A Russia Hailsousting of Nazis From Stalingrad

MOSCOW, Feb. 5 (UP)—Premier Josef Stalin congratulated the red army today for liquidation of the last of Adolf Hitler's troops at Stalingrad and Soviet shock units, flushed with this greatest victory of the war over Germany, plunged ahead on all fronts.

The Soviet information bureau announced late yesterday that the 162-day siege of Stalingrad was ended. More than 500,000 of the cream of axis soldiers were reported to have been slain or captured at that vital German city since the Russian winter offensive was launched Nov. 19—250,000 killed and 250,000 imprisoned.

Seasoned red army divisions were freed to reinforce the front lines from the north Caucasus to Kurk, and the German army was sent to the front lines.

Complete exploitation of all surviving axis troops and their generals in the Stalingrad area led Stalin, the supreme commander, to the front line. Marshal N. N. Voronov, representative of the supreme commander, blockaded the German army, Zvonozko, fed commander, the following:

"The Soviet army and the troops of the Don front for successful achievement of the liquidation of the enemy troops surrounding at Stalingrad. I hereby express my gratitude to all fighters, commanders and political workers on the front for the excellent battle operations."

The Russians announced that the head of the last German army and axis satellite divisions Adolf Hitler could pour against the city that had been the scene of the fiercest battle in the war.

American Forces Gain One Mile in African Advance

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Feb. 5 (UP)—An American combat force has advanced a mile east of Souda on the rail line to Matruh and the Tunisian coast, it was announced today, thus pushing a powerful front to the German commanders seeking to mile their two north African armies.

The allied wedge, if developed, could set up a barrier to Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces retreating from Libya, thus preventing them from joining—without a battle—the forces of General von Arnim in Tunisia.

An allied spokesman said the American combat force had planned to withdraw, making the thrust to Souda only a raid, but actually was holding its advanced position beyond the village.

Japs Start Fourth Attempt to Retake Important Islands

HEADQUARTERS, UNITED STATES PACIFIC FLEET, PEARL HARBOR, Feb. 5 (UP)—United States and Japanese naval forces are fighting a major engagement in the fourth attempt by Japan to retake the important islands in the Solomons, it was indicated today.

Extent of the engagement was still a naval secret. But it was known that both sides had concentrated an important part of their naval strength in the south Pacific.

Tokyo dispatches indicated that the action started off Rengai Island, at the southwest end of the Solomons. Naval quarters said that if this were true the Japanese might be trying to gain a point of attack after having been thrashed soundly in three attempts to reach Guadalcanal.

The Japanese the last of the Solomons from the northwest. May Be Disputed. Apparently, the Japanese quarters said, an attack off Rengai might be an enemy diversion intended to cover a major attack from Rabaul, the great Japanese base in New Britain above the Solomons.

It was indicated that the daily current affairs by MacArthur's air forces on Rabaul were a part of the picture said to be revealed regarding the main action in the Solomons.

Double Purpose. The Rabaul concentration, along with the concentration of Japanese air bases in the Solomons, was taken as meaning that the Japanese had embarked on a strong attempt to retake control of the Solomons. The United States army troops have now taken over the mission, or prevent the extension of United States control.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (UP)—Secretary of Navy Frank Knox said today that the great battle for the Solomons was under way, and that both sides were engaging in a series of "repeated" attacks.

Knox said that the Japanese had been repulsed in three weeks' time to the south Pacific, and that the United States had been able to hold its position.

Mass Ammunition—Big Scrap Iron Goal Reached

—If you heard something that sounded like a clap of thunder during Tuesday's snowstorm, it was Twin Falls county breaking its quota in the scrap metal drive which started in September, and it came from the 100 block of Fourth avenue west.

It was a load of more than four tons of motor car springs delivered at the L. L. Langdon yard by Harold H. Soper that did the trick.

The Times-News carried an appeal for someone to finish the drive with only two tons needed to reach the quota. Soper has been doing something in answer to practically every scrap metal appeal, and doing none of it by halves. So he doubled what was asked for and hurried it to Langdon's.

The total Tuesday stood at 1978 tons, two tons under the quota of 1980 tons. Soper's haul, along with something over a ton delivered by W. S. Stevens, Milner, put the total to 1983 tons, and climaxed Twin Falls county's part in a successful countywide campaign sponsored by the nation's newspapers.

30 CARLOADS OF STARCH ORDERED

In one day in January Idaho's three potato starch plants received orders totaling 30 carloads of starch, according to information received from H. E. Gale, secretary of the Idaho committee of the National Farm Chemurgic council.

This single day's order will return $20,000 to the starch plants and farmers of southern Idaho and will consume the entire production of the three plants up to March 1.

The starch is made from cut potatoes, and filling 1,000,000 pounds will require 230 carloads of potatoes for its manufacture. It is the approximate amount of cutlets left over from 1,200 carloads of potatoes that will be shipped out by the state.

Commodity Order Wanted

Manufacturing starch from cut potatoes is one of the first non-food-producing industries developed in Idaho through the farm chemurgic program. It converts a commodity, often wasted in Idaho, into cash.

Two of the starch plants, one at Blackfoot and one at Twin Falls, were put in operation in the fall of 1941. The plant at St. Anthony began production in September, 1942.

The output of the three plants for the 1942-43 season will amount to 220 carloads of starch. The plants operate approximately seven months out of the year.

One Day Order

"Up until the time the first of these three plants was put into production, Idaho had never made a pound of commercial starch," said Gale. "These orders for 300 tons, received in one day, show that Idaho farmers and business men can do when they work together and take advantage of the opportunities available through chemistry for the further development of profit-making industries."

In the post-war period, Idaho should be ready to capitalize on its ability to produce crops that can, through farm chemistry, be converted into products for which there will be a ready market.

BOOSTING SHIP OUTPUT

The shipping bottleneck, which has been a prime importance all along, now has become pressing. That is a principal reason for the current shift in production emphasis which is slowing down activity in some lines. The Ordnance program is reported to have been reduced by 15 per cent to release materials and facilities for stepped-up schedules in merchant vessels, escort and combat craft, and airplanes.

This does not imply that the shipbuilding industry has fallen down. It has not. On the contrary, last year it produced 1,000,000 tons, exceeding the fantastic goal set for it by the President.

But shipping, to bring raw materials to the United States and to transport men and armament and supplies to the war fronts, has become so important that even achievement of "the impossible" is not enough.

For next year we need 16,000,000 tons of new ships, plus the 1942 output. To get that we must divert raw materials and manpower from other items.

This does not mean that we are going to run short of ordnance. Apparently production of guns, munitions, tanks, and such items has far outstripped our ability to send those things plus men and supplies to the fighting fronts.

In spite of the diversion, there is every reason to believe that current backlogs plus slowed-down output will give us as much ordnance as we shall be able to move overseas with the cargo space available this year.

When we have taken up most if not all of the slack in cargo space, we have to depend on new launchings to build up the additional tonnage to win the war, and these launchings must first care for replacement of sunken vessels.

In this background, 34 San Francisco C. I. O. machinists are reported to have been paid up $25 each for working the Saturday and Sunday after the basic distribution to union instructions. The basic distribution was over the time-and-a-half scale for overtime.

The controversy held up the trial trip of a naval fighting ship and has delayed departure of cargo vessels carrying supplies to American forces in the Pacific.

FLYNN WITHDRAWS
President Roosevelt's decision to withdraw the nomination of Edward J. Flynn as minister to Australia is another indication that the United States congress is tired of being pushed around.

When the nomination was first announced, a wave of dissatisfaction swelled up throughout the country. Not by any means was the "paving block episode" entirely responsible for this widespread opposition. Flynn simply was recognized as being too much of a political hack for such an important mission. His manager qualifications just didn't fit him for the job.

What the American people sensed in the nomination of Flynn was that politics, supposed to have been dismissed for the duration, was still going to be a factor in the tasteful pill for the United States senate to swallow without a struggle.

Had Flynn's nomination gone to a vote in the senate and been defeated, it would have been the first rejection of a diplomatic nomination in more than 50 years, a record that would have appeared all too significant.

As a result, Mr. Flynn deemed it expedient to ask the President to withdraw the nomination, and the chief executive likewise realized that a change of course was necessary.

Another indication that democracy is still working in spite of its abuse—that the American people still has a voice in their government.

MORE COURTEOUS THAN ACCURATE
Polish Premier Sikorski turned a neat compliment when, leaving the White House, he bowed low to waiting newsmen and said: "I bow to the dictators of American public opinion."

The newspapers and their worriers believe and say that the whole they are purveyors and interpreters of public opinion. By informing the people they lay the basis for intelligent mass reaction.

But they do not dictate, or seek to dictate. They merely say what they would cause to have any influence whatsoever.

Some folks play dumb and others aren't playing.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

SOVEREIGNTY—A desire by our diplomats to promote military and civilian recruitment against Hitler, leading finally to a one of the major factors governing Anglo-American relations.

RAY TUCKER—The author of the "Whirligig" is using this psychological technique on his generals to an even greater degree, telling threats that the "war criminals" will be treated unmercifully. It is understood that some of his war-crime chiefs would be glad to quit, if guaranteed the status usually accorded the vanquished.

The first United Nations statement to depict this strategy and the counter-attack was published in the "Whirligig" on Feb. 1, 1943.

Specifying he has emphasized that he has no quarrel with the Germans or even with the Berlin general staff—only with the "war criminals"—who brutalized the Jews and brought on the conflict.

Thus, in playing along with the Germans, Jacques and Poyatos, Washington and London seek to convince the axis counterparts of their men, that they are nothing to fear from a grand allied triumph, and that the sovereignty of their nations will be respected.

OBJECTION—Senators Clark and Hatch have objected themselves by their warning to vote against continuation of Ed Flynn's resignation.

As author of the "clean politics" bill, the man from New Mexico apparently felt compelled to assume this anti-candidate attitude. Although he isn't a friend of the occupant of the executive mansion, the Missouri is not particularly regular in his political life.

And he comes in for reelection next year, he is beset with exceedingly faulty memories if they do not know that "foreigners" are not specifically exempted from operation of the Hatch act. Thus the Bronx boss would not have violated either the Hatch act or the law of the land.

In raising this point as their most serious objection to approval of the presidential selection, the pair inadvertently brushed aside all other arguments advanced against the nominee.

It is not known whether the New York Times' editorial campaign against Flynn is a typical Tammany ally constitutes the principal reason many senators opposed his appointment.

DANGER—A concerted movement to break Washington's hold on the nation's life is being made in the most spectacular and significant manner in present day American public affairs.

It is in the hands of the United States Navy, which has been the most powerful force in the federal setup, would possess if a man's chance for a job depended on a distant commander. Retailers and wholesalers are clamoring for a change.

In trying to take the manpower problem, organized labor and management have been fighting for their demand that hiring be placed in the hands of their private agencies rather than in the United States Navy.

Both groups fear the control which the federal setup would possess if a man's chance for a job depended on a distant commander. Retailers and wholesalers are clamoring for a change.
