FARMING WILL BE GLAMORIZED AND WAR EFFORT

BOISE, Dec. 30 (AP)—Plans to create an incentive for Idaho farmers to produce more crops during the coming year had been set in motion today after a meeting attended by representatives of Idaho's many industries, civic clubs and organizations.

The meeting was called to "glamorize" farming in the face of reduced yields, labor shortages and lack of mechanical equipment and repairs, said Clifford J. Vaught, state chairman of the A. A. A. committee, who presided.

A resolution was adopted unanimously that those attending appearing the selective service system proposed to induce many of the 18- and 19-year-old farm boys and then reassign them to the farms to aid in the planting and harvesting of crops, rather than sending them into active military service.

Hopes for Even Better
"During the last year, Idaho farmers have done an excellent job of raising crops, and it is our hope that in 1945 they will do even better. However, to do so they must have assistance," Vaught told the meeting.

A fourth of our 1943 production has been earmarked for war effort and last year, compared with only 13 per cent during 1942 and only 10 per cent in 1941.

"We are to produce the greater share of the food needed by our own armed forces, our navy, and the civilian population and in addition we are being asked to supply foodstuffs to our allies," military forces and much of their civilian population.

Food Shortage Aid
"Coupled with these demands, we must ship food into the nations our fighting forces are freeing from the grip of the axis."

There is no better way to win the war than to feed them. The property they have been experiencing weeks, months and years, Vaught said.

Idaho's county war boards, civic clubs, schools, Grants, large industries and the newspaper and radio stations are being asked to aid in the campaign being waged to begin on Jan. 15, which is officially designated as "farm situation day" by President Roosevelt.

A statewide organization to arm the Idaho farmer in the war effort is being organized. The committee plans to complete organization by the end of the year and to get active work started at once.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30 (AP)—Despite the tremendous printing job of raising the price of the new rationing stamps, the War Relocation Authority officials expressed confidence today the point-rationing program would get under way in February.

The schedule for preparing and printing about 15 forms aggregating many millions of printed matter to be distributed to the War Relocation Authority officials, said, that it "wouldn't take much of a setback" to reach the start of rationing in February.

At the same time, he reported, officials generally were taking the view that the new program would be a close of the second shopping day. Three Food Administrator William C. Clegg said that the program would be a close of the second shopping day.

Soviet Troopers Bag First Major Victory of Year

MOSCOW, Dec. 30 (AP)—The Soviet winter offensive bagged its first major trophy, the key railroad city of Kotelnikovo which the Germans captured four months ago to the day, and even now another red army column is battering at the gates of another city in the middle Don corridor to Rostov.

The Soviet communiqué did not name the newest objective but reported that Col. Gen. N. F. Vatutin's legions had smashed heavy counter-attacks in the drive toward Rostov.

Battlement dispatches reported that Russian tanks and infantry were pushing on from Kotelnikovo, 200 miles to the southwest along the rail line to Tikhoretsk.

Falls in Night
There's reports that Kotelnikovo fell in a heavy attack after the red army had moved in on three sides. It was described as littered with Nazi dead, and captured in the last three days.

Advices from the front said the German high command had begun to pull out of the middle Don, but the battle for the middle Don area has heavy reinforcements from the deep rear and counter-attacks so violently that they pressed the Russian units back temporarily in some places.

The bulletin acknowledged that the Germans had driven back the Soviet units in the middle Don, but it said that the red army had attacked again and retaken the position.

"Four hundred twenty dead and six disabled tanks were left on the battlefield," the bulletin added. "Our units captured 29 trucks and large quantities of shells and mines."

Of the battle for the newest key trophy, the communiqué said that "XX unit, smashing enemy resistance, advanced to the town of Kotelnikovo, a well-known industrial center, and is fighting at a big battle position."

The capture of Kotelnikovo put the Russians in possession of 113 miles of the middle Don, and the Germans used as a supply line. Supplies had flowed from Kotelnikovo to the German armies south of the city, and the Germans even to forces operating in the Don area, where huge stores had been built up for the winter.

Bakers Predict BOSS PRICES IN SPIRIT OF BAN

By ARTHUR F. DEGRIVE
WASHINGTON, Dec. 30 (AP)—Leaders of the baking industry said privately today that the government's order prohibiting certain bakers' practices—including the sale of bread to a store in an effort to increase the price of flour—would not eliminate pressure for higher retail ceiling prices on bread.

Their statement came after the government announced an average 10 per cent increase in flour prices and banned certain baking practices which Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard said confident will reduce baking costs and prevent the bread price rise.

Cause of Pressure
Bakers' representatives said, however, that the prohibited practices were not the chief cause of the pressure for higher bread prices. They asserted privately that whatever savings are achieved by them would be negated by the steady increase in the price of edible fats and other products used in bread making.

The flour increase, effective on Jan. 4, 1945, was ordered by the office of price administration. The establishment of specific dollar-and-cents ceilings to replace temporary price controls was set for Jan. 10, 1945, and secondary processors of flour from wheat, including millers, will benefit. Officials estimated that the cost of flour would be reduced from 25 to 27 cents per bushel.

New Africa Battle Flares as American, French Forces Gain

By The Associated Press
Violent fighting on the mud-clogged North African front flared suddenly today.

At the same time allied bombers and fighters smashed at axis communications and troop concentrations in Tunisia.

Allied shelling of enemy positions in the hills northeast of Medjez el Bab in Tunisia was reported by the U. S. war department in a communiqué.

The communiqué follows:
"Our artillery shelled enemy positions in the Medjez area. Troops leading from Tunis were bombed and machine-gunned by our aircraft during the night of Dec. 28-29."

BUTTER DELIVERY WILL BE REDUCED

Another war restriction on the home front—to provide greater supplies for America's armed forces—moved into the dairy country of southern Idaho today with announcement that delivery of butter to dealers will be reduced by 20 per cent by the Jerome Cooperative Creamery starting Jan. 1.

Roy D. Smith, general manager of the widespread co-op which is Magic Valley's major source of butter, said the 20 per cent cut in delivery will be made to expedite supplies with the expanded needs of the armed forces.

"Butter has always been a plentiful commodity in this section," he said, "but the war needs are heavy and the situation on the west coast has become extremely acute. The armed forces are not getting enough butter and voluntary rationing has been requested by army and navy officials."

Creamery officials said the 20 per cent reduction in butter deliveries is not expected to work any hardship on citizens of Magic Valley, since the cooperative has a large stockpile of butter. The reduction will be made to expedite supplies with the expanded needs of the armed forces.

HOW TO "DENY" OURSELVES

Harry L. Hopkins, special assistant to the President, took it upon himself to write an article for the December issue of American Magazine under the title, "You and Your Family Will Be Mobilized," in which he proceeded to tell everyone how he must live in war.

Among Mr. Hopkins' clutter, selected sentences were the following:

"Because some Americans believed we could continue business, cocktail parties and golf as usual, we have been fighting with our hands tied behind us."

"Rationing and priorities far more widespread than at present will determine the kinds of food . . . we shall have and will affect every detail of our daily lives."

"Under total war our over-all standard of living will be no lower than it was at the bottom of the depression in 1932."

"Most adults will not be fed quite as well as the men in the armed services, which is as it should be. No family should object to meat rationing when they realize the beef and pork that would go to being served to their sons and brothers in the army."

"Why should there be men to open taxicabs in front of hotels and night clubs when cooks are needed in the army?"

No one in Washington really knows how much social significance there is in the Hopkins article until a few days later when tongues began to wag about a hard-times party at one of the capital's snazziest hotel-night clubs, in honor of who else but Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Hopkins.

The occasion was reported to be the nature of a wedding reception. Mrs. Hopkins, for which the host let her write her own ticket: A simple buffet supper featuring only 30 dishes, leading off with caviar and pate de foie gras.

There were only two main courses: beef à la mode and corned beef in jelly, cold tongue, calves head and Virginia ham. To make up for this shortage of meat, however, there were two soups, three kinds of seafood—baked oysters, trout and terrapin; chicken fried steak; and, to say nothing of turkey and duck; three salads; three ice creams and petit fours.

The real war touch, showing how people will have to get used to a standard of living as low as it was at the bottom of the depression in 1932, was the most noticeable in two respects—French champagne, vintage 1920, flowed like water, and, very notably, there was a large bottle of the rarest French perfume as a souvenir.

No doubt the whole affair was a fizzle because, with such a skimpy array of food, everyone probably went home hungry.

Somehow, something particularly. In a little pot-luck get-together like this, there wouldn't be any need for cooks or waiters, anyway.

Write some more about how we're fighting. With one hand tied behind us, Mr. Hopkins.

SAVINGS BY RENEGOTIATION

Savings aggregating $829,000,000 have been made in seven months through renegotiation of war department contracts. The total by year-end is expected to reach $1,000,000,000.

A small portion of the amount has been reclaimed from contractors who tried to profiteer. But most has been made possible by the efficiency of American industry working at mass production.

Prices which seemed fair and even low when they were set have proved unnecessarily high because industry did such a marvelous job of conversion. As the facts appeared, the contractors have cooperated freely in returning the excess profits.

NO MORE DOUBTS

General MacArthur's success in New Guinea—and generally throughout his area of command—makes it possible to mention and kill one disturbing bogey.

There those who wondered whether the hero of Bataan had been overrated—whether, in a major new field of operations, it would develop that he was just another general.

Can he forget any such worry now. He went to the Australian front, and he has done just as superlative a job there as he did in the Philippines.

UNECONOMIC

An article in Nation's Business describes the work of Henry Kaiser "exit interviewers," who seek to discourage workers from quitting. Evidently they are good, because they persuade one out of three against leaving.

In spite of these men's efforts, one man out of every three hired by Kaiser does leave within a month. It costs $100 to hire each new man and break him in. In one month, in Kaiser's San Francisco yards alone, 10,059 men had to be replaced out of 17,138 taken on.

The excess cost—roughly $1,000,000.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHORELIG

WALKOUT—The 500,000 United States soldiers who already have taken part in battles against the Japanese and the Germans have now begun to demand the transformation which might be expected of veterans whose daily work is killing. They have become tough in body and mind.

FREE THROW GIVES BURLEY 20-9 WIN OVER TWIN FALLS

Loss First of 1942-43 Play For Bruin Five

Garrett's free throw in the last two minutes of play gave the favored Burley Hobcats a 20-9 victory over a surprising band of Twin Falls Bruins here last night.

The loss was the first of the Bruin five since Coach Dodo Cranney's club and kept the Cobanet undefeated record intact for this year.

It was a rough and tumble battle that kept the fans arrested and told them the referees' whistle could seldom be heard. Shooting of both teams was very off form and the two clubs together made a total of only 12 free throws—seven of which were garbage by the Bruins and six of these by diminutive David Davis.

Herps Bruins in Game
It was David who kept the Twin Falls boys in the running throughout the first half. He scored out of four free throws to take a 4-0 lead, but the Bruins knuckled at the half and went out on a 7-7 tie at the quarter on the strength of Davis' three free goals, a basket by Dave and a foul by the Bruin shot. Meanwhile, the Hobcats were picking up five free tosses out of a pair of two-pointers and Twin Falls still led at the intermission, 12-11.

The pace remained the same in the second half. The Bruins continued to battle the Cobanet for the last two minutes of play and finally getting a field goal by Perry. But a few seconds before the half-time, Meanwhile Davis had added a pair of two-pointers and Twin Falls still led at the intermission, 12-11.

Mad Scramble
The last quarter was a mad scramble, with few decent opportunities to shoot. Pettigrove tied the score at 12-12 with a three-point shot, but minutes to go, Garrett made good on his gift shot for the final score in the game.

Davis had a chance to knot the score when he had a gift shot, but he missed. The Bruins were edged off the rim and with it faded the chances of the Bruins for victory.

Scoring honors went to Davis with 12 points, while Garrett topped the winners with eight.

Cuba Win Thriller
Preliminary saw the Twin Falls boys take a thriller from Burley from 10-13 at the half, but the visitors came back to take lead in the third quarter, only to see the Cobas rally for the victory.

Daily Double Pays $1288 at Tropical

CORAL GABLES, Fla. Dec. 30 (AP)—It was a dull afternoon at Tropical park yesterday but for the thousands of fans who came to see the 32 tickets on the winning daily double combination for it paid $1288.

True Lasz, winner of the opening number at $1210, and Sue Price, who paid $1220, were the winners in the winning combination. The payoff was easily the highest of the Florida and the highest in the history of the Florida's record of $725,400 made in 1935 at Tropical.

The Sports Round-up

BY HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK, Dec. 30 (AP)—A new administrative setup for the navy's sports program was announced today, Jan. 1, but nearly as we make out, it won't mean any less sports activity for the navy's athletes. "I'm going to be in charge of the navy's sports program," said the new director, "and I'll be in charge of the navy's sports program."

OUT WITH AN IDEA
Writing to Bob Dunbar of the Boston Herald, G. D. Bourry of Arlington, Mass., suggests that baseball should be played in the "old institution" rule if it is to keep the game going. "I think the game is dying," he writes, "and I think it is dying because of the 'old institution' rule. I think the game is dying because of the 'old institution' rule. I think the game is dying because of the 'old institution' rule."

Rupert Whips American Falls By 28-11 Count

RUPERT, Dec. 30.—Coach Rex Hunsaker's Rupert Pirates continued on their winning ways last night by whipping the homecoming American Falls high school here, 28-11.

American Falls' outburst was held to four field goals. Acquire, a substitute guard, picking up three of them in addition to converting one of two charity tosses.

Rupert jumped into an early lead with a 14-0 score in the first 14-0 score at the end of the first period. The Pirates led 10-0 at the half and 25-0 after three periods. Hunsaker used 13 players. Taylor, Rupert center, played brilliant basketball, rousing up five rebounds and a charity toss. Peterson, the visitors' six-foot-six center, failed to make a point.

Rupert will journey to Acquia Jan. 5. Then on Jan. 8, the Pirates will entertain their old rival, Burley. On Jan. 12, Jerry Delinger, former Rupert center, will bring his name quintet to Rupert. The fabricated score of last night's game:

The Sports Round-up

BY HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK, Dec. 30 (AP)—A new administrative setup for the navy's sports program was announced today, Jan. 1, but nearly as we make out, it won't mean any less sports activity for the navy's athletes. "I'm going to be in charge of the navy's sports program," said the new director, "and I'll be in charge of the navy's sports program."

B. C. Alabama Coaches Have Great Records

RUPERT, Dec. 30.—Coach Rex Hunsaker's Rupert Pirates continued on their winning ways last night by whipping the homecoming American Falls high school here, 28-11.

American Falls' outburst was held to four field goals. Acquire, a substitute guard, picking up three of them in addition to converting one of two charity tosses.

Rupert jumped into an early lead with a 14-0 score in the first 14-0 score at the end of the first period. The Pirates led 10-0 at the half and 25-0 after three periods. Hunsaker used 13 players. Taylor, Rupert center, played brilliant basketball, rousing up five rebounds and a charity toss. Peterson, the visitors' six-foot-six center, failed to make a point.

Rupert will journey to Acquia Jan. 5. Then on Jan. 8, the Pirates will entertain their old rival, Burley. On Jan. 12, Jerry Delinger, former Rupert center, will bring his name quintet to Rupert. The fabricated score of last night's game:

	FG	FT	PP	TP
Rupert	10	10	2	0
American Falls	4	3	0	0
Garrett	1	2	0	0
Klink	1	2	0	0
W. Baker	1	2	0	0
W. Baker	1	2	0	0
W. Baker	1	2	0	0

Totals 10-14 10-14 14-14
Half-time score: 13-11 for Twin Falls.

Referee: Dorn, Piler, referee: Villers, Buld, umpire.

FRANTIC FESTIVAL

By EDMUND FANCOTT

BEANO THINKS

Myra returned to the kitchen, where she had been distracting Beano with freshly baked mince pies for which she had discovered he had a weakness and a great capacity.

"Punny," she said, "People phoning from Montreal all this way for nothing."

"Yeah," replied Beano with a pie in each hand.

"There's a cup of coffee on the stove to which it's down," said Myra.

"A guy gets hungry up in this snow," said Beano.

"Lots of ice here later on," said Myra.

"I'll bet," said Beano.

"Well, stuff, ice," said Myra.

"Punny how you read about him?"

"Yeah, in books."

"Sure, in books," echoed Myra.

"You read books?"

"Not with hot ice in 'em." Then Beano laughed at what he thought was his own private joke. He did not realize Myra was sharing it.

"Punny how wrong calls come out of that," said Beano.

"That was from a man called Huddy. Ever hear of him?"

Beano shook his head. It obviously didn't register.

"Said he was from the National Insurance Company."

Beano dropped the mince pie straight in his coffee, then picked it out as it disintegrated in his fingers.

"What was that?" he asked hoarsely.

"National Insurance Company. That's the hull, trying to sell insurance on Christmas eve."

"Selling insurance. You sure of that?"

"Maybe he wanted to buy some ice," she said in a snaky, pin-pointing tone to look at Beano, but she saw from the corners of her eyes that his face took on an expression of a definite balloon.

"You said ice. Did he say that?"

"Sure, he did. I was kidding. Let's join the others." She left him, but Beano stared. She was sure now, and she was also sure she held more strings of the developing climax than even Beano or Myra.

Beano stared behind in the kitchen, suddenly smitten with a sense of great tragedy. Here he was at the peak of his life, with wealth and, what is more, the love of a good woman and he could feel the pursuit at his heels. He was torn with anguish. Just as he was about to go straight for the rest of his life with the most beautiful girl in the world as his own, he was about to be trapped.

Beano McCluskey had to get rid of that ice quickly. After all, if he didn't have it, they couldn't pin anything on him. So Beano reasoned, and he figured that if Beano had half of it, he might as well have the other half.

He could leave it in her room when nobody was looking, in some of that fancy paper they were wrapping the kids presents in, a little something from you know who, who didn't let anyone know you've got it, it's hot.

On second thought it would be better not to let her know it was hot.

At that moment Beano slipped into the kitchen with a swift look behind him to see no one else was following.

"Hey Beano, studying housekeeping?"

"Just looking around."

"Around what?"

"Around the kitchen," said Beano.

"Nice kitchen."

"Yeah, clean. Nice mince pies, have one?"

"No thanks, Beany."

"Don't thank me. What are these mince pies for, have one, no?"

"No thanks, Beany."

"No thanks. Someone here teaching you manners? Wouldn't be le-ous, would it?"

"Them's natural."

"I see you been teaching her a few things."

"She, she learns quick." There was a touch of reverence in Beano's voice.

"Them kind do. What you teaching her?"

"Same as I'm learning, anatomy."

"She's got enough already. You wouldn't be teaching her anything else, would you? Nothing to do with ice?"

"Ice?" said Beano trying to think quickly but without much success.

"Yeah, ice?"

"Didn't you say you didn't want nothing to do with ice?"

"Sure I said it, but I'd kind of like to keep track of it, just in case it didn't get you into trouble. Not that I'd touch it."

"I know you wouldn't, Beany. Beano looked round like a trapped animal looking for some way of escape from a trap.

"I've been thinking it over after what you said, Beany, the other day, and I figured out you was right."

"What do you mean, I was right?"

"You and me have always been straight and that ice ain't for us, not even if it costs us five grand."

"Say, you ain't losing your grip are you?"

"No, Beany. But I was thinking, being up here and New Year's coming soon we ought to turn over a new leaf."

"Go on," said Beany dangerously.

"Well, so I figured I ought to get rid of it, give it to someone who could use it and not know it was hot."

"Beano," said Beany, letting each

WHAT'S THIS WAR ABOUT, DADDY?

Honey, in a place called China, children can never play as you can . . . because men in airplanes roar overhead and shoot them, and burn their homes.

In other places . . . in Norway and France, in Poland and Greece and Russia . . . children have their mothers and daddies taken away from them — led off to a prison called a concentration camp. These children may never see their parents again.

Many of these children—boys and girls just like you—don't get enough to eat. Many of them have starved to death.

Why is all this happening? Because there are evil people in the world, men who call themselves the Axis, who do these things. And it's our job to make them stop—to see that they never trouble the world again. That's what this war is all about.

To do our job we've got to knock out the Axis. And a lot of us Daddies would like to do it with our own fists . . . or our own guns. We can't all do that. There's other work that Uncle Sam wants us to do.

So let's help knock out the Axis with that work. Let's take a dime out of each dollar we earn while working, and buy War Bonds and Stamps to turn our dollars into America's tough new tanks and planes.

So . . . tell your employer to set aside 10 percent of what you earn every payday in the War Bond Payroll Savings Plan. Then, each time it adds up to $18.75, you'll get a bond.

Your Government will use that money to smash the Axis. Every dollar is a nail in Hitler's coffin. Every bond a bomb to blow the Jap off this earth. And your money is an investment against that time when peace returns and you will no longer have to answer that question.

"Daddy, what's this war about?"

WHY U. S. WAR BONDS ARE THE SAFEST PLACE YOU CAN PUT YOUR MONEY

1. They are obligations of the United States. If this isn't safe, nothing is!
2. For every $3.00 you invest in War Bonds you get back $4.00 at the end of ten years.
3. They do not fluctuate in dollar value—are never worth less than you pay for them.
4. You can name one individual either as coowner or as beneficiary right on the face of the bond.
5. Your savings in War Bonds cannot be lost or stolen. Each bond is registered at the Treasury Department.
