

CITY-OWNED SITE CHOSEN AS SPOT FOR BIG AIRPORT

Definite selection of the Twin Falls airport as the site for a $761,000 airport to be built by the civil aeronautics authority was announced last night by Mayor Joe Koehler. The mayor's announcement came in the form of a telegram from Seattle, where he went to confer with Paul Murie, regional head of the CAA. Mayor Koehler said that he has a CAA contract to submit to the city council at its regular meeting Monday night, and that CAA engineers will arrive here Oct. 16 to begin the final survey.

Tentative plans for the new Twin Falls airport call for three runways, each 7,200 feet long, and a taxi strip the same length. An estimated money to be spent by the CAA will be spent only for runways, taxi strip, aprons, buildings, and other incidentals. The city is responsible for furnishing the land, and possibly such things as hangars or administration buildings as may be desired. Both CAA and army engineers will work on the project, but it has been previously announced that army engineers will draw up plans and specifications, and all army engineers will be in charge of the work. It will be a class four field.

Announcement of the definite site selection was confirmation for the judgment of Mayor Koehler, who "went out on a limb" two weeks ago by taking up an option on 120 acres of land adjacent to the airport, which formerly was owned by Bob Hart. Mayor Koehler had done considerable work on the project, and was confident of the site to be selected when the CAA first announced allocation of money for the project. The mayor's telegram said that the possible site near Hollister, which has been a topic of much discussion here, has been definitely rejected by the army commission which considered it.

BATTLE SUBSIDES ON SOVIET FRONT

MOSCOW, Sunday, Oct. 11 (P)—The great battle inside the ruble-strewn city of Stalingrad appeared today to have settled into staid warfare on the borders of the night Soviet communiqué which mentioned only small-scale skirmishes in the streets.

Both the Russians and the Germans, however, were launching attacks after attack northwest of the city where, the communiqué said, the Russians had improved their positions in successive days of local initiative.

Minor Engagements—Only two minor engagements inside the city were mentioned in the communiqué which indicated that the lines there remained unchanged. One of these was a series of minor and artillery attacks launched by the Russians against German fortifications.

In another sector, the communiqué said, an enemy detachment attempted to penetrate Russian defenses by driving women and children ahead of them. The Russians, however, made their way to the next street and attacked from the flank killing the Germans.

The decrease in the intensity of fighting inside Stalingrad followed German news announcements on Thursday that hereafter attacks on the city would be confined to the front and back streets where German objectives already had been attained.

Fired to Withdraw—Northwest of the city, the communiqué said, a German battalion managed to cross the "Don" river at the Don in one sector but by sunset had been forced to withdraw to its former position after suffering heavy losses.

Fierce fighting continued in the Mordok area, in the Caucasus where a Soviet unit was said to have repelled four enemy attacks, annihilating about 200 men.

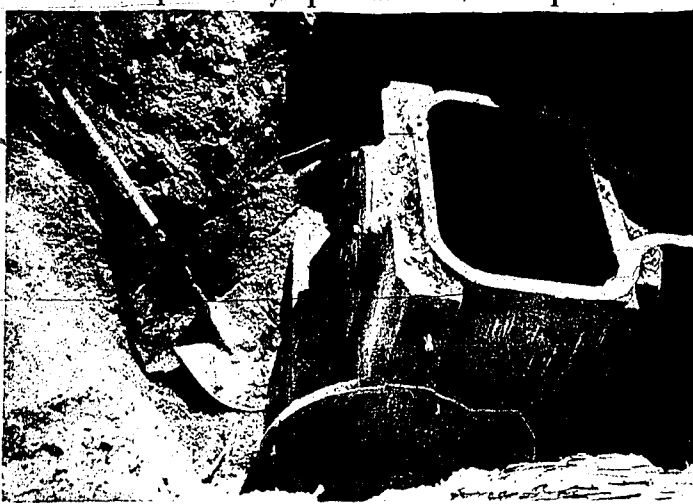

Town Surpasses Its Own Goal of Ton-Per-Person

PETE, Colo., Oct. 10 (P)—Pete, a little Logan county town of 297 men, women and children, belated today its own scrap drive goal of one ton per person. The town's scrap drive had been weighed into the town scrap pile, Mayor C. P. Thompson reported.

"We're not through yet," the mayor remarked. He said the town's salvage campaign, after hearing the 225-ton report at noon, decided to fix a new goal of 240 tons for a final cleanup effort.

CCC Camp Find May Open Nationwide Scrap Source

Somewhere in this global war American soldiers are needing the guns that this scrap iron treasure trove will furnish when it finds its way to the scrap pile, and thence to the steel mill. This is heavy cast iron, weighing between 700 and 1,000 pounds, which is part of many tons to have been buried at the Rock creek camp by CCC authorities between 1935 and 1938. Its size may be judged by the shovel leaning against the side of the pit. A length of bright copper wire immediately to the upper left of the casting indicates that other war-essential metal may have been buried with the iron. (Staff Photo-Engraving)

Buried Metal at CCC Camp Opens New Scrap Vista

The Twin Falls county salvage committee had "struck gold" today in the form of a rich load of buried scrap iron uncovered at the abandoned CCC camp on Rock creek, near the Minidoka national forest at Rath.

Discovery of the buried treasure promises to swell the county's scrap total by many tons, and may possibly open a vast new nationwide source of old cast iron and steel desperately needed by war-hardened steel mills.

Preliminary digging has already exposed a cast iron transmission case for a Cletrac "33" tractor, believed to weigh nearly 1,000 pounds. Indications are that further excavation will uncover a large quantity of scrap weighing about 100 tons, said to have been buried virtually intact, in addition to much other war-worn and broken machinery and machine parts.

Maxon C. Allen, a forestry service foreman for 10 years, and recently employed on a forestry office project, told the Times-News how the huge deposit of scrap from the CCC camp was found at the time. The superintendent in charge was C. H. Ramsey.

Value Set Then—It is Allen's understanding that CCC authorities were ordered to bury the old equipment during the period of 1935 to 1938, because its value as scrap at that time did not justify the trouble and expense of selling it.

It was then a common practice in CCC camps, it was pointed out by salvage committee members here last night, the nation's CCC "burial pits" might yield many thousands of tons of scrap. During during a period when machinery was considered a "job killer" for men, they reasoned, it now could be a highly useful purpose by conversion into guns, ships and tanks.

"We buried it to get it out of sight," Allen said. "You know, never see a pile of junk lying around an army camp. We dug trenches with bulldozers, dumped the stuff in, and then covered it."

He explained that nothing was again to take one more last look before being satisfied that it had turned over every last fragment of old metal to the scrap pile.

Some of the organized labor's members were pitting in at their own expense and business men were helping to keep the ground so the workers and their employees together could hunt for scrap. The country was being scoured by millions of school children.

Kansas, Utah and Oregon said to be among the groups in some rankings they had had for two days. Ohio moved into fourth.

Weather Hinders Nazis in Russia

BERLIN (From German broadcast)—Oct. 10 (P)—Weather conditions are beginning to hamper operations on the eastern front where snowstorms in the Caucasus are a major obstacle to a Transcaucasian dispatch today.

A three-ton blanket of snow already covers the ground in some sections of the Caucasus, the report said.

U. S. Planes Drop 48 Tons Of Bombs on New Rabaul; Japs Land Reinforcements

The United States army air force struck heavy blows at the Japanese in Rabaul, New Britain, for the second successive day yesterday as the navy disclosed the Japanese again had landed reinforcements on Guadalcanal at the cost of a destroyer sunk and a cruiser and destroyer damaged.

About forty tons of bombs were dropped on the Japanese base in this new demonstration of allied striking power in the southwest Pacific. A day earlier 60 tons were unloaded.

The Japanese landings on Guadalcanal were the latest step in the determined fight to wrest the vital Solomon Islands air base from the U. S. marines.

The navy announced yesterday that about the same time army headquarters in London was checking the full extent of a smashing U. S. air victory against the Germans over Lille, France, Friday.

Greatest Daylight Bombing—In the greatest daylight bombing attack of the war, 103 flying fortresses and Liberators, bomber destroyers and planes, dropped 48 tons of bombs and destroyed 28 and damaged 10. The 500 accompanying fighters shot down 30.

Only four U. S. bombers and no fighters were lost, making an amazingly small loss.

Bombing whittled down German air strength, the Americans putter steel and locomotive works at Lille which were working for the Germans.

Fire Visible 30 Miles—Some 50 tons of explosives and incendiaries were dumped on the base from which the Japanese were pushing back the U. S. forces. A large fire visible for 30 miles in various installations.

In importance, the raid on Rabaul possibly outranked even the "Big Week" bombing of Germany. The Japanese were intent upon retaking the field and this greatly the gains of the first major U. S. offensive of the war.

Hold Small Beachheads—The matter took only small beachheads around the airfield. The Japanese control the rest of the island, which is powerful and overgrown that offensive operations by our force are difficult to maintain.

German Wins—Michigan's Wolverines grabbed a 14-0 lead in the first 20 minutes against Bernie Bierman's Iowa preflight outfit but could not fight off the Hawkeyes' comeback. The game began at 8 p. m. M. W. T. will start at half an hour and will probably be a close game.

AMERICAN HOUSEWIVES TO BE NATION'S "PRICE WARDENS"

NEW FORMULA TO START TUESDAY

By HILLIER KRIGHEITBAUM

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—Many American housewives will check on "highly higher" prices of 11 broad groups of food products as the new formula for price control goes into effect today.

They emphasized that for the time being, enforcement of a new alternative pricing formula on such common items as breakfast cereals, sugar, coffee and canned vegetables will be on a voluntary basis.

Price Chief Leon Henderson, in a message to housewives, said it was their "particular duty" to inform a neighbor if they believe he failed to abide by the letter and spirit of the price control program.

Should refuse to pay higher prices, Henderson said, "Remember, your cost of living and your neighbor's are vital to the war effort," he said. "You can help in our national battle against rising prices and the danger of inflation by refusing to pay more than the legal price."

The actual penny-a-penny increase to consumers under the new pricing formula could not be immediately estimated because of its complex nature. OPA experts, however, figured the system will add between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 to the $2,000,000,000 annually now spent in the 11 food categories.

Other products affected include canned fish, cooking and salad oils, rice, hydrogenated and other shortening, dried fruits and nuts.

The new provisions were worked out by OPA to relieve pressure on retailers and wholesalers who had to pay for raw materials themselves. More than $750,000 in food and 100,000 sheep will be given an opportunity to use it.

Own Markup

Under the formula, a retailer may decide whether he wants to use his March quotations or a new marking ranging from 10 to 25 per cent. The amount varies for each food group and each of four classes of retailers. Three groupings of wholesalers are given similar special markings.

Officials explained that the regulations should bring back on food store shelves many products and brands which had disappeared or were scarce because the merchants declined to replace items on which they would lose money. They said that a housewife's food food expenditures may decrease, but she has had to buy higher quality goods because lower-priced items were unavailable.

OPA officials have asked buyers to patronize stores where critics were heeded and to avoid those where they are not.

Own Price Warden

Before the war was over, one spokesman said, it probably will be necessary for housewives to become "price wardens" to enforce ceilings. He estimated that 2,500,000 enforcement officers would be needed for air-tight check-ups, adding that such a staff obviously was impossible.

Greater use of the housewives to check on violators is following the example of both Great Britain and Canada where women keep so-called "Queen Elizabeth books" to note quotations.

OPA officials said that the alternative pricing formula was the first of three remedies being worked out to rid food violators and retailers who were squeezed by the March ceiling prices.

The others, to be issued shortly, will permit specific price increases on some new crops, canned goods other than vegetables to cover increasing costs of the raw materials and labor and a number of highly seasonal products such as holiday candies, apple cider and maple syrup.

$14.55 Tops Paid For Hogs in Pool

Three hundred and five hogs brought a top price of $14.55 in the pool conducted by the Twin Falls County Livestock Marketing association here Friday. The price was 35 cents less than received for the previous shipment.

Thirty-seven shippers received $2,553.75 for 305 hogs weighing 67,618 pounds, J. H. Larson, San Francisco, was the purchaser.

The livestock association is now shipping hogs each week, both from Twin Falls and Boise.

The association will ship hogs next Friday in addition to hogs, County Agent Bert Bollingbrook announced yesterday.

This Scrap Iron Has History

Mrs. H. H. Kilborn, Kimberly, holds part of the old iron store she found in the desolate cabin once occupied by "Diamond Field Jack." The scrap was of the same type as the one which was used in the cattle va. sheep was of 1886. (Staff Photo-Contributing)

"Diamond Field Jack's" Stove Aids Uncle Sam as War Scrap

The most historic scrap iron of all—so far as southern Idaho's own history is concerned—was donated to Uncle Sam's drive for war materials yesterday.

The iron consisted of at least half a dozen heavy pieces from the cabin of "Diamond Field Jack," Casaca county's gun-toting cowboy who has been there since 1886, when he was a sheep herder. The cabin was found on the scaffold at Albion in 1927, and eventually went free.

Mrs. H. H. Kilborn, Kimberly, brought the pieces of Diamond Field Jack's stove to the Times-News office, from where they will go into the scrap pool. They will go into the scrap pool to help money to conquer the axis, the old stove was found last week by Mrs. Kilborn in the Casaca division of the Minidoka forest.

Diamond Field Jack's cabin, she found, has collapsed from age and only a small part of the walls remains upright. Two huts, built on the door and Mrs. Kilborn is keeping these for souvenirs.

She found the cabin and her son was deer hunting. Mrs. Kilborn stayed behind while her son was deer hunting. Mrs. Kilborn stayed behind while her son was deer hunting. Mrs. Kilborn stayed behind while her son was deer hunting.

Big News Then

The bit of southern Idaho history recalled by the scrap metal donation was once on the tip of every tongue in old Casaca county—where then lived the present Twin Falls county. Diamond Field Jack, whose surname was Davis, was said to be a thief and a gambler, and he was said to have been executed and each receive came only a few hours before he was to mount the gallows.

Jack, a hunchy man with a six-gun, was convicted of murdering John C. Wilson, one of two silver-miners found shot to death Feb. 16, 1896 in these wagon 23 miles from the present site of Twin Falls city. Traced to Nevada and then to Idaho, he was brought back for trial despite violent protests that he was innocent.

Children Order 1,047 New Tags

"Twin Falls school children will not be 'lost for long' in case of emergency. If identification tags have anything to do with it.

Grade school pupils of Twin Falls, including Bigley, Lincoln and Washington schools, as well as St. Edmond's, have been ordered to have their identification tags made up by the close of school Friday. Orders for the tags were mailed out on Monday.

The identification tags will be ordered through the schools, and should arrive within the next week or 10 days. The project is sponsored by the Twin Falls Parent-Teacher association council, with Mrs. W. C. Morgan and Mrs. Lionel Dean as chairmen.

Two-thirds of the children in the three grade schools of independent district No. 1, representing the first six grades, have ordered the tags. According to Sup't. Morgan.

Other students, including junior and senior high schools, are ordered who have not as yet placed orders, will have the opportunity to do so, following the harvest vacation. The identification tags cost 20 cents apiece, and bear the name of the child, the street address and the child's street address and the town.

SCHOOLS RECEIVE WILD LIFE BOOK

As a contribution to the education of the boys and girls of Idaho, the state fish and game commission, stepping far out of its usual field, has distributed to the public schools a book entitled "Wild Life of Idaho." First copies of the new book were received at the office of Mrs. Dorothy Bradley, Twin Falls county superintendent of public instruction, last week.

Handsomely bound, the book contains 300 pages with 90 illustrations of nearly every species of animal, fish and game bird that abounds in the state.

The text is by William M. Rush, who acknowledges the assistance of Fred H. Murr, director of research and superintendent of Irving school in Portland, Ore. Mrs. M. H. Hanson, superintendent of elementary schools in the department of education, Burton Perrine and George G. G. of the fish and game commission, and Oscar Jenkins, from whose modest specimens a number of the bird pictures were taken.

The forward is by Gov. Chase A. Clark.

In addition to descriptive articles on the wild life of the state, the book has added fictional stories of the lives of many of the animals. Then, too, is added an article on the life of the early settlers in Idaho.

A statement by the fish and game commission in the front of the book says: "This book has been donated to the public schools of Idaho by the state fish and game commission. It is the desire of the commission that it be used freely and that students be permitted to take the book home for reading and study, but it should be carefully preserved and returned to the school from which it was borrowed. If lost or destroyed, the book must be purchased. Additional copies of the book may be purchased from the Idaho fish and game commission at Boise."

Rescuing 5 Sailors Cost Half Million

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10 (AP)—The cost of rescuing five sailors from the sinking aircraft carrier Yorktown was $1,000,000 apiece.

Details of what may have been the most expensive rescue in naval history were told today by eyewitnesses of the warship who did it.

Four marines, part of the complement of 22 aboard the carrier, were going over the side with $500,000 and marine records when they heard several sailors were trapped under floating wreckage.

They dropped injury and resuscitated and saved five men before pulling away from the carrier in a lifeboat.

That story and others of marine heroism aboard the Yorktown were told here during the visit of Brit. Gen. Robert L. Denig, marine corps public relations director.

It was disclosed that Capt. Elliott Buckmaster, commanding officer of the Yorktown, had to prod the marines to get them off the vessel.

"Come on, you marines," he shouted, "don't you know I can't leave the ship until you do?"

The marines, told "We'll leave the ship if you don't," the Japanese torpedo plane pilot who flew over the deck at an altitude of less than 50 feet. He stood up in the cockpit and thumbed his nose at the Americans.

"We got him," said Corp. Calhoun E. Emmons, "we got our machine gun and got his nose. We cut that ship in half and blew his plane apart."

Our marine was reading a magazine story titled "Island by Torpedo" when the call came to take up battle stations for the Midway fight.

'GOOD NEIGHBOR' POLICIES LAUDED

PAYETTE, Idaho, Oct. 10 (AP)—The people south of the Rio Grande stand firmly behind the United States in her determination to win the war, but America must convince these people that the "good neighbor" policy is not a selfish program to benefit North American only, Manuel Gilron-Cerna, native Guatemalan now residing with the U. S. maritime commission, declared today.

Senior Gilron-Cerna, formerly a newspaper editor and diplomat in Guatemala, now assistant to the maritime commission chief of negotiations, spoke at a Pan-American fiesta staged by the Western Idaho town.

"We are not only fighting to defend our lands, to defend our sons and the sons of our sons, but we are fighting to keep alive the dignity of the world, so that free people and free countries are not forever banished from the face of the earth," he declared.

"I can tell you, my friends, that if every one of them (the people of Latin-America) could be here with you today this would be their message: Friends of the United States, we are with you in this tragic hour of blood and tears, and with all the forces of hatred and destruction have given in a vain attempt to conquer and enslave the whole world. Your neighbors in the Americas cannot and will not stand aside. Your war is our war, your victory shall be our victory."

HUGE LEVY WILL HIT ALL INCOMES

By RICHARD L. TURNER
WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—In record breaking time, the senate today passed the record breaking new tax bill clamping the highest rates in history upon the incomes of individuals and corporations.

The vote was unanimous, 77 to 0.

The measure would impose a tax of 19 percent on the first taxable income of every citizen, and add that a five percent victory tax on each annual, or 12 weekly. At the other end of the tax ladder it would tax income in excess of $50,000 at 54 percent.

The married man with two dependent children who earns $10,000 a year would pay the government $112 including the victory tax. On an income of $10,000, his tax would be $253. On one of $20,000, his tax would be $453. The tax on $30,000 would be $721; on $40,000 it would total $1,049; on $50,000 it would be $1,418; on $60,000, he would pay $1,802.

Excess Profits Taken
Corporations would pay 34 percent on incomes up to $25,000, 48 percent on the next $25,000, and corporations with incomes of more than $50,000 would pay 60 percent on the full amount. All corporations would "hand over" to the treasury 30 percent of their excess profits, in excess of $5,000. Excess profits are determined by a committee and are with the aim being to take in taxes virtually all profits beyond a fair return on investment.

The purpose of the new and higher rates is, of course, to finance in part the stupendous war effort. The new tax measure from the people an excess of purchasing power which has threatened to produce inflationary prices.

In all, Chairman George, D. Ga., of the senate finance committee said, it would increase the treasury's revenues by $7,000,000,000 a year. Revenues are expected to rise in about $17,000,000,000 a year.

Spent Only Five Days
The senate spent only five days discussing and passing a bill which itself filled 575 pages—filled with technicalities and complexities. The senate was for the most part, however, content to follow the lead of George and the finance committee, and accepting one point—the taxation of future issues of state and municipal bonds, which the committee had recommended—generally enacted its recommendations.

The next step in the measure's consideration is a conference of agents of both house and senate for the purpose of reconciling conflicting rates and language in the differing tax bills passed by the two chambers.

Adopted Amendments
In the last important action before the final roll call, the senate adopted a series of clarifying amendments to the law regulating the renegotiation of war contracts to prevent excessive profits.

Under the present statute, the government can re-open such contracts as late as three years after the end of the war. The senate adopted an amendment, however, declaring that renegotiation should not be started later than one year after the close of the fiscal year in which the contract was completed. The amendment was designed to meet complaints that contractors found it difficult to obtain private financing because they never were sure of their final earnings.

SCRAPS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

SALT LAKE CITY—As a token of the esteem in which they hold the members of the Japanese American Citizens League of Salt Lake City have contributed to a present for the son of heaven and his cohorts.

It is eight tons of scrap metal—and the league would like to have delivered personally by the U. S. air force in the shape of bombs.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex.—Little Jeff Hendrix, a first-grader, set a mark to shoot at in the school collection drive.

He brought in 933 pounds collected from nearby farms.

His collection was the largest of teachers, he'll have 1,000 pounds of rubber to add to the collection.

MAPLETON, Ore.—Mapleton school students would just as soon the scrap drive went on forever.

When Principal Morris E. Henry recessed school, the youngsters collected 45 tons, an average of 1,812 pounds each. His going to let them try it again.

LOS ANGELES—They traded an orchard for every 100 old keys contributed at a flower shop as part of the scrap collection drive.

The shop also displayed a window exhibit of scrap metal and flowers.

LAWRENCE, Kan.—The scrap metal drive by University of Kansas co-eds means Christmas gifts for men in the armed forces.

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—Alex Slag gave his bullet-riddled automobile as a scrap heap after keeping it for years as a memento of the days of John Dillinger.

It was also ridden at the time of his death.

SAVANNAH, Ga.—One of the first X-ray machines made after discovery of that ray was turned into the scrap heap today by Dr. Walter Norton. It was made of copper, steel and other valuable materials and had cost $1,000 new.

FAIRMONT, W. Va.—Director James D. Oalm of the city street department looked at a gaudy man who commented: "There's a thing as carrying this scrap collection too far." Zealous collectors had carried off several manhole covers.

ASHVILLE, N.C.—Merchants of this town of 10,000 were to close stores next Tuesday as the scrap drive that day would be all-out. All schools and public office will be asked to close up, too.

Burley 4-H Beef Club Organizes

BURLEY, Oct. 19—The interest in entering 4-H beef club work attended an organization meeting at the county agent's office here tonight.

County Agent W. W. Palmer said it was necessary now to procure calves if the best ones are to be gotten. Range beef calves are now being weaned off the cows for sale and to make a good selection calves should be procured in the next 10 days. Bunches of good calves had already been noted by Palmer.

In the past many clubs have started late and a great deal of travel, which is not possible this year, has been necessary to get the few calves that club members wanted.

The showings of club members this year are being outstanding, according to Palmer.

FUDS

"Where do you go to pick fuds?" Suspected of being a farmer because he was dressed in his scrap collecting clothes, A. W. Morgan, chairman of the scrap metal campaign, was asked this question by a boy too young to sound the "sp" in spuds.

"That serves to demonstrate the attitude of our youngsters," said Mr. Morgan. "They are taking this thing and the labor problem seriously, and are eager to do their part."

It was Morgan's reply, as he began to get out the blanks that must be filled out by a recruit.

"Now just wait a minute," said Parker. "I can't enlist without my pal and he's out hunting. I tell you, I'll be up tomorrow and bring him along."

So Friday morning, Parker came in with Lynn Popplewell, 30, son of Mrs. Grace Stewart, Buhl.

And they enlisted for a six-year hitch in the regular navy so that they could continue together.

Also enlisting were Francis Stanley Blunt, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Blunt, Jerome, and Elsie R. Jorgensen, Idaho Falls.

GOP CHARGE HIT DEMO-REPORT

BOISE, Oct. 19 (AP)—The administration of Gov. Chase Clark has been based on a sound financial foundation, a press statement from the democratic headquarters of State Chairman Robert Coulter declared today in urging the reelection of the incumbent officials.

The statement, Coulter said, was to refute published Republican attacks charging the present administration with collecting more money from taxes than did former Gov. C. A. Pettigrew.

Gov. Clark took over leadership of the state government with a Republican overdraft of $1,578,100 on the books, Coulter declared. "It took until September 1942 to completely wipe out this overdraft, and on that date the state attained a cash balance of $1,738,782."

"It is true the present administration has collected more money than during the previous administration, but much of that was for special funds, such as the fish and game, over which the administration had no control," the statement held.

"The inability of the Bottiggen administration to take the two percent discount on bills cost a good many thousands of dollars during that time. The present administration, after some trouble with an inherited deficit, has been able to pay bills promptly and take the discount savings. The state has remained on a cash basis under Gov. Clark," Coulter continued.

"The state does have a balance of cash on hand . . . and the public can be assured that not one cent of that money will be spent unless it is for necessary expenditures. It will enable the administration to further reduce the burden on taxpayers during the next two years," he said.

There is no scientific basis for the theory that men's brains are better than women's, according to Soviet scientists.

HOLD EVERYTHING

"Yes, sir, he's training very hard—he bought war bonds and wants to protect his investment!"

Challenge

On the second stamp selling day at the Twin Falls high school, the boys defeated the girls as salesmen with a total of $408.25 against $193.00. One person purchased a $3,750 bond but his name could not be given out.

John Platt, dean of boys, said that the Twin Falls high school challenges other schools to try and beat the record "we've started and intend to keep up."

IT'S ALL YOURS

—AND NO JAP OR NAZI HAS ANYTHING LIKE IT!

This is a road map of electric power. It shows how high-voltage electric lines crisscross the country—carrying power to busy war plants and to 27 million homes.

Here is the greatest electric transmission system in the world. No other nation has anything like it. The famous British "grid system" could be dropped into one small section of it. It carries more power than all the Axis countries combined.

This nation-wide network was put together in peacetime to serve you and other Americans. Almost all of it is built on the savings of the same people it serves—by the business managements of America's 400 electric companies.

Did you ever wonder why American industries—like the electric industry—lead the world? There's a good reason and this is a good time to think about it—because it's one of the things we're fighting for.

The reason is the freedom of the individual—the right of every American to work when and where he wants, within reason—to enter any business or profession—to create and produce and to benefit by his own success. That's a powerful incentive.

Under the Jap and German systems of political management and state slavery, the individual is nothing. Only bureaucrats and political favorites have anything to hope for. In the long run, that won't win wars.

Here in the United States, 133 million people have a personal stake in Victory—and in preserving the system of American business management under public regulation that has helped so much to make us the strongest nation on earth.

One of Gooding's Early "Discoverers" and Wife Will Celebrate Golden Wedding Date

By LETHA WEBB TESTER

GOODING, Oct. 10.—Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Churchill will call to offer congratulations and best wishes on their golden wedding anniversary date, Monday, Oct. 12, between the hours of 7 and 10 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Churchill will receive their guests at their home in Gooding.

On Oct. 12, 1892, Julian Churchill and Miss Lou Mings, both of Avon, Ill., were married in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Mings, by Rev. F. Bowen, La Harpe, Ill. The bride's dress was of broadened Florence silk of pearl grey color. She carried a bouquet of Marachal Niel roses.

The paper carrying an account of the wedding made mention of the romantic setting of the date, just 40 years after the discovery of America.

Even As Columbus and Mrs. Churchill were both born in Avon and went to school together there. They are members of the Universalist church. In the year 1908 Mr. Churchill came to Gooding and was so impressed with the new country he returned to Illinois and urged 21 other persons to come back with him and his wife. The group came first together in a railroad car. Mr. Churchill had come to Gooding first with Olla Osborn, a brother of R. S. Osborn.

Mr. Churchill immediately went into the painting business which he now operates. In 1914 he moved to the location his business now occupies. Mrs. Churchill at one time operated a millinery and dress shop. Mr. Churchill relates that he was one of the very first subscribers of the Twin Falls evening paper in this community and has read it faithfully since that time.

Besides being a commercial painter, Mr. Churchill paints beautiful pastoral scenes in oil. He has one particular canvas which is generally favored. It is a copy of Old Fort Antigua in the British West Indies. Besides his own fine paintings the Churchill home has many canvases of well-known Idaho scenes.

Collects Hobbies
Mrs. Churchill's hobby of collecting pictures of which she has some 140, holds a prominent place in their lovely home. One room of unusual interest is the breakfast room which has a glassed plastic design of palm trees. It is an original design by W. M. Silckert, Nampa, a friend of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Churchill have two children, Mrs. W. A. Wells, Sacramento, Calif., and Herbert Churchill. They have seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Mrs. Wells was in Gooding with her parents in the spring and will probably not be home for the anniversary.

Mrs. Herbert Churchill will assist with arrangements for the evening, with the help of friends of the family.

Views in Verse

THE CACTUS BLOSSOM
A thought of God's unfolded here today
And flung its fragrance to the desert air.
I saw it, as I passed along the way,
And marveled at its beauty, sweet and rare.

It was the cactus blossom 'mid the thorns
So pure and sweet, yet nestled in the rude,
Silence, as the One who wore the crown,
Perfect, and a pure idea of God.

We are blossoms in His field,
And spend our beauty on the desert air,
And like the cactus, God will give the yield,
For we're His thoughts, perfect, pure and fair.

Lula Hartwell Lough, Buhl.

(A thought-provoking comparison is made in this poem by Lula Hartwell Lough, Buhl, a newcomer to the "Views in Verse" column. While the poem is not perfect in rhyme and meter, the editor of "Views in Verse" believes that you will find it a welcome "sermonette" for this Sunday morning.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—To the Wacks and the Wacks and the Wacks.

No official line of the committee, but "women's auxiliary reserve of the coast guard" was suggested, one which was incoherently but euphonically coined the "Warcogs."

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION OF TIME APPOINTED FOR HEARING PETITION FOR DISSOLUTION OF B AND O LAND COMPANY, A CORPORATION.

FARMER GETS 1ST BOOT RATION O.K.

When Clyde E. McCallin, route three, Twin Falls, takes off his rubber boots at night after a hard day plugging in an irrigation ditch or working around in the barnyard, he can look down on the boots and say:

"Here, you're the most valuable for miles around. You've got historical value. Some day you'll wind up in a museum."

And Clyde will be telling those a mouthful of truth. Because yesterday he was the first person in the history of Twin Falls county, if not in the nation, to receive a permit from a rationing board to purchase a pair of rubber boots.

No other applicant was rationed rubber boots yesterday, the first day the board acted on such applications. However, there were two more requests.

Charles Foster, 126 Fifth street north, a Times-News carrier, was rationed a bicycle to cover his 15-mile route.

Four persons were given permits to purchase new automobiles. They were Clarence Albert Blumstein, route one, Twin Falls, who said he didn't want to keep using the overworked car which belongs to his father and which already has 52,000 miles on it; Harold B. Malone, route one, Piler, whose present car with 54,000 miles on it is too large to keep; Glen Miller McKee, route one, Piler, whose last car was wrecked in a collision a year ago, and Edmond L. Turner, 235 Lincoln avenue, Twin Falls, whose present car is seven years old and has traveled 57,000 miles.

Auto Plunges 40 Feet; Six Escape Death

Six residents of Harrisburg, Ky., suffered painful but not serious injuries when their car broke through a steel guardrail on the Murtagh overpass six miles east of Hansen and plunged down a steep 40-foot embankment. The machine went through the rail after being struck from the rear by an auto driven by Quade E. Bowman, 20, cook in a restaurant at Burley, shortly after 2 p. m. Saturday.

Bowman was fined $25 and sentenced to 30 days in jail when he appeared today before J. E. Oles, Kimberly justice of the peace, on a complaint of reckless driving signed by V. K. Barron, state policeman.

Ascending Rise

Barron said the Harrisburg car, driven by James Currens, 46, was traveling east, ascending the rise of the overpass, when it was struck by the other machine. The officer said the evidence indicated that the Currens car was traveling about 30 miles an hour. The other machine, owned by Ira E. Olson, 27, Burley, who was the only other occupant, was to be traveling "in excess of 60 miles an hour in Harrisburg, according to the Currens driver from the road. The machine driven by Bowman tumbled on the edge of the embankment after the other had plunged over.

Other occupants of the Currens car were the driver's wife, Mrs. Beulah Currens, 42; two sons, Edmond, seven; and Lee H., four; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Sue Currens, 25; and a friend of the family, Mrs. Nellie Lyons, 20.

Boy's Ear Torn

Mrs. Lyons was given first aid for painful bruises and abrasions, and the four-year-old boy suffered painful injuries to the left side of his head, including a small piece torn out of ear. The others were bruised and shaken.

The owner of the car driven by Bowman received a chest injury that required seven stitches to close.

J. C. Cunningham Passes at Burley

BURLEY, Oct. 10.—James C. Cunningham, 40, died at 7 a. m. today in his home, 223 north Alamo avenue, Burley, of ailments incident to old age.

Mr. Cunningham was born Oct. 23, 1855, in Portland, Scotland, and came to Idaho in 1916. He engaged in farming until a few years ago when he retired and moved to Burley.

In addition to his wife, he leaves five sons, J. H. Cunningham, Pocatello; Joshua, Boise and Elmer Cunningham, Burley; and Joseph Cunningham, Los Angeles; and two daughters, Mrs. Ray Barker, Spokane, and Mrs. Roy Hargland, Los Angeles.

Method Told For Pickup of Leaves

Charles P. Larsen, superintendent of streets, last night asked citizens to put their leaves on parking next to the curb, so that they may be hauled away as rapidly as the city can make the roads.

"Do not put leaves in the street or gutter," Larsen warned, "as they obstruct the flow of water in case of heavy rains. Also, do not burn leaves in the street. He said leaves will be gathered up in alleys only if they are in containers."

MEET WILL PLAN AIR RAID DRILL

Plans for the air raid drill scheduled to be held here Tuesday will be worked out at a meeting of division heads of the citizens' defense corps to be held tonight in civilian defense headquarters in the Piddley building.

The meeting, called by John G. Thorp, commander of the citizens' defense corps, will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Among those to attend the meeting, and the positions each will occupy in the incident drill, are: Thorp, defense corps commander; Lloyd J. Perry, controller; L. Z. "Zack" Ratteli, fire department and auxiliary fire fighters; Howard Clutette, police department and auxiliary police; R. J. Schwendman, city warden; Dr. W. F. Passer, medical corps; Charles Larsen, public works; Ralph Carpenter, utilities.

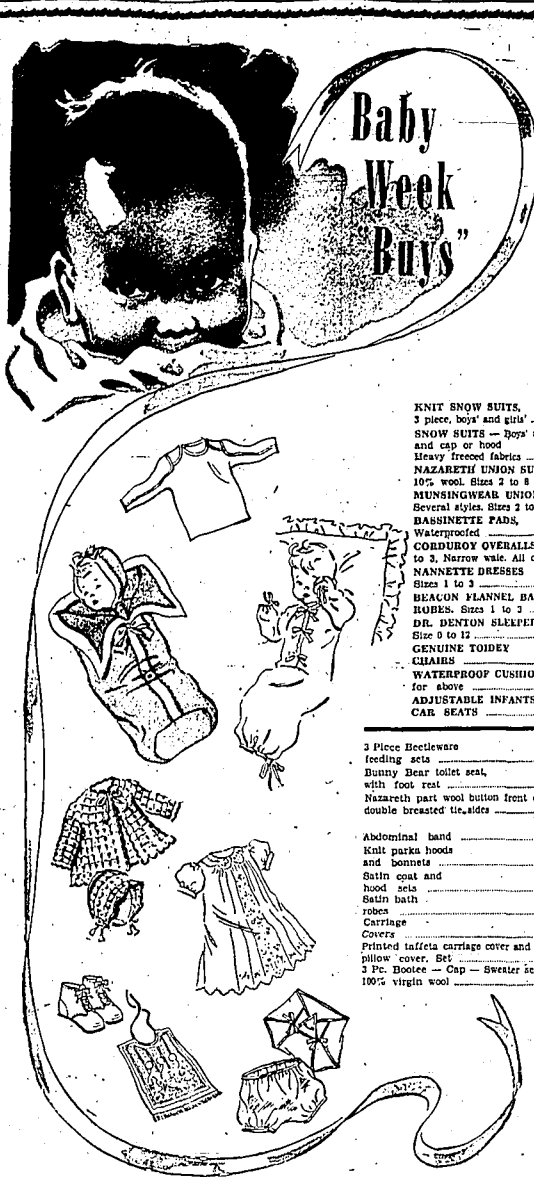

Members of the corps command staff, who also will attend the meeting, are Paul R. Taber, Ray E. Holmes and Robert H. Warner. Gordon A. Day, Boy Scout executive, also will attend the meeting.

The incident drill will be held in daylight hours, at a walk-through pace, and with no blackout. It was said last night. The idea, it was explained, is to test the efficiency of the defense organization, rather than the readiness of the public.

The drill is expected to throw into operation an organization composed of approximately 300 persons.
