

LABOR "PRACTICE COOPERATION" PLAN GETS EARLY TEST

SHIPYARDS WILL TRY OUT SYSTEM

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—The AFL-CIO plan of "practical cooperation" agreed to as a step toward unity, will get its first real test today in the shipyard industry.

The plan, decided on yesterday by leaders of America's two major labor movements, provides for arbitration of jurisdictional differences which cannot be solved by the unions themselves. The agreement is subject to approval of the AFL and CIO executive boards, but unity negotiations will go forward meanwhile.

President Roosevelt, it was learned, has intervened to prevent a prospective knock-down, drag-out fight which might lead to national labor relations board in the middle.

Thomas W. Byrnes, the national stabilization director, Mr. Roosevelt has requested that leaders of both organizations withhold their fire in the bitter battle and try to reach a conference before the board is called into being at Portland, Ore., on Dec. 14 at the instigation of the Chamber of Commerce, which charges that the closed shop contracts between AFL unions and three yards of Henry J. Kaiser were made illegally.

The AFL, local trade department, regarding all its resources in the fight, has assailed the NAACP for disturbing a national relationship.

Business Agreement. Rival leaders discussed their agreement after a day and a half conference in the Washington machine but would discuss in practical application in relation to shipyard.

The joint peace committee, set up by the plan, is to be an effort to make its maximum contribution to the country in the war effort.

Another German counter-attack, said a communiqué broadcast by the Morocco radio, was repulsed at Pont du Fard, south of Tunis, by French forces which captured that place several days ago.

Heavy fighting also was reported around Mateur, 12 miles south of Bizerte, where an allied column is driving toward the town.

British and American planes hammered the enemy from the air with mounting force, as the Tunisian air force also took part.

Other traditional passed all dangers in the Italian oil conservation law, the creation of a small state park in a sand of virgin timber in Adams county, a change in the title registration system.

The important resolution asking the office of price administration to change its base period for setting the ceiling price on potatoes, and the one on rubber and other vital articles of commerce, were to be decided and voted on this afternoon or tonight.

PLAN—A seemingly airtight arrangement to prevent the nation's leading aircraft corporations in control of the production of the airplane, from being able to produce a man in the air, Tucker's National Airlift, is a new type of aircraft service system. Right Down His Alley

ALBERT LEMAN
In New York, a glimpse of the plight of the northern country. The calculated program by which the nation is uprooting some and exterminating others of the doomed population is about beyond imagination. More than 1,000,000 people have been forced to leave their homes and find refuge in the camps of the Reich.

Albert Lemman, a Polish refugee, has been deported to the Reich for slave labor. A conservative estimate is that 1,000,000 have been killed by public firing squads or by secret prison tortures. Most recent reports indicate that many of the victims are being executed by means of gas chambers. And deaths by disease and starvation reach a terrific scale.

HORNETS' NEST

Wendell Willkie stirred up a hornet's nest when he took a crack recently at Winston Churchill's remarks that what the British Commonwealth of Nations is all about is a whole thing probably was a series of misunderstandings. Either Mr. Willkie or the British misunderstood what Churchill meant, and the British apparently misunderstood what Mr. Willkie had in mind.

The episode has served a useful purpose. Nobody could read the bitterly indignant editorials in the Canadian press without dismissing any idea that Canada has wearied of its ties with the British Empire.

Most Americans knew that, but late a few have been misled by the waters with talk about a jolinder of the two great North American nations. They can now forget their pipe dream and get back to the business of good neighborliness.

The general Canadian reaction to Mr. Willkie's speech was indicated by the heading of an editorial in the Ottawa Journal—"The Iron Cross for Willkie."

The Canadian attitude toward the British Empire is well summarized by the Toronto Globe and Mail "On Stripping the Empire." This prominent Dominion journal concedes that Britain can and does make mistakes, but then goes on to refute Mr. Willkie's epithets with some facts.

The United States had almost four times as much of King's exports in 1940 as in 1939. To the United Kingdom. "That is to say," remarks the Globe and Mail, "the 'colonial' imperialism' which is supposed to be exploiting the country received only one-seventh of the rubber, tin, copra, palm oil and timber shipped abroad."

No colony is taxed for the benefit of Great Britain, says the Globe and Mail, but only to defray local costs of government and public improvements.

"Colonial imperialism" has been, in fact, a benevolently constructive process, by which savage jungles have been made into thriving productive areas whose output has been available to whoever cared to buy in an open market, the Globe and Mail argues.

This may be over-simplification of the situation. It does ignore certain intriguing aspects of British colonial history. And yet the Canadian newspaper's even-tempered analysis goes far to support its conclusion that the "colonial" really is more nearly a "union" or "federation."

In any event Canada—and apparently the other dominions—does not feel that the people of the United States need waste any sympathy on the British provincials. They're quite well satisfied with their present status.

ALCAN HIGHWAY
Crowded into inside pages by more spectacular happenings was a United Nations achievement so important that details may not be published until the war is over. That was completion and opening of the Alcan highway, making available a motor road from the United States through Canada to Fairbanks, Alaska.

2,000 HUNGARIANS ARRESTED TO SLOW DEFEATISM RUMORS

BLACK MARKETS STILL FLOURISH

By WILLIAM B. DICKINSON
LONDON, Dec. 3 (AP)—Hungarian police have arrested more than 2,000 persons in Budapest alone in a drive to combat a wave of defeatism spreading over the country, it was learned from Turkey reported today.

The police swept down on hundreds of police agents and arrested persons charged with spreading false rumors about events in Africa and Russia. Some of those arrested were released later, but most were sent to concentration camps where, the dispatch reported, were already jammed.

Black Market Trade
The dispatch, which came from reliable sources in Ankara through the United Press correspondent there, said several hundred persons had been arrested in Budapest also for trading in bread and ration tickets in the black market.

Among those arrested were scores of men who acted as agents for Hungarian diplomats and diplomatic couriers who are smuggling coffee into Hungary to be sold at $10 a pound, the dispatch said.

Hungary has doubled its exports to Germany and tripled its exports to Italy in the last six months, and its bread ration is now the lowest in Europe, even lower than that in Greece, the Ankara dispatch said.

Naval Whistleblowing
This, news from Germany's chief ally in southeast Europe came along with news that Germany in 1942 yesterday was whittling through the graveyard.

German broadcasts put their chief emphasis on Mussolini's statement that Italy would never desert Germany.

"It is the statement that Italy would fight until the very last breath of its last soldier," the broadcast said, "that is the real headline on the first pages of German morning papers," one Berlin broadcast said.

"How ally and ally, after all, is the hope of Churchill, the destroyer of Britain, if he were to turn his back on the Italian people from his duty," the Volksrecht broadcast, organ of the Nazi party, said editorially.

Wickard, too, Has Troubles In Farm Help

DENVER, Dec. 3 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Wickard said he knows what it means to have a hand to harvest with a steady stream of field hands.

"I know what it means to get panicky when your men are leaving you," he told a 15-state meeting of western farm leaders yesterday.

"As a matter of fact, I have been panicky—wondering how to get the job done on my farm in Indiana. There was the corn and soybeans to get in, the livestock to care for and a thousand and one other things to do before cold weather set in."

"I didn't have a corn picking machine and couldn't get one. Last year I hired the neighbor's boy to come over into the corn picker, but he went into the army this year."

"Then a fellow came along and wanted to work, but he wanted his wages by the hour. I had never paid that way before, but he did it."

A 17-year-old high school boy went to work for me and did a fine job. I hope to have him back next year because he was with a good hand with the livestock."

By trading labor and machinery with my neighbor—and that was the first time I had done that—we managed to get our harvest done."

Woman, Hurt in Doughnut-Frying Blaze, Recovers
HANSSEN, Dec. 3 (AP)—Mrs. William Hanssen today was recovering from major burns suffered in one of the strangest accidents ever reported here.

While she was frying doughnuts at her home, flames from her apron caught on to the house, and she was burned. The burning flames ignited the doughnuts in the frying pan and the blaze crept in turn set her clothing on fire.

The clothing was burned from Mrs. Hanssen's back and she was unable to extinguish the flames. Reentering the house, she turned off the electric plug, put on a coat and ran to the house to get her husband's parents, a quarter of mile away, where William was working. She rushed her to the office of a physician in Twin Falls.

Mrs. Hanssen's burns extended from the rear of her knees to the top of her back.

Shepherd Wins Draft Deferral
BOISE, Dec. 3 (AP)—An Idaho shepherd carried to President Roosevelt his appeal from a selective service order and won.

Brig. Gen. M. C. McConnell, state selective service director, without identifying the shepherd, said the appeal was made—and granted—on the grounds the man was an essential worker in the production of wool and lamb.

The president's action, in effect, balked the decision of most of Idaho's local boards which granted deferment to shepherders. General McConnell estimated "several hundred" have been excused from service.

Group Exemplifies "Spirit of the Grange"

This is a scene from the inspirational candlelighting ceremony at the public meeting of the Idaho State Grange last night, with seven members portraying the salient characteristics of the Grange. Those in the

Grange Highlights

MILEAGE
Nobody's speedometer was being trusted as Roy Stevenson, Wilbur, and William Bryan, Gooding, and in the lobby at the Hootenay Wednesday afternoon and totaled up the distance traveled by delegates, so that they could receive their mileage payments.

"I bet that we don't trust them," said Stevenson, chairman of the credentials and mileage committee, "but they get paid mileage only for the shortest route. Some of them had side trips, to make."

Incidentally, Robert Lepp's mileage data will give you an idea of how big Idaho is. It is 700 miles from here to his home in Bonanza Ferry. If they were giving a prize, he'd get it.

BOUQUETS
"Flower where honor is due" was the theme of Wednesday afternoon's program, and bouquets fell like rain for a time. State Master E. T. Taylor called Mrs. Robert W. Elderly before the altar to congratulate her upon winning first prize in the national flower night meeting program contest, for which she is to receive a gold pin from the National Grange.

A. C. Lathrop, Council, former pastor of the Catholic church at Boise, received similar congratulations for a certificate presented to him of 50 years, and the same went for seven Grangers who had received their 25th year of continuous membership.

And then the honors started rolling back the other way. The officers and deputies of the State Grange presented a gift to the state master and Mrs. Taylor for their untiring and effective efforts of the past year.

YOUNGEST
They already had two State Grange offices in the family, and now they have the youngest 16th degree member in Idaho, as well. That's the Elva E. Jones, Twin Falls, whose son, Leonard C. Jones, was one of the 200 initiated into the sixth degree Tuesday night.

With the state convention coming in the same month as his 16th birthday (minimum Grange age), Leonard graduated from the juvenile to the subordinate Grange, and took the fifth and sixth degrees, all in the last 20 days. That sixth degree class, incidentally, was one of the largest in the history of the State Grange.

PROM
Twin Falls Promoters Grange members were plenty proud of the Twin Falls girls after the Rose drill during the 16th degree presentation Tuesday night. Especially after a visiting Granger told the captain, Mrs. Ida Krueger, that her team did a better job with the Rose drill than he saw at the National Grange convention at Wenatchee, Wash.

RECEPTION
They were still talking today about the reception given by the North Side Pomona Tuesday night, when the degree was given. The music service and the refreshments provided by the North Side, and the Grangers' appreciation, by keeping the floor filled with dancers and repeatedly calling for more dancing, was a beautiful state secretary, was being raised by the association which tried to dance at least once with every member of the Rose drill team. But maybe that was just jealousy on the

GRANGERS HONOR DEPARTED GROUP

DeWay Williams, Wood River 87; Mrs. J. J. Wherry, Maple Grove 24; Justice William M. Morgan, Maple Grove 24; J. K. Lichner, Deer Flat 154; W. A. Sullivan, West Point 208; W. S. Caldwell Veteran Commits Suicide

CALDWELL, Ida., Dec. 3 (AP)—Glen M. Tucker, 40, Middleton, came to his death Wednesday from a self-inflicted bullet wound, Coroner Wilbur Dukan reported today.

Tucker's body was found yesterday in his cabin in Middleton. He was a World War veteran. Survivors include his wife, a sister in Texas and several brothers in Mississippi.

WICKARD "SURE" OF RECORD CROP

DENVER, Dec. 3 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Wickard said there are errors of commission and omission in the department's 1943 war crop program, but that in the main it was sound and provided an unprecedented job for the American farmer can and must accomplish.

He bluntly told the western agricultural conference that criticism of the program was to be expected, and that the obstacles—manpower and equipment shortages, rationing and transportation problems—seemed almost insurmountable.

Farmers' War Job
Wickard added, however, that the production goals were the farmers' war job and carried as much responsibility as that borne by every marine in the Solomon Islands.

Doubt, expressed by some speakers from the floor, as to the feasibility of attaining the goals was met by Wickard with the assertion that it was the farmers' patriotic obligation.

Chairmen of the agricultural war boards from each of the 13 states represented sent Wickard a formal statement after the meeting pledging their states to meet next year's production goals.

Not 'Just Farm Hope'
Wickard said he had been asked by Charles Myers, president of the Wyoming Stockgrowers' association, if the production goals were "a farm hope."

"To me the goals are not just a hope," he said. "The American farmer can not only meet them, but surpass them. They are not just a request, but a patriotic obligation."

Farmers are going to have to fight for production and otherwise, just as the farmers fought for freedom on Bunker Hill and at Valley Forge," Wickard said.

The manpower shortage was named by the secretary as the most pressing problem in the entire program. He said it has shaped a partial solution might be found in the Many sufferers relief nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are nature's chief way of taking the waste acids and waste out of the blood. They help keep your blood clean.

When a disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatism, leg pain, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, poor appetite, under the eyes, puffiness and swelling. GAS RATIONING and YOUR SHOPPING PROBLEM

It goes without saying almost: the shopping problem of the average family is going to be heightened by gas rationing. Especially hard hit will be those of you who do not live within walking distance of your favorite store. And those who live outside of Twin Falls are probably wondering now just how you can conveniently create an opportunity to buy in Twin Falls.

For a long-time we have had this problem under consideration. And we have been gearing our service to this present emergency condition. Today we are sure that we can say: You may order by mail with assured satisfaction in our store. To accomplish this we (1) delegated to one clerk the special job of filling mail-orders to see that they were filled promptly and correctly. Too many clerks handling this department is often a case of too many cooks spoiling the soup. (2) Procured "mats" of illustrations of shoes actually in stock. Thus unless otherwise indicated, you may order from a specific illustration in our ads knowing it is an actual representation of the shoes you will receive. (3) Built up as inclusive a file of sizes, style requests and types of shoes as possible desired by our customers. This will enable us to know your personal requirements in footwear. (4) Diversified our stock and increased it as much as possible to give as wide a range of choice of footwear as possible to facilitate mail orders. (5) Created the facilities necessary to carry on credit wherever possible to make ordering by mail as convenient as possible for you.

It's true that we shan't in every single case do away with mistakes—certain shortages now prevailing in the shoe industry prevent us from filling every request for staple shoes. But we shall do our level best to serve you... and we invite you to "shop" our store by mail... men's, women's or children's footwear is here for your selection. And you may be assured that we shall do everything possible to serve you as if you were in our store in person.

This is how we hope to solve your personal problem of shopping in the face of gas rationing. May we help you?

You can order by mail with assured satisfaction from

Area Instructor Praises Workmanship of Surgical Supply Unit of Local Red Cross

Surgical dressings unit, American Red Cross, received a "top rating" from Mrs. Burton O. Clark, Boise, when she inspected the workmanship yesterday afternoon in the Venetian room, Elks building.

"The dressings are perfect; the equipment up to standard; the headquarters are delightful, and the work of the local unit is well-done as any chapter I have visited," was her pronouncement.

Area Instructor

Mrs. Clark is area instructor of Boise for surgical dressings. It was under her instruction at Pocatello that Mrs. J. Paul Thomas and Mrs. O. P. Duval took training prior to directing the work of the local unit.

Mrs. Clark's husband, a physician and surgeon, and a retired colonel of World war-2 has returned to active duty and is now attached to the medical staff at the veterans' hospital in Boise.

Interpreting briefly the production of surgical dressings, a tea was served at 3:30 p. m. in the Venetian room in honor of Mrs. Clark.

Mrs. Roy Field, Mrs. E. T. Guttery and Mrs. L. E. Tanner, members of the Red Cross chapter, served tea and cookies.

Several Twin Falls women who have taken an active part in Red Cross work during the past year attended a luncheon Wednesday at noon at the Regency hotel at which Mrs. Clark was the honored guest.

Present were Mrs. C. A. Bailey, chairman of the volunteer special services of the local Red Cross chapter; Mrs. Duval, one of the surgical dressings instructors; Mrs. Howard J. Larsen, Mrs. C. O. Pader, and Mrs. Margaret Peck, assistants.

At luncheon

Mrs. E. W. McRoberts, chairman of the motor corps; Mrs. William M. Middleton, chairman of the staff assistants' corps; Mrs. R. W. Carpenter, chairman of production; Mrs. Mary T. Peavey, chairman of public relations.

Mrs. Clark also inspected the Red Cross headquarters at the Twin Falls public library building during her visit in Twin Falls.

One of the most essential activities of the Red Cross chapter, the surgical dressings unit has received the response of women throughout the section. Many clubs and other organizations are making dressings for their war effort.

It is the attraction of the interested attention of women of all ages, from the youngest of girls to grand-grandmothers.

We The Women

By RUTH MILLETT

Whether or not democracy has flourished during this war year we have been through, America certainly has a more democratic look. You are just as likely to see a dignified college professor as a telegraph messenger peddling down the street on a bicycle.

Celeste's Lady, Sadie and the long, lean limousine and the rattie-rattie jalopy parked beside it have "A" stickers on the windshield.

Mrs. Busy-Mother-of-Five is teaching Miss Debutante how to make surgical dressings in a Red Cross room. Children are waiting to private as well as to public schools.

The butcher's boy and banker's son are going through officer's training school together. One was working in a garage when the army called him, the other was attending one of the "beat" colleges.

Junior Leagues and stenographers are dressing alike in the uniforms of the War and the Waves. Girls with little education and girls with college degrees are working side by side on assembly lines.

Mrs. Average-Mean and Mrs. Well-To-Do are worrying out loud about the same things:

How to keep their houses warm enough for comfort, how to get by on a cup of coffee a day, and how to reconcile themselves to wearing rayon or cotton stockings.

People who live beside each other are becoming neighbors as they share rides, look after each other's children as a means of meeting the help problem, and try to dispel the gloom of practice bankruptcies by seeing them through together.

So while there are still people who worry about the war's taking democracy from us, the outward signs indicate that the American people haven't seemed to truly democratic since pioneer days.

Twin Falls Home Economics club will meet at the home of Mrs. Harold Luckey at 8 p. m. Friday.

Country Woman's Club to Donate To Boise Home

Instead of having a Christmas gift exchange this year, the Country Woman's club will make a contribution to the children's home at Boise, when the club meets Dec. 16 at the home of Mrs. Scott Ellsworth.

This decision was reached when the group met at the home of Mrs. Harrison Griffith Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. E. O. Cain gave the Rural Federation report. Mrs. C. L. Lewis was elected as the new vice-president. Mrs. Charles L. Smith was accepted as a new member.

A program on modern poetry was presented by Mrs. R. G. Dodd. Mrs. Plaworth and Mrs. Tom Timbers. Poems considered were those of Robert Frost, Grace Noll Crowell and Arthur Guiterman.

Red Cross sewing occupied the group during the afternoon. Mrs. John Ritchey and Mrs. E. J. Mort were assistant leaders.

The white elephant, furnished by Mrs. Dodd, was won by Mrs. Lilla Little. Mrs. L. J. Trunkman was a guest of the club.

A lot of children talent is expected to be brought to light by Eugene's new "Make-Do and Mend" campaign. Instead of treating restrictions on clothing as mere restrictions the British housewife should find satisfaction in doing for her own sake and for the national war effort.

Ten Initiated by Beta Gamma at Taperlight Rite

The traditional candlelighting ceremony had 10 new members to follow the speaker into the Beta Gamma club of the Y. W. C. A. last night at the club's initiation meeting.

Mrs. Irene Baltzer, new senior sponsor of the group, welcomed the initiates and led representatives of the club in explaining the meaning and purpose of Beta Gamma. Mrs. R. L. Reed, counselor, told how and why the Y. W. C. A. was started, and Mrs. Velma Moore, Miss Lola Reed, Miss Arabelle Brown and Miss Yvonne Alstara, members of the organization, were others who took part in the building of the candles, explaining what each candle stood for.
