LONDON, March 1 (U.P.)—The Nazi Paris radio said today that Premier Benito Mussolini and German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop have held "very important" consultations in Rome during the past four days.

Soviets Hold off Stiffening Nazi Counter-Thrusts

A desperate German effort to shove off further disaster in Russia apparently has checked the forces of Gen. N. F. Vatutin in the Donets basin, but the Russians reported today the red army was continuing to grind forward west of Kharkov toward the rail junction of Poltava and the Dnieper river.

The Russian communiqué did not concede the German claim that Kramatorsk and Losovaya, south of Kharkov, had been recaptured by the Germans, but it did say the Germans were counter-attacking furiously and "hastily bringing up fresh troops and throwing them into action."

The German communiqué, as broadcast by the Berlin radio, said Kramatorsk and Losovaya were taken by storm and "parade" high losses in men and material were inflicted on the enemy. "Some units of the Russian army have been enveloped and are gradually being destroyed," the German communiqué said.

Heavy Attacks
The Russian communiqué, issued hours later and recorded by the Soviet monitor in London, said that the German counter-attacks were repelled and eight enemy tanks were destroyed. "Another sector fighting went on all day for positions in front of one initiated location which changed hands several times. By the end of the day Soviet troops had firmly established themselves in the inhabited locality."

500 Nazi Dead
The Germans left 500 dead on the field of battle in this sector and 100 tanks and a large number of other vehicles were smashed, the Russians said.

Lgovaya, recaptured by the Russians, is about 75 miles south of Kharkov and is an important railway junction. Kramatorsk, 10 miles southeast of Kharkov, is also a railroad town.

Red army troops drove back a counter-attack launched by the Germans southwest of Voronezh, and, pursuing the retreating Germans, captured and annihilated a platoon and took about 100 prisoners, the Soviet communiqué said.

German Driven out
The bulletin announced that the Germans had been driven from four communities in the Donets basin and Kursk and said in the fighting for one of these places two companies of enemy infantry were killed. War material and prisoners also were taken.

The German counter-attack, which was repelled and withdrew from the area, had been launched, it was announced, in another sector five artillery divisions and about 500 tanks were reported captured.

COURT REVERSES DECISION ON NAZI

WASHINGTON, March 1 (U.P.)—The supreme court today set aside the conviction of George Sylvester Viereck, "German propagandist found guilty of failing to disclose enemy activities," which was handed down by the federal court in connection with the state department.

The tribunal split 5 to 3 on the issue. Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes dissented from the majority opinion. Associate Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas, and Robert H. Jackson, who were joined by Justices Brandeis and Clegg, dissented from the majority opinion.

The conviction was set aside on technical grounds that the government tried to bring to account for certain actions under amendments to the Espionage Act, which were passed after those against Viereck. The amendments were passed after those against Viereck.

In his dissenting remarks to the jury he (Viereck) indulged in an appeal wholly irrelevant to any facts or issues in the case, and the effect of which could only have been to arouse passion and prejudice," Stone said.

Coast Warned of Possible Air Raid
LOS ANGELES, March 1 (U.P.)—Southern California was warned today by Maj. Gen. U. S. Grant III to be alert for aerial attack.

"We are getting the word that the Japs won't attack, if only to make of a fact," declared General Grant. "Members of the coast defense command, the office of civilian defense and a veteran of two wars."

Now to confer with civilian defense leaders. General Grant called air raid wardens the "infantry of the coast defense command," and pointed that "month-in, month-out vigilance must be maintained."

"We are not expecting an attack and Tokyo did not expect a bombing," he said.

Gen. M'Arthur Warns Allies of Japs' Plans

The United Nations were put on notice by Gen. Douglas MacArthur today that the Japanese, who for months have not attempted any large-scale offensive enterprise, are concentrating their main strength in the ring of islands stretching for 2,000 miles or more to the north of Australia.

"Our air reconnaissance over the past weeks reports a constant and growing reinforcement in all categories of enemy strength in the island perimeter enveloping the upper half of Australia," said the allied headquarters communiqué issued in Australia.

The enemy seems to be concentrating his main effort in preparation for a major offensive, he said, and is taking up a position in readiness.

This announcement was supplemented by a headquarters dispatch from the Pacific command, which said that the Japanese might be either for defense or offense, and was matched by a statement by the American Pacific fleet commander, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the United States Pacific fleet, indicating that the U. S. navy might have some counter-up his shore.

"Crossroads of Campaign"

"We are now at the crossroads of the Pacific campaign," Nimitz said in a broadcast sponsored by the American Red Cross.

"From now on the going will be tougher as we undertake the task of driving the enemy from prepared positions he has been building in the conquered area."

"It is our job to destroy the ships and planes and to neutralize his island strongholds as we drive toward the positions from where we can reach with our shells and bombs his industrial nerve centers."

This statement was taken in some quarters as a hint that the navy was about ready for some offensive action aimed eventually at bringing the Japanese to bay.

The warning of MacArthur followed the Japanese communiqué.

The seeds will be mailed to war gardeners in the following quantities: 100 seeds of each of the following vegetables: beans, carrots, cabbages, cauliflower, celery, cucumbers, eggplants, green beans, green peppers, lettuce, onions, radishes, spinach, tomatoes, and zucchini. The house foreign affairs committee approved a companion bill Saturday and it is scheduled to come up for house debate late this week.

Now, liberated by the great Soviet winter offensive, Kharkov has 300,000 residents, who are starving. Its colleges have been looted and dynamited and 60 per cent of its buildings are ruined.

Up to Jan. 1, 1943, Stettinius said the United Kingdom received $2,440,000,000 of lend-lease supplies, including 10 per cent of all the food in the world. The United Kingdom lowered repeated statements in recent months by Premier John Curtin of Australia that the southwest Pacific area is still a crucial battleground.

MARTHUR WARNS OF ENEMY PLANS

Meanwhile, American and Australian troops which have smashed one Japanese army of 15,000 in New Guinea were declared to have driven the Japanese back about 30 miles from Wau, site of an allied airfield in northeastern New Guinea.

Wau is about 25 miles southwest of Salamaua, a coastal base which the Japanese have held since early last year. There was no official report, however, on how close the allied force was to Salamaua.

The Japanese still held numerous bases in the northwestern Solomon Islands, New Britain and the Dutch East Indies to the northwest of Australia.

Strengthening Bases

For several weeks the number of Japanese targets in this wide range of islands has been growing in latest lists of air operations, and it appeared probable that the Japanese, under cover of the month-long battle in the Solomon Islands and New Guinea, had been engaged in making themselves solid not only in half a dozen of their best known bases but throughout the area.

In other far Pacific areas, American aircraft were busy striking bases in China and Burma. The American air force under Brig. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, reported the Japanese against the Japanese along the Burma road, after a month's stay-off due to bad weather.

Reports of bombs on warehouses and barracks at Hanchuan, 30 miles west of the Salween river, making the Japanese have been making some advances in a threat against China's Yunnan province. Huge fires were set.

Raid in Burma

Other American fliers from India were reported in a communique to have bombed and destroyed a 7,000-ton merchant ship, south of Rangoon, big Burma port, and to have destroyed several Japanese warehouses and ammunition dumps at Wainmang, a Japanese base in northern Burma used for the Yunnan drive.

An Indian coastal patrol, feeling out Japanese defenses in the Andaman Islands, reported the sinking of a Japanese ship off the coast of Sumatra.

The RAF also attacked objectives in Burma, particularly at Aungmye, a Japanese base in the south of Aungmye, a Japanese base in the south of Aungmye.

Exclusive of last night's raid, the allied operations over Europe during February were carried out at a cost of 371 planes, a relatively high price for the scope of the raids, authoritative sources said.

RED CROSS FUND

VALUE STRESSED

How a $3 contribution to the Red Cross can be considered as saving the life of a soldier, was explained by Dr. Charles R. Scott, chairman of the Red Cross war fund drive, beginning tomorrow, as he announced plans for the raising of more than 150 soldiers at 8 p. m. today in the Idaho Power company auditorium.

"It requires approximately $3 to process one pint of blood into plasma," said Dr. Scott. "The use of blood plasma has resulted in saving over 80 per cent of our wounded who were compared with 43 per cent in World War I. The commercial value of a pint of blood is $2.50. We cannot make blood here, but we do have plenty of money and can pay for processing the blood plasma to save the lives of our men to live near the blood processing centers. How many life-saving units are you going to wish to finance at $3 per unit?"

Dr. Scott urged that all soldiers be at the meeting who can possibly attend to receive last-minute instructions for the drive.

"Let us remember," said the chairman, "that this is no ordinary peacetime drive, asking for $1 memberships. The money and time we are putting in here now is going to exceed the sacrifices being made for us by fighting men on the battlefields."

IDAHO ASSEMBLY SET NEW RECORD

BOISE, March 1 (AP)—Idaho's shortest legislative session since statehood history, and the 27th assembly will continue probably the smallest session since the turn of the century.

The legislature adjourned at 12:55 a. m. Sunday, just an hour longer than the 25th legislative day. The previous shortest session was that of 1933, which adjourned on the 50th day, but immediately went into a special session.

But the 27th was not lacking in usual late minute tangle. One of the die adjournment was held up by a wrangle between house Democrats and senate Republicans over passage of either of two bills appropriating funds to Gov. C. A. Bottolmer for the administration of the state liquor dispensary.

Get Together. In the senate, first a house-approved bill calling for a $35,000 appropriation previously requested by the governor for his cabinet members and auditors to investigate any and all departments.

Then the house was a new compromise bill, more desired by the republican legislators, providing $45,000 for special legal counsel, investigations and law enforcement emergency only.

The house Democrats refused to vote on the bill, but the senate Republicans would not vote on the measure. The matter stood for four hours until the Democrats agreed to support the bill for $45,000 which passed both houses on a party line vote.

Senate Changes Mind. Earlier, the senate, after first killing a bill designed to outlaw slot machines, reconsidered, passed and sent it to the governor, and then killed another measure taxing slot machines without repealing them, just before adjournment, the house unanimously killed a bill which would regulate liquor by the drink.

An unofficial check of records, which will take several days to properly arranged due to fast adjournment on the final day, shows the two houses passed 170 bills. A few have been vetoed, other can expect to be vetoed. The smallest number of bills in Idaho legislative history was introduced in the house—207, smaller since the 29th of 1923.

The senate introduced 147 as compared with 170 in 1941. Outstanding actions of the legislature: Repeal of the senior citizens' grants act.

Best Voters Bill. Approval of a state convention for nomination of state and congressional candidates, which was the governor's objection and veto. Forbidding labor to the financial institutions, and the veto of state and banning picketing of agricultural labor.

Improving a series of bills designed to regulate and complete the placing of the state's modern bookkeeping system. Adopting legislation to protect the rights of Idaho women serving in the armed forces.

Allowing women to serve on juries. Moving five proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on the 15th of March. Repealing two proposed prison reforms by eliminating the board of pardons and placing the power with the governor; the questions of whether state constitutional officers should be elected for four years; whether a bi-partisan tax commission should replace the present board of examiners; and whether federal property should be taxed, if such legislation is permitted by congress.

Liquor, Slot Machines. Requiring pre-natal and pre-marital tests for syphilis. Restricting to licensed slot machines, locker clubs and liquor by the drink bars, at the same time providing strict enforcement of existing laws and authorizing temperance courses in the public schools.

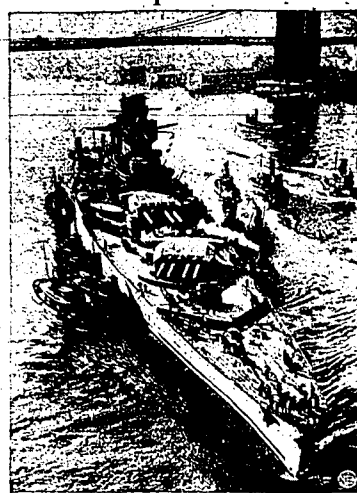

Enacting new laws regarding peeling the 20 percent tax on the wholesale price of liquor. Repealing existing exemption rating for employers in payment of unemployment compensation.

Giving the fish and game commission greater powers in regulation of hunting, fishing and trapping. Creating county councils of public assistance to prevent "relieving" on relief rolls.

Licensing small loan brokers and fixing maximum interest for loans up to $500 at three percent a month.

Refusing to grant the governor wartime authority to suspend laws interfering with national defense.

Battleship in Brooklyn

Head-on view of the new (1940) French battleship Richelieu passing under Manhattan bridge in New York's East river shows the vessel's two turrets of 15-inch guns (one apparently missing). The $35,000,000 ship is headed for repairs in Brooklyn yard. (Passed by navy censor).

Trials and Tribulations of Applying That Pesky Decal

By MERVIN SHOENMAKER
It won't be long until the windshields of all the automobiles in Idaho are marked with the word "decal." Already the big No. 1 Russel is pictured on the front of the "machines" whose out-of-state license expires the first of the year. All Idaho cars soon will be known by the "sign of the spud." Next to the "spud" is the word "decal." You see, the spud is the prominent feature of the decalcomania license which is being issued to motorists this year, in order to save the metal required for ordinary license plates.

The "decal," which goes in the lower left corner of the windshield, is going to be the "required" thing "list for state police after March 31, and you don't want to take the chance of disappointing them. It's W. "Brick" Zimmerman when he looks for the windshield obstruction on your car.

Go on "Easy." Once you get your decalcomania, and don't be impatient, because the time is late and Aesop's George Gulls' office is going to be overworked in issuing them. You have the problem of putting it on. It will be just as easy as a postage stamp on a letter. You may decide to put it on later, but don't be discouraged right at the beginning. You will note in the instructions that "your neighborhood service station will assist you in applying this license, but remember that it is the department of law enforcement talking, and not the service station operator. If you do not have a car, you may take it to the dealer to do the job yourself, rather than ask him to do it for you. He will charge you and he will be the windshield washing, which the operator thinks is a good idea. He will be in free with four gallons of gasoline.

Now you read the directions carefully, and get yourself a pan of water, and you are ready to go.

SALES RESUMED FOR ON CANNED FOOD

By IRVING PERLMETER
WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—Couple of blue coupons will get you a can of peas today in which pay a small price in cash. After eight days in which pay a can of fruit or vegetables could be sold legally anywhere in the United States, ration stickers you can use in free with four gallons of gasoline.

Officials sat back to hear for the first time since the war began, regarded as inevitable at least for a few days until people get used to the new rationing system.

To help relieve the confusion, an estimated 1,000,000 specially trained clerks are being sent to the community to answer questions and help out generally. "Bluffs" were called to call local war boards or chambers of commerce to get such a trained "answer" to come and help out right in the store.

Steady Street. War housewives, O'Leary, manager of the store, said that he has been a half hour's study of his shopping list, but he has not been able to find the "decal" he needs. The real trick of "point rationing" for each family figure out, consider the value of the points of each item, just what it wants to get with the 48 points per pound of peas. March—In a purchase of such that points will be left for month-end and will be high point coupons first as that at the end of the month it will be easier to add up combinations of zero point coupons with out needing change (grocers cannot give change in coupons).

During March, you may use the blue stamps which mark the letters A, B or C. The figures on these stamps—1, 2, 3 and 4—are the point values. You may use the point stamps, three is a and one, but you must use the red stamp. Don't try to cash the red stamp. They're for meat rationing due to begin March 23.

Rationing stickers are called "blue" if they have a blue stamp, and "red" if they have a red stamp. They are not the same thing.

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—Old friend, Mr. Reliable Source, has passed around the tip that Southern California is catching the football game with Notre Dame, Stanford and USC, and that the game will be held in the Bay Area.

Reason is transportation, and all hands here will work to get the game to fill the gaps in the scheduled season. There'll be a lot more of that, because the game is so important to the most college fans will follow it on freshmen for players but will follow the playing typical freshman-team schedules.

Cage Quintets Retain Crowns

By HAROLD CLARK

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—With its heavy manpower demand, made itself felt in every basketball conference during the season now rapidly drawing to a close but not enough to disturb the reigning quintet sports for the coming year.

Of the country's 10 major conferences, seven of them definitely will be ruled by clubs that either were first or second a year ago while only the Southern, Southwest and Pacific Coast circuits have prospects of different champions.

Keep Titles

Already Kansas in the Big Six, Creighton in the Missouri Valley and Greely State of the Rocky Mountain have clinched crowns they shared or held outright last year.

Illinois is only a workout away from the Big Ten title. Dartmouth should not lose a great task to win its sixth straight Eastern league title. Wyoming has replaced Colorado in the Mountain Six league and Tennessee succeeded Kentucky in the Southeastern.

Should rise in the Southwest and Duke in the Southern come through the list of independent leaders would be hiked to nine or 10.

New Champions

Neither Stanford or Oregon State, divisional champions of the 1947 Pacific Coast campaign, were able to retain their ranking. Southern California already has dropped Stanford in the south and Washington needs only one triumph in this week-end rivalry with Oregon to supplant the Beavers.

Rice is leading Texas fifth place a year ago, by a half game in the standings now.

Duke dominated the Southern circuit in 1947. The Blue Devils already have repeated on a percentage basis.

Wyoming, second to Colorado in 1947, has been in the top three when the Buffaloes gave up intercollegiate sports for the duration. Wyoming swept a three-game series with Brigham Young to climb aboard the throne.

Warmerdam Gets Trophy

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—Cornell's warmerdam, the 1947 indoor and outdoor pole vault records, was en route back to his room today as he received the Sullivan trophy as the year's outstanding athlete in the country.

The cloud-busting California school teacher, only man ever to break the indoor record, took the trophy from national AAU President Laurence A. Benedict of New Orleans.

Warmerdam failed in an attempt to break his indoor mark of 15 feet, 10 inches at the AAU title Saturday night.

"You need lots of luck to get records in this sport," he said. "On the second and third tries I cleared the bar but my arch and my back were not in the best of shape."

Warmerdam said he would compete in the San Francisco Olympic club meet March 12 and in the Chicago relay March 20. Now in 2-2, he said he is not in the best of shape and was interested in entering the may pre-flight program.

This year the big leaguers have pitched their camps for training because of the war, but there will be a lot of interest for fans out at Huggins field.

It was win or be eliminated today as the annual quest for basketball honors among Idaho's high school quintets got underway in earnest.

First of the district tournaments that will select entrants for the southern Idaho meets—substituted this year for the usual state tournaments—began in Idaho Falls for Class B teams of the sixth district.

By week-end, tournaments are scheduled for the smaller class teams and the Class A quintets from the larger high schools in all four districts of southern Idaho.

Durocher Turned Down by Army In Final Exam

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—Leo (Tip) Durocher, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, was rejected by the army today because of a perforated ear-drum.

Durocher, who will be 38 July 27, took his physical examination with other officers and afterward expressed disappointment over failure to pass.

"I knew all along that my eardrum was perforated but I didn't know whether it was serious enough to warrant the army turning me down," said Durocher. "But they showed me right in the book where it was obligatory to turn down a player with such an ailment and that nothing can be done about it."

Durocher said he would confer with President Branch Rickey of the Dodgers later in the week and then go to West Point, probably tomorrow, to take up his duties as advisory coach at the United States Military Academy. The Dodgers are due to report at Great Mountain for spring training, March 15.

Yankee Pitchers Work in Florida

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 1 (AP)—A year ago the New York Yankees and the St. Louis Cardinals pitched their spring training camps here and launched the campaign to win the championship of the two major leagues.

This year the big leaguers have pitched their camps for training because of the war, but there will be a lot of interest for fans out at Huggins field.

Yankee pitchers Johnny Murphy, Alcy Donald and Spurgeon Chandler plan to begin workouts here today. They'll continue daily drills until they join the Yankee squad at Ashbury Park, N. J., March 13.

Durst Retained as Padres' Manager

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 1 (AP)—Durst will be retained as manager of the San Diego Padres, says Max Charles, club president.

Durst, manager of the Padres four years, had been made a free agent after the close of the 1947 season.

Golden Gate Club May Open

By DAN McGUIRE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1 (AP)—Chips from the blarney stone: Mr. Edward Patrick (Skip) Madigan, of the Oakland Athletics, claims there is nothing to be reported that he is endeavoring to open the Golden Gate Club at Alameda for a late spring meeting.

There are lots of hurdles we must surmount before the club would be feasible," said Skip in his best O'Connell manner.

Slip did admit, however, that the Alameda racing strip now had a red-hot base, something it should have had two years ago when it took the club because of poor weather. And Skip didn't put it in that red-hot just because it was pretty far from his own conclusions.

Negro Cage Star

Don Ballard, tall U. C. L. A. Negro, scored 13 points to lead the Bruins to a 43-40 victory over California, Saturday night. Basketball was graduated from Berkeley high school which makes one wonder why it went all the way to Los Angeles for higher education.

It couldn't think of a sound on the prospects of football next fall.

"The football season is a long way off. Who knows we may all be in Timbuctoo by that time," said the basketball player (Skip) Nelson, newly-arrived from the U. S. Navy's naval pre-flight school.

Many of Frank (Lefty) O'Doul's teammates were in the Bruins' lineups when he was by-passed by the Philadelphia Phillies in their search for a manager.

He Was Lucky

"You're lucky they didn't hand you the brush," said Skip Madigan, who was the San Francisco Chronicle points out that O'Doul probably was a very disappointed player in the Phils' selection of Ducky Harris.

This was a major league job O'Doul had been "protected" from. The new regime in Quaker town apparently is going to make sure that O'Doul is not pulled into a real major league organization.

Joe Ruess, who won All-American guard honors at Notre Dame, now is a naval aviator cadet after holding a military commission in the pre-flight training program. Joe, also an anthropologist and archaeologist, was treated to a lecture by St. Mary's for the state athletes.

The state athletic commission developed a bit of a nod for "protecting" Frank Tabors' Oakland boxing permit from the grasping fingers of a military commission in the pre-flight training program. Joe, also an anthropologist and archaeologist, was treated to a lecture by St. Mary's for the state athletes.

Harry Wills Opens Month-Long Fast

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—Harry Wills, 55-year-old former black pitcher, today began a month-long fast, his annual month of fasting today.

Wills, owner of two upper-Harlem restaurants, has been expected to lose about 30 pounds and that he goes on a month's hunger strike to "turn the impurities out of my body."

Bay Meadows Race Resumes Friday

SAN MATTEO, Calif., March 1 (AP)—There will be no racing at Bay Meadows, the Pacific coast's only active race track, until Friday this week, as result of a three-day suspension granted by the state horse racing board at the request of horse owners.

Sixth district Class A teams will battle at Redburg beginning Thursday. Entrants are Midway, Madison, Ruby, B. Anthony, Idaho Falls, Sugar-Salem and Ashton.

In other districts this will be the picture:

Southeastern—Class B teams will battle at American Falls beginning March 5. Entrants: Aberdeen, Thomas, Soda Springs, Fona and Roberts.

Arco was runner-up in the district meet at Arco, losing to Salmon in the finals. Salmon was prevented from entering the district meet, Idaho Falls being in violation of travel restrictions, however.

THE TERRIBLE EYE

BY EDWIN RUTT

TYCOON ONCE MORE CHAPTER XXIX

Jonah spoke almost as if Mr. Channing were not there. "If I catch the bug that tampered with this thing, I'll break him!" he exclaimed. Mr. Channing, wrinkling black brows at Jonah, "I recognize you now. You're that little photographer. Get the hell out of here."

"I resent that," said Jonah. "Come on, boy," Calvin Meggs said impatiently. "Put the picture on."

"I," stated Mr. Channing flatly, "am staying for no pictures."

Mr. Meggs smiled himself comfortably. "You'd better, Henry. Because, unless this young man is either a fool or a liar, this picture concerns the abduction of my horse, Bluebird."

Mr. Channing stared.

"The film of the picture," was the only possible title for the picture, presently flashed onto the screen. And in this scene of shame, Mr. H. L. Channing had the leading role.

The play opened upon a summer-house, looking peacefully in sunlight. The back, however, was short-lived.

From the rhododendrons, which had already established their proficiency at harboring villains, the villains of the piece emerged. The villain was carrying a horse. He ran. At the summer-house he paused, glanced around with feline furtiveness. Then deliberately he emptied the contents of the bag over the floor of the structure, and lit a match.

"Father!" gasped Hildy, out of the darkness. "Fancy you an incendiary!"

Mr. H. L. Channing groaned.

Jonah, chafing carefully, depended with the mulling scene about the summer-house. He got another picture.

"This time it was just a quickie, but adequate. A horse, a horse of much hair, was looting gently in the direction of the gatekeeper's lodge. Leading him, and legging it right along with him, looted Henry L. Channing."

A cry broke from Calvin Meggs. "By gad," he shouted, "I knew it. You a crook, Henry. A horse thief!"

"No, no, Calvin," said Mr. Channing, in anguish. "It was all in the nature of a joke."

The Terrible Eye, a thorough-going expert of evil, broomed in the last act of the sordid drama. It showed Mr. Channing delivering the horse to the gatekeeper. It showed the gatekeeper striking the horse smartly on the flank.

At that point, mercifully, Jonah stopped the show. The lights went on.

Calvin Meggs was out of his chair, dancing in pure wrath. "I'll write the Jockey Club. I'll write every stevedore from Maine to California. You'll be disgraced, Henry Channing. You'll be set down from the tracks. The world shall know of your depravity."

"Calvin," Mr. Channing was making a recovery, "all you shut up!"

"Shut up! Shut up!" I'll write a "Shut up. Now then," Mr. Channing took the floor and began, loudly, at the root of the trouble. "This whole business comes of allowing 'blatant' photographs to be taken in the grounds. Did you follow me, young man, with a movie camera?"

"Did you admit it was you?" This from Mr. Meggs.

"Certainly," said Mr. Channing brazenly. He had decided to hazzard it out. "It was only a joke. What are you fuming about, Calvin? You got your horse back?"

Jonah cleared his throat. "If," he said, "I were to flash a few more pictures, we might get one of a certain rhododendron house not far from here. Tethered behind this house..."

"Stop!" roared Mr. Channing.

But Calvin Meggs had heard. "By gad," he exclaimed, "I got it all. You and your confederates spirited my horse away. But your dastardliness did not stop there. You went further, and substituted what I consider a rank selling-plater newly clipped, thinking to deceive me. But I was suspicious from the start. Well, speak up, Henry! Do you deny these allegations?"

"It was a joke, Calvin," moaned Mr. Channing. "I had no intention of knowing your horse. My plan was to tell everything later on. Then, and all have had a drink and a good laugh."

Mr. Meggs considered. "Henry," he said at last, "my inclination is to be big. On condition that you return my horse and my money, I shall be bygones be bygones."

"Certainly," Calvin said. Mr. Channing, with a relieved sigh, that's decent of you, Calvin. Well, thank you. Now I must get back to the house."

Just then, in her pleasant and detached fashion, Mrs. Channing drifted into the Taj Mahal.

"Oh, there you are, lovey," she said, perceiving her lord. "Gorby told me you were here, so I slipped out to tell you someone took my lara. But—oh, it must be a joke."

"What?" boomed Mr. Channing.

"What are you saying? That someone stole your lara?"

"Yes, lovey."

Mr. Channing's eyes bulged, then rolled upward.

"Oh, Lord! Oh, Lord in heaven! Someone stole my diamond lara worth $40,000 and..."

"But, lovey dear, it wasn't worth $40,000. It was worth $200."

"Clarissa," said Mr. Channing dangerously, "pull yourself together. What was worth $200?"

"The replica of the lara, dear."

Mr. Channing sagged limply, with relief. "You had a replica made? You were wearing it tonight?"

"Why, of course, lovey. Do you think I'd be such a fool as to bring a lara worth $40,000 out to a practically unprotected countryside?"

"Clarissa," said Mr. Channing, contritely, "I have underrated you. But were waiting time. If there's a thief inside, he may be after the spools. Come on!"

"Oh, father!" said Hildy. "Wait a minute. I think Mr. Logan wants to talk to you."

"Who the devil is Mr. Logan?"

"Okay, Jonah," said Hildy. "Go in and pitch. Explain all about the Terrible Eye and don't settle for a cent less than $200 a week."

"No, no," Jonah said quickly. "I've revised my notes."

"Jonah, you idiot! You'll never have..."

"Hill!" shouted Mr. Channing. "Stop this chatter!" he eyed Jonah.

"So, you're Mr. Logan? Well, you report me in my study tomorrow at 10 sharp, Clarissa, as the laraless, you belong in the house. Calvin, it's time you put in an appearance tonight. Come along both of you."

He was one more the seven, the overlord, Meggs and Mrs. Channing followed him meekly.

AMERICAN RED CROSS WAR FUND-1943

Here's How American Red Cross Dollars Are Spent!

Expenditures of the National Organization
JANUARY 1, 1942—FEBRUARY 28, 1943

The following statement, with the last few months estimated, shows in round numbers the expenditures and commitments for this fourteen-month period.

SERVICES TO THE ARMED FORCES	$40,400,000
Includes hospital and convalescent service; home service for the able-bodied and hospitalized men and their families; blood plasma for the Army and Navy; emergency supplies for the armed forces and chapter-produced supplies such as surgical dressings; assistance to the disabled men and their families of this and past wars; and assistance to U. S. prisoners of war. For the men overseas, in addition to the above services, special welfare and recreational activities provided.
DISASTER RELIEF	$2,500,000
CIVILIAN WAR AID	$1,900,000
Preparations for enemy action.
FOREIGN WAR RELIEF	$3,800,000
For civilian war sufferers in foreign countries and United Nations prisoners.
HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND SAFETY SERVICES	$4,300,000
Includes Nursing Service, First Aid, Water Safety and Accident Prevention; Junior Red Cross; Volunteer Special services such as Production, Canteen Corps, Motor Corps, etc.
SERVICE AND ASSISTANCE TO CHAPTERS	$3,600,000
GENERAL EXECUTIVE AND FINANCE	$1,100,000
Total	$57,600,000

In addition to the foregoing expenditures of the national organization it is estimated that for the same fourteen-month period the chapters expended approximately $10,000,000 for the conduct of these activities in their local communities.

This year the American Red Cross—the Greatest Mother in the World—has the largest job of its worthwhile career. This year it must shoulder the load of ministering to the needs of your sons on a score of war-torn battlefields. It must help supply surgical dressings, home contact services, blood plasma, food and clothing to millions of men in camps, combat areas or prison camps . . . it must meet the demands, too, of added activity in First Aid, home nursing, transportation and communications attendant with war conditions on the home fronts. And last but not least, it must aid the suffering peoples of the Allied Nations who have crumpled in the path of war. This is the war program—and with it must go on, too, the constant attendance to areas where natural disaster strikes at home and abroad. ★ No easy job this! ★ And one that calls for something besides buttons and pins and good will. This job in 1943 calls for dollars—millions of them—to carry on the greatest humanitarian work of all time! You'll join in this great move with your financial aid, won't you? Of course! Be ready when Red Cross solicitors call at your home or office—to give more than ever—double, if possible! And you are urged in this year of emergencies to give a donation for the home—so that the Red Cross sticker may be displayed there as well as in the office or shop where wage-earners may be contacted. ★ It's a great big job for our boys who are fighting for us! We won't let them down, will we!
