadcast at frequent intervals throughout the day yesterday by two powerful transmitters in the United States.

The warning, read just before and just after each broadcast beamed to Europe by the NBC stations WJLA and WJLA, was broadcast in French, but also was being carried to the rest of Europe in Swedish, Danish, Norwegian, German, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, Greek and Turkish.

The text:

"Listen to an important communication from the American high command to French people in the occupied zone."

"American bombing from the air is directed only to Germany and those installations which in France and other occupied territories are working for the German war machine."

Sympathy for French

"The sentiments of the United States of America toward the French people are only those of great sympathy. It is in our opinion that the American high command gives you the warning which you are about to hear in order that the inhabitants of the occupied zone may take for themselves and for their families the necessary measures for their safety."

"You are alerted to an important communication from the American high command to the French people of the occupied zone."

"To all inhabitants of the occupied zone, living within two kilometers of military factories working for Germany, we advise you to evacuate your homes. When the bombardment of a target is carried out at high altitude, some bombs may fall on other places than the target itself. It is for this reason that we advise the French in the occupied zone, living within a radius of two kilometers of factories working for Germany, to leave their homes."

Objectives Pointed Out

"The objectives likely to be attacked by our bombers are all automobile factories which are converted to the German war effort and especially those making or repairing planes, tanks, vehicles, locomotives, firearms and chemical products. The other targets likely to be attacked by our planes are railroad stations, harbors, submarine bases, airfields and concentration points of German troops."

"You have just heard an important communication from the American high command directed to the French in the occupied zone."
