Next up for consideration was house bill 99, which relates to the revenue and excise. It did not get a hearing. This was defeated 15 to 7.

Billings Resident Helped in Naming Betty and Jimmy (From Page One) Something a new drop in still water and sending concrete pillars in all directions.

The story of a possible reunion of the famous "caterpillar" Mrs. Betty Nelson, Twin Falls, and her brother, Jimmy, which was printed in the Times-News a short time ago, also is a part of the memory of a woman in Billings, Mont., according to word received from Miss Jean Dillmeier, former Times-News staff member.

Mrs. C. J. Nelson, Billings, was a student nurse at the Methodist hospital in Billings when she and her brother, Jimmy, were found at the bottom of an abandoned mine. The bodies were taken to that hospital, and the nurses promptly named them Betty and Jimmy Wells.

"They were darling babies," Mrs. Nelson said, when she heard of the reunion being planned. "I have their pictures in my old annual, and I'm going to send them to Betty when she meets Jimmy."

DEATH COMES TO WIFE OF PASTOR

Mrs. Sarah Ruth Landon David, wife of Elder D. M. David, died at 10:15 a. m. Saturday following an illness of two years ending in Shelby, Mich. June 21, 1931.

On Aug. 1, 1914, she was married to Elder David and together they preached the Gospel on Oct. 12, 1917. For seven years she ministered with him in cooperation with her husband in Grand Rapids, Mich. After her husband resigned his pastorate in that city they traveled for six years as evangelists in nearly every state of the Union.

In April of 1932 she came to Twin Falls to continue her ministry and teaching with her husband at the Baptist Temple church.

She conducted a highly successful Bible school and was known for many songs and choruses which she composed herself and taught to the congregation.

Funeral services, expected to draw an overflow throng of the church's parishioners and friends throughout this area, have been tentatively set for 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Baptist Temple church, 459 Third avenue west. Rev. W. T. Withers, pastor, Columbus, O., national chairman of the Apostolic Faith church, will officiate in that city where he is Twin Falls cemetery under direction of the Twin Falls mortuary.

HUGE JOB LOOMS ON CAR 'DECALS'

As Assessor George Childs and his staff in Twin Falls and Bluff have a license to every automobile and truck owner in the county by the deadline on March 31 they'll have to prepare and hand out a "decals" every minute and a half during every working day until that time.

The assessor revealed that only 100 "decals" were issued in the first two weeks that he has had them on hand and last year's figures show there are about 10,000 motor vehicles to be so serviced in the county.

Consequently, with 27 days left of the regular registration period, the staff will have to work at the rate of better than 40 registrations an hour to complete its job.

In that minute and a half per decal, Childs' staff will not only be expected to fill in a registration card but also to issue the decal and, in the case of trucks, fill out blanks to be used by the state office of defective transportation in gasoline rationing.

And from the looks of things, Childs may not even have a minute and a half to give to each license holder. He is fast running out of "decals" and "stamps" and piles have not been received from the printer at the state office of law enforcement.

Despite the situation, no report of an extension of the license location period has been received.

Water at Falls

Release of water from the stream reservoirs to allow for the heavy runoff expected this spring is putting an unusually large flow over Shoshone falls for this time of year.

Water now covers the entire length of the 212-foot precipice which forms the falls, and Idaho Power company officials expect the flow to increase from now until the maximum is reached in the spring.

Outstanding event in the last week was the Machinery Market Day with its Big Public Auction of the terrific farm machinery. Designed to redistribute farm machinery onto Magic Valley farms, the movie was sponsored by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce in Twin Falls with U. S. D. A. War Board as the national sponsor of Commerce with the War Board in Bluff. Since most new machinery is frozen, it gives farmers a chance to pick up implements and tools with which to turn out the bumper crop this year—also for an all time high in everything! And on top of that the farmers have 1,500 pieces bought for $200,000 for an all time high in everything! And on top of that the farmers have 1,500 pieces bought for $200,000 for an all time high in everything!

Persons for this week will surely include the news of R. P. Allan Wooding, who at 18, has already a veteran of four war fronts. He visited his parents recently, taking time off from his duties as a young fireman, second class.

Rationing took big strides last week. There are now 100,000 goods frozen from February 20 '43 March 1st. They are a surprise move we found that the boys were becoming too popular and they along with other bulk goods were put on the banned list until ration tickets are issued. Housewives—your mother among them—are going to have to make their report accountants to keep up with the point system.

James Wilson, Halley, spent a recent furlough with his folks. A marine, he has been attending Bradwell school at Logan, Orin Shirts and Fred Allen, Halley, are leaving for the armed forces shortly. Some last of the season basketball scores include Oakley 37, Burley 36; Kimberly 21, Harrison 13; Twin Falls 31, Bluff 27; Albany-Palouse 27, Clarkston 27; Wendell 40, Fairfield 27; Murtaugh 24, Eden 15; Gooding 20, Jerome 27. Now the teams are awaiting the start of the various district meets and we'll report results to you as soon as possible.

Recently married were Miss Corina Anstutz to Mr. Earl Richard A. Elliott. Miss Anstutz was a former instructor in the Bluff schools, with Markdale Bell and Glenn Perry. Twenty navy trainees have been sent to Alton, Tenn. for training and will receive a prize for the work being carried on there. Estlin Thomas W. Butler, Twin Falls, has been on leave. He will report at an eastern port soon for submarine duty. First Sgt. Robert Lake, Twin Falls, has been on leave. He will report at an eastern port soon for submarine duty.

HELP THE RED CROSS! There are scores of ways of describing the many important services the American Red Cross is performing in this present world-wide war.

What stronger endorsement could any organization have? What better reason could be advanced for its continued support?

Obviously it requires a tremendous organization to carry on its work. Few have any conception of the volunteer effort, the multiplicity of reports and statistics and many other things.

We need to be reminded of only a few of the humanitarian services which the Red Cross is affording the men in service.

It's the only civilian agency that goes beyond the boundaries of the United States with our armed forces and assumes the duty of providing recreation and entertainment "over there."

When our men become prisoners of war it is only the Red Cross that can contact them, represent us, and convey our messages to them.

During the last three years, it has distributed $63,000,000 worth of supplies to the victims of war in distant lands.

Last year it made 14,300,000 garments for distribution to our armed forces and their dependents, and to refugees from the devastating Axis.

During the same 12-month period, it made 520,000,000 surgical dressings for our army and navy—97 per cent of all such dressings needed in these two branches of the service.

Perhaps its most important work during the past year has been the gathering of the millions of blood for processing into plasma for use in the hospitals.

When it starts its drive this week remember that the Red Cross needs and deserves your support—more now than ever before.

FLAIR FOR DRAMATIC General Sir Harold R. L. G. Alexander, commander of the British middle eastern forces, appears to have a flair for the dramatic comparable with that of our own General Douglas MacArthur.

This has been evidenced on a number of occasions, most recently when he gave to Premier Churchill: "Sir, the orders you reported me on Aug. 12, 1942, have been fulfilled. The enemy, together with their impedimenta, has been completely wiped out from Egypt, Cyrenaica, Libya and Tripoli and I now await your further instructions."

But General Alexander was less than candid. He did not await instructions. By the time he reported completion of his original "directives" his men already were carrying out what inevitably would be his next order: "Hurry to Tunisia; help push the Old Fox the rest of the way into the Mediterranean."

AUTOMOBILE STORAGE So many automobile owners regularly in the gasoline-fueled east, are putting their cars away for the duration, that the OPA has made some suggestions to prevent deterioration of the machines.

Remember—you probably won't get a new automobile for some time when the war ends. It will take months to retool and begin manufacture, and more time to satisfy every man who is eager for a 1945 model vehicle.

Now they're talking of Finnish peace. The finish of Germany, Japan and Italy is the kind of peace we want.

Chicago man explained he turned robber because he lost his health. Now he's confined to his room for 10 years.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

FUTURE—The American people have gone on a savings spree unprecedented in history. If they maintain their present pocketbook pace, they will have a tremendous surplus to carry them through a transitional depression and perhaps save off a surplus.

Investments in U. S. treasury bonds quickly redeemable amounting to 12 billion through Feb. 23, 1943. The securities are selling at the rate of 10 billion dollars a year.

Another favorable factor is the rapid reduction of outstanding "Consumer" credit which came about 10 billion dollars at the time of Pearl Harbor.

PROTEST—The war department may crack down on several large trucking corporations suspected of profiteering in the various commodities and ration carry considerations.

Representatives of the United Mine Workers agricultural division seeking to ward the strike 30 Union, thought they smelted a political fight when they read a "directive" sent to local district boards.

REPRISAL—John L. Lewis has scored another victory over the administration. His farm organizers recently had a victory in the courts.

WORKING HOURS BOOSTED TO 48

to the 48-hour week and need not notify anyone.

Those for whom a longer work week would be impracticable would not contribute to reduction of labor requirements of the war effort, or would conflict with state or local laws. These should file a statement of the case with the local manpower director by April 7 and await his decision.

The order to the lumber and nonferrous mining industries to go on the 48-hour week was the first in industry-wide application of the longer work-week principle. The labor department estimated that about 370,000 workers in lumber and 70,000 in mining.

WMC officials said considerable segments of the two industries already are working at least 48 hours.

Last September the war production board ordered that all workers in the two industries in 12 western states be placed on a 48-hour week with pay and one-half for the work in excess of 40 hours.

Some Rules

The general regulations as to implementing the longer work week in the 12 labor shortage areas also apply to the lumber and mining industries.

It described the broad grant of authority to local and regional directors as an effort to do a "tailor made job" for each community where the 48-hour order applies.

In response to press conference questions, he requested that officials in different areas but said that any differences become a national matter, Washington will step in.

Grant of authority to the local directors is to determine just where the labor shortage areas exist, the critical order designating them simply listed cities. Under today's regulations, the local WMC officials are empowered to set whether a plant lying outside the community's corporate limits is or is not included.

Any employer or workers dissatisfied with a decision by the regional officials can appeal to the war manpower commission.

Can't Hire More

Employers who fail to comply with the 48 hour order may not hire new employees for replacement or expansion. However, if an employer would be in compliance if, by April 1, he files a statement of how many employees he can replace by a longer work week, or files a request for exemption.

Among points brought out in response to questions were:

There can be no guarantee that an employee released to go to another job will be paid the same, or a higher, wage.

Employees with fewer than eight employees is exempt even though it may be affiliated with a chain having several hundred or more.

If an employer can best accomplish the purposes of the order—replace manpower or increase production—by placing his establishment on a work week longer than 40 hours but shorter than 48 he should do so.

SEVEN TEAMS WIN BERTHS IN CLASS B TOURNAMENT

Stage Set for District Meet

The stage was about set today for the two annual school district Idaho high school basketball tournaments as play was completed late last night in the Class B sub-district meet.

Games from the Wood River area, Glens Ferry and Wendell from the North Shore, Murtaugh and Hollister from the South Side and Albion filled out seven of the teams for the district fray at Wendell.

The Class A season will be held at Twin Falls with teams from Oakley, Burley, Rupert, Twin Falls, Filer, Jerome, Gooding and Blaine.

Both the A and B tournaments are played on a double-elimination basis and will run three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 4, 5 and 6.

Shoshone coasted into its district berth without a defeat, eliminating Albion in the finals by a 41-23 score.

Glens Ferry pulled through the quarter-finals by a 30-23 final score. Both clubs are eligible from this point on.

Murtaugh scraped through the quarter-finals by a 30-23 final score. The Hollister club was defeated in the district series.

Mini-Cassia Meet

The Mini-Cassia tournament is annually staged on a double-elimination basis in the afternoon.

Albion came through the quarter-finals by a 30-23 final score in the district clinched. However, Hebrum and Declo will have to play for a berth in the final game on Monday night.

Caray won its game from Halley by a 30-23 final score.

Drawings for the Class B tournament were announced Monday by Supl. H. J. Doering of Wendell, tournament manager.

For the first time the Class A schools complete their activity-all seeing play except the Gooding-Santon and the Blaine games.

Complete Schedule

Oakley-Holmes continued their rivalry over the Twin Falls Bruins by taking a 30-23 victory. Rupert defeated the Burley cagers, 40-23, and got their first berth to trip Jerome, 41-23, in a high-scoring fray.

Dixon Beats Dodds in National AAU Mile

NEW YORK, Feb. 21—Frank Dixon, New York university freshman, stood up under a burning first-half pace by defending champion GP Dodds and then came from behind with a blazing last lap to win the featured mile championship of the national AAU indoor track and field meet in 4:09.6 at Madison Square Garden tonight.

A crowd of 14,000 thrilled as Dodds, defending champion from Boston, slipped off the first quarter in 5:56 seconds and whirled past the half-mile marker in 2:00.8—probably the fastest first half clocking ever made in major mile competition.

The defending champion tried rapidly but he had 12 yards to spare as Dixon crossed the finish line around the board. Dixon also clocked in 4:09.6 on the final lap.

Oakley Wins Bruins, 39-23

OAKLEY, Feb. 27—The Oakley Bruins represented the Twin Falls area in a basketball game on free throws here last night. But the Bruins finally lost to the Oakley Bruins 39-23.

Oakley's generosity and consequently Oakley just had to walk off the floor in the second quarter. The game was the last pre-tournament contest of the season for both clubs.

The Bruins made 21 trips to the free throw line but were unable to make good on only nine of them, whereas the Hornets geared 11 of their 15 attempts.

The game was one of the roughest ever staged on the local floor with 45 fouls. The game was the last of the season for both clubs.

Three other Oakley players played the last quarter with three players on each team. While only one of the Twin Falls players was not banished, several of them made three fouls.

With Simpson, regular forward, ill, Coach Mack Halliday started Equat, a little "hot shot" that he brought up from the junior varsity. However, the new starting forward failed to make a point.

Oakley jumped into an early lead and held a 13-0 advantage at the end of the first quarter. The Hornets were 16-9 out in front at the half and 26-18 after three periods.

The victory was the Hornets' 12th of the season against three defeats. The lineup and individual scores:

Robinson on Way to Army

DETROIT, Feb. 27 (AP)—RAY (Sugar) Robinson, Harlem's uncrowned king of the welterweights, headed for the army in a happy mood today after reviving himself on Jake La Motta, the rugged New Yorker who managed to stop the dynamite's impressive victory string.

Robinson in the seventh round for an eight count, Sugar Ray fought back fiercely the rest of the way to win in a close but unanimous decision last night over the free-swinging middleweight.

For Robinson it was retaliation against the man who handed him a six-week private rest week, December 14, in New York last October, but the Bronx battler capitulated Robinson here three weeks ago. A crowd of 15,000 spectators, who paid $40,000 to see the bout, watched Sugar Ray pile up an early lead, principally on a stinging left. La Motta's rushing attack caught Robinson in the third but the price of Harlem's blasted back with both hands to take the fourth.

Carey Takes Tourney Berth

HAYLEY, Feb. 27—Carey high school won the right to enter the Wendell district basketball tournament by defeating the Halley Wolves 42-24 in the final game of the Wood River sub-district event here last night.

With Halley leading 25-24 and only 20 seconds of the game remaining, he stepped to the foul line and sank the tying and winning free throw.

Asstreak was the Halley pacemaker with seven points.

"Had Halley defeated Carey last night, the teams would have met again tonight with the championship at stake. The tournament was a double elimination affair."

One bank is cut away more rapidly than the other by rivers that flow north and south, due to the earth's rotation.

Machinery Sale Goes to $14,900

 machinery brings generally, they all seemed well pleased to be able to get it. Every piece of machinery and accessories, from fence posts to tractors, was quickly snatched up. In fact, the speed of the sales amazed merchandising men, who, after looking over the crowded block-long lot, predicted the auction would have to go over until Saturday. However, by 4:30 p. m. Friday every piece of machinery had been sold.

Different than in many other auctions held throughout this section of the country, none of the four tractors put up for sale brought the selling price. Consequently, farmers were not forced to draw straws to decide the successful bidder under price ceilings.

BAN LOOMS ON CIVIC BANQUETS

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—The New York World-Telegram said today it had learned from an OPA spokesman that "banqueting is out for the duration."

"While no order has yet been issued covering the ban, an OPA spokesman indicated it would apply immediately to all group-eating functions in hotels, Rotary luncheons as well as soup-and-fish banquets," the World-Telegram said.

The newspaper said the OPA spokesman added that "Don't let anybody think that because they may have more money than the first one they can go to some high-priced hotel and get a bigger and better meal. Hotel meals will be on a par as far as quantity goes, but hotel or small hotel." Service organizations which hold regular weekly banquets, including Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions and Elks change clubs, presumably would be affected.

The World-Telegram said it was learned that several New York hotels, which already were curtailing their banquets and dining room services, had been "quietly advised by the OPA to prepare for no-banquet days for the duration, as soon as meat rationing becomes general."

To All Present Owners of JOHN DEERE EQUIPMENT!

THIS IS YOUR DUTY!

Check every piece of John Deere equipment you have, and fill in the blank in this Ad. In order to maintain a complete stock of all types of parts, we must know the following five things:

1. Exactly how many, of each type of equipment is still in service in Magic Valley.
2. The model numbers of each item.
3. Its approximate age.
4. Its present condition.
5. What repairs it will probably need in the coming year.

Assure yourself and your neighbors of a ready supply of parts by getting this information to us as soon as possible. Breakdowns and delays are costly, and if every farmer will cooperate, we can have a complete stock of repair parts in time for spring work.

GET THIS RECORD IN RIGHT NOW!

Place Your Order for Repairs Today!

In checking over your equipment, examine it carefully for badly worn or broken parts. If replacements are necessary now, write down the Number of the part along with the machine model number and bring them in with your blank. Then we'll order those parts and have them here in time to put your machine in top shape for the spring season. Early ordering of obviously necessary parts will make a better supply available later on.

Naturally, we want to meet every John Deere Implement owner in Magic Valley, but most important right now, we want to be in a position to supply those owners with all the needed replacement parts for this complete equipment OUT OF OUR STOCK.

Farm machinery is constantly changing hands, is being worn out and scrapped or replaced.—We have no way of knowing if it is still in use, or where it is. The only way we can be sure of having an adequate supply of repair parts is to have every farmer in Magic Valley cooperate in making this survey.

Grange Furrows

By J. R. CRAWFORD

It doesn't make much difference what comes up, so long as the trials are made a racket of it. Now we hear that the ways are being leveled by the very simple device of leveling the ground.

fact that chertons have been abandoned in the country because of the lack of city society, has made it well nigh impossible for farmers to derive any benefit from the leveling of the ground.

And speaking of church, I attend a very good church service every week, and I have a very typical army chaplain conduct the service. Except that the chaplain is a very typical soldier, the meeting was much like any other church service. The chaplain, however, was very attentive, the sermon was good, and with a volunteer pianist, the singing was excellent.

And by the way, I have the following interesting letter on hand sent to Grange Furrows by Mr. J. R. Crawford. It is a very interesting letter, and I believe this letter is new to the Grange Furrows.

Country Church
I see in a farm paper that the country church is being run as a business, as well as a number of other time saving activities. The farm and rural community seem to be well high self sufficient, and to be well supplied with everything they need.

● SERIAL STORY ●

THE TERRIBLE EYE

BY EDWIN RUTT

NOT TOO LATE
CHAPTER XVIII

Even if it had been carefully explained to Mr. Slynch that the while arrangement was merely a bluff, Slynch in his fitful, fitful mood would have refused to accept the fact. He was far too steeped in Old Smoky and the spirit world. To him that un-certain, queer, mysterious, and large consignment of ectoplasm.

Mr. Slynch's speed of a moment before became a circumstance. Now he moved as moves the gazelle.

He reached the wall he found the little door in it, for which Meath had given him a key. The key was unnecessary now, since he had the door open some time earlier.

Across the road from the estate there was a field. He walked and glanced fearfully behind him.

There was no ectoplasm on the horizon. There was nothing anywhere, except a lighthouse.

And, as he was in great gratification, he became aware that he was still holding the bottle of Old Smoky.

Leaving, he raised it to his lips.

"Jonah," said Hilly Channing, "you're a hero."

Mr. Logan nodded in partial agreement. In his opinion, Hilly's thinking was sound as far as it went. But it didn't go far enough.

"I mean, Hilly," said Hilly, "that it's simply wonderful of you to spare Mahoney to throw those flares so that Chet can make a safe landing. And it's wonderful of you to have thought up a gag to lure father to the Taj Mahal. You're a hero, Jonah."

"Yeah?" said Jonah dully. "I'm wonderful all right."

"You really are a grand guy, Jonah," Hilly said. "I could kiss you."

"Well, why don't you?" said Jonah.

Somewhat to his surprise, she did kiss him. Mr. Logan had a preview of Heaven.

"Woman," he said, reeling a little. "How does that come natural or did you learn it at college?"

"Don't be coarse, Jonah," said Hilly. "I just wanted to show you that I really like you. In fact, she heated and, in the darkness, her eyes were like tiny pools of mist—"I-oh, sometimes I wish that Chet weren't coming at all."

Jonah's heart, normally a humdrum organ, turned a hand-spring.

"That's that again," cried Mr. Logan.

"No," said Hilly. "I won't. Because it's very foolish and impractical." She got hold of her coat and went off on another, and safer, tale. "I wish you were here, you're getting faster to come to the Taj?"

"Lateral pass," Jonah told her. "Mahoney to Corby to your old man."

"Corby? You mean the butler?"

"None other," Mahoney by his instructions. He will get a message to Corby."

"That Corby doesn't know Mahoney."

"So what? Mahoney is representing himself as one of the under-gardeners, hired this afternoon. Don't worry, Hilly, Mahoney will not fail."

"Well, I hope not..."

A figure was slithering toward them through the darkness.

"Ah, young man," said Mr. Calvin Meigs, perceiving Jonah.

Hilly bounced upon Mr. Meigs. "Uncle Cal. What are you doing here? I warn you, if you've been sleeping, I'll hunt you down a cent."

Mr. Meigs stared at her. "Hilly," he said, "I never can be so in-merry-minded, I assure you, my dear, that I have passed the point where money could be of use to me."

"Well, thank heaven for that."

"Jonah took command. 'Lay off, Hilly. You're a girl. There was no time to explain. Unless something slipped, your father left to the Taj Mahal.'

Meanwhile, inside the house, Corby entered the living room. He moved with dignity and grace. The intelligence that had just been brought him by a half-suspiciously bemoaning slipper, Mr. Meigs, along with Corby, went to the Taj Mahal.

Within the living room Mr. Meigs was leaning upon the fireplace. Corby approached de-cently.

"I have a word with you, sir," he inquired.

"Certainly, Corby. Speak up."

"Good, God," he ejaculated. "Who told you this?"

"Danker, sir," Corby said. "One of the housemaids. It seems that since he is from an under-gardener, a new man. This person informed Danke that he met Mr. Meigs on the ground, that Mr. Meigs burn—er—borrowed a cigaret. It developed that Mr. Meigs was on his way to the Taj Mahal to cut his throat. Efforts to dissuade him were fruitless, the under-gardener rushed to the kitchen. And the first person he encountered was Danke."

H. L. Channing was a man of action. With a muttered "Thanks, Corby," he turned and hurried from the room.

This, he thought as he raced toward the Taj Mahal, was too bad for Calvin Meigs. Mr. Channing had no objection whatever to Mr. Meigs cutting his own throat. But doing it on these premises, at the height of a formal ball, was not cricket.

Then the Taj Mahal loomed up and it was drenched. With a sinking feeling in his stomach, Mr. Channing quickened his pace. He reached the door, pounded on it. "Calvin!" he roared. "Hil, Calvin!"

The door gave under the pounding. Mr. Channing stumbled above the threshold. And the ray of a torch look him squarely between the eyes. A second later light from overhead bulbs flooded the room.

"Well, father?" said Hilly channily.

Mr. Channing gaped at her. Then he transferred the tape to a young man whom he did not immediately recognize. The young man was fooling with a contraption that looked like a camera. Lastly Mr. Channing gaped at Calvin Meigs who sat in an easy chair, gnawing at his sandwich.

"See here!" quoth Mr. Channing sternly. "What is the meaning of this?"

LET US HELP YOU WITH YOUR FIRST SHOPPING UNDER POINT RATIONING

A Point ration shopping won't be easy the first time you try it. But your Safeway has done a lot of things to help you learn how it is done. Just slip on a coat

B ... take a stroll to your Safeway. Start early because point ration shopping will take more time... you have to figure point values as well as cash values.

C You'll notice—Government signs showing point values for all ration items—how clearly we have identified the point value of rationed items... by red shelf markers and by marking the point value in red crayon on every rationed item. But best of all there's a clerk wearing a big badge... it reads "point ration information."

D That's our "piece de resistance"... a clerk who's qualified to answer your questions. He knows the "whys and wherefores" of point rationing and will answer you cheerfully and in detail.

E Next, browse around a bit and note the large variety of items stocked, the low ceiling prices, and how clearly we've marked the point value as well as the price value of all items rationed so it's easier for you to compare value.

F Don't hesitate to go back to the point ration information clerk and ask any other questions which may occur to you. Be sure you know how to get the best value for your points.

G When you are ready to buy your groceries, make a mental note of the points required for each rationed item selected. If the point cost totals more than you plan... exchange items until you have the best value possible for your points... take as much time as you like.

H When you arrive at the check-out counter... the clerk will call the point value of every rationed item and he will total the point values as well as cash values on the register. Thus, your sales slip becomes an accurate record of the point value and the cash value of your purchases.

I On your way home... if you want to tell your neighbors that Safeway is doing everything possible to make "point ration" shopping easier for their customers... we won't object.
