Russians Capture 6,000 More Nazis In Voronezh Trap

By HENRY SHAPIRO
MOSCOW, Jan. 29 (AP)—Picked Russian units, starting to turn the Voronezh front into a second great man trap, have captured 6,000 men, including three generals, and killed 5,000 within a few hours, a high command communique announced today.

Surrounding the enemy force, one of many threatened with disaster on the Voronezh front midway between Moscow and Rostov, tank formations, troops of the famous guards regiments, and cavalrymen drove into the attack.

The noon communique said the entire force of 9,000 men was liquidated.

The Russian unit, the noon communique said, had liberated 23 inhabited localities, villages and fortified centers, within two days in an advance westward toward Kursk on the Kharkov-Moscow railroad front.

This unit took more than 300 prisoners and captured a large quantity of war spoils.

Stalinград Surrender
The first week of clearing out the first gigantic Russian man trap, at Stalingrad, continued relentlessly since it was indicated that the enemy could hardly be more than 5,000 men remaining of the 250,000 once stranded there.

The Moscow radio, heard in London, said German units that had been captured at Stalingrad were being sent to the front.

It was reported that the German units were being sent to the front to fight against the Russians.

Abandonment of T.B. Hospital at Gooding Urged by Committee

BOISE, Jan. 29 (AP)—Recommendation that the state abandon its tuberculosis hospital at Gooding, created only two years ago at a cost of $85,000 and still unused, was made today by the public institutions committee of the house.

It was further recommended that the governor appoint a non-partisan committee to investigate the possibility of establishing a tuberculosis hospital within the state.

The committee report, if followed through, would again create a issue that has been before many legislators in the past—should a T.B. hospital be constructed, and if so, where.

The 1941 legislature approved an appropriation of $25,000 to remodel the old Gooding clinic into a T.B. hospital. The committee pointed out that an additional $25,000 was needed to equip the first of the two model and equip the second building.

"We recommend that no further expenditure of money be made at this time for the construction and operation of this hospital," the report, signed by Chairman H. L. Anderson, H. Binchell.

"We further recommend that the state retain title to the land and buildings involved in the project, although in mind that it might prove valuable to the state or government in the future."

The house disposed of the "loan shark" bill in short order, approving it 42-12. The bill would require small loan brokers and fix the interest rate for loans up to $100 a month at not to exceed three per cent.

Introduced in the house was a bill to amend the state constitution. The bill would require that the constitution be amended by a three-fourths vote of the legislature.

ZERO HOUR NEAR FOR LAST ALLIED PUSH IN AFRICA

BY WILLIAM B. DICKINSON
LONDON, Jan. 29 (AP)—The British eighth army's command headquarters in the Africa Corps has said the Tunisian front today, as signs multiply that the zero hour was near for the supreme allied offensive to throw the Germans and Italians westward from the African continent into the sea.

Despite bad weather, allied planes have been seen in the command swept low over southern Italy and Sicily Wednesday night and yesterday.

The relative slow progress of the 14-mile wide attack on the Tunisian front was reported by the British command.

Artillery Duel
A communique of the middle eastern command headquarters said that the British eighth army had been engaged in an artillery duel with the German and Italian forces.

Stage Set
But dispatches from allied north African headquarters said the stage has been set for a final offensive against all axis forces remaining in Africa.

These sources described the attack on the Tunisian front as a "zero hour" for the final offensive against all axis forces remaining in Africa.

Demands for an upward revision of the formula had become so great that the WLB will be "black-jacked" into action these sources said.

Defendants Action
WLB Chairman William H. Davis vigorously defended the board's policy last night in a reply to a charge by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, that the "little steel" formula is an outrageous breach and that the board frequently has ignored its own policy.

"Fellows Mandate"
Davis asserted that the board's policy follows the clear mandate on wage stabilization given by President Roosevelt and Congress.

Propponents of the death tax claim that the estate tax is a burden on the people and that it should be abolished.

President Talks To Executives of Two Hemispheres

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—Piling precedent on precedent, President Roosevelt is taking advantage of his historic trip to north Africa by stopping off on route home and conferring with the heads of allied nations in both hemispheres.

The latest of these meetings came yesterday, when Mr. Roosevelt saw President Getulio Vargas of Brazil at Natal, main South American terminus of the airplane services to Africa.

It was presumed the two chief executives would discuss the crucial Brazilian strategic importance in hemisphere defense.

Mr. Roosevelt disclosed last night that Mr. Roosevelt had paused on his journey homeward from the momentous war councils in north Africa to greet the president of Brazil.

There he reviewed Negro troops and inspected a plantation turning out war material.

Mr. Roosevelt's visit was contained in a dispatch from Montreal, released through the White House, which said that Gen. Ziliani celebrated the first anniversary of that nation's break with the axis.

The conference ended Sunday morning, and Mr. Roosevelt was accompanied by a dispatch from Montreal, released through the White House, which said that Gen. Ziliani celebrated the first anniversary of that nation's break with the axis.

HELP ASKED FOR SMALLER SCHOOLS

BY WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—Advisers on the future of hundreds of small liberal arts colleges throughout the country are being asked by the War Relocation Authority to call on war relocator committees to urge the government to help smaller schools. The committee's outline of the government's plans.

Chairman May D. Ry, announced that the committee would meet today and specifically would be asked to urge the committee to help smaller schools. The committee's outline of the government's plans.

May and other committee members said testimony already given by colleges and university officials indicated that little or no consideration has been given to smaller institutions not which are independently operated, many by religious organizations.

"Apparently, these smaller schools would just be out of luck and have to close unless some action," commented Representative Kilday, D. Tex., a member of the committee.

Institutions selected by the army, navy and war manpower commission to receive relocator funds and feeding of military students and for providing special study courses, textbooks and supplies. These payments, committee members said, would help finance closing of some smaller schools. If student bodies have been drained by the armed services.

"Great Underway"
Testimony to the effect of it given behind closed doors, indicated, committee members said, that the army, the navy and the manpower commission, with the three and better equipped schools, would be to American democracy was argued before the committee. The committee members of Chicago, editor and publisher of Who's Who.

Seminars, who said the committee should study of higher education, told the committee the small schools could be kept open if the navy were allotted proportionately among all schools.

Demurrers Filed In Dress Dispute

General and special demurrers have been filed by Tom F. Alworth for the defendant in the case of Alworth vs. the probate court suit against the company instituted by Paul J. Alworth.

This is a suit in which the plaintiff charges that the clothing company sold to the defendant a dress which was not as described in the contract. The plaintiff claims that the dress was not as described in the contract and that the defendant is entitled to a refund of the purchase price.

The special demurrer charges that the complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute cause of action against the defendant. The plaintiff's complaint is characterized as "uncertain, unambiguous and ambiguous."

Judge C. A. Rader said a time for hearing on the demurrers had not been set.

Early Buying of Trees Is Advised

BURLEY, Jan. 29—Casla county residents are being asked to put in their tree orders early for planting because of a heavy demand, according to County Agent J. W. Black.

Black says seedlings can be purchased for $1 per hundred, or $2 per hundred, and other trees such as Russian olive, green ash, and several varieties of conifers are slightly higher in price, but in most cases are not more than $1.50 per hundred trees.

Young trees have been used by the government in such places as the Japanese relocation center at Tule Lake, the Farragut naval station, Couer d'Alene and other places in Idaho.

Black says that the demand for trees is so high that orders placed early can be planted before the general farm labor rush comes during the latter part of spring.

Five Honored at Special Meeting Of Eden Grange

EDEN, Jan. 29—C. D. Schmidl, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Rolfe and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Gordon received silver certificates in recognition of 25 years membership in the Grange at a special meeting of the Eden Grange.

The presentation was made by E. T. Taylor, Couer d'Alene, state master, who also delivered an address. Also addressing the meeting was Ray Smith, state treasurer, and John Demond, state deputy.

The Eden Grange adopted a resolution opposing a proposed law which would restrict the sale of drugs for eradication of potato and wheat diseases and insects exclusively in the hands of the state.

Refreshments of ice cream, cookies and coffee were served.

Red Cross Room Opened in Filer

FILER, Jan. 29—A Red Cross surgical dressing room for the women of the Filer community was opened in the central school building Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Stanley Walters and Mrs. C. V. Smith were in charge of the room. Each woman is required to wear a light colored wash frock and apron to work on their operating for her hair.

DUROCHER NAMED WEST POINT AEROBIC BASEBALL COACH

SPORT Spubs

Dodger Pilot To Hold Job For 5 Weeks

WEST POINT, Jan. 29 (AP)—Leo Durocher, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, today was named advisory baseball coach for five weeks at the U. S. military academy by Col. Lawrence (Biff) Jones, athletic manager of athletics.

Durocher will act as advisor to Lieut. Walter Amen during the month of March and the first week of April, at which time the Dodgers will be in training at nearby Bear Mountain and in bad weather, at the army field house.

Depends on Draft Status.—In announcing the appointment, Col. Jones said that Durocher's position was established "pending his draft status" and would not interfere with his classification for military service or with his duties as manager of the Dodgers.

The last information received on Durocher's draft status "as that he is to report to the board for a physical examination preparatory to his being classified I-A."

Not a Regular.—The appointment of Durocher's office up to the Hudson river today to look over the Brooklyn baseball club's spring training site at Bear Mountain, five miles away, and the field house here for the through increasing game through with make after measure designed to take away from the presence of the game and fish commission.

As a result there is considerable hullabaloo now in sportsmen's circles about the 25-acre tract.

The way I understand the measures, they take control of beaver and other fur-bearing animals from the commission and let the private interests do what they want with them.

In other words, from all appearances the measure is sponsored by sportsmen, training from trappers and then through the trappers' legislative representatives, to allow independent hunting of beaver.

Right now there is some such squabble—but under the thumb of the commission. The trouble is that the trappers are what I think the commission had and want to cash in on.

Highly paid chairman of the fourth district of the Wildlife department, reports that the game and fish commission still will pay as $400,000 annually if the law goes through—and that profit would go to the commercial trappers sent out by the big for companies.

An official bulletin from the Idaho Wildlife department points out that the game and fish department spends around $200,000 annually on the hunting of beaver in Idaho each year—and that if the game bills 43 and 50 go through the commission still will pay the expense of operating the program—with no income. The costs would be $42 license bonds and paid for by Idaho sportsmen.

On the surface it would appear that any right-thinking sportsman in Idaho would never vote for a measure like this.

The sportsman are taking no chances and are getting ready to scrap away—and hoping they won't be too late with too little.

The lone measure asked of the Idaho legislators this year by the sportsmen is one necessitated by the law.

In asks, in part: "The conservation officers' salaries be advanced at a rate of $100 net $200 per annum instead of the present $100."

Allows the commission to dispense with drawings and special fees when necessary for the purpose of conservation of wildlife reserves.

Gives the commission control of non-game fish, such as white sucker, sturgeon, etc., as well as game fish. The words "non-game fish" were inadvertently left out of the fish and game commission act.

As many a husband has mentioned to his inebriated spouse: "You can't win!"

That's about the cry the Idaho sportsmen are coming today after their agreement with state legislators.

Before the 1913 legislation was got underway, Gov. C. A. Bogert and other members of the Wild Game Commission felt that the legislature was not cluttered with too many bills this season.

So the legislature from the Idaho legislature made it a special point to change the 1913 Wildlife Department and point this bill out to the sportsmen.

Seeing good sports, the federation looked over its docket and came to the conclusion that it could not get along with one measure for the 1934 season.

And what happened? Right away orders from the northern part of the state, apparently under some kind of pressure for the through increasing game through with make after measure designed to take away from the presence of the game and fish commission.

As a result there is considerable hullabaloo now in sportsmen's circles about the 25-acre tract.

Odds Even in Stolz-Pep Fight Tonight

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (AP)—The Jimpatz 60's in town today were the big-hearted betting boys who have to see the odds on fights, because in tonight's collision between Willie Pep and Alie Stolz they've finally found a cracker they can't go wrong on.

The two little burrers meet in a 10-counter in Madison Square garden here that looks like a sell-out crowd of 19,000 or more. And the whole thing adds up to such a close affair that the benevolent betting gentlemen just can't split their bets. So they've put up the odd 3-2 to land a kick on either of their slates, thereby making sure that no matter how much "even" they're for either corner, the bookmakers show a dollar profit on each live-dollar bet.

Can't Be Flipped Out.—This is something no one can flip out. It's a featherweight and a lightweight, neither of whom was any kind of fire in his last outing, can consistently pull people into the garden at a faster clip than any other fight in the city.

Although Woe Willie's New York half of the world featherweight champion, Stolz, has been in the ring among the monthlies for this occasion, each has a lot on the line. For Pep it marks the toughest he's had in his all-victorious string of 58 straight fights—a stark icing on a black cake of a con.

This corner along with Stolz because Willie is "right" he probably ranks among the best lightweight in the industry today.

Two Chances Muffed.—For Alie, it is the "or else" match of his career. The city-bred New Yorker, who has tossed off two big chances before, has to hit the jackpot this time, or his career is going to be a long one.

Former British Boxing Champion Located in Army.—OAKLAND, Calif., Jan. 29 (AP)—Brittishers who have pondered over the whereabouts of "Silver" Fox, former featherweight boxing champion of England, need speculation no longer. He is in the army.

Major Business.—Major piece of business on the program was the organization's decision to fight seven bills 25 and 26—measures believed by the sportsmen to be aimed at hindering the beaver recreation in the state of Idaho.

The organization framed a resolution which would be sent to voters from this county, asking that they fight the two bills. The resolution read: "The I. W. P. resolved that senate bills 25 and 26 are detrimental to the progress and welfare of fish and game in Idaho. Therefore, this organization asks voters to vote for the proposition to fight these bills."

Prior Measure.—The Idaho Wildlife Federation is fully informed on the contents of the measure and are asked to vote for the bill.

Robinson Signed For March 1 Fight.—PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29 (AP)—Ray Stutzman, promoter of the Harlem welterweight, will meet Joe Basera, New York, in a 10-round bout at Philadelphia's convention hall March 1. Promoter Herman Taylor had announced today.

Read Times-News Want Ads.—The first overtime period ended 50-26.

Ross Whips Samoan, Wins Chief's Daughter, Crown

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29 (AP)—Barney Ross, ex-welterweight champion who only a few weeks ago was acclaimed for his heroism with the marines in the southwest Pacific, had achieved distinction of another sort today.

Ross recently told and, in return, was offered a native chief's daughter in marriage and a chance to share the tribal crown.

The story was told in a letter received here, written by Ben Malmalmu, former Pittsburgh baseball player, now a pharmacist second class in the navy.

Malmalmu said Ross reluctantly agreed to take on the Moogoo "who was giving our army and navy heavyweights a going-over." He returned to act, apparently, only because the practice of the marines was at stake.

"They used 16-ounce gloves," he said, "but Barney had him on the deck 11 times before putting him away in the sixth round."

Ross became the hero then, and one of the native chiefs offered him his daughter in marriage and half of his crown.

Giant Champ Helps Navy Swim Program

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Jan. 29 (AP)—It will take 650,000 gallons of water to fill the huge indoor swimming pool nearing completion at Great Lakes—and at least a couple of thousand gallons will splash over the side.

Every sailor must be able to swim 50 yards. The new tank, 165 feet long and 25 feet wide, will accommodate 700 swimmers. They will learn the routine of "ambition slip" by diving off a catwalk 2 feet above the water in full whites and then turning the length of the pool.

Bates Set for Lewiston Rodeo

LEWISTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—Dates for the 1934 presentation of the Lewiston rodeo—dependent upon whether the weather is permit holding of the show—were set for Sept. 24, 25 and 26 by the board of directors last night. A. T. Taylor was elected president of the show, succeeding E. S. Cook, now serving with the United States army overseas.

The Sports Round-up

By JUGH FULLERTON, JR.—The New York sports scene is a bit of a mess. The National Football League tub-tubbing, pees the question of who Sammy Davis should have in the All-American team's backfield.

The sportsman are taking no chances and are getting ready to scrap away—and hoping they won't be too late with too little.

The lone measure asked of the Idaho legislators this year by the sportsmen is one necessitated by the law.

Allows the commission to dispense with drawings and special fees when necessary for the purpose of conservation of wildlife reserves.

Gives the commission control of non-game fish, such as white sucker, sturgeon, etc., as well as game fish. The words "non-game fish" were inadvertently left out of the fish and game commission act.

Right now there is some such squabble—but under the thumb of the commission. The trouble is that the trappers are what I think the commission had and want to cash in on.

Highly paid chairman of the fourth district of the Wildlife department, reports that the game and fish commission still will pay as $400,000 annually if the law goes through—and that profit would go to the commercial trappers sent out by the big for companies.

An official bulletin from the Idaho Wildlife department points out that the game and fish department spends around $200,000 annually on the hunting of beaver in Idaho each year—and that if the game bills 43 and 50 go through the commission still will pay the expense of operating the program—with no income. The costs would be $42 license bonds and paid for by Idaho sportsmen.

On the surface it would appear that any right-thinking sportsman in Idaho would never vote for a measure like this.

The sportsman are taking no chances and are getting ready to scrap away—and hoping they won't be too late with too little.

The lone measure asked of the Idaho legislators this year by the sportsmen is one necessitated by the law.

In asks, in part: "The conservation officers' salaries be advanced at a rate of $100 net $200 per annum instead of the present $100."

Allows the commission to dispense with drawings and special fees when necessary for the purpose of conservation of wildlife reserves.

Scholar Relected as Fish and Game Head

Scholer, who headed the group last year, was reelected to his post along with O. H. Coleman, who was retained as treasurer.

Lud Dreyler, who used to be secretary of the Sportsmen's "B" club before that unit merged with the Southern Idaho association, was named secretary to replace Larry Dreyler, who is now in the territorial post. Dreyler was named to the vice-presidency, succeeding Earl Davidson.

Major piece of business on the program was the organization's decision to fight seven bills 25 and 26—measures believed by the sportsmen to be aimed at hindering the beaver recreation in the state of Idaho.

The organization framed a resolution which would be sent to voters from this county, asking that they fight the two bills. The resolution read: "The I. W. P. resolved that senate bills 25 and 26 are detrimental to the progress and welfare of fish and game in Idaho. Therefore, this organization asks voters to vote for the proposition to fight these bills."

SERIAL STORY 'I AM A MURDERER' BY MORRIS MARKEY

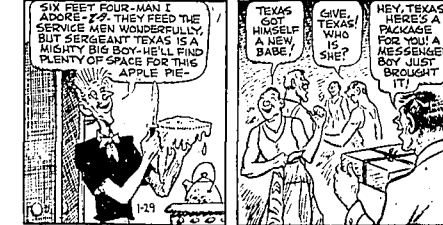

PHLETO TO TRAGEDY CHAPTER XIII This job may have been a witness, good people and all, to the accomplishment of my life's purpose. You have seen how I could care to hear the method of it. Perhaps, too, to understand the reasons for its existence.

satisfied. How wonderful to become a partner! It would not, perhaps, be exaggeration to say that John Frye was a weak man. Not morally, of course, but temperamentally. He was easily led by stronger men. But like all people who are called weak, he had a nervous alloy of the thing which is known as stubbornness. And now this stubbornness was taken in a condition which he offered to Norman Tinker. He was overjoyed at the opportunity. But he would not think of going on the expedition unless he could take his family with him. This was not in Norman Tinker's book, and he scoffed at the notion. It was absurd, and furthermore it was dangerous, he said. John Frye said, in reply, that his wife and children were absolutely necessary to him after his year in the war.

MAN SHOT, THEN IS WHISKED AWAY

SOUTH PARADISE, Calif., Jan. 29.—(By Associated Press.)—A man was shot down from a speeding automobile while his driver looked on and the second automobile whizzed him away as he fell. The police said blood stains on the ground bore witness that the driver of the shooting.

Witnesses agreed that the man had been shot down from one automobile and whizzed into a second and carried away before he could be identified.

Homeowner heard theater started said the crack of a gun started them just as they got on the road. They glanced to the other side just in time, they said, to see a man shot, but before they could aid him he had crumpled and dropped into the arms of "rovers" men who drove up in another car.

The second car then drove on, leaving a trail of blood. A small spot of blood was scattered across the street from the theater, but no further clues.

GIRARD SEES NO PROSPECTS OF UNITED FRENCH MOVEMENT

BUT LEADERS TO JOIN FOR BATTLE

By HEN GALLAGHER
ALIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Jan. 22 (AP)—General Girard declared today that there were no prospects of any single united French movement at the present time and that the only agreement between himself and Gen. Charles De Gaulle is the one of liaison on military, economic and financial matters.

Girard, high commander for French north and west Africa, told a press conference that he had not taken up "the question of liaison with the leader of the Fighting French when the two were brought together during the Hoover-Churchill conference at Casablanca. "There is no question of a single united French movement throughout the world at the present time, he said.

Before establishing a permanent liaison on military, economic and financial questions. Girard told the conference he was willing to give the Jews in North Africa back their property and allow Jewish children in the schools, but added that "these moves must be made gradually."

BOOSTS MORALE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst
NEW DELHI, Jan. 22—(Delayed)—The Russian war effort will be boosted by a further lift to the already soaring allied morale but the significance naturally must be in its military importance and on this point there are no outstanding facts to note.

First, that the United Nations' war effort has been so abundant as to permit a great new offensive program which the conference has laid down.

Second, that the allied leadership displaying energetic initiative and capitalizing on the presently favorable military situation.

Some Indians had been entertaining doubts as to the likelihood of an allied victory. However, the news of fighting in North Africa, Russia and the Pacific appears to have removed that uncertainty.

China, while not questioning an ultimate allied success, has been extremely dissatisfied with the strategy of devoting the main allied effort to knocking out Hitler first. It is observed that while that Hitler still exists China is accepting the situation more pessimistically in view of the recent allied successes.

One would expect the Casablanca conference to have a further good effect among our comrades.

The question to continue offensive operations which will draw as much weight as possible off the Russian arm is the logical outcome of the end of the European conflict.

One naturally embraces the belated news of the Russian success against Hitler.

However, it strikes me that there is no reason to be jubilant about the allied initiative to be continued to the western theater.

While Hitler is the keystone of the axis structure, it is essential to keep the Japanese so thoroughly engaged that they will be unable to undertake any further offensive on behalf of Hitler.

Hitler undoubtedly would give his right arm if he could persuade the Japanese to attack Russia now, or even to undertake the invasion of India. This is the business of the United Nations to keep the misadventurous on the defense.

PRICE EXPERT ON GROCER PROGRAM

W. J. Wilde, Boise, state price specialist for the office of price administration, will head a delegation of government men attending the South Central Idaho food clinic to be held here Sunday, according to information received from Frank D. Wilson, state secretary of the Idaho board of food and drug distributors.

"We have made arrangements to have all government regulations explained in detail," said Secretary Wilde. "Nothing has been spared in an effort to cover all matters dealing with regulations imposed on the food distributors. It is hoped that those engaged in this pursuit will have a better understanding of their responsibilities also."

"Ration stamp banking" will be in operation several days prior to the meeting, but very few will have an understanding of its operation. This also will be explained by these men from the state office, so that everyone will have a knowledge of the ration stamp banking program. A film will be shown which shows a clear picture of the mechanics of the plan.

The clinic will be held at the Park hotel, beginning at 11 a. m., with a movie starting in a banquet in the evening.

It is regrettable that such meetings have to be held on Sundays. A full day's meeting will allow the men and women engaged in the business of food distribution to receive a clearer picture of just what is going on in that line.

Every phase of the food business with the government's rationing program. All jobbers in the Twin Falls area will be present to tell of their own part in the food supply. Food processors serving the retailers will be present, along with distributors, brokers and meat packers. Meat handling practice supplies will be present to present a picture of the fruit and vegetable industry.

Tough Physical Standards Set

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—Men aged 18 through 37 who will be drafted under the new conscription act for all armed services which take effect Monday will face tougher physical examinations than those now given at army induction centers.

The new physical standards have been agreed upon by the army, navy, marine corps and the coast guard. When the combined call program was announced by the selective service bureau of war manpower commission yesterday, the announcement described them as "higher" than those of the army.

Men meeting the new physical standards will be apportioned among the various forces, but all those rejected for service will be permitted to re-examine by the physical standards set by the army, navy, marine corps and the coast guard.

Youth Week Will Be Church Event

The young people of the First Christian church today were making preparations to observe "youth week" at the church.

The young people have been invited to teach the church school classes in the afternoon and to participate in the Inter-Church Youth affiliation meeting at the Presbyterian church from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m. that day.

The sermon theme at the evening church service will be "The Royal Way of Life."

On Thursday evening there will be a meeting of the youth council in the "counsel room" of the church to discuss the program for the year.

Ex-Resident of West End Hurt In Stove Blast

Mrs. Garram Moore, Portland, a former resident of the West End district near Bali, received painful injuries when the water heater of a home at her home exploded Jan. 17.

Mrs. Moore received severe burns and bruises on her legs, abdomen and ligaments of the left leg being particularly severely injured. She was hospitalized for several days but has been released from the hospital.

Before her accident Mrs. Moore was employed in the office of the Oregon Shipbuilding corporation, where Mrs. Moore is employed as a union melt operator. She is not expected to resume her duties for some time.

Hunt Choir Sings Twice in Jerome

JEROME, Jan. 22 (AP)—The Minidoka mass choir of 83 voices from Hunt, presented two programs. One was Thursday, one for high school students in the afternoon and another for the public at night at a program sponsored by the Jerome Ministerial association.

All members of the choir are residents of the Japanese relocation center at Hunt.

The choir, which includes several outstanding musicians from the northwest states, is to present a program in Twin Falls Feb. 6.

Rubber cushioning for plane engines now being developed will extend the plane's usefulness by lessening vibration stress, providing greater precision and more accurate bomb aiming.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Quite a discussion some of the boys were having down at lodge meeting last night, Judge... you know, in the anteroom before the election of officers."

"Sure was," said Herb who was dead wrong. The alcoholic beverage industry does account for more taxes than any other industry. I checked the figures in my office this morning. Why the figure on alcoholic beverages is pretty close to a billion and a half dollars a year. Lucky thing we haven't got prohibition or the government would have to make up the money some other way. And there's only one answer to that—more taxes.

Don't know what that would add up to... about $250 million a year for every man and woman in the country. In other words you and Sue would have to pay about $50 more in some form of tax. I guess about the only ones who'd come out ahead is that damned would be the bootleggers and gangsters."

AN AP man, W. A. M. Goode, climbed aboard Admiral Sampson's flagship, The New York, off Key West on April 20, 1898 and was greeted gaily by the Admiral:

"So you want to come aboard and get your head blown off? It's foolish!"

It was the first time a reporter ever had been allowed aboard a warship in action and it had taken presidential approval, over the navy's protests, to arrange it.

Such daring and resourcefulness set new journalistic records during the Spanish-American war—and before. As early as 1896, in fact, the AP assigned F. J. Hilgert to Havana where the natives were seemingly waging a hopeless fight for independence from Spain.

For two years Hilgert worked in secrecy, and in danger, smugling out his graphic reports since General Weyler had forbade all newspaper work under threat of the firing squad.

With Hilgert's dramatic flash, "The Maine has been blown up" the AP was ready. It assembled a trained war staff and assigned a flotilla of dispatch boats that made newspaper history. Correspondents aboard the dispatch boats with the blockading fleet off Santiago were under fire and frequently mistaken for the enemy.

Today AP men are making newspaper history again in the same tradition—AP men in the Mediterranean fleet, AP men in the Atlantic, in the Pacific, AP men wherever there's duty—and danger.

FOES OF FLYNN SEE WITHDRAWAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—Some opponents and some supporters of Edward J. Flynn said today that they thought Flynn might resign his nomination to withdraw his nomination to minister to Austria if there is any chance next week that it will be defeated in the senate.

Opponents predicting such action would not permit use of their names. Administration supporters admitted that such action was conceivable. They said they did not believe it was being considered because they believed the nomination would be approved when it comes to a vote next week.

Diets for the belief among opponents that Flynn might withdraw his name, was Flynn's statement to the foreign relations committee last week. He said there that he would have let his name be submitted for the post had he believed that it would be approved when it comes to a vote next week.

Administration supporters have conceded that the vote will be close, but over the week-end they are expected to exert pressure on doubtful members to keep the break in party lines from being greater than it was in committee, where three Democrats voted against Flynn.

GUILTY VERDICT IN BOISE KILLING

BOISE, Jan. 22 (AP)—Table S. Davison, Sr., Boise motor court operator, was to be sentenced later today in third district court for involuntary manslaughter in the fatal scissor-stabbing of W. L. Goode, Dallas, Tex. salesman last Oct. 3.

Davison, a former Borgess, Tex. councillor, was charged with second degree murder, but the jury last night returned a verdict of manslaughter which carries a sentence of not to exceed 10 years in the state prison.

Four Borgess men testified in Davison's behalf before conviction of the trial today—Byron Andrews, former mayor; J. D. Miller, George W. Finger and Dr. M. M. Stevens. J. S. Davison of Houston was also a character witness for the defendant.
