

SEN. TAFT PROPOSES THOROUGH PROBE OF WAR'S EXPENSES

ASKS REDUCTION FOR PERSONNEL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31 (AP)—A thoroughgoing investigation of the expenditure of war appropriations was proposed today by Sen. Robert Taft, R., Ohio, in response to President Roosevelt's declaration that congress must decide where to make economies in the budget.

While Senators Byrd, D., Va., and Tydings, D., Md., predicted congress would accept Mr. Roosevelt's challenge to trim ordinary government expenditures, Taft said he thought the time had arrived to go much further by taking down some of the war agencies to see if economies could be made in that field.

"The war production board has 10,000 employees and probably would do a much more efficient job if it were reorganized and had about 5,000 fewer workers," Taft told reporters in the senate chamber.

"The war production board has 10,000 employees and probably would do a much more efficient job if it were reorganized and had about 5,000 fewer workers," Taft told reporters in the senate chamber.

"It is up to congress now not only to limit non-war expenditures, but to see to it that war expenditures are made efficiently," he declared.

Agreeing with Taft, Republican Leader McNary of Oregon said he thought there was no doubt that the war production board should be reorganized and that it might be found an ad hoc committee of the appropriations committee he would not vote for any appropriations.

those in France or those in North Africa—that day we will be shown victory," he said.

"I told Marshal Pétain when I arrived in Vichy on April 22 that France had only one way out of the mess she was in. That was to join America. I say that same thing now," he said.

Giraud was referring to his arrival in Vichy after he had escaped from a German prison.

Turning to the military situation, Giraud said he was "a man of victory, but I believe we must make the most serious efforts to earn that victory."

"I'm no prophet," he said. "I don't say in how short a time we shall win. At the moment I am speaking of the future. The French army and the French people are involved and don't forget that at the present time I have 50,000 French soldiers fighting in Tunisia."

"Those Frenchmen who have no modern equipment are facing an enemy which has the most modern tanks and airplanes. Fortunately the American and British armies are helping us. They have given us General Leclerc's army, which represents the best anti-tank and anti-aircraft weapons needed for a modern army."

"Gentlemen of the press, you have a great duty to perform. In your countries you have families which are in light, but can only do so when armed in the modern manner. General Leclerc says to America that the French army is waiting impatiently for the equipment which you promised us."

ENEMY ARMORED STRENGTH GAINS

No indication of Stand
In London a military source who could not be identified by name said there was no indication yet whether Marshal Bonnet's forces would make their next stand at Beirut or Haifa, just beyond wadi Beirut.

There was no definite evidence yet that Bonnet's main force had pulled out through Tripoli toward Tunisia, he added.

This source also advised against placing too much credence in reports heard here yesterday that an American column was pushing deep into southern Tunisia toward Gabes to cut off Bonnet's line of withdrawal.

Near Gabes
A Reuters report said yesterday that an American force was within 40 miles of Gabes.

The military source said patrol activity might have led to the report of an advance in strength in this sector.

The Italians claimed that "in Tunisia, under intensive fire of artillery, the enemy was forced to give up several positions." The British, however, did not specify the location of this action.

Italian Report
On the Libyan front, the Italians reported "activity by advanced elements," and said "a detachment of British paratroops and its commanding officer were captured."

The Morocco report reported that a few bombs were dropped last night on the allied port of Casablanca, on the Atlantic coast of Africa, causing some casualties and damage.

The German high command in Berlin said that long-range bombers made a surprise raid last night on Casablanca, causing fires which could be seen for miles.

"In the eastern Mediterranean," the war bulletin said, "a German U-boat sank a British destroyer, as well as a naval trawler and a lighter."

golden triangle to remove mud and debris.

Floods in southern New York state took the life of one man, caused hundreds of families and at least one town to be evacuated and hampered production in war factories. Many highways were inundated, some closed.

For West December Crisis
For 250 miles along the Ohio river, thousands of West Virginians have been awakened to the worst December flood in a century and the most critical since 1937. Only Hamilton, the state's largest city, felt safe behind a flood wall which can withstand a 75-foot stage. The reading today was over 48 feet.

Residents of the Ohio valley spent the night in secondary rooms, churches, schools and other public buildings as the Red Cross, civilian defense officials and specially organized flood groups organized to help those hit by the high water.

Heavy damage to homes and equipment in stores and factories was averted through early preparations by the flood-wise populace.

celebration at prices ranging up to $100 a table.

Known as "the Satire room," a small night club in a back bay hotel, advertised the "dimout" and later reported that celebrations were under way.

The price went actually to $100 a table because the management will give a $100 war bond to each woman attending and a $25 bond to her escort.

The patriotic motif will be part of the pattern in New York City. At midnight, Times square revelers will be asked to sing the national anthem with Lucy Morshead, five minutes later, across New York bay, the torch of the Statue of Liberty will flash a "for-victory" signal.

As a precautionary measure, 2,000 policemen and 1,000 city patrol corps members will patrol the square, and 500 air raid wardens will be on duty there, while 300 firemen and auxiliary firemen will be around to discourage the traditional "game" of throwing false fire alarms.

Tax to Be Held On All Salaries Paid After Jan. 1

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31 (UP)—The treasury, it was learned authoritatively today, has ruled that the new victory tax must be withheld from all wages and salaries paid in January, even though part or all of the money was earned this month.

In other words, a man paid monthly on the first of the month will find a victory tax tick taken out of his pay envelope this Friday.

despite the fact that he worked for the money in December. The same is true of all salaries paid on Friday.

The treasury ruling was based on the language of the law which says "there shall be levied, collected and paid for each taxable year beginning after Dec. 31, 1942, a victory tax of 5 per centum upon the victory tax net income of every individual."

Wages and salaries received in 1943 are to be considered "income" for 1943 under the ruling, regardless of the period in which they were earned.

Senator Byrd, D. Va., and Danaker R. Conn., members of the senate finance committee, active in the drafting of the new tax bill, declared the ruling ran counter to congressional intent.

NAMPA, Ida., Dec. 31 (UP)—The Idaho swine growers' proposed sales will go on, despite the shortage of gasoline and tires, E. F. Hinehart, Idaho, secretary of the association, announced today.

Officials of the organization, meeting here yesterday, approved continuance of the annual sales program by holding sales in centrally located areas which would have gasoline and tires of farmers who otherwise would have to drive long distances to purchase purchased stock.

The first sale, he said, is scheduled at the eastern Idaho fairgrounds at Blackfoot on Feb. 10.

The American Eagle Has Gone to War!

A Mighty bird, the American Eagle. Symbol of America's might. Of a United America that has never lost a war, and is going to win this one. A United Nation, filled with factories turning out Munitions, Tanks, Guns and Trucks, and Planes. Giant shipyards building the greatest battle fleet that the world has ever known... building the Merchant Marine that preserves the lifelines of the sea for us and our allies.

We Americans have made up our minds to produce such an overwhelming number of ships, and tanks, and planes, and guns that no barbaric nation can ever threaten our flag or our freedom. To this end, we are engaged in the greatest battle of production that the world has ever seen. We have the Men, the Materials, and the Manufacturing facilities that it takes to "Smash the Axis." Pledge yourself to do your share in 1943 to make this victory possible... Invest to the limit in War Bonds. Save, Salvage, Conserve... that there may be enough to supply America's needs... and earn for yourself a share in the Victory which Democracy will win.

We Are Building For Victory in '43!

For many years, all Magic Valley has depended on our shops and plants for farm machinery, equipment, repairs and replacements. And now, when all America is straining every effort for maximum production, we are proud to be able to answer the call by converting our shops to the manufacture of many badly needed items of equipment for our Merchant Marine. And these same war contracts make it possible to operate on a 24-hour basis in keeping your farm equipment in top condition to produce the food so vital in meeting the constant demands of the entire nation.

Our Best Wishes for a

HEALTH EXPECTED TO ACCEPT SEAT

By HAROLD F. OSBORNE

BOISE, Dec. 31.—Idaho's 27th legislative session seems destined to start off with a red-hot fight in the senate for the position of president pro tem, with perhaps many as five senators vying for the post.

The death of Senator-Elect George L. Tanner of Franklin county last week-end gave added interest to the prospective battle, inasmuch as Tom Heath, veteran state senator and former state House chairman, is according to one school of thought—thereby, in the legislative seat to which he did not succeed at the polls in November.

Health, colorful and dynamic leader of the "four horsemen" of the O.O.P., which held a minority position at the last session, would have been succeeded in office by Tanner.

Status Undecided
Tanner's death, however, has left the status of the Franklin county seat undecided, with widely divergent opinions as to whether or not opposing parties and factions within the parties.

One group, pointing to sections of the constitution which hold that legislators remain in office until their successors are elected, contends that Health is the county's senator until he resigns. Health resigned as party chairman last week, giving as reason the press of private business.

Tanner, however, contended that Tanner's death left a vacancy in the senate seat which may be filled either by Governor Clark or by Governor Bottolfoff, if Clark fails to do so before he leaves office Monday.

Point to President
Three persons point to the precedent of the 26th session of the Idaho legislature, when John R. Bennett, Republican senator-elect from Minidoka county, resigned his seat in the senate to become county clerk.

Others, however, contend that the government position between the time of the 1940 election and the first meeting of the legislature is not a vacancy, but a period of service throughout the session. Bottolfoff said today he has yet to make up his mind as to whether or not he will appoint Health as his lieutenant. Governor Clark said earlier in the week he plans to make no appointment to the seat.

Two Choices
That all adds up to is a probable outcome—either Health will delay tendering his resignation until after Bottolfoff's inauguration, permitting the new governor to name a Republican in his place, or will serve.

And if he serves, there can be no doubt that he'll be a candidate for the presidency pro tem. Health and Senator Scott Hall of Malad, W. C. Barlow of Butte and Harry Harts of Idaho comprise the "four horsemen" who lost control of the O.O.P. side of the upper house two years ago in the party battle with minority floor leader John S. Hays of Hamer, Dr. B. A. Robbins of B. C. Roberts of J. E. Williams of Blackfoot.

Two New Men
Of these seven, Hall and Samsom will not be back in the running, but any of the other five will be a candidate for the party in power and will avoid competitors for the post in the race until the vote-telling begins.

In contrast, the house speaker's battle with the majority is only Rep. Milton Hestory of Carleton county, speaker under Bottolfoff four years ago, speaking out against given much pre-session consideration of the new speaker's position. Hestory is the son of the late Arthur Hestory, R. Latah, will be per-haps Hestory's only rival for the seat in 1944.

Bus Mileage Already Slashed, County Schools to Stand Pat

Already having succeeded to government requests for reduction of school bus mileage, Twin Falls county school authorities will stand pat for the present.

It was the decision at a Wednesday night meeting of the county school superintendents, board members, and bus owners and operators, which was held at the Idaho Power company auditorium, Mrs. Doris Stradley, county superintendent, presided.

Mrs. Stradley said the group decided to submit routes as they are for the inspection of office of the state transportation officials, and then make further reductions, if asked to.

It developed at this meeting that Twin Falls county already has a highly economical school bus system, Mrs. Stradley said. Schools were asked last fall to reduce mileage by putting into effect various rules and regulations, and actually all schools of the county complied. Some cut routes as much as 33 per cent.

FARM GROUPS TO BACK NEW PLANS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31 (AP)—Sen. Elmer Thomas, D., Okla., said today that an attempt will be made in January to swing all major farm organizations into line behind a three-point legislative farm program for presentation to the new congress.

The farm organizations have never really gotten together, "Thomas said in an interview. "This time there will be a real attempt to bring them together on common ground to work out a plan which will give the farmer a square deal—by which I mean equality with labor and industry."

The projected program probably will cover three points, Thomas said: 1. Replenishment of an adequate land force on the nation's farms, and the release of men from the armed forces to work on farms if necessary to meet crop production goals.

2. The allocation of raw materials to manufacturers of farm machinery in sufficient quantities to keep farmers supplied with parts and replacement for worn-out machines.

3. Revision of the partly formula to give farmers an income sufficient to meet increased labor and other costs.

Other members of the board are: Charles C. L. Barlow and Charles C. L. Barlow.

PAPER TONNAGE SLASHED IN '43

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—The war production board today ordered every newspaper's use of print paper in 1943 cut back to the tonnage used in 1941 to provide for its war production.

A formula which reduces newspaper circulation by an estimated 10 per cent.

W. G. Chandler, head of WPB's printing and publishing division, added that publishers must expect the order to be followed by a second and perhaps a third reduction this year.

Chandler said he could only hope that the newly ordered controls, effective Jan. 1, would last for the first quarter of 1943.

Simultaneously, WPB ordered magazines limited to 90 per cent of the tonnage used by each publication in 1942, declaring this would have the same curbing effect as the newspaper order.

"We have been very careful not to tell any publisher how he should use the paper allowed him," said Chandler, "but we have been very careful not to tell any publisher how he should use the paper allowed him."

"We have been very careful not to tell any publisher how he should use the paper allowed him," said Chandler, "but we have been very careful not to tell any publisher how he should use the paper allowed him."

Chandler said he could only hope that the newly ordered controls, effective Jan. 1, would last for the first quarter of 1943.

"HOT" GIFT CHAPTER X

"Not going?" "No, I'm staying!" "Yeah." "You're crazy?" "I ain't crazy." "Then why are you staying?" "I'm having a Christmas party." "And you're Santa Claus?" "Beano was stubborn. When I was a kid I never had a Christmas tree. Now I can help these kids to have a good time and I'm not going to spoil their party. Besides, there's a turkey in there as big as an ostrich, and I don't want to miss that turkey dinner."

"Not if it costs you 20 years in the pen!" "You'll beat it after dinner, not before."

"You'll beat it with a pair of cuff links on your wrists that won't come off till they unlock them."

Beano's jaw set like a rock and Benny shrugged his shoulders. He had seen Beano like that before and knew he was beyond the influence of words.

He shrugged his shoulders again, took another glance at the clock and went to the door. He was not any too happy about the situation.

Benny returned to the wide living room of the house where a cheerful fire was blazing in the stone fireplace.

The Christmas tree was gay with color and sparkling with tinsel. Everybody had been so busy that no one had noticed his absence. He joined Beano, who was taking a moment off while Pay went downstairs to see the problem with Myra.

"Nice girl you got," his eyes twinkled.

"She's not my girl," said Beano. "That's right," said Benny. "Keep away from them."

"Not me," said Beano. "I love 'em." "Wait till you get older," said Benny. "There was a warning note in his voice."

"Nothing doing," said Beano. "You're only young twice and the second time it's too late."

"What's the matter with you, like that?" He nodded towards Pay. "Now that's a nice kid. Too skinny for my taste but look at that smile, all over her face, but it's the genuine thing. Get her and you keep her."

"I'm not playing for keeps." Benny drifted over to Pay and Myra. Myra noted the slight uneasiness that dampened his usual assurance.

"Pleading love, Benny?" "Sure, I am, but then kids won't if they're going to eat all that stuff in the kitchen."

Meanwhile Beano was thinking hard. You couldn't trust anyone in three days, least of all a pair of dicks whose job was to recover the diamonds to save their company paying out a heavy sum for insurance. Guys that would choose a time like Christmas to chase other guys who hadn't really done anything wrong couldn't be trusted to understand how innocent a guy really was. But if they couldn't find the fee they couldn't pin anything on him unless Benny was playing ball with them for the reward for recovery.

Beano felt alone and deserted. At least Beano was faithful. Abominably he hitched a leg up and half sat on the sofa.

There a sudden inspiration hit him. If he went up to Beano's room and got the rest of the fee he could put it all together in the leather pouch and wrap it up in some red paper. He could label it, "To Beano, with all my love, from you know who," and hang it on the tree.

They wouldn't be giving the presents until after the turkey dinner. He could tell Beano so she wouldn't open it. He'd have to be a little bit of a liar to make sure nothing went wrong. Then if the dicks did come before he got away, they could search the house from top to bottom and they wouldn't find a thing. Who would think of searching a Christmas tree for hot ice?

The more he thought of it the better he liked the idea.

A little later he was bending somewhere around the back of the tree. Myra strolled around to him.

"Don't tell anyone I told you," she said, "but it looks to me as if you've been sitting in something."

Beano's hand went around his seat and came away quickly. "Mistaken," he said. "Must have sat on some berries in the kitchen."

"Seems like it," said Myra. "They're so soft you'd hardly notice them."

"Yeah," said Beano. "I thought it was warm."

"Just out of the oven. It's hard to carry them that way. Here's some paper to wrap them up in."

She handed him a sheet of paper with bells and holly on it.

"Hold this a moment," said Beano. "I'll go and fix myself."

He handed her a small packet. It was labeled "To Beano with all my love from you know who." She held it, waiting for him to return, wondering to shut depths Beano had been smitten by the sassy beauty of Beano. She turned the little parcel over in her hands and something of the diamonds inside came through to her touch. She pressed a little harder, letting her finger follow the hardness and feeling the stones move under her touch.

Then Beano was back, taking the little parcel from her. He held it carefully well up to the back of the tree and smiled with a satisfaction that confirmed Myra's suspicions. Then she noticed that he was with Beano, nodding at the tree and going into an involved explanation.

Beano cleared away as he talked and gave no hint that his peace of mind was in any way disturbed.

That night Beano sat up in bed late to make up her beauty and to plan her future. It seemed needless to consult in convincing her father that Beano was a gentleman

WRECKAGE PROBED AFTER S. PLANE CRASHES IN MONTANA

11 SOLDIERS DIE IN AIR ACCIDENT

BOZEMAN, Mont., Dec. 31 (UP)—Army investigators probed the wreckage of a plane today to determine the cause of a crash which claimed the lives of 11 men yesterday afternoon.

The Flying Fortress crashed and burst into flames as it attempted to make a crash landing in a meadow 21 miles east of Helena on the highway between Helena and the Great Falls.

Army authorities at the Great Falls stated that the plane had taken off early in the afternoon on a routine training flight, and that it had been seen in the vicinity of the crash site, indicating the possibility there may have been a fuel problem.

Names of the victims were expected to be revealed later today after the next of kin have been notified.

The plane was a C-47, a twin-engine, low-wing, metal aircraft.

Numerous persons in the immediate area saw the plane circling in search of a landing field. It was seen to be in trouble, and it was reported to be flying at a low altitude.
