BROKEN ROMMEL ARMY SPEEDS TO WESTERN BASES

CAIRO, Nov. 16 (AP)—Marshal Rommel's broken army—cut down to 20,000 men—has been ordered to speed westward in the Libyan desert as far as El Agheila, beyond Benghazi yesterday when the British announced they occupied the landing ground at Marbuha and strafed bombers day after day for miles along the coastal road.

Rommel's forces were spread out from Benghazi to El Agheila, but the great mass of his remaining trucks and motor equipment apparently was concentrated at El Agheila, some 100 miles east of Tripoli and 150 miles southwest of Benghazi.

While the British fighters and fighter-bombers harassed the broken remnants of the captured German tanks, probably from Malta, strafed ahead of the British eighth army yesterday when the British announced they occupied the landing ground at Marbuha and strafed bombers day after day for miles along the coastal road.

FILIBUSTER BOSS DOWN SENATE ON POLL TAX PLANS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP)—Philibuster southern Democrats, opposing the Senate's passage of poll taxes as a requirement for voting in federal elections, forced the Senate today to postpone further consideration of the measure while minor bills were taken up.

A vote by 60 yeas and 35 nays, led by Sen. Theodore G. Bilbo, D. Miss., and Richard B. Russell, D. Ga., bogged the Senate in consideration of bills on the routine calendar and postponed a long day of issue-contaminating quorum calls, three of which were demanded in the first hour.

After routine introduction of bills at noon Senate Democratic Leader A. W. Barkley of Kentucky asked unanimous consent to dispense with calling the calendar of all pending bills.

Connally Objects

Connally objected, Barkley then asked that since the 70 bills on the calendar of which 60 were poll tax bills in priority—need not be called, consideration begin where the Senate was last called of the calendar Oct. 1. Bilbo objected to that.

Russell demanded the day's second quorum call, the first having come at the opening of the session.

Russell Asks Quorum

When that was completed, the first of the calendar—was passed over, and Russell again jumped up with another quorum demand.

It was apparent that each time the Senate transacted business with complete confidence, Russell or some other member of the poll tax bill opposition was prepared to raise a parliamentary quorum question to see whether a quorum was present.

A Republican member demanded to wear out the patience of the bill's supporters.

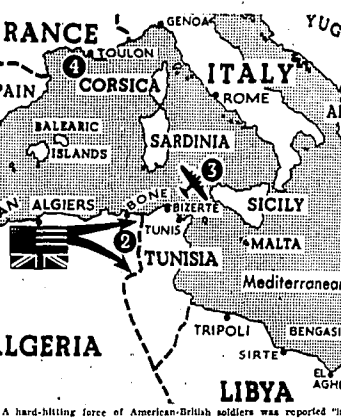

A Republican member had had the bill prepared, a "speech" written, and a "speech" written.

Armies Clash in Tunisia

A hard-hitting force of American-British soldiers was reported in contact with German troops numbering 10,000 at Bizerte, Tunisia Mediterranean port, today. As the allies closed in from the west, Gen. Montgomery's 8th army was reported pushing the square from the east, being only 670 miles from Tunisia today.

American, British Troops Meet Foe On Tunisia Field

LONDON, Nov. 16 (AP)—A powerful Anglo-American force drove into Tunisia today. Its advance guards clashing with an estimated 10,000 axis troops in the Bizerte neighborhood amid reports of a major naval battle off the African shore and indications that Adolf Hitler may attempt to "shoot the works" in an effort to block allied contact with Africa and the Mediterranean.

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE

The British Eighth Army, broadcast over radio Morocco, reported the allied force, spearheaded by the British first army, is pushing eastward as rapidly as possible.

Other reports placed the vainguard already close to the key French air bases around Bizerte which Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said were the final objectives of his troops.

Initial Naval Battle

The axis radio claimed that at least part of the Italian fleet—aided by the German navy—went into action against an Anglo-American naval force in the waters off the Algerian coast.

Anderson reported that 10,000 axis troops already are ashore in Tunisia, large concentrations of the air bases for which its speedy advance columns are driving.

DeGaulle Forces Taking 'No Part' In African Deals

LONDON, Nov. 16 (AP)—Gen. Charles De Gaulle and the Fighting French committee which he heads announced officially today they were "taking no part" in allied negotiations with Vichy representatives in north Africa.

The statement followed a conference between De Gaulle and Prime Minister Churchill. It added that the Fighting French would not accept decisions made by the British and Americans in north Africa.

"Should the negotiations result in arrangements which would in effect confirm the Vichy regime in north Africa," De Gaulle and the committee issued this statement:

"General De Gaulle and the Fighting French committee announced they are taking no part whatsoever in and are assuming no responsibility for negotiations in progress in north Africa with representatives of Vichy.

"The Fighting French Object

"Should the negotiations result in arrangements which would in effect confirm the Vichy regime in north Africa, we should be accepted by Fighting France.

"The union of all French territories overseas in the struggle for liberation should be achieved in conditions consonant with the will and dignity of the French people.

Diplomats at Work

The prime minister's meeting with the Fighting French leader followed the announcement that British diplomatic advisers had reacted in north Africa to help clear up the confusing situation arising since Darlan, one-time collaborator and Vichy defense chief, had been entrusted with French civil interests.

From Vichy came a broadcast in the name of Marshal Petain declaring that Darlan had been dismissed from all public functions and that the Fighting French were in contradiction to Darlan's own contention that actually his authority comes to an end today.

Silk and Nylon Stockings Added To Salvage List

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP)—Silk and nylon stockings were added to the official salvage list today.

All women were requested by the War Relocation Authority to turn in old stockings at collection centers which have been established throughout the country for the purpose of collecting surplus goods.

The silk will be used for powder bandages and other medical purposes, leaving no hot embers, thus making possible a powder bandage of silk.

The nylon also has an important military use.

Showdown Battle Being Fought for Solomon Islands

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP)—The second round of the battle of the Solomons rages on land, sea and air today with belief increasing that this time there may be a showdown engagement between American and Japanese naval forces.

The current fighting is six days old. U. S. marines and soldiers—some of whom have been defending their positions for 103 days—are holding their own according to latest reports.

The navy is withholding all details of the fighting which began last Thursday night (Solomon Island time) but is providing valuable information, but reports from Pearl Harbor, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in Australia and Tokyo, as well as the guarded command of naval spokesmen here, indicated that the Japanese have sent no man's errand for the boy.

Both Air Battleships

Both sides are known to have battleships in the area and any naval battle seems certain to bring about the first "shoot-out" engagement of this war between battleships.

Last night's communique added little to the picture of the terrific battle that is going on in those tropical islands and in the air and on the sea around them.

The presentation was "1812 Overture," Tchaikovsky's composition of the burning of Moscow. As originally presented in Moscow, the overture's famous ending was amplified by salvo of cannon fire.

"We couldn't find a cannon," said the conductor, Vladimir Gokhman, "but those two shotguns certainly provided all the gunfire we needed."

GERMAN ATTACKS DECLINE AS REDS KILL 1,000 MORE

MOSCOW, Nov. 16 (AP)—The defenders of Stalingrad have repulsed a German attack today, the Soviet high command announced today that 10,000 Axis troops were killed during the assault, which they had killed more than 100,000 German soldiers and knocked out 22 tanks in the last 36 hours.

The intensity of German attacks in Stalingrad has declined rapidly during the last 24 hours, from-line communications are being restored.

They began to lose force after the Russian tank corps made a penetration in one of the bloodiest battles in the war. Despite powerful tank and mortar concentrations on a 200-yard front, the Germans were able to make only small penetrations, which the Russians boxed while slaughtering the main infantry force, unable to pour into the gaps.

Company annihilated

Between the Volga and Don, northwest of Stalingrad, Soviet reconnaissance units smashed into German armor during the night, killing 600 Red artillery pieces and partly annihilated another company.

The Berlin correspondent of a socialist newspaper wrote that the temperature was 25 degrees below freezing (13 degrees below zero Fahrenheit) and the Germans used heavy fighter planes across the hard-frozen Volga.

Northern Front

In a sudden blow on the Volkhov front, between Lake Ilmen and Leningrad, Soviet forces captured a German position in the night, the moon communication. The Russians beat off all German attempts to retake the line, leaving 1,000 axis forces and capturing 600 prisoners.

Both sides are known to have battleships in the area and any naval battle seems certain to bring about the first "shoot-out" engagement of this war between battleships.

Sgt. Gen. Carl Spaatz, chief of U. S. air forces in Europe, announced today.

Spaatz reported that the raid carried out from low level after the first 11. The planes were escorted by Chicago, former member of the now disbanded eighth army.

Used Car Ration Program Denied

Mail Your Year Gifts by Dec. 1 To Get Delivery

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP)—The bulk of Christmas cards and parcels must be in the mails by Dec. 1 if delivery on time is to be assured, Smith W. Purdum, secretary of the Post Office, said today.

Unprecedented wartime demands and prospects of a country-wide shortage of Christmas mail, he said, make it necessary earlier than usual to get the mail in the hands of the post office.

He said if Christmas mail was held back by senders until the usual time, he said, it would not reach its destinations until after Christmas.

The extra mail cards usually used during the holiday period are now being used for Christmas cards and extra trucks are difficult to obtain.

BRITISH APPROVE 'MASS FEEDING'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mary Anderson, chief of the labor department's women's bureau, said today that a mass feeding program in defense areas where women with children are being housed into industry because of manpower shortages.

A woman can't keep house properly and work eight hours a day in a factory at the same time, according to Miss Anderson.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, too, has advocated feeding centers where working women can obtain prepared meals to be eaten at home, thus preserving the family evening meal.

Records of the food program in a town show that Bay City, Mich., Evanston, Ill., and Westchester, N. Y., had the most intensive feeding in defense areas in the last world war.

Deliver Food to Homes

The system reached its peak development, however, in Europe, where feeding centers were run by specialists.

One unit would serve as many as 500 meals a day, and the food would be delivered to homes in trucks or automobiles to homes requesting the service.

Food was cooked by expert buyers. Menus were worked out from a food value standpoint by dietitians and were prepared by trained cooks. Price benefits were secured through large scale buying. Food waste was reduced, and the program was cut down through centralization of work. Special meals were prepared for children of working mothers.

100 Depots in Britain

In the present war Great Britain has about 100 depots on a large scale. More than 100 cooking depots throughout the country are used to distribute hot meals in insulated vans.

In November, 1940, the British food ministry gave out authorized money with which to set up centralized dining rooms now known as British restaurants. The course meals are served by the government at 22 cents a meal. A child is served for half price.

The British restaurants have proved popular because they serve good food at low cost to those who have been evacuated from strategic areas and to women who do not have the time to prepare meals.

In some areas evacuated set up the restaurants to feed themselves, and the food was so good local residents began to patronize them.

100 lunch boxes for children

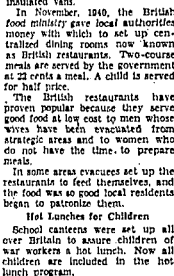

School centers were set up all over Britain to assure children of war workers a hot lunch. Now all children are included in the hot lunch program.

Special marketing facilities have been made available to British working women. Through co-operative efforts of neighbors and groups within the factory, these women are now able to get unrationed food formerly sold out when they reach the market in their market bags. On war workers stop in a cash-and-carry kitchen with their own receipts to get home food. The cost for the family is slight.

British food program has been a success because it has changed entirely the eating habits of the British people. The poster classes on rationing are held over before. Women have learned culinary tricks from the cooking centers. Babies and sons are being brought up to eat more generally.

How the food rationing has reduced food consumption one-third through elimination of waste.

Ration 'Points' Will Control Most of America's Shopping

BY ANN FRANCES WILSON
NEA Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—American shoppers will learn about "points" shortly after Christmas.

Point values have been put on rationed goods in England and the effect of price administration admits that the rationing system will follow closely the British pattern.

So, American housewife's shopping list is about to change. It will discuss the "point" value of various rationed goods instead of the price. And these may vary just the way prices do. For example, if the output of peas were increased and consumption reduced, making peas more abundant, their point value might be lowered by the OPA. Thus there might be a "point bargain" sale of peas.

Books containing A Numbers

Though the general ration books will not be distributed in large cities before the first of the year they will appear in middle-western and rolling off the presses by the thousands. Statistics have a far more head-and-tail than that of finding the four right numbers for the ration books. Now they must work out the total point value of goods on hand in order to be able to distribute them equally. Since rationing requires distribution of a limited supply.

Take beans, for example. The total point value of all beans must be compiled and then divided by the number of ration-book holders in order to divide the beans equally. OPA admits that the job of keeping the demand within the supply is no small task.

To further complicate the situation, however, points will not be allotted to foods, except for those are rationed, on the basis of their relative food value only.

Points will also be allotted in relation to supply and demand. Here again, suppose, beans were more abundant than meat and at the same time less popular. The point value southern rural area before Christmas, making it possible for Christmas shoppers to pick up their ration books on their one-day trip to town.

With ration "points" allocated according to supply and demand, Mrs. American may soon be shopping at point bargain sales.

The new books contain stamps numbered 1, 2, 5 and 8 units and points. These four numbers were not chosen by chance. Mathematical experts decided on them because they add up to 16, the number of ration points in a pound. In fact, each pound of meat, for example, will be able to purchase any beef requiring from one to 16 points, four and 12 points.

You are supposed to tear off your point coupons vertically, not horizontally. However, the machine will make four points by tearing left to right horizontally. Possibly there will be no rationed goods requiring four or 12 points.

Slackening Heads

However, though the machine is all set and ration books are of beans would then be lowered in order to stimulate the consumption of the more abundant commodity. In this respect point values will be able to balance supply and demand.

Meat, however, the one which will probably not be included in the point system. As in England, housewives will have to choose one butcher or stick by him for the duration. Housewives will not be able to purchase the amount of meat needed from the wholesaler for the week.

Though OPA is not mentioning whether other goods that will be rationally be rationed except coffee, it is understood that fresh vegetables and fruits will not be rationed. Even in England, where food is anything but abundant, no items of rationing goods which are sold straight from the grower to the retailer or consumer has been devised.

COL. M. THOMAS TCHOU

Since the four great leaders on the United Nations side of the world's epic battlefield are President Roosevelt, Winston Churchill, Josef Stalin and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, it is fitting that the Chinese representative of any one of these men should be on tap for the week.

His offer will be on tap for Magic Valley at 8 p. m. Tuesday when Col. M. Thomas Tchou speaks on the third Twin Falls program at the local high school, for Colonel Tchou was secretary to the Chinese generalissimo for three years during the early part of the Chinese-Japanese struggle.

GIRAUD COMMANDS FRENCH AFRICAN FORCES UNDER DARLAN

PLAN FULL ARMY THRUST AT AXIS

By WILLIAM D. BICKINSON
LONDON, Nov. 16 (AP)—Gen. Henri Honoré Giraud, assuming command of French forces in North Africa under Adm. Darlan, announced today that he and other French military leaders were preparing a full-scale thrust at the Axis in "renewing final victory."

In an order of the day to his men, as he assumed command, Gen. Giraud said that he, Darlan, Gen. Auguste Nogues, Gen. Alphonse Juin and other generals, acting on their own initiative, were going to organize the army.

"With the army we will cooperate with you under the all-British command and take whatever part in the final offensive that is entrusted to us," Giraud said.

Thankful to Allies
"The task will be hard and our adversary is brave and well equipped. But we are confident that you are capable of fighting magnificently for your honor."

Giraud said that the British and American forces had paid tribute to French courage in the recent fighting in Tunisia.

"We are grateful to President Roosevelt for his magnificent offer to equip us with modern weapons. We will not forget the help which we have received from Great Britain and the United States."

It developed that by recognizing Gen. Giraud as the French military and civil administration in Africa, with Giraud as chief of the military forces, Dwight D. Eisenhower had frozen the French political situation.

Eisenhower to Algiers
Nogues and Juin, he said, had been prominently identified with Marshal Henri Philippe Petain's Vichy regime. Nogues was Vichy-appointed governor of Morocco at the time the Americans landed, and Juin held the same office for Algeria.

Eisenhower went to Algiers to confer with Darlan and make the former commander-in-chief of the Vichy armed forces the French leader in North Africa.

Fighting French leaders here were surprised and displeased by the recognition of Darlan as chief of the French forces in Africa.

Giraud, however, both fighting and Vichy Frenchmen, had accepted military leadership under him which was expected to result in Darlan's favor.

Giraud Named "Traitor"
Radio Vichy broadcast a proclamation by Marshal Henri Philippe Petain calling Giraud a traitor, and "betraying" French Africa in order not to accept his orders.

British sources reported that Gen. Alphonse Juin, allied generalissimo when France fell, had formerly Vichy commander-in-chief in North Africa and had been arrested in France by order of the Germans.

French sources from Bizerte, Tunisia, reported that Giraud had occupied French Algeria and was making strong restrictions on the press and other installations calculated to be useful to the invaders.

German broadcast reported that Vichy leaders held a series of meetings yesterday under Pierre Laval, chief of government, to consider the African situation.

It's really "mileage rationing," rather than gasoline rationing, as it is more popularly known, because there is plenty of gasoline in the country but not enough miles to use it on indefinitely without restriction.

Whenever it's called, however, it means that beginning Dec. 1 you will buy only a certain amount of gasoline in certain designated periods, and your tires will be examined periodically by persons authorized to make the inspection. Gasoline rationing alone has been in effect in 17 Atlantic seaboard states and the District of Columbia for some time, and the rationing features will be added there as the whole plan goes into operation over the nation.

Register This Week
The first step here will be registration of all automobiles on Nov. 18, 19 and 20, and this is the way it will be done.

Owners of vehicles, in person if possible, will go to their nearest grade schools, just as they did in the rationing program. But before they go to register, they must remember to do these things:

- 1. Fill out a "tire record and application for basic ration" form, now obtainable at local stationery stores, grocers and similar firms.
- 2. On it must be listed the serial numbers of the tires allowed for each vehicle, their names and descriptions of the vehicles.
- 3. Take along their car registration certificate.
- 4. Take along the number of their Federal motor stamp (stick it on, but don't try to remove the sticker from the windshield).
- 5. There are three types of ration books for passenger cars—"A," "B" and "C"—along with others for trucks, motorcycles and non-highway users.

Passenger car owners will get the "A" books first, but may obtain application forms at the school registration for "B" and "C" books if they feel they will require more than the 200-mile limit under the "A" book. They will be preferred by mail these applications for supplemental motor fuel with their ration book orders.

On the supplemental forms they will explain their occupation for which they claim they need more driving miles for the next three months, state their occupation for which they claim they need more driving miles for the next three months, state their occupation for which they claim they need more driving miles for the next three months.

Original inspection for all passenger cars must be made by Dec. 1, 1942, and Jan. 31, 1943. After that, holders of "A" books must have their tires inspected every 100 miles, and holders of "B" and "C" books every 60 days or 5000 miles, whichever comes first.

Book holders will receive windshield stickers designating the type of book they possess.

Accumulate Two Months
Motorists, it was explained, may accumulate the coupons on an "A" book only for a two-months' supply, or 30 gallons.

Values of the coupons in the books, now set at four gallons each, may be changed to conform with changes in the petroleum supply situation.

Your "A" book will provide you will enough gasoline to drive 2000 miles at a rate on the present comparative value of four gallons and the government estimate of 15 miles to the gallon. The book contains four sheets of eight stamps each. Each stamp is good for a designated amount of fuel—only one stamp per month, per person only.

INSTRUCTOR HURT AFTER BAIL-OUT

POCATELLO, Nov. 16 (AP)—Injured when he bailed out of a training plane, St. V. Hultquist, 20, returned to his home for treatment for a fractured skull.

The 2800 miles in the "A" book, 1000 are considered to be available for family purposes, such as shopping, taking children to school, or going to church. The remaining 1800 are considered as available for occupational driving uses.

The plane crashed about five miles northeast of the municipal airport. Dr. R. R. Merrill said Hultquist had suffered no body injuries, but was dazed and did not appear to remember the incident.

The accident was blamed for Hultquist's death. Investigators said that he was flying a C-47 trainer plane from a field nearby a mile away. He ran to the west and east.

Watch ADELINE GRAY try "Live Test" chute in its first public demonstration.

That's the proving ground of a parachute—just as the "T-Zone" is the proving ground of your cigarette (see below).

YOU can test them in laboratories and you can toss them out with weighted dumplings...

But the real test of a parachute is the "live test"—when you step out in mid-air in an actual jump.

And it's like that with cigarettes, too. The final test of any brand is when you light it and smoke it.

Adeline Gray, a steady Camel smoker, can tell you "Camels are milder all ways."

Many a man at the front could tell you the same—Camels are the favorite pack there, too. But only your own "T-Zone" can tell you the cigarette that suits you best.

It opens! It holds! It's soft! And now for Adeline Gray as she floats calmly to the approval and applause of Army and Navy observers.

TASTE AND THROAT THAT'S MY TEST OF A CIGARETTE. AND THE BRAND FOR ME IS CAMEL. THEY'RE GRAND!

A PERFECT LANDING—and now for a Camel. And when Adeline Gray says "Camels suit me to a T," she's talking a language any smoker can understand (see right).

S. E. Vance, Past Legion Chieftain, Gooding Speaker

GOODING, Nov. 16—Speaking at the Armistice day celebration here (Times-News, 11-15-42), S. E. Vance, past commander of the American Legion, said that to honor those heroes who died in the first war and those who are dying in this war we must dedicate ourselves to making up for the mistakes made in Nov. 11, 1918. We must dedicate ourselves to winning this war and the peace which is to follow. He said that a time like this demands more than lip service.

Preceding his address, Vance called for a moment of silent prayer. A capacity crowd heard the address in the Schubert theater.

A parade was led by the colors, officers and men of company 1 of the Idaho state guard and the high school band. The program included: Colors, bagpipe; song "America," by the gathering; advancement of the colors, guard from Perry Byam and Tompkins post; Invocation, Rev. Laurin M. Wainwright; "Time of the Price" and "Sout Hearted Men," sung by high school chorals.

The speaker was introduced by Lloyd Sulvely, commander of the Perry Byam post. The high school band played two numbers followed by "Star Spangled Banner" with the audience singing. The colors were retired and Rev. A. C. Hartley pronounced the benediction.

Committee in charge of arrangements included Fred S. Craig; Capt. E. H. Ikard; Alex Watson, Merrill Gre, Mrs. Mary Elsie Bledgett and Mrs. William Schreiber.

PACIFIC COAST ROSE BOWL RACE STILL BADLY SCRAMBLED

By Russell Newland. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—The knotty problem of who will represent the Coast conference in the Rose Bowl, New Year's day, has no praver solution today than it was a month ago.

Faculty heads of the league have studied the situation individually, no doubt, and a Rose bowl committee discussed it collectively. By the time the committee has determined available eastern opponents may have been committed to the many other post season classics.

St. Louis was on the top of the conference as of to-day's shape up in this fashion: Washington State tops the field with five wins and one defeat. University of California at Los Angeles and the University of California have won three and lost one.

Stanford has won four and lost two and University of Washington is a three time winner, two time loser and holds a tie with the other five conference teams, California, Oregon State, Oregon, Idaho and Montana are out of the running.

The Bears rolled over the Green Bay Packers, last formidable opponent in their heading 20-7, Sunday, while the Redskins got their revenge at least a tie for the eastern title by whipping the Glatts, 14-7.

Washington State is on the top of the conference as of to-day's shape up in this fashion: Washington State tops the field with five wins and one defeat. University of California at Los Angeles and the University of California have won three and lost one.

There isn't another word in the state to compare with it on the basis of four years of performance—and it's doubtful if there's one in the west.

Rickey Slated To Name Field Boss This Week

By JACK CUDDY. NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Bryant Rickey is expected to name this week the Brooklyn Dodgers' manager. But so this writing the prospective leader's identity is the major mystery of the hot stove league.

During the world series, the report came out that Durocher would not be available as pilot for the Dodgers' next season because he was being held under contract with the Yankees in the navy.

There's the catch which may already have forced Rickey to abandon thoughts of keeping Lippay back at the helm. However, it is 21 and married, but may have to be called because his wife is financially independent.

Bears Nearly Clinch West Division Title

By PAUL SCHEFFELS. United Press Staff Correspondent. The Chicago Bear, nearest threat to the country's perfect football team, wore only a slim margin of chance away from the western division crown in the National Professional League football today.

The Bears rolled over the Green Bay Packers, last formidable opponent in their heading 20-7, Sunday, while the Redskins got their revenge at least a tie for the eastern title by whipping the Glatts, 14-7.

The Best Ohio State vs. Michigan Tops Big Ten Games

By AUSTIN BELMARE. NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The most interesting point in the football season, when most of the talk centers on the post-season games, has to do with Michigan State and Ohio State again but it's just too chatter to the folks around the Big Ten conference, where they play their games.

Michigan State, with its policy against post-season games, has the laugh on the promoters of the January classic, for in that game each would fill any bowl in the land and day in the year.

Another letter weekly serves it on top for Saturday when mighty Michigan, which lambasted Northwestern, 14-0, last week, will meet Ohio State, a team that humbled powerful Illinois, 42-20, 111 and 112.

There isn't another word in the state to compare with it on the basis of four years of performance—and it's doubtful if there's one in the west.

EXCITING FINISH - Chapter XXIX

"All right, you lose!" In that instant but effective manner the two detectives announced their presence. It was the one named Ed who spoke.

"The two gamblers whirled around. They had been facing Nancy, their backs to the door. For a second they just stared in astonishment.

"Gosh!" one gasped. "City slicker!" "That's you get it," yelled Duane from the city floor, sure enough. You suppose gonna be our guests for a while?"

"Yes," he already approaching them with hands out—he had been the culprit, not the hammer of a man, which they heard click in the dark. Blythe and Duane were in the exact doorway.

"The exact doorway?" Blythe's hand moved like a rattlesnake striking. It darted inside his own coat. He never even withdrew it, but fired twice with the gun still concealed there.

But as he fired, something called over the detective's head. It struck Blythe full in the face and dropped to the floor. The medicine was a pottery bank the size, shape and appearance of a football, and it was fired by or more in premises. It had been among Scooter's toys.

"Duane!" Blythe started in a delightful excitement. "You hit him."

He had made an accurate forward pass indeed; nothing better, were it not for the man. He now stood on the floor. But the second gambler had started running. He was the brassy-looking one who had made the original approach to Pop Miller and Duane in the hall.

"Oh... Oh... He's getting away!" Nancy was shouting.

A detective said once at the firing man, nabbing him. He could fire three times because of the form blocked the man door. He plunged ahead, following Duane.

The chase led out of the building and toward the end tunnel of the stadium nearby. By this time at least 20 or other men had been running from Pop's office and from the foyer of the gym. Norman Dana, dressed for his dinner date, just came up, and baby Scooter Hale, the two movie men, Louman and Nideck, Summers of the Journal, all the others, were witnesses to that last short race.

"That's cooking, Norman shouted. "What's cooking, Norman shouted. "Sneak play!" Duane yelled back.

In that same moment, Duane tackled. His graceful 185 pounds stretched out horizontally, took the fleeing gambler from behind. There was a grunt and a groan, then a huddle. Duane was lifted off the prostrate man. Somebody had to run for water, and Pop's own emergency kit was brought out. It took over five minutes to get the gambler back to his senses.

"I thought my tickets had been ruled out!" Elmer Summer piped, jubilantly. "Wow, what a show!"

"I want it! I want it!" T. J. Sign him! Sign him!" after they came tomorrow.

"Somebody else will see him. T. J. Sign him! We can do one feature length before he goes to war. The Spirit of Football!"

Nobody was paying attention to the two movie men now. Everybody was asking questions.

Duane Miller and Scooter Hale led him out of the building and both girls were mildly hysterical until they saw that no harm had come to Duane. It was Norman Dana, however, who rushed to greet Nancy.

"Nancy... Nancy!" He was frantic. "Tell me what happened! Are you hurt yourself? Tell me the other at the same time. True, she had to speak a piece, with many questions jabbed at her, many frays he, excited interruptions.

"But when did you come into it, Miss Miller?" Summers, the newsman, demanded.

"I—I open Pop's mail. They sent him a threatening letter. I went home to try to bring Pop first, and he—"

"I told them to go to hell, the devil!" Pop roared out angrily. He was still brandishing one of the devices.

"But they left an envelope of money on his desk anyway!" Blythe cut in. "And when we didn't lose the Avar gun, they bricked the hall!"

"I still got the money—by George!" Pop sat back on his heels in surprise, just remembering of the fact I had had! "The T. S. Co. can use it!"

"Yes! I did it!" Oh, Pop, I was afraid you—

"How do you know it was them, honey? Those two?"

"I saw the man who called on you, and then I saw the same one—this one you've just branded. He came sneaking up Nancy's stairs, I—I trailed him. I guess, I'm kind of off, but way, Duane and I just follow a hot tip, talk Victorio stages and all."

"You followed him, Miss?" a detective asked.

"Yes, and I overheard Nancy agree to do what he wanted. Oh, Nancy, darling, I thought you—"

"Blythe went snoring and then, and her chin was trembling a little. All the shame and horror with which she had been regarding Nancy Hale had been wiped away!

"It depended on Blythe then, that Norman Dana now was standing at Nancy's side, a protective arm around her shoulders. For so earnestly reason—here in the excitement of this moment—she remembered that Norman had said Nancy was beautiful, that Norman's hands were light, on Nancy's dinner table. She looked around quickly—and a little faintly—for Duane. He had gone to see about the other gambler and the detective left upstairs. As matters developed, those first questions had wounded the detective, and the officer berated himself for not coming out of the closet with gun in hand. He was not hurt badly; indeed he helped Duane carry the motorer downstairs. Duane's blow with the pottery bank had been a thumping good one!

Blythe had a feeling, next, of being snuffed at by a thousand happy people. Summers of the Journal had questions. Louman and Nideck, the movie men, were having about contracts and new picture ideas. Scooter Hale and his puppy Link were running in circles, and everybody else had this and that to say. For her part, Blythe wanted to see Duane, somehow she just wanted to see him, and talk to him, and try to make him understand that she had thought only of his happiness, always.

By this time Pop Miller was rounding up all his football players who were present.

"Come with me, ladies" he ordered. "I got to take you in hand and make you rest. This night, I'll find privacy for us in a hotel. If I have in West—more you excellent young stars. I wait."

In the hurry and hubbly, Duane was taken away. Blythe saw him no more that afternoon or evening.

KEEP YOUR 5 BEST TIRES— ALL OTHERS MUST BE SOLD TO UNCLE SAM

If you own idle passenger car tires on or after Dec. 2 it will be illegal to use gasoline in your car

LEON HENDERSON, PRICE ADMINISTRATOR, ANSWERS QUESTIONS ABOUT THE IDLE TIRE PURCHASE PLAN TO HELP KEEP CARS ON THE ROAD FOR ESSENTIAL USES

Q What is an Idle Tire?

A Since the Idle Tire Purchase Plan limits the ownership of passenger car tires to five tires for each passenger car owner and to one tire for each running wheel of each passenger car trailer or other such equipment owned, any passenger car tire in excess of those limits is an Idle Tire.

Q How will the owners of Idle Tires be affected?

A Beginning December 2, it will be illegal to use gasoline or permit gasoline to be used in the operation of any passenger car if the owner of the car owns one or more Idle Tires. Furthermore, it will be illegal for any person owning a passenger car, to use or permit gasoline to be used in its operation if any person in his or her household who is related by blood, marriage or adoption, owns one or more Idle Tires.

Q What is the purpose of the Idle Tire Plan?

A The rubber shortage is serious. Your Government must have tires right now—today—for essential use. America's passenger cars must be kept running or the war effort will suffer.

Q What shall I do with my Idle Tires?

A The Government will buy them at ceiling prices. If you want to drive your car you must dispose of your Idle Tires as provided by the regulations. You MUST also file a Tire Record Form that certifies that neither you nor any member of your household who is related to you by blood, marriage or adoption owns Idle Tires.

Q How do I sell my Idle Tires to the Government?

A Follow the simple instructions at the bottom of this page. But don't delay. Idle Tires must be disposed of before December 2.

Q How do I file a Tire Record Form?

A Government Tire Record Forms may be obtained at War Price and Rationing Board offices, Post Offices and Gasists. In areas where gasoline is already rationed, Tire Record Forms must be taken or sent to your War Price and Rationing Board by December 12. Earlier is better because this form also contains the Tire Inspection Blank which must be signed by your War Price and Rationing Board and which you must have in your possession after December 12.

In areas where gasoline rationing becomes effective December 2, Tire Record Forms may also be obtained at school houses when you register for gasoline. The forms must be filled to and presented before you can obtain a gasoline ration book.

Q Must I file a Tire Record Form if I own no Idle Tires?

A Yes, if you wish to use gasoline in your passenger car.

Q Are any passenger car tires exempt from the Idle Tire regulations?

A Yes—In three general classifications. Passenger car tires intended for use on cars owned or leased by Federal, State, local and foreign governments; passenger car tires in the hands of dealers (including car dealers), jobbers or manufacturers, bought or made for sale, if they have been reported to the Government on official inventory forms; and passenger car tires intended for use on taxicabs, public rental cars, jitneys, buses, cars licensed for hire, etc. The exemptions do not apply to the latter group, however, if the owner of such tires also owns a private passenger car and uses gasoline in its operation.

Q What will I do when my own tires wear out—put up my car?

A No. Automobiles are essential to the war program. The purpose of this plan is not to take cars off the road—but to keep cars on the road—yours included, for essential driving. When you need tires, the Government will do everything possible to see that you are supplied.

Q What about synthetic rubber? Won't that solve the problem?

A Not quickly enough. Unless we take steps immediately to pool and use Idle Tires, many cars will be off the road by 1944.

Q I bought 2 tires before Pearl Harbor and put them aside for a rainy day. Do I have to give them up?

A Sorry, but it's America's rainy day now. The limit is 5 tires per passenger car. But you can keep your 2 best tires.

Q Does the Government want old tires?

A Yes. The Government must have all usable Idle Tires, new and used, even those needing repairs. Idle Tires beyond repair should be sold to scrap dealers.

Q What about bus and truck tires and tubes?

A Compulsion does not apply to bus-type and truck-type tires, nor to tubes of any kind, but the Government will buy all that are offered.

Q Can I sell or give my Idle Tires to a relative or neighbor?

A No. Usable or repairable tires can be disposed of only to the Government in accordance with the instructions given elsewhere on this page. Idle Tires that are beyond repair should be sold to scrap dealers.

Q Are there penalties for violation of the Idle Tire regulations?

A Yes. The penalties are severe for illegal use of gasoline on and after December 2, or for making false statements about tire ownership, or for illegal disposition of tires. If in doubt on any point, consult the OPA Mileage Rationing Regulations.

HERE IS HOW TO SELL YOUR IDLE TIRES TO UNCLE SAM AT CEILING PRICES

Keep your 5 best tires for each passenger car; one for each running wheel of passenger car trailers and similar equipment. All other tires, new or used, regardless of condition, are Idle Tires. Sell all Idle Tires (even those needing repairs) to the Government before December 2.

Railway Express Agency has been designated to collect usable Idle Tires (at no cost to you) and deliver them to Government warehouses. In areas where Railway Express has "pick-up" service, call or write nearest Railway Express Agency office and say you have Idle Tires for Uncle Sam. A truck will call.

In rural areas beyond Express "pick-up" zones, make usable Idle Tires and tubes to the Railway Express Agency office, usually at nearest railroad station. The Express agent will give you a receipt. Scrap tires should not be turned over to Railway Express. Sell them directly to scrap dealers.

At Government warehouses, Idle Tires will be appraised at ceiling prices, according to make, size and condition, less cost of repairs, if needed. (Typical prices are shown elsewhere on this page.) A U. S. Treasury check for payment in full will be sent to you by mail. Tell the express agent if you prefer payment in War Savings Bonds or Stamps at current purchase value.

EXAMPLES OF PRICES THE GOVERNMENT WILL PAY FOR YOUR IDLE TIRES

Tire Size	USED TIRE PRICES
	Tread Depth 7/32" or more	Tread Depth Less than 7/32" or less	Smooth Tread

5.25x18	6.80	5.55	3.70
4.75x19	6.10	4.95	3.30

Prices in column marked "7/32" or less" also apply for all regenerated and remolded tires. Only popular sizes are listed. Other sizes priced proportionately. The above prices apply to used tires which need not be deducted. If repairs are needed, costs fixed by the appraiser will be deducted, but no deduction will be made for recapping. If tires retained prove good only as scrap, scrap prices will be paid.

USED TIRE PRICES

Minimum price for used used passenger car tires is $1.50. NEW TIRE AND TUBE PRICES New tires, including undamaged tires run less than 1000 miles, and new tubes, will be sold for at maximum applicable OPA prices. In nearly every case the manufacturer's current list price will prevail.
