SHORT ASSEMBLY SESSION IS SEEN

BOISE, Dec. 9.—The belief appeared to be growing in capital circles today that Governor C. H. Holtzcliff will recommend a short and snappy session of the 17th legislature when he makes his body count Jan. 4.

A source who could not be quoted by name said today he has reason to believe the new governor will ask directly for a brief session. He pointed out that Holtzcliff is an experienced legislator before the legislature in Boise and that he has a "cautious" and "pragmatic" attitude with few reforms and additions "which might defeat a program of reformation for the duration of the session" and cited this as support for his theory.

Support indicated.

Such a move is expected by many observers to gain considerable support from economy-minded citizens as well as from members of the legislature, since some legislation already has been made in newspaper editions for a 30-day session. The most recent is 60 days.

Speculation is that the new governor might make to the legislature for financing the regular citizens' grant and has been increasingly prevalent in political circles recently.

Many legislative observers believe the governor will recommend a mid-term of 30 days, but others, close to Holtzcliff, report he is faced in this matter with the difficult problem of the session and that he is studying every angle before making a decision. Holtzcliff has made no comment on the financial aspect of the legislative session.

While calls for payment of 40 monthly pensions and other benefits to the needy are made.

No Lack of Candidates.

Political appointments have been coming in for a long share of attention lately and it is obvious that there has been no lack of candidates for each of the estimated 1,000 state positions to be filled. Of primary interest will be the identity of department head appointments.

Holtzcliff has reported some progress in "winning through" applications, but has not yet announced whom he will appoint to his offices.

Torpedoes Saved Jap Fleet

From Complete Destruction

BY CHARLES A. MURPHY

WITH THE U. S. FLEET BOMBARDING THE JAPANESE PACIFIC, Dec. 9 (AP)—The Japs are a resourceful, stubborn and persistent foe.

Battle brutes, they bounce back quickly with new tactics designed to meet the latest situation.

The battle of the Philippine Sea, 30 miles off the coast of Japan, on June 5, 1942, was a decisive victory for the United States Navy. The Japanese fleet was almost completely destroyed.

Previous Japanese attempts to reinforce Guadalcanal were supported by heavily armed warships, but in all except one of the naval actions which ensued, the Japs took a bad beating.

Because they are too busy for the razor, the Japs are now shaving with their hands.

In N. H. (Nature's Remedy) Tablets, there is no harshness, no purgative effect. They are different from other laxatives. They are a combination of vegetable and mineral salts. They are easy to take and they are effective. They are a good laxative for all ages.

Torpedoes Saved Japs

Without their torpedoes, the enemy probably would have been wiped out but we were sufficiently damaged to be unable to pursue.

Savvy officers reported that the torpedoes were "the most powerful known" and for more damaging than bombs or the German U-boats.

They were warned by our air scouts that the Japs were moving in. We sped up Luena pass. Despite the darkness of the night, after a rain storm, we detected Jap destroyers off Cape Esperance at the northwest tip of Guadalcanal. They were straggled in a line of 10 destroyers and 2 cruisers.

They were ordered to attack. The rear admiral commanding our task force ordered his ships to close for battle. The destroyers closed in to two and one-half miles and fired.

SHARE-THE-MEAT DRIVE ORGANIZED

Jerome, Dec. 9.—A "share the meat" campaign for Jerome county has been organized at meetings held in Jerome and Hazelton. Mrs. Felix A. Plasing, Jerome, is in charge of the educational work in the towns and County Agent Ray O. Peterson in the rural areas.

The amount of pork available to civilians will be cut to 70 per cent, beef 70 per cent, and mutton to 65 per cent. This means that in order for every person to secure a fair share of the meat available, every family should limit its consumption to 2 1/2 pounds per week for each person over 12 years of age, 1 1/2 for each child between six and 12 years of age, and three-fourths of a pound for children under six years.

Each family in the county will be contacted and a "share the meat" will be left at each home. This leaflet gives methods of using dishes to replace meat in the meal.

Club Hears Japanese Question From Social and Army Sides

The Japanese question was discussed at two different angles at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary club yesterday noon-first, at length, by Rev. Herman C. Riber, pastor of the Twin Falls Presbyterian church, and second, briefly, by Kenneth A. Keveren, postmaster in the Alutian Islands.

The subject of Rev. Riber's address was "The Cockeyed World or the Problem of Human Relationship." He cited the following:

The British who once had forced Americans to sing "God Save the King" had recently invited the U. S. soldiers to worship in Westminster abbey.

The Mexicans against whom we once fought a war were now being imported to help harvest our crops.

The Chinese who during the Boxer rebellion were enemies are now our partners in a war.

The South Americans against whom our marines waged almost incessant warfare in years past are now "good neighbors."

Perhaps Japan too

"And who knows but at some future date Japan when it has been purged of its military clique will also be on friendly relations with the United States," Rev. Riber declared.

He said that for this reason we should think twice concerning the treatment of the many persons of Japanese extraction that Twin Falls has in its midst. He indicated that so far as his church was concerned the persons of Japanese extraction would be welcomed with some taken into its membership and given the use of its hospitality.

The minister cited numerous instances of Japanese loyalty.

After his introduction, Major Keveren, who, with his wife is residing a fortnight at the home of his father-in-law, C. M. Smith, said "we, too, up in the Aleutians have a Japanese problem. They are on our back doorstep and we are trying to get them off."

He said that the army was doing a great job in that respect but asserted military secrecy forbade his saying more.

U. S. Soldier Punches Bear Right on Nose

By LORNE BRUCE
Canandaigua, N. Y., Dec. 9.—The United States soldier who punched a black bear in the nose and came out alive is one of the "characters" emerging from construction of the "pipeline" road to Alaska by the corps of engineers.

Reporters heard the tale in the control of a 1,000-mile tour of the highway in an army command camp, from Dawson Creek, B. C., to Whitehorse.

The soldier was swimming in what evidently was the bear's private "bathing" hole. When he emerged, naked, he was face to face with the bear.

Thinking the best defense was offense, he waded into the animal with a straight right to the nose. The surprised animal screamed away. The man had to be freed for severe scratches across the chest and head.

Another bear story concerned the Texan who lacerated one that came into camp. The animal was also lacerated in the jaw and finally had to be shot.

The first payday in Whitehorse after the U. S. troops arrived saw every fryer pan in town sold out. The soldiers also bought the beef in town and several animal Yukon steaks. They just wanted to do some cooking for themselves.

A rough interpretation of the Indian word "cheechako" is "tenderfoot." When the Indians saw the first cows shipped from the south, they called them "cheechako moose." Airplanes were cheechako swans.

father-in-law that he would be visiting the "banana belt" when he came here but, after discarding his heavy clothing, he learned upon his arrival that it was colder here than in the Aleutians.

He said the soldiers in the Aleutians had a lot of money but no place to spend it. One of his sergeants, he said, lacking metal used 40 half dollars as caps for fuel oil tanks. The major said there was just one woman at the post where he is stationed—an old Eskimo woman who wanted the white man on which some of the officers had discovered oil. That, perhaps, he said, was the reason why she was treated so well.

Bishop Speaks
Also speaking at the meeting was Episcopal Bishop Frank A. Riber, Boise, past district governor of Rotary.

C. M. Smith and Fred Ellis, Boise, also were guests at the meeting.

A letter of resignation from President Edward B. Riber, principal of the Twin Falls high school, was read. He is leaving to become principal of the Auburn, Wash., high school.

Cliff H. Shearer was the program chairman.

S. air corps.

"Great Job"
He said that the army was doing a great job in that respect but asserted military secrecy forbade his saying more.

Major Keveren is a former secretary of the San Diego Rotary club and an honorary member of the Carlsbad, Calif., club. He said that he had been led to believe, by his

Yule Customs Abroad Related At Meet of Drama Department

Christmas in other countries, as observed by several Twin Falls women during their residence abroad, formed the program for the Drama and Literary department of the Twentieth Century club Tuesday afternoon at the American Legion Memorial hall.

Program was arranged by Mrs. William Baker. To establish a holiday atmosphere for the program, Miss Eva Stokes and Miss Orpha Stokes played three table games, "Star of the East," "White Christmas," and "Santa Claus is Coming to Town."

Inland Customs

Mrs. H. C. Schaefer, a member of the club, was born in Holland and that Christmas was a strictly religious custom in that country, all the children, even the adults, were sent to church.

Lightly about the Christmas customs in Holland, she said, "Christmas is a very quiet time in Holland. Gifts are exchanged on St. Nicholas' day, Dec. 5, rather than on Christmas, she said.

Mrs. Charles Larson, who was born in Ireland, but who lived in France, observed that the Christmas customs in France are much the same as in the United States, and include the same customs.

Instead of hanging up their stockings, on Christmas eve, the French children place a shoe by the fireplace. She concluded her talk with some French legends.

Christmas Customs

Mrs. C. H. Bird, who is no relation to Fannie Hurst, but whose life has been as exciting as any of the legends of Mrs. Hurst's novels, told of Christmas customs in Russia, her native country.

Mrs. Bird, left Russia in 1918, and has lived in Manchuria, China and the mainland of the United States. She is now a naturalized citizen of this country.

Because of the difference in time, Christmas falls on Jan. 7 in Russia, she said, but a three-day celebration, the rule, rather than the one-day celebration in the United States. In Russia, she said, the children live in pre-revolution days. Feasting and exchanging gifts were common.

Mrs. E. L. Hendry, a native of this country who has lived in China, said that in that country Christmas was not observed, but the Chinese did have a festival, called the "Ching Ming," it is not a nationally observed holiday there.

Red Cross Project

Mrs. F. W. Brown, the group in making Christmas cards. Members worked on Red Cross work during the afternoon.

Presiding at the tea table, appointed in Christmas merriment, and serving a delicious meal of red and white, were Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Dean Millard.

Mrs. H. G. Hays, Mrs. Peter Link, Mrs. H. O. Hays, Mrs. Ann P. Pary, Mrs. Grace Hammond and Mrs. Stanley Phillips.

U. of Illinois Fraternity Gives Model for World Good Will

BY ANGUS M. THIERMANN

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Not war planners looking for working model of international peace and cooperation can find one in Champaign.

In a fraternity house at the University of Illinois, Germans rub shoulders with Frenchmen, Bulgarians dine at the same table with Turks and Chinese sit in "bull sessions" with Transilvians.

For more than a score of years, U. of I. men of every creed, color and race have been asked into club membership. At the simple invitation ceremonies they clasp hands and greet.

Half and Half

Usually, Co-operators club membership is about 50 per cent foreign students, 50 per cent American boys. Perhaps the need for keeping men abroad in the post-war world, trained in America, has caused the strikingly high foreign membership this year.

The members live, study and play together, and inevitably the discussion turns to politics.

But political philosophies here are something to work out together, not fight about, after each club member repeats the creed in his own tongue.

Try These

"Ka chulu maluna apu na lahu," says the Hawaiian.

"Kia ike, oia ka mea ike i ka hana," says the Spaniard.

"Hesterin mullerlin kenderin," says the Finnish.

"Above all nations is humanity," says the American.

But world politics is not of their interest.

ABILITY to do an extra job takes an extra something. Coca-Cola has it. There are many things that Coca-Cola does far more than just quench thirst. It brings you a unique taste you enjoy... and unique refreshment you feel.
