SEARCH SPEEDED FOR LOST FLIERS

BOISE, Feb. 16 (AP)—Hop-ekip-and-jump tactics were employed today in a thorough search of a central Idaho mountain region where three men lost from an army bomber crew of eight.

The three wandered away from the plane after it was forced to make a crash landing on a frozen lake. The plane crashed in a wooded area, five miles from civilization. The five others stayed with the plane for 15 days and were rescued after Penn Sloth, civilian flier, spotted their wrecked craft.

Sloth, who landed his aircraft on a frozen lake to rescue the five, said tracks of the others were followed four miles to the south, then down which the group apparently planned to go.

Another search plane, Dick Johnson of Moscow, Mont., took tracks further down the Skeen, 12 miles from the lake. Two crew members immediately were taken by plane on ahead and planned to go back up the Skeen in an effort to intercept the lost airman—if they still plodding along.

Missing from the bomber which was based at McChord field, Tacoma, Wash., are Capt. L. G. Brown, B. Schenckert of Alameda, Calif., N. Y., the co-pilot; Staff Sgt. Edgar M. Freberg, Spokane, and Staff Sgt. R. Pruitt, address unknown.

The five rescued men were reported in good condition at the Gowen field air base hospital here. They submitted during the past three weeks they were in their chocolate rations and on woodpecker ground squirrels shot with their service pistols.

"The worst day was the last one," Capt. Robert B. Orr of "The Crimea, Wash., the plane's pilot. "Up until then we'd always figured that we'd be rescued 'somewhere' at the lake, but that last day we all seemed to be let down and we got pretty blue."

The bomber crashed Jan. 29. Sloth spotted it Saturday while on a flight from Cascade, Ida., his home, to a mining camp at Warren.

Soviet Surgeons Achieving Miracles on War-Torn Fronts

BY ROBERT S. MUSEL
LONDON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Presided by the necessities of war and working within earshot of artillery and aerial bombardment, Soviet surgeons and scientists are achieving miracles, official Russian sources said today.

One scientist has transplanted nerves from a corpse to a living man. Another has developed a serum that combats premature aging of humans.

Another appears to be near an effective preventive and cure for tuberculosis. Other discoveries include an electrical method of restoring the normal functions of the heart after it has been affected by shock or poisoning.

Intensified attention, proceeding on the theory that resistance of tissues to the infection is dependent on the conditions of the individual's nervous apparatus. At Speranskaya institute a certain preparation "B" is under-estimating right tests with some promise of being an effective preventive and cure.

Thanks to war-inspired methods, deaths from gas gangrene and tetanus, once the twin scourges of battlefields, were said to occur among Russian troops now only in rare instances.

Prof. A. S. Vichnevsky is credited with the successful transfer of a motor nerve from a person killed in an accident to the shattered arm of a red army commander where the nerve took root.

Since then this original patient has returned to active duty and the operation has been successfully repeated many times. Vichnevsky has perfected a method of preserving the nerves in a manner similar to the storage of plasma in a blood bank, it was said.

Russian surgeons of the Soviet academy of sciences has perfected the serum to combat gangrene and tetanus, thus increasing longevity, and it has been found useful in treating fractures caused by bullets or shell splinters, ulcers, and wounds.

Bogomolov believes his serum may eventually make it possible for man to achieve a 150-year life span. It is the product of 40 years of research. Because tuberculosis often breaks out among civil populations in wartime, Soviet scientists are giving it

H. S. Grid Teams May Supplant Collegians

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP)—If service rulings force the abandonment of dramatic curriculum of college football this autumn, high school grid teams may be moved up to the "big time" to provide the public with entertainment on Saturday afternoons.

This possibility was admitted today by Dr. A. K. Aldinger, secretary of the public schools athletic league of greater New York—an organization that includes all boys' high schools.

Dr. Aldinger said: "It is still uncertain about the future of college football for the duration. But I am sure we'll know by May what is in store for the college game. I mean the month of May because that is when the P. S. A. L. committee completes its schedule of contests for the fall."

Help Morale

"If it develops that college football will be virtually abandoned on account of the war and many departments, then, unquestionably, our game committee will consider the possibilities of staging high school games in large stadiums where the college game formerly occupied places like the Polo Grounds, Yankee stadium and Ebbets field."

The Aldinger emphasized that his organization always has been a proponent of so-called big-time football in high schools because of the psychological effect upon young players. He said the idea of the PSAAL would consider expansion of the pro game now as it is probably beneficial effect upon public morale.

See Big Crowds

Concerning the financial aspects, informed football men have assured the Aldinger that the public would not neglect to accept the high school competition as a substitute for the college game. He said he wanted to see some playing on the gridiron on Saturdays, even grammar school boys. His informant said that doubleheaders, involving four teams, could be staged to draw big crowds.

Football men point out also that modern high school boys play a better college game than was the case a few years ago. This was emphasized throughout the nation during the past several years when so many freshmen surprised the grid world by blossoming into stars.

Service Duty

When Louis Barrow, one of five St. Louis brothers who got playing soccer to join the army, landed in Italy, he found a new life. He was to organize a soccer team. For opposition he rounded up a group of royal force players and a number of players.

John Tripson, former Detroit Lions tackle, still is leading the interference. He has just returned from Africa, where he was one of the first Americans to land, going aboard to check landing spots for the rest of the invasion force.

RAOBACK RACON

Seaman Bill Shuler, former Little Rock sports scribe and still an Arkansas fan, writes from the coast that he is thinking about whether "a state senior in Arkansas recently proposed a girl which would be a 'big name' in the state." Shuler said he would get the "big name" football coach. Now if another good senior would like to be a "big name" coach, Shuler might do away in the future.

British Still Play Sports

By GLADWIN HILL

LONDON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Even though the British have been cut off from public recreation are still playing sports, and the government has taken steps to encourage them.

Beer is doing as well as usual. Sports have undergone drastic restrictions, but are continuing in nearly unaltered variety and popularity. Racing, boxing, English football and rugby and cricket are still being played, although the time taken to play has been cut.

American and Canadian soldiers have introduced football and basketball to enthusiastic popularity among fans. A total of $120,000,000 was bet on dog races alone during 1942. The regular Oxford-Cambridge boat race has just been held.

As a matter of fact, the only sport officially banned is winter sports, because of the problems of transportation and feeding.

On the whole sports have managed to surmount most obstacles, even the paramount one that there are no exemptions from military service for athletes. The competitors engage in their special sport on short leave from their services, jobs or homebound activities. And their leaves are officially facilitated. Professional football players still perform.

Despite wartime restraints, there is a considerable expansion in sports interest.

The Huskies went to within 10 points, 34 to 24, at first, after the Washington team, the team which they swamped the last Friday night.

There was little doubt about the Washington intentions from the instant Bill Morris made the first goal on the topoff play. Idaho was tagged on-floor and missed many of its tries hurried and hurried by the Washington defense. The Huskies still easily through the Vandals.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16 (AP)—A syndicate headed by John B. Kelly, U. S. director of physical fitness, was reported today to have raised his bid for the stock of the Philadelphia stock club to $150,000.

Kelly is in New York conferring with the National League, which acquired the majority of the Phil's stock last Thursday.

The four group bidding for the purchase met with Louis Carroll, attorney for the league.

Last week Price said the league would operate the club itself if no satisfactory offer is received.

Rizzuto Sees Yanks Winning

By ROBERT MOORE

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 16 (AP)—The pint-sized "scouter" who handled a man-sized job as scoutmaster for New York Yankees just can't see anybody winning the American League pennant in 1943 except Marv McCarty's Yankees.

The "Scouter"—whose name appeared in Yankee home papers as Rizzuto—knows that he and several other of the 1942 champions won't be around but he knows that "we still have enough guys to win again."

Rizzuto now wears a navy uniform.

"I think it will be a close fight all right between New York, St. Louis and perhaps Boston, but the Yankees will come out best."

"We still have good pitching—Ernie Bonham, Hank Borowy, Spud Chandler and Alcy Disher. They'll do for starters. The Yankees may do all right at the stadium, and the same goes for Nick Eichen at first."

"I don't think the Yankees will be able to get the best out of their three men, Ted Williams, Don Dickerson and Hank Greenberg. Hank Brown has lost Ellen Auker and a wife to Joe Vernon Stephens."

Does Rizzuto Plan to Return to Baseball after the War?

"I don't know. I'm a scout now, but I might go back to baseball after the war."

Savold Kayoes Lem Franklin

CHICAGO, Feb. 16 (AP)—Lem Franklin, heavyweight, scored a spectacular knockout over Savold in a 10-round fight at the Chicago Stadium last night.

Floored with a heavy right in the first round and with his right eye rapidly swelling shut by the end of the second, Savold fought a remarkably game fight to come from behind and triumph. His victory was mainly due to his right eye, which was badly swollen and shut.

By his victory, Savold avenged a knockout Franklin scored over him four years ago when he was first starting to climb in the heavyweight ranks. Savold weighed 160 pounds, Franklin 195.

COMBLES ON FLOOR

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP)—Pat Combs, 219, Paterson, N. J., came off the floor last night to outpoint a 160-pounder, Pat Combs, in a 10-round fight at the Chicago Stadium last night.

Floored for a nine count from a right hand punch in the second round, Combs was back on his feet at the end of the third and won down the stretch with lightning and speed. Full use of his 26 pound weight edge.

Coast League Keeps Playoff

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 16 (AP)—Directors of the Pacific Coast league have voted to retain the Shaughnessy playoffs under which a purse of $25,000 is distributed to the four winners.

In the face of uncertainties, the directors adopted a long resolution addressed to the league's executive committee, Paul W. McCarty, league manager, committee, Donald Brown, league president, and other government officials seeking some clue as to the future of the league.

The directors re-elected Wilbur C. (Two-Gun) Tuttle as president for the seventh year.

Battered U. S. Sports Get Ray of Sunshine

By HAROLD CLASSEN

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP)—Sports battered and bruised the past week by editors, critics, cynics and in sports circles had a ray of sunshine yesterday.

In Washington, D. C., J. V. McVittie, chairman of the manpower commission, said that preparation for the coming baseball season was a business as usual.

Up to the sports leaders, Larry, a pair of boxing gloves and army of down made a plea for the continuation of competitive sports.

NEW TAX PAYING PLAN PROPOSED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—A grand growing capital concern over the public's reported tax-paying lethargy, the United States Chamber of Commerce today proposed a new version of the pay-as-you-go plan first introduced in 1936.

Elmer C. Alford, chairman of the chamber's federal finance committee, presented the plan to the house ways and means committee and said it is appropriate to the present economic situation.

He stated that it could be made effective by June 1.

Pay as Usual

Meanwhile, quarterly income tax payments on March 15 and June 15 would have to be paid as usual, to be applied to the 1943 liabilities as soon as the plan was put into effect.

JAPS GETTING OIL IN BORNEO WELLS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Secretary of Navy Frank Knox said today that the Japanese undoubtedly are getting oil from the conquered territories and that American submarines were pinning an energetic campaign against the enemy's supply lines.

Knox told reporters that he assumed the Japanese were "doing the most they can to exploit" conquered areas and that they were "undoubtedly getting oil."

"According to unofficial reports," Knox said, "the Japanese have renewed oil production in shadowy areas near the northern portion of Borneo. We know that some installations in the Dutch East Indies were not destroyed before the Japanese got there and they undoubtedly are using them."

Asked whether Japanese ships have been sunk in sufficiently large numbers to impair enemy supply lines, Knox replied:

"We are pursuing our submarine campaign very energetically. Navy records to date show American submarines operating in the Pacific have sunk 122 Japanese ships, probably sunk 22 others, and damaged 32 more."

He said there was nothing striking in the statistics except "lots of air activity."

150 FLEE FROM BLAZE IN HOTEL

BOSTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Almost 150 guests of the Hotel Hotel, many of them theatrical people and war workers, were driven to the street in their nightgowns early today by fire.

Firemen said they were satisfied that nobody was trapped in the five-story, brick structure, located a few hundred yards from the Cocomo Grove night club ruins in which 402 persons met death during a fire last Nov. 23.

William A. Mulvihill, hotel night clerk, and a male guest who heard a woman's cough, discovered smoke and ran to a room to arouse the sleepers.

CONDEMNED TREATMENT GIVEN WIDOWED MOTHER

Editor, Times-News:

In our community lives a widow woman with three children, the oldest seven years, who not long ago has been receiving from some assistance fund, the sum of $42 per month. Out of this she has to pay $10 rent, about $10 for heat, light and water bill $12.25. Some time ago, she accepted a job on a bean sorter, working hours from 4:30 p. m. until 12:30 a. m. After paying transportation, and sharing her wages with another worthy person to care for her children she had a small amount.

Feb. 1 she received no allotment. Calling at the proper confidential station to inquire the cause, she was informed she had been apprehended in the act of working, and the allotment had been suspended. Offering to give up her job and try to get along with her allotment she was told that this would give her no relief as she had already been condemned and penalized four allotments.

Is this justice? Can this happen here? Is it possible that this woman, in her extreme poverty, because from want, has committed a grave crime?

It is possible that those administrators are eager to achieve freedom from fear, fear that this woman might become a capitalist at the expense of taxpayers?

Christ was crucified for advocating such sentiments by the same class of people that today are attempting to crucify our noble and courageous President upon the political cross.

P. S.—There say the people did not know what they were voting for. But they certainly know now who they were voting for.

SELFISH TO WENY DECENT LIVING TO THE AGED

Editor, Times-News:

Three months after election the citizens' grant is fast aside. Our votes are no good, according to this selfish and harmful policy of the political party to out our capital by these same voters.

If our votes are no good, why then are you entitled to sit in the capital of this, the great state of Idaho? Why are you entitled to reap the votes that were cast for these dear old folks and the welfare?

But this same political party on a monthly allowance of $15 or $20, with worry and distress and without the necessities of life, they would count down some more. If they had to use a left handed money wrench, they would take a five per cent vote tax to care for our precious old folk, our pioneers.

Who could be so greedy or selfish as to deny them a decent living in a land of plenty?

SEES PENSION KEEPER AS TOTALITARIAN

Editor, Times-News:

Three months after election "About Politics—For Once" I want to say that we must use a different definition for the word politics. I think that what Idaho needs is less politics and more state-manship. I fail to see how we can be proud of the political action of the legislators, who took it upon themselves to maintain that they are smarter than the people that elected them. Why not go one step further and have the ones that are in charge of the Idaho political racket—(a) all of the disfigure and let the legislators stay at home? That would save some expense, and do away with government jobs, and do away with the people.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hansen, confirmed a state of affairs in existence at the time that it was adopted. It is too backward when a legislature stops
