2,100 AT HUNT WORK ON FARMS

TWIN FALLS, Oct. 1.—With 2,100 workers out on farm jobs, large-scale recruitment of labor at the Minidoka relocation center is drawing to a close, officials said today.

Most of the workers, Japanese evacuated from the Washington and Oregon coastal region, are employed on Idaho farms—planting beets and onions, picking apples, packing lettuce and digging potatoes. A majority is young people, many of them from urban areas, doing farm work for the first time. The day after their wedding in Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Toshiro Taniguchi left on a honeymoon trip to a farm near Boise where they will pick apples.

Recruitment of farm workers is an voluntary basis with the workers being guaranteed prevailing wages, transportation and adequate living quarters. They may remain outside the center as long as work is available.

Departure of such a large number of workers left the center with a remaining population of 7,500, expected to maintain essential community service. Women have taken jobs as stenographers, clerks, waitresses, and service station attendants.

REPORT TELLS OF HITLER DISTRUST

(Copyright, 1942, Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Adolf Hitler, in a routing speech to his generals nine days before war began, expressed the deepest contempt for the rulers of Italy and Japan and told his soldiers bluntly "our strength consists in our speed and in our brutality."

What was said at this notable meeting on the heights of Berchtesgaden was reported for the first time today by Louis Lochner, former chief of the Associated Press bureau in Berlin. Lochner's source was authentic. His information came from a German officer who risked his life to give it to him.

The date of Hitler's distributive was Aug. 23, 1939.

Looking intently over his collection of glittering boots and cropped heads, the führer shouted out what he thought about "that pit of a king" in Italy and "the treacherous account of a crown prince."

Distrusted Japan

Unquestionably he expressed his distrust of Japan. "The emperor is a counterpart of the last czar," he said. "Weak, cowardly, undecided. May he fall a victim to the revolution."

The non-aggression pact with Poland, the führer said with a glint of inspired by the walls and faces of stone around him, was made only to gain time. The non-aggression agreement and economic pact with the Soviet Union? Another place of power. "We shall destroy the Soviet Union!" he yelled.

Had to Wait

Lochner had had this story in his notebooks for several years. It would have been fruitless to look for it in Germany. Now that he is back in the United States, on leave and conducting a lecture tour, it is reported a few days in advance of his book, "What About Germany?"

He said the account of the gathering of the generals, which was held nine days before the German armies moved in Poland, came from a German officer who surreptitiously took shorthand notes as Hitler spoke.

Added Soldiers Lodged Here to Dismantle Camp

TWIN FALLS soldier population has been augmented by 15 privates and non-commissioned officers of the army last night.

The 15 are from a group of 25 sent here from the army bombing and air base at Wendover, Utah, to demolish the Rock Creek CCC camp. The material from the camp will be removed to Wendover, presumably for barracks, just as was the material from the abandoned CCC camp at Rogerson.

Lodging quarters were found for the 15 by the local branch of the USO. The remainder of the group is staying at the camp because of the lack of transportation to Twin Falls. The ones staying here have been hitchhiking back and forth.

Without any other recreational facilities the soldiers have been making good use of the USO center here. They will be in the city for about a month.

REUNION

It's like attending a high school reunion, getting a Times-News in Australia. That's what Corp. Verne A. Bunn wrote recently to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Bunn, Twin Falls.

"I'm so busy most of the time that I don't think much of former classmates, but when the paper arrives and I read about what the kids are doing back there, it's pretty swell," says Bunn.

Mrs. L. O. Parsons and son, Kerry, are dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Earl Powers.

Students "Buck" Potatoes to Ease Labor Shortage

Harvest vacation for Twin Falls students means harvest but not vacation — and here was the scene at the C. R. Lindsey ranch Friday as almost a score of high school boys and one girl pitched in with a will. Included in the group were Drayton Harder, Lyle Hampton, Bob Lowery, Elbert Geiger, Harold Anderson, Clinton Luke, Cecil Rickard, Junior Bowyer, Tommy Leher, Jim Spafford, Betty Jones, Bernard Funk, Bill Lower, Leonard Hampton, Norman Showalter, Walter Jarvis, Ted Ryan and Dale Clark.

Errol Flynn Is Charged With Criminal Assault of Girl, 17

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 1.—Errol Flynn returned to the heights of the sound stages today under $1,000 bail, charged with criminal assault upon Betty Hutton, 17-year-old movie-starlet waitress, who quit her job for the charge to meet him.

She accused him of taking her upstairs after a party in the Bel Air mansion of wealthy sportsman Fred McVey, and there indulging in what David Attenborough called "a wild night."

John P. Dockweiler called statutory rape. Three other studio workers, held with Flynn for arraignment on the same charges next Friday, admitted illicit relations with her.

The curly-headed Flynn, performing on the Warner sound stages as a heroic Norwegian fighting the Nazis, said Miss Hutton's "I hardly knew her," he said. "We exchanged only a few words when we were introduced at dinner. I was with Mr. McVey all evening; and I left before any of the other guests."

Career Doubtful

Warner Brothers, indicated by continuing production of Flynn's picture that they would stand behind him until his trial. Hollywood wondered whether the public also would withhold judgment, or whether his career as one of the movie's highest-paid actors already had reached an abrupt end.

Miss Hutton told first to the grand jury, she wouldn't believe her, and then to the district attorney, who would the scandal tale of a Lincoln, Neb., high school girl who was willing to go to any lengths to become a movie actress.

She said she gladly had relations with the man she accused, because she believed they might help her become a picture star. The prosecutor explained that under California law any such relations with a 17-year-old girl, even with her consent, is statutory rape.

The blond Miss Hutton, looking eyed from weeping and red-dressed, said she had 17 years, and she put a job as waitress in a Hollywood drug store, because she hoped there she might meet studio men. Almost at once she met Armand Knapp, studio messenger; Morris Black, clerk; and Joseph Gerald, zone writer.

Quit Her Job

"I had always admired Mr. Flynn on the screen," she said. "Knapp said if I'd go to the swimming party at Mr. McVey's, I could meet Mr. Flynn. I tried to get the afternoon off. I couldn't. So I quit. I had to meet Mr. Flynn."

Knapp took her last Sept. 27 to the party, where she had dinner with him, Flynn, McVey, and several others, including Buster Miller, a movie stunt man; Ames (Chick) Toussaint, dancer; and Lynn Boyer, singer.

"They gave me a cocktail after dinner," Miss Hutton said. "I didn't feel so good so I went into the music room to lie down on a couch. Mr. Flynn came in took me upstairs."

CURTIS PREDICTS VOTE OF 160,000

BOISE, Oct. 1.—Idaho voters had been reminded today by Secretary of State George Curtis that registration for the Nov. 3 general election will close Oct. 31.

"Persons who voted in the general election of 1936 or in the primary this year do not have to register unless they have changed address," Curtis said, "but all others must do so if they intend to vote."

Curtis reiterated his view that the vote this year will be "about 160,000"—a reduction of 20,000 from the 238,000 votes cast in the 1940 general election. He based his estimate on the grounds that there has been a large number of qualified voters who have retired defense work in other areas and another large group who are in military service and will not vote.

He said that applicants for absentee war ballots from soldiers was running at the rate of about 10 a day.

Victory of GOP Seen by Ailshie

BOISE, Oct. 1.—Republican chances of carrying southeastern Idaho in the general election Nov. 3 "are generally good, even in the upper Snake river counties, generally considered to be Democratic strongholds," Ailshie, Republican, said in a letter to the Idaho Republican club.

"Most of the farmers were busy with the harvest," he said, "but from the people I contacted I found the Republicans very strong throughout that section."

Idaho Miners to Get $1 Increase

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The war labor board today had granted an increase of $1 a day to 10,000 cropper, head and mine miners in Idaho and Utah, but provided a 50-cent-a-day penalty on employers whose continuity of work and standards of production fail to come up to certain requirements.

Under a presidential order, the increase must be approved by Economic Stabilization Director, James F. Byrnes, before it may become effective because of the possibility it will require an increase in the price of the metals.

The board said it seemed a wage increase necessary to help meet the shortage of miners in the affected area.

The increase was made retroactive to May 15 in case of the Idaho miners, and to July 1 for Utah miners. The retroactive pay would be granted in the form of war bonds and stamps.

SCRAP 'HOLIDAY' SET FOR NOV. 11

county will volunteer their trucks and the help of their employees on Monday day, there is no telling how much scrap metal we can collect in short order," he said.

Much Uncollected
"Our surveys show that a great amount of scrap metal remains uncollected, and this condition is more or less general throughout the county," he said. "Our biggest problem has been getting individuals to deliver their scrap to the salvage dealers, or securing trucks and the necessary help to get the scrap away from the owners is impossible. We need a score of places where scrap is available, and on Armistice day, practically all of this metal can be rounded up as a scrap holiday."

Holmes, president of the chamber, has conferred with Chairman Morgan and the two plan to call a joint meeting of the salvage committee, the Chamber of Commerce and civic organizations early this week to perfect plans for the Armistice day round-up. They indicated that representatives from the various towns in the county may be asked to attend as a means of getting similar countywide action on this day.

Urges Reports
"To facilitate the Armistice day round-up," Chairman Morgan said last night, "we again urge everyone in the county to be on the lookout for scrap metal and render such instances to the salvage committee. From such reports we will make a master list and the committee can be made for all trucks and workers who volunteer for work on this day."

Although he said he realized that most of the farmers were still busy harvesting their crops, Morgan urged them to deliver their individual stockpiles of scrap metal to their nearest salvage dealers as soon as possible.

"When the farmers find time to start bringing in their scrap metal, it will help greatly toward reaching our quota," he explained. "Most of their scrap metal is in the form of more they are able to haul the more it will relieve our transportation problem."

Following up the discovery that a considerable amount of old road building machinery had been buried at the abandoned CCC camp south of Hansen, Morgan has written the war production board at Boise, asking for assistance in reclaiming the discarded equipment. The forest service pointed out that the plan to remove the equipment because it did not come under that department's jurisdiction.

HOUSE APPROVES NEW DRAFT RULE

they need the cash and vigor and courage of youth in the army. They have led to that without there, we are not in a favorable position to win the war. On that basis, I will vote for this bill."

One particularly nettlesome issue—a demand from some segments of the house that the army be forbidden to send men with less than 12 months' training into battle—was disposed of early in the day. It was settled by a vote adopting procedure under which no such amendment could be introduced.

The discussion which preceded the vote was devoted almost entirely to the training of soldiers. Mr. Wadsworth, R. N. Y., author of the bill, read to the house a letter from General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, strenuously opposing such a "crippling limitation."

Assuming that congress trust the army's judgment, Marshall asserted the nation that no soldier would be sent into battle without adequate training. The normal training period lasts a year, he said, but the army does not wish to be bound to that by law.

Pension Initiative Booklets Mailed

"Printed copies of the senate initiative act—1939—were mailed yesterday to registered voters of Twin Falls county by Walter C. McGuire, auditor-recorder."

The booklets explain the initiative measure which will be on the general election ballot Nov. 2. Backed by Townsend organizations and others who secured the necessary signatures to win a place on the ballot, the pension plan will become law if it wins the necessary majority.

Mr. McGuire said that because some registers did not have the addresses of voters, a number of voters will not receive copies of the initiative measure. Booklets, however, are available at his office in the courthouse.

CONVOY ESCAPES PACK OF U-BOATS

A BRITISH PORT, Sunday, Oct. 18 (AP)—A large convoy has escaped from the United States after eluding a German submarine pack. The four-day hide-and-seek contest was the last of a series of attacks on the air military service said escort work of United States navy planes, the British navy, and the R.A.F. coastal command were so effective that the pursuing U-boats were unable to close in for torpedo attacks.

Flying fortresses, Catalinas, Liberators and Hudsons which now are playing an important part in Atlantic convoy operations provided effective air cover for the recently arrived procession of ships.

Withheld Torpedoes

The day after U-boats sighted the convoy, Catalina flying boats attacking from Iceland flew over the ships but the submarines withheld their torpedoes.

The following day, when the convoy was approaching its most dangerous waters, coastal command fighters, Liberators and Hudsons joined the American planes.

Air reconnaissance showed that the U-boats had been driven away. At dawn American Catalinas bombed two U-boats which tried to attack, sending the submarines into a crash before they could let go with torpedoes.

Two More Spoiled

That afternoon a Liberator spotted two more submarines which tried to come up for an attack but the U-boats were forced to back down as the planes approached.

A third got into the scrap, attacked a submarine and sent it into a crash dive.

After the attack, the convoy was escorted by the Catalinas for the next day only two were sighted. A Hudson also attacked and the other three before the pilot could get in range.

Twenty-four hours later the convoy was safe in British waters.

Man Tells of Escape From Japs' Prison

GASTONIA, N. C., Oct. 17 (AP)—Sgt. Fred H. Newton, here on leave, told a story today of how he and 40 other American soldiers escaped from a Japanese prison camp in the Philippines after stabbing two guards to death.

Newton said the group was captured in the third battle he took part in after arriving in the Philippines. The group was held in a camp where they were kept in a low, wooden building which had a barred door and two windows.

One American, a soldier from New Jersey, had succeeded in concealing a hunting knife when he was locked up.

Stab Guard

"One afternoon, when it was too hot you couldn't stand it," Newton related, "this guy from New Jersey said, 'let's go out to get some air here.'"

"He had his knife and he slipped up to the window where the guard was by every few minutes. He stabbed the guard through the bars and hid him up with his hands, holding through his pockets. That guard didn't have a key. We nearly died."

"But we knew there was one other guard on duty and sure enough just about the time the first guard's knife was hauled through the bars the other guard came running up to where the first Jap was lying on the ground."

Find Key

"We watched him through the bars, hooked him up to the window and found the key in his pocket."

"The Americans fringed through the jungle, he said, with nothing to eat but some birds just hatched."

Plodding due south by the aid of a compass taken from one of the Japanese guards, the party reached an American outpost.

After two weeks in an American camp in the Philippines Newton said he and the others of the party were sent by steamer to San Francisco.

Area Falls $24,426 Short on Bonds; Camas, Jerome Spurt

Although four of the eight counties exceeded their quotas, Magic Valley as a whole fell $24,426 short of its combined allotment in the purchase of war savings bonds during September. R. S. Toffelmire, associate administrator of the war savings staff for this district, advised yesterday by John R. Wiley, state administrator, Boise.

Total quota for the eight counties was $308,400 and combined purchases amounted to $283,974. Quotas and total purchases were as follows:

County	Quota	Purchases
Twin Falls	$166,800	$123,671
Cada	28,000	32,444
Minidoka	23,500	17,254
Gooding	19,400	13,032
Jerome	26,600	44,246
Lincoln	2,300	12,250
Blaine	22,300	26,568
Camas	2,400	9,224

Although Twin Falls county was more than $40,000 below its quota for the month, Toffelmire explained last evening, "the war savings staff is hopeful that the harvest season will swell October purchases appreciably. Many farmers to whom we have been delaying purchases of war bonds until they market at least a portion of their fall crop."

Every American newspaper is an American battle station. • In every community, newspapers are serving as powerful weapons on the home front.

They are giving Americans the truth which we must have if we are to plan and work effectively for victory. • The war has imposed many handicaps on newspapers—depletion of staffs, restriction of materials and equipment.

Yet, in the face of these, the American press is carrying out brilliantly its vital war assignment. • To the fulfillment of this task the United Press contributes by gathering and dispatching news of the entire world—accurately, promptly, completely. The United Press counts it a privilege to help in this manner to men these American battle stations.

JEFFERS ASSURES FARMERS OF TIRES FOR NEEDED TRAVEL

ADVISES AGAINST PLEASURE TRIPS

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Rubber Director William M. Jeffers said today the gasoline rationing program would be administered in the mid-west and the west to get men to work and the farmer to town—no matter what.

Mr. Jeffers said the greater difficulties and jealousies on public conveniences distinguished that part of the nation to be rationed gasoline starting Nov. 22 from the eastern seaboard area now under rationing and that this would be taken into account.

Whatever happens, we've got to get men to work and we've got to get the farmer to town," he said.

No Social Driving
Jeffers spoke at a press conference prior to an off-the-record address before the men who will direct the central state rubber conservation program.

Jeffers advised civilians to do their "social" driving between now and the beginning of gasoline rationing Nov. 22 because "there won't be any synthetic tires for family use until sometime in 1943."

He predicted the development by chemists "within five or six months" of a 50 per cent synthetic tire good for all military and heavy truck duty but that such tires would be available only for essential civilian driving.

Stay at Home
The majority of the men have to see Aunt Minnie between now and Nov. 22," he said, "for the rest of the year we're going to ask you to stay at home and get to know our own folks a little better."

After mid-1943, he thought to have enough synthetic tires to make an appreciable difference in the situation of the civilian population. Sometime in 1944, we ought to have enough to begin to furnish tires to civilians for family use.

The Public Forum

POINTS TO USELESS FEDERAL EXPENDITURES

Editor, Times-News:
I have always felt that my opinions on public affairs were not worth the ink that is wasted in taking them. However, some facts came to my attention a few days ago that have given me the courage to ask questions, in the hope that someone can supply an answer for justification.

First of all, we are in a war which calls for the maximum utilization of manpower resources. The federal payroll in the various executive branches is about $2,500,000,000. A recent report from the U. S. civil service commission states that the duplication of the duties performed by many departments, the time and talents of thousands of men and women are being wasted. Then why isn't something done about it?

Because of this unnecessary number of employees it was deemed necessary to build a mammoth new war department building; for which congress authorized some $40,000,000 dollars.

In the house Oct. 1, Rep. Engel of Michigan charged that the new building is costing $70,000,000. Why?

In Engel's report he stated that $4,640,000 will be spent for parking lots and roads; $2,240,000 is to be spent for light-of-day for roads and bridge, and $2,370,000 for landscaping.

Nero fiddled while Rome burned—we landscape $2,370,000 worth while our fighting men and allies plead for more guns, ships and planes.

I believe whole-heartedly in a senseless of purpose, and unity of thought; but haven't we the right to expect some demonstration of that unity from those to whom we have entrusted the guiding of our course through this storm?

In the face of the figures of our mounting war costs—sums so great they send us into a mental stupor—it may sound like quibbling to pick out a measly little $2,370,000 landscape here, but it would like to act, if by any stretch of the imagination the spending of this sum for such an unnecessary cause can be excused as only a mistake on the part of some well-intentioned executive? And if it is, would you consider him mentally equipped to handle his job?

If the men and women who are to occupy this new building have already recognized the source of my information. To all others I would like to say that I am not repeating mere rumor, or idle gossip. Most of what I have written, as to facts and figures, is quoted from information secured Oct. 2, from the office of Congressional Research.

Regardless of one's political predilections, or personal regard of Mr. Engel, he believes in waste.

JUSTICE MORGAN DIES SUDDENLY

BOISE, Oct. 17.—Justice William M. Morgan of the Idaho supreme court died suddenly of a heart attack Friday night at his ranch about two miles northwest of Eagle. He was stricken with a heart attack shortly after 8 p. m. and died an hour later.

Justice Morgan was first elected to the state supreme court bench in 1918 under the non-partisan judiciary law then in effect. He was later reelected in 1924 as a Democratic nominee after the non-partisan ballot had been revoked. In 1919 and 1927 he served as chief justice on the high tribunal.

Born in Illinois, Morgan came to Idaho as a farm laborer in July, 1910, the same month that Idaho attained statehood. He went to Moscow and studied law in the office of the late District Judge Edgar B. Steele, a law partner of the late W. L. Sweet, Idaho's first United States representative.

When Henry Heffelford became U. S. senator in 1917, Morgan went to Washington, D. C., as his secretary. He later attended Georgetown university law school in Washington, receiving a master's and law degree there in 1919. He then returned to Idaho to practice law at Moscow.

Morgan served as state representative from Latah county in the Idaho legislature during the fourth and fifth sessions and was mayor of Moscow for two years. Following his first term in the Idaho supreme court, he was not a candidate for reelection, but in 1932 he was elected on the Democratic ticket for a second term, and again in 1938—the term he was now serving after election on the non-partisan judicial ballot.

Leaves Two Daughters
He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emma M. Morgan, Boise, and two daughters, Mrs. A. E. Thiel, Montpelier, and Mrs. E. B. Smith, Boise. There are two granddaughters, Staff Sgt. William M. Smith, Owen field, Boise, and Eugene G. Smith, student at the University of Idaho.

He is also survived by a brother, District Judge A. L. Morgan, Moscow, and a sister, Mrs. John C. Russell, Van Nuys, Calif.

Morgan was 72 years old, and in addition to his residence in Boise he owned and was visiting his home near Eagle, west of Boise, at the time he was stricken with the fatal heart attack.

Relics From Massacre Go To Aid Scrap

Muler and Strohlo will feel the weight of blows struck by men who built the west, when scrap iron contributed by Mrs. Lulu M. Lough, Buhl, finds its way into tanks, guns and ships.

About 20 miles below Upper Salmon falls a large body of Snake Indians attacked a wagon train on the Oregon trail on Aug. 1, 1860. Out of the river, the 44 persons held out within the wagon made by their wagons for two days, until their food was gone. Nine of the members were killed in an attack that came quickly after the protecting circle was broken. The remaining 29, changed their weapons and fled, and 15 of these were later killed or captured.

The rest of the party endured terrible hardships before it was rescued after a period of six weeks, and the story of their being attacked by Indians is one of the most lurid of the history of the west.

The scrap contributed by Mrs. Lough consists of pieces of metal from harness, metal from weapons, and parts of a heavy iron kettle, all of which she picked up on the scene of a massacre which occurred when Idaho's first crops were ripening in the fields at Franklin.

BIG ENOUGH to do a BIG JOB!

The monster bomber is an important American contribution to world-wide war. It carries a huge load along distances and it does a job no smaller plane can do.

Size is America's salvation today in other ways as well. The size of our land and its rich resources. The size of our production plants. And the size of the electric industry that powers the machines that make planes, tanks, guns and ships.

But size isn't everything. It must be piloted by skill and experience. America's key industries got it by growing up under the democratic system—the system we're fighting for—where free men can compete, create and succeed in proportion to their ability.

That's exactly the way the electric companies grew—creating jobs by supplying better and better service to more and more people at a lower and lower price—building on the invested savings of millions of Americans—under practical business management and public regulation.

Because the electric companies were ready when war came—because no war plant had to wait for power—precious time was saved in the drive for Victory.

How big should an electric company be? Big enough to do the job, right around the clock and the calendar!

PRIORITIES FOR FARMING SOUGHT

DENVER, Oct. 17 (AP)—A demand that agriculture be given priorities coequal and coordinate with the arms and shipbuilding program—as a manpower, machinery and materials has been made today in a resolution adopted by the National Reclamation association at the closing session of its convention.

GIRL IDENTIFIES TWO KIDNAPERS

RED BLUFF, Calif., Oct. 17 (AP)—Bright-eyed Vivian Miller, 4, clinging to her father, identified William and Charlotte Thompson as her kidnapers today in a dramatic meeting in the lobby of the Tehama county jail.

The Thompsons were taken from their cell to be confronted by the little girl, who said she knew them by the name of "Daddy" and "Mama."

"Do you know this couple?" asked Inspector Martin Dowell of the San Francisco police department.

Vivian grabbed her father, Morris Miller, around the neck and replied: "Yes, that's my new mama and papa."

Vivian's identification completed the brief interview. Immediately afterward a caravan of three cars, carrying the confessed kidnapers, four San Francisco police inspectors, Vivian, and her father headed for San Francisco, 200 miles south.

Thompson, also known as "Deamont de Bels," said his wife will stand trial in San Francisco on a kidnaping charge. They confessed taking the girl from the sidewalk in front of her grandmother's San Francisco home and taking her to Grants Pass, Ore. They were held there under $50,000 bail set by municipal court in San Francisco.
